publish a description of the security platform and its performance characteristics sufficient to permit other organizations to develop and deploy security platforms that meet the security objectives of the Identity and Access Management for Electric Utilities Use Case. These descriptions will be public information.

Under the terms of the consortium agreement, NIST will support development of interfaces among participants’ products, including IT infrastructure, laboratory facilities, office facilities, collaboration facilities, and staff support to component composition, security platform documentation, and demonstration activities.

The dates of the demonstration of the Identity and Access Management for Electric Utilities capability will be announced on the NCCoE Web site at least two weeks in advance at http://nccoe.nist.gov/. The expected outcome of the demonstration is to improve identity and access management on electric utility OT systems. Participating organizations will gain from the knowledge that their products are interoperable with other participants’ offerings.
