Information Technology (IT) Security

AGENCY: National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: NASA is revising the NASA FAR Supplement (NFS) to update requirements related to Information Technology Security, consistent with Federal policies for the security of unclassified information and information systems. The rule imposes no new requirements. Its purpose is to more clearly define applicability, update procedural processes, eliminate the requirement for contractor personnel to meet the NASA System Security Certification Program, and provide a Web site link within a contract clause to a library where contractors can find all underlying regulations and referenced documents.

DATES: Effective Date: January 24, 2011.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Leigh Pomponio, NASA, Office of Procurement, Contract Management Division; (202) 358–0592; e-mail: leigh.pomponio@nasa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

NASA published a proposed rule in the Federal Register (73 FR 73201–73202) on December 2, 2008. The sixty-day comment period expired February 2, 2009. Six comments were received from two respondents.

Comment: IT Security should be addressed through government-wide policies, standards, and requirements.

NASA response: NASA has requested that the Defense Acquisition Regulation (DAR) Council consider a government-wide IT Security clause. However, due to the critical importance of protecting the Agency’s Information Technology (IT) resources, the Agency will continue to pursue this case. When and if the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) is amended to include similar coverage, the Agency will modify or eliminate any redundant coverage.

Comment: The proposed requirement to maintain a listing of NASA Electronic Information and IT resources is too broad.

NASA response: Although maintaining an inventory of electronic messages and other documents may appear burdensome, this information can be critical to the maintenance of our information systems and in meeting our institutional and mission objectives. At the completion of the contract, the Contracting Officer will be supported by the cognizant subject matter experts in properly assessing the information and determining disposition instructions.

Comment: The proposed requirement to represent that all NASA Electronic Information has been purged from the contractor’s IT systems is unworkable.

NASA response: The clause has been revised and purging requirements have been deleted.

Comment: NASA should clarify the IT Security Management Plan Requirement.

NASA response: This requirement has been clarified at 1852.204–76. The IT Security Management Plan addresses how the contractor will manage personnel and processes associated with IT Security on the instant contract.

Comment: The Access Provision in NFS 1852.204–76 is duplicative of FAR 52.215–2 and should be deleted.

NASA response: FAR 52.215–2 deals primarily with access to the Contractor’s cost and pricing data and other supporting records. The proposed provisions of 1852.204–76(f) concern access to contractor facilities, installations, operations, etc. in order to conduct IT inspection, investigation, and audit to safeguard against threats and hazards to NASA Electronic Information.

Comment: The Applicable Documents List (ADL) should contain all relevant security documents.

NASA response: The ADL attached to the contract will provide a specific
