The round 16 questionnaire will resemble the round 15 questionnaire with few modifications. Some of the modifications have been made because the interview will be conducted biennially rather than annually. The round 16 questionnaire will include questions about whether the respondent’s parents owned a business, served a prison sentence or served in the military. A short section on childcare will be asked. Additional income questions on the Earned Income tax credit (EITC) and whether a spouse or partner received income from worker’s compensation. A series of questions on personality traits will also be added in round 16. Personality traits will include task completion, pursuit of goals, diligence, hard work, dealing with setbacks, focus, and distractibility. These questions will allow researchers to measure non-cognitive skills which may be important measures of labor market success.

Round 16 will include a trial Internet collection of selected information used to locate respondents for interviews. Approximately 20 percent of the sample will be offered the opportunity to participate. The purpose of the trial is to determine whether Internet collection yields information of higher quality when compared to the current method of collecting the information as part of the interview. The Internet trial also will be used to assess respondent acceptance of Internet collection generally and whether such collection can reduce respondent burden without reducing the quality of the survey information.

As in prior rounds of the NLSY97, round 16 will include a pretest conducted several months before the main fielding to test survey procedures and questions and resolve problems before the main fielding begins.
