provided to the FAA, and Direct and Indirect Subscribers would be prohibited from using such information in developing or marketing ASDI- or NASSI-based products. Under the operative statutory provision, 49 U.S.C. 44103 note, the FAA has the discretion to determine whether aircraft registration numbers should be blocked, and we do not believe that protecting aircraft identities from publicly available access is always in the best interests of the United States Government and the general public.

Accordingly, we seek comment on modifying Section 9 of the MOA as follows:

9. Security Interests

The ASDI and NASSI data includes the near real time position and other flight data associated with civil instrument flight rules (IFR) aircraft. While commercial operators conduct business according to a published listing of service and schedule, general aviation operators do not. It is possible that public knowledge of the ASDI and NASSI data of certain general aviation operators could compromise the security of individuals or property. General aviation aircraft identification numbers must be excluded from public ASDI and NASSI data-feeds in the event a general aviation aircraft owner or operator provides the FAA, at least annually, a written certification (a “Certified Security Concern”) that a) the facts and circumstances establish a Valid Security Concern regarding the security of the owner’s or operator’s aircraft or aircraft passengers; or b) the general aviation aircraft owner or operator satisfies the requirements for a bona fide business-oriented security concern under Treasury Regulation 1.132–5(m), “Employer-provided transportation for security concerns,” 26 CFR § 1.132–5(m). A Valid Security Concern is a verifiable threat to person, property or company, including a threat of death, kidnapping or serious bodily harm against an individual, a recent history of violent terrorist activity in the geographic area in which the transportation is provided, or a threat against a company. The FAA will no longer accommodate any ASDI- or NASSI-related security or privacy requests, except such Certified Security Concerns. All Direct Subscribers (as a condition of signing this MOA) and Indirect Subscribers (as a condition of signing agreements with Direct Subscribers) must block any general aviation aircraft registration numbers for which Certified Security Concerns have been provided to the FAA. If the FAA determines that any Direct or Indirect Subscriber develops or markets products that violate this provision, the FAA’s rights under Section 15 shall apply.

Deputy Chief Counsel.
