AGENCY: Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Treasury.

ACTION: Interim final rule and request for comment.

SUMMARY: The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) is amending its rules of practice and procedure for national banks and its rules of practice and procedure in adjudicatory proceedings for Federal savings associations to publish the maximum amount, adjusted for inflation, of each civil money penalty within its jurisdiction to administer. These actions are required under the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act of 1990, as amended by the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015.

DATES: This rule is effective on August 1, 2016. Comments must be submitted by August 30, 2016.

Comments received, including attachments and other supporting Inflation Adjustment Act required the OCC and other Federal agencies with civil money penalty (CMP) authority to publish by regulation the inflation-adjusted maximum assessment for each CMP authorized by a law that the agency has jurisdiction to administer. Key features of the Inflation Adjustment Act included requiring such agencies to make inflation adjustments at least once every four years following any initial adjustment, capping the initial inflation adjustment increase at 10 percent, and imposing rounding rules that limited increases based on the amount of the penalty.

The purpose of the 2015 Act is to: (i) Establish a mechanism to regularly adjust CMPs for inflation; (ii) maintain the deterrent effect of CMPs and promote compliance with the law; and (iii) improve the collection of CMPs by the Federal government. Key provisions of the 2015 Act include simplifying the process for calculating the inflation increase, eliminating the complex rounding rules, and requiring Federal agencies to adjust penalties on an annual basis.

The 2015 Act requires agencies to increase the level of each maximum CMP, or the range of minimum and maximum CMPs, with an initial “catch-up” adjustment through an interim final rule published in the Federal Register no later than July 1, 2016, with an effective date no later than August 1, 2016. Under the 2015 Act, agencies must calculate initial catch-up adjustments based on the percentage increase in the October 2015 Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers (CPI–U) from the October CPI–U of the year the CMP was established or last adjusted by law. However, for the catch-up adjustment, the amount of the initial increase may not exceed 150 percent of the CMP in effect on the date the 2015 Act was enacted (i.e., November 2, 2015).

The 2015 Act requires agencies to publish subsequent annual adjustments in the Federal Register no later than January 15 of each year, beginning on January 15, 2017. The 2015 Act also requires agencies to calculate subsequent annual inflation adjustments based on the percentage increase in the CPI–U for the month of October preceding the date of the adjustment from the prior year’s October CPI–U and to round all adjustments to the nearest dollar.

The 2015 Act also requires OMB to issue guidance to Federal agencies on implementing the required inflation adjustments. The OMB guidance (OMB Guidance), issued February 24, 2016, provides the multipliers (i.e., the inflation adjustment factor agencies must use to adjust their penalties), step-by-step instructions on how to calculate the catch-up adjustments, and other relevant information.

The OCC last evaluated and adjusted the maximum amount of CMPs applicable to national banks and Federal savings associations in 2012. An interim final rule was published in the Federal Register on November 6, 2012, and became effective on December 6, 2012. The OCC published a technical amendment to this rule in the Federal Register on December 28, 2012.

II. Description of the Interim Final Rule

A. Initial Inflation Adjustment

This interim final rule adjusts for inflation the maximum assessment for each CMP that the OCC has jurisdiction to impose in accordance with the 2015 Act and the OMB Guidance. The OCC is incorporating these adjustments into the charts that are set forth at 12 CFR 19.240(a) with respect to national banks (national bank chart) and 12 CFR 109.103(c) with respect to Federal savings associations (Federal savings association chart). Each chart identifies the statutes that authorize the OCC to assess CMPs, describes the different tiers of penalties provided in each statute (as applicable), and sets out the inflation-adjusted maximum penalty that the OCC may impose pursuant to each statutory provision. The OCC calculated the amounts in the charts in accordance with the OMB Guidance, as follows.
In order to calculate the catch-up adjustment, the OMB Guidance instructs agencies to identify, for each penalty, the year and corresponding amount(s) for which the maximum penalty level or range of minimum and maximum penalties was established (i.e., as originally enacted by Congress), or last adjusted (i.e., by Congress in statute, or by the agency through regulation), whichever is later, other than pursuant to the Inflation Adjustment Act. Thus, this step of the calculation excludes prior inflation adjustments under the Inflation Adjustment Act.10

