SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The FAA issued a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) to amend 14 CFR part 39 to supersede AD 2019–21–11, Amendment 39–19777 (84 FR 57813, October 29, 2019), (AD 2019–21–11) and AD 2020–07–02, Amendment 39–21106 (85 FR 17742, March 31, 2020), (AD 2020–07–02). AD 2019–21–11 applied to certain PW PW1519G, PW1521G, PW1521GA, PW1524G, PW1525G, PW1525G–3, PW1524G–3, PW1525G–3, PW1919G, PW1921G, PW1922G, PW1923G, and PW1923G–A model turbofan engines. AD 2020–07–02 applied to all PW PW1519G, PW1521G, PW1521GA, PW1524G, PW1525G, and PW1525G–3 model turbofan engines. The NPRM published in the Federal Register on March 26, 2021 (86 FR 16137). The NPRM was prompted by reports of in-flight shutdowns due to failure of the LPC R1 and by subsequent findings of cracked LPC R1s during inspection. Additionally, the manufacturer performed further root cause analysis of the LPC R1 failures and determined the need to update the EEC FADEC software to automate rotor speed management and limit the maximum climb and maximum continuous thrust ratings. In the NPRM, the FAA proposed to retain certain requirements of AD 2019–21–11 and none of the requirements of AD 2020–07–02. In the NPRM, the FAA proposed to continue to require a BSI of certain LPC R1s for damage and cracks and, depending on the results of the BSI, replacement of the LPC R1. In the NPRM, the FAA proposed to continue to require repetitive BSIs of certain LPC R1s until replacement of the EEC FADEC software with the updated software. In the NPRM, the FAA also proposed to require a BSI of the LPC R1 after installation of the updated EEC FADEC software if certain Onboard Maintenance Message fault codes are displayed and meet specified criteria.

Discussion of Final Airworthiness Directive

Comments

The FAA received comments from two commenters. The commenters were Air Line Pilots Association, International (ALPA) and Delta Air Lines, Inc. (DAL). ALPA supported the proposal without change. DAL supported the proposal but recommended certain changes. The following presents the comments received on the NPRM and the FAA’s response to each comment.

Request To Correct the Effective Date of AD 2019–19–11

DAL requested that the FAA correct the reference to the effective date of AD 2019–19–11, in paragraph (g)(1)(i) of this AD from October 29, 2019, to September 26, 2019 (the effective date of AD 2019–19–11).

The FAA agrees and has revised paragraph (g)(1)(i) of this AD as requested. This change adds no additional burden on any operator who is required to comply with this AD.
Request To Allow Use of Later Revisions of Service Information

DAL requested that the FAA add the phrase “or later” after PW Section PW1000G–A–72–00–00–02A–0B5A–A of PW Engine Maintenance Manual (EMM), Issue No. 016, dated January 15, 2021, and PW Section PW1000G–A–72–31–00–00A–312A–D of PW EMM, Issue No. 016, dated January 11, 2021, referenced in Notes 2 and 3 to paragraph (g)(6) of this AD. DAL stated that if a maintenance technician were troubleshooting Onboard Maintenance Message fault code 7100F0029 or 7100F0030, the maintenance technician would be guided to the latest issue of the publication.

The FAA disagrees to add the phrase “or later” to the required actions section as requested by DAL. Notes 2 and 3 to paragraph (g)(6) of this AD, which contain references to the sections of the EMM specified by DAL, provide guidance for both determining the N1 Exceedance duration and for performing the BSI. This AD does not mandate the use of specific manual revisions for purposes of compliance with the required actions.

Conclusion

The FAA reviewed the relevant data, considered any comments received, and determined that air safety requires adopting the AD as proposed.

Accordingly, the FAA is issuing this AD to address the unsafe condition on these products. Except for minor editorial changes, and any other changes described previously, this AD is adopted as proposed in the NPRM. None of the changes will increase the annual economic burden on any operator.

Related Service Information

Interim Action

The FAA considers this AD to be an interim action. If final corrective action is later identified, the FAA might consider additional rulemaking.

Costs of Compliance

The FAA estimates that this AD affects 94 engines installed on airplanes of U.S. registry.

The FAA estimates the following costs to comply with this AD:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Action</th>
<th>Labor cost</th>
<th>Parts cost</th>
<th>Cost per product</th>
<th>Cost on U.S. operators</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Replace EEC FADEC software ..........</td>
<td>2 work-hours × $85 per hour = $170</td>
<td>$0</td>
<td>$170</td>
<td>$15,980</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BSI per inspection cycle ..........</td>
<td>2 work-hours × $85 per hour = $170</td>
<td></td>
<td>$170</td>
<td>15,980</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The FAA estimates the following costs to do any necessary replacements that would be required based on the results of the inspection. The agency has no way of determining the number of aircraft that might need this replacement:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Action</th>
<th>Labor cost</th>
<th>Parts cost</th>
<th>Cost per product</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Replace LPC R1 .................</td>
<td>40 work-hours × $95 per hour = $3,400</td>
<td>$156,000</td>
<td>$159,400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BSI of the LPC R1 if Onboard Maintenance Message fault codes are displayed.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>

The FAA has included all known costs in its cost estimate. According to the manufacturer, however, some of the costs of this AD may be covered under warranty, thereby reducing the cost impact on affected individuals.

Authority for This Rulemaking

Title 49 of the United States Code specifies the FAA’s authority to issue rules on aviation safety. Subtitle I, Section 106, describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII, Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the Agency’s authority.

The FAA is issuing this rulemaking under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart III, Section 44701, General requirements. Under that section, Congress charges the FAA with promoting safe flight of civil aircraft in air commerce by prescribing regulations for practices, methods, and procedures the Administrator finds necessary for safety in air commerce. This regulation is within the scope of that authority because it addresses an unsafe condition that is likely to exist or develop on products identified in this rulemaking action.

Regulatory Findings

The FAA has determined that this AD will not have federalism implications under Executive Order 13132. This AD will not have a substantial direct effect on the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this AD:

(1) Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866.

(2) Will not affect intrastate aviation in Alaska.

List of Subjects in 14 CFR Part 39

Air transportation, Aircraft, Aviation safety, Incorporation by reference, Safety.

The Amendment

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

§ 39.13 [Amended]

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113, 44701.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

a. Removing Airworthiness Directive AD 2019–21–11, Amendment 39–19777 (84 FR 57813, October 29, 2019); and AD 2020–07–02, Amendment 39–21106 (85 FR 17742, March 31, 2020); and

b. Adding the following new airworthiness directive:

(a) Effective Date

This airworthiness directive (AD) is effective August 12, 2021.

(b) Affected ADs

(c) Applicability

(d) Subject

Joint Aircraft System Component (JASC) Code 7230, Turbine Engine Compressor Section.

(e) Unsafe Condition

This AD was prompted by reports of in-flight shut-downs due to failure of the low-pressure compressor (LPC) rotor 1 (R1) and by subsequent findings of cracked LPC R1s during inspection. The FAA is issuing this AD to prevent failure of the LPC R1. The unsafe condition, if not addressed, could result in uncontained release of the LPC R1, damage to the engine, damage to the airplane, and loss of control of the airplane.

(f) Compliance

Comply with this AD within the compliance times specified, unless already done.

(g) Required Actions

(1) Except for those model turbofan engines identified in paragraph (g)(2) of this AD, perform a borescope inspection (BSI) of the LPC R1 for damage and cracks as follows:

(i) For engines that have accumulated fewer than 300 flight cycles since new (CSN), perform a BSI within 50 flight cycles (FCs) from September 26, 2019 (the effective date of AD 2019–19–11), or before further flight, whichever occurs later.

(ii) For engines that have accumulated fewer than 300 FCs since installation of V2.11.7 or V2.11.8 electronic engine control (EEC) full authority digital electronic control (FADEC) software, perform a BSI within 50 FCs from October 29, 2019 (the effective date of AD 2019–21–11), or before further flight, whichever occurs later.

(iii) Thereafter, at intervals not to exceed 50 FCs until the engine accumulates 300 flight cycles or accumulates 300 FCs since the installation of V2.11.7 or V2.11.8 EEC FADEC software, whichever occurs later, repeat the BSI for damage and cracks.

(2) Perform the BSI required by paragraphs (g)(1)(i) through (iii) of this AD at the following LPC R1 locations:

(A) The blade tip;

(B) The leading edge;

(C) The leading edge fillet to rotor platform radius; and

(D) The airfoil convex side root fillet to rotor platform radius.

(3) For any affected PW model turbofan engine installed as a “zero time spare,” except for PW1519G, PW1521GA, PW1919G, and PW1922G model turbofan engines, within 15 FCs from the effective date of this AD, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 15 FCs until the engine accumulates 300 flight cycles, perform a BSI of the LPC R1 for damage and cracks at the locations in paragraph (g)(1)(iv) of this AD.

(3) Based on the results of the BSIs required by paragraphs (g)(1) and (2) of this AD, before further flight, remove and replace the LPC R1 if:

(i) There is damage on an LPC R1 that exceeds serviceable limits; or

(ii) Any crack in the LPC R1 exists.

(4) For PW1519G, PW1521G, PW1521GA, PW1524G, PW1524G–3, PW1525G, and PW1525G–3 model turbofan engines, within 120 days of the effective date of this AD, remove the EEC FADEC software if the version is earlier than EEC FADEC software version V2.11.10.4 and install EEC FADEC software that is eligible for installation.

(5) For PW1919G, PW1921G, PW1922G, PW1923G, and PW1923G–A model turbofan engines, within 120 days of the effective date of this AD, remove the EEC FADEC software if the version is earlier than EEC FADEC software version V9.5.6.7 and install EEC FADEC software that is eligible for installation.

(6) For PW1519G, PW1521G, PW1521GA, PW1524G, PW1524G–3, PW1525G, and PW1525G–3 model turbofan engines with EEC FADEC software version V2.11.10.4 or later installed, within 15 FCs after receipt of Onboard Maintenance Message fault code 7100F0029 or 7100F0030, perform a BSI of the LPC R1 for damage and cracks at the locations in paragraph (g)(1)(iv) of this AD if the fault code is displayed on the “Active Failure Messages” and meets the following criteria:

(i) N1 Exceedance is above 95.2%;

(ii) N1 Exceedance occurred above 29,100 feet; and

(iii) N1 Exceedance occurs for a duration of 40 seconds (15 seconds of cockpit display) or more during any flight.

Note 2 to paragraph (g)(6): Guidance on determining the N1 Exceedance duration can be found in PW Section PW1000G–A–72–00–00–00A–7312A–D of PW EM, Issue No. 016, dated January 15, 2021.

(7) As the result of the BSI of the LPC R1 required by paragraph (g)(6) of this AD, before further flight, remove and replace the LPC R1 if:

(i) There is damage on an LPC R1 that exceeds serviceable limits; or

(ii) Any crack in the LPC R1 exists.

(h) Terminating Actions

(1) For PW1519G, PW1521G, PW1521GA, PW1524G, PW1524G–3, PW1525G, and PW1525G–3 model turbofan engines, the installation of EEC FADEC software required by paragraph (g)(4) of this AD terminates the repetitive BSI requirements of paragraphs (g)(1) and (2) of this AD.
(2) For PW1919G, PW1921G, PW1922G, PW1923G, and PW1924G–A model turbofan engines, the installation of EEC FADEC software required by paragraph (g)(5) of this AD terminates the repetitive BSI requirements of paragraphs (g)(1) and (2) of this AD.

(i) Installation Prohibition

After the effective date of this AD, do not install EEC FADEC software earlier than version V2.11.10.4 or version V9.5.6.7 onto any engine identified in paragraph (c) of this AD.

(ii) Definitions

(1) For the purpose of this AD, a “zero time spare” is an engine that had zero flight hours time-in-service when it was installed on an airplane after the airplane had entered service.

(k) Alternative Methods of Compliance (AMOCs)

(1) The Manager, ECO Branch, FAA, has the authority to approve AMOCs for this AD, if requested using the procedures found in 14 CFR 39.19. In accordance with 14 CFR 39.19, send your request to your principal inspector or local Flight Standards District Office, as appropriate. If sending information directly to the manager of the certification office, send it to the attention of the person identified in Related Information. Discussion of Final Airworthiness Directive

Comments

The FAA received comments from two commenters. The commenters were the Air Line Pilots Association, International (ALPA) and an anonymous commenter. ALPA supported the NPRM without change. The anonymous commenter supported the NPRM but stated their opinion on the estimated costs.

The FAA has included all known costs in its cost estimate. According to the manufacturer, however, all of the costs of this AD may be covered under warranty, thereby reducing the cost impact on affected operators.

Authority for This Rulemaking

Title 49 of the United States Code specifies the FAA’s authority to issue rules on aviation safety. Subtitle I, section 106, describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII: Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the Agency’s authority.

The FAA is issuing this rulemaking under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart III, Section 44701: General requirements. Under that section, Congress charges the FAA with promoting safe flight of civil aircraft in air commerce by prescribing regulations for practices, methods, and procedures the Administrator finds necessary for safety in air commerce. This regulation is within the scope of that authority because it addresses an unsafe condition that is likely to exist or develop on products identified in this rulemaking action.

Regulatory Findings

This AD will not have federalism implications under Executive Order 13132. This AD will not have a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify this AD:

1. Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866;
2. Will not affect intrastate aviation in Alaska, and
3. Will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

§  Section

II. Background Information and Regulatory History

The Coast Guard is issuing this temporary rule without prior notice and opportunity to comment pursuant to authority under section 4(a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) (5 U.S.C. 553(b)). This provision authorizes an agency to issue a rule without prior notice and opportunity to comment when the agency for good cause finds that those procedures are “impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.” Under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for not publishing a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) with respect to this rule because local authorities asked the Coast Guard to establish the security zone within 24 hours of the request. A delay in promulgating this rule would be impracticable because a security zone is required by July 1, 2021, to prevent vessels from approaching and possibly interfering with search and rescue operations at the Champlain Towers South (accident site) and 500 yards offshore. This action is necessary to prevent vessels from approaching and possibly interfering with search and rescue operations at the Champlain Towers South in Surfside, FL. Entry of vessels or persons into this zone is prohibited unless specifically authorized by the Captain of the Port (COTP) Miami or a designated representative.

DATES: This rule is effective without actual notice from July 8, 2021 through August 31, 2021. For the purposes of enforcement, actual notice will be used from July 1, 2021, until July 8, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

V. Regulatory Analyses

We developed this rule after considering numerous statutes and Executive orders related to rulemaking. Below we summarize our analyses based on a number of these statutes and Executive orders, and we discuss First Amendment rights of protestors.

A. Regulatory Planning and Review

Executive Orders 12866 and 13563 direct agencies to assess the costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits. This rule has not been designated a “significant regulatory action,” under Executive Order 12866. Accordingly, this rule has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

This regulatory action determination is based on the size and location of the security zone. The security zone is limited in size and location as it will cover all navigable waters from approximately one-half nautical mile north and south of the Champlain Towers South (accident site) and 500 yards offshore. Although persons and vessels will not be able to enter, transit through, anchor in, or remain within the security zone without authorization from the Captain of the Port Miami or a designated representative, they may operate in the surrounding area during the enforcement period. Furthermore, the rule will allow vessels to seek permission to enter the zone. Persons and vessels may still enter, transit through, anchor in, or remain within the security zone during the enforcement period if authorized by the Captain of the Port Miami or a designated representative. The Coast Guard will provide advance notice of the security zone via a Broadcast Notice to Mariners, allowing mariners to make alternative plans or seek permission to transit the zone.

B. Impact on Small Entities

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, 5 U.S.C. 601–612, as amended, requires Federal agencies to consider the potential impact of regulations on small entities during rulemaking. The term “small entities” comprises small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000.

The Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.
While some owners or operators of vessels intending to transit the safety zone may be small entities, for the reasons stated in section V.A above, this rule will not have a significant economic impact on any vessel owner or operator.

Under section 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–121), we wish to assist small entities in understanding this rule. If the rule would affect your small business, organization, or governmental jurisdiction and you have questions concerning its provisions or options for compliance, please call or email the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section.

Small businesses may send comments on the actions of Federal employees who enforce, or otherwise determine compliance with, Federal regulations to the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Ombudsman and the Regional Small Business Regulatory Fairness Boards. The Ombudsman evaluates these actions annually and rates each agency’s responsiveness to small business. If you wish to comment on actions by employees of the Coast Guard, call 1–888–REG–FAIR (1–888–734–3247). The Coast Guard will not retaliate against small entities that question or complain about this rule or any policy or action of the Coast Guard.

C. Collection of Information

This rule will not call for a new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).

D. Federalism and Indian Tribal Governments

A rule has implications for federalism under Executive Order 13132. Federalism, if it has a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. We have analyzed this rule under that order and have determined that it is consistent with the fundamental federalism principles and preemption requirements described in Executive Order 13132.

Also, this rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.

E. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531–1538) requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of their discretionary regulatory actions. In particular, the Act addresses actions that may result in the expenditure by a State, local, or tribal government, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100,000,000 (adjusted for inflation) or more in any one year. Though this rule will not result in such an expenditure, we do discuss the effects of this rule elsewhere in this preamble.

F. Environment

We have analyzed this rule under Department of Homeland Security Directive 023–01, Rev. 1, associated implementing instructions, and Environmental Planning COMDTINST 5090.1 (series), which guide the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321–4370f), and have determined that this action is one of a category of actions that do not individually or cumulatively have a significant effect on the human environment. This rule involves a temporary security zone lasting approximately 60 days that will prohibit entry of persons or vessels during search and rescue operations at the Champlain Towers in Surfside, Florida. It is categorically excluded from further review under paragraph L60(d) of Appendix A, Table 1 of DHS Instruction Manual 023–01–001–01, Rev. 1.

A Draft Record of Environmental Consideration supporting this determination is available in the docket. For instructions on locating the docket, see the ADDRESSES section of this preamble.

G. Protest Activities

The Coast Guard respects the First Amendment rights of protesters. Protesters are asked to call or email the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section to coordinate protest activities so that your message can be received without jeopardizing the safety or security of people, places or vessels.

Patient Protection and Affordable Care
Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment
Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager Standards;
Correction

AGENCY: Centers for Medicare &
Medicaid Services (CMS), Department of Health & Human Services (HHS).

ACTION: Final rule; correction.

SUMMARY: This document corrects technical errors in the final rule that appeared in the May 5, 2021, Federal Register entitled, “Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager Standards”.

DATES: This correction is effective on July 6, 2021.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jeff
Wu, (301) 492–4305, Rogelyn McLean,
(301) 492–4229, Grace Bristol, (410)
786–8437, Kiahana Brooks, (301) 492– 5229, or Sara Rosta, (301) 492–4223 for general information.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In FR Doc. 2021–09102 of May 5, 2021, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for
2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager
Standards final rule (86 FR 24140), there were technical errors that are identified and corrected in the regulation text of this correcting document. The correction is effective on July 6, 2021, as this is the date that the relevant regulations contained in the Patient
Protection and Affordable Care Act;
HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment
Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy
Benefit Manager Standards final rule take effect.

II. Summary of Error in the Regulation

On page 24289 of the Patient
Protection and Affordable Care Act;
HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment
Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy
Benefit Manager Standards final rule, we made technical errors in amendatory instructions 27b and d for § 155.221. In these amendatory instructions, we inadvertently noted that we were: (1)
Redesignating paragraphs (c) through (h) as paragraphs (d) through (i), respectively; and (2) amending newly redesignated paragraphs (g) introductory text, (g)(6) and (7), and (h) by removing the reference to “paragraph [i]’’ and adding in its place a reference to “paragraph [f]’’’. These amendatory instructions were duplicative of amendatory instructions 6a and c of the final rule that appeared in the January 19, 2021 Federal Register, entitled
“Patient Protection and Affordable Care
Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment
Parameters for 2022; Updates to State
Innovation Waiver (Section 1332
Waiver) Implementing Regulations’’ (86 FR 6176). Therefore, in addition to amendatory instruction 27a, we should have only included the addition of paragraph (c) for changes to § 155.221 in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of Benefit and Payment Parameters for 2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager Standards
final rule. Accordingly, we are revising amendatory instruction 27b to accurately reflect the addition of paragraph (c) and removing amendatory instructions 27c and d.

III. Waiver of Proposed Rulemaking and Delay in Effective Date

Under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (the APA), the agency is required to publish a notice of the proposed rule in the Federal Register before the provisions of a rule take effect. In addition, section 553(d) of the APA mandates a 30-day delay in effective date after issuance or publication of a rule. Sections 553(b)(B) and 553(d)(3) of the APA provide for exceptions from the APA notice and comment, and delay in effective date requirements. Section 553(b)(B) of the APA authorizes an agency to dispense with normal notice and comment rulemaking procedures for good cause if the agency makes a finding that the notice and comment process is impractical, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest, and includes a statement of the finding and the reasons for it in the rule. In addition, section 553(d)(3) of the APA allows the agency to waive the 30-day delay in effective date where such delay is contrary to the public interest and the agency includes in the rule a statement of the finding and the reasons for it.

This document merely corrects technical errors in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act; HHS Notice of
Benefit and Payment Parameters for
2022 and Pharmacy Benefit Manager
Standards final rule that was published on May 5, 2021, for amendments that become effective on July 6, 2021. The corrections do not make substantive changes to the policies or standards set forth in the final rule. Therefore, we believe that undertaking further notice and comment procedures to incorporate these corrections and delay the effective date for these changes is unnecessary. In addition, we believe that it is important for the public to have the correct information as soon as possible and believe it is contrary to the public interest to delay when they become effective. For these reasons, we believe there is good cause to waive the requirements for notice and comment delay in effective date for this correction document.

Occupational Safety and Health Administration
29 CFR Part 1910
[Docket No. OSHA–2019–0001]
RIN 1218–AC93
Hazard Communication Standard

AGENCY: Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), Labor.

ACTION: Proposed rule; Extension of period to submit a notice of intent to appear (NOITA) at informal hearing.

SUMMARY: The period for submitting a NOITA is being extended by 14 days from the date of publication of this document to allow stakeholders interested in attending the informal public hearing on the proposed rule “Hazard Communication Standard” additional time to prepare their submissions.

Informal public hearing: OSHA has scheduled an informal public hearing on the proposed rule to be held virtually via WebEx, beginning September 22, 2021, at 10:00 a.m., ET. If necessary, the hearing will continue from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., ET, on subsequent days. Additional information on how to access the informal hearing will be posted when available at https://www.osha.gov/hazcom/rulemaking.

ADDRESSES:
Notices of Intent to Appear: Notices of intent to appear at the hearing, along with any submissions and attachments, should be submitted electronically at https://www.regulations.gov, which is the Federal e-Rulemaking Portal. Follow the instructions online for making electronic submissions. After accessing “all documents and comments” in the docket (Docket No. OSHA–2019–0001), check the “proposed rule” box in the column headed “Document Type,” find the document posted on the date of publication of this document, and click the “Comment Now” link. When uploading multiple attachments to www.regulations.gov, please number all of your attachments because www.regulations.gov will not automatically number the attachments. This will be very useful in identifying all attachments in the preamble. For example, Attachment 1—title of your document, Attachment 2—title of your document, Attachment 3—title of your document. For assistance with commenting and uploading documents, please see the Frequently Asked Questions on regulations.gov.

Instructions: All submissions must include the agency’s name and the docket number for this rulemaking (Docket No. OSHA–2019–0001). All comments, including any personal information you provide, are placed in the public docket without change and may be made available online at https://www.regulations.gov. Therefore, OSHA cautious commenters about submitting information they do not want made available to the public, or submitting materials that contain personal information (either about themselves or others), such as Social Security numbers and birthdates.

Docket: To read or download comments, notices of intent to appear, and other materials submitted in the docket, go to Docket No. OSHA–2019–0001 at https://www.regulations.gov. All comments and submissions are listed in the https://www.regulations.gov index; however, some information (e.g., copyrighted material) is not publicly available to read or download through that website. All comments and submissions, including copyrighted material, are available for inspection through the OSHA Docket Office.¹ Contact the OSHA Docket Office at (202) 693–2350, (TTY (877) 889–5627) for information about materials not available through the website, and for assistance in using the internet to locate docket submissions.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

¹ Documents submitted to the docket by OSHA or stakeholders are assigned document identification numbers (Document ID) for easy identification and retrieval. The full Document ID is the docket number plus a unique four-digit code. OSHA is identifying supporting information in this document by author name, publication year, and the last four digits of the Document ID.

For hearing inquiries: Contact Janet Carter, Directorate of Standards and Guidance, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, U.S. Department of Labor; telephone (202) 693–2370; email: carter.janet@dol.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 16, 2021, OSHA published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) to modify the Hazard Communication Standard (HCS) to align with the United Nations’ Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals (GHS) Revision 7, to address specific issues that have arisen since OSHA last updated the HCS in 2012, and to provide better alignment with other U.S. agencies and international trading partners, without lowering the overall protections of the standard. The public comment period for this NPRM closed May 19, 2021, 92 days after publication of the NPRM.

On May 20, 2021, OSHA issued a notice of informal hearing on the proposed rule. The deadline to submit a NOITA was June 18, 2021. However, OSHA has received a request to extend the period due, in part, to pandemic-related activities. OSHA agrees to an extension and believes a 14-day extension is sufficient and appropriate. Therefore, the deadline for submitting a NOITA is extended to July 22, 2021.

Notice of Intent To Appear at the Hearing

Interested persons who intend to participate in and provide oral testimony or documentary evidence at the hearing must file a written notice of intent to appear prior to the hearing. To testify or question witnesses at the hearing, interested persons must electronically submit their notice by Friday, June 25, 2021.
Name, address, email address, and telephone number of each individual who will give oral testimony;

Name of the establishment or organization each individual represents, if any;

Occupational title and position of each individual testifying;

Approximate amount of time required for each individual’s testimony;

A brief statement of the position each individual will take with respect to the issues raised by the proposed rule; and

A brief summary of documentary evidence each individual intends to present.

Individuals who request more than 10 minutes to present their oral testimony at the hearing or who will submit documentary evidence at the hearing must submit the full text of their testimony and all documentary evidence no later than August 21, 2021.

The agency will review each submission and determine if the information it contains warrants the amount of time the individual requested for the presentation. If OSHA believes the requested time is excessive, the agency will allocate an appropriate amount of time for the presentation. The agency also may limit to 10 minutes the presentation of any participant who fails to comply substantially with these procedural requirements, and may request that the participant return for questioning at a later time. Before the hearing, OSHA will notify participants of the time the agency will allow for their presentation and, if less than requested, the reasons for its decision.

In addition, before the hearing, OSHA will provide the hearing procedures and hearing schedule to each participant who filed a notice of intention to appear. OSHA emphasizes that the hearing is open to the public; however, only individuals who file a notice of intention to appear may question witnesses and participate fully at the hearing. If time permits, and at the discretion of the ALJ, an individual who did not file a notice of intention to appear may be allowed to testify at the hearing, but for no more than 10 minutes.

ADMINISTRATIVE CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED STATES

Adoption of Recommendations

AGENCY: Administrative Conference of the United States.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Administrative Conference of the United States adopted four recommendations at its virtual Seventy-fourth Plenary Session. The appended recommendations are: (a) Managing Mass, Computer-Generated, and Falsely Attributed Comments; (b) Periodic Retrospective Review; (c) Early Input on Regulatory Alternatives; and (d) Virtual Hearings in Agency Adjudication. A fifth proposed recommendation, Clarifying Access to Judicial Review of Agency Action was considered but was remanded to the Committee on Judicial Review for further consideration.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For Recommendation 2021–1, Danielle Schulkin; for Recommendation 2021–2, Gavin Young; for Recommendation 2021–3, Mark Thomson; and for Recommendation 2021–4, Jeremy Graboyes. For each of these actions the address and telephone number are: Administrative Conference of the United States, Suite 706 South, 1120 20th Street NW, Washington, DC 20036; Telephone 202–480–2080.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Administrative Conference Act, 5 U.S.C. 591–596, established the Administrative Conference of the United States. The Conference studies the efficiency, adequacy, and fairness of the administrative procedures used by Federal agencies and makes recommendations to agencies, the President, Congress, and the Judicial Conference of the United States for procedural improvements (5 U.S.C. 594(1)). For further information about the Conference and its activities, see www.acus.gov. At its virtual Seventy-fourth Plenary Session on June 17, 2021, the Assembly of the Conference adopted four recommendations.

Recommendation 2021–1, Managing Mass, Computer-Generated, and Falsely Attributed Comments. This recommendation offers agencies best practices for managing mass, computer-generated, and falsely attributed comments in agency rulemakings. It provides guidance for agencies on using technology to process such comments in the most efficient way possible while ensuring that the rulemaking process is transparent to prospective commenters and the public more broadly.

Recommendation 2021–2, Periodic Retrospective Review. This recommendation offers practical suggestions to agencies about how to establish periodic retrospective review plans. It provides guidance for agencies on identifying regulations for review, determining the optimal frequency of review, soliciting public feedback to enhance their review efforts, identifying staff to participate in review, and coordinating review with other agencies.

Recommendation 2021–3, Early Input on Regulatory Alternatives. This recommendation offers guidance about whether, when, and how agencies should solicit input on alternatives to rules under consideration before issuing notices of proposed rulemaking. It identifies specific, targeted measures for obtaining public input on regulatory alternatives from knowledgeable persons in ways that are cost-effective and equitable and that maximize the likelihood of obtaining diverse, useful responses.

Recommendation 2021–4, Virtual Hearings in Agency Adjudication. This recommendation addresses the use of virtual hearings—that is, proceedings in which participants attend remotely using a personal computer or mobile device—in agency adjudications. Drawing heavily on agencies’ experiences during the COVID–19 pandemic, the recommendation identifies best practices for improving existing virtual-hearing programs and establishing new ones in accord with principles of fairness and efficiency and with due regard for participant satisfaction.

The Appendix below sets forth the full texts of these four recommendations, as well as three timely filed Separate Statements associated with Recommendation 2021–1, Managing Mass, Computer-Generated, and Falsely Attributed Comments. The Conference will transmit the recommendations to affected agencies, Congress, and the Judicial Conference of the United States, as appropriate. The recommendations are not binding, so the entities to which they are addressed will make decisions on their implementation.

The Conference based these recommendations on research reports that are posted at: https://www.acus.gov/meetings-and-events/plenary-meeting/74th-plenary-session-virtual. Committee-proposed drafts of the recommendations, and public comments received in advance of the plenary session, are also available using the same link.

Dated: July 2, 2021.

General Counsel.

Appendix—Recommendations of the Administrative Conference of the United States

Administrative Conference Recommendation 2021–1

Managing Mass, Computer-Generated, and Falsely Attributed Comments

Adopted June 17, 2021

Under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), agencies must give members of the public notice of proposed rules and the opportunity to offer their “data, views, or arguments” for the agencies’ consideration. For each proposed rule subject to these notice-and-comment procedures, agencies create and maintain an online public rulemaking docket in which they collect and publish the comments they receive along with other publicly available information about the proposed rule. Agencies must then process, read, and analyze the comments received. The APA requires agencies to consider the “relevant matter presented” in the comments received and to provide a “concise general statement of [the rule’s]
When a rule is challenged on judicial review, courts have required agencies to demonstrate that they have considered and responded to any comment that raises a significant issue. The notice-and-comment process is an important opportunity for the public to provide input on a proposed rule and the agency to “avoid errors and make a more informed decision” on its rulemaking.

Technological advances have expanded the public’s access to agencies’ online rulemaking dockets and made it easier for the public to comment on proposed rules in ways that the Administrative Conference has encouraged. At the same time, in recent high-profile rulemakings, members of the public have submitted comments in new ways or in numbers that can challenge agencies’ current approaches to processing these comments or managing their online rulemaking dockets.

Agencies have confronted three types of comments that present distinctive management challenges: (1) Mass comments, (2) computer-generated comments, and (3) falsely attributed comments. For the purposes of this Recommendation, mass comments are comments submitted in large numbers by members of the public, including the organized submission of identical or substantively identical comments. Computer-generated comments are comments whose substantive content has been generated by computer software rather than by humans. Falsely attributed comments are comments attributed to people who did not submit them.

These three types of comments, which have been the subject of recent reports by both federal and state authorities, can raise challenges for agencies in processing, reading, and analyzing the comments they receive in some rulemakings. If not managed well, the processing of these comments can contribute to rulemaking delays or can raise other practical or legal concerns for agencies.

In addressing the three types of comments in a single recommendation, the Conference does not mean to suggest that agencies should treat these comments in the same way. Rather, the Conference is addressing these comments according to Recommendation 2013–5, Social Media in Rulemaking.

Computer-generated comments may also raise potential issues for agencies as a result of the APA’s provision for the submission of comments by “interested persons.” Falsely attributed comments can harm people whose identities are appropriated and may create the possibility of prosecution under state or federal criminal law. False attribution may also deceive agencies or diminish the informational value of a comment, especially when the commenter claims to have situational knowledge or the identity of the commenter is otherwise relevant. The informational value that both of these types of comments provide to agencies is likely to be limited or at least different from comments that have been neither computer-generated nor falsely attributed.

This Recommendation is limited to how agencies can better manage the processing challenges associated with mass, computer-generated, and falsely attributed comments. By addressing these processing challenges, the Recommendation is not intended to imply that widespread participation in the rulemaking process, including via mass comments, is problematic. Indeed, the Conference has noted that widespread public participation on multiple occasions suggests that the rulemaking process is transparent to prospective commenters and the public more broadly.

Agencies can advance the goals of public participation by being transparent about their comment policies or practices and by providing educational information about public involvement in the rulemaking process. Agencies’ ability to process comments can also be enhanced by digital technologies.

As part of its eRulemaking Program, for example, the General Services Administration (GSA) has implemented technologies on the Regulations.gov platform that make it easier for agencies to verify that a commenter is a human being. GSA’s Regulations.gov platform also includes an application programming interface (API)—a feature of a computer system that enables different systems to communicate with it—to facilitate mass comment submission. This technology platform allows partner agencies to better manage comments from identifiable entities that submit large volumes of comments. Some federal agencies also use a tool, sometimes referred to as the duplication software, to identify and group identical or substantively identical comments.

New software and technologies to manage public comments will likely emerge in the future, and agencies will need to keep abreast of them. Agencies should also consider adopting alternative methods for encouraging public participation that augment the notice-and-comment process, particularly to the extent that doing so ameliorates some of the management challenges described above.

6. 5 U.S.C. 553.

7. The ability to automate the generation of comment content may also remove human interaction with the agency and facilitate the submission of large volumes of comments in cases in which software can repeatedly submit comments via Regulations.gov.

9. The ability to automate the generation of comment content may also remove human interaction with the agency and facilitate the submission of large volumes of comments in cases in which software can repeatedly submit comments via Regulations.gov.

10. 5 U.S.C. 553.

11. This Recommendation does not address what role particular types of comments should play in agency decision-making. For example, if any, agencies should give to the number of comments in support of a particular position.

15. For an example of educational information on rulemaking participation, see the “Commenter’s Checklist” that the eRulemaking Program currently displays in a pop-up window on the rulemaking web page that offers the public the opportunity to comment. See Commenter’s Checklist, Gen. Servs. Admin., https://www.Regulations.gov (last visited May 24, 2021) (navigate to any rulemaking with an open comment period; click comment button; then click “Commenter’s Checklist”). In addition, the text of this checklist appears on the project page for this Recommendation on the ACUS website.

16. This software is distinct from identity validation technologies that force commenters to prove their identities.

18. See Steve Balla, Reeve Bull, Bridget Dooling, Emily Hammond, Michael Herz, Michael Livermore, & Beth Simone Noveck, Mass, Technology is rapidly changing, agencies will need to stay apprised of new developments that could enhance public participation in rulemaking.

Not all agencies will encounter mass, computer-generated, or falsely attributed comments. But some agencies have confronted all three, sometimes in the same rulemaking. In offering the best practices that follow, the Conference recognizes that agency needs and resources will vary. For this reason, agencies should tailor the best practices in this Recommendation to their particular rulemaking programs and the types of comments they receive or expect to receive.

