Circular Welded Carbon Quality Steel Pipe From the People's Republic of China: Notice of Court Decision Not in Harmony With Final Determination and Amended Final Determination Under Section 129 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: On October 22, 2015, the United States Court of International Trade (CIT or Court) issued final judgment in Wheatland Tube Company v. United States, Consol. Court No. 12-00296, affirming the Department of Commerce's (the Department) final results of redetermination pursuant to court remand. Consistent with the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (CAFC) in Timken Co. v. United States, 893 F.2d 337 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (Timken), as clarified by Diamond Sawblades Mfrs. Coalition v. United States, 626 F.3d 1374 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (Diamond Sawblades), the Department is notifying the public that the final judgment in this case is not in harmony with the Department's implemented final determination in a proceeding conducted under section 129 of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act (Section 129) related to the Department's final affirmative determination in the antidumping duty (AD) investigation of circular welded carbon quality steel pipe (CWP) from the People's Republic of China (the PRC) for the period October 1, 2006, through March 31, 2007.¹ The Department is amending its implemented Final Section 129 Determination with regard to granting adjustments to the AD cash deposit rates.

DATES: Effective Date: November 2, 2015

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

On July 22, 2008, the Department published AD and countervailing duty (CVD) orders on CWP imports from the PRC.² The Government of the People's Republic of China challenged the CWP orders and three other sets of simultaneously imposed AD and CVD orders before the Dispute Settlement Body of the World Trade Organization (WTO). The WTO Appellate Body, in March 2011, found that the United States had acted inconsistently with its international obligations in several respects, including the potential imposition of overlapping remedies, or so-called "double remedies."³ The U.S. Trade Representative then announced the United States' intention to comply with the WTO's rulings and recommendations, and the Department initiated a Section 129 proceeding.⁴

On July 31, 2012, the Department issued its Final Section 129 Determination. In that determination, the Department found that an adjustment was warranted to the AD rates on CWP imports from the PRC to account for remedies that overlap those imposed by the CVD order.⁵ As a result, the Department reduced the applicable AD rate for separate rate companies from 69.2 percent to 45.35 percent and reduced the PRC-wide entity AD rate from 85.55 percent to 68.24 percent.⁶ The Department published a notice implementing the Final Section 129 Determination on August 30, 2012.⁷ Various parties challenged the Department's Final Section 129 Determination at the CIT.

Following the final disposition of litigation related to the Final Section 129 Determination regarding the CVD investigation of CWP from the PRC, in which the Department found no basis for making an adjustment to the companion AD rates under Section 777(A)(f) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act),⁸ the CIT granted the Department's request for a voluntary remand in the litigation challenging the Final Section 129 Determination regarding the AD investigation of CWP from the PRC.⁹ On October 8, 2015, the Department issued its Final Remand Redetermination regarding the AD investigation of CWP from the PRC, in which it amended its Final Section 129 Determination regarding the AD investigation and denied the adjustment to the AD cash deposit rates granted to respondents in the Final Section 129 Determination.¹⁰ On October 22, 2015, the CIT sustained the Department's Final Remand Redetermination.¹¹

Timken Notice

In its decision in Timken, 893 F.2d at 341, as clarified by Diamond Sawblades, the CAFC held that, pursuant to section 516A(e) of the Act, the Department must publish a notice of a court decision that is not "in harmony" with a Department determination and must suspend liquidation of entries pending a "conclusive" court decision. The CIT's October 22, 2015, judgment affirming the Final Remand Redetermination constitutes a final court decision that is not in harmony with the Department's Final Section 129 Determination. This notice is published in fulfillment of publication requirements of Timken.

Amended Final Determination

Because there is now a final court decision with respect to the Department's Final Section 129 Determination regarding the AD investigation of CWP from the PRC, the Department is amending the Final Section 129 Determination, as implemented, regarding an adjustment to the AD cash deposit rates. The revised AD cash deposit rates are as follows:
