result in the airport no longer qualifying for controlled airspace.

Class E airspace designations are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.11B, dated August 3, 2017, and effective September 15, 2017, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71. The Class E airspace designation listed in this document will be published subsequently in the Order.

Regulatory Notices and Analyses

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current, is non-controversial and unlikely to result in adverse or negative comments. It, therefore: (1) Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this rule, when promulgated, would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Environmental Review

This proposal will be subject to an environmental analysis in accordance with FAA Order 1050.1F, “Environmental Impacts: Policies and Procedures” prior to any FAA final regulatory action.

Review of Regulations and Other

Agency Actions

Improvement of regulations is a continuous focus for the Department.

There should be no more regulations than necessary, and those regulations should be straightforward, clear, and designed to minimize burdens. Further,

DOT regulations and other agency actions should not unnecessarily obstruct, delay, curtail, or otherwise impose significant costs on the siting, permitting, production, utilization, transmission, or delivery of energy resources. Once issued, regulations and other agency actions should be reviewed periodically and revised to ensure that they continue to meet the needs for which they originally were designed, remain cost-effective and cost-justified.

Further, regulations and other agency actions should promote clean and safe development of our Nation’s vast energy resources, while avoiding regulatory burdens that unnecessarily encumber energy production, constrain economic growth, and prevent job creation.

Accordingly, DOT regularly makes a conscientious effort to review its rules in accordance with the Department’s 1979 Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, Feb. 26, 1979), Executive Order (E.O.) 12866, E.O. 13563, and section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The Department follows a repeating 10-year plan for the review of existing regulations, which is set forth in the Department’s semi-annual Regulatory Agenda published in the Federal Register (see Appendix D to “Department Regulatory Agenda; Semiannual Summary” most recently issued on July 20, 2017). The reviews conducted under this plan comply with section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility

Act. OST and OAs other than the Saint

Lawrence Seaway Development

Corporation (SLSDC) also have elected to use this repeating 10-year plan to comply with the review requirements of the Department’s Regulatory Policies and Procedures and E.O. 12866. SLSDC does not follow this practice because the agency is responsible for only a small number of regulations that were reviewed in 2009. Generally, the OAs have divided their rules into 10 different groups and analyze one group each year, then start over again. The Department regularly invites public participation in those reviews and seeks general suggestions on rules that it should revise or revoke. In the fall

Regulatory Agenda, the Department publishes information on the results of the examinations completed during the previous year.

Public Participation and Request for

Comments

Through three new E.O.s, President

Trump directed agencies to further scrutinize their regulations and other agency actions. On January 30, 2017,

President Trump signed E.O. 13771,

Reducing Regulation and Controlling Regulatory Costs. Under Section 2(a) of the E.O., unless prohibited by law, whenever an executive department or agency publicly proposes for notice and comment or otherwise promulgates a new regulation, it must identify at least two existing regulations to be repealed.

On February 24, 2017, President Trump signed E.O. 13777, Enforcing the Regulatory Reform Agenda. Under this Executive Order, each agency must establish a Regulatory Reform Task Force (RRTF) to evaluate existing regulations, and make recommendations for their repeal, replacement, or modification. As part of this process, the Department is directed to seek input/assistance from entities significantly affected by its regulations.

On March 28, 2017, President Trump signed E.O. 13783, Promoting Energy

Independence and Economic Growth.

Section 2 of E.O. 13783 requires agencies to review all existing regulations, orders, guidance documents, policies, and other similar agency actions that potentially burden the development or use of domestically produced energy resources, with particular attention to oil, natural gas, coal, and nuclear energy resources. This review will result in a final report that describes the result of the required review and includes specific recommendations that, to the extent permitted by law, could alleviate or eliminate aspects of agency actions that burden domestic energy production.

E.O. 13783 also requires that, for any specific recommendations made in the final report, the agency suspend, revise, or rescind, or publish for notice and comment proposed rules suspending, revising, or rescinding those actions, as appropriate and consistent with law.

To respond to the President’s direction in E.O. 13771, E.O. 13777, and E.O. 13783, as well as other legal authorities, the Department seeks written input from the public on existing regulations and other agency actions that are good candidates for repeal, replacement, or modification. In addition to accepting written comments, the Department may hold a public meeting. In recognition of the fact that safety is the Department’s highest priority, the Department seeks comments on those existing regulations and other agency actions that may be repealed, replaced, or modified without compromising safety. The public is encouraged to identify regulations that

(a) eliminate jobs or inhibit job creation;

(b) are outdated, unnecessary, or ineffective; (c) impose costs that exceed benefits; (d) create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with regulatory reform initiatives and policies; (e) could be revised to use performance standards in lieu of design standards, or (f) potentially burden

the development or use of domestically produced energy resources. The Department welcomes public comment on any and all of its regulations and other agency actions appropriate for repeal, suspension, or modification that impose significant costs on the public may provide greater opportunity for identifying and alleviating unnecessary burdens. For convenience, a list of economically significant rulemakings issued over the past several years is included in Appendix A.

