SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Proposed Project

Development of the Guide to Patient and Family Engagement in Health Care Quality and Safety in the Hospital Setting

Improving the quality and safety of health care in the United States is one of the most significant challenges facing the American health care system. Too many Americans continue to receive health care that is not grounded in a reliable evidence base of what is proven appropriate, safe, and effective. Extensive studies conducted during recent decades demonstrate that the U.S. health care system provides continuing unwarranted variation and costly, inefficient, and simply unsafe care. Involving patients and families in improving quality and safety in hospitals has the potential to improve health care experiences, delivery, and outcomes. AHRQ has been at the forefront of supporting increased involvement for patients, families, and the public in all aspects of health care.

This project will develop a program to help patients, families, and health professionals in the hospital support one another to improve quality and safety. To accomplish these goals, patients and families must be able to express what they want from their hospital care and how they want to be involved and then effectively communicate this information with health professionals. Conversely, health professionals must be able to understand what patients want to do and what is appropriate for them to do and feel that they have the system supports and tools to facilitate these actions.

To address this issue and help fulfill AHRQ’s mission of health care quality improvement, AHRQ will develop a set of interventions and materials, entitled the Guide to Patient and Family Engagement in Health Care Quality and Safety in the Hospital Setting (“the Guide”), for use by patients, their family members, health care professionals, and hospital leaders to foster patient and family engagement around the issues of hospital safety and quality.

The goals of this project are to:

(1) Identify the barriers and facilitators to implementing the Guide, including how barriers were overcome;

(2) Assess staff satisfaction with the Guide and change in staff behavior before and after implementation of the Guide including organizational culture with respect to patient and family engagement and patient- and family-centered care;

(3) Assess patient satisfaction with the Guide and change in patient experience of care before and after implementation of the Guide including patient/family involvement in their own health care and patient/family involvement in quality improvement and patient safety activities; and,

(4) Refine the Guide as necessary to improve implementation and effectiveness. The Guide will be tested in three hospitals which will vary in terms of size, location, teaching status, and ownership.

This study is being conducted by AHRQ through its contractor, the American Institutes for Research (AIR), pursuant to AHRQ’s statutory authority to promote health care quality improvement by conducting and supporting research that develops and presents scientific evidence regarding all aspects of health care, including the development and assessment of methods for enhancing patient participation in their own care and for facilitating shared patient-physician decision-making. 42 U.S.C. 299(b)(1)(A).

Method of Collection

To achieve the goals of this project the following data collections will be implemented:

(1) Semi-structured interviews will be conducted in-person with hospital staff and hospital leaders from each of the participating health care facilities. Both pre- and post-implementation interviews will be conducted and separate interview guides will be used for staff and leaders. Pre-implementation, the interviews will focus on current knowledge, attitudes and beliefs around patient and family engagement and on the current organizational culture and climate surrounding patient and family engagement. Post-implementation,
