II. Background

A. What Action Is the Agency Taking?

EPA is announcing that on April 20, 2010, the State of Rhode Island, and on July 9, 2010, the State of Massachusetts, were deemed authorized under section 404(a) of TSCA, and 40 CFR 745.324(d)(2), to administer and enforce requirements for a renovation, repair and painting program in accordance with section 402(c)(3) of TSCA. This notice also announces that EPA is seeking comment and providing an opportunity to request a public hearing on whether these State programs are at least as protective as the Federal program and provide for adequate enforcement. The 402(c)(3) program ensures that training providers are accredited to teach renovation classes, that individuals performing renovation activities are properly trained and certified as renovators, that firms are certified as renovation firms, and that specific work practices are followed during renovation activities. On April 20, 2010, Rhode Island and on July 9, 2010, the State of Massachusetts submitted applications under section 404 of TSCA requesting authorization to administer and enforce requirements for a renovation, repair and painting program in accordance with section 402(c)(3) of TSCA, and submitted a self-certification that their respective program is at least as protective as the Federal program and provides for adequate enforcement. Therefore, pursuant to section 404(a) of TSCA, and 40 CFR 745.324(d)(2), the Rhode Island and Massachusetts renovation programs were deemed authorized as of the date of submission and until such time as the Agency disapproves the program application or withdraws program authorization. Pursuant to section 404(b) of TSCA and 40 CFR 745.324(e)(2), EPA is providing notice, opportunity for public comment and opportunity for a public hearing on whether the State program application is at least as protective as the Federal program and provides for adequate enforcement. If a hearing is requested and granted, EPA will issue a Federal Register notice announcing the date, time and place of the hearing. The authorization of the Rhode Island and Massachusetts 402(c)(3) programs, which were deemed authorized by regulation and statute on April 20, 2010 and July 9, 2010, respectively, will continue without further notice unless EPA, based on its own review and/or comments received during the comment period, disapproves the program applications on or before October 30, 2010 for Rhode Island and January 9, 2011 for Massachusetts.

B. What Is the Agency's Authority for Taking This Action?

On October 28, 1992, the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992, Public Law 102-550, became law. Title X of that statute was the Residential Lead-Based Paint Hazard Reduction Act of 1992. That Act amended TSCA (15 U.S.C. 2601 et seq.) by adding Title IV (15 U.S.C. 2681-2692), entitled Lead Exposure Reduction. In the Federal Register dated April 22, 2008, (73 FR 21692), EPA promulgated final TSCA section 402(c)(3) regulations governing renovation activities. The regulations require that in order to do renovation activities for compensation, renovators must first be properly trained and certified, must be associated with a certified renovation firm, and must follow specific work practice standards, including recordkeeping requirements. In addition, the rule prescribes requirements for the training and certification of dust sampling technicians. EPA believes that regulation of renovation activities will help to reduce the exposures that cause serious lead poisonings, especially in children under age 6, who are particularly susceptible to the hazards of lead.

Under section 404 of TSCA, a state may seek authorization from EPA to administer and enforce its own renovation, repair and painting program in lieu of the Federal program. The regulation governing the authorization of a State program under section 402 of TSCA is codified at 40 CFR part 745, subpart Q. States that choose to apply for program authorization must submit a complete application to the appropriate regional EPA office for review. Those applications will be reviewed by EPA within 180 days of receipt of the complete application. To receive EPA approval, a state must demonstrate that its program is at least as protective of human health and the environment as the Federal program, and provides for adequate enforcement, as required by section 404(b) of TSCA. EPA's regulations at 40 CFR part 745, subpart Q provide the detailed requirements a State program must meet in order to obtain EPA approval. A state may choose to certify that its own renovation, repair and painting program meets the requirements for EPA approval, by submitting a letter signed by the Governor or Attorney General stating that the program is at least as protective of human health and the environment as the Federal program and provides for adequate enforcement. Upon submission of such a certification letter the program is deemed authorized pursuant to TSCA section 404(a) and 40 CFR 745.324(d)(2). This authorization becomes ineffective, however, if EPA disapproves the application or withdraws the program authorization.

III. State Program Description Summaries

The following program summary is from Rhode Island's self-certification application:

Program Summary; State of Rhode Island; Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Certification Program

The state of Rhode Island is submitting an application to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) certifying that the state's Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Program is as protective as the EPA program and is authorized when the application is submitted to EPA. The Rhode Island Department of Health (HEALTH) is the lead agency for these programs. HEALTH currently has EPA-authorized programs for lead-based paint activities training and certification and pre-renovation notification.

The rules for the Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Program are found in R23-24.6-PB-Section 14.0 of the Rhode Island Rules and Regulations For Lead Poisoning Prevention. The amendments to this regulation that contain these requirements are effective on March 30, 2010. These rules already cover all lead-based paint activities that are conducted in target housing and child-occupied facilities:

1. Establish the licensing of lead hazard control firms, effective May 1, 2010.
2. Establish work practice requirements for renovation.
3. Establish licensing requirements for persons and firms that conduct these activities. To be licensed, persons must complete an approved training program, apply for licensure, and pay a fee of $40. Firms must employ at least one licensed lead-safe remodeler/renovator, must apply for licensure and pay a fee of $40.
4. Establish procedures for the suspension, revocation, or modification of certifications.
5. Establish requirements for the approval of lead-safe renovator training programs and procedures for the suspension, revocation, or modification of training program approvals.
6. Define violations of these rules, establish procedures to assess penalties for violations of these rules, and establish administrative procedures for persons or firms to appeal these penalties.

