

expect will assist them in tracking prices and market trends and making order routing and trading decisions.<sup>31</sup> The Exchange believes that the proposed lower user fees and the enterprise fees, which may permit wider distribution of last sale and quote information at a lower cost to vendors with a large number of professional and non-professional users, may encourage more users to demand and more vendors to choose to offer NYSE Arca BBO and NYSE Arca Trades, thereby benefitting professional and non-professional users, including public investors. The Exchange also believes that offering NYSE Arca Trades for non-professional users on a per user basis and providing the same information as is provided to professional users will create more choices for vendors that will allow them to offer products with the appropriate level of information at a range of prices, thereby encouraging wider distribution of the data.

In establishing the proposed fees, the Exchange considered the competitiveness of the market for proprietary data and all of the implications of that competition. The Exchange believes that it has considered all relevant factors and has not considered irrelevant factors in order to establish fair, reasonable, and not unreasonably discriminatory fees and an equitable allocation of fees among all users. The existence of numerous alternatives to the Exchange's products, including real-time consolidated data, free delayed consolidated data, and proprietary data from other sources, ensures that the Exchange cannot set unreasonable fees, or fees that are unreasonably discriminatory, when vendors and subscribers can elect these alternatives or choose not to purchase a specific proprietary data product if its cost to purchase is not justified by the returns any particular vendor or subscriber would achieve through the purchase.

The foregoing rule change is effective upon filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)<sup>32</sup> of the Act and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b-4<sup>33</sup> thereunder, because it establishes a due, fee, or other charge imposed by the Exchange.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.
