I. Introduction

On January 15, 2015, the Postal Service filed a notice of inflation-based rate adjustments affecting market dominant domestic and international products and services, along with four temporary mailing promotions and numerous proposed classification changes.¹ The intended effective date is April 26, 2015. Notice at 1.

The Notice, which was filed pursuant to 39 U.S.C. 3622 and 39 CFR part 3010, triggers an expedited notice-and-comment proceeding.² The Notice is also more complex than the typical annual adjustment filing due to the impact of surcharges associated with the exigent rate case (Docket No. R2013-11) and the issue of rate design, especially new and merged rate cells.³ The Postal Service addresses the impact on rate design in its Notice. Notice at 16-17. The Postal Service also presents two sets of rates: With and without the exigent surcharges. See id., Attachment A, Part I and Part II.

¹ United States Postal Service Notice of Market-Dominant Price Adjustment, January 15, 2015 (Notice). The Notice includes a set of attachments filed as a separate public pdf.

² This is a Type 1-A proceeding. See 39 CFR part 3010, subparts A-C for additional information, including the controlling consumer price index, and Notice at 3.

II. Overview

A. Filing Details

Contents in general. The Postal Service's filing consists of a detailed Notice which addresses the data and information required under 39 CFR 3010.13; five attachments⁴ to the Notice; and six sets of workpapers filed as library references.

Attachments. Attachment A, Part I presents the proposed Mail Classification Schedule (MCS) changes (in legislative format) with prices that reflect base (Docket No. R2013-10) prices plus the new proposed increases without the exigent surcharges. Attachment A, Part II presents the MCS changes with prices (base plus the new proposed increases) that include the exigent (Docket No. R2013-11) surcharges.⁵ The other attachments address workshare discounts and related information; the price cap calculation; the 2015 mailing promotions and incentives calendar; and adjusted exigent surcharges for new rate cells. See id. Attachments B-E, respectively.

Library references. The library references present supporting financial documentation for the five classes of mail and for First-Class Mail International. See Notice at 4-5. The First-Class Mail International Library Reference was filed under seal.⁶

B. Planned Price Adjustments

The Postal Service's planned percentage changes by class are, on average:

Market dominant class	Price adjustment authority (%)
First-Class Mail	1.949
Standard Mail	1.886
Periodicals	1.965

³ See Docket No. R2013-11, Order No. 1926, Order Granting Exigent Price Increase, December 24, 2013.

⁴ Notice, Attachments A-E. Attachment A also assumes First-Class Mail Parcels, which are the subject of a pending transfer request in Docket No. MC2015-7, are a market dominant product. See Notice at 20, n.12.

⁵ The Postal Service adopts the November 24, 2014 MCS as the base version for showing proposed changes. See id. at 53, n.27.

⁶ See Notice of the United States Postal Service of Filing of USPS-LR-R2015-4/NP1, January 15, 2015.

Market dominant class	Price adjustment authority (%)
Package Services	1.964
Special Services	0.234

Notice at 5.

Nature of adjustments. Most of the planned adjustments entail increases to market dominant rates and fees; however, in a few instances, the Postal Service proposes either no adjustment or a decrease. In addition, price adjustments for products within classes vary from the average, sometimes substantially. See, e.g., id. at 17, 21 (Table 5 showing range for First-Class Mail products) and (Table 7 showing range for Standard Mail products).

Proposed classification changes. The Postal Service proposes numerous classification changes in its Notice. Id. at 53–55. It identifies the impact on the MCS in Attachment A, Part I and Part II.

Calendar year promotions. The Postal Service seeks approval for the following four promotions for the periods indicated:

- Earned Value Reply Mail Promotion (May–July 2015);
- Advanced and Emerging Technology Promotion (May–October 2015);
- Color Transpromo Promotion (June–November 2015); and
- Mail Drives Mobile Engagement Promotion (July–December 2015).

Id. at 7–8.

Note to all interested persons. The Notice and related filings, including library references, provide important additional details concerning the planned adjustments, mailing promotions, and classification changes. The Commission strongly encourages interested persons to carefully review the Notice and all related filings, including new MCS language relating to changes corresponding to the exigent surcharges, and to monitor the Commission's Web site for additional information, including potential revisions to the Notice.

New Mailing Standards for Lithium Batteries

AGENCY: Postal Service™.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Postal Service will revise Publication 52, Hazardous, Restricted, and Perishable Mail (Publication 52), in various sections to provide new standards for the mailing of lithium batteries. Publication 52 was developed to provide expanded requirements for the mailing of hazardous, restricted, and perishable materials.

DATES: Effective date: March 2, 2015.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Joan Hall (212) 330–5332 or Kevin Gunther (202) 268–7208.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Overview

U.S. Postal Service® Publication 52 provides mailing standards specific to hazardous, restricted and perishable items and materials. Pursuant to the Mailing Standards of the United States Postal Service, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM®) 601.8.2, Publication 52 applies to the mailability of hazardous materials, including lithium batteries.

Revisions to Publication 52

The Postal Service is making these revisions in order to align with the Department of Transportation (DOT), Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) recent changes to regulations for the transportation of lithium batteries.

On August 6, 2014, PHMSA issued a final rule (79 FR 46012–46040) titled “Hazardous Materials: Transportation of Lithium Batteries” in which it describes new requirements governing the shipment of lithium cells and batteries for both air and surface transportation. In this final rule, PHMSA revises hazard communication and packaging provisions for lithium batteries and harmonizes the Hazardous Materials Regulations (HMR) with applicable provisions of the United Nations (UN) Model Regulations, the International Civil Aviation Organization's Technical Instructions for the Safe Transport of Dangerous Goods by Air (ICAO Technical Instructions) and the International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG) Code.

With these revisions, the Postal Service aligns with PHMSA and the other regulatory entities noted above with regard to:

1. Use of terminology describing lithium content with watt-hours for lithium-ion cells and batteries;

2. Adoption of separate shipping descriptions for lithium metal batteries and lithium-ion batteries;

3. New requirements for the transport of small lithium cells and batteries contained in equipment; and

4. New marking requirements and options for lithium batteries installed in equipment packaged with equipment and shipped without equipment.

In the development of mailing standards for lithium cells and batteries in air transportation, the Postal Service
