BILLING CODE 6560-50-P

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

RIN 3064-ZA18

Request for Information on Standard Setting and Voluntary Certification for Models and Third-Party Providers of Technology and Other Services

AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

ACTION: Notice and request for information.

SUMMARY: The FDIC is issuing this request for information (RFI) as part of its FDiTech initiative to promote the efficient and effective adoption of technology at FDIC-supervised banks and savings associations (financial institutions), particularly at community banks, and to facilitate the supervision of technology usage at these institutions without increasing costs or regulatory burden. The FDIC is committed to increasing transparency, improving supervisory and regulatory efficiency, supporting innovation in banking, and providing opportunities for public feedback. This RFI seeks input on whether a standard-setting and voluntary-certification program could be established to support financial institutions' efforts to implement models and manage model risk by certifying or assessing certain aspects of the models themselves, and to conduct due diligence of third-party providers of technology and other services by certifying or assessing certain aspects of the third-party providers' operations or condition. The FDIC is especially interested in information on models and technology services developed and provided by financial technology companies, sometimes referred to as "fintechs."

DATES: Comments must be received by September 22, 2020.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments, identified by RIN 3064-ZA18, by any of the following methods:

- Agency Website: <https://www.fdic.gov/regulations/laws/federal/>. Follow the instructions for submitting comments on the agency website.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FDIC is an independent Federal agency with a mission of maintaining stability and public confidence in the nation's financial system, in part by examining and supervising certain financial institutions, including for safety and soundness and consumer protection.¹ The FDIC is the primary Federal banking supervisor for more than 3,000 state-chartered banks and savings associations that are not members of the Federal Reserve System, and it conducts regular examinations of these supervised institutions.² Examinations include an assessment of how a financial institution manages the risks presented by its relationships with third parties.

The FDIC reviews a financial institution's management of significant third-party relationships in the context of the normal supervisory process. The FDIC examines the quality and effectiveness of an institution's risk management program as it pertains to the safety and soundness and consumer

¹ The FDIC also promotes stability and public confidence in the nation's financial system by insuring deposits and resolving failed insured depository institutions, leading sound policy development, evaluating resolution plans of the largest of institutions, and monitoring and mitigating systemic risks in the banking sector and financial system as a whole.

² The FDIC also has a back-up supervision and examination role with respect to approximately 2,000 insured depository institutions (pursuant to sections 8 and 10 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1818, 1820) for which the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System are the primary Federal regulators.
