II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Rule 6.47 establishes priority principles for split-price transactions occurring in open outcry. Generally, a Trading Permit Holder that purchases (sells) one or more contracts of a series at a particular price will have priority over other Trading Permit Holders, other than those representing orders in the limit order book, in purchasing (selling) up to an equivalent number of contracts of the same order at the next lower (higher) price. For orders of 100 or more contracts, Trading Permit Holders that trade 50 or more contracts of such orders at a particular price will have this priority over all other Trading Permit Holders at the next best price, including those representing orders in the limit order book. This priority is awarded for split-price transactions that occur in open outcry only.

Minimum Increment Width Series

The Exchange proposes to add Rule 6.47(e) to codify an exception to the availability of split-price priority when the width of a series' quote is at the minimum increment width. If the width of the quote for a series is the minimum increment for that series (e.g., $1.00–$1.05 for a series with a minimum increment of $0.05, $1.00–$1.01 for a series with a minimum increment of $0.01), and both the bid and offer represent public customer orders resting in the book, split-price priority pursuant to this rule is not available to Trading Permit Holders until the public customer order(s) resting in the book on either side of the market trades.³ This exception is consistent with the Exchange's allocation and priority rules, which provide for public customer orders to have first priority at the best price in open outcry (subject to applicable exceptions).⁴

For example, assume the market for a series with a minimum increment of $0.05 is $1.00–$1.05 (with the $1.00 bid and $1.05 offer each representing a customer order for 25 contracts), and a Floor Broker receives an order from a customer that would like to buy 100 contracts at a price or prices no higher than $1.05. The Floor Broker attempts to execute the order in open outcry at a price better than the displayed offer of $1.05. Assume a Market-Maker is willing to sell 50 contracts at $1.00 and 50 contracts at $1.05. The "first transaction" of this split-price transaction would be 50 contracts at $1.00. However, there is customer interest resting at $1.00, which would have time priority to trade at $1.00.⁵ Therefore, in this situation, if the Market-Maker wants to receive split-price priority at $1.05, the Market-Maker would not be able to execute the first part of a split-price transaction with the order being represented by the Floor Broker until after the resting customer order at $1.00 trades.

The proposed rule change provides that "either side of the market" must trade for split-price priority to become available. The rule provides that a Trading Permit Holder is eligible to receive split-price priority, which could include the Trading Permit Holder representing the order or offer (quote). Thus, the proposed rule change allows for the Trading Permit Holder on either side of a transaction to be eligible for split-price priority. Assume the market for a series with a minimum increment of $0.05 is $1.00–$1.05 (with the $1.00 bid and $1.05 offer each representing a customer order for 25 contracts), and a Floor Broker receives an order from a customer that would like to buy 100 contracts at a price or prices no higher than $1.05. After receiving no interest from the crowd to sell 100 contracts at $1.00, the Floor Broker represents to the crowd that it would like to buy 50 contracts at $1.00 and 50 contracts at $1.05. Assume a Market-Maker is willing to sell 50 contracts at $1.00 and 50 contracts at $1.05. In a separate transaction, the public customer order at $1.05 trades against an order of another market participant. The "first transaction" of this split-price transaction would be 50 contracts at $1.05 (at which price there is no more resting public customer offer) and the "second transaction" of this split-price transaction would be 50 contracts at $1.00, the next best price for the Floor Broker. In this situation, the Floor Broker is eligible to receive split-price priority at $1.00 over the resting customer interest at $1.00 and achieve a better net price execution of $1.025 for its customer order.

Other than the limited exception to customer priority afforded in Rule 6.47(b) (and as elsewhere set forth in the rules),⁶ public customer orders continue to have first priority and other allocation and priority rules remain unchanged. The Exchange believes that specifying the unavailability of split-price priority in this specific situation will further clarify the applicability of the priority in the rules.

Multiple Prices

Rule 6.47(a) and (b) currently provides that split-price priority may apply to executions of an order at multiple prices. The proposed rule change removes the references to multiple prices from those paragraphs. The Exchange believes the priority should only apply at the next price level rather than multiple price levels.

³ This exception is currently set forth in Regulatory Circular RG07–076.

⁴ See Rules 6.45A(b)(i)(A) and 6.45B(b)(i)(A).

⁶ For example, the rules provide for a complex order priority exception (see Rules 6.45(e), 6.45A(b)(ii) and 6.45B(b)(ii)).