Recommendation

Managing Mass Comments

1. The General Services Administration’s (GSA) eRulemaking Program should provide a common de-duplication tool for agencies to use, although GSA should allow agencies to modify the de-duplication tool to fit their needs or to use another tool, as appropriate. When agencies find it helpful to use other software tools to perform de-duplication or extract information from a large number of comments, they should use reliable and appropriate software. Such software should provide agencies with enhanced search options to identify the unique content of comments, such as the technologies used by commercial legal databases like Westlaw or LexisNexis.

2. To enable easier public navigation through online rulemaking dockets, agencies may welcome any person or entity organizing mass comments to submit comments with multiple signatures rather than separate identical or substantively identical comments.

3. Agencies may wish to consider alternative approaches to managing the display of comments online, such as by posting only a single representative example of identical comments in the online rulemaking docket or by breaking out and posting only non-identical content in the docket, taking into consideration the importance to members of the public to be able to verify that their comments were received and placed in the agency record. When agencies decide not to display all identical comments online, they should provide publicly available explanations of their actions and the criteria for verifying the receipt of individual comments or locating identical comments in the docket and for deciding what comments to display.

4. When an agency decides not to include all identical or substantively identical comments in its online rulemaking docket to improve the navigability of the docket, it should ensure that any reported total number of comments (such as in Regulations.gov or in the preambles to final rules) includes the number of identical or substantively identical comments. If resources permit, agencies should separately report the total number of identical or substantively identical comments they receive. Agencies should also consider providing an opportunity for interested members of the public to obtain or access all comments received.

Managing Computer-Generated Comments

5. To the extent feasible, agencies should flag any comments they have identified as computer-generated or display or store them separately from other comments. If an agency flags a comment as computer-generated, or displays or stores it separately from the online rulemaking docket, the agency should note its action in the docket. The agency may also choose to notify the submitter directly if doing so does not violate any relevant policy prohibiting direct contact with senders of “spam” or similar communications.

6. Agencies that operate their own commenting platforms should consider using technology that verifies that a commenter is a human being, such as reCAPTCHA or another similar identity proofing tool. The eRulemaking Program should continue to retain this functionality.

7. When publishing a final rule, agencies should note any comments on which they rely that they know are computer-generated and state whether they removed from the docket any comments they identified as computer-generated.

Managing Falsely Attributed Comments

8. Agencies should provide opportunities (including after the comment deadline) for individuals whose names or identifying information have been attached to comments they did not submit to identify such comments and to request that the comment be anonymized or removed from the online rulemaking docket.

9. If an agency flags a comment as falsely attributed or removes such a comment from the online rulemaking docket, it should note its action in the docket. Agencies may also choose to notify the purported submitter directly if doing so does not violate any agency policy.

10. If an agency relies on a comment it knows is falsely attributed, it should include an anonymized version of that comment in its online rulemaking docket. When publishing a final rule, agencies should note any comments on which they rely that are falsely attributed and should state whether they removed from the docket any falsely attributed comments.

Enhancing Agency Transparency in the Comment Process

11. Agencies should inform the public about their policies concerning the posting and use of mass, computer-generated, and falsely attributed comments. These policies should take into account the meaningfulness of the public’s opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process and should balance goals such as user-friendliness, transparency, and informational completeness. In their policies, agencies may provide for exceptions in appropriate circumstances.

12. Agencies and relevant coordinating bodies (such as GSA’s eRulemaking Program, the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, and any other governmental bodies that address common rulemaking issues) should consider providing publicly available materials that explain to prospective commenters what types of responses they anticipate would be most useful, while also welcoming any other comments that members of the public wish to submit and remaining open to learning from them. These materials could be presented in various formats—such as videos or FAQs—to reach different audiences. These materials may also include statements within the notice of proposed rulemaking for a given agency rule or on agencies’ websites to explain the purpose of the comment process and explain that agencies seriously consider any relevant public comment from a person or organization.

13. To encourage the most relevant submissions, agencies that have specific questions or are aware of specific information that may be useful should identify those questions or such information in their notices of proposed rulemaking.

Additional Opportunities for Public Participation

14. Agencies and relevant coordinating bodies should stay abreast of new technologies for facilitating informative public participation in rulemakings. These technologies may help agencies to process mass comments or ideas and provide computer-generated and falsely attributed comments. In addition, new technologies may offer new opportunities to engage the public, both as part of or as a supplement to the notice-and-comment process. Such opportunities may help agencies receive input from communities that may not otherwise have an opportunity to participate in the conventional comment process.

Coordination and Training

15. Agencies should work closely with relevant coordinating bodies to improve existing technologies and develop new technologies to address issues associated with mass, computer-generated, and falsely attributed comments. Agencies and relevant coordinating bodies should share best practices and relevant innovations for addressing challenges related to these comments.

16. Agencies should develop and offer opportunities for ongoing training and staff development to respond to the rapidly evolving nature of technologies related to mass, computer-generated, and falsely attributed comments and to public participation more generally.

17. As authorized by 5 U.S.C. 594(2), the Conference’s Office of the Chairman should provide for the “interchange among administrative agencies of information potentially useful in improving” agency comment processing systems. The subjects of interchange might include technological and procedural innovations, common management challenges, and legal concerns under the Administrative Procedure Act and other relevant statutes.

Separate Statement for Administrative Conference Recommendation 2021-1 by Senior Fellow Randolph J. May

I attended several of the Committee meetings that considered the preparation of... this Recommendation. So, I have a good sense of the hard work that went into the preparation of the Recommendation by the Consultants, the Rulemaking Committee Chair Cary Cogollane, the Committee members, and the ACUS staff, and I am grateful for their dedication, I support adoption of the Recommendation in the context of the express limitation of the scope of the project as stated: “This Recommendation does not address what role particular types of comments should play in agency decision making or whether consideration, if any, agencies should give to the number of comments in support of a particular position.”

I wish to associate myself generally with the Comment of Senior Fellow Richard Pierce, dated May 25, 2021, especially his concern that the ACUS Recommendation not be misconstrued to foster “the widespread but mistaken public belief that notice and comment rulemaking can and should be considered a plebiscite in which the number of comments is the ultimate test of the will of the people or an endorsement by the government merely to compile, process, and review the comments. It is blinking reality not to recognize that the pro- and con- net neutrality interests responsible for generating 22 million comments assumed, in some significant way, that the outcome of the rulemaking would be impacted by which side “won” the comment battle. In other words, it must have been assumed that, in some meaningful sense, the rulemaking would be decided on the basis of a plebiscite, “counting comments,” not on the basis of the quality of the data, evidence, and arguments submitted.

So, while I accept the constraints imposed by the parameters of this Recommendation—on a comment volume, on the rulemakings for which it offers useful guidance to assist agencies—I hope that, going forward, ACUS will initiate a project that considers the appropriateness of curbing the submission of mass, computer-generated form comments, and, if so, how best to accomplish this. Certainly public education, including by government officials, and especially the pertinent agency officials, regarding the objectives of the rulemaking process in general, and specific rulemakings in particular, can play an important role.

religious group members describing potential interference with their practices, residents near a pipeline addressing safety or public notice requirements, or Native American tribal members speaking to spiritual values and historical significance of public lands. Third, a poorly open comment process supports broader public engagement by otherwise underrepresented individuals and communities, whether because of race, ethnicity, gender identity, or something else. Studies consistently show that industry groups and regulated entities, with disproportionate resources, access to agency meetings, and ability to exert political pressure, punch above their weight in the comment process. Suggesting that agencies can appropriately ignore comments from individuals would simply reinforce this disparate influence. It would also undercut the Conference’s position in Recommendation 2018–7, Public Engagement in Rulemaking, that agencies should act to broaden and enhance public participation.

Moreover, while groups can support participation, agencies should not assume that group action sufficiently conveys individual views. Many individual interests—even important ones—are underrepresented. With respect to employees such as truck drivers, for example, unions represent only 10% of U.S. wage workers. Where groups do support individual comment submission, their involvement should not be understood to taint participation. Well-funded regulated entities typically hire consultants to draft their comments. We nonetheless attribute those views to the commenters. We should treat individual comments similarly even if they incorporate group-suggested language.

Fourth, although mass comments in certain rulemakings may have encouraged computer-generated and falsely attributed comments, agencies should directly tackle these latter problems. And while comments from individuals vary in usefulness and sophistication, that is true of all comments. In short, agencies should respond to large volumes of individual comments not by attempting to deter them but instead, following Recommendation paragraphs 11–13, by providing clear, visible public information on how to draft a valuable comment.

Finally, the most difficult issue is how, exactly, agencies should respond to individual comments that convey views as well as, or instead of, specific information regarding a rule’s need or impacts. Large comment volumes, most pragmatically, may signal an agency regarding the rule’s political context, including potential congressional concern. Further, large comment quantities can alert agencies to underappreciated or undercommunicated issues or reveal potential public resistance. Such comments might constitute a yellow flag for an agency to investigate, including by reaching out to particular communities to assess the basis and intensity of their views.

At a minimum, an agency should acknowledge and answer such comments, even briefly. The agency might judge that particular public views are outweighed by other considerations. But an answer will communicate, importantly, that individuals have been heard. The Federal Communication Commission’s responses to large comment volumes in recent net neutrality proceedings are reasonable examples.

I urge the Conference to consider these issues soon and provide guidance to rulemaking agencies.

Separate Statement for Administrative Conference Recommendation 2021–1 by Senior Fellow Richard J. Pierce, Jr.

Filed June 29, 2021 (This Is an Abbreviated Version of a Statement That Is Available on the ACUS Website.)

These three phenomena and the many problems that they create have only one source—the widespread but mistaken public belief that notice and comment rulemaking can and should be plebiscitary in which the number of comments filed for or against a proposed rule is an accurate measure of public opinion that should influence the agency’s decision whether to adopt the proposed rule. I believe that ACUS can and should agencies in explaining to the public why the notice and comment process is not, and cannot be, a plebiscite, and why the number of comments filed in support of, or in opposition to, a proposed rule should not, and cannot, be a factor in an agency’s decision-making process.

The Notice and Comment Process Allows Agencies To Issue Rules That Are Based on Evidence

The notice and comment process is an extraordinarily valuable tool that allows agencies to issue rules that are based on evidence. It begins with the issuance of a notice of proposed rulemaking in which an agency describes a problem and proposes one or more ways in which the agency can address the problem by issuing a rule. The agency then solicits comments from interested members of the public. The comments that assist the agency in evaluating its proposed rule are rich in data and analysis. Some agency’s views with additional evidence, while others purport to undermine the evidentiary basis for the proposed rule. The agency then makes a decision whether to adopt the proposed rule or some variant of the proposed rule in light of its evaluation of all of the evidence in the record, including both the studies that the agency relied on in its notice and the data and analysis in the comments submitted in response to the notice. Courts require agencies to address all of the issues that were raised in all well-supported substantive comments and to explain adequately why the agency issued, or declined to issue, the rule it proposed or some variation of that rule in light of all of the evidence the agency had before it. If the agency fails to fulfill that duty, the courts reject the rule as arbitrary and capricious.

ACUS has long supported efforts to assist the intended beneficiaries of rules in their efforts to overcome the obstacles to their ability to participate effectively in rulemakings. ACUS should continue to help members of the public file comments that assist an agency in crafting a rule that addresses a problem effectively.

Mass Comments Are Not Helpful to Agency Decision Making and Create Major Problems

Sometimes the companies and advocacy organizations that support a proposed rule organize campaigns in which they induce members of the public to file purely conclusory comments in which they merely state their support for or opposition to a proposed rule. The proponents of opposition then argue that the large number of such comments prove that there is strong public support for the position taken in those comments. Comments of that type have no value in an agency’s decision-making process. Every scholar who has studied the issue has concluded that the number of comments filed for or against a proposed rule is not, and cannot be, a reliable measure of the public’s views with respect to the proposed rule.

Mass comment campaigns create major problems in the notice and comment process. Many of those problems were evident in the 2017 net neutrality rulemaking. The New York Attorney General documented the results of the well-orchestrated mass comment campaign in that rulemaking in the report that she issued on May 6, 2021. She labeled as “fake” 18 million of the 22 million comments that were filed in the docket. The number of “fake” comments filed in support of net neutrality were approximately equal to the number of “fake” comments filed by the opponents of net neutrality. One college student filed 7.7 million comments in support of net neutrality, while ISPs paid consulting firms 8.2 million dollars to generate comments against net neutrality.

Two things are easy to predict if the public continues to believe that the number of comments for or against a proposed rule is an important factor in an agency’s decision-making process. First, the next net neutrality rulemaking will elicit even more millions of comments as the warring parties on both sides escalate their efforts to maximize the “vote” on each side of the issue. Second, the firms that have a lot of money at stake in other rulemakings will begin to replicate the behavior of the firms that are on each side of the net neutrality debate. The results will be massive, unmanageable docket in which the “noise” created by the mass comments will make it increasingly difficult for agencies and reviewing courts to focus their attention on the substantive comments that provide the evidence that should be the basis for the agency’s decision.

ACUS Should Initiate Another Project To Address Mass Comments in Rulemakings

I think that ACUS should initiate a new project in which it decides whether to discourage mass comments, computer-generated comments and fraudulent comments and, if so, how to accomplish that. I believe that ACUS can and should discourage these practices by, for instance, encouraging agencies to assist in educating the public about the types of comments that can assist agencies in making evidence-based decisions and the types of comments that are not helpful to agencies and that instead

Periodic Retrospective Review

Periodic retrospective review is the process by which agencies assess existing regulations and decide whether they need to be revisited. Consistent with longstanding executive-branch policy, the Administrative Conference has endorsed the practice of retrospective review of agency regulations and has urged agencies to consider conducting retrospective review under a specific timeframe, which is often known as “periodic retrospective review.” Agencies may conduct periodic retrospective review in different ways. One common way is for an agency to undertake review of some or all of its regulations on a pre-set schedule (e.g., every ten years). Another way is for the agency to set a one-time date for reviewing a regulation and, when that review is performed, set a new date for the next review, and so on. This latter method enables the agency to adjust the frequency of a regulation’s periodic retrospective review in light of experience.

Periodic retrospective review may occur because a statute requires it or because an agency chooses to do it on its own initiative. Statutes requiring periodic retrospective review may specify a time interval over which reviews should be conducted or leave the frequency up to the agency. The Clean Air Act, for example, requires the Environmental Protection Agency to review certain ambient air quality regulations every five years. On the other hand, the Transportation Recall Enhancement, Accountability, and Documentation (TREAD) Act provides that the Department of Transportation must “specify procedures for the periodic review and update” of its rule on early warning reporting requirements for manufacturer vehicles or component parts.2

Periodic retrospective review can enhance the quality of agencies’ regulations by helping agencies determine whether regulations continue to meet their statutory objectives. Such review can also help agencies evaluate regulatory performance (e.g., the benefits and costs, ancillary impacts, and distributional impacts of regulations), assess whether and how a regulation should be revised in a new rulemaking, determine the accuracy of the assessments they made before issuing their regulations (including assessments of benefits, costs, ancillary impacts, and distributional impacts), and identify ways to improve the accuracy of the underlying assessment methodologies. Agencies that have incorporated standards by reference in their regulations also can—and, indeed, should—arrange to be notified by the adopting standards organizations of relevant revisions to those standards and consider adopting those revisions, thus ensuring that regulations remain current.

But there can also be drawbacks associated with periodic retrospective review. Some regulations may not be strong candidates for such review because the need for the regulations is unlikely to change and the benefits associated with periodically revising them are likely to be small. There are also costs associated with collecting and analyzing data, and time spent reviewing existing regulations may come at the cost of other important regulatory activities. For this reason, agencies might reasonably decide to limit periodic retrospective review to certain types of regulations, such as important regulations that affect large numbers of people or that have particularly pronounced effects on specific groups. Periodic retrospective review can also generate uncertainty regarding whether a regulation will be retained or modified. Agencies, therefore, should tailor their periodic retrospective review plans carefully to account for these drawbacks.

Mindful of both the value of periodic retrospective review and the drawbacks associated with it, this Recommendation offers practical suggestions to agencies about how to establish periodic retrospective review plans. It does so by, among other things, identifying the types of regulations that lend themselves well to periodic retrospective review, proposing factors for agencies to consider in deciding the optimal review frequency when they have such discretion, and identifying different models for staffing periodic retrospective review. In doing so, it builds upon the Conference’s longstanding endorsement of public participation in all aspects of the rulemaking process, including retrospective review, by encouraging agencies to seek public input both to help identify the types of regulations that lend themselves well to periodic retrospective review and to inform that review.

This Recommendation also recognizes the importance that the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) plays in agencies’ periodic retrospective review efforts as well as the significance of the Foundations for Evidence-Based Policymaking Act (the Evidence Act) and associated OMB-issued guidance.3 It encourages agencies to work with OMB to help facilitate data collection relevant to reviewing regulations. It also calls attention to the Evidence Act’s requirements that certain agencies create Learning Agendas, which identify questions for agencies to address regarding their regulatory missions, and Annual Evaluation Plans, which lay out specific measures agencies will take to answer those questions.4 Consistent with the Evidence Act, the Recommendation provides that agencies can incorporate periodic retrospective review in their Learning Agendas and Annual Evaluation Plans by undertaking and documenting certain activities as they carry out their review.

In issuing this Recommendation, the Conference recognizes that agencies will need to consider available resources in deciding whether a periodic retrospective review program should be implemented and, if so, what form it should take. The recommendations offered below are subject to that qualification.

Recommendation

Selecting the Types of Regulations to Subject to Periodic Retrospective Review and the Frequency of Review

1. Agencies should identify any specific regulations or categories of regulations that are subject to statutory periodic retrospective review requirements.

2. For regulations not subject to statutory periodic retrospective review requirements, agencies should establish a periodic retrospective review plan. In deciding which regulations, if any, should be subject to such a review plan, agencies should consider the public benefits of periodic retrospective review, including potential gains from learning more about regulatory performance, and the costs, including the administrative burden associated with performing the review and any disruptions to reliance interests and investment-backed expectations. When agencies adopt new regulations for which plans regarding periodic retrospective review have not been established, agencies should, as part of the process of developing such regulations, decide whether those regulations should be subject to periodic retrospective review.

3. When agencies plan for periodic retrospective review, they should not limit themselves to reviewing a specific final regulation when a review of a larger regulatory program would be more constructive.

4. When agencies decide to subject regulations to periodic retrospective review, they should not subject some or all of the regulations to a pre-set schedule of review or, whether, for some or all of the regulations, it is preferable to set only an initial date for review and decide, as part of that review, when to undertake the next review. In selecting the frequency of review or setting the first or any subsequent date of review, agencies should consider, among others, the following factors:

a. The pace of change of the technology, science, sector of the economy, or part of society affected by the regulation. A higher pace of change may warrant more frequent review;

b. The degree of uncertainty about the accuracy of the initial estimates of regulatory benefits, costs, ancillary impacts, and distributional impacts. Greater uncertainty may warrant more frequent review;

c. Changes in the statutory framework under which the regulation was issued. More changes may warrant more frequent review;

d. Comments, complaints, requests for waivers or exemptions, petitions for the modification or repeal of existing rules or suggestions received from interested persons. The level of public interest or amount of new evidence regarding changing the regulation may warrant more frequent review;

e. The difficulties arising from implementation of the regulation, as demonstrated by poor compliance rates, requests for waivers or exemptions, the amount of clarifying guidance issued, reams from the courts, or other factors. Greater difficulties may warrant more frequent review;

f. The administrative burden in conducting periodic retrospective review. Larger burdens, such as greater staff time, involved in reviewing the regulation may warrant less frequent review; and

g. Reliance interests and investment-backed expectations connected with the regulation. Steps taken by persons in reliance on a particular regulation or with the expectation that it will remain unaltered may favor less frequent review.

5. In making the decisions outlined in Paragraphs 1 through 4, public input can help agencies identify which regulations should be subject to periodic retrospective review and with what frequency. Agencies should consider soliciting public input by means such as convening meetings of interested persons, engaging in targeted outreach efforts to historically underrepresented or under-resourced groups that may be affected by the agencies’ regulations, and posting requests for information.

6. Agencies should publically disclose their periodic retrospective review plans, which should cover the overarching approach as to which regulations are subject to periodic retrospective review, how frequently those regulations are reviewed, what the review entails, and whether the review is conducted pursuant to a legal requirement or the agencies’ own initiative. Agencies should include these notifications on their websites and consider publishing them in the Federal Register, even if the law does not require it.

7. With respect to regulations subject to a pre-set schedule of periodic retrospective review, agencies should periodically reassess the regulations that should be subject to periodic retrospective review and the optimal frequency of review.

 Publishing Results of Periodic Retrospective Review and Soliciting Public Feedback on Regulations Subject to Review

8. Agencies should publish in a prominent, easy-to-find place on the portion of their websites dealing with rulemaking matters, a document or set of documents explicating how they conducted a given periodic retrospective review, what information they considered, and what public outreach they undertook. They should also include this document or set of documents on Regulations.gov. To the extent appropriate, agencies should organize the data in the document or set of documents in ways that allow private parties to re-create the agencies’ work and run additional analyses concerning existing regulations’ effectiveness. Where feasible, agencies should also explain in plain language the significance of their data and how they used the data to shape their review.

9. Agencies should seek input from relevant parties when conducting periodic retrospective review. Possible outreach methods include convening meetings of interested persons; engaging in targeted outreach efforts, such as proactively bringing the regulation to the attention of historically underrepresented or under-resourced groups; and posting requests for information regarding the regulation. Agencies should integrate relevant information from the public into their periodic retrospective reviews.

10. Agencies should work with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to properly invoke any flexibilities within the Paperwork Reduction Act that would enable them to gather relevant data expeditiously. Ensuring Adequate Resources and Staffing

11. Agencies should decide how best to structure their staffing of periodic retrospective reviews to foster a culture of retrospective review and ongoing learning. Below are examples of some staffing models, which may be used in tandem or separately:

a. Assigning the same staff the same regulation, or category of regulation, each time it is reviewed. This approach allows staff to gain expertise in a particular kind of regulation, thereby potentially improving the efficiency of the review;

b. Assigning different staff the same regulation, or category of regulation, each time it is reviewed. This approach promotes objectivity by allowing differing viewpoints to enter into the analysis;

c. Engaging or cooperating with agency or non-agency subject matter experts to review regulations; and

d. Pairing subject matter experts, such as engineers, economists, sociologists, and scientists, with other agency employees in conducting the review. This approach maximizes the likelihood that both substantive considerations, such as the net benefits and distributional and ancillary impacts of the regulation, and procedural considerations, such as whether the regulation conflicts with other regulations or complies with plain language requirements, will enter into the review.

Using Evidence Act Processes

12. Consistent with the Evidence Act, agencies should incorporate periodic retrospective reviews in their Learning Agendas and Annual Evaluation Plans. In doing so, agencies should ensure that they include:

a. The precise questions they intend to answer using periodic retrospective review. Those questions should include how frequently particular regulations should be reviewed and should otherwise be key to the factors set forth in Section 5 of Executive Order 12866 for periodic retrospective review of existing significant regulations;

b. The information needed to adequately review the regulations subject to the periodic retrospective reviews. Agencies should state whether they will undertake new information collection requests or use existing information to conduct the reviews;

c. The methods the agencies will use in conducting their reviews, which should comport with the federal program evaluation standards set forth by OMB;

d. The anticipated challenges the agencies anticipate encountering during the reviews, if any, such as obstacles to collecting relevant data; and

e. The ways the agencies will use the results of the reviews to inform policymaking.

Intergency Coordination

13. Agencies that are responsible for coordinating activities among other agencies, such as the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, should, as feasible, regularly convene agencies to identify and share best practices on periodic retrospective review. These agencies should address questions such as how to improve timeliness and analytic quality of review and the optimal frequency of discretionary review.

14. To promote a coherent regulatory scheme, agencies should coordinate their periodic retrospective reviews with other agencies that have issued related regulations.
Administrative Conference Recommendation 2021–3

Early Input on Regulatory Alternatives

Adopted June 17, 2021

Agency development of and outreach concerning regulatory alternatives prior to issuing a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) on important issues often results in a better-informed notice-and-comment process, facilitates decision making, and improves rules. In this context, the term “regulatory alternative” is used broadly and could mean, among other things, a different level of stringency in the rule, or not regulating at all. Several statutes and executive orders, including the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), and Executive Order 12866, require federal agencies to identify and consider alternative approaches before proposing certain new rules. This Recommendation suggests best practices for soliciting early input during the process of developing regulatory alternatives, whether or not it is required by law or executive order, before publishing an NPRM. It also provides best practices for publicizing the alternatives considered when agencies are promulgating important rules.

The Administrative Conference has previously recommended that agencies engage with the public throughout the rulemaking process, including by seeking input while agencies are still in the early stages of shaping a rule. Agencies might conduct this outreach while developing their regulatory priorities, including in the proposed regulatory plans agencies are required to prepare under Executive Order 12866. Seeking early input before issuing a notice of proposed rulemaking can help agencies identify alternatives and learn more about the benefits, costs, distributional impacts, and technical feasibility of alternatives to the proposal they are considering. Doing so is particularly important, even if not required by law or executive order, for a proposal likely to draw significant attention for its economic impact or other significance. It can also be especially valuable for agencies seeking early input on regulatory alternatives to reach out to a wide range of interested persons, including affected groups that often are underrepresented in the administrative process and may suffer disproportionate harms from a proposed rule.

When seeking early input on regulatory alternatives, agencies might consider approaches modeled on practices that other agencies already use. In so doing, they might look at agency practices that are required by statute (e.g., the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act) or agency rules (e.g., the Department of Energy’s “Process Rule”), or practices that agencies have voluntarily undertaken in the absence of any legal requirement.

Nevertheless, seeking early input on alternatives may not be appropriate in all cases and may trigger certain procedural requirements. In some instances, the alternatives may be obvious. In others, the subject matter may be so obscure that public input is unlikely to prove useful. And in all cases, agencies face resource constraints and competing priorities, so agencies may wish to limit early public input to a subclass of rules such as those with substantial impact. Agencies will need to consider whether the benefits of early outreach outweigh the costs, including the resources required to conduct the outreach and any delays entailed. When agencies do solicit early input, they will still want to tailor their outreach to ensure that they are soliciting input in a way that is cost-effective, is equitable, and maximizes the likelihood of obtaining diverse, useful responses.

Recommendation

1. When determining whether to seek early input from knowledgeable persons to identify potential regulatory alternatives or respond to alternatives an agency has already identified, the agency should consider factors such as:
   a. The extent of the agency’s familiarity with the policy issues and key alternatives;
   b. The extent to which the conduct being regulated or any of the alternatives suggested are novel;
   c. The degree to which potential alternatives implicate specialized technical or technological expertise;
   d. The complexity of the underlying policy question and the proposed alternatives;
   e. The potential magnitude of the costs and benefits of the alternatives proposed;
   f. The likelihood that the selection of an alternative will be controversial;
   g. The time and resources that conducting such outreach would require;
   h. The extent of the agency’s discretion to select among alternatives, given the statutory language being implemented;
   i. The deadlines the agency faces, if any, and the harms that might occur from the delay required to solicit and consider early feedback;
   j. The extent to which certain groups that are affected by the proposed regulation and have otherwise been underrepresented in the agency’s administrative process may suffer adverse distributional effects from generally beneficial proposals; and
   k. The extent to which experts in other agencies may have valuable input on alternatives.

2. In determining what outreach to undertake concerning possible regulatory alternatives, an agency should consider using, consistent with resources and feasibility, methods of soliciting public input including:
   a. Meetings with interested persons held episodically or as-needed based on rulemaking activities;
   b. Listening sessions;
   c. Internet and social media forums;
   d. Focus groups;
   e. Advisory committees, including those tasked with conducting negotiated rulemaking;
   f. Advance notices of proposed rulemakings; and
   g. Requests for information.

The agency should also consider how to ensure that its interactions with outside persons are transparent, to the maximum extent permitted by law.

3. An agency should consider whether the methods it uses to facilitate early outreach in its rulemaking process will engage a wide range of interested persons, including individuals and groups that are affected by the rule and are traditionally underrepresented in the agency’s rulemaking processes. The agency should consider which methods would best facilitate such outreach, including providing materials designed for the target participants. For example, highly technical language may be appropriate for some, but not all, audiences. The agency should endeavor to make participation by interested persons who have less time and fewer resources as easy as possible, particularly when those potential participants do not have experience in the rulemaking process. The agency should explain possible consequences of potential rulemaking to help potential participants understand the importance of their input and to encourage their participation in the outreach.

4. If an agency is unsure what methods of soliciting public input will best meet its needs and budget, it should consider testing different methods to generate alternatives or receive input on the regulatory alternatives it is considering before issuing notices of proposed rulemaking (NPRMs). As appropriate, the agency should describe the outcomes of using these different methods in the NPRMs for rules in which they are used.

5. An agency should ensure that all of its relevant officials, including economists, scientists, and other experts, have an opportunity to identify potential regulatory alternatives during the early input process. As appropriate, the agency should also reach out to select experts in other agencies for input on alternatives.

6. An agency should consider providing in the NPRM a discussion of the reasonable regulatory alternatives it has considered or that have been suggested to it, including alternatives it is not proposing to adopt, together with the reasons it is not proposing to adopt those alternatives. To the extent the agency is concerned about revealing the identity of the individuals or groups offering proposed alternatives due to privacy or confidentiality concerns, it should consider characterizing the identity (e.g., industry representative, environmental organization, etc.) or listing the alternatives without ascribing them to any particular person.

7. When an agency discusses regulatory alternatives in the preamble of a proposed or final rule, it should also consider including a discussion of any reasonable alternatives suggested or considered through early public input, but which the agency believes are precluded by statute. The discussion should also include an explanation of the agency’s views on the legality of those alternatives.

8. To help other agencies craft best practices for early engagement with the public, an agency should, when feasible, share data and other information about the effectiveness of efforts to solicit early input on regulatory alternatives.

Virtual Hearings in Agency Adjudication

The use of video teleconferencing (VTC) to conduct administrative hearings and other adjudicative proceedings has become increasingly prevalent over the past few decades due to rapid advances in technology and telecommunications coupled with reduced personnel, increased travel costs, and the challenges of the COVID–19 pandemic. As the Administrative Conference has recognized, “[s]ome applaud the use of VTC by administrative agencies because it offers potential efficiency benefits, such as reducing the need for travel and the costs associated with maintaining caseload backlog, and increasing scheduling flexibility for agencies and attorneys as well as increasing access for parties.” At the same time, the Conference has acknowledged, critics have suggested that the use of VTC may “hamper communication” among participants—including parties, their representatives, and the decision maker—or “hamper a decision-maker’s ability to make credibility determinations.”

The Conference has encouraged agencies, particularly those with high-volume caseloads, to consider “whether the use of VTC would be beneficial as a way to improve efficiency and/or reduce costs while also preserving the fairness and participant satisfaction of proceedings.” Recognizing that the use of VTC may not be appropriate in all circumstances and must be legally permissible, the Conference has identified factors for agencies to consider when determining whether to use VTC to conduct hearings. They include whether the nature and type of adjudicative hearings conducted by an agency are conducive to the use of VTC, whether VTC can be used without adversely affecting case outcomes or representation of parties; and whether the use of VTC would affect costs, productivity, wait times, or access to justice. The Conference has also set forth best practices and practical guidelines for conducting video hearings.

When the Conference issued these recommendations, most video participants appeared in formal hearing rooms equipped with professional-grade video screens, cameras, microphones, speakers, and recording systems. Because these hearing rooms were usually located in government facilities, agencies could ensure that staff were on site to maintain and operate VTC equipment, assist participants, and troubleshoot any technological issues. This setup, which this Recommendation calls a “traditional video hearing,” gives agencies a high degree of control over VTC equipment, telecommunications connections, and hearing rooms.

Videoconferencing technology continues to evolve, with rapid developments in internet-based videoconferencing software, telecommunications infrastructure, and personal devices. Recently, many agencies have also allowed, or in some cases required, participants to appear remotely using internet-based videoconferencing software. Because individual participants can run these software applications on personal computers, tablets, or smartphones, they can appear from a location of their choosing, such as a home or office, rather than needing to travel to a video-equipped hearing site. This Recommendation uses the term “virtual hearings” to refer to proceedings in which individuals appear in this manner. This term includes proceedings in which all participants appear virtually, as well as hybrid proceedings in which some participants appear virtually while others participate by alternative remote means or in person.

Although some agencies used virtual hearings before 2020, their use expanded dramatically during the COVID–19 pandemic, when agencies maximized telework, closed government facilities to the public and employees, and required social distancing. Agencies gained considerable experience conducting virtual hearings during this period, and this Recommendation draws heavily on these experiences.

Virtual hearings can offer several benefits to agencies and parties compared with traditional video hearings. Participants may be able to appear from their home using their own personal equipment, from an attorney’s office, or from another location such as a public library or other conveniently located governmental facility, without the need to travel to a video-equipped hearing site. As a result, virtual hearings can simplify scheduling for parties and representatives and may facilitate the involvement of other participants such as interpreters, court reporters, witnesses, staff or contractors who provide administrative or technical support, and other interested persons. Given this flexibility, virtual hearings may be especially convenient for short and relatively informal adjudicative proceedings, such as pre-hearing and settlement conferences.

Because virtual hearings allow participants to appear from a location of their choosing without needing to travel to a facility suitable for conducting an in-person or traditional video hearing, they have the potential to expand access to justice for individuals who belong to certain underserved communities. Virtual hearings may be especially beneficial for individuals whose disabilities make it difficult to travel to hearing facilities or participate in public settings; individuals who live in rural areas and may need to travel long distances to hearing facilities; and low-income individuals for whom it may be difficult to secure transportation to hearing facilities or take time off work or arrange for childcare to participate in in-person or traditional video hearings. The use

5. For example, some tribunals around the world are now exploring the use of telepresence systems, which rely on high-quality video and audio equipment to give participants at different, specially equipped venues the experience of meeting in the same physical space. of virtual hearings may also expand access to representation, especially for individuals who live in areas far from legal aid organizations.11

But virtual hearings can pose significant challenges as well. The effectiveness of virtual hearings depends on individuals’ access to a suitable internet connection, a personal device, and a space from which to participate, as well as their ability to effectively participate in an adjudicative proceeding by remote means while operating a personal device and videoconferencing software. As a result, virtual hearings may create a barrier to access for individuals who belong to underserved communities, such as low-income individuals for whom it may be difficult to obtain access to high-quality personal devices or private internet services, individuals whose disabilities prevent effective engagement in virtual hearings or make it difficult to set up and manage the necessary technology, and individuals with limited English proficiency. Some individuals may have difficulty, feel uncomfortable, or lack experience using a personal device or internet-based videoconferencing software to participate in an adjudicative proceeding. Some critics have also raised concerns that virtual participation can negatively affect parties’ satisfaction, engagement with the adjudicative process, or perception of justice.12

Agencies have devised several methods to address these concerns. The Board of Veterans’ Appeals conducts virtual hearings using the same videoconferencing application that veterans use to access agency telehealth services. To enhance the formality of virtual hearings, many adjudicators use a photographic backdrop that depicts a hearing room, seal, or flag. Many agencies use pre-hearing notices and online guides to explain virtual hearings to participants. Several agencies provide general or pre-hearing training sessions at which agency staff, often attorneys, can familiarize participants with the particulars and standards of conduct for virtual hearings. Though highly effective, these sessions require staff time and availability.13

Virtual hearings can also pose practical and logistical challenges. They can suffer from technical glitches, often related to short-term, internet bandwidth issues. Virtual hearings may sometimes require agencies to take special measures to ensure the integrity of adjudicative proceedings. Such measures may be necessary, for example, to safeguard classified, confidential, or other sensitive information, or to monitor or sequester witnesses to ensure third parties do not interfere with their testimony.14 Agencies may also need to take special measures to ensure that interested members of the public can observe virtual hearings in appropriate circumstances by, for example, streaming live audio or video of a virtual hearing or providing access to a recording afterward.15

For evidentiary hearings not required by the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), the Conference has recommended that agencies “adopt the presumption that virtual hearings are open to the public, while retaining the ability to close the hearings in particular cases, including when the public interest in open proceedings is outweighed by the need to protect: (a) National security; (b) Law enforcement; (c) Confidentiality of business documents; and (d) Privacy of the parties to the hearing.” Admin. Conf. of the U.S., Recommendation 2018–20, “Evidentiary Hearings Not Required by the Administrative Procedure Act,” ¶ 18, 81 FR 94312, 94316 (Dec. 23, 2016). Similar principles may also apply in other proceedings, including those conducted under the APA’s informal hearing provisions. See Graboyes, supra note 7, at 22–23.

