DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES
Announcement of Requirements and Registration for healthfinder.gov Mobile App Challenge

AGENCY: Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health, Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: healthfinder.gov is a free, award-winning federal Web site that features reliable, evidence-based, and actionable health information presented in plain language. The site has approximately 1 million visits each month. The prevention and wellness information and resources educate and motivate users to incorporate healthy behaviors into their lives by taking small steps towards improving their health. healthfinder.gov also provides information about U.S. Preventive Services Task Force recommended preventive services, giving the public personalized information and resources about these services. It also offers decision support for all of the clinical preventive services covered by the Affordable Care Act.

The Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP) is launching healthfinder.gov Mobile App Challenge to promote the development of a mobile app that will facilitate the customized use of prevention and wellness information featured on the Web site.

The purpose is to provide a customized tool to reach health consumers where they are making health decisions so that they can improve their health and the health of loved ones.

ADDRESSES: Participants can register for the Challenge by visiting www.health2challenge.org.
