SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Need For and Use of the Information Collection

Section 4 of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (Bank Act) establishes the eligibility requirements an institution must meet in order to become a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank (Bank).¹ FHFA’s Bank membership regulation, located at 12 CFR part 1263, implements section 4 of the Bank Act by providing uniform requirements an applicant must meet to be approved for Bank membership and review criteria a Bank must apply to determine if an applicant satisfies the statutory and regulatory membership eligibility requirements, and by specifying the information and materials an institution must submit as part of its application.² Although the membership regulation authorizes the Banks to approve or deny applications for membership, it also provides institutions that have been denied membership in a Bank the option of appealing the decision to FHFA.³ The membership regulation also addresses the requirements for withdrawal from Bank membership and for the transfer of an institution’s membership from one Bank to another.⁴ This information collection may require four different types of submissions by Bank members or by institutions wishing to become a Bank member: (I) Applications for membership and supporting materials by institutions wishing to become a member of a Bank; (II) notices of appeal to FHFA by institutions that have been denied membership by a Bank; (III) requests to withdrawal from Bank membership by members wishing to withdraw; and (IV) applications for transfer of membership and supporting materials by current Bank members wishing to become a member of a different Bank. The information collection is necessary to enable a Bank to determine whether prospective and current Bank members, or transferring members of other Banks, satisfy the statutory and regulatory requirements to be certified initially and maintain their status as members eligible to obtain Bank advances. The collection is also necessary to inform a Bank of when to initiate the withdrawal process where a member so desires. On appeals, FHFA uses the information collection to determine whether to uphold or overrule a Bank’s decision to deny Bank membership to an applicant.

The OMB control number for the information collection is 2590–0003.