11 See Alicia Bannon & Janna Adelstein, Brennan Ctr. for Justice, The Impact of Video Proceedings on Fairness and Efficiency, and with due regard for participant satisfaction. In developing policies regarding virtual hearings, agencies should consider, at a minimum, the following:

a. Whether the nature and type of adjudicative proceedings are conducive to the use of virtual hearings and whether virtual hearings can be used without affecting the procedural fairness or substantive outcomes of cases;

b. Whether virtual hearings are likely to result in significant benefits for agency and non-agency participants, including improved access to justice, more efficient use of time for adjudicators and staff, reduced travel costs and delays, and reduced wait times and caseload backlogs;

c. Whether virtual hearings are likely to result in significant costs for agency and non-agency participants, including those associated with purchasing, installing, and maintaining equipment and software, obtaining and using administrative and technical support, and providing training;

d. Whether the use of virtual hearings would affect the representation of parties;

e. Whether the use of virtual hearings would affect communication between hearing participants (including adjudicators, parties, representatives, witnesses, interpreters, agency staff, and others);

f. Whether the use of virtual hearings would create a potential barrier to access for individuals who belong to underserved communities, such as low-income individuals for whom it may be difficult to obtain access to high-quality personal devices or private internet services, individuals whose disabilities prevent effective engagement in virtual hearings or make it difficult to set up and manage the necessary technology, and individuals with limited English proficiency, or for other individuals who may have difficulty using a personal device or internet-based videoconferencing software to participate in adjudicative proceedings.

19 This Recommendation does not take a position on when parties should be entitled to, or may request, an in-person hearing.
g. Whether the use of virtual hearings would affect adjudicators’ ability to make credibility determinations; and

h. Whether there is a reasonable concern that the use of virtual hearings would enable someone to improperly interfere with participants’ testimony.

2. Agencies should revise any provisions of their codified rules of practice that unintentionally restrict adjudicators’ discretion to allow individuals to participate virtually, when such participation would otherwise satisfy the principles in Paragraph 1.

3. Agencies should adopt the presumption that virtual hearings are open to the public, while retaining the ability to close the hearings in particular cases, including when the public interest in open proceedings is outweighed by the need to protect:

a. National security;

b. Law enforcement;

c. Confidentiality of business documents; or

d. Privacy of hearing participants.

For virtual hearings that are open to the public, agencies should provide a means for interested persons to attend or view the hearing.

4. If agencies record virtual hearings, they should consider the legal, practical, and technical implications of doing so and establish guidelines to seek to ensure, at a minimum, compliance with applicable information and recordkeeping laws and policies and guard against misuse of recordings.

5. Agencies should work with information technology and data security professionals to develop protocols to properly safeguard classified, legally protected, confidential, and other sensitive information during virtual hearings and also to ensure the integrity of the hearing process.

6. Agencies that offer virtual hearings should develop guidelines for conducting them, make those guidelines publicly available prominently on their websites, and consider which of those guidelines to include in their codified rules. Such guidelines should address, as applicable:

a. Any process by which parties, representatives, and other participants can request to participate virtually;

b. Circumstances in which an individual’s virtual participation may be inappropriate;

c. Any process by which parties, representatives, and other participants can, as appropriate, object to or express concerns about participating virtually;

d. Technological requirements for virtual hearings, including those relating to access to the internet-based videoconferencing software used for virtual hearings and any technical suggestions for participants who appear virtually;

e. Standards of conduct for participants during virtual hearings, such as those requiring participants to disclose whether they are joined or assisted by any silent, off-camera individuals;

f. The availability of or requirement to attend a general training session or pre-hearing conference to discuss technological requirements, procedural rules, and standards of conduct for virtual hearings;

g. Any protocols or best practices for participating in virtual hearings, such as those addressing:

i. When and how to join virtual hearings using either a personal device or equipment available at another location, such as a public library or other governmental facility;

ii. How to submit exhibits before or during virtual hearings;

iii. Whether and how to use screen sharing or annotation tools available in the videoconferencing software;

iv. How to manage motions, raise objections, or otherwise indicate that a participant would like to speak;

v. How to participate effectively in a virtual setting (e.g., recommending that participants not appear while operating a moving vehicle and, to account for audio delays, that they wait several seconds after others finish talking before speaking);

vi. How to indicate that there is a technical problem or request technical support;

vii. When advisors will stop or postpone virtual hearings due to technical problems and what actions will be taken to attempt to remedy the problems while preserving participants’ hearing rights;

viii. How to examine witnesses who participate virtually and monitor or sequester them, as necessary;

ix. How parties and their representatives can consult privately with each other;

x. When participants should have their microphones or cameras on or off;

xi. Whether participants may communicate with each other using a videoconferencing software’s chat feature or other channels of communication, and, if so, how;

xii. How to properly safeguard classified, legally protected, confidential, or other sensitive information;

xiii. Whether participants or interested persons may record proceedings;

xiv. Whether and how other interested persons can attend or view streaming video; and

xv. Whether and how participants or interested persons may access recordings of virtual hearings maintained by the agency.

7. Agencies should provide information on virtual hearings in pre-hearing notices to participants. Such notices should include or direct participants to the guidelines described in Paragraph 6.

8. When feasible, agencies should provide adjudicators with spaces, such as offices or hearing rooms, that are equipped and maintained for the purpose of conducting hearings that involve one or more remote participants. When designing such a space, agencies should provide for:

a. Dedicated camera, lighting, and microphones to capture and transmit audio and video of the adjudicator to remote participants;

b. Adjudicators’ access to a computer and a microphone—once for viewing remote participants and another for viewing the record—and potentially a third for performing other tasks or accessing other information during proceedings; and

c. High-quality bandwidth.

9. Agencies should provide adjudicators who appear from a location other than a space described in Paragraph 8 with a digital or physical backdrop that simulates a physical hearing room or other official space.

Training and Support

10. Agencies should provide training for adjudicators on conducting virtual hearings.

11. Agencies should provide adjudicators with adequate technical and administrative support so that adjudicators are not responsible for managing remote participants (e.g., admitting or removing participants, muting and unmuting participants, managing breakout rooms) or troubleshooting technical issues for themselves or other participants before or during proceedings. Agencies should provide advanced training to organizational administrative and technical support staff to ensure they are equipped to manage virtual hearings and troubleshoot technical problems that may arise before or during proceedings.

12. Agencies should consider providing general training sessions or pre-hearing conferences at which staff can explain expectations, technological requirements, and procedural rules for virtual hearings to parties and representatives.

Assessment and Continuing Development

13. Agencies should try to measure how virtual hearings compare with proceedings conducted using other formats, including whether the use of virtual hearings affects procedural fairness or produces different substantive outcomes. Agencies should recognize the methodological challenges in measuring procedural fairness and comparing substantive outcomes to determine whether different hearing formats, apart from other relevant factors and case-specific circumstances, produce comparable results.

14. Agencies should collect anonymous feedback from participants (e.g., using post-hearing surveys) to determine and assess participants’ satisfaction with the virtual format and identify any concerns. Agencies should also maintain open lines of communication with representatives in order to receive feedback about the use of virtual hearings. Agencies should collect feedback in a manner that complies with the Paperwork Reduction Act and review this feedback on a regular basis to determine whether any previously unrecognized deficiencies exist.

15. Agencies should monitor technological and procedural developments to seek to ensure that options for individuals to participate remotely in adjudicative proceedings remain current and that those options reasonably comport with participants’ expectations.

16. Agencies should share information with each other to reduce costs, increase efficiency, and provide a hearing experience that seeks to ensure fairness and participant satisfaction. To help carry out this Recommendation, the Conference’s Office of the Chairman should provide, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 594(2), for the “interchange among administrative agencies of information potentially useful in improving” virtual hearings and other forms of remote participation in agency adjudicative proceedings.

[Docket No. FSIS–2014–0034]

Availability of Revised Compliance Guidelines for Controlling Salmonella and Campylobacter in Raw Poultry AGENCY: Food Safety and Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice of availability and response to comments.

SUMMARY: The Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) is announcing the availability of revised guidelines to assist poultry establishments in controlling Salmonella and Campylobacter in raw poultry. The Agency has revised the content of the guidelines in light of new scientific and technical information, public comments received on the 2015 guideline, and the Agency’s decision to issue two separate guidelines—one on controlling Salmonella and the other on controlling Campylobacter. The guidelines provide “best practice” recommendations that poultry establishments may follow to reduce Salmonella and Campylobacter contamination of raw products.

ADDRESSES: Downloadable versions of the revised guidelines are available at https://www.fsis.usda.gov/wps/portal/fsis/topics/regulatory-compliance/guidelines. The Agency has not published hard copies of these documents.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Rachel A. Edelstein, Assistant Administrator, Office of Policy and Program Development, FSIS; Telephone: (202) 205–0495.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On December 16, 2015, FSIS published a Federal Register notice (80 FR 78166) announcing the availability of and opportunity to comment on a revised Agency compliance guideline for controlling Salmonella and Campylobacter in raw poultry. This revision was the fourth edition of the guideline the Agency had developed to assist establishments that slaughter or process raw poultry products to minimize or prevent the risk of Salmonella and Campylobacter in their operations.

Updated Guidelines

FSIS has updated the guideline contents to reflect the most recent best practices, supported by current peer-reviewed literature and analyses of FSIS data. Updates include information on using neutralizing agents in sampling to prevent carryover of antimicrobial substances and a current list of antimicrobials for establishment use. Also included are improvements in the information on pre-harvest practices, with a comprehensive revision of the litter/bedding section. With the updated information, establishments of various sizes and configurations have practical options for reducing and inhibiting the growth of pathogens commonly found in raw poultry.

In response to the comments, FSIS also reviewed the recommendations in the previous version of the guideline and assessed each section for utility and effectiveness. The resulting changes include a complete revision of the sections on litter and bedding and updates to FSIS data on the rate at which Salmonella or Campylobacter contamination can be attributed to source materials of different composition. Also, the Agency is now issuing the revised document as two separate guidelines, one focused on control of Salmonella, and the other on Campylobacter. The guidelines are posted at https://www.fsis.usda.gov/policy/fsis-guidelines. Although comments will no longer be accepted through regulations.gov on these guidelines, FSIS will update these documents as necessary if new information becomes available.

Comments and Responses

FSIS received fifteen comments in response to the December 16, 2015, Federal Register notice and guideline. The commenters included consumer and industry associations, individuals, and firms that specialize in providing technology and services to the regulated industry. The comments and the Agency’s responses, discussed below, have been grouped by topic area.

Pre-Harvest

Comment: A poultry industry association remarked that considerations and sampling for Salmonella and Campylobacter should not affect the Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point (HACCP) system of the receiving establishment. The same association stated that, while good husbandry practices are important, the goal of obtaining pathogen-free flocks and many of the recommendations for doing so are unrealistic and unnecessary. According to the association, the Agency should revise the discussion of pre-harvest practices in the guideline to reflect currently available, commercially proven methods that can be practically implemented.

Response: Information about pre-harvest conditions and particularly, pathogen levels on incoming flocks, can inform the establishment’s hazard analysis and decisions on controls to include in its HACCP plan. In the guideline, FSIS acknowledges that there may be no single pre-harvest intervention that eliminates Salmonella and Campylobacter as pre-harvest hazards. The Agency recommends instead a multi-hurdle approach involving successive interventions that can have a cumulative effect in reducing the pathogen contamination of birds. The Agency has modified some language in the pre-harvest section of the guideline to reflect current scientific literature.

Comment: The poultry industry association said that another area of concern is the recommendation to change bedding between each flock. According to the poultry industry association, that is not always the best way to control Salmonella growth because new litter can be a bigger risk factor for Salmonella than old litter, depending on the pH profile involved. The poultry industry association argued that the section on transportation crate maintenance is similarly impractical.

Response: Litter, or bedding, can be considered a potential reservoir for contamination with Salmonella and other pathogens. The presence or absence of contamination in litter is among the pre-harvest conditions of which a prudent establishment should be aware, along with clean transport crates. FSIS has updated the pre-harvest and transportation sections of the guideline with practical suggestions, based on informative studies, and also updated the section on scheduled slaughter (taking account of pathogen loads on incoming flocks).

Sanitation

Comment: An animal health and food-safety technology and services provider recommended changes in the guideline discussion of cleaning procedures by adding, after the removal of debris, dry-pickup of gross soils and pre-rinsing to remove remaining soil before using a cleaning agent, such as a detergent. This commenter also recommended that the guideline include a table (provided by the commenter) showing the factors to consider when choosing a sanitizer for a particular application.

Response: FSIS has accepted the recommended edits to the discussion of cleaning procedures in the sanitation section. The Agency has also removed the outdated reference that the commenter noted and added the table of sanitizer characteristics.
Comment: The poultry industry association said that the guideline includes prescriptive practices that are neither reasonable nor necessary and that are not conducive to chicken processing. For example, the association stated that sanitizing hand-held knives between each carcass is not reasonable, nor would it result in significant pathogen reduction on final products. According to the association, sanitization between each carcass would increase handling time and create more opportunity for pathogen outgrowth, thereby increasing food-safety risks.

Response: The guideline recommends sanitizing knives in 180-degree water or an antimicrobial solution after cutting or trimming each carcass, which should result in the reduced transfer of pathogens from one carcass to the next. FSIS guidance is intended to offer practical solutions to food safety problems, with some recommendations likely more useful in small and very small establishments and others more suitable for large establishments. Most of the information in this guidance should be useful to all establishments, including small and very small establishments. Although bacterial outgrowth is not a result of time alone, it would certainly be one consideration for an establishment contemplating this factor in its process.

Comment: The poultry industry association added that other recommendations in the guidelines, such as to limit solution reuse during injection marinating to prevent contamination, is not supported by scientific evidence.

Response: FSIS updated the guidelines to include citations to scientific studies indicating that marination of non-heat-treated poultry parts can result in larger bacterial populations on the poultry, depending on the type of marinate used. Injection or other contact across carcasses can introduce a potential point for cross-contamination. A prime example in the guidance showing this mechanism of internalizing pathogens is an outbreak of Escherichia coli O157:H7 in beef steaks that occurred in 2007.

Establishments should consider the effects of injected solutions in their hazard analyses (9 CFR 417.2(a)) and support all decisions made in the hazard analysis. 9 CFR 417.5(a)(1). At this step in a process, an establishment could address the risk in several ways, depending on its process. One approach described in the guidelines is the use of an ultraviolet light intervention applied to the marinade solution between uses. Additionally, the formulation of a marinade may include antimicrobial components, to achieve a specific pH or antimicrobial activity; examples of acceptable ingredients for this use are listed in the lookup table of FSIS Directive 7120.1, “Safe and Suitable Ingredients.”

Lotting Practices

Comment: A poultry industry association asked the Agency to revise its recommendations on lotting practices to remove the emphasis on “microbiological independence” relating to pathogens that do not legally adulterate raw product by their presence alone, or per se. Response: FSIS did not make changes to its recommendations on lotting practices. Concepts related to microbiological independence, or the unlikelihood of cross-contamination, apply to all pathogens. Considering lotting practices in such cases can help to maximize the value of testing and process control throughout production. Under HACCP, establishments may test for pathogens to verify that they are adequately addressing microbial hazards.

Also, as discussed in the December 6, 2012, Federal Register Notice on HACCP-plan reassessment for not-ready-to-eat (NRTE) comminuted poultry products (77 FR 72686, at 72689), when a NRTE product is credibly linked to an outbreak of illness caused by a pathogen, FSIS may consider the product to be adulterated, even if the pathogen does not adulterate the implicated NRTE product per se. Comment: The poultry industry association said that, in addition to the above concerns regarding microbiologically-based lotting practices, the Agency should be aware that: Lot-traceback information may be commercially sensitive; separation in time and space is difficult in establishments running multiple lines and mixing flocks; and microbiological testing takes days to complete—too late for processed poultry already in commerce. For these reasons, according to the poultry industry association, the Agency should remove these recommendations from the guideline.

Response: As mentioned in the previous response, in situations where pathogenic organisms in NRTE products have been linked to foodborne illness outbreaks, FSIS has deemed the products to be adulterated. FSIS and members of the regulated industry have been interested in preventing situations like those. Accordingly, the guideline contains recommendations for lot separation, traceback, and microbiological testing. These approaches to monitoring, tracking, and controlling potentially contaminated products can help in preventing pathogen spread and illness outbreaks.

Comment: The poultry industry association said that recordkeeping recommendations must be relevant to establishment operations and must allow for flexibility according to establishment size and resources.

Response: The recordkeeping recommendations in the guideline are premised on the assumption that the establishment already has records that meet the HACCP, Sanitation Standard Operating Procedures, and other regulatory requirements. Establishments have significant flexibility in meeting these recordkeeping requirements and recordkeeping will vary in technical and other aspects from one establishment to another. Additionally, the guideline sets out recordkeeping elements that are associated with sampling and testing and that are fairly basic and general. As such, FSIS has not revised the recordkeeping guidance.

Process Control

Comment: A poultry industry association requested that the Agency clarify key concepts and terms used in the guidance. For example, the association said that, while FSIS states throughout the guidance that establishments should reduce pathogens to “acceptable levels,” the guideline is not clear enough about what those acceptable levels are. The poultry industry association suggested that FSIS use its pathogen reduction performance standards as examples of acceptable levels and state that other metrics than prevalence might be used in evaluating acceptable levels.

Response: In the context used in the guidelines, “acceptable levels” of pathogens are defined by an establishment for use as control parameters in its HACCP system. These upper and lower control limits may use prevalence to measure control of a hazard over time. As defined in the 2009 review of FSIS public health risk-based systems by the Institute of Medicine, “[a] process is in control when, within the limits of a stable and predictable process variation, all hazards are controlled to an acceptable level.”

Data collected initially by the establishment can be used in process mapping for HACCP validation. The establishment can compare pathogen levels on incoming and final product to determine whether the process is achieving the desired reduction in microbial loads. Then, if the pathogen testing results demonstrate that the process is functioning correctly, the establishment can use the testing results for indicator bacteria to set a maximum limit for each indicator at each collection point. FSIS agrees with the commenter, however, that where the Agency’s pathogen-reduction performance standards apply, an acceptable level would be one that is at or below the pathogen limit of a standard. Just as in the 2015 guidance, the updated guidance continues to advise an establishment seeking to reduce microbial hazards to consider FSIS’s applicable Salmonella and Campylobacter performance standards for carcasses, parts, and comminuted poultry.

Comment: The poultry industry association stated that, additionally, the guideline frequently instructs establishments to reevaluate their processes if they are resulting in “high numbers” of Campylobacter or Salmonella subtypes more commonly associated with human illness, without defining what the Agency views as a “high level” of these serotypes. Further, the poultry industry association argued that serotypes have little or no practical impact on HACCP systems. According to the commenter, a good HACCP system should work to control all Salmonella serotypes or Campylobacter species regardless of their serotype.

Response: Under HACCP, criteria for additional testing or actions are defined by the establishment. These criteria could be derived from the establishment’s own baseline data, as well as the frequency at which serotypes of human-health concern are identified in that baseline. While FSIS agrees that HACCP systems should address all pathogens, FSIS uses characterization data, including serotypes of increased human health concern, to prioritize further evaluation and assessment of an establishment’s HACCP system. Specifically, if an establishment does not meet FSIS performance standards, as part of the public health review evaluation (PHRE), FSIS will assess whether the Agency has found frequent serotypes of public health concern in the establishment’s product. If so, FSIS will also likely conduct a food safety assessment (FSA) at the establishment.

Comment: A poultry industry association noted that the 2015 guidance appears to conflate the terms “prevalence” and “load” when referring to recommendations for decreasing Salmonella and Campylobacter. According to the poultry industry association, the “prevalence” of a pathogen on raw poultry product is a distinctly different microbial sampling metric than the “load,” or quantity, of pathogen on a raw poultry product. The prevalence of a pathogen refers to the presence or absence of a pathogen, regardless of quantity and is usually expressed as a percentage or rate of occurrence over time. By contrast, the microbial load of a pathogen refers to the concentration of bacteria (for example, in colony-forming units) in or on a unit of product. Yet, according to the poultry industry association, the guideline uses the terms “prevalence” and “load” interchangeably when recommending practices to decrease the “prevalence” or “load” of Salmonella and Campylobacter on raw poultry products. The poultry industry association argued that these two metrics are not, in fact, interchangeable. Since FSIS had reiterated that the Agency will focus on the presence of Salmonella or Campylobacter rather than on load, the poultry industry association recommended that the Agency revise the guidance for consistency in referring to “prevalence” rather than “load.” According to the poultry industry association, the guidance should refer to “prevalence” rather than “load.”

Response: FSIS disagrees that it conflated the terms “prevalence” and “load” and did not make the poultry association’s recommendations changes to the guidelines. Establishments are not limited to considering only prevalence, which may be derived from qualitative test results over time, when designing and implementing a HACCP system. Available tools for enumeration can help inform a prudent establishment so that it can consider the impact of pathogen load, or the actual levels of contamination in positive samples, along with the prevalence information in order to improve process-control systems.

Comment: The poultry industry association offered several recommendations intended to improve discussion in the guidance of data analysis techniques. Thus, in the area of process mapping, the poultry industry association recommended that FSIS give establishments the flexibility to use process indicators that reliably reflect their operations and environments. The poultry industry association also supplied edits to make the text more consistent with tables that show median values for indicator organisms on poultry carcasses and parts. The poultry industry association remarked that linking a product with human illness is not necessarily evidence of a loss of control by the establishment that prepared the product. The poultry industry association also stated that the use of (microbiological) performance standards is not the only way to evaluate process controls. The commenter also stated that the “moving window” approach to monitoring and assessing whether establishments meet performance standards and use of the category-ranking system has not been evaluated for assessing process control.

Response: Establishments are free to choose appropriate microbiological indicators for determining process-control effectiveness. FSIS has removed some of the material about sampling for specific indicator organisms, including the sections regarding median indicator values, as more detail is provided in the FSIS Compliance Guidance Modernization of Poultry Slaughter Inspection—Microbiological Sampling of Raw Poultry to assist small and very small establishments that may not have their own baseline information.

While microbiological performance standards may not be the only measures of process control, they do help focus industry attention on the public health aspects of poultry processing and the need to improve processes as necessary to prevent foodborne illnesses. During the past two years, FSIS has been employing the “moving window” data-frame for microbiological test results on poultry products as a way of determining whether establishments meet performance standards over time. FSIS has evaluated the technique as a more consistent replacement for sampling sets that can better identify trends, such as seasonality, over time.

Comment: The poultry industry association recommended that FSIS adjust its picture caption concerning optimal application of antimicrobial spray to a conveyor belt and products on the belt. The poultry industry association also noted that application of the spray does reduce pathogens even if the coverage of the spray is less than complete.

Response: FSIS has modified the language of the caption in question in the guidance to clarify the point that not all the belt is being treated. The Agency acknowledges that there will be some pathogen-reduction effects like those in the illustration but recommends that the spray adequately cover the belt and products.

Comment: The poultry industry association stated that the 2015 guidance instructed establishments to evaluate their process if they encountered “high numbers” of serotypes of public health concern. According to the poultry industry association, the Agency should instead advise establishments to work at controlling all species of Salmonella or Campylobacter, regardless of serotype.

Response: The guidance encourages establishments to control all Salmonella and Campylobacter throughout their process. Establishments should consider all available information about hazards identified from their operations. This may include information about the point in the process where hazards are most often recovered, the lot or flock information, and characterization of the hazard recovered, including serotype. FSIS provides Salmonella serotype results to establishments to facilitate their efforts in identifying the appropriate response, which could include both serotype-specific interventions or pre-harvest (e.g., vaccines) as well as Salmonella controls in the establishment.

Comment: The poultry industry association said in the section of the guidance on sampling and testing, it appeared that the Agency expected sampling and testing results for pathogens to be available in real time to assess bacterial load just before processing. The poultry industry association noted that this is not possible.

Response: FSIS has clarified the language in this section of the guidance to note that these testing options would need to be performed with adequate time allowed for the results to be used as effective tools. A number of rapid-testing methodologies may be fit-for-purpose for this use.

Comment: The poultry industry association stated that the Agency should provide additional information relating to its exploratory sampling results for raw, comminuted chicken in the guidance. The associated noted that Table 6 presents the prevalence rates of Salmonella and Campylobacter in mechanically separated chicken and ground and comminuted chicken products, organized by whether the source material had bone or skin in it. According to the poultry industry association, it would be useful to know how many samples were available for each of the statistics generated for the percent prevalence for these products, given the limited number of samples in the 2015 guideline dataset.

Response: FSIS has updated the statistics reported in Table 6 of the guidance with additional data points to strengthen the analysis. These updated tables represent 934 comminuted turkey samples and 2,688 comminuted chicken samples, more than 10 times the data points for chicken and 40 times the data points for turkey versus the data points used for the 2015 guidance. Analyses of FSIS comminuted poultry exploratory sampling results shows that it is more likely that comminuted chicken will be positive for Salmonella when its source materials contain both bone and skin (56.0%). However, for Campylobacter, comminuted chicken products made from bone-in and skinless source materials were highest. Comminuted chicken made from deboned and skinless source materials had the lowest prevalence for both pathogens (34.8% for Salmonella, and 1.7% for Campylobacter). Statistical analyses, including that for independence and for significance, were used to evaluate the data before determining the relative risk tables that have been updated in this edition of the guidance.

Antimicrobial Interventions

Comment: An environmental advocacy group questioned the Agency’s continued support for food irradiation.

Response: The guidance includes irradiation among the safe and effective physical interventions available. While FSIS does not recommend the use of specific interventions or lethality treatments, food irradiation has been demonstrated to be both safe and effective in controlling pathogens. FSIS and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations authorize its use in the treatment of ready-to-cook poultry (9 CFR 424.22(c), citing 21 CFR 179.26)).

Comment: The same advocacy group noted that the Agency continues to recommend the use of various chemical agents to reduce the levels of Salmonella and Campylobacter in poultry processing. It asked about the role played by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) in determining permissible exposure levels (PELs) for these substances and their impact on FSIS inspectors and on plant employees.

Response: While FSIS does not recommend the use of specific interventions, many chemical products have been demonstrated to be both safe and effective. Chemical substances used in the processing of meat, poultry, and egg products are approved by both FDA and FSIS before they can be used in official establishments. They are listed in the on-line table referred to in FSIS Directive 7120.1. “Safe and Suitable Ingredients used in the Production of Meat, Poultry, and Egg Products,” which is updated regularly.

FSIS does not allow the use of chemicals in a manner that may be a health risk to inspection personnel. Inspectors in every establishment verify that establishments use only approved chemicals as ingredients and only within approved limits, as outlined in FSIS Directive 7120.1. In addition, the Agency has a network of occupational safety and health experts in its inspection districts and distributes information on health hazards to its workforce. The information includes the OSHA PELs and other exposure limits applicable to chemicals that may be used in meat, poultry, and egg products plants. (See https://www.fsis.usda.gov/wps/portal/informational/about/fsis/audience-employees/employee-safety/environmental-safety-health.)

Comment: A poultry industry association advised FSIS to replace the “requirement” to wait “at least 60 seconds” for drip time before collecting a product sample with “a drip time appropriate to prevent excessive antimicrobial carryover.” According to the poultry industry association, establishments are familiar with the antimicrobial treatments applied to products in their operations and the appropriate neutralization periods for each treatment.

Response: FSIS has edited the language in the guidance to be more inclusive of the many antimicrobial interventions available and the manufacturers’ instructions specific to each.

Comment: A poultry industry association recommended that the guidance reflect differences between Salmonella and Campylobacter. According to the association, the guideline’s assertion (in the section on actions to take in response to test results) that an intervention to prevent, eliminate, or reduce*Salmonella will also reduce or prevent Campylobacter is not scientifically accurate.

Response: The Agency has modified the language in question to account for the different effects of different interventions. Also, the Agency has divided the guidance into two separate documents—one addressing Salmonella, the other Campylobacter—with the aim of accounting for differences between the pathogens and ensuring that recommended controls will be effective. FSIS also revised the guidance to include additional literature supporting controls for the pathogens. The updated references may assist establishments in identifying the best process controls for Salmonella and Campylobacter in their operations.

FSIS agrees that an intervention for controlling one microorganism will not necessarily have a similar effect on the other. For example, hard freezing is likely to be more effective against Campylobacter than Salmonella. On the other hand, vaccine development for controlling Salmonella in flocks is clearly in advance of that for controlling Campylobacter.

New Technology Review

Comment: The poultry industry association said that FSIS has recommended several interventions that the industry has sought but that are still awaiting review or approval by FSIS. According to the poultry industry association, the Agency should consider an expedited review and approval process.

Response: The Agency does not have a backlog of new technology submissions. The Agency reviews a new technology to determine whether it may express its “non-disapproval” for use of the technology. The technology should be safe to use, compliant with pertinent regulations, not interfere with inspection procedures, and help the establishment achieve the objectives of its HACCP system. FSIS has made available a guideline to assist the industry in preparing and submitting new-technology notifications and protocols to the Agency (See https://www.fsis.usda.gov/guidelines/2015-0012). By following the advice in the guideline, the submitter can assist the Agency in completing its review within a reasonable timeframe. FSIS Directive 7.120.1, on “Safe and Suitable Ingredients,” is updated every month to incorporate newly approved entries, including interventions (See https://www.fsis.usda.gov/wps/wcm/connect/bab10e09-aefa-483b-8be8-80901f051d4c/7120.1.pdf?MOD=AJPERES).

Certain Frozen Warmwater Shrimp From the Socialist Republic of Vietnam: Notice of Initiation and Preliminary Results of Antidumping Duty Changed Circumstances Review

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) is initiating a changed circumstances review (CCR) to determine whether Camimex Group Joint Stock Company is the successor-in-interest to Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation in the context of the antidumping duty (AD) order on certain frozen warmwater shrimp (shrimp) from the Socialist Republic of Vietnam (Vietnam). We also preliminarily determine that Camimex Group Joint Stock Company is the successor-in-interest to Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation. Interested parties are invited to comment on these preliminary results.

DATES: Applicable July 8, 2021.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:
Irene Gorelik or Samuel Glickstein, AD/CVD Operations, Office VIII, Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce, 1401 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482–6905 or (202) 482–5307, respectively.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On February 1, 2005, Commerce published the AD order on shrimp from Vietnam. In the original investigation, we selected Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation as a mandatory respondent and granted it a separate rate. Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation’s separate rate status has not changed in subsequent administrative reviews of the Order. Most recently, in the administrative review covering the period February 1, 2017, through January 31, 2018, we assigned Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation a separate rate, as a non-individually examined exporter under review.

On June 2, 2021, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company requested that, pursuant to section 751(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), Commerce conduct a CCR of the Order to confirm that Camimex Group Joint Stock Company is the successor-in-interest to Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation and, accordingly, to assign it the cash deposit rate of its predecessor. In its request, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company stated that it undertook a legal name change from Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation, but the company is, otherwise, unchanged with regard to the factors to be examined. No interested parties filed comments opposing the CCR request.

Scope of the Order

The merchandise subject to the Order is certain frozen warmwater shrimp. The product is currently classified under the following Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) item numbers: 0306.17.00.03, 0306.17.00.06, 0306.17.00.09, 0306.17.00.12, 0306.17.00.15, 0306.17.00.18, 0306.17.00.21, 0306.17.00.24, 0306.17.00.27, 0306.17.00.40, 1605.21.10.30, and 1605.29.10.10. Although the HTSUS numbers are provided for convenience and for customs purposes, the written product description, provided in the Appendix, remains dispositive.

Initiation and Preliminary Results of CCR

Pursuant to section 751(b)(1) of the Act, and 19 CFR 351.216, Commerce will conduct a CCR upon receipt of information concerning, or a request from an interested party for a review of, an AD order which shows changed circumstances sufficient to warrant a review of the order. The information submitted by Camimex Group Joint Stock Company supporting its claim that it is the successor-in-interest to Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation, demonstrates changed circumstances sufficient to warrant such a review. Therefore, in accordance with 751(b)(1)(A) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.216(d), we are initiating a CCR based on the information contained in the CCR Request. Section 351.221(c)(3)(ii) of Commerce’s regulations permits Commerce to combine the notice of initiation of a CCR and the notice of preliminary results if Commerce concludes that expedited action is warranted. In this instance, because the record contains information necessary to make a preliminary finding, we find that expedited action is warranted and have combined the notice of initiation and the notice of preliminary results.

In making a successor-in-interest determination, Commerce examines several factors, including, but not limited to, changes in the following: (1)
Management; (2) production facilities; (3) supplier relationships; and (4) customer base. While no single factor, or combination of factors, will necessarily provide a dispositive indication of a successor-in-interest relationship, generally, Commerce will consider the new company to be the successor to the previous company if the new company’s resulting operation is not materially dissimilar to that of its predecessor. Thus, if the record evidence demonstrates that, with respect to the production and sale of the subject merchandise, the new company operates as the same business entity as the predecessor company, Commerce may assign the new company the cash deposit rate of its predecessor.

In its CCR Request, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company provided information to demonstrate that it is the successor-in-interest to Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation. We have reviewed the information provided to determine whether there were changes in management, production facilities, supplier relationships, and customer base.

With respect to management prior to and following the name change, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company demonstrated that it has the same management team, including the chairman and members of the board, as Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation. Additionally, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company provided evidence that its organizational structure is identical to that of predecessor Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation. Furthermore, Camimex Group Joint Stock Company provided evidence that its production facilities and contents therein and those of predecessor Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation are unchanged; Camimex Group Joint Stock Company retained the same address as Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation. Camimex Group Joint Stock Company also demonstrated that it continues to source finished product from its affiliated subsidiary, Camimex Seafood Company Ltd. (the producer of subject merchandise), which Camimex Group Joint Stock Company, in turn, resells to foreign and domestic markets. This is unchanged from the producer/seller relationship between subsidiary producer, Camimex Seafood Company Ltd. and predecessor Camau Frozen Seafood Processing Import Export Corporation.

Therefore, given the evidence and with respect to management, production facilities, supplier relationships, and customer base, Commerce will consider the new company to be the successor to the previous company if the new company’s resulting operation is not materially dissimilar to that of its predecessor.

Pursuant to 19 CFR 351.216(e), any interested party may request a hearing within 30 days of publication of this notice. In accordance with 19 CFR 351.309(c)(1)(ii), interested parties may submit case briefs no later than 30 days after the date of publication of this notice. Rebuttal briefs, limited to issues raised in the case briefs, may be filed no later than seven days after the case briefs, in accordance with 19 CFR 351.309(d). Parties who submit case or rebuttal briefs are encouraged to submit with each argument: (1) A statement of the issue; (2) a brief summary of the argument; and (3) a table of authorities. All comments are to be filed electronically using Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS) available to registered users at https://access.trade.gov, and must also be served on interested parties. An electronically filed document must be received successfully in its entirety by ACCESS by 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the day it is due. Note that Commerce has temporarily modified certain requirements for filing documents containing business proprietary information, until further notice.

Consistent with 19 CFR 351.216(e), Commerce will issue the final results of this CCR no later than 270 days after the date on which this review was initiated, or within 45 days of publication of these preliminary results, if all parties agree to our preliminary finding.

This notice is published in accordance with sections 751(b)(1) and 777(i) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.216(b) and 351.221(c)(3)(ii).

Appendix

Scope of the Order

The scope of the order includes certain frozen warmwater shrimp and prawns, whether wildcaught (ocean harvested) or farm-raised (produced by aquaculture), head-on or head-off, shell-on or peeled, tail-on or tail-off,24 deyinved or not deyinved, cooked or raw, or otherwise processed in frozen form.

The frozen warmwater shrimp and prawn products included in the scope of the order, regardless of definitions in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (“HTS”), are products which are processed from warmwater shrimp and prawns through freezing and which are sold in any count size.

