SUBMISSION OF COMMENTS: EPA must receive comments within 30 days of this notice.

While there is no assurance of confidentiality for comments submitted in response to this notice, the confidentiality of the comments and PRA responses, other than the number of respondents and total annual cost, will be maintained to the extent permitted by law. EPA will publicly post all comments and PRA responses on its Web site at https://cdxnodengn.epa.gov/cdx-enepa-public/action/eis/search. EPA will consider all comments and PRA responses before deciding whether to approve the information collection request. EPA will post a copy of the draft OMB control number submission on its Web site, if final approval is granted.

Changes in Estimates: Changes in estimates will be possible due to changes in the estimated burden of respondents, changes to the respondent universe, and changes in the estimated frequency of responses. If a change in the estimated burden is required, an amendment to this notice will be issued. The comment period will be extended if an amendment is issued. EPA will consider all comments and PRA responses before deciding whether to approve the information collection request.

Because of possible changes in the estimated burden and responding burden, the maximum time for completing the information collection is estimated to range from 0.25 to 6,036 hours.