The OMB Guidance then directs agencies to modify that penalty level or range based on the CPI–U for the month of October 2015, not seasonally adjusted. OMB calculated the multiplier that agencies must apply in order to adjust the penalty level or range of penalty levels, based on the year the penalty was established or last adjusted by statute or regulation, and provided these multipliers for the years 1914 through 2015.11 Agencies must apply the multiplier and round all penalty levels to the nearest dollar. However, because the 2015 Act caps the amount of the initial catch-up adjustment at 150 percent, the OMB Guidance states that each adjusted penalty cannot exceed 250 percent of the penalty level in effect on November 2, 2015.12 The 2015 Act states that agencies are required to apply the new penalty levels to CMPs that are assessed after the effective date of the rule. The OMB Guidance clarifies that inflation adjustments calculated and assessed pursuant to the 2015 Act adjust penalties prospectively and do not retrospectively change penalties previously assessed or enforced that the agency is actively collecting or has collected.13

The worksheets below show how the OCC calculated the new penalty levels for national banks and Federal savings associations. Only two penalties, those provided in 12 U.S.C. 1832(c) and 1884, were capped at 250 percent of the amount of the penalty on November 2, 2015.12

The OCC did not exercise the discretion it is provided under the 2015 Act to seek a reduced catch-up adjustment determination from OMB. Such a request would have required the OCC to demonstrate that the penalty would have a negative economic impact, or that the social costs of the adjustment would outweigh the benefits.14 As the penalties reflected in the national bank chart and Federal savings association chart are, for the most part, maximum penalties, the OCC may impose lesser penalties, if warranted. Accordingly, the OCC concluded that a reduced catch-up adjustment determination was not necessary.

B. Penalties Added to the National Bank Chart and Federal Savings Association Chart

This interim final rule adjusts the following additional penalties that are being incorporated into the national bank chart and Federal savings association chart. First, both charts include a new CMP, provided in 15 U.S.C. 1639e(k), created by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act).15 The new CMP makes it unlawful for a creditor who extends credit or provides any services for a consumer credit transaction secured by the consumer’s principal dwelling, to engage in any act or practice that violates the regulation implementing the appraisal independence requirements in section 1472 of the Dodd-Frank Act. Pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Act, the maximum daily penalty for the first violation is $10,000 and the maximum daily penalty for subsequent violations is $20,000. The adjusted maximum daily penalties will be $18,907 and $37,814, respectively. The OCC also is adjusting the penalty provided in 12 U.S.C. 481, an existing CMP that previously was not included in the chart. Twelve U.S.C. 481 authorizes the OCC to assess on a national bank a maximum daily penalty of no more than $5,000 if any affiliate of a national bank refuses to permit an examiner to make an examination of such affiliate or refuses to provide any information required in the course of such an examination. The adjusted maximum daily penalty will be $9,468. In addition, the OCC is adjusting the penalties provided in 12 U.S.C. 1832(c), 12 U.S.C. 1972(2)(F), and 15 U.S.C. 78u–2(b), three CMPs that are in the national bank chart, but were not previously included in the chart applicable to Federal savings associations. Twelve U.S.C. 1832(c) makes it unlawful for a depository institution to violate the restrictions on withdrawals by negotiable or transferable instruments for transfers to third parties. The penalty when first established was $1,000 per violation. The adjusted penalty will be $2,750 per violation. Twelve U.S.C. 1972(2)(F) makes it unlawful for a savings association to violate anti-tying restrictions regarding correspondent accounts, unsafe or unsound practices, or breach of fiduciary duty. When first established, the maximum daily penalty was: $5,000 for a tier 1 violation; $25,000 for a tier 2 violation; $1,000,000 for a tier 3 violation by a person other than a bank; and the lesser of $1,000,000 or 1 percent of total assets for a tier 3 violation by a bank. The adjusted maximum daily penalties will be: $9,468 for a tier 1 violation; $47,340 for a tier 2 violation; $1,893,610 for a tier 3 violation by a person other than a bank; and the lesser of $1,893,610 or 1 percent of total assets for a tier 3 violation by a bank. The 2015 Act to seek a reduced catch-up adjustment determination was not necessary.