Nonsubstantive Changes

The Exchange proposes to make the following nonsubstantive changes to Rule 6.47(a), (b) and (c):

- The proposed rule change amends the headings of and adds introductory language to paragraphs (a) and (b).
- The proposed rule change revises the language in paragraphs (a) and (b) to simplify the description of when the split-price priority applies to improve readability. The priority will still apply in the same manner—a Trading Permit Holder may buy (sell) one or more contracts for one series of an order or offer (bid) (the “first transaction”)⁷ and receive priority over all other orders and quotes (except public customer orders resting in the book with respect to orders or offers (bids) of fewer than 100 contracts or orders or offers (bids) with which Trading Permit Holders do not purchase (sell) at least 50 contracts at the better price) to buy (sell) up to the same number of contracts of those remaining from the same order or offer (bid) at the next best price (the “second transaction”). This second transaction must still occur with the same order or offer (quote) as the first transaction. For example, assume the market is $1.00–$1.20 with size of 300 contracts, and a Floor Broker receives an order from a customer that would like to buy 500 contracts at a price or prices no higher than $1.20. The Floor Broker attempts to execute the order in open outcry at a price better than the displayed offer of $1.20. Now assume a Market-Maker in the crowd is willing to sell 250 contracts at $1.15 and 250 contracts at $1.20. The Market-Maker could offer $1.15 for 250 contracts and then, by virtue of the split-price priority rule, have priority for the 250 contract balance over other crowd members at $1.20. The resulting net execution price for the customer would be $1.175, which is better than the displayed market of $1.20 and thus a better fill for the customer.⁸
- Paragraph (a) currently provides that the Trading Permit Holder must yield to the Order Book Official. The proposed rule change amends the term Order Book Official to public customer. Other priority rules refer to “public customer” priority,⁹ and Rule 6.47(a) provides priority in the circumstances described except over public customer orders.¹⁰ Order Book Officials only present to the crowd public customer orders that rest in the book, so the priority afforded pursuant to paragraph (a) must still yield to the same public customer orders in the same manner. This change is merely an update to terminology, as public customer orders may be presented to the floor other than by Order Book Officials.¹¹ The Exchange believes it is appropriate to use the same terminology that is used in other priority rules to ensure consistency throughout the Exchange’s rules and ensure that all public customer orders receive priority when applicable.

⁷ The Exchange notes that the current rule contemplates that an order or quote can represent the series with which a Trading Permit Holder may transact to receive split-price priority. The current rule uses the phrase “contracts of a particular series,” which includes both orders and quotes, and indicates that the purchase (sale) effected represents the opposite side of a transaction with the “same order or offer (bid)” as the earlier purchase (sale), which again contemplates multiple transactions with a single originating order or quote. The proposed rule change makes clear throughout that an order or quote can comprise the originating contracts with which the crowd can trade to obtain split-price priority.

⁸ While the net price result will be $1.175, two separate trades at $1.15 and $1.20 would be reported.

- Paragraphs (a) and (b) currently state that a Trading Permit Holder’s bid (offer) at the next best price must be made promptly following the purchase (sale) at the initial price. The proposed rule change deletes that language from those paragraphs and adds it to new paragraph (d) to include with other conditions to which split-price priority is subject. In addition, the proposed rule change adds that the second bid (offer) may also be made at the same time as the first bid (offer). If a Trading Permit Holder makes the first bid (offer) with the intent of taking advantage of the split-price priority, then it may be more efficient for the Trading Permit Holder to announce both bids (offers) at the same time than to wait for the first execution.¹² The Trading Permit Holder is still not guaranteed execution at the second price; another Trading Permit Holder may still bid (offer) to trade with part of the order or offer (quote) at the better first price.
- Paragraphs (a) and (b) currently state that they apply only to open outcry

⁹ See, e.g., Rules 6.45A(b)(i)(A) and 6.45B(b)(i)(A).

¹⁰ The proposed rule change amends Rule 1.1(fff) and (ggg) to add Rule 6.47 to the list of rules for which Voluntary Professionals and Professionals, respectively, will be treated in the same manner as a broker or dealer. Professionals and Voluntary Professionals do not receive priority as public customers do pursuant to CBOE’s allocation rules, including Rules 6.45A(b) and 6.45B(b) regarding open outcry trading. Under those rules, Professionals and Voluntary Professionals would not receive priority, including if public customer orders must be cleared prior to a Trading Permit Holder availing itself of split-price priority. The proposed rule change explicitly states this in the Professional and Voluntary Professional definitions.

¹¹ Additionally, the Exchange no longer has Order Book Officials.

