The patent rights in these inventions have been assigned and/or exclusively licensed to the government of the United States of America.

The prospective exclusive license territory may be where patent applications are filed and the field of use may be limited to "Multifunctional RNA nanoparticle functionalized by RNA toeholds as a drug delivery agent carrying gene therapeutic or gene-editing cargo and/or aptamers". Additional licensable fields of use are available (e.g. functionalized with proteins or imaging agent).

The technologies disclose RNA and RNA/DNA ("R/DNA") nanoparticles in the form of a hexameric ring that have arms attached off the sides of the ring in which the arms could be siRNAs, RNA aptamers, fluorescent dyes, imaging agents and/or proteins in various combinations and use of single-stranded RNA toeholds of lengths of 12 nucleotides or less contained in nucleic acid-based nanoparticles, such as the nanoring, which trigger the association of these nanoparticles and activates multiple functionalities such as gene silencing and/or cell-specific targeting. This notice is made in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404. The prospective exclusive license will be royalty bearing, and the prospective exclusive license may be granted unless within fifteen (15) days from the date of this published notice, the National Cancer Institute receives written evidence and argument that establishes that the grant of the license would not be consistent with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 209 and 37 CFR part 404.
