

Report for at least six months from the effective date of the reduced delay period.<sup>16</sup> FINRA disagreed that an additional implementation delay related to the Historic TRACE Data product was necessary for the Security Activity Report. FINRA stated that proposed features of the Security Activity Report, such as the 90-day publication delay and other grouping of activity reduce information leakage risks and mitigate any potential impacts.<sup>17</sup> FINRA stated that it intends for the effective date of the Security Activity Report to be no sooner than February 1, 2018.<sup>18</sup>

This commenter also believed there would be confidentiality concerns if market concentration percentages were not aggregated across the top five MPIDs for each particular security.<sup>19</sup> In its Response Letter, FINRA clarified and reiterated that the activity of the top five MPIDs will be expressed in aggregate figures.<sup>20</sup>

Finally, this commenter stated that it would be beneficial for FINRA to publicly share a draft template of the Security Activity Report so that market participants could educate themselves on the format and contents of the report.<sup>21</sup> FINRA responded that it intends to post a file layout for the Security Activity Report on its Web site at least 30 days before the Security Activity Report's effective date.<sup>22</sup>

IV. Discussion

After careful consideration, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities association.<sup>23</sup> In particular, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act,<sup>24</sup> which requires, among other things, that FINRA rules be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. The Commission does not believe that commenters raised any issue that would preclude approval of FINRA's proposal. The Commission notes that the Security Activity Report does not require member firms to provide FINRA with any additional data. The product is optional and responds to consumer demand for a more useful market data product. Finally, the Security Activity Report appears reasonably designed to promote transparency while minimizing the potential for information leakage.

IV. Conclusion

It is therefore ordered pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act<sup>25</sup> that the proposed rule change (SR-FINRA-2017-021) be, and hereby is, approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Trading and Markets, pursuant to delegated authority.<sup>26</sup>
