

bicarbonate) through a series of injection wells. The uranium-rich solution is transferred from production wells to either the central processing plant or satellite facility for uranium concentration using ion exchange columns. Final processing is conducted in the central processing plant to produce yellowcake, which would be sold to offsite facilities for further processing and eventual use as commercial fuel for use in nuclear power reactors.

3.0 Alternatives To Be Evaluated

No-Action—The no-action alternative would be to deny the license application. Under this alternative, the NRC would not issue the license. This serves as a baseline for comparison.

Proposed action—The proposed Federal action is to issue a license to use or process source material at the proposed ISR facilities. The license review process analyzes the construction, operation, and decommissioning of ISR facilities and restoration of the aquifer from which the uranium is being extracted. The ISR facilities would be located in Crook County, Wyoming, 32 miles northeast of Gillette, Wyoming and 30 miles northwest of Sundance, Wyoming. The applicant would be issued a NRC license under the provisions of 10 CFR part 40. Other alternatives not listed here may be identified through the environmental review process.

4.0 Environmental Impact Areas To Be Analyzed

The following areas have been tentatively identified for analysis in the SEIS:

- Land Use: Plans, policies, and controls;
- Transportation: Transportation modes, routes, quantities, and risk estimates;
- Geology and Soils: Physical geography, topography, geology, and soil characteristics;
- Water Resources: Surface and groundwater hydrology, water use and quality, and the potential for degradation;
- Ecology: Wetlands, aquatic, terrestrial, economically and recreationally important species, threatened and endangered species;
- Air Quality: Meteorological conditions, ambient background, pollutant sources, and the potential for degradation;
- Noise: Ambient, sources, and sensitive receptors;
- Historical and Cultural Resources: Historical, archaeological, and traditional cultural resources;

- Visual and Scenic Resources: Landscape characteristics, manmade features and viewed;
- Socioeconomics: Demography, economic base, labor pool, housing, transportation, utilities, public services/facilities, and education;
- Environmental Justice: Potential disproportionately high and adverse impacts to minority and low-income populations;
- Public and Occupational Health: Potential public and occupational consequences from construction, routine operation, transportation, and credible accident scenarios (including natural events);
- Waste Management: Types of wastes expected to be generated, handled, stored and disposed of; and
- Cumulative Effects: Impacts from past, present, and reasonably foreseeable future actions at and near the site(s).

This list is not intended to be all inclusive, nor is it a predetermination of potential environmental impacts.

5.0 The NEPA Process

The SEIS for the Ross Uranium Recovery Project will be prepared pursuant to the NRC's NEPA Regulations at 10 CFR part 51. The NRC will continue its environmental review of the application and as soon as practicable, the NRC and its contractor will prepare and publish a draft SEIS. The NRC currently plans to have a 45-day public comment period for the draft SEIS. Availability of the draft SEIS and the dates of the public comment period will be announced in the Federal Register and the NRC Web site: <http://www.nrc.gov>. The final SEIS will include responses to public comments received on the draft SEIS.

Dated at Rockville, Maryland, this 7th day of November, 2011.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.
Gregory Suber,
Acting Deputy Director, Environmental Protection and Performance Assessment Directorate, Division of Waste Management and Environmental Protection, Office of Federal and State Materials and Environmental Management Programs.
