

purposes and is not intended for release outside of the agency;

- Information gathered will not be used for the purpose of substantially informing influential policy decisions; and
- Information gathered will yield qualitative information; the collections will not be designed or expected to yield statistically reliable results or used as though the results are generalizable to the population of study.

Feedback collected under this generic clearance provides useful information, but it does not yield data that can be generalized to the overall population. This type of generic clearance for qualitative information will not be used for quantitative information collections that are designed to yield reliably actionable results, such as monitoring trends over time or documenting program performance. Such data uses require more rigorous designs that address: the target population to which generalizations will be made, the sampling frame, the sample design (including stratification and clustering), the precision requirements or power calculations that justify the proposed sample size, the expected response rate, methods for assessing potential non-response bias, the protocols for data collection, and any testing procedures that were or will be undertaken prior to fielding the study. Depending on the degree of influence the results are likely to have, such collections may still be eligible for submission for other generic mechanisms that are designed to yield quantitative results.

As a general matter, information collections will not result in any new system of records containing privacy information and will not ask questions of a sensitive nature, such as sexual behavior and attitudes, religious beliefs, and other matters that are commonly considered private.

Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; to develop, acquire, install and utilize technology and systems for the purpose of collecting, validating and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; to train personnel and to be able to respond to a collection of information, to search data sources, to complete and review the collection of information; and to transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

All written comments will be available for public inspection at: Regulations.gov.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid Office of Management and Budget control number.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

The Kennedy Educational Experiences Program (KEEP) is a job shadowing program intended to provide high school and college level students with a unique opportunity to increase their awareness of the practical application of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) careers through a job shadowing experience under the mentorship of a NASA Kennedy Space Center (KSC) subject matter expert. Participation in the program is limited to students who are U.S. citizens and 16 years of age or older. Students will submit (1) an application package that designates their top three areas of interest (computer science, environmental science, engineering, meteorology, physics, etc.) for the job shadowing experience and (2) recommendations from two separate science, math, or technology teachers associated with their current school of enrollment. Students may request a shadowing opportunity from 1-5 days; however the exact shadowing time period is based on the availability of the STEM mentors. This information collection extension includes changes to the instruments/forms for clarity and comprehensibility and the associated burden hours to read the instructions, gather the information, and submit. This 60-day FRN replaces FRN-2014-02-19.
