

Hydroelectric Project (FERC Project No. 12775–001), located on Spearfish Creek near the city of Spearfish, in Lawrence County, South Dakota. The existing, but unlicensed project occupies a total of 57.26 acres of federal lands within the Black Hills National Forest managed by the U.S. Forest Service.

Staff prepared a draft environmental assessment (EA), which analyzes the potential environmental effects of licensing the project, and concludes that licensing the project, with appropriate environmental protective measures, would not constitute a major federal action that would significantly affect the quality of the human environment.

A copy of the draft EA is available for review at the Commission in the Public Reference Room or may be viewed on the Commission's Web site at www.ferc.gov using the "eLibrary" link. Abstract: The National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) for Pharmaceutical Production (40 CFR part 63, subpart GGG) were proposed on April 2, 1997, and promulgated on September 21, 1998. These standards apply to the facilities in pharmaceutical production that are major sources of hazardous air pollutants (HAP). The affected facility is all pharmaceutical manufacturing operation, which includes process vents, storage tanks, equipment components, and wastewater systems commencing construction or reconstruction after the date of the proposal. In general, all NESHAP require initial notifications, performance tests, and periodic reports.

Owners/operators of affected pharmaceutical production are required to maintain records of the occurrence and duration of any startup, shutdown, or malfunction in the operation of an affected facility, or any period during which the monitoring system is inoperative. These notifications, reports and records are essential in determining compliance and, in general, are required of all sources subject to NESHAP. Semiannual reports are also required.

Any owner or operator subject to the provisions of this part shall maintain a file of these measurements, and retain the records for at least five years following the date of such measurements, maintenance reports, and records. Performance tests reports are required as this is the Agency’s record of a source’s initial capability to comply with the emission standard, and serve as a record of the operating conditions under which compliance was achieved.

All reports are sent to the delegated state or local authority. In the event that there is no such delegated authority, the reports are sent directly to the EPA regional office. This information is being collected to assure compliance with 40 CFR part 63, subpart GGG, as
