Announcement of Trusted Trader Program Test

AGENCY: U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Department of Homeland Security.

ACTION: General notice.

SUMMARY: This document announces that U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP), in collaboration with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), will begin the testing of the Trusted Trader program—a new program that will streamline the process through which importers can establish to CBP that they strive to secure their supply chains and strengthen their internal controls for compliance with the existing laws and regulations administered or enforced by CBP. The goals of the Trusted Trader program will be to: Achieve integrated U.S. government collaborations that result in enhanced efficiencies leading to a reduction in government-wide resource expenditures; enhance information sharing between government agencies; lower the administrative cost of participants by streamlining the application and validation process; and increase the efficiencies in the existing trade programs. The Trusted Trader program will strengthen security, identify low-risk trade entities, and increase overall efficiency of trade, by segmenting risk and processing by account. This test of the Trusted Trader program aims to move toward a whole of government approach to supply chain security and trade compliance by strengthening government collaboration between CBP and FDA and between CBP and CPSC. CBP seeks to encourage entities through incentives not currently available to members participating in both Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) and Importer Self-Assessment (ISA) to secure their supply chains and strengthen their internal controls for compliance with the existing laws and regulations administered or enforced by CBP.

DATES: Applications for participation in the test may be submitted beginning June 16, 2014. The selection of initial test participants will begin no later than July 16, 2014. Selected applicants will be notified individually of their participation date.

ADDRESSES: To submit comments concerning this test program: Send an email to TrustedTrader@cbp.dhs.gov. In the subject line of an email, please use, "Comment on Trusted Trader Program Test."

To apply to participate, send an email to TrustedTrader@cbp.dhs.gov. In the subject line of an email, please use, "Trusted Trader Program Test Application." #### SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Currently, companies may participate in the Customs—Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) program, which focuses on companies securing their supply chains, and the Importer Self-Assessment (ISA) program, which provides incentives to companies that can demonstrate to CBP that they have strong internal controls to comply with the laws and regulations administered or enforced by CBP. To participate in ISA, companies must participate in C-TPAT. Members of ISA may also participate in the Importer Self-Assessment-Product Safety Pilot (ISA-PS), which focuses on product safety and compliance with CBP and CPSC laws and regulations.

This document announces CBP's plan to unify the C-TPAT and ISA programs under a new test program called the Trusted Trader program.

I. Customs-Trade Partnership Against Terrorism Program

The C-TPAT program is a voluntary government-business initiative to build cooperative relationships that strengthen and improve overall international supply chain and U.S. border security. CBP encourages participation by providing incentives to participants meeting or exceeding the program requirements. As a result, the program helps CBP achieve its twin goals of improving security while facilitating the flow of global trade.
