RIN 1018-BF59

Migratory Bird Permits; Administrative Updates to 50 CFR Parts 21 and 22

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), are renumbering, renaming, and rearranging certain subparts and sections in our regulations. These changes will provide users a more organized road map of the Service's migratory bird and eagle permit processes and improve readability of the regulations. These changes necessitate updating cross-references to the affected section numbers in other parts of our regulations. In addition, we are making several nonsubstantive, editorial revisions to correct misspellings, update internet addresses, update applicable Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control numbers, and add or update relevant family and scientific names. This rule is a purely administrative action; it does not change the species protected by, the permit requirements of, or any other requirements of the regulations.

DATES: This rule is effective February 7, 2022.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jennifer Miller, Division of Migratory Bird Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, telephone: 540-681-0439, email: jennifer_miller@fws.gov. Persons who use a telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) may call the Federal Relay Service at 800-877-8339.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is the Federal agency delegated with the primary responsibility for managing migratory birds. Our authority derives from the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1918, as amended, 16 U.S.C. 703 et seq. (MBTA), which implements conventions with Great Britain (for Canada), Mexico, Japan, and the Russia Federation. The MBTA protects certain migratory birds from take, except as permitted under the MBTA. We implement the provisions of the MBTA through regulations in parts 10, 13, 20, 21, and 22 of title 50 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). Regulations pertaining to migratory bird permits are set forth at 50 CFR part 21.

In addition, the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act, 16 U.S.C. 668 et seq. (Eagle Act), prohibits take of bald eagles and golden eagles except pursuant to Federal regulations. The Eagle Act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to issue regulations to permit the "taking" of eagles for various purposes, including the protection of "other interests in any particular locality" (16 U.S.C. 668a), provided the taking is compatible with the preservation of eagles. Regulations pertaining to eagle permits are set forth at 50 CFR part 22.

The regulations at 50 CFR parts 21 and 22 were established in 1974. Since 1974, we have published many rules to add, revise, or remove portions of these regulations. We have not, however, published a reorganization rule to address the need for better organization and enhanced readability of these regulations until this time.

This Rule

Renaming and Renumbering of Sections of the Regulations

We are renumbering most of the sections, and renaming and rearranging certain sections, in 50 CFR parts 21 and 22. Below, we provide a redesignation table to help the public readily identify the new numbers, names, and locations of applicable regulations (see tables 1 and 2, below). Only those subparts or sections that are redesignated, renamed, and/or rearranged are reflected in the tables below; the revised table of contents following each table shows every subpart and section heading in each part. These actions are administrative in nature; we are not changing the species protected by, the permit requirements of, or any other requirements of the regulations.

We are making these changes for a variety of reasons. First, some subpart headings in 50 CFR parts 21 and 22 lack specificity. Second, some sections of 50 CFR parts 21 and 22 contain many and varied requirements that will be easier to locate when placed in their own sections with more descriptive section headers. Third, several sections will be easier to find when placed under a different subpart. Last, the current sequential numbering of sections, without adequate intervening open section numbers, requires new regulations to be placed as space allows. These changes will allow for clear and understandable future additions to the regulations.

All of the changes to the regulations described in this rule are intended to improve the clarity and readability of the regulations at 50 CFR parts 21 and 22. They are administrative in nature and do not change the substance of the regulations. These changes should help readers more easily locate applicable regulations and help the Service provide a clearer and more organized presentation of the permit regulations for migratory birds and eagles now and in the future.
