

site. They identified a partially destroyed ossuary and collected the remains of nine adults and one infant. The landowner donated only some of the excavated human remains to the museum. The human remains date to the Late Woodland Period (500–1640 A.D.) based on mortuary treatment. No known individuals were identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

In 1890, human remains representing, at minimum, 1 individual were removed from the Warner site (20WN1011) in Wayne County, MI. A local resident collected the remains of an older adult female near Highway 12 in Nankin Township, MI, and donated them to the UMMA in 1933. The museum has no further information about this collection. The human remains date to the Early Late Woodland Period (500–1100 A.D.) based on diagnostic objects. No known individuals were identified. The 20 associated funerary objects present are ceramic sherds.

Determinations Made by the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology

Officials of the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology have determined that:

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(9), the human remains described in this notice are Native American based on cranial morphology, dental traits, accession documentation, and archeological context.

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(9), the human remains described in this notice represent the physical remains of 114 individuals of Native American ancestry.

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(3)(A), the 232 objects described in this notice reasonably believed to have been placed with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony.

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2), a relationship of shared group identity cannot be reasonably traced between the Native American human remains and associated funerary objects and any present-day Indian tribe.

- According to final judgments of the Indian Claims Commission or the Court of Federal Claims, the land from which the Native American human remains and associated funerary objects were removed is the aboriginal land of the Bad River Band of the Lake Superior Tribe of Chippewa Indians of the Bad River Reservation, Wisconsin; Bay Mills Indian Community, Michigan; Bois Forte Band (Nett Lake) of the Minnesota Chippewa Tribe, Minnesota; Chippewa-Cree Indians of the Rocky Boy's Reservation, Montana; Citizen Potawatomi Nation, Oklahoma;
