SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for industry entitled “Development of Therapeutic Protein Biosimilars: Comparative Analytical Assessment and Other Quality-Related Considerations.” This draft guidance describes the Agency’s recommendations on the design and evaluation of comparative analytical studies intended to support a demonstration that a proposed therapeutic protein product is biosimilar to a reference product licensed under section 351(a) of the PHS

Act (42 U.S.C. 262(a)). Additionally, this draft guidance is intended to provide recommendations to sponsors on of the scientific and technical information for the CMC portion of a marketing application for a proposed product submitted under section 351(k) of the PHS Act. Although the 351(k) pathway applies generally to biological products, this guidance focuses on therapeutic protein products.

The Biologics Price Competition and Innovation Act of 2009 was enacted as part of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Pub. L. 111-148) on March 23, 2010, and created an abbreviated licensure pathway under section 351(k) of the PHS Act for biological products demonstrated to be biosimilar to, or interchangeable with, a reference product. Under this abbreviated licensure pathway, FDA will license a proposed biological product submitted under section 351(k) of the PHS Act if, among other things, FDA determines that the information submitted in the application is sufficient to show that the biological product is biosimilar to the reference product.

In the Federal Register of February 15, 2012 (77 FR 8884), FDA announced the availability of the draft guidance entitled “Quality Considerations in Demonstrating Biosimilarity to a Reference Protein Product.” FDA received a number of comments on the draft guidance. In response to these comments, FDA provided further clarification on the general principles described through a final guidance entitled “Quality Considerations in Demonstrating Biosimilarity of a Therapeutic Protein Product to a Reference Product,” which was announced in the Federal Register of April 30, 2015 (80 FR 24257).

In the Federal Register of September 22, 2017 (82 FR 44425), FDA announced the availability of the draft guidance entitled “Statistical Approaches to Evaluate Analytical Similarity.” FDA received a number of comments on the draft guidance. Comments submitted to the docket addressed a range of issues that could impact the cost and efficiency of biosimilar development, including the number of reference product lots the draft guidance would have recommended that biosimilar developers sample in their evaluation of high similarity and the statistical methods for this evaluation. After considering the public comments that FDA received, FDA determined it would withdraw the draft guidance to give further consideration to the scientific and regulatory issues involved. FDA announced the withdrawal of the draft guidance on June 21, 2018, with the intention of issuing future draft guidance on the evaluation of analytical data to support a demonstration that a proposed biosimilar product is highly similar to a reference product.

This draft guidance revises the guidance issued on April 30, 2015. FDA has adjusted the title of this draft guidance to more clearly communicate that this draft guidance includes the Agency's recommendations on the design and evaluation of comparative analytical studies intended to support a demonstration that a proposed therapeutic protein product is biosimilar to a reference product. In addition to editorial and clarifying edits, the draft guidance includes a section that fulfills the Biosimilar User Fee Act II commitment to publish a revised draft or final guidance, describing statistical considerations for the analysis of analytical similarity data intended to support a demonstration of "highly similar" for biosimilar biological products within 18 months after the close of the public comment period for the withdrawn guidance, "Statistical Approaches to Evaluate Analytical Similarity."

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on "Development of Therapeutic Protein Biosimilars: Comparative Analytical Assessment and Other Quality-Related Considerations." It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations. This guidance is not subject to Executive Order 12866.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations, which are not expected to change as a result of the guidance. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520). The collections of information related to the submission of: (1) An investigational new drug application, which is covered under 21 CFR part 312 and approved under OMB control number 0910–0014; (2) a new drug application, which is covered under 21 CFR 314.50 and approved under OMB control number 0910–0001; (3) a biologics license application (BLA) under section 351(a) of the PHS Act, which is covered under part 601 (21 CFR part 601) and approved under OMB control number 0910–0338; and (4) a BLA under section 351(k), which is covered under part 601 and approved under OMB control number 0910–0719.

ACTION: Request for public comment on the Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students program.

SUMMARY: The Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students (SDS) program is authorized by the Public Health Service Act (PHS Act) and administered by HRSA. The program promotes diversity among the health professions and nursing workforce by providing awards to eligible health professions and nursing schools for use in awarding scholarships to students from disadvantaged backgrounds. This notice seeks public comment to inform and guide policy and planning associated with the SDS program.

DATES: Individuals and organizations interested in providing information must submit written comments no later than 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time on June 21, 2019.

ADDRESSES: Interested parties should submit their comments to Denise Sorrell, SDS Project Officer, via email at SDSProgram@HRSA.gov. Please include the title of this notice, "Request for Comment: SDS Program" in the subject line of the email. Response to this request is voluntary. Responders are free to address any or all of the proposals listed below. This request is for information and planning purposes only and should not be construed as a solicitation or as an obligation on the part of the federal government. All submitted comments will be available to the public in their entirety.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: HRSA is considering updating the SDS program to increase the impact of the program. The authorizing statute allows the Secretary of HHS to make grants to certain health professions and nursing schools that are carrying out a program for recruiting and retaining students from disadvantaged backgrounds, including students who are members of racial and ethnic minority groups, to provide scholarships to eligible students (PHS Act, Sec. 737(a), (d)(1)). Grantees provide scholarships to individuals who meet the following requirements: (1) are from disadvantaged backgrounds; (2) have a financial need for a scholarship; and (3) are enrolled (or accepted for enrollment) at an eligible health professions or nursing school as a full-time student in a program leading to a degree in a health profession or nursing (PHS Act, Sec. 737(d)(2)(A–C)). Under the statute, priority is given to eligible entities based on the proportion of graduating students practicing in primary care settings, the proportion of underrepresented minority student enrollees and graduates, and the proportion of graduates working in medically underserved communities (MUCs) (PHS Act, Sec. 737(c)). The PHS Act requires HRSA to award at least 16 percent of the available funds to schools of nursing (PHS Act, Sec. 740(a)).

Eligible applicants are public or non-profit private accredited schools of allopathic medicine, osteopathic medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy, podiatric medicine, optometry, veterinary medicine, public health, chiropractic, or allied health; a school offering a graduate program in behavioral and mental health practice; or an entity providing programs for the training of physician assistants as determined in Section 737(d)(1)(A) of the PHS Act. Faith-based and community-based organizations, tribes, and tribal organizations are eligible to apply if all other eligibility requirements are met.
