Pursuant to section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act, EPA is soliciting comments and information to enable it to: (i) Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (ii) evaluate the accuracy of the Agency’s estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (iii) enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (iv) minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses. EPA will consider the comments received and amend the ICR as appropriate. The final ICR package will then be submitted to OMB for review and approval. At that time, EPA will issue another Federal Register notice to announce the submission of the ICR to OMB and the opportunity to submit additional comments to OMB.

Abstract: The Clean Water Act (CWA) directs the President to issue regulations “establishing procedures, methods, and equipment and other requirements for equipment to prevent discharges of oil and hazardous substances from . . . onshore facilities and offshore facilities, and to contain such discharges” (33 U.S.C. 1321(j)(1)(C)). In 1978, EPA promulgated a list of hazardous substances under CWA section 311(b)(2)(A). This list is found at 40 CFR part 116. EPA concurrently proposed requirements to prevent the discharge of listed hazardous substances from facilities subject to permitting requirements under the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) of the CWA (43 FR 39276); the proposed regulations were never finalized. On July, 21, 2015, several parties filed a lawsuit against EPA for unreasonable delay/failure to perform a non-discretionary duty to establish regulations for hazardous substances under CWA section 311(j)(1)(C). According to a settlement agreement reached in that case and filed with the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, on February 16, 2016, EPA is to issue a proposed regulatory action no later than June 2018. This action date factors in a 10-month extension for the conduct of an ICR.

EPA is developing a regulatory proposal regarding the spill prevention of hazardous substances. However, EPA does not directly receive reports on specific types and amounts of hazardous substances stored and used at facilities across the country. Much of that information is collected under the Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act (42 U.S. Code Chapter 116; EPCRA) which requires Tier II facilities to report the maximum and average daily amounts of hazardous chemicals on-site during the preceding year to their respective state or territorial authority. Therefore, the Agency has developed a short voluntary survey to be sent to states, tribes and territories of the United States requesting information on their number and type of EPCRA Tier II facilities with CWA hazardous substances onsite, historical discharges of CWA hazardous substances, the ecological and human health impacts of those discharges, and existing state and tribal programs that address spill prevention of hazardous substances.

This information will assist EPA in determining the universe of facilities nationwide that could potentially be subject to spill prevention regulations for hazardous substances listed at 40 CFR part 116. We anticipate this information will inform the rulemaking process, assisting in the identification of affected entities, evaluation of potential regulatory approaches, and estimating economic impacts.

Form numbers: None.
Respondents/affected entities: Respondents to this voluntary ICR are state, territorial, and tribal government agencies with Emergency Response Commission duties (e.g., State Emergency Response Commission [SERCs], Tribal Emergency Response Commissions [TERRCs]), as well as sister agencies within the respective jurisdictions that may have additional information. The state SERC staff identified by EPA Regional liaisons will be the agency’s primary point of contact (POC). EPA will assist state POCs in identifying other state and tribal agencies that may have data that would assist in responding to this survey.

Examples of other agencies that may assist in responding to this ICR include:

Department of Natural Resources—e.g., fish kill investigations
Department of Environmental Quality—e.g., drinking water alerts, fish kill investigations
Department of Environmental Health—e.g., human health impacts; drinking water shutdowns
Respondent’s obligation to respond: Voluntary.

Estimated number of respondents: Approximately 52 (total).
Frequency of response: Once.
Total estimated burden: 82 hours/respondent, 4,284 hours total. Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.03(b).
Total estimated cost: $1,784.00/respondent, $92,762.00 total, includes $0 annualized capital or operation & maintenance costs.
Dated: September 6, 2017.
