OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES TRADE REPRESENTATIVE

2010 Special 301 Out of Cycle Review of Notorious Markets: Request for Public Comment

AGENCY: Office of the United States Trade Representative.

ACTION: Request for written submissions from the public.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to Section 182 of the Trade Act of 1974 (Trade Act) (19 U.S.C. 2242) the United States Trade Representative (USTR) issues an annual review of the global state of intellectual property rights (IPR) protection and enforcement, conducted by the Office of the United States Trade Representative (USTR), commonly referred to as the Intellectual Property Enforcement stated these and similar markets.

The United States encourages the violations of law. In the report, the 301 process; it is not a finding of violations of law, but rather is a summary of information USTR reviewed during the Special 301 process that serves to highlight the problem of marketplaces that deal in infringing goods and help sustain global piracy and counterfeiting.

In an effort to increase public awareness and guide related trade enforcement actions, USTR plans to begin publishing the notorious market list separately from the annual Special 301 report in which it has previously been included. USTR is hereby requesting written submissions from the public identifying potential Internet and physical notorious markets that exist outside the United States.

Deadline for interested parties to submit written comments: November 5, 2010.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kira M. Alvarez, Chief Negotiator and Deputy Assistant U.S. Trade Representative for Intellectual Property Enforcement, Office of the United States Trade Representative, at (202) 395–4510. Further information about Special 301 can be found at http://www.ustr.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Background

Global piracy and counterfeiting continue to thrive due in part to marketplaces that deal in infringing goods. The 2010 Special 301 Report provides, on pages 43–45, a list of markets, including those on the Internet, that have been the subject of enforcement action, or that may merit further investigation for possible IPR infringements, or both. The list represents a selective summary of information reviewed during the Special 301 process; it is not a finding of violations of law. In the report, the United States encourages the responsible authorities to step up efforts to combat piracy and counterfeiting in these and similar markets.

The 2010 Joint Strategic Plan on Intellectual Property Enforcement stated that USTR, in coordination with the office of the Intellectual Property Enforcement Coordinator, would initiate an interagency process to assess opportunities to further publicize and potentially expand on the notorious markets list in an effort to increase public awareness and guide related trade enforcement actions. As a result of that discussion, USTR has concluded that it can further publicize and potentially expand on the notorious markets list by publishing the notorious market list separately from the annual Special 301 report in which it has previously been included, following a separate, dedicated request for comments. USTR expects to publish the list on the earliest practicable date after receipt of public comments.

2. Public Comments

a. Written Comments

The Special 301 Subcommittee invites written submissions from the public concerning potential examples of Internet and physical “notorious markets.” Notorious markets are those where counterfeit or pirated products are prevalent to such a degree that the market exemplifies the problem of marketplaces that deal in infringing goods and help sustain global piracy and counterfeiting.

b. Requirements for Comments

Interested parties must submit written comments by November 5, 2010 at 5 p.m.

Written comments should be as detailed as possible and should clearly identify the reason or reasons why the nature or scope of activity associated with the identified market or markets exemplify the problem of marketplaces that deal in infringing goods and help sustain global piracy and counterfeiting.

Comments should also include the following information for identifying these markets assessing their impact: Location; principal owners/operators (if known); types of products sold, distributed, or otherwise made available; any known civil or criminal enforcement activity against the market; any other efforts to remove/limit infringing materials; any positive progress made. Any comments that include quantitative loss claims should be accompanied by the methodology used in calculating such estimated losses. Comments must be in English.