The legal authority for the renovation, repair, and painting program/lead-safe renovator certification is found in Chapters 23-24.6.6 and 42-35 of the Rhode Island General Laws, as amended.

The following program summary is from the Massachusetts self-certification application:

Program Summary; State of Massachusetts; Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Certification Program

The State of Massachusetts is submitting an application to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) certifying that the state's Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Program is as protective as the EPA program and is authorized when the application is submitted to EPA. The Massachusetts Department of Labor, Division of Occupational Safety (MADOS), is the lead agency for these programs. MADOS currently has an EPA-authorized program for lead-based paint activities training and certification.

The rules for the Renovation, Repair, and Painting Program/Lead-Safe Renovator Program are found in 454 CMR 22.00, Deleading And Lead-Safe Regulations of the State of Massachusetts and are promulgated in accordance with and under the authority of M.G.L. c. 111, sections 189A through 199B and M.G.L. c. 149, section 6. The amendments to this regulation that contain these requirements are effective on July 9, 2010. These rules cover all renovation, repair and painting activities that are conducted in target housing and child-occupied facilities. These rules:

1. Establish the discipline of lead-safe renovator.
2. Establish work practice requirements for renovation.
3. Require firms and other entities who carry out the work to be licensed as Lead-Safe Renovation Contractors and that the work be overseen at all times by Certified Lead-Safe Renovator-Supervisors. To be certified, persons must complete an approved training program. Firms must employ at least one certified lead-safe renovator, must apply for licensing and pay a fee of $375.
4. Establish procedures for the suspension, revocation, or modification of licenses and certifications.
5. Establish requirements for the approval of lead-safe renovator training programs and procedures for the suspension, revocation, or modification of training program approvals.
6. Define violations of these rules, establish procedures to assess penalties for violations of these rules, and establish administrative procedures for persons or firms to appeal these penalties.

The renovation, repair, and painting program/lead-safe renovator provisions found in 454 CMR 22.00 are promulgated in accordance with and under the authority of M.G.L. c. 111, section 189A through 199B and M.G.L. c. 149, section 6.

IV. Federal Overfiling

Section 404(b) of TSCA makes it unlawful for any person to violate, or fail or refuse to comply with, any requirement of an approved state program. Therefore, EPA reserves the right to exercise its enforcement authority under TSCA against a violation of, or a failure or refusal to comply with, any requirement of an authorized state program.

V. Withdrawal of Authorization

Pursuant to section 404(c) of TSCA, the EPA Administrator may withdraw authorization of a state or Indian Tribal renovation, repair and painting program, after notice and opportunity for corrective action, if the program is not being administered or enforced in compliance with standards, regulations, and other requirements established under the authorization. The procedures EPA will follow for the withdrawal of an authorization are found at 40 CFR 745.324(i).

Nature and Extent of Confidentiality: Information in the reports may include confidential information. However, covered entities would be allowed to request that such materials submitted to the Commission be withheld from public inspection under 47 CFR 0.459 of the Commission's rules.

Needs and Uses: The Commission is requesting OMB approval of a revision to this currently approved collection regarding hearing aid compatibility disclosure requirements. In the Report and Order in WT Docket No. 01-309, FCC 03-168, adopted and released in September 2003, the Federal Communications Commission modified the exemption for telephone used with public mobile services from the requirements of the Hearing Aid Compatibility Act of 1988 (HAC Act). The Order required digital wireless phone manufacturers and service providers to make certain digital wireless phones capable of effective use with hearing aids, label certain phones they sold with information about their compatibility with hearing aids, and report to the Commission (at first every six months, then on an annual basis) on the numbers and types of hearing aid-compatible phones they were producing or offering to the public.

In February 2008, the Commission adopted final rules in the Report and Order (FCC 08-68) that updated several performance benchmarks and instituted new requirements. To assist the Commission in monitoring the implementation of the new requirements and to provide information to the public, the Report and Order also required manufacturers and service providers to continue to file annual reports on the status of their compliance with the requirements, and required manufacturers and service providers that maintain public websites to publish up-to-date information on those websites regarding their hearing-aid compatible handset models. The existing, OMB-approved collection under this OMB control number supports these disclosure requirements.

Recently, on August 5, 2010, the Commission adopted final rules in a Second Report and Order, FCC 10-145, that, among other things, updated disclosure requirements for manufacturers and service providers. As a result, the Commission is requesting a revision of this collection due to the change in language required for disclosures under Section 20.19(f)(2) of the Commission's rules and the addition of content to be disclosed for certain headsets under Section 20.19(f)(2) of the Commission's rules. The updated requirements will create no additional burden for manufacturers and service providers, but will ensure that consumers are provided with consistent and sufficient information about the functionality and the limitations of their handsets. These actions are taken to ensure that consumers who use hearing aids and cochlear implants have access to a variety of phones and are adequately informed about the functionality and the limitations of the handsets, while preserving competitive opportunities for small companies as well as opportunities for innovation and investment.

Federal Communications Commission.
