

submittal of the LAR. It is recommended that this timing aspect be addressed in ISG-025.

NRC Response: The NRC staff does not agree with this comment. A PAR may be voluntarily submitted by a licensee at any time prior to, concurrent with or after the submittal of the related LAR (although the NRC cannot issue a PAR notification until the LAR is submitted). The 1-year time frame discussed is the expected processing time allocated to the staff's detailed technical review of a LAR. No change was made to the ISG as a result of this comment.

Other Changes to Draft Interim Staff Guidance

In addition to the changes made in response to public comments, as discussed above, this draft ISG-025 contains one substantial change which was derived from the lessons learned from the NRC staff's administrative practices during the past year of processing PARs and LARs for the new nuclear power plants under construction.

The criteria for issuing a PAR notification are dependent upon the staff's acceptance of the related LAR for detailed technical review. The staff will not issue the determination on the PAR until after the staff has accepted the related LAR for detailed technical review. This repositioning of the staff's determination reduces the regulatory burden on licensees by recognizing that the licensee's proposed basis for the no-significant hazards determination and the categorical exclusion from the National Environmental Policy Act evaluation is contained in the related LAR.

Because these two aspects are evaluated by the staff during the acceptance review of the related LAR, the provision for the licensee to submit this information in the PAR, and the staff's examination of this information during its consideration of the PAR were removed from COL-ISG-025.

This draft COL-ISG-025 clarifies that the staff will not issue a determination on the PAR until two conditions are satisfied; (1) The licensee submits the related LAR and, (2) the staff has accepted the related LAR for detailed technical review.
