SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Codex was established in 1963 by two United Nations organizations, the Food and Agriculture Organization and the World Health Organization. Through adoption of food standards, codes of practice, and other guidelines developed by its committees, and by promoting their adoption and implementation by governments, Codex seeks to protect the health of consumers and ensure that fair practices are used in trade.

The CCMAS is responsible for defining the criteria appropriate to Codex Methods of Analysis and Sampling; serving as a coordinating body for Codex with other international groups working in methods of analysis and sampling and quality assurance systems for laboratories; specifying the basis of final recommendations submitted to it by other bodies; considering, amending, and endorsing, methods of analysis and sampling proposed by Codex (Commodity) Committees, except that methods of analysis and sampling for residues of pesticides or veterinary drugs in food, the assessment of microbiological quality and safety in food, and the assessment of specifications for food additives, do not fall within the terms of reference of this Committee; elaborating sampling plans and procedures; considering specific sampling and analysis problems submitted to it by Codex or any of its Committees; and defining procedures, protocols, guidelines or related texts for the assessment of food laboratory proficiency, as well as quality assurance systems for laboratories.

The Committee is hosted by Hungary.

Issues To Be Discussed at the Public Meeting

The following items on the agenda for the 32nd session of the CCMAS will be discussed during the public meeting:

- Matters Referred to the Committee by the Codex and Other Codex Committees
 - Draft Revised Guidelines on Measurement Uncertainty
 - Endorsement of Methods of Analysis Provisions in Codex Standards
 - Guidance on Procedures for Conformity Assessment and Resolution of Disputes
 - Use of Proprietary Methods in Codex Standards
 - Report of an Inter-Agency Meeting on Methods of Analysis
- Each issue listed will be fully described in documents distributed, or to be distributed, by the Secretariat prior to the meeting. Members of the public may access copies of these documents (see ADDRESSES).

Public Meeting

At the February 9, 2011, public meeting, draft U.S. positions on the agenda items will be described and discussed, and attendees will have the opportunity to pose questions and offer comments. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Qualified Products List for Engine Driven Pumps.

OMB Number: 0596-New.

Expiration Date of Approval: Not applicable.

Type of Request: New.

Abstract: The Forest Service needs to have available adequate types and quantities of self-contained engine driven pumps to accomplish fire management activities safely, efficiently, and effectively. To accomplish this objective, the Agency needs to evaluate and pre-approve commercial pumps that meet three following categories: Engine Driven Pumps, Lightweight Portable Pumps, and Portable Floating Pumps.

Engine driven pumps are defined as portable pumps which consist of a gasoline engine, centrifugal or positive displacement pump, and engine controls which weigh between 60-400 lbs. Lightweight portable pumps are "back packable" positive displacement or centrifugal pumps that use a gasoline engine which weigh up to sixty pounds. Floating portable pumps are self-priming and float on the water during operation.

Products must meet specification standards identified and maintained by the Forest Service's San Dimas Technology and Development Center (SDTDC) staff. This staff evaluates and approves commercially available pumps prior to use in fire management activities on lands managed by the Forest Service, Federal, and State Cooperators. Employees of SDTDC consider the following requirements when determining product effectiveness for use by Forest Service employees and Federal cooperators:

1. Pump performance. These performance requirements include pump pressure and flow ranges, priming and drafting performance parameters, weight and sound levels.

2. Reliability and endurance requirements. These requirements include a 100-hour endurance test and evaluation of the properties of materials used in construction.

3. Quality and refurbishment standards. The construction and assembly processes are evaluated to ensure that the pumps are robust, field serviceable, and can be refurbished and reissued.

4. Compatibility and interchangeability requirements. The engine driven pumps must be compatible with standard wildland fire hoses and other water handling appliances. Threads, physical dimensions, and markings are inspected to assure proper interface controls.

To evaluate portable pump products, SDTDC must collect product specific information from manufacturers. This information includes a qualification sample or any special tools to operate the pump; certificate of conformance for the material composition and properties of materials used in the construction and assembly of the pump; and user's manuals.

The information collected is necessary to ensure pumps are properly evaluated to meet specific requirements related to safety, effectiveness, efficiency, and reliability of the product prior to use in the field. If this information is not collected and pumps are not evaluated on an on-going basis, wildland fire fighters lives could be placed in danger using untested portable pumps during live fire management activities.

Estimate of Annual Burden: 3 hours.

Type of Respondents: Businesses (Manufacturers of portable pumps).

Estimated Annual Number of Respondents: 5.

Estimated Annual Number of Responses per Respondent: 3.

Estimated Total Annual Burden on Respondents: 45 hours.
