33 CFR Parts 97 and 160

[Docket No. USCG–2000–7080]

RIN 1625–AA25 [formerly RIN 2115–AF97]

Cargo Securing Manuals

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DHS.

ACTION: Correcting amendments.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard published an interim rule in the Federal Register on May 9, 2016, that prescribes when and how the loss or jettisoning of cargo at sea must be reported. That rule contained a typographical error that erroneously revised a force majeure regulation instead of a notice of hazardous conditions regulation. This document corrects that error.

DATES: Effective August 29, 2016.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: If you have questions on this rule, call or email Mr. Ken Smith, Office of Operating and Environmental Standards (CG–OES–2), Coast Guard; telephone 202–372–1413, email Ken.A.Smith@uscg.mil.

Background

In 2013 the Coast Guard proposed to revise 33 CFR 160.215, “Notice of hazardous conditions,” as part of its supplemental notice of proposed rulemaking regarding cargo securing manuals (78 FR 66784, November 15, 2013). In 2015, a different rulemaking, regarding notices of arrival, redesignated § 160.215 as § 160.216, and inserted a provision on force majeure in § 160.216 (80 FR 5281, January 30, 2015). In 2016, the Coast Guard published an interim rule on cargo securing manuals that implemented changes it had proposed in 2013, including the amendment of § 160.215 (01 FR 27992, May 9, 2016). Because the 2016 rule amended § 160.215 when it should have amended the redesignated section, § 160.216, the force majeure provision was unintentionally removed and part 160 contained two consecutive sections on notice of hazardous conditions. It was an error for the interim rule to revise § 160.215 and replace the force majeure provision. This rule corrects that error and a cross-reference in 33 CFR 97.115 to § 160.215.

Need for Correction

As discussed above, the interim rule published May 9, 2016, incorrectly replaced force majeure regulations in § 160.215, instead of amending notice of hazardous conditions regulations in § 160.216.