The products described above may be processed from any species of warmwater shrimp and prawns. Warmwater shrimp and prawns are generally classified in, but are not limited to, the Panaeidae family. Some examples of the farmed and wild-caught warmwater species include, but are not limited to, white-leg shrimp (Penaeus vannamei), banana prawn (Penaeus merguiensis), fleshly prawn (Penaeus chinensis), giant river prawn (Macrobrachium rosenbergii), giant tiger prawn (Penaeus monodon), redspotted shrimp (Penaeus brasiliensis), southern brown shrimp (Penaeus subtilis), southern pink shrimp (Penaeus notialis), southern rough shrimp (Trachypenaeus curvirostris), southern white shrimp (Penaeus semnchii), blue shrimp (Penaeus stylirostris), western white shrimp (Penaeus occidentalis), and Indian white prawn (Penaeus indicus).

Frozen shrimp and prawns that are packed with marinade, spices or sauce are included in the scope of the order. In addition, food preparations, which are not “prepared meals,” that contain more than 20 percent by weight of shrimp or prawns are also included in the scope of the order. Excluded from the scope are: (1) Breaded shrimp and prawns (HTS subheading 1605.20.10.20); (2) shrimp and prawns generally classified in the Pandalidae family and commonly referred to as coldwater shrimp, in any state of processing; (3) fresh shrimp and prawns whether shell-on or peeled (HTS subheadings 0306.23.00.00 and 0306.23.00.40); (4) shrimp and prawns in prepared meals (HTS subheading 1605.20.05.10); (5) dried shrimp and prawns; (6) canned warmwater shrimp and prawns (HTS subheading 1605.20.10.40); and (7) certain battered shrimp. Battered shrimp is a shrimp-based product: (1) That is produced from fresh (or thawed-from-frozen) and peeled shrimp; (2) to which a “dusting” layer of rice or wheat flour of at least 95 percent purity has been applied; (3) with the entire surface of the shrimp flesh thoroughly and evenly coated with the flour; (4) with the non-shrimp content of the end product constituting between four and 10 percent of the product’s total weight after being dusted, but prior to being frozen; and (5) that is subjected to individually quick frozen (“IQF”) freezing immediately after application of the dusting layer. When dusted in accordance with the definition of dusting above, the battered shrimp product is also coated with a wet viscous layer containing egg and/or milk, and par-fried. The products covered by this order are currently classified under the following HTS subheadings: 0306.17.00.03, 0306.17.00.06, 0306.17.00.09, 0306.17.00.12, 0306.17.00.15, 0306.17.00.18, 0306.17.00.21, 0306.17.00.24, 0306.17.00.27, 0306.17.00.40, 1605.21.10.30, and 1605.29.10.10. These HTS subheadings are provided for convenience and for customs purposes only and are not dispositive, but rather the written description of the scope of this order is dispositive.22

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On May 17, 2021, Commerce published its affirmative final determination in the less-than-fair-value (LTFV) investigation of chassis from China.1 On July 1, 2021, the ITC notified Commerce of its affirmative final determination that, pursuant to sections 735(b)(1)(A)(i) and 735(d) of the Act, an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of subject merchandise from China that are sold in the United States at LTFV.2

Scope of the Order

The products covered by the order are certain chassis and subassemblies thereof from China. For a full description of the scope of this order, see the appendix of this notice.

AD Order

On July 1, 2021, in accordance with sections 735(b)(1)(A)(i) and 735(d) of the Act, the ITC notified Commerce of its final determination that an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of chassis from China that are sold in the United States at LTFV.3 Therefore, in accordance with section 735(c)(2) of the Act, we are issuing this AD order. Because the ITC determined that imports of chassis from China are materially injuring a U.S. industry, unliquidated entries of such merchandise from China entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption are subject to the assessment of antidumping duties.

Therefore, in accordance with sections 736(a)(1) of the Act, Commerce will direct U.S. Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) to assess, upon further instruction by Commerce, antidumping duties equal to the amount by which the normal value of the merchandise exceeds the export price (or constructed export price) of the merchandise for all relevant entries of chassis from China. Antidumping duties will be assessed on unliquidated entries of chassis from China entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after March 4, 2021, the date of publication of the AD Preliminary Determination, but will not include entries occurring after the expiration of the provisional measures period and before the publication of the ITC’s final injury determination under section 735(b) of the Act, as further described in the “Provisional Measures” section of this notice.4

Continuation of Suspension of Liquidation and Cash Deposits

Except as noted in the “Provisional Measures” section of this notice, in accordance with section 733(c)(1)(B) of the Act, Commerce will instruct CBP to continue to suspend liquidation on all relevant entries of chassis from China. These instructions suspending liquidation will remain in effect until further notice.

Commerce will also instruct CBP to require cash deposits equal to the estimated weighted-average dumping margins indicated in the table below, adjusted by the export subsidy offset.5 Accordingly, effective on the date of publication of the Federal Register of the notice of the ITC’s final affirmative injury determination, CBP must require, at the same time as importers would deposit estimated normal customs duties on subject merchandise, a cash deposit equal to the rates listed in the table below.

Provisional Measures

Section 733(d) of the Act states that suspension of liquidation pursuant to an affirmative preliminary determination may not remain in effect for more than four months. Commerce published the AD Preliminary Determination in this investigation on March 4, 2021.

The provisional measures period, beginning on the date of publication of the AD Preliminary Determination, ends on July 1, 2021. Therefore, in accordance with section 733(d) of the Act and our practice, Commerce will instruct CBP to terminate the suspension of liquidation and to liquidate, without regard to antidumping duties, unliquidated entries of chassis from China entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption after July 1, 2021, the final day on which the provisional measures were in effect, until and through the day preceding the date of publication of the ITC’s final affirmative injury determination in the Federal Register. Suspension of liquidation and the collection of cash deposits will resume on the date of publication of the ITC’s final determination in the Federal Register.

Acting Assistant Secretary for Enforcement and Compliance.

Appendix

Scope of the Order

The merchandise covered by this order consists of chassis and subassemblies thereof, whether finished or unfinished, whether assembled or unassembled, whether coated or uncoated, regardless of the number of axles, for carriage of containers, or other payloads (including self-supporting payloads) for road, marine roll-on/roll-off (RORO) and/or rail transport. Chassis are typically, but are not limited to, rectangular flatbed (or platform) trailers comprised of load-carrying platforms (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself. Refrigerated van trailers are trailers with a wholly enclosed cargo space comprised of fixed sides, nose, floor and roof, with articulated panels (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself. Refrigerated van trailers are trailers with a wholly enclosed cargo space comprised of fixed sides, nose, floor and roof, with articulated panels (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself. Refrigerated van trailers are trailers with a wholly enclosed cargo space comprised of fixed sides, nose, floor and roof, with articulated panels (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself.

This scope excludes dry van trailers, refrigerated van trailers and flatbed trailers. Dry van trailers are trailers with a wholly enclosed cargo space comprised of fixed sides, nose, floor and roof, with articulated panels (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself. Refrigerated van trailers are trailers with a wholly enclosed cargo space comprised of fixed sides, nose, floor and roof, with articulated panels (doors) across the rear and occasionally at selected places on the sides, with the cargo space being permanently incorporated in the trailer itself. This order defines a subassembly as a product or component that comprises the finished or unfinished chassis. The ITC’s final injury determination in this proceeding will be published in the Federal Register.

The ITC’s final injury determination in this proceeding will be published in the Federal Register.

The finished and unfinished chassis subject to this order are typically classified in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) at subheadings: 8716.90.9060. Imports of wheel end components, slack adjusters, axles, brake chambers, locking pins, and tires and wheels:

- Landing gear assemblies, for connection to the chassis frame, capable of supporting the chassis when it is not engaged to a tractor; and
- Assemblies that connect to the chassis frame or a section of the chassis frame, such as, but not limited to, pintle hooks or B-trains (which include a fifth wheel), which are capable of connecting a chassis to a converter dolly or another chassis.

Importation of any of these subassemblies, whether assembled or unassembled, constitutes an unfinished chassis for purposes of this order.

Subject merchandise also includes chassis, whether finished or unfinished, entered with or for further assembly with components such as, but not limited to: Hub and drum assemblies, brake assemblies (either drum or disc), axles, brake chambers, suspensions and suspension components, wheel end components, landing gear legs, spoke or disc wheels, tires, brake control systems, electrical harnesses and lighting systems.

Processing of finished and unfinished chassis and components such as: cutting, grinding, notching, punching, drilling, painting, coating, staking, finishing, assembly, or any other processing either in the country of manufacture of the in-scope product or in a third country does not remove the product from the scope. Inclusion of other components not identified as comprising the finished or unfinished chassis does not remove the product from the scope. Inclusion of other components not identified as comprising the finished or unfinished chassis does not remove the product from the scope.

Individual components entered and sold by themselves are not subject to the order, but components entered with or for further assembly with a finished or unfinished subject merchandise are subject merchandise. A finished chassis is ultimately comprised of several different types of subassemblies. Within each subassembly there are numerous components that comprise a given subassembly.

Certain Cold-Rolled Steel Flat Products From the United Kingdom: Preliminary Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review; 2019–2020

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) preliminarily finds that the sole producer/exporter subject to this administrative review, Liberty Performance Steels, Ltd. We invite interested parties to comment on these preliminary results.

DATES: Applicable July 8, 2021.

On September 20, 2016, we published in the Federal Register an antidumping duty (AD) order on CR steel from the United Kingdom.1 On September 1, 2020, we published in the Federal Register a notice of opportunity to request an administrative review of the Order.2 On October 30, 2020, based on timely requests for an administrative review, we initiated an administrative review of one company, Liberty.3 On May 17, 2021, we extended the preliminary results by 30 days, to no later than July 2, 2021.4

Scope of the Order

The products covered by the antidumping duty Order are CR steel products. A full description of the scope of the Order is contained in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.5

Methodology

Commerce conducted this review in accordance with section 751(a)(2) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act). Constructed export price is calculated in accordance with section 772 of the Act. NV is calculated in accordance with section 773 of the Act. For a full description of the methodology underlying our conclusions, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum. extended, pursuant to section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act.

Verification
On November 23, 2020, AK Steel Corporation (the petitioners) requested, pursuant to 19 CFR 351.307(b)(1)(iv), that Commerce conduct verification of the questionnaire responses submitted in this administrative review by Liberty.11 Commerce is currently unable to conduct on-site verification of the information relied upon in making its final results of this administrative review. Accordingly, we intend to take additional steps in lieu of on-site verification to verify the information. Commerce will notify interested parties of any additional documentation or information required.

Assessment Rate
Upon issuing the final results, Commerce will determine, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) shall assess, antidumping duties on all appropriate entries covered by this review.12 If the respondent’s weighted-average dumping margin is not zero or de minimis (i.e., less than 0.50 percent) in the final results of this review, we intend to calculate an importer-specific assessment rate on the basis of the ratio of the total amount of dumping calculated for each importer’s examined sales and the total entered value of those sales in accordance with 19 CFR 351.212(b)(1).13 If the respondent’s weighted-average dumping margin is zero or de minimis in the final results, or an importer-specific assessment rate is zero or de minimis, then we intend to instruct CBP to liquidate the appropriate entries without regard to antidumping duties. The final results of this administrative review shall be the basis for the assessment of antidumping duties on entries of merchandise under review and for future deposits of estimated duties, where applicable.

For entries of subject merchandise during the POR produced by Liberty for which it did not know its merchandise was destined for the United States, we intend to instruct CBP to liquidate unreviewed entries at the all-others rate if there is no rate for the intermediate company(ies) involved in the transaction.

We intend to issue liquidation instructions to CBP no earlier than 35 days after publication of the final results of this review in the Federal Register. If a timely summons is filed at the U.S. Court of International Trade, the liquidation instructions will direct CBP not to liquidate relevant entries until the time for parties to file a request for a statutory injunction has expired (i.e., within 90 days of publication).

Cash Deposit Requirements
The following deposit requirements for estimated antidumping duties will be effective upon publication of the notice of final results of this review for all shipments of CR steel from the United Kingdom entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication as provided by section 751(a)(2) of the Act: (1) The cash deposit rate for Liberty, subject to this review, will be equal to the weighted-average dumping margin established in the final results of the review; (2) for merchandise exported by a company not covered in this review but covered in a prior completed segment of the proceeding, the cash deposit rate will continue to be the company-specific cash deposit rate published for the most recent period; (3) if the exporter is not a firm covered in this review, a prior completed review, or the original less-than-fair-value (LTFV) investigation but the producer has been covered in a completed segment of this proceeding, then the cash deposit rate will be the company-specific cash deposit cash deposit rate established for the most recent period for the producer of the merchandise; (4) the cash deposit rate for all other producers or exporters will continue to be 22.58 percent,14 the all-others rate established in the LTFV investigation. These cash deposit requirements, when imposed, shall remain in effect until further notice.

Notification to Importers
This notice serves as a preliminary reminder to importers of their responsibility under 19 CFR 351.402(f)(2) to file a certificate regarding the reimbursement of antidumping duties prior to liquidation of the relevant entries during this review period. Failure to comply with this requirement could result in the presumption that reimbursement of antidumping duties occurred and the subsequent assessment of double antidumping duties.

Notification to Interested Parties
Commerce is issuing and publishing these results in accordance with sections 751(a)(1) and 777(i) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.221(b)(4).

Dated: July 1, 2021.

Certain Cold-Drawn Mechanical Tubing of Carbon and Alloy Steel from Italy: Preliminary Results of the Administrative Review of the Antidumping Duty Order; 2019–2020

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) preliminarily determines that sales of certain cold-drawn mechanical tubing of carbon and alloy steel (cold-drawn mechanical tubing) from Italy have not been made at less than normal value (NV) during the period of review (POR) June 1, 2019, through May 31, 2020. We invite interested parties to comment on these preliminary results.

DATES: Applicable July 8, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background
On June 11, 2018, Commerce published the antidumping duty order on cold-drawn mechanical tubing from Italy.1 On August 6, 2020, Commerce initiated an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on cold-drawn mechanical tubing from Italy in accordance with section 751(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act). This review covers one producer/exporter of subject merchandise, Dalmine S.p.A. (Dalmine). For details regarding the events that occurred subsequent to the initiation of the review, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.4

Pursuant to section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act, Commerce determined that it was not practicable to complete the preliminary results of this review within the 245 days and extended these preliminary results by 120 days, until June 30, 2021.5

Scope of the Order

The products covered by the Order are certain cold-drawn mechanical tubing of carbon and alloy steel products from Italy. For a full description of the scope, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.

Methodology

Commerce is conducting this review in accordance with section 751(a) of the Act. We calculated export price and constructed export price in accordance with section 776A of the Act. We calculated NV in accordance with section 776B of the Act. For a full description of the methodology underlying these preliminary results, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum. A list of topics included in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum is included as an appendix to this notice. The Preliminary Decision Memorandum is a public document and is made available to the public via Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at https://access.trade.gov. In addition, a complete version of the Preliminary Decision Memorandum is available at http://enforcement.trade.gov/frn/.

Preliminary Results of the Review

We preliminarily determine that the following weighted-average dumping margin exists for the period June 1, 2019, through May 31, 2020:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Exporter/producer</th>
<th>Weighted-average dumping margin (percent)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dalmine S.p.A</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Assessment Rates

Upon completion of the final results, Commerce shall determine, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) shall assess, antidumping duties on all appropriate entries. If Dalmine’s weighted-average dumping margin is not zero or de minimis (i.e., less than 0.5 percent) in the final results of this review, we will calculate importer-specific ad valorem antidumping duty assessment rates based on the ratio of the total amount of dumping calculated for the importer’s examined sales to the total entered value of those same sales in accordance with 19 CFR 351.212(b)(1). We will instruct CBP to assess antidumping duties on all appropriate entries covered by this review when the importer-specific assessment rate calculated in the final results of this review is not zero or de minimis. If Dalmine’s weighted-average dumping margin is zero or de minimis, we will instruct CBP to liquidate the appropriate entries without regard to antidumping duties. The final results of this review shall be the basis for the assessment of antidumping duties on entries of merchandise covered by the final results of this review and for future deposits of estimated duties, where applicable.6

In accordance with Commerce’s “automatic assessment” practice, for entries of subject merchandise during the POR produced by Dalmine for which it did not know that the merchandise was destined for the United States, we will instruct CBP to liquidate those entries at the all-others rate in the original less-than-fair value (LTFV) investigation (i.e., 47.87 percent)7 if there is no rate for the intermediate company(ies) involved in the transaction.8

Consistent with its recent notice,9 Commerce intends to issue assessment instructions to CBP no earlier than 35 days after the date of publication of the final results of this review in the Federal Register. If a timely summons is filed at the U.S. Court of International Trade, the assessment instructions will direct CBP not to liquidate relevant entries until the time for parties to file a request for a statutory injunction has expired (i.e., within 90 days of publication).

Cash Deposit Requirements

The following cash deposit requirements will be effective for all shipments of the subject merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the publication date of the final results of this administrative review, as provided by section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act: (1) The cash deposit rate for Dalmine in the final results of review will be equal to the weighted-average dumping margin established in the final results of this administrative review except if the rate is less than 0.50 percent and, therefore, de minimis within the meaning of 19 CFR 351.106(c)(1), in which case the cash deposit rate will be zero; (2) for merchandise exported by producers or exporters not covered in this review but covered in a prior segment of the proceeding, the cash deposit rate will continue to be the company-specific rate published for the most recently-completed segment of this proceeding in which they were reviewed; (3) if the exporter is not a firm covered in this review or the original LTFV investigation but the producer is, then the cash deposit rate will be the rate established for the most recently-completed segment of this proceeding for the producer of the merchandise; (4) the cash deposit rate for all other producers or exporters will continue to be 47.87 percent,10 the all-others rate established in the final LTFV investigation. These cash deposit requirements, when imposed, shall remain in effect until further notice.

Tapered Roller Bearings and Parts Thereof, Finished and Unfinished, From the People’s Republic of China; Preliminary Results and Intent To Rescind the Review, in Part; 2019–2020

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) preliminarily determines that certain companies under review sold tapered roller bearings and parts thereof, finished and unfinished, (TRBs) from the People’s Republic of China (China) at less than normal value (NV) during the period of review (POR), June 1, 2019, through May 31, 2020. Additionally, we preliminarily determine that certain companies did not make a bona fide sale of TRBs from China during the POR and preliminary intent to rescind the review with respect to these companies. Interested parties are invited to comment on these preliminary results.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
Background

On August 6, 2020, Commerce published a notice of initiation of an administrative review of the antidumping duty (AD) order on TRBs from China covering the period June 1, 2019, through May 31, 2020, with respect to 10 companies.1 In November 2020, following timely withdrawal of their requests for review, we rescinded the review with respect to four companies.2 This review now covers BRTEC Wheel Hub Bearing Co., Ltd. (BRTEC); C&U Group Shanghai Bearing Co., Ltd. (C&U Group); Hebei Xintai Bearing Forging Co., Ltd. (Hebei Xintai); Shanghai Tainai Bearing Co., Ltd., (Tainai); Xinchang Newsun Xinliang Precision Bearing Manufacturing Co., Ltd. (XTL); and Zhejiang Jingli Bearing Technology Co. Ltd. (Jingli).

For a complete description of the events that followed the initiation of this administrative review, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.3 A list of topics discussed in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum is included in the appendix to this notice. The Preliminary Decision Memorandum is a public document and is on file electronically via Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at https://access.trade.gov. In addition, a complete version of the Preliminary Imports covered by the order are shipments of tapered roller bearings and parts thereof, finished and unfinished, from China; flange, take up cartridge, and hanger units incorporating tapered roller bearings; and tapered roller housings (except pillow blocks) incorporating tapered rollers, with or without spindles, whether or not for automotive use. These products are currently classifiable under Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) subheadings 8482.20.00, 8482.91.00.50, 8482.99.15, 8482.99.45, 8483.20.40, 8483.20.80, 8483.30.80, 8483.90.20, 8483.90.30, 8483.90.80, 8708.70.5060, 8708.99.2300, 8708.99.4850, 8708.99.6890, 8483.20.40, 8483.20.80, 8483.30.80, 8482.91.00.50, 8482.99.15, 8482.99.45, 8482.99.8115, and 8482.99.8180. Although the HTSUS subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes, the written description of the scope of the order is dispositive.

Methodology

Commerce is conducting this review in accordance with section 751(a)(1)(B) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act). For a full description of the methodology underlying our conclusions, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.4

China-Wide Entity

The C&U Group did not submit a separate rate application; therefore, it has failed to rebut de facto and de jure control by the Government of China. Commerce preliminarily determines that C&U Group is not eligible for a separate rate and is a part of the China-wide entity.

Under Commerce’s current policy regarding the conditional review of the China-wide entity, the China-wide entity will not be under review unless a party specifically requests, or Commerce self-initiates, a review of the entity. Because no party requested a review of the China-wide entity in this review, the entity is not under review and the entity’s rate is not subject to change (i.e., 92.84 percent).

Preliminary Partial Recession of the AD Administrative Review

As discussed in the Bona Fides Analysis Memoranda,5 Commerce preliminarily finds that the sales made by BRTEC and Jingli, which serve as the basis for our review of these companies, are not bona fide sales. Commerce reached this conclusion based on the totality of the circumstances surrounding the reported sales. Further, given that the factual information used in our bona fides analysis of BRTEC’s and Jingli’s sales involves business proprietary information, see the Bona Fides Memoranda for a full discussion of the basis for our preliminary findings.

Rate for Non-Examined Companies That Are Eligible for a Separate Rate

Commerce calculated an individual estimated weighted-average dumping margin for Tainai, the only individually examined exporter/producer in this investigation. Because the only individually calculated weighted-average dumping margin is not zero, de minimis, or based entirely on facts otherwise available, the weighted-average dumping margin calculated for Tainai is the basis to determine the weighted-average dumping margin for the separate rate, non-examined companies, consistent with section 735(c)(5)(A) of the Act which provides for the determination of the estimated weighted-average dumping margin for all other producers and exporters in an investigation.

As indicated in the “Preliminary Results of Review” section below, we preliminarily determine that a weighted-average dumping margin of 36.75 percent applies to the two companies not selected for individual examination which are eligible for a separate rate (i.e., Hebei Xintai and XTL). For further information, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum at “Weighted-Average Dumping Margin for the Separate Rate Companies.”

Preliminary Results of Review

Commerce preliminarily determines that the following weighted-average dumping margins exist for the period June 1, 2019, through May 31, 2020:

proprietary information, until further notice. Unless otherwise extended, Commerce intends to issue the final results of this administrative review, which will include the results of its analysis of all issues raised in the case briefs, within 120 days after the date of these preliminary results, pursuant to section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act.

Assessment Rates

Upon issuance of the final results of the administrative review, Commerce will determine, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) shall assess, antidumping duties on all appropriate entries covered by this review.

Commerce intends to issue assessment instructions to CBP no earlier than 35 days after date of publication of the final results of this review in the Federal Register. If a timely summons is filed at the U.S. Court of International Trade, the assessment instructions will direct CBP to retain all relevant entries until the time for parties to file a request for a statutory injunction has expired (i.e., within 90 days of publication).

For each individually examined respondent in this review whose weighted-average dumping margin is the final results of review is not zero or de minimis (i.e., less than 0.5 percent), Commerce intends to calculate importer-specific assessment rates by aggregating the amount of dumping calculated for all U.S. sales to the importer and dividing this amount by the total entered value of the merchandise sold to the importer. Where the respondent did not report entered values, Commerce will calculate importer-specific assessment rates by dividing the amount of dumping for reviewed sales to the importer by the total quantity of those sales. Commerce will calculate an estimated ad valorem importer-specific assessment rate to determine whether the per-unit assessment rate is de minimis; however, Commerce will use the per-unit assessment rate where entered values were not reported.

Where an importer-specific ad valorem assessment rate is not zero or de minimis, Commerce will instruct CBP to collect the appropriate duties at the time of liquidation. Where either the respondent’s weighted average dumping margin is zero or de minimis, or an importer-specific ad valorem assessment rate is zero or de minimis, Commerce will instruct CBP to liquidate appropriate entries without regard to antidumping duties.

For the final results, if we continue to treat the C&U Group as part of China-wide entity, we will instruct CBP to apply an ad valorem assessment rate of 92.84 percent, the rate previously established for the China-wide entity, to all entries of subject merchandise during the POR that were exported or produced by the C&U Group.

For the companies which are receiving a separate rate and which were not individually examined, their assessment rate will be equal to the weighted-average dumping margin determined in the final results of this review.

For BRTEC and Jingli, if the review is rescinded for these two companies, then Commerce will instruct CBP to liquidate, as entered, the entries associated with these two companies. In accordance with section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act, the final results of this review shall be the basis for the assessment of antidumping duties on entries of merchandise covered by the final results of this review and for future deposits of estimated antidumping duties, where applicable.

Cash Deposit Requirements

The following cash deposit requirements will be effective upon publication of the final results of this administrative review for all shipments of the subject merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the publication date, as provided for by section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act: (1) For the exporters listed above which have a separate rate the cash deposit rate will be equal to the weighted-average dumping margin established in the final results of this review (except, if the rate is zero or de minimis, then a cash deposit rate of zero will be established for that company); (2) for previously investigated or reviewed Chinese and non-Chinese exporters not listed above that have separate rates, the cash deposit rate will continue to be equal to the exporter-specific weighted-average dumping margin published for the most recently completed segment of this proceeding; (3) for all Chinese exporters of subject merchandise that have not been found to be entitled to a separate rate, the cash deposit rate will be the cash deposit rate established for the China-wide entity, 92.84 percent; and (4) for all exporters of subject merchandise that are not located in China and that are not eligible for a separate rate, the cash deposit rate will be the rate applicable to the Chinese exporter(s) that supplied that non-Chinese exporter. These deposit requirements, when imposed, shall remain in effect until further notice.

Notification to Importers

This notice also serves as a preliminary reminder to importers of their responsibility under 19 CFR 351.402(f) to file a certificate regarding the reimbursement of antidumping duties prior to liquidation of the relevant entries during this review period. Failure to comply with this requirement could result in Commerce’s presumption that reimbursement of antidumping duties occurred and the subsequent assessment of double antidumping duties.

Notification to Interested Parties

We are issuing and publishing these preliminary results of review in accordance with sections 751(a)(I), 751(a)(2)(B), and 777(i)(I) of the Act, and 19 CFR 351.221(b)(4).

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
International Trade Administration
[A–552–801]

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) determines that Vinh Hoan Corporation (Vinh Hoan), an exporter of certain frozen fish fillets (fish fillets) from the Socialist Republic of Vietnam (Vietnam), did not sell subject merchandise in the United States at prices below normal value during the period of review (POR) August 1, 2018, through July 31, 2019. Further, Commerce determines that 20 companies had no shipments during the POR.

DATES: Applicable July 8, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background
On December 28, 2020, Commerce published the Preliminary Results and invited interested parties to comment. On February 3 and 12, 2021, the petitioners, Vinh Hoan, the Hung Vuong Group (HVG), Colorado Boxed Beef Company (CBBC), QMC Foods, Inc. (QMC), Nam Viet Corporation (NAVICO), and Can Tho Import Export Joint Stock Company (CASEAMEX) submitted case and/or rebuttal briefs.

Following briefing, in response to comments filed by interested parties, on May 19, 2021, Commerce placed additional information obtained from U.S Customs and Border Protection (CBP) on the record and solicited comments. The petitioners and HVG filed comments regarding the information.

On April 7, 2021, we extended the deadline for issuance of these final results to June 25, 2021. On June 8, 2021 we conducted a public hearing in this matter.

Scope of the Order
The products covered by the order are frozen fish fillets, including regular, shank, and strip fillets and portions thereof, whether or not breaded or marinated, of the species Pangasius Bocourti, Pangasius Hypophthalmus (also known as Pangasius Pangasius) and Pangasius Micronemus. For a complete description of the scope of this order, see the Issues and Decision Memorandum.

Analysis of Comments Received
We addressed all issues raised in the case and rebuttal briefs filed by interested parties in the Issues and Decision Memorandum. Attached to this notice in Appendix I is a list of the issues which parties raised. The Issues and Decision Memorandum is a public document and is on file electronically via Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at http://access.trade.gov. In addition, a complete version of the Issues and Decision Memorandum can be accessed directly at http://enforcement.trade.gov/frn/index.html.

Changes Since the Preliminary Results
Based on a review of the record and comments received from interested parties, and for the reasons explained in the Issues and Decision Memorandum, we made certain changes to Vinh Hoan’s weighted-average dumping margin and revised the list of companies within the Vinh Hoan collapsed entity. For these final results, Commerce also updated the weighted-average dumping margin assigned to the non-individually-examined company receiving a separate rate, i.e., NAVICO. For a discussion of the above-referenced changes, see the “Changes Since the Preliminary Results” section of the Issues and Decision Memorandum.

Final Determination of No Shipments
In the Preliminary Results, Commerce preliminarily determined that 21 companies had no shipments of subject merchandise during the POR.

Following the publication of the Preliminary Results, we received no comments from interested parties.
regarding 19 of these companies, nor has any party submitted record evidence which would call our preliminary no shipment determination into question for them. Therefore, for these final results, we find that these 19 companies had no shipments during the POR.

With respect to the remaining two companies, HVG14 and Thanh Binh Dong Thap One Member Company Limited (Thanh Binh),12 we received comments from interested parties requesting that Commerce reevaluate our no shipment determination. With regard to HVG, Commerce continues to find that HVG had no shipments during the POR.13 With regard to Thanh Binh, Commerce now finds that this company is part of the Vinh Hoan single entity.14 For a list of the 20 companies for which we find “no shipments” for these final results, see Appendix II. Consistent with our practice, we will issue appropriate instructions to CBP consistent with the reseller policy.15

Separate Rates

We continue to find that the non-individually-examined exporter NAVICO and individually-examined respondent Vinh Hoan have demonstrated eligibility for separate rates. As noted below, we have assigned NAVICO the rate established for Vinh Hoan, in accordance with section 735(c)(5)(A) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act).

Vietnam-Wide Entity

In the Preliminary Results, we denied Seafood Joint Stock Company No.4 Branch Dungtam Fisheries Processing Company (DOTASEAFOOD) a separate rate.16 For the reasons explained in the Issues and Decision Memorandum, we continue to find that DOTASEAFOOD is not eligible for a separate rate.17 Thus, we find DOTASEAFOOD to be part of the Vietnam-wide entity.

In the Preliminary Results, Commerce found that certain additional companies for which a review was requested did not establish eligibility for a separate rate.18 We have received no information since the issuance of the Preliminary Results that provides a basis for reconsidering this preliminary finding.

Therefore, Commerce continues to find that these companies are part of the Vietnam-wide entity.19

Final Results of Administrative Review

The weighted-average dumping margins for the final results of this administrative review are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Exporter</th>
<th>Weighted-average dumping margin (dollars/kilogram)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Vinh Hoan Corporation</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nam Viet Corporation</td>
<td>0.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* The Vinh Hoan single entity includes Vinh Hoan Corporation, Van Duc Food Export Joint Stock Company, Van Duc Tien Giang Food Export Company, Thanh Binh Dong Thap One Member Company Limited, and Vinh Phuc Food Company Limited.

 NAVICO is a separate rate respondent not individually examined.

Disclosure

We intend to disclose the calculations performed regarding these final results within five days of the date of publication of this notice to parties in this proceeding in accordance with 19 CFR 351.224(b).

Assessment Rates

Pursuant to section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act, and 19 CFR 351.212(b), Commerce has determined, and CBP shall assess, antidumping duties on all appropriate entries of subject merchandise in accordance with the final results of this review. Consistent with its recent notice,20 Commerce intends to issue appropriate assessment instructions to CBP no earlier than 35 days after the date of publication of the final results of this review in the Federal Register. If a timely summons is filed at the U.S. Court of International Trade, the assessment instructions will direct CBP not to liquidate relevant entries until the time for parties to file a request for a statutory injunction has expired (i.e., within 90 days of publication).

Because we calculated a weighted-average dumping margin of zero for Vinh Hoan, and applied that rate to Vinh Hoan Corporation, the rate for the Vietnam-wide entity shall be $2.39 per kilogram, the rate for the Vietnam-wide entity consistent with Commerce’s reseller policy.22 Likewise, for companies that were found to be ineligible for a separate rate, we will instruct CBP to liquidate entries of subject merchandise exported by such companies also at a rate of $2.39 per kilogram, the rate for the Vietnam-wide entity.

Cash Deposit Requirements

The following cash deposit requirements will be effective upon publication of the final results of this administrative review for all shipments of subject merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the publication date, as provided for by section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act: (1) For the exporters listed above, the cash deposit rate will be equal to the weighted-averaged dumping margin established in the final results of review; (2) for previously investigated or reviewed Vietnamese and non-Vietnamese exporters not listed above that maintain their eligibility for a separate rate, the cash deposit rate will continue to be the exporter-specific rate published for the most recently-completed segment of this proceeding in which they were reviewed; (3) for all Vietnamese exporters of subject merchandise which have not been found to be entitled to a separate rate, the cash deposit rate will be $2.39 per kilogram, the rate established for the Vietnam-wide entity; and (4) for all non-Vietnamese exporters of subject merchandise which have not received their own rate, the cash deposit rate will be the rate applicable to the Vietnamese exporters that supplied that undefined.

The deposit requirements, when imposed, shall remain in effect until further notice.

Glycine From Japan: Preliminary Results of Antidumping Administrative Review: 2018–2020

AGENCY: Enforcement and Compliance, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce (Commerce) preliminarily determines that Yuki Gosei Kogyo Co., Ltd. and Nagase & Co., Ltd. (Nagase) (collectively, YGK/Nagase) made sales of subject merchandise at less than normal value during the period of review (POR) October 31, 2018, through May 31, 2020.

DATES: Applicable July 8, 2021.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Commerce initiated this review on August 6, 2020.1 We selected two mandatory respondents in this review, Nagase and Showa Denko K.K. (Showa Denko). On October 8, 2020, Showa Denko withdrew from participation in this administrative review.2 For a more detailed description of the events that followed the initiation of this review, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.3

The Preliminary Decision Memorandum is a public document and is on file electronically via Enforcement and Compliance’s Antidumping and Countervailing Duty Centralized Electronic Service System (ACCESS). ACCESS is available to registered users at http://access.trade.gov. In addition, a complete version of the Preliminary Decision Memorandum can be accessed directly at http://enforcement.trade.gov/fm/index.html. A list of topics discussed in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum is attached as an appendix to this notice.

Scope of the Order

The merchandise subject to the order is glycine. For a complete description of the scope of this administrative review, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.3

Methodology

Commerce is conducting this review in accordance with section 751(a)(2) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act). Export price and constructed export price are calculated in accordance with section 772 of the Act. Normal value is calculated in accordance with section 773 of the Act. For a full description of the methodology underlying our conclusions, see Preliminary Decision Memorandum.

Facts Available

Pursuant to section 776(a) of the Act, Commerce is preliminarily relying upon facts otherwise available to assign an estimated weighted-average dumping margin to Showa Denko in this review because Showa Denko withheld necessary information that was requested by Commerce, thereby significantly impeding the conduct of the review. Further, Commerce preliminarily determines that Showa Denko failed to cooperate by not acting to the best of its ability to comply with requests for information and, thus, Commerce is applying adverse facts available (AFA) in determining a weighted-average dumping margin for Showa Denko, in accordance with section 776(b) of the Act. For a full description of the methodology underlying our conclusions regarding the application of AFA, see the Preliminary Decision Memorandum.

Preliminary Results of Review

Disclosure and Public Comment

We intend to disclose the calculations performed to parties in this administrative review within five days after public announcement of the preliminary results, in accordance with 19 CFR 351.224(b).

Pursuant to 19 CFR 351.309(c), interested parties may submit case briefs to later than 30 days after the date of publication of this notice. Rebuttal briefs, limited to issues raised in the case briefs, may be filed not later than seven days after the date for filing case briefs.6 Commerce has modified certain 4 As AFA, we preliminarily assign Showa Denko a dumping margin of 86.22 percent, the highest rate on the record of the proceeding. See Glycine from Japan: Final Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value, 84 FR 18484 (May 1, 2019). This rate achieves the purpose of applying an adverse inference, i.e., it is sufficiently adverse to ensure that the uncooperative party does not obtain a more favorable result by failing to cooperate than if it had fully cooperated. Because we previously applied this rate in the investigation, according to 776(c)(2) of the Act, this rate does not require corroboration.