C. Other Technical Changes to the National Bank Chart and Federal Savings Association Chart

The OCC is making several minor technical edits to the national bank chart and Federal savings association chart. The OCC is amending the charts by adding a footnote to each chart, where appropriate, to clarify that for certain penalties the applicable statute provides that the penalty will be the lesser of a dollar adjusted penalty

10 See OMB Guidance, at 3.
11 For penalties established or last adjusted prior to 1914, the OMB Guidance states that agencies should use the multiplier for 1914. See id., Table A, at 6.
12 See 28 U.S.C. 2461 note, section 5(b)(2)(C); see also OMB Guidance, at 3.

amount or 1 percent of the bank’s total assets. The text of the new Federal savings association chart no longer includes reference to 12 U.S.C. 3349(b). This penalty is an example of penalties that do not themselves provide the amount of the penalty but rather cross-reference 12 U.S.C. 1818. Instead, the OCC is adding a footnote to the national reference 12 U.S.C. 1818. Instead, the penalty is an example of penalties that do not themselves provide the amount of the penalty but rather cross-reference 12 U.S.C. 1818. Instead, the OCC is adding a footnote to the national reference 12 U.S.C. 1818. Instead, the penalty in section 1818 is adjusted for inflation. The interim final rule also deletes §§ 19.240(c) and 109.103(d), which provided an effective date of July 6, 2012, for the amount of the penalties for violations of 42 U.S.C. 4012a(f)(5), as all the penalty amounts on the revised national bank chart and Federal savings association chart are now effective on the same date.

Finally, consistent with the 2015 Act, revised §§ 19.240(a) and 109.103(c) apply only to penalties assessed on or after the effective date of this interim final rule, August 1, 2016.

III. Request for Comments

The 2015 Act requires the OCC to adjust the CMPs that it has jurisdiction to administer through an interim final rule. The 2015 Act also dictates the method by which the amount of the initial catch-up adjustment for each CMP must be calculated. As noted in the OMB Guidance, agencies are not required to complete a notice-and-comment process prior to publication of this interim final rule in the Federal Register. However, the OCC invites comments on all aspects of this interim final rule. Commenters are specifically encouraged to identify any technical issues raised by the rule, including identifying any CMPs that may have been unintentionally omitted from this rulemaking.

IV. Regulatory Analysis

A. Delayed Effective Date

Section 302 of the Riegle Community Development and Regulatory Improvement Act of 1994 (RCDDRIA) requires that the effective date of new regulations and amendments to regulations that impose additional reporting, disclosures, or other new requirements on insured depository institutions shall be the first day of a calendar quarter that begins on or after the date the regulations are published in final form. 12 U.S.C. 4802(b)(1). The RCDDRIA does not apply to this interim final rule because the rule merely increases the amount of CMPs that already exist and does not impose any additional reporting, disclosures, or other new requirements.

The Administrative Procedure Act generally requires agencies to publish a rule 30 days prior to its effective date. This interim final rule satisfies 22 because the 2015 Act caps the amount of the initial inflation adjustment (catch-up adjustment) at 150 percent, the catch-up adjustment cannot exceed 250 percent of the penalty level(s) in effect on the date the 2015 Act was enacted (i.e., November 2, 2015).
that requirement. It also satisfies the requirement in the 2015 Act to publish the initial interim final rule no later than July 1, 2016, with an effective date no later than August 1, 2016.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act applies only to rules for which an agency publishes a general notice of proposed rulemaking pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553(b). Because the 2015 Act requires agencies’ catch-up adjustments to be made through an interim final rule, the OCC is not publishing a general notice of proposed rulemaking. Therefore, the Regulatory Flexibility Act does not apply to this interim final rule.

C. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995

Section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 requires that an agency prepare a budgetary impact statement before promulgating any rule likely to result in a Federal mandate that may result in the expenditure by State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100 million or more, as adjusted for inflation, in any one year. The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act only applies when an agency issues a general notice of proposed rulemaking. Because the OCC is not publishing a notice of proposed rulemaking, this interim final rule is not subject to section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.
