SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-65491; File No. SR-CBOE-2011-093]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of a Proposed Rule Change To Amend the Customer Large Trade Discount

October 6, 2011.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Act”)¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on October 3, 2011, the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated (the “Exchange” or “CBOE”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the Fees Schedule regarding the Customer Large Trade Discount. The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange’s Web site (<http://www.cboe.org/legal>), at the Exchange’s Office of the Secretary, and at the Commission.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of those statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant parts of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to clarify the process for the qualification of a customer order for the Discount.³ The Discount is intended to cap fees on large customer trades (the quantity of contracts necessary for a large customer trade to qualify for the Discount varies by product).

The Floor Broker Workstations and PULSe Workstations, as well as any other front end system used to transmit orders to the Exchange (together, the “Workstations”) are order repositories into which orders can be entered prior to being sent to CBOEdirect, which is a trade engine through which orders are processed. Sometimes a broker will receive a customer order large enough to qualify for the Discount (a “Large Customer Order”) and have to break up the order into a number of smaller orders to trade throughout the day due to lack of available volume when the order originally comes in. When this occurs, the broker sometimes may not first enter the entire order quantity into one of the Workstations (thereby giving the various smaller orders the same order ID), instead breaking up the Large Customer Order himself and entering the smaller orders individually into one of the Workstations or directly into CBOEdirect. Because CBOEdirect cannot link separate orders, if the broker does not first enter the entire order quantity into one of the Workstations before sending the smaller individual orders to CBOEdirect, there is no way for the Exchange to know that all of these smaller orders were part of a Large Customer Order that should qualify for the Discount. The broker can notify the Exchange of this occurrence, and must send documentation, but sometimes the broker fails to do so. When this happens, the customer may not end up getting the Discount. Even when the broker does notify the Exchange that all the small trades were part of a Large Customer Order, if the broker did not enter the entire order in one System, the Exchange must manually go back and review the trade data to verify that all of the small trades were part of one Large Customer Order that would qualify for the Discount.

The Exchange now proposes to improve this process to direct brokers on how to ensure that their Large Customer Orders receive for the Discount. Brokers are directed to enter the entirety of a Large Customer Order that would qualify for the Discount into one of the Workstations (or CBOEdirect, if the broker is not going to break up the Large Customer Order into smaller orders) so that the entire order quantity may be tied to a single order ID. This will allow the Exchange to clearly identify the total size of the order. For a Large Customer Order entered into the CBOEdirect system, merely entering the Large Customer Order, in its entirety, into the CBOEdirect system will still be (and always has been) enough for the Large Customer Order to receive the Discount (though this Large Customer Order will not be able to be broken up into smaller orders).

For any Large Customer Order entered via one of said Workstations that gets broken up into smaller orders prior to being sent to CBOEdirect, the broker must still submit a customer large trade discount request, identifying all necessary information, including the order ID and related trade details, within three days of the transaction. This is necessary because the Exchange only automatically receives order information from CBOEdirect (which we have already explained cannot link the separate smaller orders), so the Exchange needs this information to verify that the smaller orders were part of a Large Customer Order. For the same reason, the Exchange is changing qualification for the Discount to be based on the trade date and order ID on each order (which can be entered into one of the Workstations), as opposed to trade records (which are only produced by CBOEdirect and therefore would not demonstrate that separate smaller orders may be part of a Large Customer Order). Further, for Large Customer Orders sent to the Exchange from a Workstation other than a Floor Broker Workstation or PULSe Workstation (i.e., a Workstation that is not operated through the Exchange) to qualify for the Discount, the Exchange must be granted access to effectively audit such front end system. This is necessary to ensure that such smaller orders sent to the Exchange are indeed part of a Large Customer Order.

The proposed rule change would clear up any confusion regarding the entry and verification of Large Customer Orders and thereby make it easier for brokers to ensure that their Large Customer Orders Qualify for the Discount.

2. Statutory Basis

The proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act⁴ in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(5)⁵ of the Act in particular, in that it is designed to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. By establishing a clear process for the entry of Large Customer Orders in order for them to qualify for the Discount, the proposed rule change eliminates confusion, thereby removing an impediment to and perfecting the mechanism of a free and open market system. The establishment of this process will also make it easier for CBOE to administer the Discount and ensure that it is appropriately assessed when it is applicable.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

No written comments were solicited or received with respect to the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The proposed rule change is designated by the Exchange as establishing or changing a due, fee, or other charge, thereby qualifying for effectiveness on filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act⁶ and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b-4⁷ thereunder. At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.
