

content of combined coal dust, rock dust, and other dust to at least 80 percent in underground areas of bituminous coal mines. To clarify MSHA's standards under the ETS, the Agency issued Program Information Bulletin (PIB) No. P10-18, "Accumulation of Combustible Materials and Rock Dust", which included information on a mine operator's responsibility to establish and maintain a program for the regular cleanup and removal of accumulations of coal and float coal dusts and other combustibles.

Based on its investigation of the April 5, 2010 explosion at the Upper Big Branch mine (UBB), MSHA issued a report on December 6, 2011, in which the Agency concluded that accumulations of coal and float coal dusts, and loose coal were contributing factors to the explosion. In response to the UBB explosion, MSHA determined that it is necessary to place more emphasis on improved rock dusting in underground coal mines, including improved operators' cleanup programs. A written cleanup program documents how an operator plans to conduct regular cleanup and removal of accumulations of coal and float coal dust, loose coal and other combustibles to better protect miners from the hazard of coal dust explosions.

The standard for mine operators to establish and maintain a cleanup program predates the PRA, and MSHA discovered that it lacked OMB approval. This collection of information provides the required OMB clearance under the PRA.

II. Desired Focus of Comments

The Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) is soliciting comments concerning the proposed information collection related to the Cleanup Program for Accumulations of Coal and Float Coal Dusts, Loose Coal, and Other Combustibles. MSHA is particularly interested in comments that:

- Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information has practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of MSHA's estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Suggest methods to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Address the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology (e.g., permitting electronic submissions of responses), to minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond.

OMB clearance requests are available on MSHA's Web site at <http://www.msha.gov> under "Federal Register Documents" on the right side of the screen by selecting "New and Existing Information Collections and Supporting Statements." The document will be available on MSHA's Web site for 60 days after the publication date of this notice, and on <http://www.regulations.gov>. Comments submitted in writing or in electronic form will be made available for public inspection on <http://www.regulations.gov>. Because comments will not be edited to remove any identifying information, MSHA cautions the commenter against including any information in the submission that should not be publicly disclosed.

The public also may examine publicly available documents at MSHA, Office of Standards, Regulations, and Variances, 1100 Wilson Boulevard, Room 2350, Arlington, VA 22209-3939.

Questions about the information collection requirements may be directed to the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION section of this notice.

III. Current Actions

The information obtained from mine operators is used by MSHA during inspections to determine compliance with safety and health standards. MSHA has used 2012 data for the number of respondents and responses, as well as the total burden hours and burden costs supporting this information collection request.

MSHA does not intend to publish the results from this information collection and is not seeking approval to either display or not display the expiration date for the OMB approval of this information collection.

There are no certification exceptions identified with this information collection and the collection of this information does not employ statistical methods.
