BILLING CODE 6560-50-P

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of a modified system of records.

SUMMARY: The Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission or Agency) is modifying an existing system of records, FCC/WCB-1, Lifeline Program, subject to the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This action is necessary to meet the requirements of the Privacy Act to publish in the Federal Register notice of the existence and character of records maintained by the agency. The Lifeline Program (or "Lifeline") provides discounts for voice telephony (i.e., telephone service) and broadband Internet access service (BIAS) to qualifying low-income individuals (i.e., one Lifeline Program telephone per household). Individuals may qualify for Lifeline through proof of income or participation in another qualifying program. Since the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (1996 Act), the Lifeline Program has been administered by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) under the direction of the Commission and, by delegation, of the Commission's Wireline Competition Bureau (WCB). This system of records contains information about individual Lifeline Program participants. The modifications described in this notice will allow USAC to maintain and administer this system in a manner that promotes efficiency and minimizes waste, fraud, and abuse.

DATES: Written comments are due on or before September 14, 2017. This action (including the routine uses) will become effective on September 14, 2017 unless comments are received that require a contrary determination.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Leslie F. Smith, Privacy Manager, Information Technology (IT), Room 1-C216, Federal Communications Commission (FCC), 445 12th Street SW., Washington, DC 20554, or to Leslie.Smith@fcc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice serves to update and modify FCC/WCB-1, Lifeline Program, to include PII that will be obtained and processed by the National Verifier, which is being deployed as adopted in the Commission's 2016 Lifeline and Link Up Reform and Modernization Third Report and Order to make eligibility determinations and perform a variety of other functions necessary to enroll individuals into the Lifeline program. The National Verifier will be comprised of both the existing National Lifeline Accountability Database (NLAD) system and a new Lifeline Eligibility Database (LED). The WCB is also making various other updates and modifications to comply with current OMB and FCC policies and practices. The Lifeline Program serves low-income individuals by providing qualifying individuals (i.e., one Lifeline Program telephone per household) with discounts on voice telephony and BIAS service. Since the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (1996 Act), the Lifeline Program has been administered by the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) under the direction of the Commission and, by delegation, of WCB. The substantive changes and modifications to the previously published version of the FCC/WCB-1 system of records include:

PURPOSE(S):

The Lifeline Program provides discounts for voice telephony and BIAS service, and the initial connection charge in Tribal areas to support such service, to qualifying low-income individuals (i.e., one Lifeline telephone service per household). Individuals may qualify for Lifeline through proof of income or proof of participation in another qualifying program. The Lifeline Program system of records currently covers the PII that is used to determine an individual's eligibility to participate in the program. The system is being revised as a result of the 2016 Lifeline Modernization Order to add the PII that will be used by the National Verifier and its associated uses. As a result, all PII that is used for one or more purposes in the Lifeline Program system of records' seven functions, listed below, will be covered. The information in these functions includes, but is not limited to:

1. Initial Eligibility Determination:

(a) The information that is used to verify an individual's eligibility to participate in the Lifeline Program, which will be evaluated by the eligible telecommunications carrier (ETC), USAC, or the applicable State authority in those areas where the National Verifier is not responsible for verifying eligibility.

(b) The information that is used to verify an individual's eligibility to participate in the Lifeline Program using the National Verifier in those areas where the National Verifier is responsible for eligibility determination, which is now extended to include individuals who reside on Tribal Lands.

2. Recertification of Subscribers:

(a) The information used by USAC to recertify Lifeline subscribers for ETCs that elect to have USAC act on their behalf to recertify their Lifeline subscribers in those areas where the National Verifier is not responsible for recertification of a subscriber's Lifeline eligibility.

(b) The information that is used by an ETC or applicable State authority to recertify an individual's continued eligibility to participate in the Lifeline Program in those areas where the National Verifier is not responsible for recertification of a subscriber's Lifeline eligibility.

(c) The information that is used to recertify an individual's continued eligibility to participate in the Lifeline Program and to be recertified using the National Verifier in areas where the National Verifier is responsible for recertification of a subscriber's Lifeline eligibility.

(d) If the automated National Verifier recertification process is unable to recertify an individual, the recertification process will be done manually.

3. One-Per-Household Evaluation:

The information that is used to determine whether an individual in a household, who is applying for a Lifeline Program benefit, is already receiving a Lifeline Program benefit from one or more providers, i.e., that individuals in a single household do not receive more than one Lifeline Program benefit as required by 47 CFR Sections 54.404 and 54.410.

4. Call Center Operations, Eligibility:

The information that is contained in the records of the inquiries that ETCs and individuals make to the USAC contractor call center to verify that an individual is eligible to participate in the Lifeline Program.

