

other numbering or identification schemes;

(9) Be readily accessible using secure and open standards;

(10) Be reliable and secure against corruption or misuse; and

(11) Be capable of becoming the single international standard for unique identification of legal entities in the financial sector.

B. Institutional Arrangements for Issuing LEIs

A LEI acceptable for use with data reported to the Office should be issued by an entity with expertise in implementing standards for the financial sector.

The entity should be organized and operated as a not-for-profit body and have a formally documented governance structure with balanced representation for relevant stakeholders. It should be subject to supervision and regulation. The entity should also have a strong ethics policy, addressing in part potential conflicts of interest.

Issuance of LEIs must be timely and non-discriminatory. The process of issuing new LEIs must not materially hinder the normal course of an entity's business.

All of the entity's processes must be adequately governed and auditable. Access to the master identifier list and the issuance process for new identifiers must be made available at all times.

The security and reliability of all IT systems involved in identifier issuance and database maintenance and publication must meet or exceed industry standards for a real-time, high-availability market service.

Identifiers must be available to the public without fees for storage, access, cross-referencing, or redistribution. However, consistent with OMB Circular No. A-119 Revised, the cost of issuing identifiers and maintaining their reliability may be recovered through other fees, as long as they are reasonable and they are not imposed on end-users.

C. Institutional Arrangements for Developing, Maintaining, and Publishing LEI Reference Data

A LEI acceptable for use with data reported to the Office should have a closely associated process for developing, maintaining and publishing related reference data for each LEI issued.

The scope of the reference data provided for each LEI issued should be sufficient to verify that users have correctly identified an entity and should include at a minimum the following information for each identifier:

(1) Name;

(2) Location;

(3) Electronic address; and

(4) Legal status.

The entity responsible for producing and publishing the LEI reference data should have expertise in this area. It must be operated on a not-for-profit basis and have a formally documented governance structure with balanced representation for relevant stakeholders. It should also be subject to supervision and regulation.

The entity must have a robust quality assurance process. Updates to the LEI reference data should be accomplished with minimal lag time and market participants and regulators should be able to challenge entries and request amendments. The quality assurance process should seek to ensure that duplicate identification numbers are not erroneously assigned. The quality assurance process should also include checks for existing entities including name searches, address searches, and combinations of text strings and other characteristics.

The entity's processes should be adequately governed and auditable. The security and reliability of all IT systems involved in developing, maintaining, and publishing LEI reference data should meet or exceed industry standards for a real-time, high availability market service. Reference data must be available to the public without fees for storage, access, cross-referencing, or redistribution. However, consistent with OMB Circular No. A-119 Revised, the cost of developing, maintaining, and publishing LEI reference data may be recovered through other fees, as long as they are reasonable and they are not imposed on those who use the reference data.

In addition, if a robust universal LEI is designated by the Office, under the principles outlined above for the purpose of reporting data to the Office, it is the expectation of the Office that such a LEI system, including the relevant reference data, would be the foundation for the financial company reference database that the Office would publish under the DFA section 154(b)(2)(A)(i).

D. Next Steps

In the event that a universal LEI is established to the satisfaction of the Office by July 15, 2011, the Office, in consultation with the Chairperson of the Council, plans to issue a regulation mandating the use of such a standard for data reported to the Office. Further, the Office will publish in the Federal Register, no later than 60 days prior to the earlier of the implementation dates established by the CFTC and SEC for their new reporting requirements,³ the name of the identification system approved by the Office, the name and contact information of the entity through which counterparties can obtain LEIs provided through the approved identification system, and information concerning the procedure and requirements for obtaining such a LEI.

The Office invites comments on all aspects of this statement of policy, including but not limited to the desired characteristics for LEI and the institutional arrangements for issuing and maintaining identifiers and associated reference data.
