Proclamation 10377 of April 29, 2022

The President

Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

During Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, our Nation recognizes the innumerable contributions, vibrant cultures, and rich heritage of Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders (AA and NHPIs). As some of the fastest-growing racial and ethnic groups in the Nation, AA and NHPI communities represent a multitude of ethnicities, languages, and experiences that enrich America and strengthen our Union.

AA and NHPIs have long played an essential role in writing the American story. From serving our country in uniform, advocating for civil rights, starting new businesses, and winning Olympic medals, the contributions of the AA and NHPI community touch the lives of Americans every day. AA and NHPIs serve with distinction at the highest levels of Federal, State, and local government. I am proud to have Vice President Kamala Harris, the first person of South Asian descent to serve as Vice President, and Katherine Tai, the first Asian American United States Trade Representative, in my Administration.

As we celebrate AA and NHPI communities, we must also redouble our commitment to combating the surge of anti-Asian hate crimes. The First Lady and I shared the Nation's outrage as we witnessed these crimes increase by 339 percent last year compared to the year before in cities across America. Many other incidents of anti-Asian bias, xenophobia, and harassment that surfaced throughout the COVID-19 pandemic were not even reported. We cannot allow these horrific acts to continue threatening the safety of AA and NHPI Americans—especially women, girls, and the elderly. These acts are wrong; they are un-American; and they must stop.

In my first week in office, I directed all executive departments and agencies to combat xenophobia, hate, and discrimination against AA and NHPI communities. I also signed into law last May the COVID-19 Hate Crimes Act to provide law enforcement with resources to identify, investigate, and report hate crimes and ensure that hate crimes information is more accessible to AA and NHPI communities.

As we work to ensure that hatred has no safe harbor in America's future, we must confront shameful chapters in our history. That is why, for example, I signed into law the Amache National Historic Site Act—to memorialize the 10,000 Japanese Americans who were unjustly imprisoned at Amache during World War II. And we will continue to root out racial injustices of our past and advance equity for all Americans as we move forward.

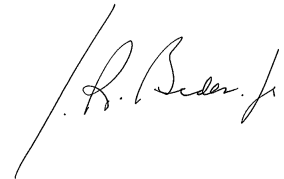

Toward that aim, my Administration is making long-overdue investments in AA and NHPI communities. I reestablished and expanded the President's Advisory Commission and the White House Initiative on Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders. The American Rescue Plan helped reduce poverty among AA and NHPI families by approximately 26 percent. We have increased access to capital, training, and counseling for AA and NHPI entrepreneurs so their businesses can thrive. We are also working to ensure that healthcare resources are available to AA and NHPI communities. And we are rebuilding our immigration system so everyone is treated fairly and humanely—including AA and NHPI communities.

This month, we celebrate our fellow Americans from AA and NHPI communities and pay tribute to all they have done to help fulfill the promise of America for all. Together, let us recommit ourselves to building a country in which every American—regardless of who they are, where they come from, or what they look like—has an equal opportunity to thrive.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander Heritage Month. I call upon all Americans to learn more about the history of AA and NHPs, and to observe this month with appropriate programs and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10378 of April 29, 2022

National Building Safety Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

During National Building Safety Month, we renew our commitment to strengthening our buildings so that all Americans are safe. As our Nation continues to mourn the loss of those who perished in the Surfside condominium collapse and other building disasters, it is clear that the quality and resiliency of our infrastructure has never been more important. This month we also show our appreciation to the dedicated professionals who work tirelessly to create affordable, sustainable, and structurally sound buildings for our communities.

The impact of climate change and the increasing frequency and severity of natural hazard incidents—injuring people and damaging property and the environment—pose significant challenges for our infrastructure. Increasing our energy efficiency plays an important role in keeping Americans safe. Residential and commercial buildings account for more than one-third of the climate-altering carbon pollution that America releases each year—directly affecting our climate. Although hurricanes, floods, extreme heat, and wildfires impact communities across the Nation, they disproportionately impact communities of color and low-income communities that cannot necessarily afford to modernize their buildings or prepare for and recover from climate hazards.

The historic Bipartisan Infrastructure Law tackles these challenges head on. It enables us to repair our Nation's aging infrastructure, modernize and electrify our buildings, and advance our climate resiliency. By investing in infrastructure, we are investing in opportunities and quality jobs for Americans—particularly in disadvantaged and underserved communities. To further support these communities, we are also providing grant funds for equitable disaster recovery.

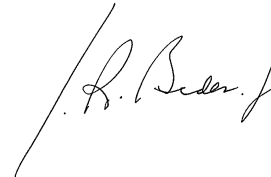

This year's National Building Safety Month theme—"Safety for All: Codes in Action"—is an important reminder that modern building code adoption and enforcement is essential to keeping our homes, businesses, schools, and other facilities safe. By investing in our infrastructure, modernizing our buildings, and adopting building codes, our buildings will contribute less to climate change, protect more Americans, and be better positioned to withstand extreme natural hazards in the future.

