SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:I. Background

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the Department of Transportation (DOT)/Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) proposes to update and reissue a DOT system of records titled, "DOT/FAA-801 Aviation Registration Records."

In May of 2010, the FAA published a final rule titled Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, 14 CFR part 91, Automatic Dependent Surveillance-Broadcast (ADS-B) Out Performance Requirements. This rule mandates that aircraft flying in certain controlled airspace be equipped with ADS-B Out technology by Jan. 1, 2020. In order to accelerate compliance with the 2010 ADS-B Out Final Rule, the FAA is offering a financial incentive to owners of general aviation aircraft to encourage compliance with the ADS-B Out Final Rule. Rebates are available to owners of U.S.-registered, fixed-wing, single-engine piston aircraft that purchase and install FAA Technical Standard Orders (TSO) certified avionics. The FAA will offer up to 20,000 rebates of $500 on a first-come, first-served basis to owners of these aircraft; and so long as funding is available or one (1) year from the beginning of the program; whichever occurs first.

In order for an aircraft owner to initiate the rebate claim process, they must access the GA ADS-B Rebate Program web application, provide the aircraft registration number, their email address, signature and click statements acknowledging no liability to the FAA for their ADS-B equipment. The ADS-B rebate application will manage rebate reservation and claim records which includes a rebate code, incentive code, and the email address associated with every rebate reservation and claim. The purpose of the rebate reservation code and incentive code is to allocate one of the 20,000 rebates available and to ensure the aircraft has completed the equipment installation. Once the reservation application process is complete, the owner is emailed a rebate reservation code. This unique code is used in the ADS-B rebate Web site application to ensure that only one aircraft and associated owner receives a rebate.

ADS-B, Traffic Information Service—Broadcast (TIS-B), and Flight Information Service—Broadcast (FIS-B) records are created when a pilot submits an ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report to the FAA to report an issue or problem with any of the ADS-B-related services provided by the FAA. The FAA uses the email address collected in order to communicate back to the reporting pilot about the issue or problem that they reported.

The ADS-B Compliance Monitor (CM) enables FAA to assist aircraft owners, pilots and avionics installers to validate the performance of their ADS-B equipment installation upon request. This is communicated via the Public ADS-B Performance Report (PAPR).

In order to complete the claim rebate process, no later than 60 days after the scheduled installation date provided in the reservation, the aircraft owner must go to the GA ADS-B Rebate Web site and provide their aircraft registration number, rebate reservation code, incentive code and email address. If approved, the rebate payments will be processed by the third party vendor Aircraft Electronics Association (AEA). AEA will then issue the aircraft owner a rebate check based on the information provided by the FAA. The FAA will receive the check number and date of issuance from AEA to validate the process was completed.

This system of records notice (SORN) is being updated to add the new categories of records held for operational implementation of the ADS-B Out Rulemaking including administration of the GA ADS-B Rebate program on-going compliance monitoring, and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B problem report programs. The authorities for collection are being expanded to include Section 221(a) of the FAA Modernization Act of 2012 which provides for the establishment of the ADS-B incentive program which is in the interest of achieving next generation capabilities for such aircraft. The purpose section is being updated to reflect the data collected and used by the FAA necessary validate aircraft eligibility for the ADS-B rebate program and to send payment to the aircraft owner's address of record. The data collected and utilized includes information previously provided by aircraft owners during aircraft registration process and maintained in the CAR as well as the separate collection of name, home address and aircraft tail number. In addition, to support of the ADS-B Rebate program the information contained in these systems will be used by the FAA to provide program oversight and perform statistical analysis of various parameters of the FAA ADS-B Program in support of FAA's safety programs and agency management. The storage and safeguarding sections of this SORN are being updated to reflect that payment information is being stored at a third party vendor location to issue a rebate to aircraft owners in connection with the ADS-B rebate program.

The records retention section is being updated to reflect the proposed records schedule for the ADS-B rebate, CM programs and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Reports. Finally the retrievability section is being updated because the ADS-B rebate program and ADS-B CM records are retrieved by the aircraft registration number. Additional non-substantive modifications have been made to the SORN text to provide clarity.

II. Privacy Act

The Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) governs the means by which the Federal Government collects, maintains, and uses personally identifiable information (PII) in a System of Records. A "System of Records" is a group of any records under the control of a Federal agency from which information about individuals is retrieved by name or other personal identifier. The Privacy Act requires each agency to publish in the Federal Register a System of Records notice (SORN) identifying and describing each System of Records the agency maintains, including the purposes for which the agency uses PII in the system, the routine uses for which the agency discloses such information outside the agency, and how individuals to whom a Privacy Act record pertains can exercise their rights under the Privacy Act (e.g., to determine if the system contains information about them and to contest inaccurate information).

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(r), DOT has provided a report of this system of records to the Office of Management and Budget and to Congress.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

STORAGE:

Individual records for registered and canceled aircraft are maintained in an electronic digital image system. Some canceled aircraft records are stored as paper file folders until their conversion to digital images is completed. Backup copies of imaged records are stored at remote locations. ADS-B Rebate Web site records, ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report records, and ADS-B CM records are maintained on the Electronic Data Centers Oracle Real Application Clusters (RAC) Systems at FAA facilities. ADS-B rebate program payment records are stored on the FAA servers.

RETRIEVABILITY:

Records of registered and canceled aircraft in the digital image system may be retrieved by registration number, the manufacturer's name, model, and serial-number, credit card transaction number, and by the name of the current registered owner. Records are retrieved by the aircraft description. Unconverted canceled records may be retrieved using a former registration number and the manufacturer's name, model and serial-number. ADS-B rebate program and ADS-CM records are retrieved by the aircraft registration number. TIS-B/FIS-B records are retrieved by the reporting pilot's name.

SAFEGUARDS:

Records in this system are safeguarded in accordance with applicable rules and policies, including all applicable DOT automated systems security and access policies. Strict controls have been imposed to minimize the risk of compromising the information that is being stored. Access to the computer system containing the records in this system is limited to individuals who have a need to know the information for the performance of their official duties and who have appropriate clearances or permissions. Access to ADS-B CM Rebate and ADS-B/TIS-B/FIS-B Problem Report records are limited to those with appropriate security credentials, an authorized purpose, and need-to-know. The FAA deploys role-based access controls in addition to other protection measures reviewed and certified by the FAA's cybersecurity professionals to maintain the confidentiality, integrity, and availability requirements of the system.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 47 have been deemed by the National Archives and Records Administration to be of permanent value (see NARA Schedule N1-237-04-3). Paper copies of registration submissions are destroyed once the original is scanned into the system and the digital image is determined to be an adequate substitute for paper records. Copies of the Aircraft Registration system are transferred to NARA on an annual basis. The FAA has submitted to NARA a recommended retention period for aircraft registration records submitted under 14 CFR part 48 as permanent which is consistent with the registration of manned aircraft. Until small UAS registration records have been scheduled with NARA the FAA will provide annual snapshots of the database to NARA to determine historical value. The FAA (DAA-0237-2016-0008) proposes to maintain most records created in support of the ADS-B Rebate Program for 3 years after the program ends; payment records will be retained for 6 years; The FAA will manage ADS-B related records as permanent records until the proposed schedule is approved by NARA.

SYSTEM MANAGER(S) AND ADDRESS:

Manager, Aircraft Registration Branch, AFS-750, Federal Aviation Administration, Mike Monroney Aeronautical Center, P.O. Box 25082, Oklahoma City, OK 73125. Manager, Automatic Dependent Surveillance—Broadcast (ADS B) Program, AJM-2323 800 Independence Ave. SW., Washington, DC 20591.
