SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Site is comprised of a former duplex residential building (demolished by the Settling PRPs during the removal action) located at 800 S. Carpenter Avenue, Iron Mountain (Dickenson County), Michigan. The Site is located in a residential neighborhood. At the time of the removal action, the Site building was owned by Settling Party Church and leased to Settling Party Salvation Army for use as housing for indigent people. In October 2008, the residents of the building discovered a 1 gallon gasoline container full of elemental mercury in the basement of the duplex residential building. The residents at the Site caused a release of the mercury. After initial response from local law enforcement and fire departments, EPA was contacted and began emergency response procedures, especially involving tracking and screening the potential spread of the Site mercury to nearby locations. Under EPA direction
