B. What should I consider as I prepare my comments for EPA?

1. Confidential Business Information (CBI)

Do not submit this information to EPA through www.regulations.gov or email. Clearly mark the part or all of the information that you claim to be CBI. For CBI information in a disk or CD ROM that you mail to EPA, mark the outside of the disk or CD ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD ROM the specific information that is claimed as CBI. In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR Part 2.

2. Tips for Preparing Your Comments

When submitting comments, remember to:

- Identify the rulemaking by docket number and other identifying information (subject heading, Federal Register date and page number).
- Follow directions—The agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or organize comments by referencing a Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part or section number.
- Explain why you agree or disagree, suggest alternatives, and substitute language for your requested changes.
- Describe any assumptions and provide any technical information and/or data that you used.

• If you estimate potential costs or burdens, explain how you arrived at your estimate in sufficient detail to allow for it to be reproduced.

• Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns, and suggest alternatives.

• Explain your views as clearly as possible, avoiding the use of profanity or personal threats.

• Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

II. What data are available?

EPA is announcing the availability of two documents in docket EPA-HQ-OAR-2013-0263, which is the docket for the rulemaking titled, Protection of Stratospheric Ozone: Adjustments to the Allowance System for Controlling HCFC Production, Import and Export (2015–2019). EPA intends to consider comments on this data as it develops the rule finalizing the December 24, 2013 proposal (78 FR 78072).

The first of those documents is 2008–2013 HCFC–22 Aggregate Inventory Data. In August 2013, under the authority of Clean Air Act section 114, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sent letters to nine major entities in the HCFC–22 market, including producers, importers, distributors and reclaimers of HCFC–22. The agency asked for each company's HCFC–22 inventory as of December 31 in the years 2008 through 2012. At least one respondent to EPA's section 114 request claimed the aggregate calendar-year HCFC–22 inventory data from all nine entities as confidential business information; therefore, EPA was obligated to follow its Confidential Business Information regulations at 40 CFR Part 2 Subpart B with respect to the aggregate data and could not release those data at the time of the agency's proposed rule for the allocation of 2015–2019 HCFC allowances (December 24, 2013, 78 FR 78072). On February 18, 2014, EPA issued a final determination that the aggregate inventory data is not entitled to confidential treatment. EPA sent a second letter under the authority of section 114 of the Clean Air Act to the same nine entities on February 27, 2014, requesting each company's HCFC–22 inventory as of December 31, 2013. No company claimed the aggregate inventory data for 2013 as confidential business information.

EPA posted the 2008–2012 aggregate inventory data on the agency's Web site at <http://www.epa.gov/ozone/title6/phaseout/classfwo.html> and notified stakeholders via email on March 10, 2014. EPA posted the 2013 aggregate inventory data on the agency's Web site and notified stakeholders via email on March 27, 2014. EPA also added these two sets of data to the docket on March 14, 2014 and with this notice, respectively. Given that EPA has already made these data available through other means, including direct notice to stakeholders, EPA believes that 15 days is an adequate period for public comment on this notice.

In preparing its proposed rule, EPA considered the annual trend of HCFC-22 inventory amounts, and the existing inventory at the end of 2012. Existing HCFC-22 inventory can be used to meet a portion of servicing demand, thus enabling the agency to issue fewer HCFC-22 consumption allowances and prevent additional emissions of ozone-depleting HCFC-22. As noted in the proposed rule, the inventory data collected through EPA's August 2013 letters indicated that HCFC-22 inventory was higher than the agency's previous estimate of 22,700 to 45,400 MT. EPA also noted that several stakeholders expected inventory to rise in 2013 and 2014. While the nine entities do not hold the complete inventory of HCFC-22, discussions with stakeholders both before and after the rule was proposed indicate that the aggregate inventory from these nine entities likely constitutes a significant majority of the HCFC-22 in inventory on the specified dates.

The agency is also announcing revisions to the 2013 Servicing Tail Report, also available in the docket. These changes revise statements regarding alternatives to HCFC-123 for fire suppression and modeled need for virgin HCFC-123 for this purpose.