5. Call Center Operations, Dispute Resolution:

USAC will designate a third party contractor to establish a call center as part of USAC's dispute resolution processes. The contractor will operate this call center, which individuals may use who are seeking to participate in or are already participating in the Lifeline Program. These individuals may call the center to ensure that they have not been improperly denied access to Lifeline Program benefits through the verification process. Any information generated by these inquiries will constitute a separate, distinct database, which will include, but is not limited to, recordings of live agent calls, identity of the user initiating the request, brief description of the request, type of request, identification of the USAC-approved script used in responding to the request, resolution status, and whether the request was escalated (i.e., if the agent escalates the issue to the agent's manager or USAC program personnel). This information will be used, among other things, to verify the accuracy of the information stored in the Lifeline system.

6. Database System Development, Testing and Operation:

USAC will designate a third-party contractor to develop, test, and operate the database and system network. The contractor will establish the core database and automated connections to other databases. This information will be used, among other things, to develop technical parameters for database connections and matching criteria.

7. National Verifier Status Requests and Dispute Resolution:

(a) The information that is submitted to the National Verifier by subscribers when seeking information on the status of their eligibility.

(b) The information that is submitted to the National Verifier for dispute resolution purposes. Records in the Lifeline system are available for public inspection after redaction of information that could identify the individual participant, such as the individual's first and last name(s), date of birth, last four digits of social security number, tribal ID number, telephone number, or other PII.

CATEGORIES OF INDIVIDUALS COVERED BY THE SYSTEM:

The categories of individuals in this system include, but are not limited to, those individuals (residing in a single household) who have applied for benefits; are currently receiving benefits; are individuals who enable another individual in their household to qualify for benefits; are minors whose status qualifies a parent or guardian for benefits; are individuals who have received benefits under the Lifeline Program; or are individuals acting on behalf of an ETC who have enrolled individuals in the Lifeline Program, which serves low-income individuals by providing these qualifying individuals with discounts on telephone and BIAS service for their household.

CATEGORIES OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

The categories of records in the system include, but are not limited to the information that is encompassed in one or more of the Lifeline Program system of records' seven functions and associated uses.

1. Initial Eligibility Determination, 2. Recertification of Subscribers, 4. Call Center Operations, Eligibility, 5. Call Center Operations, Dispute Resolution, and 7. National Verifier Status Requests and Dispute Resolution will collect, use, and maintain PII in their databases and files that includes, but is not limited to: individual applicant's first and last name; residential address; information on whether the individual resides on Tribal lands; information on whether the address is temporary and/or descriptive and whether it includes coordinates; mailing address (if different); date of birth; last four digits of social security number¹ or Tribal identification number; telephone number; full name of the qualifying person (if different from the individual applicant); qualifying person's date of birth; the last four digits of the qualifying person's social security number or their Tribal identification number; information on whether the qualifying person resides on Tribal lands; means of qualification for Lifeline (i.e., income or relevant program participation); documents demonstrating eligibility; individual contact information; Lifeline subscriber identification number; security question; answer to security question; user name; password; agent identification information (if an agent is assisting in completing the application); individual applicant's eligibility certifications; individual applicant's signature and date of application; Lifeline service initiation date and termination date; amount of Lifeline support received per month; date of the provision of Link-Up support (if applicable).

3. One-Per-Household Evaluation contains the PII on whether the individual's husband, wife, or domestic partner living at the same address has Lifeline-discounted service; whether another adult that lives with the individual has a Lifeline-discounted service; and whether the individual shares expenses for bills, food, or other living expenses and shares income with the other adult that lives with them. In order to determine whether the information is accurate, the identity information associated with the individual applicant is confirmed with a third-party verification service not in the control of USAC or the Commission.

4. Call Center Operations, Eligibility will also collect, use, and store PII that includes the information that is contained in the records of the inquiries that ETCs and individuals make to the USAC contractor call center to verify that an individual is eligible to participate in the Lifeline Program.

5. Call Center Operations, Dispute Resolution will also collect, use, and store PII that includes information (which is housed in a separate, distinct database) that is used, among other things, to verify the accuracy of the information in the Lifeline system. It includes, but is not limited to, the live recordings (i.e., voice prints) and related information associated with agent conversations with individuals who initiate calls to the call center. The PII includes, but is not limited, to the brief description of the request, type of request, identification of the USAC-approved script used in responding to the request, resolution status, and whether the request was escalated (i.e., if the agent escalates the issue to the agent's manager or USAC program personnel).

