

principles have sufficient flexibility to ensure changes in best practices remain member focused. System institutions should apply cooperative business practices in a manner that best serves their members and meets their mission as Government-sponsored enterprises, while continuing to operate in a safe and sound manner, by

- (1) Engaging members as owners,
- (2) Communicating with members, and
- (3) Providing value-added benefits to members.

Serving the Members of Farm Credit System Institutions

Operating in a cooperative manner requires the boards of directors and management to engage, communicate, and provide value-added benefits to members. System institutions should proactively identify opportunities to reach out to member-borrowers beyond the lending and related services relationship.⁹

Many System institutions have been innovative and diligent in maintaining a cooperative philosophy in their business operations. The FCA encourages System institutions to continue and further their efforts to uphold a cooperative business culture. In addition, the FCA Board challenges the board and management of each System institution to periodically review and update their cooperative philosophies and practices and ensure that they maintain the focus to serve the members.

Dated this 14th day of October 2010.

By Order of the Board.

Roland E. Smith,

Secretary, Farm Credit Administration Board.