¹² For example, a Floor Broker may represent an order to sell at “$1.15 and $1.20 splits,” indicating a desire to buy half of the order at $1.15 and the other half at $1.20 with priority at $1.20.

transactions. The proposed rule change deletes that language from those paragraphs and adds it to new paragraph (d) to include with other conditions to which split-price priority is subject. Paragraphs (a) and (b) also state that split-price priority applies to transactions in a particular series (i.e. simple orders, but not complex orders). The proposed rule change explicitly states the priority does not apply to complex orders in new paragraph (d).

- Paragraphs (a) and (b) currently state that the Trading Permit Holder eligible for split-price priority must make its bid (offer) promptly and the purchase (sale) represents the opposite side of a transaction with the same order or offer (bid). The proposed rule change uses this phrase throughout the rule for consistency. The proposed rule change also deletes the provision that requires the subsequent transaction must be with the same order or offer (bid) from paragraphs (a) and (b) and adds it to new paragraph (d).

- The proposed rule change makes other administrative and clerical changes to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) (e.g., capitalizing words in headings, changing the word purchase to buy, deletion of word option before contract since only option contracts execute on the Exchange). The Exchange believes these changes have no impact on the split-price priority afforded by the rule.

- The proposed rule change refers to the priority afforded by Rule 6.47(a) and (b) as “split-price priority” to further simplify the rule text.

The Exchange believes these nonsubstantive changes more clearly describe the applicability of the split-price priority and better reflect the use of split-price priority on the trading floor.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to the Exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b) of the Act.¹³ Specifically, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5)¹⁴ requirements that the rules of an exchange be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. Additionally, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5)¹⁵ requirement that the rules of an exchange not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

¹³ 15 U.S.C. 78f(b).

In particular, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the purpose of the existing split-price priority, which is to induce Trading Permit Holders to bid (offer) at better prices for an order or offer (bid) that may require execution at multiple prices (such as larger orders), which will result in a better average price for the originating Trading Permit Holder (or its customer).

The proposed rule change to codify the split-price priority exception when the width of a series' quote is the minimum increment for that series and each side of the quote represents public customer interest will benefit investors by including all information regarding when split-price priority is available in a single rule. This proposed rule change is consistent with the Exchange's priority and allocation rules. The Exchange believes the proposed rule change to codify this exception, as well as the proposed rule change to eliminate split-price priority at multiple price levels, balances the availability of split-price priority, which benefits investors by providing opportunities for price improvement, with customer priority, which promotes just and equitable principles of trade by providing public customers access to CBOE's market.

The proposed rule change to amend the definitions of Voluntary Professional and Professional clarify that, for purposes of Rule 6.47, as is the case for all other allocation rules, those participants will be treated as broker-dealers rather than public customers for allocation purposes. The same result occurs under current allocation rules, as those rules provide with respect to open outcry priority that public customers in the book receive priority (and the definitions of Voluntary Professional and Professional provide that those participants are treated as broker-dealers for purposes of those rules); this merely clarifies it in the Rules.

The Exchange believes the nonsubstantive changes to Rule 6.47 will benefit investors by describing the applicability of split-price priority more simply and clearly. The revised language is also more consistent with other Exchange rules regarding priority.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The priority afforded by Rules 6.47(a) and (b) continues to be available to all Trading Permit Holders who trade open outcry, of which all Trading Permit Holders that engage in open outcry trading may avail themselves. Rules often apply to open outcry trading only because of the different nature of the open outcry market versus the electronic market (such as allocation rules). The proposed rule change may result in better pricing for customer orders submitted to the trading floor, particularly those that may require execution at multiple prices, and market participants may submit orders to CBOE to take advantage of these better prices. CBOE believes that the proposed rule change will continue to encourage Trading Permit Holders on CBOE's trading floor to bid or offer better prices, thus creating more opportunities for price improvement, which ultimately enhances competition. The nonsubstantive changes and codification of the applicability of split-price priority in a minimum width market do not impact the manner in which split-price priority applies and thus have no effect on competition.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The Exchange has filed the proposed rule change pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(iii) of the Act¹⁶ and Rule 19b-4(f)(6) thereunder.¹⁷ Because the proposed rule change does not: (i) Significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (ii) impose any significant burden on competition; and (iii) become operative prior to 30 days from the date on which it was filed, or such shorter time as the ¹⁶ 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(3)(A)(iii).

¹⁷ 17 CFR 240.19b-4(f)(6). In addition, Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii) requires a self-regulatory organization to give the Commission written notice of its intent to file the proposed rule change, along with a brief description and text of the proposed rule change, at least five business days prior to the date of filing of the proposed rule change, or such shorter time as designated by the Commission. The Exchange has satisfied this requirement.

Commission may designate, if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, the proposed rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii) thereunder.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission will institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.
