The system will maintain registration and training records containing personally identifiable information (PII) about individual health professionals who are registrants/users of the Think Cultural Health Web site. The program and the system of records are more thoroughly described in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section and System of Records Notice (SORN) below.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. The Think Cultural Health Web Site Program

The Think Cultural Health Web site Program was created in recognition of the effectiveness of on-line distance learning. It supports the HHS/OS/OASH/OMH in complying with the cultural competency requirements of the Affordable Care Act of 2010 (Pub. L. 111–148), as well as the HHS Action Plan to Reduce Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities, the National Stakeholder Strategy for Achieving Health Equity, Healthy People 2020, the Secretary’s Strategic Plan priorities, and the Assistant Secretary for Health’s Public Health Quality Agenda. The program will use a Web site to post information such as cultural competency, language access and health disparities articles, and notices of health disparities conferences for viewing by any visitors to the site. Other resources, consisting of training and newsletters, will be available through the Web site to health professionals who register to use those resources. The Think Cultural Health system will not collect PII about visitors, but will collect PII about registrants/users. Use of the resources offered on the site is voluntary, but registration information is required to determine if the site is used by variety of health professionals, representing different disciplines, skill sets, and demographic locations. The provision of data concerning the registrant’s gender and race is optional. Additionally, training and test records are needed for reports to accrediting bodies.

II. The Privacy Act

The Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) governs the means by which the United States Government collects, maintains, and uses PII in a system of records. A “system of records” is a group of any records under the control of a Federal agency from which information about individuals is retrieved by name or other personal identifier. The Privacy Act requires each agency to publish in the Federal Register a SORN identifying and describing each system of records the agency maintains, including the purposes for which the agency uses PII in the system, the routine uses for which the agency discloses such information outside the agency, and how individual record subjects can exercise their rights under the Privacy Act (e.g., to determine if the system contains information about them).

2. Records may be disclosed to agency contractors, consultants, or HHS grantees who have been engaged by the agency to assist in accomplishment of an HHS function relating to the purposes of this system of records and who need to have access to the records in order to assist HHS.

3. Records may be disclosed to the Department of Justice (DOJ), a court, or an adjudicatory body when:

- The agency or any component thereof; or
- Any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity, or
- Any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where DOJ has agreed to represent the employee, or

6. Records may become accessible to U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) cyber security personnel, if captured in an intrusion detection system used by HHS and DHS pursuant to the Einstein 2 program. Under Einstein 2, DHS uses intrusion detection systems to monitor Internet traffic to and from federal computer networks to prevent malicious computer code from reaching the networks. According to DHS' Privacy Impact Assessment for Einstein 2 (available on the DHS Cybersecurity privacy Web site, http://www.dhs.gov/files/publications/editorial_0514.shtm#4), only PII that is directly related to a malicious code security incident is captured and accessible to DHS, and DHS does not access any captured PII; however, accessibility alone may constitute a disclosure under the Privacy Act.

The system may also disclose PII data for any of the uses authorized directly in the Privacy Act at 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(2) and (b)(4)-(11).