6. Database System Development, Testing and Operation will collect, use, and store information that will comprise the PII from these other six Lifeline functions that is used, among other things, to develop technical parameters for database connections and matching criteria.

7. National Verifier Status Requests and Dispute Resolution will also collect, use, and store PII that includes the information that is contained in the records of status requests and dispute resolution requests individuals make via the National Verifier.

RECORD SOURCE CATEGORIES:

The sources for the information in the Lifeline Program system of records include, but are not limited to:

1. The information that ETCs must provide to verify eligibility prior to enrolling individuals and/or to re-certify individuals (in qualifying households) for participation in the Lifeline Program and any associated agent identification information if an agent of an ETC is assisting an individual in applying for Lifeline benefits.

2. The information that individuals (in qualifying households) must provide to determine their households' eligibility and re-certify for participation in the Lifeline Program, e.g., participating in other qualifying programs and/or services.

3. The information submitted to the National Verifier to determine if an individual is eligible and to re-certify the individual for participation in the Lifeline Program where the National Verifier is responsible for eligibility determination and re-certification.

4. The information collected from State and Federal databases which reflects information on individuals eligible for qualifying programs, even if not all such individuals are applying for the Lifeline benefit or participating in the Lifeline Program.

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

In addition to those disclosures generally permitted under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b) of the Privacy Act, all or a portion of the records or information contained in this system may be disclosed to authorized entities, as is determined to be relevant and necessary, outside the FCC as a routine use pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(3) as follows. In each of these cases, the FCC will determine whether disclosure of the records is compatible with the purpose(s) for which the records were collected:

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORAGE OF RECORDS:

The information pertaining to the Lifeline Program includes electronic records, files, data, paper documents, records, and may include audio recordings of calls. Records are maintained in secure, limited access areas. Physical entry by unauthorized persons is restricted through use of locks, passwords, and other security measures. Both USAC and its contractors will jointly manage the electronic data housed at USAC and at the contractors' locations. Paper documents and other physical records

(i.e., tapes, compact discs, etc.) will be kept in locked, controlled access areas. Paper documents submitted by applicants to the Lifeline Program will be digitized, and paper copies will be immediately destroyed.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETRIEVAL OF RECORDS:

Information in the Lifeline Program system of records may be retrieved by various identifiers, including, but not limited to the individual's name, last four digits of the Social Security Number (SSN), Tribal identification number, date of birth, phone number, residential address, and Lifeline subscriber identification number.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETENTION AND DISPOSAL OF RECORDS:

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has not established a records schedule for the information in the Lifeline Program system of records. Consequently, until NARA has approved a records schedule, USAC will maintain all information in the Lifeline Program system of records in accordance with NARA records management directives. The 2012 Lifeline Reform Order states that information in the Lifeline Program is maintained for ten years after the consumer de-enrolls from the Lifeline Program. See Lifeline and Link Up Reform and Modernization et al., Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 27 FCC Rcd 6656, 6740, para. 195 (2012). Disposal of obsolete or out-of-date paper documents and files is by shredding only. Electronic data, files, and records are destroyed by electronic erasure.

ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL, AND PHYSICAL SAFEGUARDS:

The electronic records, data, and files are maintained in the FCC and the USAC computer network databases, which are protected by the FCC's IT privacy safeguards, a comprehensive and dynamic set of IT safety and security protocols and features that are designed to meet all Federal IT privacy standards, including those required by the National Institute of Standard and Technology (NIST) and the Federal Information Security Management System (FISMA). In addition, access to the electronic files is restricted to authorized USAC and contractors' supervisors and staff and to the FCC's IT supervisors and staff and to the IT contractors who maintain these computer databases. Other FCC employees and contractors may be granted access only on a "need-to-know" basis. In addition, data in the network servers for both USAC and its contractors will be routinely backed-up. The servers will be stored in secured environments to protect the data.

The paper documents and files are maintained in file cabinets in USAC and the contractors' office suites. The file cabinets are locked when not in use and at the end of the business day. Access to these files is restricted to authorized USAC and its contractors' staffs.

operator, or personnel delegated and supervised by the chief operator, review the station records at least once each week to determine if required entries are being made correctly, and verify that the station has been operated in accordance with FCC rules and the station authorization. Upon completion of the review, the chief operator must date and sign the log, initiate corrective action which may be necessary and advise the station licensee of any condition which is repetitive. The posting of the designation of the chief operator is used by interested parties to readily identify the chief operator. The review of the station records is used by the chief operator, and FCC staff in investigations, to ensure that the station is operating in accordance with its station authorization and the FCC rules and regulations.