5 As explained in the Preliminary Decision Memorandum, based on the record information, Commerce preliminarily determines that Nagase & Co., Ltd. and a non-selected respondent, Yuki Gosei Kogyo Co., Ltd., are affiliated within the meaning of section 777(c)(3)(E) of the Act and should be treated as a single entity pursuant to 19 CFR 351.401(f) for these preliminary results of review.

6 See 19 CFR 351.309(d); see also Temporary Rule Modifying AD/CVD Service Requirements Due to COVID–19, 85 FR 17006, 17007 (March 26, 2020)
of its requirements for serving documents containing business proprietary information until further notice.7 Parties who submit case briefs or rebuttal briefs in this proceeding are encouraged to submit with each argument: (1) A statement of the issue; (2) a brief summary of the argument; and (3) a table of authorities.8

Pursuant to 19 CFR 351.310(c), interested parties who wish to request a hearing must submit a written request to the Assistant Secretary for Enforcement and Compliance, filed electronically via ACCESS. Requests should contain: (1) The party’s name, address and telephone number; (2) the number of participants; and (3) a list of issues to be discussed. Issues raised in the hearing will be limited to those raised in the respective case briefs. If a request for a hearing is made, Commerce intends to hold the hearing at a time and date to be determined. An electronically filed hearing request must be received successfully in its entirety by Commerce’s electronic records system, ACCESS, by 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time within 30 days after the date of publication of this notice.9

Commerce intends to issue the final results of this administrative review, including the results of its analysis of the issues raised in any written briefs, no later than 120 days after the date of publication of this notice, unless extended, pursuant to section 751(a)(3)(A) of the Act.

Assessment Rates

Upon completion of the final results, Commerce shall determine, and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) shall assess, antidumping duties on all appropriate entries. If the weighted-average dumping margin for YGK/Nagase is not zero or de minimis in the final results of this review, we will calculate, for each company, an importer-specific assessment rate on the basis of the ratio of the total amount of dumping calculated for each importer’s examined sales and the total entered value of such sales, in accordance with 19 CFR 351.220(b)(1).10 If any of these companies’ weighted-average dumping margin is zero or de minimis in the final results of review, or if an importer-specific assessment rate for one of these companies is zero or de minimis, Commerce will instruct CBP to liquidate appropriate entries without regards to antidumping duties.11 For entries of subject merchandise during the POR produced by any of these companies for which it did not know its merchandise was destined for the United States, we will instruct CBP to liquidate unreviewed entries.12

Consistent with its recent notice,13 Commerce intends to issue assessment instructions to CBP no earlier than 35 days after the date of publication of the final results of this review in the Federal Register. If a timely summons is filed at the U.S. Court of International Trade, the assessment instructions will direct CBP not to liquidate relevant entries until the time for parties to file a request for a statutory injunction has expired (i.e., within 90 days of publication). The final results of this administrative review shall be the basis for the assessment of antidumping duties on entries of merchandise under review and for future cash deposits of estimated antidumping duties, where applicable.

Cash Deposit Requirements

The following cash deposit requirements will be effective upon publication of the final results of this administrative review for all shipments of the subject merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the publication date of the final results of this administrative review, as provided by section 751(a)(2)(C) of the Act: (1) The cash deposit rate for YGK/Nagase and Showa Denko listed above will be equal to the weighted-average dumping margin established in the final results of this administrative review; (2) for previously reviewed or investigated companies not listed above, the cash deposit rate will continue to be the company-specific rate published for the producer of the merchandise; and (4) the cash deposit rate for all other producers or exporters will continue to be the all-others rate of 53.66 percent, the rate established in the less-than-fair-value investigation.14 These cash deposit requirements, when imposed, shall remain in effect until further notice.

Notification to Importers

This notice also serves as a reminder to importers of their responsibility under 19 CFR 351.402(f)(2) to file a certificate regarding the reimbursement of antidumping duties prior to liquidation of the relevant entries during this review period. Failure to comply with this requirement could result in Commerce’s presumption that reimbursement of antidumping duties occurred and the subsequent assessment of double antidumping duties.

Notification to Interested Parties

We are issuing and publishing this notice in accordance with sections 751(a)(1) and 777(i)(1) of the Act. Dated: June 30, 2021.

Christian Marsh.
Acting Assistant Secretary for Enforcement and Compliance.

The applicant is requesting a permit to continue research activities to compare the energetic and cardiovascular responses and diving physiology of captive cetaceans and pinnipeds to determine key biological capabilities. A maximum of 4 dolphins (Tursiops truncatus), 10 California sea lions (Zalophus californianus), and 3 Hawaiian monk seals (Neomonachus schauinslandi) would be maintained and participate in the research at the Long Marine Laboratory at any given time. Up to 60 bottlenose dolphins from the U.S. Navy, and up to 10 Hawaiian monk seals and 1 non-releasable Cook Inlet beluga whale (Delphinapterus leucas) at other permitted facilities may also participate in the research at their respective facilities.

Other species in rehabilitation status may also be added opportunistically and transported to Long Marine Laboratory for research purposes (up to 10 species per year with less than 6 animals onsite at a time). Typical rehabilitation species include bottlenose dolphins, harbor porpoises (Phocoena phocoena), Guadalupe fur seals tagged, photographed, and skin and blood sampled prior to release. In addition, all loggerhead sea turtles would receive a sonic or satellite transmitter and all green sea turtles would undergo gastric lavage prior to release. A subset of green sea turtles would be transported to a local facility for imaging and/or receive a transmitter prior to their return to the wild. Another 1,350 green, 100 loggerhead, 75 hawksbill, and 20 Kemp’s ridley sea turtles may be pursued during unsuccessful capture attempts annually.

The permit would be valid for 10 years.

File No. 25716: The NEFSC proposes to continue studying sea turtles legally bycaught within commercial fisheries operating in the Northwest Atlantic Ocean. The objective is to monitor the take of ESA listed sea turtle species in observed commercial fisheries and to collect data to help estimate total bycatch. Up to 50 loggerhead, 10 Kemp’s ridley, 10 green, 20 leatherback, and 20 unidentified sea turtles would be photographed, measured, weighed, flipper tagged and PIT tagged, and skin biopsied prior to release annually. Carcasses, tissues or parts also may be salvaged from dead sea turtles. The permit would be valid for 5 years.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB or Bureau) is issuing its twenty fourth edition of Supervisory Highlights, Issue 24, Summer 2021. The Bureau continues to examine auto loan servicing activities, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices prohibited by the Consumer Financial Protection Act (CFPA).

The Bureau continues to examine auto loan servicing activities, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices prohibited by the Consumer Financial Protection Act (CFPA). Examiners identified two unfair acts or practices related to lender-placed collateral protection insurance. Examiners also found unfair or deceptive acts or practices related to payment application. And examiners identified an unfair act or practice related to payoff amounts where consumers had ancillary product rebates due.

2. Supervisory Observations

2.1 Auto Servicing

The Bureau continues to examine auto loan servicing activities, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices prohibited by the Consumer Financial Protection Act (CFPA). Examiners identified two unfair acts or practices related to lender-placed collateral protection insurance. Examiners also found unfair or deceptive acts or practices related to payment application. And examiners identified an unfair act or practice related to payoff amounts where consumers had ancillary product rebates due.

2.1.1 Collateral Protection Insurance

Auto finance contracts generally require consumers to maintain comprehensive and collision insurance that covers physical damage to the vehicle in order to protect the value of the collateral. If the consumer fails to maintain appropriate coverage, some contracts provide that servicers can purchase insurance for the vehicle, often called collateral protection insurance (CPI). CPI policies only cover damage to the vehicle. Charges for CPI policies are added to consumers’ accounts and paid on a monthly basis. Servicers generally use electronic databases to monitor whether consumers are maintaining adequate insurance coverage. If the database suggests that a consumer is not maintaining adequate coverage, the servicer will send a notice requesting proof of insurance and stating that if the borrower does not provide proof of insurance, then a CPI policy will be purchased at the consumer’s expense. When the CPI policy is purchased, the servicer sends the consumer another notice with information about the policy. If the consumer later proves that they had adequate insurance during any portion of the CPI policy period, the servicer will generally remove any CPI charges for that period. Examiners identified unfair and deceptive acts or practices related to placement and removal of CPI policies and charges.
2.1.2 Charging for Unnecessary CPI

Under the prohibition on unfair acts or practices in sections 1031 and 1036 of the CFPA, an act or practice is unfair when: (1) It causes or is likely to cause substantial injury; (2) the injury is not reasonably avoidable by consumers; and (3) the substantial injury is not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or to competition.

Examiners found that servicers engaged in an unfair act or practice by charging consumers for unnecessary CPI. Servicers caused consumers substantial injury by adding and maintaining charges for CPI premiums as a result of deficient processes when consumers had adequate insurance in place under their contracts. If a consumer has an adequate insurance policy that covers the vehicle, the CPI policy provides no benefit to the servicer or consumer. Placing or maintaining charges for CPI when consumers have adequate insurance causes consumers injury because consumers must either pay for the duplicative insurance or incur late fees or other consequences of delinquency.

Additionally, some servicers caused additional injury because they applied any refunds of paid CPI charges to principal instead of returning those amounts directly to the consumer. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury for at least three reasons. First, in many instances, servicers sent notices regarding CPI charges to inaccurate addresses, so consumers had no notice that servicers planned to place CPI. Second, servicers did not have adequate procedures for processing insurance cards submitted by consumers as proof of insurance. Third, in many instances, servicers failed to process insurance documentation from consumers. The substantial injury to consumers was not outweighed by any countervailing benefits to consumers or competition, such as the cost of improving notices and improving document processing. Servicers have ceased issuing CPI policies.

2.1.3 Charging for CPI After Repossession

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices by collecting or attempting to collect CPI premiums after repossession even though no actual insurance protection was provided for those periods. CPI automatically terminates on the date of repossession, per the terms of the contract, and consumers should not be charged after this date. Despite this, servicers charged consumers for CPI after repossession in four different circumstances. First, servicers failed to communicate the date of repossession to the CPI service provider due to system errors. Second, servicers used an incorrect formula to calculate the CPI charges that needed to be removed due to the repossession. Third, servicers’ employees entered the wrong repossession date into their system of record, resulting in improper termination dates. Fourth, servicers charged consumers—who had a vehicle repossessed and subsequently reinstated the loan—for the days the vehicle was in the servicer’s possession, despite the automatic termination of the policy on the date of repossession.

These errors caused consumers substantial injury because they paid amounts they did not owe or were subject to collection attempts for amounts they did not owe. This injury was not reasonably avoidable because consumers did not control the servicers’ cancellation processes and did not have a reasonable way to determine that the charges were inaccurate. The substantial injury to consumers was not outweighed by any countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. Servicers have ceased issuing CPI policies.

2.1.4 Inaccurate Payment Posting

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices by posting payments to the wrong account or by posting certain payments as principal-only payments instead of periodic installment payments, resulting in late fees and additional interest charges. Servicers engaged in two types of errors. First, some payments were applied to the wrong loan account, despite the consumer providing their account information. Second, for some payment types, servicer employees applied the payment as a principal-only payment instead of a periodic installment payment, resulting in late fees and additional interest charges. Servicers engaged in two types of errors. First, some payments were applied to the wrong loan account, despite the consumer providing their account information. Second, for some payment types, servicer employees applied the payment as a principal-only payment instead of a periodic installment payment, resulting in late fees and additional interest charges. Servicers engaged in two types of errors. First, some payments were applied to the wrong loan account, despite the consumer providing their account information. Second, for some payment types, servicer employees applied the payment as a principal-only payment instead of a periodic installment payment, resulting in late fees and additional interest charges.

Servicers did not have a reliable method to detect the errors, and primarily relied on consumer complaints to identify misapplied payments. In some instances, even when consumers complained, the servicers did not provide refunds.

This conduct caused or was likely to cause substantial injury to consumers because the servicers misapplied payments, resulting in late fees and additional interest. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury because they had no control over the servicers’ misapplication of their payments. Even if consumers contacted the servicers regarding the errors, late fees and interest had accrued. The injury was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. For example, servicers could improve their procedures to reduce the error rate. In response to examiner findings, servicers remediated affected consumers and implemented new automated systems.

2.1.5 Failure To Follow Disclosed Payment Application Order

Under the prohibition against deceptive acts or practices in sections 1031 and 1036 of the CFPA, an act or practice is deceptive when: (1) It misleads or is likely to mislead the consumer; (2) the consumer’s interpretation is reasonable under the circumstances; and (3) the misleading act or practice is material.

Examiners found that servicers engaged in deceptive acts or practices by representing on their websites a specific payment application order, and subsequently applying payments in a different order. Specifically, servicers represented on their websites that payments would be applied to interest, then principal, then past due payments, before being applied to other charges, such as late fees. Instead, the servicers applied partial payments to late fees first, in contravention of the methodology disclosed on the website.

The representation that payments would be applied to interest, then principal, then past due payments, and then other charges was likely to mislead consumers because the servicers actually applied payments to late fees first. It was reasonable for consumers under the circumstances to believe that the servicers’ websites provided accurate information about payment allocation order. In some instances, the underlying contract provides the servicer the right to apply payments in any order. But consumers reasonably relied on the representations on servicers’ websites regarding payment application. And the representation was material because it was likely to affect consumers’ decisions about how much to pay. Servicers remediated impacted consumers and now use the disclosed payment application hierarchy.

2.1.6 Inaccurate Payoff Amounts

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices by accepting loan payoff amounts that included overcharges for optional products after incorrectly telling consumers that they owed this larger amount.5

Consumers financed the purchase of the optional product by adding it to the loan amount of a vehicle purchase. The contracts provided that consumers or servicers could cancel the product at any time and receive a “pro-rata” refund less a cancellation fee. Servicers prepared payoff statements in response to consumers’ requests that included a line listing credits for refunds from optional products and a total “payoff amount.” Servicers calculated this refund based on the actuarial value of the policies, instead of using the pro-rata calculation specified in the contract. In some instances, this resulted in payoff statements that listed a total amount due that was larger than the amount the consumer owed.

The conduct caused or was likely to cause substantial injury to consumers because servicers accepted money from consumers that the consumers did not actually owe. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury because they paid the servicers the amount they told them they owed. Consumers are not required to independently verify that servicers correctly calculated optional product refund amounts and therefore the injury could not be reasonably avoided. The injury is not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. Servicers can update their systems to perform appropriate calculations without significant cost. Servicers have refunded overpayments to consumers and updated their systems to perform calculations that are consistent with the contract terms.

2.2 Consumer Reporting

Entities that obtain or use consumer reports from consumer reporting companies (CRCs),6 or that furnish information relating to consumers for inclusion in consumer reports, play a vital role in the consumer reporting process. They are subject to several requirements under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) 7 and its implementing regulation, Regulation V.8 These include the requirement to furnish data subject to the relevant accuracy and dispute handling requirements. In recent reviews, examiners found deficiencies in, among other things, CRCs’ compliance with FCRA: (i) Accuracy requirements, (ii) security freeze requirements applicable only for nationwide CRCs as defined in FCRA section 603(p),9 and (iii) requirements regarding ID theft block requests. Examiners also found deficiencies in furnisher compliance with FCRA and Regulation V accuracy and dispute investigation requirements.

2.2.1 CRC Duty To Follow Reasonable Procedures To Assure Maximum Possible Accuracy

The FCRA requires that, whenever a CRC “prepares a consumer report it shall follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual about whom the report relates.” 10 In reviews of CRCs, examiners found that CRCs’ accuracy procedures failed to comply with this obligation because the CRC continued to include information in consumer reports that was provided by unreliable furnishers. Specifically, the furnishers had responded to disputes in ways that suggested that the furnishers were no longer sources of reliable, verifiable information about consumers. For example, CRCs received furnishers’ dispute responses indicating that, for several months, furnishers failed to respond to all or nearly all disputes, deleted all or nearly all tradelines disputed by consumers, or verified as accurate all or nearly all tradelines disputed by consumers. Despite observing this dispute response behavior by these furnishers, CRCs continued to include information from these furnishers. After identification of these issues, CRCs were directed to revise their accuracy procedures to identify and take corrective action regarding data from furnishers whose dispute response behavior indicates the furnisher is not a source of reliable, verifiable information about consumers.

2.2.2 CRC Duty To Timely Place Security Freezes on Consumer Reports Upon Consumer Request

The FCRA requires that nationwide CRCs must, free of charge, place a security freeze on a consumer’s report “upon receiving a direct request from a consumer” and upon “receiving proper identification from the consumer.” 11 The security freeze must be placed not later than “[i]n the case of a request that is by mail, 3 business days after receiving the request directly from the consumer.” 12 In reviews of nationwide CRCs, examiners found that CRCs failed to place security freezes within three business days after receiving the request by mail. One root cause was determined to be inadequate training, and to address that root cause, targeted training to appropriate staff regarding the requirements and timing of placing security freezes was provided.

2.2.3 CRC Duty To Block Reporting of Information Identified as Resulting From Identity Theft

The FCRA requires that CRCs must “block the reporting of any information in the file of a consumer that the consumer identifies as information that resulted from an alleged identity theft. . . .” 13 The block must be made “not later than 4 business days after the date of receipt” of a qualifying block request.14 In reviews of CRCs, examiners found that CRCs failed to place ID theft blocks within four business days of receipt of qualifying block requests. The block requests were delayed due to a backlog that the CRCs subsequently resolved. In response to these issues, the CRCs updated policies and procedures to ensure the timely processing and blocking of information identified in ID theft block requests.

2.2.4 Furnisher Duty To Update and Correct Information

The FCRA requires that persons who regularly and in the ordinary course of business furnish information to CRCs about that person’s transactions or experiences with consumers must, upon determining that information furnished to CRCs is not complete or accurate, “promptly notify the consumer reporting agency of that determination.” The furnisher must then provide to the agency any corrections to that information, or any additional information, that is necessary to make the information provided by the person to the agency complete and accurate, and shall not thereafter furnish to the agency any of the information that remains not complete or accurate.” 15 In a review of auto loan furnishers, examiners found that furnishers failed to send updating or correcting information to CRCs after making a determination that information furnishers had reported was no longer accurate. For example, examiners found that after consumers had applied for an auto loan but later communicated they no longer wanted to proceed with the loan, and the furnisher had removed the loan from its system of record, the furnisher continued to furnish information to CRCs as though the loans had been issued rather than cancelled. Furnishers attributed the errors to failures by a service provider to follow furnisher’s procedures. Following identification of these issues furnishers implemented a new process that reconciles loan cancellations and removals of loans from the system of record with responsive corrections to CRCs.

2.2.5 Furnisher Duty To Conduct Reasonable Investigation of Direct Disputes

Regulation V requires that, after receiving a direct dispute notice from a consumer, a furnisher must “[c]onduct a reasonable investigation with respect to the disputed information.” Further, Regulation V provides that a “furnisher is not required to investigate a direct dispute if the furnisher has reasonably determined that the dispute is frivolous or irrelevant.” However, if a furnisher determines that a dispute is frivolous or irrelevant, the furnisher must notify the consumer of the determination within five business days after making the determination.

2.3 Debt Collection

The Bureau has the supervisory authority to examine certain entities that engage in consumer debt collection activities, including nonbanks that are large participants in the consumer debt collection market and nonbanks that are service providers to certain covered persons. Recent examinations of larger participant debt collectors identified violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA).

2.3.1 Prohibited Calls to Consumer’s Workplace

Section 805(a)(3) of the FDCPA prohibits a debt collector from communicating with a consumer in connection with the collection of a debt at the consumer’s workplace if the debt collector knows or has reason to know that the consumer’s employer prohibits such communications. Examiners determined that debt collectors communicated with consumers at their workplaces after they knew or should have known that the consumers’ employers prohibit such communications, in violation of section 805(a)(3). In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their training and monitoring.

In addition, section 804(1) of the FDCPA states that, when communicating with third parties for the purpose of acquiring location or other information from a consumer, a debt collector may only disclose the name of the consumer’s employer if expressly requested. Examiners observed that debt collectors identified their employers when communicating with third parties who had not expressly requested it, in violation of section 804(1). In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.2 Communication With Third Parties

Section 805(b) of the FDCPA prohibits a debt collector from communicating in connection with the collection of a debt with any person other than the consumer and certain other parties. Exceptions to this prohibition are set out in sections 804 and 805(b). Examiners found that debt collectors communicated with third parties in violation of section 805(b). The communications were not within an exception listed in sections 804 or 805(b). This violation of the FDCPA resulted from inadequate compliance controls to verify right-party contact during efforts to locate the consumer. In several instances, the third party had a name similar to the consumer’s name. In response to this finding, the collectors are improving various aspects of their compliance management systems (CMS).

In addition, section 804(1) of the FDCPA states that, when communicating with third parties for the purpose of acquiring location or other information from a consumer, a debt collector may only disclose the name of their employer if expressly requested. Examiners observed that debt collectors identified their employers when communicating with third parties who had not expressly requested it, in violation of section 804(1). In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.3 Failure To Cease Communication Upon Written Request or Refusal To Pay

Section 805(c) of the FDCPA provides that if a consumer notifies a debt collector in writing that the consumer wishes the collector to cease further communication or that the consumer refuses to pay the debt, the collector must cease further communication with the consumer, with certain exceptions.
consumer used a model form to mail a written statement to a debt collector stating that the debt was the result of identity theft, requesting that the collector cease further communication, and requesting that the collector provide confirmation along with information concerning the disputed account. After receiving this form, the collector continued attempts to collect the debt from the consumer in violation of FDCPA section 805(c). These attempts were not efforts to respond to the consumer’s request for information about the identity theft claim. In response to these findings, the collector is improving board and management oversight and monitoring.

2.3.4 Harassment Regarding Inability To Pay

Section 806 of the FDCPA prohibits a debt collector from engaging in any conduct the natural consequence of which is to harass, oppress, or abuse any person in connection with the collection of a debt.27 Examiners found when consumers stated they were unable to make or complete payment arrangements, debt collectors emphasized two or more times to each of the consumers that the collector would place a note in the account system stating that the consumer was refusing to make a payment. The natural consequence of these inaccurate statements was to harass or oppress the consumers, in violation of section 806. In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.5 Communicating, and Threatening To Communicate, False Credit Information

Section 807 of the FDCPA prohibits a debt collector from using any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt.28 Section 807(8) specifically designates “the collection of any amount . . . unless such amount is expressly authorized by the agreement creating the debt or permitted by law” as an unfair practice.29 Examiners found that debt collectors entered inaccurate information regarding State interest rate caps into an automated system, resulting in some consumers being overcharged, in violation of section 808(1). In response to these findings, the collectors remediated impacted consumers and are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.6 False Representations or Deceptive Means of Collection

Section 807(10) of the FDCPA prohibits a debt collector from using any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt or obtain information concerning a consumer.30 Examiners found that several debt collectors falsely represented to consumers the impact that paying off their debts would have on their credit profiles, in violation of section 807(10).31 For example, one debt collector told a consumer the debt would no longer “impact” her credit profile once paid, which was false. Another debt collector told a consumer that making a payment would help to “fix” the consumer’s credit. In response to this finding, the collectors are improving various aspects of their CMS.

2.3.7 Incorrect Systemic Implementation of State Interest Rate Cap

Section 808 of the FDCPA states that a debt collector may not use unfair or unconscionable means to collect or attempt to collect any debt.32 Section 808(1) specifically designates “the collection of any amount . . . unless such amount is expressly authorized by the agreement creating the debt or permitted by law” as an unfair practice.33 Examiners found that debt collectors entered inaccurate information regarding State interest rate caps into an automated system, resulting in some consumers being overcharged, in violation of section 808(1). In response to these findings, the collectors remediated impacted consumers and are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.8 Unlawful Initiation of Administrative Wage Garnishment During Consolidation Process

Section 808 of the FDCPA states that a debt collector may not use unfair or unconscionable means to collect or attempt to collect any debt.34 Examiners found that debt collectors sent administrative wage garnishment orders to consumers’ employers by mistake despite having received completed applications from the consumers to consolidate the debt, which should have stopped the wage garnishment process based on standard procedures, in violation of section 808. In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their training and monitoring.

2.3.9 Failure To Send Complete Validation Notices

Section 809(a) of the FDCPA requires a debt collector to send a notice containing certain information (commonly called a “validation notice”) to the consumer within five days after the initial communication with the consumer, with certain exceptions.35 Examiners found that debt collectors violated section 809(a) by sending validation notices that lacked some of the required information. Examiners found that the issue resulted from template changes that had not been reviewed by compliance personnel. In response to these findings, the collectors are improving their board and management oversight of new letter templates.

2.4 Deposits

The CFPB continues its examinations of financial institutions for compliance with Regulation E,36 which implements the Electronic Fund Transfer Act (EFTA).37 The CFPB also examines for compliance with other relevant statutes and regulations, including Regulation DD,38 which implements the Truth in Savings Act,39 and the Dodd-Frank Act’s prohibition on unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices (UDAAPs).40

2.4.1 Regulation E Error Resolution Violations

EFTA establishes a legal framework for the offering and use of electronic fund transfer (EFT) services. One of the primary objectives of the EFTA and its implementing regulation, Regulation E, is to protect consumers engaging in EFTs.

Supervision continues to find violations of EFTA and Regulation E that it previously discussed in the Fall 2014, Summer 2017, and Summer 2020 editions of Supervisory Highlights, respectively. These violations include:

- • Requiring written confirmation of an oral notice of error before investigating;

36 12 CFR part 1005 et seq.
38 12 CFR part 1030 et seq.
• Requiring consumers to contact merchants about alleged unauthorized transactions before investigating;
• Relying on incorrect dates to assess the timeliness of an EFT error notice;
• Failing to provide an explanation or an accurate explanation of investigation results when determining no error or a different error occurred; and
• Failing to include in the error investigation report a statement regarding a consumer’s right to obtain the documentation that an institution relied on in its error investigation.

An effective compliance strategy for institutions includes evaluation of their practices, including through transaction testing, monitoring, and review of their policies and procedures. This will help ensure compliance with applicable Federal consumer financial laws and stop any practices that were previously identified as violations. Examples of other violations found by examiners are described below.

2.4.2 Issues With Provisional Credits

Under Regulation E, a financial institution generally must complete its investigation and determine whether an error occurred within 10 business days of receiving a notice of error.41 But an institution may take up to 45 days 42 to complete its investigation if it, among other things, provisionally credits the alleged error amount (including interest where applicable) to the consumer’s account within 10 business days of receiving the error notice.43 The institution need not issue a provisional credit if it requires, but does not receive, written confirmation of an oral notice of error within 10 business days.44 When institutions issue provisional credits, they must inform the consumer of the amount and date the credit was applied to the account within two business days after provisionally crediting the account.45 Within three business days of completing an error investigation, the financial institution must report the results to the consumer, including, if applicable, notice that a provisional credit has been made final.46

If an institution debits a provisional credit from a consumer’s account because it determines that no error occurred or that an error occurred in a manner or amount different from that described by the consumer, it must, among other things, notify consumers of the debiting.47 The notice must state:

• The date and amount of the debit and that the financial institution will honor checks, drafts, or similar instruments payable to third parties and preauthorized EFTs from the consumer’s account for five business days after the notification.48
• An alternative to this notice, which is specified in the text of Regulation E, the associated Staff Commentary provides that a financial institution may notify the consumer that the consumer’s account will be debited five business days from the transmittal of the notification and specify the calendar date on which the debiting will occur.49

Examiners found that numerous institutions violated Regulation E’s provisional credit requirements, including as follows:

• Failing to provide provisional credits, despite not completing error investigations within 10 business days of notice of an error;
• Failing to provide provisional credits to consumers who timely provided required written confirmation of oral error notices;
• Posting the provisional credit to the wrong account, by failing to ensure that the ownership of the credited account matched the account that should have received the credit;
• Excluding interest from the provisional credit;
• Using notification templates that either had a timeframe to disclose when a provisional credit would be applied instead of a specific date or lacked any date information;
• Failing to provide notice that a provisional credit had been made final due to process weakness, including:
  (i) An unsuccessful attempt to combine the letter informing consumers of a provisional credit with the letter notifying them the credit would be final, and
  (ii) a process deficiency in which both the financial institution and the merchant of the disputed charge issued a simultaneous credit.
• Sending consumers notices that provisional credits would be reversed, but excluding either the exact date a credit was or would be debited or notice that it would honor checks, drafts, or similar instruments payable to third parties and preauthorized transfers from the consumer’s account for five business days after the notification, or excluding both.

The institutions took a variety of corrective actions to remedy these violations, including making improvements to compliance management systems and providing remediation to consumers.

2.4.3 Failure To Timely Investigate Errors

If a financial institution is unable to complete its investigation within 10 business days, 12 CFR 1005.11(c)(2) provides that an institution may take up to 45 days from receipt of the notice of error to investigate and determine whether an error occurred provided it, among other things, provisionally credits the consumer’s account as discussed above. If the alleged error involves an EFT that was not initiated within a state, resulted from a point-of-sale debit card transaction, or occurred within 30 days after the first deposit to the account was made, the institution may take up to 90 days to investigate and determine whether an error occurred, provided it otherwise complied with the requirements of 12 CFR 1005.11(c)(2).50

Examiners found that financial institutions violated Regulation E by failing to complete investigations and make a determination within 45 days from receipt of the notice of error and within 90 days from receipt of the notice of error for point-of-sale debit transactions, respectively, after providing provisional credit within 10 business days of the error notice. In each instance, the financial institutions exceeded the applicable timelines.

In response to examiners’ findings, the financial institutions updated their training to ensure that employees were properly trained on the applicable Regulation E timelines and modified certain policies and procedures.51

2.4.4 Failure To Conduct Reasonable Investigations

All error investigations “must be reasonable.” 52 When it applies, Regulation E, 12 CFR 1005.11(c)(4), requires that a financial institution in investigating an error must conduct, at a minimum, a “review of its own records regarding [the] alleged error.”53

This review must include at least “any relevant information within the institution’s own records.”54

Examiners found that some financial institutions violated Regulation E by failing to conduct a reasonable investigation and instead denied claims solely because the consumers had previously conducted business with a merchant. One institution, upon seeing that a consumer was challenging a charge from a merchant with whom the consumer had prior transactions, closed error investigations without completing them, and instead instructed consumers to first direct the claim to the merchant that made the charge.

In response to examiners’ findings, the financial institutions updated their training to ensure that employees were properly trained on the applicable Regulation E investigation requirements and enhanced certain policies and procedures and monitoring to ensure investigations are completed properly. In addition, the financial institutions identified and remediated all consumers whose Regulation E error claims were wrongly denied based upon pre-existing relationships with the merchant and whose error resolution claims were not investigated as required.

2.4.5 Failure To Properly Remediate Errors

When a financial institution determines an alleged error did occur, commentary to Regulation E highlights “it must correct the error . . . including, where applicable, the crediting of interest and the refunding of any fees imposed by the institution.”55

Examiners determined that some financial institutions failed to refund associated fees and credit interest when correcting an error. One such institution implemented automated processes, as well as policy updates and enhanced training to address the issue. At another institution, employees failed to provide proper credits and refunds although it was required by the institution’s procedures. This failure indicated a lack of proper training, which the institution was asked to enhance. Both institutions stated that they would or had remediated impacted consumers.

For another institution, this violation occurred because the institution’s ACH teams reviewed issues on a transaction-by-transaction basis, which did not allow it to evaluate the impact of the issue at the account or claim level. This institution reorganized its staff to evaluate consumer accounts on an individual or account level, conducted a lookback to remediate impacted consumers, and updated policies to ensure that fees were credited to the accounts.

Similarly, an organizational issue caused the problem at another institution. This institution used multiple divisions to investigate and correct errors, depending on the type of error alleged. Differing policies and procedures between divisions created various levels of authority for error resolution. Because of these differences, the institution failed to refund the fees as is required by the Regulation E commentary, despite determining the alleged error occurred. The institution rectified this situation by reviewing and consolidating the role of error investigation into one division to ensure all Regulation E errors were consistently processed and committed to remediate harmed consumers.

2.4.6 Overdraft Opt-In and Disclosure Violations

The CFPB continues to examine financial institutions’ overdraft opt-in and disclosure practices for compliance with relevant statutes and regulations, including Regulation E,56 Regulation DD,57 which implements the Truth in Savings Act,58 and the Dodd-Frank Act’s prohibition on unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices.59

Many institutions provide various overdraft products that charge fees for transactions that overdraft accounts. Regulation E prohibits financial institutions from charging overdraft fees on ATM and one-time debit card transactions unless consumers affirmatively opt in to overdraft service.60 Among other things, Regulation E requires that institutions provide consumers “a reasonable opportunity for the consumer to affirmatively consent, or opt in, to the service for ATM and one-time debit card transactions.”61 Moreover, institutions must provide consumers “with confirmation of the consumer’s consent in writing, or if the consumer agrees, electronically, which includes a statement informing the consumer of the right to revoke such consent.”62

Regulation E requires institutions to maintain evidence of compliance for a period of not less than two years from the date action is required to be taken or disclosures are required to be given.63

Examiners identified a number of violations in connection with these overdraft opt-in requirements, including the following:

• Failing to obtain affirmative consent from consumers before charging them overdraft fees for ATM and one-time debit card transactions, due to coding errors, systems mergers, or inadequate phone-based opt-in procedures. These institutions provided remediation to consumers assessed these overdraft fees without their authorization and ceased charging overdraft fees to consumers who did not opt in.

• Failing to advise consumers who opted-in to overdraft online of their right to revoke their opt-in to ATM and one-time debit overdraft services as part of the opt-in confirmation notice. Supervision issued a Matter Requiring Attention (MRA) regarding the need for a notice that included the right to revoke and also remediation for consumers impacted by the previous deficient notice.

• Failing to provide consumers overdraft opt-in notices that were substantially similar to the Model Form A–9 disclosure, in violation of Regulation E.64 Institutions corrected their notices.

Supervision identified violations of Regulation DD requirements related to overdraft services as well, including:

• Disclosing to consumers, through automated systems, available account balance amounts that included discretionary overdraft credit that the bank potentially could provide;65 and

• Failing to correctly disclose on periodic statements the amount of overdraft fees incurred by consumers during a statement cycle.66

The institutions implemented or proposed policy and procedure changes to address the violations.

2.5 Fair Lending

The Bureau’s fair lending supervision program assesses compliance with the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA) and its implementing regulation, Regulation B, as well as the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) and its implementing regulation, Regulation C, at banks and nonbanks over which the Bureau has supervisory authority. Examiners found that supervised institutions engaged in violations of HMDA and Regulation C, and ECOA and Regulation B.

2.5.1 HMDA Examination Findings—2018 & 2019 Data

The Bureau continues to examine mortgage originators, including bank and nonbank financial institutions, for compliance with HMDA and its implementing regulation, Regulation C. Regulation C requires financial institutions to collect and report data regarding applications for covered loans that they receive, covered loans that they originate, and covered loans that they receive, covered loans that they originate, and covered loans that they purchase each calendar year.71 Recent examinations identified HMDA violations due to inaccuracy of HMDA data submitted by financial institutions, including fields newly added to the HMDA loan application register (LAR) beginning in 2018. In October 2015, the CFPB issued a final rule (2015 HMDA Rule) that included changes to the types of institutions that are subject to Regulation C; the types of transactions subject to Regulation C; the specific information that covered institutions are required to collect, record, and report; and processes for reporting and disclosing data.72 For HMDA data collected on or after January 1, 2018, certain covered institutions were required to collect, record, and report data points newly added or modified by the 2015 HMDA Rule.

Specifically, the 2015 HMDA Rule added new data points for Applicant or Borrower Age, Credit Score, Application Channel, Points and Fees, Borrower-paid Origination Charges, Discount Points, Lender Credits, Loan Term, Prepayment Penalty, Non-amortizing Loan Features, Interest Rate, and Loan Originator Identifier as well as other data points. The 2015 HMDA Rule also modified several existing data points.73 Most of the additions and modifications to the HMDA LAR fields within the 2015 HMDA rule became effective January 1, 2018. Examinations evaluating data reported in 2018 and 2019 were the first examinations in which the Bureau reviewed the accuracy of the data in HMDA LAR fields added by the 2015 HMDA Rule.

