Food and Nutrition Service

Title: Innovation for Healthy Kids Challenge to Promote the Open Government Initiative.

OMB control number: 0584-0555.

Summary of collection: The demand for innovative and relevant nutrition education technologies is needed to address the epidemic rates of obesity within the U.S. population and address the promotion of the most recent version of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans. The Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion (CNPP) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture invites developers, programmers, highly motivated gamers and the general public to develop creative and educational games and applications that are based on the Food Nutrition and Consumer Services Dataset. With childhood obesity continuing to rise, the goal of the Challenge is to motivate talented individuals to create innovative, fun, and engaging applications or games that encourage parents and children, especially "tweens" (aged 9-12) to eat more healthfully and be more physically active. The statutory requirements for this collection can be found in the Department of Agriculture Organic Act of 1862, 7 U.S.C. 2201, the National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977 and the National Nutrition Monitoring and Related Research Act of 1990.

Need and use of the information: The information will be collected from individuals, companies, organizations, and government agencies to create challenges and award prizes for solving problems. The purpose of the contest is to develop new and innovative technology to reach children, ages 9-12, either directly or through their parents using the MyPyramid Dataset. This initiative will not only increase access to socially relevant technologies that seek to improve eating and physical activity behaviors among children but could also expand the tools available through the MyPyramid Web site. The contest will explore ways to address the following behavioral objectives: (1) Increase consumption of whole grains, fruit and vegetables, low-or non-fat milk, and lean sources of protein; (2) Develop temporary and relevant nutrition education tools for kids; (3) Address calorie intake and food portion sizes; (4) Increase physical activity. Inability to collect this information will result in a decrease in effort for contributing to the goal of achieving the President's Open Government Initiative.

Description of respondents:

Individuals or household; Business or other for-profit; Not-for-profit institutions.

Number of respondents: 100.

Frequency of responses: Third Party disclosure; Reporting: Annually;

Total burden hours: 5,525.

Ruth Brown,

Departmental Information Collection Clearance Officer.
