

recognized, the market for execution and routing services is extremely competitive.¹² Market participants that choose not to connect directly to the Exchange can readily access liquidity available on the Exchange by directing their order flow to other venues that, under Regulation NMS, must route to the Exchange if it has posted the best price. Accordingly, the Exchange must set its fees, including access service fees, at a level that will not deter market participants from connecting to the Exchange; otherwise, potential users of the Exchange's services will simply direct order flow to the Exchange's multiple competitors. In addition, the Exchange believes that the proposed port fees are consistent with or less than the port fees charged by its competitors. With respect to market data, the Exchange does not currently charge any fees for such data. Although it will now begin imposing a fee related to access to such data, for market participants that receive such data directly from the Exchange, the Exchange believes that its free provision of data justifies such market participants paying some amount in order to help the Exchange offset the infrastructure costs of providing such data.