When identifying regulations and other agency actions appropriate for suspension, repeal, replacement, or modification, the public is encouraged to consider whether there is an opportunity to: (1) Simplify or clarify language in a regulation; (2) eliminate

overlapping and duplicative regulations, including those that require repetitive filings for conducting business with the Department; (3) eliminate conflicts and inconsistencies in the Department’s regulations and those of its agencies; (4) eliminate conflicts and inconsistencies with the rules of other Federal agencies or state, local, or tribal governments, (5) determine if matters in an existing regulation could be better handled fully by the states without Federal regulations; (6) revise regulations in which technology, economic conditions or other factors have changed in the area affected by the regulation; (7) reconsider regulations that were based on scientific or other information that has been discredited or superseded; (8) reconsider the burdens imposed on those directly or indirectly affected by the regulation and, specifically, those that are costly when compared to the benefit provided; (9) reconsider burdens imposed on small entities; (10) foster innovation by revising regulations to include performance standards for regulatory compliance; and (11) reduce burdens by incorporating international or industry consensus standards into regulations.

Content of Comments

The Department will review all comments submitted timely to the docket associated with this regulatory review, DOT–OST–2017–0069. To maximize the usefulness of comments, the Department encourages commenters to provide the following information:

1. Specific reference. A specific reference to the policy statement, guidance document, regulation, or other agency action that imposes the burden that the comment discusses. This should be a citation to the Code of Federal Regulations, a guidance document number, or an Internet link. A specific reference will assist the Department in identifying the requirement, the original source of the requirement, and relevant documentation that may describe the history and effects of the requirement.

2. Description of burden. A description of the burden that the identified policy statement, guidance document, regulation, or other agency action imposes. A comment that describes how the policy statement, guidance document, regulation, or other agency action is burdensome is more useful than a comment that merely asserts that it is burdensome. Comments that reflect experience with the requirement and provide data describing the experience are more credible than comments that are not tied to direct experience. Verifiable, quantifiable data describing burdens are more useful than anecdotal descriptions.

3. Description of less burdensome alternatives. If the commenter believes that the objective that motivated the policy statement, guidance document, regulation, or other agency action may be achieved using a less burdensome alternative, the commenter should describe that alternative in detail. Likewise, if the commenter believes that there is not a less burdensome alternative or there is not a legitimate objective motivating the requirement, then that should be explained in the comment.

4. Examples of affected entities or projects. Examples of entities that are, have been, or will be negatively affected by the identified policy statement, guidance document, regulation, or other agency action and examples of entities that will benefit it the requirement is removed or revised. A comment listing specific entities is more useful because it will assist the Department in investigating the burden and how it may be most effectively addressed.

Scope of Comments

The Department is interested in comments on any DOT regulation or other agency action that imposes unjustifiable burdens on regulated entities or on the use or production of domestic energy resources.

Food Labeling: Revision of the Nutrition and Supplement Facts Labels and Serving Sizes of Foods That Can Reasonably Be Consumed at One Eating Occasion; Dual-Column Labeling; Updating, Modifying, and Establishing Certain Reference Amounts Customarily Consumed; Serving Size for Breath Mints; and Technical Amendments; Proposed Extension of Compliance Dates

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA or we) is proposing to extend the compliance dates by approximately 1.5 years for the final rules providing updated nutrition information on the label of food, including dietary supplements; defining a single-serving container; requiring dual-column labeling for certain containers; updating, modifying, and establishing certain reference amounts customarily consumed (RACCs); and amending the label serving size for breath mints. The final rules appeared in the Federal Register of May 27, 2016. We are taking this action because, after careful consideration, we have tentatively determined that additional time would help ensure that all manufacturers covered by the final rules have guidance from FDA to address, for example, certain technical questions we received after publication of the final rules, and that they are able to complete and print updated Nutrition Facts labels for their products before they are expected to be in compliance with the final rules.

DATES: Submit either electronic or written comments on the proposed rule by November 1, 2017.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments on the extension of the compliance period as follows. Please note that late, untimely filed comments will not be considered. Electronic comments must be submitted on or before November 1, 2017. The https://www.regulations.gov electronic filing system will accept comments until midnight Eastern Time at the end of November 1, 2017. Comments received by mail/hand delivery/courier (for written/paper submissions) will be considered timely if they are postmarked or the delivery service acceptance receipt is on or before that date.

Submit both copies to the Dockets Management Staff. If you do not wish your name and contact information to be made publicly available, you can provide this information on the cover sheet and not in the body of your comments and you must identify this information as “confidential.” Any information marked as “confidential” will not be disclosed except in accordance with 21 CFR 10.20 and other applicable disclosure law.