The CFPB’s HMDA examinations include transaction testing of a sample of the institution’s HMDA LAR and review of its CMS as it relates to HMDA. Transaction testing consists of comparing a sample of the institution’s HMDA LAR to source documents from the loan files corresponding to each LAR entry (LAR line or row of the data) and assessing whether or not the LAR entry is accurate. When errors are identified, examiners evaluate the number of errors relative to the resubmission threshold, which is the data accuracy standard used in the CFPB’s examinations. Specifically, the HMDA interagency resubmission thresholds provide that in a LAR of more than 500 entries, when the total number of errors in any data field exceeds four, examiners should direct the institution to correct any such data field in the full HMDA LAR and resubmit its HMDA LARs with the corrected field(s).74 These resubmission thresholds are included in the CFPB’s HMDA examination procedures.75

2.5.2 2018 & 2019 HMDA LAR Errors

Examiners identified widespread errors within 2018 HMDA LARs of several covered financial institutions. To date, examiners have not identified widespread LAR errors within institutions’ 2019 LARs. In several examinations, examiners identified errors that exceed the HMDA resubmission thresholds. In general, examiners identified more errors in data fields collected beginning in 2018 pursuant to the 2015 HMDA rule than for other fields. For example, the fields with the highest number of identified errors across several institutions were the newly required “Initially Payable to

2.5.3 Root Causes of HMDA Data Errors

In several examinations in which examiners identified numerous errors, the root causes of the HMDA violations were deficiencies in the institutions’ CMS. The CMS deficiencies included the institutions’ board and management oversight, policies and procedures, training, monitoring and audit, and the institutions’ service provider oversight. Many of the widespread or systemic errors related to problems within the institutions’ data mapping—the data transfers from operations-based systems, such as loan origination systems, to data storage systems that populate the HMDA LARs. For example:

- Examiners determined that numerous errors within the Credit Scoring model fields were caused by data transfer deficiencies in which institutions extracted data from credit scoring models then transferred them to systems that reported inaccurate codes and descriptions of the credit scores.
- Examiners identified errors within the Rate Spread field and observed that these errors occurred due to data mapping or data transfer deficiencies. Institutions allowed erroneous software updates within their loan processing systems to result in inaccurate Rate Spread values reported on their HMDA LARs. Examiners determined that service provider oversight deficiencies resulted in institutions’ failure to correct these erroneous data transfers.
- Examiners identified inaccurate values for the debt-to-income ratio. The institutions acknowledged the errors and stated the fields reported incorrectly were the result of a change made to the programming of their loan origination system.

Many of the widespread or systemic errors were caused by misinterpretation of Regulation C requirements or the institution’s specific policy. For example:

- Examiners determined that employees at one institution misinterpreted the institution’s policies and procedures for calculating the ages of applicants and co-applicants. Examiners determined that these errors were caused by deficiencies in the institution’s monitoring and audit function.
- Examiners determined that an institution’s senior management misinterpreted HMDA and Regulation C, concluding erroneously that the Origination Charges, Discount Points, and/or Lender Credits fields should be reported as “Not applicable.”

2.5.4 2018 & 2019 Data Chart

The HMDA examination procedures.75 For more information about CFPB HMDA LAR transaction testing and samples, refer to the CFPB HMDA Examination Procedures, updated April 1, 2019, available at example, examiners observed Origination Charges, displayed as “zero” within source documentation, inaccurately reported as “Not applicable.” The Origination Charges field should be entered, in dollars for the total of all itemized amounts that are designated borrower-paid at or before closing. If the total is zero, enter 0. Enter “NA” if the requirement to report origination charges does not apply to the covered loan or application that the institution is reporting.

2.5.4 HMDA Supervisory Actions

In response to widespread HMDA LAR inaccuracies identified during examinations, institutions will review, correct, and resubmit their HMDA LARs. Some institutions have already resubmitted their HMDA LARs.

In addition, institutions will enhance monitoring practices to ensure they are completed timely and appropriately identify and measure HMDA risk. Some institutions will develop and implement an effective HMDA monitoring program that prevents, detects, and corrects violations of HMDA and Regulation C, and ensures appropriate corrective actions are taken.

Some institutions will make improvements to CMS components that were the cause of errors, including through (1) implementation of policies, procedures and/or a plan that ensures that fields that had errors are reported accurately; (2) improvements to board and management oversight to ensure that the board and management promptly responds to CMS deficiencies and violations of Regulation C; and (3) improvements to their HMDA training program regarding collecting and recording data for the HMDA LAR, including ensuring it is specifically tailored to staff with responsibilities relating to HMDA.

2.5.5 Redlining

Regulation B prohibits discrimination of “applicants or prospective applicants.” Specifically, it states: “A creditor shall not make any oral or written statement, in advertising or otherwise, to applicants or prospective applicants that would discourage on a prohibited basis a reasonable person from making or pursuing an application.” The Official Interpretations of Regulation B also explain that this prohibition “covers acts or practices directed at prospective applicants that would have discouraged reasonable people in minority neighborhoods in Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) from applying for credit.”

In the course of conducting supervisory activity, examiners observed that a lender violated ECOA and Regulation B by engaging in acts or practices directed at prospective applicants that would have discouraged reasonable people in minority neighborhoods in Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) from applying for credit.

Initial statistical analysis of the HMDA data and U.S. census data showed that the lender received significantly fewer applications from majority-minority and high-minority neighborhoods relative to other peer lenders in the MSA, which resulted in the prioritization of the institution for a redlining examination. The examination teams’ subsequent, in-depth analyses, including general and refined peer analyses, confirmed these differences relative to its peer lenders in the MSA.

Examiners identified evidence of communications directed at prospective applicants that would discourage reasonable persons on a prohibited basis from applying to the lender for a mortgage loan. First, the lender conducted a number of direct mail marketing campaigns that featured models, all of whom appeared to be non-Hispanic white. Second, the lender included headshots of its mortgage professionals in its open house marketing materials, and in almost all of these materials, the headshots showed only professionals who appeared to be non-Hispanic white. Third, the lender’s office locations were nearly all concentrated in majority non-Hispanic white areas, as confirmed by the lender’s website communicating where the offices are located. Each of these acts or practices is a form of communication directed at prospective applicants.

Also, the lender’s direct marketing campaign and Multiple Listing Service (MLS) advertising was focused on minority-white areas in the MSA, which provided additional evidence of its intent to discourage on a prohibited basis. In addition, the examination team determined that the lender employed mostly non-Hispanic white mortgage loan officers and identified emails among mortgage loan officers containing racist and derogatory content. The lender plans to undertake remedial and corrective actions regarding this violation, which are under review by the Bureau.

2.6 Mortgage Origination

Supervision assessed the mortgage origination operations of several supervised entities for compliance with applicable Federal consumer financial laws. Examinations of these entities identified violations of Regulation Z and deceptive acts or practices prohibited by the CFPA.

2.6.1 Compensating Loan Originators Differently Based on Product Type

Regulation Z generally prohibits compensating mortgage loan originators in an amount that is based on the terms of a transaction. Compensation is based on the term of a transaction if the objective facts and circumstances indicate that the compensation would have been different if a transaction term had been different. In the preamble to the Bureau’s 2013 Loan Originator Final Rule, the Bureau responded to questions from commenters about whether it was permissible to compensate differently based on product types, such as credit extended pursuant to government programs for low-to moderate-income borrowers. As part of its response to these questions, the Bureau explained that it is not permissible to differentiate compensation based on product type, since products are simply a bundle of particular terms.

Examiners found that lenders’ compensation policies specified lower compensation for originating a bond loan subject to requirements set forth by a State Housing Finance Agency (HFA), and that the lenders followed these policies. Examiners also found that 76 On December 21, 2017, the Bureau issued a Statement with respect to HMDA compliance announcing among other things that the Bureau does not intend to assess penalties for errors in data collected in 2018 and that the Bureau does not intend to require data resubmission unless errors are material. See Consumer Fin. Prot. Bureau, CFPB Issues Public Statement On Home Mortgage Disclosure Act Compliance (Dec. 21, 2017), available at https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/newsroom/cfpb-issues-public-statement-home-mortgage-disclosure-act-compliance/. During examinations of 2018 data in which CFPB Supervision required financial institutions to resubmit data, Supervision concluded that the errors identified were material.

83 Id. at 11326–27, note 82. The Bureau further noted in the preamble that permitting different compensation based on different product types would create “precisely the type of risk of steering” that the statutory provisions implemented through the 2013 Loan Originator Final Rule sought to avoid. lenders compensated loan originators by paying them more for originating construction loans than for other types of loans. Examiners determined that by compensating loan originators differently based on whether the loan was an HFA loan or construction loan, the lenders compensated loan originators based on the terms of the transaction because the compensation would have been different if the terms of the transaction had been different. As a result, each lender involved agreed to no longer compensate loan originators differently based on product type.

2.6.2 Disclosure of Simultaneously Purchased Lender and Owner Title Insurance

Where there is simultaneous purchase of lender and owner title insurance policies, Regulation Z requires creditors to disclose the lender’s title insurance premium on the amount of the premium, without any discount that might be available for the simultaneous purchase of an owner’s title insurance policy. Creditors are required to disclose the premium for the owner’s policy showing the impact of the simultaneous purchase discount. The intent of this rule is to provide consumers with information on the incremental additional cost associated with obtaining an owner’s title insurance policy, and the cost they would be required to pay for the lender’s policy if they did not purchase an owner’s policy. Examiners found that some creditors violated Regulation Z by disclosing the lender’s title insurance premium at the discounted rate and the owner’s title insurance at the full premium on the Loan Estimate. Supervision requested that the creditors revise their policies and procedures to ensure correct disclosure of title insurance premiums where there is a simultaneous issuance rate for lender’s and owner’s title policies.

2.6.3 Deceptive Waivers of Borrowers’ Rights in Security Deed Riders and Loan Security Agreements

Regulation Z states that a “contract or other agreement relating to a consumer credit transaction secured by a dwelling . . . may not be applied or interpreted to bar a consumer from bringing a claim in court pursuant to any provision of law for damages or other relief in connection with any alleged violation of Federal law.” In light of this provision, examiners previously concluded that certain waiver provisions are deceptive where reasonable consumers could construe the waivers to bar them from bringing Federal claims in court related to their mortgages. For example, examiners previously identified waiver provisions in home equity installment loan agreements that provided that consumers who signed the agreements waived all other notices or demands in connection with the delivery, acceptance, performance, default or enforcement of the agreement and concluded that those provisions violated the CFPA’s prohibition on deceptive acts or practices. Similarly, in the mortgage servicing context, examiners previously identified broad waiver of rights clauses in forbearance, loan modification, and other loss mitigation options and concluded that they violated the CFPA’s prohibition against unfair or deceptive acts or practices.

Examiners identified a waiver provision in a rider to a security deed that is in use in one state. The waiver provided that borrowers who signed the agreement waived all of their rights to notice or to judicial hearing before the lender exercises its right to nonjudicially foreclose on the property. Examiners concluded that the use of this provision by mortgage lenders violated the CFPA’s prohibition on deceptive acts or practices. Regulation X, 12 CFR 1024.41, implementing the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA), requires mortgage servicers to provide borrowers with certain notices in the loss mitigation context and borrowers may bring suit to enforce those provisions. A reasonable consumer could understand the provision to waive the consumer’s right to sue over a loss mitigation notice violation in the nonjudicial foreclosure context. This misrepresentation is material because it could dissuade consumers from consulting a lawyer or otherwise bringing Federal claims in court related to the transaction. Thus, examiners concluded that the waiver provision was deceptive. In response to the examination findings, the entities committed to discontinuing use of the form containing the waiver.

Examiners also found that entities required borrowers in another State to agree to a waiver, in the event of default, of any equity or right of redemption in the loan security agreement for cooperative units. Specifically, the waiver stated that in the event of default, lenders may sell the security at public or private sale and thereafter hold the security free from any claim or right whatsoever of the borrower, who waives all rights of redemption, stay or appraisal which the borrower has or may have under any rule or statute. Examiners determined that the waiver language would likely mislead a consumer into believing that by signing the agreement they waived their right to bring any claim in court, including Federal claims. This interpretation could appear reasonable to a consumer.

The misrepresentation was material because it was likely to affect whether a consumer would choose to retain counsel or pursue claims against the entity in the future. As a result, the entities implemented an agreement resolving the issue and committed to providing clarification to all affected borrowers.

2.7 Mortgage Servicing

Bureau examinations continue to review for violations of mortgage servicing requirements. Examiners determined that servicers violated Regulation X by making the first notice or filing for foreclosure when it was prohibited. Examiners also determined that servicers engaged in a deceptive act or practice when they represented to borrowers that they would not initiate a foreclosure action until a specified date, but nevertheless initiated foreclosures prior to that date. Examiners also found that servicers failed to maintain policies and procedures, as required by Regulation X, reasonably designed to achieve specific objectives described in Regulation X.

2.7.1 Dual Tracking Violations

Regulation X generally prohibits a servicer from making the first notice or filing required for foreclosure if the consumer submits a complete loss mitigation application unless the servicer has completed the review of the application, considered any appeals, the borrower rejects all loss mitigation options offered by the servicer, or the borrower fails to perform under an agreement on a loss mitigation option. If a consumer submits all of the documents requested by the servicer in response to the notice in 12 CFR 1024.41(b)(2)(i)(B), then the application is “facially complete” and the servicer must treat the application as complete for the purposes of the foreclosure referral protections of 12 CFR 1024.41(f)(2) until the borrower is given a reasonable opportunity to complete the application.

Examiners found that servicers violated Regulation X by making the first filing for foreclosure after the loan application was facially complete but before meeting the requirements of 12 CFR 1024.41(f)(2). The servicers received all the information requested in the 12 CFR 1024.41(b)(2)(i)(B) notice and therefore the application was facially complete. However, the servicers did not place a foreclosure hold on the account when the documents were received. Instead, the servicers waited until they had completed internal analysis that the application was facially complete, which took more than a day, during which time a foreclosure filing occurred in spite of the facially complete application having been received.

As a result of this finding, servicers remediated foreclosure fees that were charged to consumers who had submitted facially complete applications prior to the first foreclosure filing. They also enhanced their procedures, employee training, and monitoring controls.

Regulation X also prohibits a servicer from making the first notice or filing for foreclosure before making a decision on a borrower’s timely appeal of a denied loss mitigation application.94 Institutions violated Regulation X by making the first notice or filing for foreclosure before they had evaluated borrowers’ appeals. The servicers denied the borrowers’ loss mitigation applications and provided the borrowers with information about appealing the determination as required under Regulation X. The borrowers submitted the appeal within the 14-day period under 12 CFR 1024.41(h)(2).

Prior to making a determination regarding the appeal, the servicers made a first notice or filing for foreclosure, violating Regulation X.95 In response to this finding, servicers enhanced policies and procedures, training, and monitoring controls.

Regulation X requires servicers to maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to achieve specific objectives described in the regulation.96 It provides that servicers’ policies and procedures shall be reasonably designed to facilitate the sharing of accurate and current information regarding the status of any evaluation of a borrower’s loss mitigation application and the status of any foreclosure proceedings among appropriate servicer personnel, including service provider personnel responsible for handling foreclosure proceedings.

Some servicers had policies and procedures to notify foreclosure counsel to stop all legal fillings only after the servicer had sent borrowers the notice acknowledging receipt of a complete loss mitigation application, which may be sent to a consumer up to five days after receipt of their application. This represents a failure to facilitate the sharing with its service providers of accurate and current information regarding the status of borrowers’ loss mitigation applications. Because the servicers did not inform foreclosure counsel that a complete loss mitigation application had been submitted until it sent the loss mitigation acknowledgement notice, they failed to maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to achieve the objective of 12 CFR 1024.38(b)(3)(iii). In response to these findings, servicers updated their policies and procedures.

2.7.2 Misrepresentations Regarding Foreclosure Timelines

Regulation X’s requirements related to loss mitigation applications do not apply to consumers submitting additional loss mitigation applications under certain circumstances. Specifically, they do not apply where a servicer has previously complied with the regulation’s loss mitigation requirements for a complete loss mitigation application and the borrower has been delinquent at all times since submitting the prior complete application.98 Some servicers failed to adopt appropriate policies and procedures for responding accurately to such repeat loss mitigation applications. Examiners identified a deceptive practice when servicers represented to borrowers that they would not initiate a foreclosure action until a specified date, but nevertheless initiated a foreclosure prior to that date. These servicers maintained a policy of using model communications for all borrowers that included language reflecting Regulation X protections for borrowers submitting loss mitigation applications regardless of whether Regulation X protections actually applied to those borrowers. Examiners identified loss mitigation files where the servicers specifically indicated in letters that they would not initiate a foreclosure action until a specific date. Examiners noted that the date was consistent with the timeline that Regulation X would require if the application were protected by those provisions. Nevertheless, the servicers did initiate foreclosure actions prior to that date.

The inaccurate representations regarding the day foreclosure action would be initiated were likely to mislead borrowers into believing that they had more time until foreclosure than they actually did. It was reasonable for consumers to believe these representations since the information was provided on multiple loss mitigation related disclosures sent in response to the application. The representations were material because borrowers plan how they will obtain and when they will send necessary documents, and what actions they will take regarding their delinquent mortgages, based on the information provided—including the timeline for foreclosure. In response to these findings, servicers updated the information contained in letters sent to consumers.

2.7.3 Failure To Consider PMI Termination Date During Annual Escrow Analysis

Regulation X requires servicers to conduct an annual escrow analysis, in which they estimate the disbursement amounts of escrow account items.99 If the servicer “knows the charge” for an item “in the next computation year,” then it “shall use that amount” in its estimate.100 Servicers violated the requirements of 12 CFR 1024.17(c)(7) by including in the annual escrow analysis a full year of PMI disbursements, despite knowing that PMI would be charged for only part of the year.

PMI, when required, is automatically terminated when the principal balance of the mortgage loan reaches 78 percent of the original value of the property based on the amortization schedule, as long as the borrower is current. Examiners found that one or more servicers’ systems maintain all relevant information to determine the termination date. Therefore, these servicers “know” that the charges for PMI will not last a full twelve months and will terminate before the end of the escrow year. Because the servicers know the charges for PMI will terminate for certain mortgages, including PMI charges after the termination date in the annual escrow analysis violates 12 CFR 1024.17(c)(7). In response to these findings, the servicers began considering the PMI termination information in their systems while conducting the annual escrow analysis.

2.8 Payday Lending

The Bureau’s Supervision program covers entities that offer or provide payday loans. Examinations of these lenders identified deceptive acts or practices.

2.8.1 Misrepresentations Regarding an Intent To Sue

Examiners found that lenders engaged in deceptive acts or practices in violation of the CFPA when they sent delinquent borrowers collection letters stating an “intent to sue” if the consumer did not pay the loan. Examiners found the representations misled or were likely to mislead consumers, and that consumers’ interpretations were reasonable. A reasonable borrower could understand the letters to mean that the lender had decided it would sue if a borrower did not make payments as required by the letter. In fact, the lenders had not decided prior to sending the letters that they would sue if borrowers did not pay, and in most cases did not sue borrowers who did not pay. The representations were material because they could induce delinquent borrowers to change their conduct regarding their loans. For example, consumers may have made payments they otherwise would not have, in order to avoid the possibility of suit. In response to examination findings, the entities ceased issuing letters stating an intent to sue where such a determination had not already been made, and enhanced collections communication-related policies and procedures, training, and monitoring.

2.8.2 Misrepresentations That No Credit Check Will Be Conducted

Examiners observed that lenders engaged in a deceptive act or practice in violation of the CFPA when they falsely represented on storefronts and in photos on proprietary websites that they would not check a consumer’s credit history. In fact, the lenders used consumer reports from at least one consumer reporting agency in determining whether to extend credit. It was reasonable for a consumer to interpret the representations as meaning that the lenders would not check a consumer’s credit history when deciding whether to extend credit, and the representations were material because they were likely to affect consumers’ conduct with respect to applying for loans. Prospective customers may have had concerns about their credit histories and ability to obtain credit, and consequently made a different choice. Moreover, storefront advertising claims were express and presumed material. In response to these findings, the lenders ceased making misleading representations on signage at branch locations and websites, and implemented enhanced advertising oversight.

2.8.3 Deceptive Presentation of Repayment Options to Borrowers Contractually Eligible for No-Cost Repayment Plans

When consumers indicated an inability to repay their payday loans, lenders engaged in a deceptive act or practice by presenting payment options to consumers in a manner that misled or was likely to mislead them. Examiners found that, as a result of the institutions’ process of presenting fee-based refinancing options to struggling borrowers while withholding information about contractually available no-cost repayment plan options, many consumers entered into fee-based refinances despite being eligible for a no-cost repayment option. The presentation of payment options misled, or was likely to mislead, consumers into believing that there was not a no-cost installment repayment option despite the loan agreements providing for one. Consumers may have also been misled into believing that a no-cost option was only available if the consumers first rejected or were found ineligible for other options, such as a fee-based refinancing. A consumer’s misunderstanding of their repayment options would be reasonable in light of the fact that the consumers who elected these other options were not told about the no-cost repayment plan option by the institution at the time that the consumers expressed difficulty repaying their loans. The institutions’ misleading practice was material because it caused consumers to incur fees, such as for refinances, that could have been avoided had they been aware of their contractual right to a no-cost repayment option.

2.9 Private Education Loan Origination

The Bureau has supervisory authority over entities that offer or provide private education loans. The Bureau examines private education loan origination activities for compliance with applicable Federal consumer financial laws, including assessing whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices prohibited by the CFPA. Examinations of these entities identified at least one deceptive act or practice.

2.9.1 Deceptive Marketing Regarding Private Education Loan Rates

Examiners found that entities engaged in a deceptive act or practice by (1) advertising rates “as low as” X%, (2) disclosing certain conditions to obtain that rate (e.g., the borrower must make automatic payments and the rate was available only for applications filed by a date certain), and (3) omitting that a borrower’s rate would depend on their creditworthiness. Examiners determined that the net impression of the marketing materials misled or was likely to mislead consumers to believe the “as low as” rate was available regardless of creditworthiness. The consumers’ interpretation of such representations was reasonable under the circumstances and the entities’ misleading representations were material to consumers’ decisions to apply for a private education loan because it could impact the consumer’s decision to apply for or take the loan. As a result, the entities have removed the phrase “as low as” from its marketing materials and, rather, advertises the entire range of rates (e.g., “X.XX%–YY.YY%”). Also, each entity involved now discloses that the lowest rates are only available for the most creditworthy applicants, in addition to other disclosures.

2.10 Student Loan Servicing

The Bureau continues to examine student loan servicing activities, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive or abusive acts or practices prohibited by the CFPA. Examiners identified three types of misrepresentations servicing made regarding consumer eligibility for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program. Examiners also identified two unfair acts or practices related to failure to reverse negative consequences of automatic natural disaster forbearances and an unfair act or practice related to failing to honor consumer payment allocation.
instructions. Additionally, examiners continued to find that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices related to providing inaccurate monthly payment amounts to consumers after a loan transfer, as previously discussed in Supervisory Highlights.104

2.10.1 Public Service Loan Forgiveness

PSLF may provide significant relief for consumers that work at 501(c)(3) nonprofits; government organizations; or other types of non-profit organizations that provide certain types of qualifying public services. Under the program, consumers that make 120 qualifying payments on their Direct Loans while working for an eligible employer and repaying under an eligible repayment plan may have the balance of their loans forgiven. There is significant confusion about eligibility for PSLF, which is further complicated by the relative complexity of student loan types and terms. Consequently, examiners observed borrowers with Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) loans requesting information from servicers about their eligibility for PSLF or inquiring about terms of the program.

While FFELP loans are not initially eligible for PSLF, FFELP borrowers can consolidate into a Direct Consolidation Loan, which is eligible. Once consolidated, the consumer can start making eligible payments toward the 120 needed for forgiveness. Direct Consolidation Loan borrowers are also eligible for other benefits like improved income-driven repayment options, while their FFELP loan counterparts are not.

Examiners observed that servicers regularly provide FFELP borrowers information about PSLF. Examiners found that servicers regularly provided inaccurate information about eligibility for PSLF or Direct Consolidation Loans, resulting in deceptive acts or practices described below.

2.10.2 Misrepresenting the Effect of Employer Certification Forms

In examinations of student loan servicers, examiners identified a deceptive act or practice where servicer employees represented to FFELP loan borrowers that they could submit their employer certification forms (ECF) to receive a determination on whether their employers are eligible employers for PSLF. Yet under PSLF program guidelines, FFELP borrowers who submit an ECF prior to consolidation into a Direct Loan will be rejected.

2.10.3 Misrepresenting Eligibility of FFELP Loans for PSLF

Examiners found that servicers engaged in a deceptive act or practice by advising borrowers with FFELP loans that the loans could not become eligible for PSLF.

2.10.4 Misrepresenting Employer Types Eligible for PSLF

Examiners found that servicers directed in a deceptive act or practice by informing borrowers interested in the PSLF program that they are only eligible if their employer is a nonprofit. The PSLF program provides loan forgiveness for eligible Federal student loans after ten years of payments by consumers who meet certain requirements, including that they work for a qualifying employer. Qualifying employers include local, State, Federal or tribal government entities; 501(c)(3) nonprofits; and or other types of non-profit organizations that provide certain types of qualifying public services. Servicers stated in calls that consumers could be eligible for PSLF if they worked for nonprofits but did not mention that government employees and other types of employees are also eligible. This statement created the net impression that only employees of nonprofits were eligible. This was likely to mislead consumers, because other employment types are also eligible. This was a reasonable interpretation under the circumstances because servicers routinely provide consumers with information about eligibility for various programs. Finally, the representation was material to eligible consumers’ decision regarding whether to pursue PSLF. As a result of examiner findings, the servicers implemented a new training program for agents.

2.10.5 Failure To Reverse the Consequences of Automatic Natural Disaster Forbearances

Examiners identified unfair practices related to enrollment in natural disaster forbearances at entities servicing private student loans. Generally, student loan borrowers become eligible for a natural disaster forbearance when they, or their cosigners, reside in a zip code impacted by a declared natural disaster. In most situations this forbearance is opt-in, allowing consumers to contact their servicer and request the payment relief. However, at some servicers, examiners identified that certain populations of loans were automatically enrolled in the forbearance without a specific request from the consumer—even if they were otherwise current on their loans. Within this subset of consumers whose accounts were automatically placed into a natural disaster forbearance, examiners identified two unfair practices.

First, examiners noted that despite the natural disaster declaration, some consumers did not want to be enrolled in the forbearance and requested to return to repayment. Often consumers identified negative consequences of forbearance and complained to their servicer about enrollment. For example, forbearance resulted in certain consumers losing payment incentives such as interest rate reductions for on-time payments. Also, it resulted in consumers accruing unpaid interest during the period. And following a consumer complaint, one servicer failed to reverse the consequences of these unwanted automatic forbearances.

Second, at one servicer, enrollment in the automatic forbearance resulted in unenrollment of borrowers in the auto-debit program completely. In other words, auto-debit did not resume when these forbearances ended following cancelation of the forbearance or the regular termination of the forbearance period. This resulted in consumers becoming past due on the loan when they believed that their payments had been automatically debited.

Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury from either practice because the natural disaster forbearance was placed on their accounts automatically. Even where consumers recognized the forbearance was placed and contacted their servicer to opt-out, the servicers failed to fully reverse the consequences of the action. For consumers who explicitly do not want a natural disaster forbearance, the injuries were not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. The servicers have ceased automatically enrolling consumers in natural disaster forbearances.

2.10.6 Inaccurate Monthly Payment Amounts After Servicing Transfer

Examiners found that servicers engaged in an unfair act or practice by failing to waive or refund overcharges they assessed after loan transfers. In previous editions of Supervisory Highlights, the Bureau has discussed other findings related to inaccurately billed amounts after loan transfers.

More specifically, consumers had enrolled in Income-Based Repayment (IBR) plans that lowered their student loan payment to a percentage of their discretionary income. When the loans were transferred to new servicers, they did not honor the terms of the IBR plan and sent consumers periodic statements listing inaccurate payment amounts, and in some instances, initiated automatic electronic debits in the incorrect amount. The servicers notified consumers of the error but did not refund or offer to refund any overpayments.

The conduct caused or was likely to cause substantial injury to consumers because the servicers required payments in excess of the amount required under the terms of the consumers’ IBR plans. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury because they relied on the servicers’ calculations and representations in the periodic statements. Further, the servicers did not provide refunds to consumers if they requested refunds of the overpayments. The injury from this activity is not outweighed by the countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. For example, the benefits to consumers or competition from avoiding the cost of better monitoring of servicing transfers between entities would not outweigh the substantial injury to consumers. In response to the examination findings, these servicers added additional controls to their loan onboarding process.

2.10.7 Failure To Honor Payment Allocation Instructions

Most servicers handle multiple student loans for one borrower in combined student loan accounts. Servicers bill borrowers for the sum of the minimum monthly payments for each loan.

Examiners found that servicers engaged in an unfair practice by failing to follow borrowers’ explicit standing instructions regarding payment allocation.105

Examiners found that certain accounts contained at least one incorrectly applied payment. The failure to follow payment instructions resulted in borrowers paying more over the life of their loans or experiencing lost or delayed borrower benefits, such as co-signer release. Consumers were unable to reasonably avoid the injury because they relied on the servicers’ representation that they would allocate payments in accordance with the instructions provided. Finally, the injury from these errors is not outweighed by the countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. In response to these findings, services implemented new training and additional monitoring of payment allocation instructions.

3. Supervisory Program Developments

3.1.1 CFPB and NCUA Enter Into a MOU

The CFPB and the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) announced a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) agreement to improve coordination between the agencies related to the consumer protection supervision of credit unions with over $10 billion in assets.106

The MOU better facilitates coordinated examinations to reduce redundancy and unnecessary overlap.

CFPB and NCUA will also share information on training activities and content. Finally, the MOU will permit both agencies to share information related to supervisory activities and potential enforcement actions.

3.1.2 CFPB Issues Final Rule on the Role of Supervisory Guidance

On January 19, 2021, the CFPB issued a final rule regarding the Bureau’s use of supervisory guidance for its supervised institutions.107 The rule codifies the statement, with amendments, that the Bureau and other Federal financial regulatory agencies issued in September 2018, which clarified the differences between regulations and supervisory guidance. The final rule states that unlike a law or regulation, supervisory guidance does not have the force and effect of law and the Bureau does not take enforcement actions or issue supervisory criticisms based on non-compliance with supervisory guidance. Rather, supervisory guidance outlines supervisory expectations and priorities, or articulates views regarding appropriate practices for a given subject area.

The Bureau collaborated closely with other Federal financial regulatory agencies in this rulemaking, including by issuing a joint proposal for public comment.

3.1.3 CFPB Issues Interpretive Rule

On March 9, 2021, the Bureau issued an interpretive rule clarifying that the prohibition against sex discrimination under ECOA and Regulation B includes sexual orientation discrimination and gender identity discrimination.108 This prohibition also covers discrimination based on actual or perceived nonconformity with traditional sex- or gender-based stereotypes, and discrimination based on an applicant’s social or other associations.

3.1.4 CFPB Rescinds Its Statement of Policy on Abusive Acts or Practices

On March 11, 2021, the Bureau announced that it has rescinded its January 24, 2020 policy statement, “Statement of Policy Regarding Prohibition on Abusive Acts or Practices.” 109

--105The Bureau has previously discussed payment allocation practices in Supervisory Highlights, Issue 9, Fall 2015 and Issue 10, Winter 2016.

The Bureau intends to exercise its supervisory and enforcement authority consistent with the full scope of its statutory authority under the Dodd-Frank Act as established by Congress.

3.1.5 CFPB Rescinds Series of Policy Statements

On March 31, 2021, the Bureau announced it is rescinding seven policy statements issued last year that provided temporary flexibilities to financial institutions in consumer financial markets, including mortgages, credit reporting, credit cards and prepaid cards. The seven rescissions, effective April 1, provide guidance to financial institutions on complying with their legal and regulatory obligations. With the rescissions, the CFPB provided notice that it intends to exercise the full scope of the supervisory and enforcement authority provided under the Dodd-Frank Act.

3.1.6 Bureau Issues Bulletin Regarding Changes to Supervisory Communications

On March 31, 2021, the Bureau issued a bulletin to announce changes to how its examiners articulate supervisory expectations to supervised entities in connection with supervisory events. The bulletin states that the CFPB will continue to issue Matters Requiring Attention (MRAs), explains the circumstances under which it will do so, and announces that the CFPB will discontinue use of Supervisory Recommendations. This new bulletin rescinds and replaces CFPB Bulletin 2018–01 (September 25, 2018).

3.1.7 CFPB Compliance Bulletin Warns Mortgage Servicers: Unprepared Is Unacceptable

On April 1, 2021, the Bureau warned mortgage servicers to take all necessary steps to prevent a wave of avoidable foreclosures this fall. Millions of homeowners currently in forbearance will need help from their servicers when the pandemic-related Federal emergency mortgage protections expire this summer and fall. Servicers should dedicate sufficient resources and staff to ensure they are prepared for a surge in borrowers needing help. The CFPB will closely monitor how servicers engage with borrowers, respond to borrower requests, and process applications for loss mitigation. The CFPB will consider a servicer’s overall effectiveness in helping consumers when using its discretion to address compliance issues that arise.

3.1.8 Bureau Issues Interim Final Rule on FDCPA

On April 19, 2021, the Bureau issued an interim final rule in support of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)’s eviction moratorium. The CFPB’s rule requires debt collectors to provide written notice to tenants of their rights under the eviction moratorium and prohibits debt collectors from misrepresenting tenants’ eligibility for protection from eviction under the moratorium. The CDC established the eviction moratorium to protect the public health and reduce the spread of the Coronavirus. Debt collectors who evict tenants who may have rights under the moratorium without providing notice of the moratorium, or who misrepresent tenants' rights under the moratorium, can be prosecuted by Federal agencies and State attorneys general for violations of the FDCPA and are also subject to private lawsuits by tenants.

4. Remedial Actions

4.1 Public Enforcement Actions

The Bureau’s supervisory activities resulted in and supported the following public enforcement actions.

4.1.1 TD Bank, N.A.

On August 20, 2020, the Bureau announced a settlement with TD Bank, N.A. (TD Bank) regarding its marketing and sale of its optional overdraft service: Debit Card Advance (DCA). TD Bank is headquartered in Cherry Hill, New Jersey, and operates about 1,250 locations throughout much of the eastern part of the country. The Bureau found that TD Bank’s overdraft enrollment practices violated EFTA and Regulation E by charging consumers overdraft fees for ATM and one-time debit card transactions without obtaining their affirmative consent, and that TD Bank engaged in deceptive and abusive acts or practices in violation of the CFPA.

The Bureau specifically found that TD Bank charged consumers overdraft fees for ATM and one-time debit card transactions without obtaining their affirmative consent in violation of EFTA and Regulation E, both after new customers opened checking accounts at TD Bank branches and after new customers opened checking accounts at events held outside of bank branches.

The Bureau further found that when describing DCA to new customers, TD Bank deceptively claimed DCA was a “free” service or benefit or that it was a “feature” or “package” that “comes with” new consumer-checking accounts. In fact, TD Bank charges customers $35 for each overdraft transaction paid through DCA and DCA is an optional service that does not come with a consumer-checking account. When TD Bank enrolled some customers in DCA over the phone, TD Bank deceptively described DCA as covering transactions unlikely to be covered by DCA. In some instances, TD Bank engaged in abusive acts or practices by materially interfering with consumers’ ability to understand DCA’s terms and conditions. In some cases, TD Bank required new customers to sign its overdraft notice with the “enrolled” option pre-checked, without mentioning the DCA service to the consumer at all; enrolled new customers in DCA without the consumer enrolling; and deliberately obscured, or attempted to obscure, the overdraft notice to prevent a new 110 The rescinded policies include: Statement on Bureau Supervisory and Enforcement Response to COVID–19 Pandemic (March 26, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding Quarterly Reporting Under the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (March 26, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding CFPB Information Collections for Credit Card and Prepaid Account Issuers (March 26, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding the Fair Credit Reporting Act and Regulation V in Light of the CARES Act (April 1, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding Certain Filing Requirements Under the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act (ILSA) and Regulation J (April 27, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding Regulation Z’s Loan Origination Error Resolution Timeframes in Light of the COVID–19 Pandemic (May 13, 2020); Statement on Supervisory and Enforcement Practices Regarding Electronic Credit Card Disclosures in Light of the COVID–19 Pandemic (June 3, 2020).

