

become operative for 30 days after the date of filing. However, pursuant to Rule 19b-4(f)(6)(iii), the Commission may designate a shorter time if such action is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest. In its filing with the Commission, FINRA has asked the Commission to waive the 30-day operative delay so that the proposed rule change may become operative immediately upon filing. As noted above, the ongoing extenuating circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic make it impractical for FINRA member firms to conduct the on-site inspection component of Rule 3110(c) at many or most locations. Consequently, FINRA believes that firms will have a considerable backlog of 2020 inspections and that planning on-site inspections for 2021 may be impacted as well. FINRA stated that the temporary proposed rule change would help FINRA member firms meet their obligations under Rule 3110(c) using a regulatory alternative that would not materially diminish, and is reasonably designed to achieve, the investor protection objectives of the inspection requirements under these unique circumstances.

The Commission believes that waiving the operative delay is consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest because it would allow the proposed change to become operative on the date of filing and to provide immediate temporary relief to firms during these extenuating circumstances. In reaching this conclusion, the Commission notes the proposed rule change would provide only temporary relief based on the compelling health and safety concerns and the operational challenges member firms are facing due to the sustained COVID-19 pandemic.<sup>36</sup> Furthermore, the Commission notes that the proposed rule change would not relieve firms from meeting the core regulatory obligation to establish and maintain a system to supervise the activities of each associated person that is reasonably designed to achieve compliance with applicable securities laws and regulations, and with applicable FINRA rules that directly serve investor protection. Accordingly, the Commission waives the 30-day operative delay and designates the proposed rule change operative upon filing.<sup>37</sup>

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.
