SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The NCUA's examination and supervision of federally insured credit unions and enforcement of applicable rules and regulations is designed to protect the safety and soundness of the credit union system and ensure consumer financial protection. To accomplish this mission, the NCUA must be able to communicate efficiently and effectively with financial institutions.

Stakeholders learn about the agency's mission, values, policies, initiatives, and strategic goals primarily through NCUA.gov. While the NCUA's audience is diverse, each user has the same basic need: To obtain information to make important financial and business decisions quickly and easily. Outdated, duplicative, or hard-to-find content reduces the effectiveness of the NCUA's communications with federally insured credit unions and increases their overall regulatory burden as they must spend time and staff resources sorting through the NCUA's communications in order to comply with regulatory and supervisory guidance.

Overview of Request for Information

The NCUA is seeking public input on how to make its communications with federally insured credit unions more effective, consistent, and clear to minimize unnecessary regulatory and operation burdens as much as possible and promote compliance with all applicable laws and regulations. While the NCUA's communications are essential to fulfill its statutory mandate, the agency recognizes the amount of information it provides to credit unions can create challenges and may impose unintended burdens for institutions. The agency intends to remove outdated, duplicative and superseded regulatory and supervisory guidance from its website.

Additionally, the NCUA is asking its stakeholders to suggest initiatives that would maximize efficiency and minimize burdens associated with obtaining information on federal laws, regulations, policies, guidance, and other materials relevant to federally insured credit unions.

Forms of Communication

The NCUA uses many forms of communication to inform credit unions about regulations, policies and guidance, industry data and educational materials, and other news and updates. The agency's primary communications channel is its website, NCUA.gov, which provides information on many agency activities. Some forms of communication may be used to disseminate more than one type of information, and some materials may be distributed through multiple channels.