111 The rescission also announces that the Bureau does not intend to continue to provide any flexibilities afforded entities in specific sections of certain interagency statements. More information is available at: https://www.consumerfinance.gov/about-us/newsroom/cfpb-rescinds-series-of-policy-statements-to-ensure-industry-complies-with-consumer-protection-laws/.

customer’s review of their pre-marked “enrolled” status in DCA.

To provide relief for consumers affected by TD Bank’s unlawful overdraft enrollment practices, the Bureau’s consent order requires TD Bank to provide an estimated $97 million in restitution to about 1.42 million consumers. TD Bank must also pay a civil money penalty of $25 million. The consent order also requires TD Bank to correct its DCA enrollment practices, stop using pre-marked overdraft notices to obtain a consumer’s affirmative consent to enroll in DCA, and adopt policies and procedures designed to ensure that TD Bank’s furnishing practices concerning nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies comply with all applicable Federal consumer financial laws.

4.1.2 Sigue Corporation

On August 31, 2020, the Bureau entered into a consent order with Sigue Corporation and its subsidiaries, SGS Corporation and GroupEx Corporation, which are all headquartered in Sylmar, California, provide consumers with international money-transfer services, including remittance-transfer services.

The Bureau’s investigation of Sigue and its subsidiaries found that between 2013 and 2019, they violated EFTA and the Remittance Transfer Rule. Specifically, the Bureau found that Sigue and its subsidiaries failed to refund transaction fees when they did not make funds available by the disclosed date of availability, and they failed to inform consumers of the remedies available for remittance errors. When Sigue and its subsidiaries investigated remittance errors, they failed to report to consumers in writing the results of their investigations into transaction errors or consumers’ rights as required by the Remittance Transfer Rule. Sigue and its subsidiaries also failed to develop and maintain adequate written policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with the Remittance Transfer Rule and maintain a compliance-management system that is designed to ensure that their operations comply with the Remittance Transfer Rule, including conducting training and oversight of all agents, employees, and service providers, and not violating the Remittance Transfer Rule in the future.

4.1.3 Lobel Financial Corporation

On September 21, 2020, the Bureau issued a consent order against Lobel Financial Corporation (Lobel), an auto- loan servicer based in Anaheim, California.117

The Bureau found that Lobel engaged in unfair practices with respect to its Loss Damage Waiver (LDW) product, in violation of the CFPA. When a borrower has insufficient insurance, rather than force-placing CPI, Lobel places the LDW product, which is not itself insurance, on borrower accounts and charges a monthly premium. The LDW product provides that Lobel will pay for the cost of covered repairs and, in the event of a total vehicle loss, cancel the borrower’s debt. The Bureau’s investigation found that, since 2012, Lobel charged customers LDW premiums after they had become ten-days delinquent on their auto loans but did not provide them with LDW coverage. The Bureau also found that Lobel charged some customers LDW-related fees that Lobel had not disclosed in its LDW contract.

The Order requires Lobel to pay $1,345,224 in consumer redress to approximately 4,000 harmed consumers and a $100,000 civil money penalty. The consent order also prohibits Lobel from failing to provide consumers with LDW coverage or similar products or services for which it has charged consumers or from charging consumers fees that are not authorized by its LDW contracts.

4.1.4 Envios de Valores La Nacional Corp.

On December 21, 2020, the Bureau announced a consent order with Envios de Valores La Nacional Corp. (La Nacional) based on the Bureau’s finding that La Nacional violated EFTA and the Remittance Transfer Rule.118 La Nacional is a large remittance transfer provider incorporated in New York and licensed in 15 states and the District of Columbia. La Nacional paid $2.2 billion in remittance transfers between November 2016 and April 2018 from the United States to recipients in several countries in Central America, South America, the Caribbean, and Africa.

The Bureau found that, since the 2013 effective date of the Remittance Transfer Rule, La Nacional has engaged in thousands of violations of the Remittance Transfer Rule. Specifically, the Bureau’s investigation found that La Nacional violated EFTA and the Remittance Transfer Rule by failing to honor cancellation requests and failing to refund certain fees and taxes when funds were not available on time. The Bureau also found that La Nacional has failed to maintain appropriate error resolution policies and procedures, to adhere to error resolution requirements, and to provide consumers with reports of investigation findings. The Bureau further found that La Nacional has failed to treat international bill pay services as remittance transfers and to make proper disclosures in numerous instances.

The consent order requires La Nacional to pay a $750,000 civil money penalty and imposes requirements to prevent future violations. Under the terms of the consent order, in addition to paying a penalty, La Nacional must adopt a compliance plan to ensure that its remittance transfer acts and practices comply with all applicable Federal consumer financial laws and the consent order.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

This system of records supports the SECO and MyCAA Programs, which make resources and tools available to help military spouses with career exploration and discovery, career education and training, employment readiness, and career connections at any point within the military spouse’s career. The DoD SECO Program, with the addition of the MyCAA Program, will assist military spouses in pursuing licenses, certificates, certifications or Associate’s degrees (excluding Associate’s degrees in general studies, liberal arts, and interdisciplinary studies that do not have a concentration) necessary for gainful employment in high demand, high-growth portable career fields and occupations. The system allows the spouse to build a profile including their contact information, education, and employment data. The system allows the spouse to save information over time to easily prepopulate it into tools such as resume builders and career and education planning resources. Records in this system may also be used as a management tool for statistical analysis, tracking, reporting, evaluating program effectiveness, conducting research, and for surveys to inform departmental decisions on military support and benefits policy.

Subject to public comment, the DoD proposes to update this SORN to add the standard DoD routine uses (routine uses A through I) and to allow for additional disclosures outside DoD related to the purpose of this system of records. Additionally, the following sections of the DPR 46 SORN are also being changed: System name, system location, authority, purpose, categories of records, record source categories, retrieval of records, retention and disposal of records, safeguards, contesting records, notification procedures, and history.

DoD SORNs have been published in the Federal Register and are available from the address in FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT or at the Defense Privacy, Civil Liberties, and Transparency Division (DPCLTD) website at https://dpcltd.defense.gov/Privacy/.

II. Privacy Act

Under the Privacy Act, a “system of records” is a group of records under the control of an agency from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual. In the Privacy Act, an individual is defined as a U.S. citizen or lawful permanent resident.

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(r) and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A–108, DPCLTD has provided a report of this system of records to the OMB and to Congress.

Records are maintained in electronic storage media. Electronic records may be stored in agency-owned cloud environments; or in vendor Cloud Service Offerings certified under the Federal Risk and Authorization Management Program (FedRAMP).

Policies and Practices for Retrieval of Records:

Information in this system may be retrieved by name, DoD ID number, or MyCAA profile number.

Policies and Practices for Retention and Disposal of Records:

A. SECO user accounts and records are deleted after 3 consecutive years of inactivity.

B. MyCAA records are destroyed 10 years after notification of separation, retirement, or discharge of the spouse’s sponsor/service member.

Administrative, Technical, and Physical Safeguards:

Unauthorized access to records is low due to the system being hosted on a DoD Risk Management Framework lifecycle cybersecurity infrastructure. Electronic records are maintained on a military installation in a secure building in a controlled area accessible only to authorized personnel. Physical entry is restricted by the use of locks and passwords and administrative procedures which are changed periodically. The system is designed with access controls, comprehensive intrusion detection, and virus protection. Access to personally identifiable information is role based and restricted to those requiring the data in the performance of their official duties and upon completing annual information assurance and privacy training. Records are encrypted during transmission to protect session information and at rest. Encrypted random tokens are implemented to protect against session hijacking attempts.

Record Access Procedures:

Individuals seeking access to their records should follow the procedures in 32 CFR part 310. Individuals should address written inquires to the Office of the Secretary of Defense/Joint Staff Freedom of Information Act Requester Service Center, 1155 Defense Pentagon, Washington, DC 20301–1155. Signed, written requests should include the individual’s full name, DoD ID number, current address, and telephone number and this system of records notice number. In addition, the requester must provide either a notarized signature or an unsworn declaration made in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 1746, in the following format:

If executed outside the United States: “I declare (or certify, verify, or state) under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date). (Signature).”

If executed within the United States, its territories, possessions, or commonwealths: “I declare (or certify, verify, or state) under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date). (Signature).”

Contesting Record Procedures:

The DoD rules for accessing records, contesting contents, and appealing initial agency determinations are contained in 32 CFR part 310.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Notice of Request for Information (RFI) Regarding Hydropower Incentive Program Definitions

ACTION: Request for information (RFI).

SUMMARY: The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) invites public comment on its Request for Information (RFI) number DE-FOA-0002511 regarding a proposed definition for areas in which there is inadequate electric service. This is a new application requirement added to DOE’s hydropower incentive program through the Energy Act of 2020. DOE’s Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy (EERE) Water Power Technologies Office (WPTO) seeks input on the proposed definition, which will apply to DOE’s hydropower incentive program.

DATES: Responses to the RFI must be received no later than 11:59 p.m. EST on September 7, 2021.

ADDRESSES: Interested parties are to submit comments electronically to hydropowerincentive@ee.doe.gov. Include definition of “an area in which there is inadequate electric service” concerning Section 242 in the subject of the title. Only electronic responses will be accepted. The complete RFI is located at https://eere-exchange.energy.gov/.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Questions may be addressed to Corey Vezina, email at hydropowerincentive@ee.doe.gov or phone number (240) 562–1382. Further instruction can be found in the RFI document posted on EERE Exchange.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this RFI is to solicit feedback from industry, academia, research laboratories, government agencies, and other stakeholders on issues related to the proposed definition of “an area in which there is inadequate electric service.” WPTO is updating its application requirements for the hydropower incentive program authorized under Section 242 of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 (Pub. L. 109–58), 42 U.S.C. 15881. Section 3005 of the Energy Act of 2020 (Pub. L. 116–260) amended Section 242 of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 by expanding the definition of a qualified hydropower facility to include certain facilities “constructed in an area in which there is inadequate electric service.” To define this term, section 3005 requires the Secretary to take into consideration (a) access to the electric grid; (b) the frequency of electric outages; or (c) the affordability of electricity. EERE is specifically interested in identifying potential issues or conflicts that may arise from applying the proposed definition during the application review process. This is solely a request for information and not a Funding Opportunity Announcement. EERE is not accepting applications at this time.

Confidential Business Information: According to 10 CFR 1004.11, any person submitting information that he or she believes to be confidential and exempt by law from public disclosure should submit via email, postal mail, or hand delivery two well-marked copies: One copy of the document marked “confidential” including all the information believed to be confidential, and one copy of the document marked “non-confidential” with the information believed to be confidential deleted. Submit these documents via email or on a CD, if feasible. DOE will make its own determination about the confidential status of the information and treat it according to its determination.

It is DOE’s policy that all comments may be included in the public docket, without change and as received, including any personal information provided in the comments (except information deemed to be exempt from public disclosure).

Signing Authority: This document of the Department of Energy was signed on June 17, 2021, by Kelly Speakes-Backman, Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary and Acting Assistant Secretary for Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy, pursuant to delegated authority from the Secretary of Energy. That document with the original signature and date is maintained by DOE. For administrative purposes only, and in compliance with requirements of the Office of the Federal Register, the undersigned DOE Federal Register Liaison Officer has been authorized to sign and implement in electronic format for publication, as an official document of the Department of Energy. This administrative process in no way alters the legal effect of this document upon publication in the Federal Register.

Signed in Washington, DC, on July 2, 2021.

Treena V. Garrett,
Federal Register Liaison Officer, U.S. Department of Energy.

Western Area Power Administration

Desert Southwest Region and Western Area Lower Colorado Balancing Authority—Rate Order No. WAPA–200

AGENCY: Western Area Power Administration, DOE.

ACTION: Notice of proposed extension of formula rates.

SUMMARY: The Desert Southwest Region (DSW) of the Western Area Power Administration (WAPA) proposes to extend existing formula rates for Network Integration Transmission Service (Network) on the Parker-Davis Project (P–DP) and Pacific Northwest-Pacific Southwest Intertie Project (Intertie), along with formula rates for ancillary services, transmission losses, and unreserved use penalties applicable to Western Area Lower Colorado Balancing Authority. The existing formula rates under Rate Schedules PD–NTS4, INT–NTS4, DSW–SD4, DSW–RS4, DSW–FR4, DSW–EI4, DSW–SPR4, DSW–SUR4, DSW–GI2, DSW–TL1, and DSW–UU1 expire on September 30, 2021. These rate schedules would remain unchanged and would be extended through September 30, 2026.

DATES: A consultation and comment period will begin July 8, 2021 and end July 23, 2021. DSW will accept written comments at any time during the consultation and comment period.

ADDRESSES: Written comments and requests to be informed of Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) actions concerning the proposed extension submitted by WAPA to FERC for approval should be sent to: Jack D. Murray, Acting Regional Manager, Desert Southwest Region, Western Area Power Administration, P.O. Box 6457, Phoenix, AZ 85005–6457, or email: dswpwrmrk@wapa.gov. DSW will post information about the proposed formula rate extension and written comments received to its website at: https://www.wapa.gov/regions/DSW/Rates/Pages/rates.aspx.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Tina Ramsey, Rates Manager, Desert Southwest Region, Western Area Power Administration, (602) 605–2565 or email: dswpwrmrk@wapa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: On January 12, 2017, FERC approved and confirmed Rate Schedules P–DP Network (PD–NTS4), Intertie Network (INT–NTS4), Scheduling, System Control, and Dispatch (DSW–SD4), Reactive Supply and Voltage Control (DSW–RS4), Regulation and Frequency Response (DSW–FR4), Energy Imbalance (DSW–EI4), Generator Imbalance (DSW–GI2), Spinning Reserve (DSW–SPR4), Supplemental Reserve (DSW–SUR4), Transmission Losses (DSW–TL1), and Unreserved Use Penalties (DSW–UU1) under Rate Order No. WAPA–175 for a 5-year period through September 30, 2021. These rate schedules also contain formula rates that are calculated each fiscal year to include the most recent financial, load, and schedule information, as applicable. In accordance with 10 CFR 903.23(a), DSW is proposing to extend the existing formula rates under these Rate Schedules for Network, ancillary services, transmission losses, and unreserved use penalties for a 5-year period through September 30, 2026. The existing formula rates for these services were designed to recover the costs incurred for providing each service, which is consistent with the cost recovery criteria set forth in Department of Energy (DOE) Order No. RA 6120.2. These formula rates continue to provide sufficient revenue to cover expenses, and no adjustments are necessary.

In accordance with 10 CFR 903.23(a), WAPA has determined it is not necessary to hold public information or public comment forums for this rate action, but is initiating a 15-day consultation and comment period to give the public an opportunity to comment on the proposed extension. DSW will review and consider all timely public comments at the conclusion of the consultation and comment period and adjust the proposal, if appropriate.

Legal Authority

By Delegation Order No. 00–037.00B, effective November 19, 2016, the Secretary of Energy delegated: (1) The authority to develop power and transmission rates to WAPA’s Administrator; (2) the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on an interim basis to the Deputy Secretary of Energy; and (3) the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on a final basis, or to remand or disapprove such rates, to FERC. By Delegation Order No. S1–DE-01–2021, effective February 25, 2021, the Acting Secretary of Energy also delegated the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on an interim basis to the Under Secretary for Science (and Energy). By Delegation Order No. S4–DEL–OE1–2021, effective March 25, 2021, the Acting Under Secretary for Science (and Energy) redelegated the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on an interim basis to the Assistant Secretary for Electricity. By Delegation Order No. 00–002.10–05, effective July 8, 2020, the Assistant Secretary for Electricity further redelegated the authority to confirm, approve, and place such rates into effect on an interim basis to WAPA’s Administrator. This redelegation order, despite predating the February 2021 and March 2021 delegations, remains valid.

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of a modified System of Records.

SUMMARY: The Federal Communications Commission (FCC, Commission, or Agency) has modified an existing system of records, FCC/OMD–32, FCC Telework Program, subject to the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. This action is necessary to meet the requirements of the Privacy Act to publish in the Federal Register notice of the existence and character of records maintained by the Agency. The records in this system contain personally identifiable information from employees including employment information such as title, grade, series, bureau or office, supervisory chain; work contact information; alternate worksite information; and justification documentation for requests for long-distance or fulltime telework that describe a temporary employee hardship. The FCC uses the information to manage the telework program, including conducting audits and reports. This notice serves to modify FCC/OMD–32 to reflect various necessary changes and updates, including format changes required by OMB Circular A–108 since its previous publication, edits to existing routine uses, deleting five routine uses, and the addition of three routine uses, two of which address data breaches, as required by OMB Memorandum M–17–12. The substantive changes and modification to the previously published version of FCC/OMD–32 include:

2. Updating the System Location to show the FCC’s new headquarters address.
4. 6. Replacing the Disclosures to Consumer Reporting section with a new Reporting to a Consumer Reporting Agency section to address valid and overdue debts owed by individuals to the FCC under the Debt Collection Act, as recommended by OMB.

7. Adding a History section referencing the previous publication of this SORN in the Federal Register, as required by OMB Circular A–108.

The system of records is also updated to reflect various administrative changes related to the policy and practices for storage of the information: administrative, technical, and physical safeguards; and updated notification, records access, and procedures to contest records.

The statute also provides that a notice be posted on the premises of the branch for the 30-day period immediately prior to the closing and that the customers be notified in a mailing at least 90 days prior to the closing. Each insured depository institution that has one or more branches is required to adopt a written policy for branch closings.

General Description of Collection: This information collection consists of two parts: (1) A certification that insured depository institutions provide the FDIC when all deposit liabilities from one insured depository institution are assumed from another insured depository institution, with the latter institution responsible for providing the certification, and (2) a notification that an insured depository institution provides to its depositors when it seeks to voluntarily terminate its insured status. The certification is necessary to implement the provisions of section 8(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1818(q), regarding termination of the insured status of the transferring institution and termination of the separate deposit insurance coverage provided on deposit accounts assumed by the assuming institution. The notification is required by section 8(a)(6) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1818(a)(6). This provision ensures that the institution’s depositors receive appropriate information concerning federal deposit insurance coverage of their accounts once the institution’s insured status is terminated.

3. Title: Large-Bank Deposit Insurance Programs.

OMB Number: 3064–0162.

Form Number: None.

Affected Public: Insured depository institutions having at least $2 billion in deposits and at least either: (a) 250,000 deposit accounts; or (b) $20 billion in total assets, regardless of the number of deposit accounts (a “covered institution”).
General Description of Collection:

Upon the failure of an FDIC-insured depository institution, the FDIC is required to pay insured deposits as soon as possible. To do so, the FDIC must be able to quickly determine the total insured amount for each depositor. To make this determination, the FDIC must ascertain the balances of all deposit accounts owned by the same depositor in the same ownership capacity at a failed institution as of the day of failure. The FDIC requires institutions that are covered by Section 360.9 to provide the FDIC with this information promptly after the close of any day's business, and helps to preserve the franchise value of a failed institution, thereby reducing costs to the FDIC in the event that a covered institution fails.

This information collection consists of eight distinct reporting and recordkeeping requirements (ICs) that impose annual burden on covered institutions. Three of these eight reporting requirements have an implementation component as well as an ongoing component: (1) Section 360.9(c)(3) (IC requirements C and H, below) requires covered institutions to provide certain information to the FDIC both while the institution is implementing the systems required under 360.9 (IC requirement C) and on an ongoing basis (IC requirement H); (2) Section 360.9(c)(9) (IC requirements D and I, below) permits institutions to request an exemption from certain requirements of Section 360.9. Institutions could submit such requests either while they are implementing the systems required under Section 360.9 (IC requirement D) or after they are already in compliance with Section 360.9 (IC requirement I); (3) Section 360.9(f) (IC requirements G and J, below) permits institutions to request an exemption from all of the requirements of Section 360.9 under certain conditions. Institutions could submit such requests either while they are

Section 360.9 also requires institutions to have in place practices and procedures for providing the FDIC, in a standard format, information on the accounts and customers of the institution, and to provide the FDIC with this information upon request. The purpose of these requirements is to allow the deposit and other operations of a covered institution to be determined in the event of a failure. The FDIC requires institutions that are covered under Section 360.9 to have mechanisms in place that will automatically place a provisional hold on domestic and foreign deposit accounts, and sweep and automated credit account arrangements, in the event that a covered institution is close to failing. A "provisional hold" is defined in 12 CFR Section 360.9(b)(6) as "an effective restriction on access to some or all of a deposit or other liability account after the failure of an insured depository institution." Section 360.9 implementing the systems required under Section 360.9 (IC requirement G) or after they are already in compliance with Section 360.9 (IC requirement J).

Since reporting by institutions pursuant to Sections 360.9(c)(3), 360.9(c)(9), and 360.9(f) are counted as both implementation and ongoing requirements, this IC contains eleven requirements in total. These requirements, with corresponding CFR sections, are listed and described as follows:

A. 360.9(c)(1) and (2) (Implementation)—Require covered institutions to set up systems for automatically placing provisional holds on domestic and foreign deposit accounts and sweep and automated credit account arrangements

B. 360.9(d)(1) and (2) (Implementation)—Require covered institutions to establish practices and procedures for the FDIC, in a standard format upon the close of any day’s business, customer and depositor data for all deposit accounts held in domestic and foreign offices and interest bearing investment accounts connected with sweep and automated credit arrangements

C. 360.9(c)(3) (Implementation)—Requires covered institutions to notify the FDIC of the person(s) responsible for producing the standard data download and administering provisional holds, both while the functionality is being constructed and on an ongoing basis (IC requirement I).

D. 360.9(c)(9) (Implementation)—Permits covered institutions to submit to the FDIC a request for an exemption from the provisional hold requirements for those account systems servicing a relatively small number of accounts where the application of manual provisional holds is feasible, both while the systems are being constructed and on an ongoing basis (IC requirement J).

E. 360.9(d)(3) (Implementation)—Requires covered institutions to submit the data required by 360.9(d)(1) to the FDIC upon request both while the systems are being constructed on an ongoing basis (IC requirement K).

F. 360.9(e)(7) (Implementation)—Permits covered institutions to submit to the FDIC a request for an extension of the deadline for complying with the requirements of Section 360.9.

G. 360.9(f) (Implementation)—Permits covered institutions to apply for an exemption from the requirements of Section 360.9, if the institution has a high concentration of deposits incidental to credit card operations both during the implementation period in the first year on an ongoing basis (IC requirement H).

H. 360.9(c)(3) (Ongoing)—Requires covered institutions to provide the information described in IC requirement C above to the FDIC on an ongoing basis.

I. 360.9(c)(9) (Ongoing)—Permits covered institutions to request an exemption from the provisional hold requirements, as described in IC requirement D above, both while the systems are being constructed and on an ongoing basis.

J. 360.9(f) (Ongoing)—Permits covered institutions to apply for an exemption from the requirements of Section 360.9, as described in IC requirement G above, at any time after the institution is in compliance with the requirements of Section 360.9 if the institution has a high concentration of deposits incidental to credit card operations.

K. 360.9(h) (Ongoing)—Requires covered institutions to provide appropriate assistance to the FDIC in its testing of the systems required under Section 360.9.

General Description of Collection: The FDIC’s deposit insurance assessment authority is set forth in Section 7 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. 1817(b) and (c) and promulgated in regulations under 12 CFR part 327. These regulations also set out the process for making adjustments to the total score of these institutions used by the FDIC in making deposit insurance assessments. Depository institutions are permitted to make a written request to the FDIC for an adjustment. An institution is able to request review of, or appeal, an upward adjustment, the magnitude of an upward adjustment, removal of a previously implemented downward adjustment or an increase in a previously implemented upward adjustment through the FDIC’s internal review process set forth at 12 CFR 327.4(c). An institution can similarly request review of or appeal a decision not to apply an adjustment following a request by the institution for an adjustment.

An institution can submit its written request for an adjustment to the FDIC’s Director of the Division of Insurance and Research in Washington, DC. In making such a request, the institution will provide support by including evidence of a material risk or risk-mitigating factor that it believed was not adequately considered.

5. Title: Regulatory Capital Rules: Regulatory Capital, Revisions to the Supplementary Leverage Ratio.

Form Number: None.

Affected Public: Insured state nonmember banks and state savings associations that are subject to the FDIC’s advanced approaches risk-based capital rules.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Final EA and FONS1 have been prepared to comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969, as amended (42 U.S. Code [U.S.C.] 4321), as implemented by Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) regulations (40 Code of Federal Regulations [CFR] 1500–1508), and policies of the GSA as the lead federal agency. The EA process provides steps and procedures to evaluate the potential social, economic, and environmental impacts from the construction of the proposed FMCSA Bus Inspection Facility at the San Ysidro LPOE while providing an opportunity for local, state, or federal agencies to provide input and/or comment through scoping, public information meetings, and/or a public hearing. The social, economic, and environmental considerations are evaluated and measured, as defined in the CEQ regulations, by their magnitude of impacts.

The bus inspection station allows for FMCSA to conduct inspections of buses entering the United States from Mexico. FMCSA is required to conduct meaningful vehicle safety inspections and to accommodate vehicles placed out of service because of these inspections. The current bus inspection operations at the San Ysidro LPOE lacks the necessary infrastructure for bus inspections and is not adequate to maintain regular inspections. Therefore, the LPOE does not efficiently address safety needs for the travelling public, FMCSA staff, nor the capacity needs identified in future traffic projections at the LPOE. The lack of dedicated bus inspection infrastructure exposes FMCSA to safety risks while conducting inspections and is not in conformance with current FMCSA safety standards.

GSA proposes to construct a new FMCSA Bus Inspection facility on a 1.5-acre parcel located north of the existing LPOE.

A public scoping meeting on the project was held on June 18, 2019. Comments received during the meeting were considered by GSA in a Draft EA. The Draft EA was made available for public comment on May 15, 2020. Comments received during the one-month comment period were considered by GSA in this Final EA. The FONS1, which is based on the Final EA, reflects the GSA’s determination that construction of the proposed facility will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human or natural environment.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
I. Background
The Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984 (Pub. L. 98–417) and the Generic Animal Drug and Patent Term Restoration Act (Pub. L. 100–670) generally provide that a patent may be extended for a period of up to 5 years so long as the patented item (human drug product, animal drug product, medical device, food additive, or color additive) was subject to regulatory review by FDA before the item was marketed. Under these acts, a product’s regulatory review period forms the basis for determining the amount of extension an applicant may receive.

A regulatory review period consists of two periods of time: A testing phase and an approval phase. For human drug products, the testing phase begins when the exemption to permit the clinical investigations of the drug becomes effective and runs until the approval phase begins. The approval phase starts with the initial submission of an application to market the human drug product and continues until FDA grants permission to market the drug product. Although only a portion of a regulatory review period may count toward the actual amount of extension that the Director of USPTO may award (for example, half the testing phase must be subtracted as well as any time that may have occurred before the patent was issued), FDA’s determination of the length of a regulatory review period for a human drug product will include all of the testing phase and approval phase as specified in 35 U.S.C. 156(g)(1)(B).

FDA has approved for marketing the human drug product, PIQRAY (alpelisib). PIQRAY is indicated in combination with fulvestrant for the treatment of postmenopausal women, and men, with hormone receptor-positive, human epidermal growth factor receptor 2-negative, PIK3CA-mutated, advanced or metastatic breast cancer as detected by an FDA-approved test following progression on or after an endocrine-based regimen. Subsequent to this approval, the USPTO received patent term restoration applications for PIQRAY (U.S. Patent Nos. 8,277,462 and 8,476,268) from Novartis AG and the USPTO requested FDA’s assistance in determining the patents’ eligibility for patent term restoration. In a letter dated December 23, 2019, FDA advised the USPTO that this human drug product had undergone a regulatory review period and that the approval of PIQRAY represented the first permitted commercial marketing or use of the product. Thereafter, the USPTO requested that FDA determine the product’s regulatory review period.
II. Determination of Regulatory Review Period

FDA has determined that the applicable regulatory review period for PIQRAY is 3,264 days. Of this time, 3,106 days occurred during the testing phase of the regulatory review period, while 158 days occurred during the approval phase. These periods of time were derived from the following dates:

FDA has verified the applicant’s claim that the date the investigational new drug application became effective was on June 18, 2010.

2. The date the application was initially submitted with respect to the human drug product under section 505 of the FD&C Act: December 18, 2018.

The applicant claims October 26, 2018, as the date the new drug application (NDA) for PIQRAY (NDA 212526) was initially submitted. However, FDA records indicate that NDA 212526 was submitted on December 18, 2018.

3. The date the application was approved: May 24, 2019. FDA has verified the applicant’s claim that NDA 212526 was approved on May 24, 2019.

This determination of the regulatory review period establishes the maximum potential length of a patent extension. However, the USPTO applies several statutory limitations in its calculations of the actual period for patent extension. In its applications for patent extension, this applicant seeks 969 or 1,156 days of patent term extension.

III. Petitions

Anyone with knowledge that any of the dates as published are incorrect may submit either electronic or written comments and, under 21 CFR 60.24, ask for a redetermination (see DATES).

Furthermore, as specified in §60.30 (21 CFR 60.30), any interested person may petition FDA for a determination regarding whether the applicant for extension acted with due diligence during the regulatory review period. To meet its burden, the petition must comply with all the requirements of §60.30, including but not limited to: Must be timely (see DATES), must be filed in accordance with §10.20, must contain sufficient facts to merit an FDA investigation, and must certify that a true and complete copy of the petition has been served upon the patent applicant. (See H. Rept. 657, part 1, 98th Cong., 2d sess., pp. 41–42, 1984.)

Petitions should be in the format specified in 21 CFR 10.10.

Submit petitions electronically to https://www.regulations.gov at Docket No. FDA–2013–S–0610. Submit written petitions (two copies are required) to the Dockets Management Staff (HFA–305), Food and Drug Administration, 5630 Fishers Lane, Rm. 1061, Rockville, MD 20852.

II. Background

The Coast Guard is issuing this request for information in response to Executive Orders 13990 and 14008, which have established the protection of public health and the environment, the mitigation of climate change, and the advancement of environmental justice as policy priorities for this Administration. Executive Order 13990, Protecting Public Health and the Environment and Restoring Science To Tackle the Climate Crisis,1 states that the Administration’s policy is to listen to science; to ensure access to clean air and water; to limit exposure to dangerous chemicals and pesticides; to hold polluters accountable, including those that disproportionately harm communities of color and low-income communities; to reduce greenhouse gas emissions; to bolster resilience to the impacts of climate change; to restore and expand our national treasures and monuments; and to prioritize both environmental justice and the creation of the well-paying union jobs necessary to deliver on these goals. The Order directs agencies to seek input from the public and stakeholders, including State, local, Tribal, and territorial officials, scientists, labor unions, environmental advocates, and environmental justice organizations.

The Order directs agencies immediately to review all regulations, orders, guidance documents, policies, or any other similar agency actions undertaken between January 20, 2017, and January 20, 2021, that are inconsistent with the listed policy priorities. In addition, agencies are directed to contemplate and consider whether to take any additional agency actions, within their authority, to fully enforce the listed policy priorities.

Executive Order 14008, Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad,2 further places the climate crisis at the center of U.S. foreign policy and national security by deploying the full capacity of its agencies to combat the climate crisis, by implementing a Government-wide approach that reduces climate pollution in every sector of the economy; by increasing resilience to the impacts of climate change; by protecting public health; by conserving our lands, waters, and biodiversity; by delivering environmental justice; and by spurring well-paying jobs and economic growth, especially through innovation, commercialization, and deployment of clean energy technologies and infrastructure. The Order states that successfully meeting these challenges will require the Federal Government to pursue a coordinated approach from planning to implementation, coupled with substantive engagement by stakeholders, including State, local, and Tribal governments.

This request for information is also consistent with Executive Order 13563, Improving Regulation and Regulatory Review, which calls for a regulatory system that is based on the best available science and protects public health, welfare, safety, and our environment while promoting economic growth, innovation, competitiveness, and job creation. The Executive Order directs agencies to consider how best to promote retrospective analysis of rules that may be outdated, ineffective, insufficient, or excessively burdensome, and to modify, streamline, expand, or repeal them in accordance with what has been learned. Executive Order 13563 is affirmed in the President’s Memorandum of January 20, 2021, Modernizing Regulatory Review. The Coast Guard seeks this input recognizing the importance of reevaluating programs to reduce unnecessary barriers to effectiveness, adapt to new technologies, and ensure mission resiliency when combating and responding to climate change.

III. Coast Guard Missions and Authorities

The Coast Guard seeks input on how best to use the Coast Guard’s statutory authorities to implement these orders and to reduce the risks associated with climate change. Many of the Coast Guard’s missions are identified in brief at 6 U.S.C. 468. All of these missions contribute to the facilitation of safe, secure, and environmentally responsible commerce through our stewardship of the marine transportation system. These missions include marine safety; search and rescue; aids to navigation; living marine resources (fisheries law enforcement); marine environmental protection; ice operations; ports, waterways and coastal security; drug interdiction; migrant interdiction; defense readiness; and other law enforcement.

These authorities are connected, of course, with the risks associated with climate change. The Coast Guard also has important responsibilities in acquiring scientific information, including information involving the effects of climate change, and in issuing regulations. While the Coast Guard holds a wide range of regulatory and operational authorities to fulfill these missions, the Coast Guard frequently shares responsibility for these missions with other agencies. In some cases the Coast Guard has the authority to revise regulations, guidelines, policies, or processes to address particular problems in particular ways; in other cases the Coast Guard may be unable to act without the assistance of another agency, or may be unable to act at all. Commenters are therefore encouraged to focus comments on matters within the Coast Guard’s authorities, to the extent known to the commenter.

Location of Coast Guard Regulations

Coast Guard regulations fall within three general categories in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR)—navigation and navigable waters, shipping, and transportation. Below are the three corresponding titles in the CFR (and the parts in those titles) where you will find our regulations:

- 33 CFR Chapter I (parts 1 through 199),
- 46 CFR Chapters I (parts 1 through 199) and III (parts 400 through 499), and
- 49 CFR Chapter IV (parts 400 through 499).

You can view these regulations on https://www.govinfo.gov/ or https://www.ecfr.gov. In the CFR, you will find bracketed references to rules published in the Federal Register (for example, xx FR xxxx, date). The Federal Register publications differ from the CFR in that through the preamble language, we fully explain our reasoning for establishing the regulations in that CFR part or section and our estimates of the costs and benefits of those regulations. Rules published since at least 1990 will be available in the Federal Register library on https://www.govinfo.gov/.

Our rulemaking documents published in the Federal Register also include a number that identifies our online docket. On https://www.regulations.gov, using that docket number, you should be able to find supporting and related material we provided for that rule, including a cost-benefit analysis. In our dockets, you will also find notices of proposed rulemaking and submissions from interested persons who commented on our initial proposal for the regulations that appear in the final rule. The preamble of the final rule contains our responses to those comments.

Location of Coast Guard Guidance Documents

You can find Coast Guard guidance documents online via https://www.uscg.mil/guidance. Guidance documents include Navigation and Vessel Inspection Circulars (NVICs), policy letters, bulletins, handbooks, and other items meant to inform the public. On this site, guidance documents are categorized by the Coast Guard office that issued and maintains the documents.

IV. Request for Information

The Coast Guard seeks public comments and suggestions on actions we can take, within our statutory authority, to combat and respond to climate change. As noted above, our mission areas encompass maritime operations, safety, security, environmental stewardship, and facilitation of the maritime commerce that contributes so crucially to a vibrant U.S. economy.

The actions we might take could include revising current regulations, guidelines, policies, or processes that unjustifiably impede or fail to support the development and use of technologies and best practices to combat or respond to climate change in the marine transportation system. We might also orient our efforts to acquire and disseminate information about the effects of climate change in particular ways (for example, through use of data.gov).

