

information about their pension plan so they may obtain rough estimates of their benefits.

Most of the applications and forms are covered by the current approval. However, PBGC intends to add three new forms to the information collection and intends to modify an existing form. Two of the new forms will be used to confirm continuing eligibility of participants who are receiving benefits based on disability. The other new form will be used to determine whether participants are eligible for additional pension service credit under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, which establishes specific rights for reemployed service members in their employee pension benefit plans. (See PBGC's final regulation on USERRA Benefits under Title IV of ERISA, 74 FR 59093 (Nov. 17, 2009).) PBGC also intends to modify PBGC Form 704 (Request for Earnings Information) to eliminate the requirement that respondents provide copies of IRS Form W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) to confirm their earnings.

The collection of information under the regulation has been approved by OMB under control number 1212-0055 (expires September 30, 2011). An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

PBGC estimates that 84,800 benefit application or information forms will be filed annually by individuals entitled to benefits from the PBGC and that the associated burden is 63,550 hours (an average of about 45 minutes per response) and $3,730 (based on PBGC's estimate that less than 10% of all benefit applications and information forms submitted annually to PBGC will be by mail, at an average of $.44 per submission). PBGC further estimates that 12,000 individuals annually will provide the PBGC with identifying information as part of an initial contact and that the associated burden is 3,500 hours (an average of about 20 minutes per response). Thus, the total estimated annual burden associated with this collection of information is 67,050 hours and $3,730.