When considering your comments and suggestions, we ask that you keep in mind our missions to ensure a safe, secure, and resilient marine transportation system that facilitates commerce and secures national security interests. Commenters should consider the below principles as they answer and respond to the questions in this notice.

- Commenters should identify, with specificity, the program, regulation, or policy at issue, providing the Code of Federal Regulation (CFR) citation where appropriate.
- Commenters should provide, in as much detail as possible, an explanation why a program, regulation, or policy should be modified, streamlined, expanded, or repealed, as well as specific suggestions of ways the agency can better achieve its statutory and regulatory objectives in light of the executive orders cited.

3 76 FR 3821 (published Jan. 21, 2011).

- Commenters should provide specific data that document the costs, burdens, and benefits of existing requirements or programs or proposed changes to them, to the extent they are available.

The following questions might help guide your comments and suggestions. Given the Coast Guard’s current missions and statutory authority:

1. Do you have suggestions for changes to our current programs, regulations, or policies that would combat climate change or bolster resilience to the impacts of climate change or adapt to its impacts, such as sea level rise?

2. What do you think the primary implications of climate change are for our mission areas?

3. How will climate change affect Coast Guard programs, missions, regulations, and policies in the future?

4. How might the Coast Guard orient or re-orient its efforts to acquire information about the effects of climate change, and how might it best disseminate that information?

5. How do you think the Coast Guard can advance the objectives of environmental justice?

6. Are you aware of any new or emerging technologies appropriate for use in maritime facilities or other industry assets that we should consider when exploring alternatives to address climate change?

7. Which Coast Guard mission areas do you think are most likely to be affected by climate change? How would they be affected?

8. What do you think are the most crucial challenges we will face to address climate change in our programs, missions, regulations, and policies?

9. Do our existing regulations unjustifiably impede or fail to support the development and use of technologies or best practices that would help us address climate change?

10. Are our regulations restrictive on the use of alternative fuels that produce fewer harmful emissions? If so, how? What, specifically, might we do to reduce greenhouse gas emissions?

11. Do our current policies, such as NVIGs or other guidance documents, impede or fail to support the development and use of technologies or best practices to address climate change? If so, how?

12. Is the process of requesting a determination of equivalency to use an alternative approach to regulatory requirements that might address climate change burdensome?

13. What regulatory, policy, or other incentives could the Coast Guard provide to encourage development and use of technologies or best practices in the marine transportation system to combat and respond to climate change?

14. Are there current Coast Guard regulations, guidance, policies, or processes that contribute to climate change? If so, please explain which ones and how.

15. What sources of existing data or studies can Coast Guard use to evaluate the economic impact—positive or negative—from reducing the environmental footprint of USCG programs, regulations, or policies with regards to climate change?

16. What do you expect would be the positive or negative environmental results of the Coast Guard addressing climate change in the maritime domain, particularly in sensitive areas such as the Arctic and U.S. coastal zones?

17. Are there Coast Guard programs, regulations, or policies that do not bolster resilience to the impacts of climate change, particularly for those disproportionately impacted by climate change, and, if so, what are they? How can those programs, regulations, or policies be modified, expanded, streamlined, or repealed to bolster resilience to the impacts of climate change?

18. Do you have any suggestions for any changes to the Coast Guard’s Arctic strategy or any Coast Guard Arctic programs, such as ice breaking, mapping, and charting missions that might bolster the Coast Guard’s ability to combat and respond to climate change?

In addition to these general questions, the Coast Guard seeks any other input on the programs and missions described above that allows the Coast Guard, within our statutory authorities, to combat or respond to the climate crisis and adapt to its impacts on the maritime domain. This request for information is used solely for information gathering purposes and the responses to this RFI do not bind the Coast Guard to any further actions related to the response.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Fish and Wildlife Service

Receipt of Incidental Take Permit Application and Proposed Habitat Conservation Plan for the Sand Skink, Putnam County, FL; Categorical Exclusion

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of availability; request for comment and information.

SUMMARY: We, the Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), announce receipt of an application from Vulcan Materials Company (applicant) to amend of an existing incidental take permit (TE82956B–0) under the Endangered Species Act. The applicant requests the... amendment of an incidental take permit (ITP) to take an additional number of the federally listed sand skink incidental sand mining operation in Putman County, Florida. We request public comment on the application, which includes the applicant’s proposed amended habitat conservation plan (HCP), and the Service’s preliminary determination that this HCP qualifies as “low-effect,” categorically excluded, under the National Environmental Policy Act. To make this determination, we used our environmental action statement and low-effect screening form, both of which are also available for public review.

Project

The applicant has an existing 20-year ITP that was issued on February 12, 2016, authorizing take of sand skinks via the conversion of an unspecified amount of the species’ occupied foraging and sheltering habitat within 1,183.62 acres that is part of a 6,815.79-acre tract. The tract is located within Sections 12–13, Township 9 south, Range 23 east, Township 9 south, Range 24 east, and Sections 5–6, Township 10 south, Range 24 east in Putnam County, Florida. The parcel numbers are 07–09–24–0000–0020–0010, 12–09–23–0000–0010–0000, 13–09–23–0000–0030–0000, 17–09–24–0000–0040–0020, 17–09–24–0000–0010–0010, 18–09–24–0000–0010–0000, 18–09–24–0000–0020–0000, 19–09–24–0000–0010–0010, 19–09–24–0720–0000–00520, and 20–09–24–0000–0020–0000. The applicant proposes to expand the current project boundary from 1,183.62 acres to 1,683.86 acres, for a net increase of 500.24 acres. The amount of occupied skink habitat within the expansion area is undetermined; however, based on the current USFWS guideline, approximately 452.4 acres of the site appear to be suitable for the skink. In advance of mining operations occurring within the entire area, quantitative surveys will be conducted to determine the extent of suitable area that is occupied by the sand skink. The surveys will be conducted in accordance with the Service’s then guidelines. The applicant will mitigate for take of the sand skink within the expansion area by purchasing mitigation credits at a 2:1 ratio (2 mitigation credits for every 1 acre of occupied skink habitat impacted by the project) from the Tiger Creek Conservation Bank or another Service-approved sand skink bank. The Service will require the applicant to purchase the required credits prior to engaging in activities associated with the project on occupied habitat within the expansion area.

Public Availability of Comments

Before including your address, phone number, email address, or other personal identifying information in your comment, be aware that your entire comment—including your personal identifying information—may be made available to the public. While you may request that we withhold your personal identifying information, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so.

Our Preliminary Determination

The Service has made a preliminary determination that the applicant’s project, including earth moving, grading, and other land alteration and construction activities and the proposed mitigation, would individually and cumulatively have a minor or negligible effect on sand skinks and the environment. Therefore, we have preliminarily concluded that the ITP for this project would qualify for categorical exclusion and that the HCP is low effect under our NEPA regulations at 43 CFR 419.205 and 419.2010. A low-effect HCP is one that would result in (1) minor or negligible effects on federally listed, proposed, and candidate species and their habitats; (2) minor or negligible effects on other environmental values or resources; and, (3) impacts that, when considered together with the impacts of other past, present, and reasonably foreseeable similarly situated projects, would not over time result in significant cumulative effects to environmental values or resources.

Next Steps

The Service will evaluate the application and the comments received to determine whether to issue the requested permit. We will also conduct an intra-Service consultation pursuant to section 7 of the ESA to evaluate the effects of the proposed take. After considering the above findings, we will determine whether the criteria of section 10(a)(1)(B) of the ESA have been met to modify the existing ITP. If met, the Service will issue the modified permit, ITP number TB2956B–1, to Vulcan Materials Company.

Authority

The Service provides this notice under section 10(c) of the ESA (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.) and its implementing regulations (50 CFR 17.32) and NEPA (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) and its implementing regulations (40 CFR 1506.6 and 43 CFR 46.305).

Fish and Wildlife Service

Endangered and Threatened Species; Receipt of Recovery Permit Applications

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of receipt of permit applications; request for comments.

SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, have received applications for permits to conduct activities intended to enhance the propagation or survival of endangered or threatened species under the Endangered Species Act. We invite the public and local, State, Tribal, and Federal agencies to comment on these applications. Before issuing any of the requested permits, we will take into consideration any information that we receive during the public comment period.

DATES: We must receive your written comments on or before August 9, 2021.

ADDRESSES:

Document availability and comment submission: Submit requests for copies of the applications and related documents and submit any comments by one of the following methods. All requests and comments should specify the applicant name(s) and application number(s) (e.g., TExxxxx).

- Email: permitsr8es@fws.gov.
- U.S. Mail: Susie Tharratt, Regional Recovery Permit Coordinator, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 2800 Cottage Way, Room W–2606, Sacramento, CA 95825.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Susie Tharratt, via phone at 760–414–6561, via email at permitsr8es@fws.gov, or via the Federal Relay Service at 1–800–877–8339 for TTY assistance.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, invite the public to comment on applications for permits under section 10(a)(1)(A) of the Endangered Species Act, as amended (ESA; 16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.). The requested permits would allow the applicants to conduct activities intended to promote recovery of species that are listed as endangered or threatened under the ESA.

Background

With some exceptions, the ESA prohibits activities that constitute take of wildlife species listed as endangered and, by regulation, certain wildlife species listed as threatened unless a Federal permit is issued that allows such activity. The ESA’s definition of “take” includes such activities as pursuing, harassing, trapping, capturing, or collecting, in addition to hunting, shooting, harming, wounding, or killing. A recovery permit issued by us under section 10(a)(1)(A) of the ESA authorizes the permittee to conduct activities with endangered or threatened species for scientific purposes that promote recovery or for enhancement of propagation or survival of the species. These activities often include such prohibited actions as capture and collection. Our regulations implementing section 10(a)(1)(A) for these permits are found in the Code of Federal Regulations at 50 CFR 17.22 for endangered wildlife species, 50 CFR 17.32 for threatened wildlife species, 50 CFR 17.62 for endangered plant species, and 50 CFR 17.72 for threatened plant species.

Permit Applications Available for Review and Comment

Proposed activities in the following permit requests are for the recovery and enhancement of propagation or survival of the species in the wild. The ESA requires that we invite public comment before issuing these permits.

Accordingly, we invite local, State, Tribal, Federal agencies and the public to submit written data, views, or arguments with respect to these applications. The comments and recommendations that will be most useful and likely to influence agency decisions are those supported by quantitative information or studies.

Sections 8337 and 8453. It also specifies the conditions to be met and the documentation required for a person to request reinstatement.

The Dodd-Frank Act requires the OMWI Director to include in the Commission’s procedures for evaluating contract proposals and hiring service providers a written statement that the contractor shall ensure, to the maximum extent possible, the fair inclusion of women and minorities in the workforce of the contractor and, as applicable, subcontractors. To implement the acquisition-specific requirements of Section 342(c)(2) of the Dodd-Frank Act, the Commission adopted a Contract Standard for Contractor Workforce Inclusion (Contract Standard).

The Contract Standard, which is included in the Commission’s solicitations and resulting contracts for services with a dollar value of $100,000 or more, contains a “collection of information” within the meaning of the Paperwork Reduction Act. The Contract Standard requires that a Commission contractor provide documentation, upon request from the OMWI Director, to demonstrate that it has made good faith efforts to ensure the fair inclusion of minorities and women in its workforce and, as applicable, to demonstrate its covered subcontractors have made such good faith efforts. The documentation requested may include, but is not limited to: (1) The total number of employees in the contractor’s workforce, and the number of employees by race, ethnicity, gender, and job title or EEO–1 job category (e.g., EEO–1 Report(s)); (2) a list of covered subcontract awards under the contract that includes the dollar amount of each subcontract, date of award, and the subcontractor’s race, ethnicity, and/or gender ownership status; (3) the contractor’s plan to ensure the fair inclusion of minorities and women in its workforce, including outreach efforts; and (4) for each covered subcontractor, the information requested in items 1 and 3 above. The OMWI Director will consider the information submitted in evaluating whether the contractor or subcontractor has complied with its obligations under the Contract Standard.

The information collection is mandatory.

* Estimated number of respondents: Based on a review of the last two full fiscal years since the last approval of this information collection, the Commission estimates that 175 contractors * would be subject to the Contract Standard. Approximately 102 of these contractors have 50 or more

Estimate of recordkeeping burden: The information collection under the Contract Standard imposes no new recordkeeping burdens on the estimated 102 contractors that have 50 or more employees. Such contractors are generally subject to recordkeeping and reporting requirements under the regulations implementing Title VII of the Civil Rights Act and Executive Order 11246 (“E.O. 11246”). Their contracts and subcontracts must include the clause implementing E.O. 11246—FAR 52.222–26, Equal Opportunity. In addition, contractors that have 50 or more employees (and a contract or subcontract of $50,000 or more) are required to maintain records showing the race, ethnicity, gender, and EEO–1 job category of each employee under the Contract Standard.

The estimated 73 contractors that have 50 or more employees (and a contract or subcontract of $50,000 or more) already be subject to similar recordkeeping requirements as principal contractors. Consequently, we believe that any additional requirements imposed on subcontractors would not significantly add to the burden estimates discussed above.

Estimate of Reporting Burden

With respect to the reporting burden, we estimate that it would take all contractors on average approximately one hour to retrieve and submit to the OMWI Director the documentation specified in the proposed Contract Standard. We expect to request documentation from up to 50 contractors each year and therefore we estimate the total annual reporting burden to be 50 hours.

Written comments are invited on: (a) Whether this collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the agency’s estimate of the burden imposed by the collection of information; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

Consideration will be given to comments and suggestions submitted in writing within 60 days of this publication. Please direct your written comments to David Bottom, Director/Chief Information Officer, Securities and Exchange Commission, c/o Cynthia Roscoe, 100 F Street NE, Washington, DC 20549 or send an email to: PRA_Mailbox@sec.gov.

8 According to the Supporting Statement for the OFCCP Recordkeeping and Requirements-Supply Service, OMB Control No. 1250–0003 (“Supporting Statement”), it takes approximately 73 burden hours for contractors with 1–100 employees to develop the initial written program required under the regulations implementing E.O. 11246. We understand the quantitative analyses prescribed by the Executive Order regulations at 41 CFR part 60–2 are a time-consuming aspect of the written program development. As there is no requirement to perform these types of quantitative analyses in connection with plans for workforce inclusion of minorities and women under the Contract Standard, we believe the plan for workforce inclusion will take substantially fewer hours to develop. The Supporting Statement is available at reginfo.gov.

9 A search of subcontract awards on the usaspending.gov website showed that fourteen subcontractors in FY 2020 had subcontracts of $100K or more. Data as of June 29, 2021. See data on subcontract awards available at http://usaspending.gov.
The Exchange proposes to reformat the section of the NYSE Price List setting forth Credits Applicable to Supplemental Liquidity Providers (“SLPs”) without any substantive changes. The Exchange proposes to implement the fee changes effective immediately. The proposed rule change is available on the Exchange’s website at www.nyse.com, at the principal office of the Exchange, and at the Commission’s Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of those statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant parts of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to reformat the section of the NYSE Price List setting forth Credits Applicable to SLPs without any substantive changes. The Exchange proposes to implement the fee changes effective immediately.

The Exchange proposes the following non-substantive changes to reorganize and enhance the presentation in the Price List in order to add clarity and transparency, thereby making the Price List easier to navigate.

First, the Exchange would delete the current presentation of the SLP rates and requirements except for the basic rate, which would remain unchanged. The Exchange would also delete footnotes , , 8 and + that, as discussed below, would be relocated to new sections marked “General.” Footnote 8 would be marked “Reserved” to preserve the current footnote numbering in the Price List. Footnotes 9 and 10, which do not appear in the current SLP section of the Price List, would remain unchanged.

Second, the Exchange proposes a table presentation of the current SLP rates and requirements. The proposed changes would appear in the Price List in two tables. The first table would appear under the new heading “SLP Adding Tiers” and the phrase “For SLP symbols that meet the 10% average quoting requirement in an assigned security pursuant to Rule 107B, other than MPL Orders, in securities with a per share price of $1.00 or more:” from the current Price List. The table would summarize the current rates and requirements for SLP Tiers for Adding Liquidity (SLP Step Up, SLP Tier 5, SLP Tier 4, SLP Tier 3, SLP Tier 2, SLP Tier 1A and SLP Tier [sic]) and set forth the requirements and the tiered display credits and non-tiered display credits. The requirements and credits are unchanged. The proposed changes would appear as follows in the Price List:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Tier for adding liquidity</th>
<th>SLP adding ADV % Tape A CADV</th>
<th>Tiered display credit</th>
<th>Tiered non display credit</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

---

Following the proposed chart, the Exchange would include three bullets, as follows:

Bullet 1 would clarify that for SLPs that are also DMMs and subject to Rule 107B(i)(2)(A), the above SLP Tier 1, Tier 1A, Tier 2, Tier 3, Tier 4, Tier 5 and Step Up Tier requirements are after a discount of the percentage for the prior quarter of NYSE CADV in DMM assigned securities as of the last business day of the prior month. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 2 would include text clarifying that SLPs that meet the requirements of one of the above tiers (Tiers 1A, 2, 3, 4 and the SLP Step Up Tier) and add liquidity in Tapes B and C securities of at least 0.25% of Tape B and Tape C CADV combined, will receive an additional credit of $0.0001 if at SLP Tier 3, SLP Tier 2, SLP Tier 1A OR $0.00005 if at SLP Tier 1, SLP Tier 4 and SLP Tier 5. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 3 would provide that in SLP Tier 1 and Tier 5, SLPs will receive an additional $0.00005 per share for adding liquidity, other than MPL and Non-Display Reserve orders, in securities that quotes of an SLP-Prop and an SLMM of the same or an affiliated member organization are aggregated and Step Up Tier requirements are after a discount of the percentage for the prior quarter of NYSE CADV in DMM assigned securities as of the last business day of the prior month. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 4 would provide that SLPs becoming DMMs after the beginning of a billing month would not be eligible until the next full billing month beginning of a billing month would not be eligible until the next full billing month.

Finally, the Exchange would introduce a section titled “General” that would summarize information from the current Price List in the form of the following four bullets.

Bullet 1 would clarify that for SLPs that are also DMMs and subject to Rule 107B(i)(2)(A), the above SLP Tier 1, Tier 1A, Tier 2, Tier 3, Tier 4, Tier 5 and Step Up Tier requirements are after a discount of the percentage for the prior quarter of NYSE CADV in DMM assigned securities as of the last business day of the prior month. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 2 would include text clarifying that SLPs that meet the requirements of one of the above tiers (Tiers 1A, 2, 3, 4 and the SLP Step Up Tier) and add liquidity in Tapes B and C securities of at least 0.25% of Tape B and Tape C CADV combined, will receive an additional credit of $0.0001 if at SLP Tier 3, SLP Tier 2, SLP Tier 1A OR $0.00005 if at SLP Tier 1, SLP Tier 4 and SLP Tier 5. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 3 would provide that in SLP Tier 1 and Tier 5, SLPs will receive an additional $0.00005 per share for adding liquidity, other than MPL and Non-Display Reserve orders, in securities that quotes of an SLP-Prop and an SLMM of the same or an affiliated member organization are aggregated and Step Up Tier requirements are after a discount of the percentage for the prior quarter of NYSE CADV in DMM assigned securities as of the last business day of the prior month. This is unchanged from the current Price List.

Bullet 4 would provide that SLPs becoming DMMs after the beginning of a billing month would not be eligible until the next full billing month beginning of a billing month would not be eligible until the next full billing month.
As noted above, the Exchange is not proposing any substantive change to any current SLP fee, credit or requirement. The purpose of the proposed rule change is to make a non-substantive change to reorganize the presentation of the Price List in order to enhance its clarity and transparency, thereby making the Price List easier to comprehend and navigate. The proposed changes are not otherwise intended to address any other issues, and the Exchange is not aware of any significant problems that market participants would have in complying with the proposed changes.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Act”) and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to the Exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b) of the Act. Specifically, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act, which provides that Exchange rules may provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among its members and other persons using its facilities. Additionally, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5) requirement that the rules of an exchange not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers. The Exchange believes that the proposed changes are reasonable and equitable because they are clarifying and non-substantive, and the Exchange is not changing any current fees or credits that apply to SLP trading activity on the Exchange or to routed executions. The changes are designed to make the Price List easier to read and more user-friendly. The Exchange believes that this proposed format will provide additional transparency of Exchange fees and credits for SLPs, to the benefit of market participants and the investing public. The Exchange believes the change is reasonable and would not be inconsistent with the public interest and the protection of investors because investors will not be harmed and in fact would benefit from increased clarity and transparency on the Price List, thereby reducing potential confusion. The Exchange also believes that the proposal is non-discriminatory because it applies uniformly to all member organizations that are SLPs, and again, the Exchange is not making any changes to existing fees and credits. Finally, the Exchange believes that the reformatted Price List, as proposed, will be clearer and less confusing for investors and will eliminate potential confusion, thereby removing impediments to and perfecting the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, protecting investors and the public interest.

The Exchange believes that the proposed reformatted the Price List is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the resulting streamlined Price List would continue to apply to all SLPs as it does currently because the Exchange is not adopting any new fees or credits or removing any current fees or credits that impact SLPs. All SLPs would continue to be subject to the same fees and credits that currently apply to them. For the foregoing reasons, the Exchange believes that the proposal is consistent with the Act.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Burden on Competition

In accordance with Section 6(b)(8) of the Act, the Exchange believes that the proposed rule change would not impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

Intramarket Competition. The Exchange’s proposal to reformat its Price List will not place any undue burden on intramarket competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act because all SLPs would continue to be subject to the same fees and credits that currently apply to them. The Exchange notes that the proposal does not change the amount of any current fees or rebates, but rather makes clarifying and formatting changes, and therefore does not raise any competitive issues. To the extent the proposed rule change places a burden on competition, any such burden would be outweighed by the fact that a streamlined Price List would promote clarity and reduce confusion with respect to the fees and credits that SLPs would be subject to. As noted, the proposal would apply to all similarly situated member organizations on the same and equal terms, who would benefit from the changes on the same basis. Accordingly, the proposed change would not impose a disparate burden on competition among market participants on the Exchange.

Intermarket Competition. The Exchange believes the proposed rule change does not impose any burden on intermarket competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The Exchange operates in a highly competitive market in which market participants can readily choose to send their orders to other exchanges and off-exchange venues if they deem fee levels at those other venues to be more favorable. Market share statistics provide ample evidence that price competition between exchanges is fierce, with liquidity and market share moving freely from one execution venue to another in reaction to pricing changes.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were solicited or received with respect to the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change is effective upon filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b–4 thereunder, because it establishes a due, fee, or other charge imposed by the Exchange.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings under Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Together, the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA), as amended by the Caribbean Basin Trade Partnership Act (CBTPA) (19 U.S.C. 2701 et seq.) commonly are referred to as the Caribbean Basin Initiative or CBI. Section 212(f)(1) of the CBERA, as amended (19 U.S.C. 2702(f)(1)), requires the U.S. Trade Representative to report on the performance of each CBERA or CBTPA beneficiary country. Barbados, Belize, Curacao, Guyana, Haiti, Jamaica, Saint Lucia, and Trinidad and Tobago receive benefits under both CBERA and CBTPA. Antigua and Barbuda, Aruba, the Bahamas, British Virgin Islands, Dominica, Grenada, Montserrat, Saint Kitts and Nevis, and Saint Vincent and the Grenadines currently receive benefits only under CBERA. For purposes of this report, the term ‘beneficiary country’ includes both the independent countries and dependent territories receiving benefits under CBTPA and/or CBERA.

As described in detail below, the TPSC seeks comments on any aspect of the CBI’s operation, including the performance of CBERA and CBTPA beneficiary countries under the criteria described in sections 212(b), 212(c), and 213(b)(5)(B) of the CBERA, as amended. You can access the criteria at: http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/USC09-2001-title19/html/USC09-2001-title19-chap15.htm. The report will also examine the CBI’s effect on the volume and composition of trade and investment between the United States and the CBI beneficiary countries and on advancing U.S. trade policy goals. You can access the most recent CBI report at: CBI_Report_2019.pdf (ustr.gov).
II. Reporting Requirements on the Eligibility Criteria for All CBI Beneficiary Countries

The TPSC seeks comments on any aspect of the CBI’s operation, including the performance of CBERA and CBTPA beneficiary countries using the following criteria:

A. CBERA Bases for Ineligibility

Under section 212(b) (19 U.S.C. 2702(b)), the President cannot designate a country as a CBI beneficiary country:

1. If it is a Communist country.

2. If it has expropriated or nationalized property owned by a U.S. citizen or by a corporation owned by U.S. citizens, unless the President determines that the country is taking steps to resolve the matter.

3. If it fails to act in good faith in recognizing as binding or in enforcing arbitral awards in favor of a U.S. citizen or a corporation owned by U.S. citizens.

4. If it affords preferential treatment to the products of a developed country other than the United States that has, or is likely to have, a significant adverse effect on U.S. commerce, unless the President has received satisfactory assurances that the country will eliminate this preferential treatment or that action will be taken to assure that there will be no significant adverse effect.

5. If a government-owned entity in the country engages in the broadcast of copyrighted material, including films or television material, belonging to United States copyright owners without their express consent.

6. Unless it is a signatory to a treaty, convention, protocol, or other agreement regarding the extradition of U.S. citizens.

7. If it has not or is not taking steps to afford internationally recognized worker rights as defined in section 507(4) of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended (19 U.S.C. 2467(4)) to workers in the country (including any designated zone in that country).

Paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (5) and (7) do not prevent the designation of any country as a CBI beneficiary country if the President determines that the designation will be in the national economic or security interest of the United States and reports that determination to Congress.

B. CBERA Factors Determining Designation

In determining whether to designate a country as a CBI beneficiary country, section 212(c) (19 U.S.C. 2702(c)), requires the President to take into account the following factors:

1. An expression of a country’s desire to be so designated.

2. The economic conditions and living standards in a country.

3. The extent to which a country has assured the United States that it will provide equitable and reasonable access to the markets and basic commodity resources of the country.

4. The degree to which the country follows the international trade rules of the World Trade Organization (WTO).

5. The degree to which a country uses export subsidies or imposes export performance requirements or local content requirements that distort international trade.

6. The degree to which the trade policies of a country as they relate to other beneficiary countries are contributing to the revitalization of the region.

7. The degree to which a country is undertaking self-help measures to promote its own economic development.

8. Whether not a country has taken or is taking steps to afford to workers in that country (including any designated zone in that country) internationally recognized worker rights.

9. The extent to which a country provides adequate and effective legal means for foreign nationals to secure, exercise, and enforce exclusive intellectual property rights.

10. The extent to which a country prohibits its nationals from broadcasting U.S. copyrighted materials, including film and television material, without their express consent.

11. The extent to which a country cooperates with the United States in the administration of CBI preferences.

C. CBTPA Eligibility Criteria

Under section 213(b)(5)(B) (19 U.S.C. 2703(b)(5)(B)), in considering the eligibility of the CBI countries and dependent territories that have expressed an interest in receiving the enhanced preferences of the CBTPA, the President must take into account the following criteria elaborated in the CBTPA. These additional criteria are:

1. Whether the beneficiary country has demonstrated a commitment to undertake its obligations under the World Trade Organization (WTO) on or ahead of schedule and participate in negotiations toward the completion of the Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA) or another free trade agreement.

2. The extent to which the country provides protection for intellectual property rights consistent with or greater than the protection afforded under the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights.

3. The extent to which the country provides internationally recognized worker rights, including: The right of association; the right to organize and bargain collectively; a prohibition on the use of any form of forced or compulsory labor; a minimum age for the employment of children; and acceptable conditions of work with respect to minimum wages, hours of work, and occupational safety and health.

4. Whether the country has implemented its commitments to eliminate the worst forms of child labor, as defined in section 507(6) of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended (19 U.S.C. 2467(6)).

5. The extent to which the country has met U.S. counter-narcotics certification criteria under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

6. The extent to which the country has taken steps to become a party to and implement the Inter-American Convention Against Corruption.

7. The extent to which the country applies transparent, nondiscriminatory and competitive procedures in government procurement, and contributes to efforts in international fora to develop and implement rules on transparency in government procurement.

III. Requirements for Submissions

The TPSC must receive your comments by the August 31, 2021 deadline. You must make all submissions in English via Regulations.gov, using Docket Number USTR–2021–0011. USTR will not accept hand-delivered submissions.

To make a submission using Regulations.gov, enter the appropriate docket number in the ‘search for’ field on the home page and click ‘search.’ The site will provide a search-results page listing all documents associated with this docket. Find a reference to this notice by selecting ‘notice’ under ‘document type’ in the ‘filter results by’ section on the left side of the screen and click on the link entitled ‘comment now.’ You must identify on the first page of the submission the subject matter of the comment as the ‘CBI Report to Congress.’ Regulations.gov offers the option of providing comments by filling in a ‘type comment’ field or by attaching a document using the ‘upload file(s)’ field. The TPSC prefers that you provide submissions in an attached document and note ‘attached’ in the ‘type comment’ field on the online submission form.
The TPSC prefers submissions in Microsoft Word (.doc) or Adobe Acrobat (.pdf) format. If the submission is in another file format, please indicate the name of the software application in the ‘Type Comment’ field. File names should reflect the name of the person or entity submitting the comments. Please do not attach separate cover letters to electronic submissions; rather, include any information that might appear in a cover letter in the comments themselves. Similarly, to the extent possible, please include any exhibits, annexes, or other attachments in the same file as the comment itself, rather than submitting them as separate files. Submissions should not exceed 30 single-spaced, standard letter-size pages in 12-point type, including attachments.

You will receive a tracking number upon completion of the submission procedure Regulations.gov. The tracking number is confirmation that Regulations.gov received the submission. Keep the confirmation for your records. The TPSC is not able to provide technical assistance for the website. The TPSC may not consider documents you do not submit in accordance with these instructions. If you are unable to provide submissions as requested, please contact Magaly Garcia, Director for Bolivia, Ecuador, and the Caribbean, at magaly.a.garcia@ustr.eop.gov or 202–395–9597 to arrange for an alternative method of transmission.

IV. Business Confidential Submissions

If you ask the TPSC to treat information you submitted as business confidential information (BCI), you must certify that the information is business confidential and that you would not customarily release it to the public. You must clearly designate BCI by marking the submission ‘BUSINESS CONFIDENTIAL’ at the top and bottom of the cover page and each succeeding page, and indicating, via brackets, the specific information that is BCI. Additionally, you must include ‘Business Confidential’ in the ‘type comment’ field. For any submission containing BCI, you separately must submit a non-confidential version (i.e., an additional submission indicating where BCI has been redacted). The TPSC will post the non-confidential version in the docket and it will be open to public inspection.

V. Public Viewing of Review Submissions

The TPSC will post comments in the docket for public inspection, except business confidential information. You can view comments on Regulations.gov by entering the relevant docket number in the search field on the home page. You can find general information about the Office of the United States Trade Representative on its website: http://www.ustr.gov.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
Federal Railroad Administration
[Docket Number FRA—2020–0064]

Petition for Waiver of Compliance

Under part 211 of title 49 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), this document provides the public notice that on June 11, 2021, Kansas City Southern Railway Company (KCS) petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to join an existing waiver of compliance from certain provisions of the Federal railroad safety regulations contained at 49 CFR parts 232 (Brake System Safety Standards for Freight and Other Non-Passenger Trains and Equipment; End-Of-Train Devices), and 229 (Railroad Locomotive Safety Standards). The relevant FRA Docket Number is FRA–2016–0086.

Specifically, KCS requests to join a waiver previously granted to CSX Transportation (CSX) and BNSF Railway (BNSF), and be granted relief from 49 CFR 232.205(c)(1)(iii), Class I brake test-initial terminal inspection, and 229.29(b), Air brake system calibration, maintenance, and testing, related to air flow method (AFM) indicator calibration intervals. The relief granted to CSX and BNSF allows the railroads to test extending the AFM test intervals from 92 days to 184 days on locomotives equipped with the New York Air Brake (NYAB) CCBII–II air brake systems. KCS seeks to form a test waiver team operating under the current test committee overseeing the relief in FRA–2016–0086 to test 376 NYAB CCBII-equipped locomotives owned by KCS. KCS states that it has been an active member of the Association of American Railroads Locomotive Committee and is familiar with the work performed by the FRA–2016–0086 test committee.

A copy of the petition, as well as any written communications concerning the petition, is available for review online at www.regulations.gov.

Interested parties are invited to participate in these proceedings by Company (BNSF) petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to modify a waiver of compliance that provides relief from certain provisions of the Federal railroad safety regulations contained at 49 CFR part 213. FRA previously assigned the waiver Docket Number FRA–2020–0064.

BNSF’s existing waiver identified two territories, the Powder River Territory, and the Southern Transcon Territory, where 49 CFR 213.233 visual track inspection requirements are replaced with a combination of performance-based automated and visual inspections. Automated inspections are performed by Unmanned Automated Track Geometry Cars every 12 million gross tons, not exceeding four weeks between tests, and visual inspections are performed either twice per month, weekly, or three times per week, based on risk model calculations made weekly for each track segment.

BNSF is requesting to expand the scope of the waiver by adding two additional territories. First, BNSF requests to incorporate their Orin Subdivision, a 395-track mile line running from Donkey Creek Junction, Wyoming, to Bridger Junction, Wyoming, into the existing Powder River Territory. In support of this request, BNSF states that the operational, traffic mix, and weather characteristics of the Orin Subdivision are similar to the other subdivisions of the Powder River Territory.

Second, BNSF requests to add a new territory to the waiver, their Northern Transcon Route. This 4,322-track mile line runs from Chicago, Illinois, to Seattle, Washington. In support of this request, BNSF references their 2020 geometry defect rates along the route as lower (safer) than the rates of the Southern Transcon Territory.

In support of its petition, BNSF references data and analysis from their Track Inspection Test Program, Docket Number FRA–2018–0091, and data and analysis already available in Docket Number FRA–2020–0064. BNSF states that all requirements of the waiver have been met during implementation on the Powder River Territory and Southern Transcon Territory. BNSF contends there are no unique characteristics of the Northern Transcon Route or Orin Subdivision that would prevent BNSF’s successful implementation of the existing relief over those additional territories. BNSF concludes that adding the two new territories will result in net safety benefits for those territories due to the increased geometry inspections and data-driven visual inspections.

A copy of the petition, as well as any written communications concerning the petition, if any, are available for review online at www.regulations.gov.

Interested parties are invited to participate in these proceedings by submitting written views, data, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling a public hearing for these proceedings since the facts do not appear to warrant a hearing. If any interested parties desire an opportunity for oral comment and a public hearing, they should notify FRA, in writing, before the end of the comment period and specify the basis for their request.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Requests for additional information or copies of the form and instructions should be directed to Jon Callahan, (737) 800-7639, at Internal Revenue Service, Room 6526, 1111 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20224, or through the internet at jon.r.callahan@irs.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Currently, the IRS is seeking comments concerning the following information collection tools, reporting, and record-keeping requirements:

Title: Return of U.S. Persons With Respect to Certain Foreign Partnerships.

Form Number: Form 8865, Schedules A, A–1, A–2, A–3, B, C, H, K–1, K–2, K–3, L, M–1, M–2, N, O, P, and Form 8838 P.

Abstract: The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 significantly modified the information reporting requirements with respect to foreign partnerships. The Act made the following three changes: (1) Expanded section 6038B to require U.S. persons transferring property to foreign partnerships in certain transactions to report those transfers, (2) expanded section 6038 to require certain U.S. Partners of controlled foreign partnerships to report information about the partnerships, and (3) modified the reporting required under section 6046A with respect to acquisitions and dispositions of foreign partnership interests. Form 8865 is used by U.S. persons to fulfill their reporting obligations under sections 6038B, 6038, and 6046A. Form 8838–P is used to extend the statute of limitations for U.S. persons who transfers appreciated property to partnerships with foreign partners related to the transferor. The form is filed when the transferor makes a gain recognition agreement. This agreement allows the transferor to defer the payment of tax on the transfer.

Current Actions: There are changes to the existing collection: (1) The number of responses for each form and schedule is being reduced to account for filers (individuals, businesses and tax-exempt organizations) being reported under OMB numbers 1545–0123 and 1545–0074.