As we recommit to effective safety standards this month, let us pay tribute to building professionals nationwide—architects, engineers, construction workers, inspectors, building officials, and others—who help safeguard our communities. Let us strengthen our collaboration within and across the public, private, and non-profit sectors to address building safety needs today so we can meet the infrastructure challenges of tomorrow.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as National Building Safety Month. I encourage citizens, government agencies, businesses, nonprofits, and other interested groups to join in activities that raise awareness about building safety. I also call on all Americans to learn more about how they can contribute to building safety at home, work, and in their communities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10379 of April 29, 2022

National Foster Care Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Every May, we renew our commitment to ensuring that all youth in foster care have the love, support, and resources they need to thrive. We also celebrate the families who provide safe and loving homes for our Nation's foster children. We share our appreciation for the dedicated volunteers and professionals who help our Nation's foster youth find permanent homes and connect with their biological families when appropriate—many of whom are working hard to safely reunite with their children.

Today, nearly a third of children in foster care are being raised by kin—many of whom are grandparents. This helps children retain family bonds and a sense of cultural identity, which are so important to a child's resilience and well-being. As children and families of color are disproportionately overrepresented in foster care, it is essential that we invest in culturally supportive services to nurture all children and families who are impacted by the child welfare system.

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a disproportionate impact on young people in foster care. That is why my Administration implemented the Supporting Foster Youth and Families through the Pandemic Act—helping foster youth aging out of the system access services to stay in school, participate in job training programs, pay rent and other bills, and transition to adulthood. My Administration also funded grants that help agencies connect kinship caregivers and foster parents to programs and services for children in their care and we continue to promote best practices that identify and notify relatives when a child has been placed into foster care.

This month, we also recognize the history of injustice in America's foster care system—particularly against Black and Native Americans. Relative to their white peers, Black and Native American children stay in foster care longer and are less likely to be adopted or reunited with their birth parents. Furthermore, foster care systems do not provide children with disabilities or LGBTQI+ youth with the individualized support, resources, and safety measures they need and deserve. My Administration stands with transgender youth in foster care and with all families that love and care for their children.

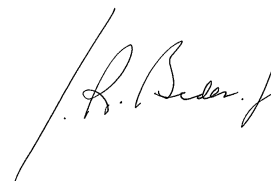

To improve our foster care system, I have proposed a significant funding increase and a package of reforms to expand prevention services so more children can remain safely in their own homes. For children who need to be placed into foster care, my proposal provides States with incentives to place more children with relatives or adults with whom they are emotionally bonded, when appropriate. It will also increase resources for youth who are aging out of foster care. In addition, I have called for competitive grants for States to advance racial equity, expand prevention services, and improve education outcomes in our child welfare system. My proposal would also help more low- and moderate-income families afford the costs of adoption and legal guardianship of children who would otherwise be in foster care.

National Foster Care Month is an opportunity for us to celebrate foster youth and the people who provide them with love and support. It is our duty to help vulnerable children, and child welfare professionals and the families they serve. Through education, volunteering, and partnerships, we can strengthen our communities and ensure that youth in foster care have the support they need for a future they deserve.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as National Foster Care Month. I call upon all Americans to observe this month by reaching out in their neighborhoods and communities to the children and youth in foster care and their families, to those at risk of entering foster care, and to kin families and other caregivers.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10380 of April 29, 2022

National Mental Health Awareness Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Each May we raise awareness about the importance of mental health and its impact on the well-being of all Americans, including children, adults, families, and communities across our Nation. We also give thanks to the dedicated mental health providers whose service and support improve the lives of so many Americans. We stand in solidarity with those who are experiencing mental health conditions, renewing our commitment to providing them with the support they need and deserve.

Even before the pandemic, millions of Americans were experiencing stress, trauma, anxiety, and heightened levels of depression. The COVID-19 pandemic exacerbated those conditions, creating an unprecedented mental health crisis across our country. Communities of color, frontline workers, health care workers, and individuals with eating disorders have been disproportionately impacted, and the rate of depression across the country has more than tripled compared to rates in 2019.

Mental health challenges among our youth have also been particularly acute due to disruptions in routines, increased social isolation, and learning loss. Research has shown that social media plays a central role in increasing mental health challenges among young people—especially young women. Emergency department visits for attempted suicide among girls in 2021 increased by more than 50 percent compared to 2020. American Indians, Alaska Natives, Black youth, and LGBTQI+ youth also face a disproportionate risk of suicide.

Despite these disturbing trends, less than half of Americans struggling with mental illness receive the treatment they need—even fewer within Black and Brown communities. A variety of factors contribute to this problem. For example, too many communities lack sufficient numbers of mental health providers. Even where there are enough mental health providers, our fragmented system makes it difficult for people to access them. Tragically, too, many Americans feel ashamed to reach out for help, or are stigmatized for seeking care.

My Administration is committed to transforming mental health care for all Americans. The American Rescue Plan laid the groundwork for this effort, investing nearly $5.5 billion nationwide to strengthen mental health and substance use care. It also invested billions of dollars in our Nation's schools, including mental health treatment for students and staff.

But far more needs to be done. That is why in this year's State of the Union Address, I outlined my vision for bolder investments to address our national mental health crisis. My strategy includes actions that will broaden the pipeline of behavioral health professionals in areas of greatest need, integrate mental health and substance use treatment into primary care, and expand access through more virtual care options.

In addition, last year the Surgeon General released an Advisory on Protecting Youth Mental Health that underscored the growing harms of digital technologies—especially social media—on the mental health of our youth. It is time to strengthen privacy protections, ban targeted advertising to children, and demand that technology companies stop collecting the personal data of our children. We must also continue researching the impact of social media on the mental health of our children, expand services in school to promote their well-being, and set them up for success so they can thrive as adults.

As my Administration works to expand suicide prevention and strengthen crisis care infrastructure within our communities, those who need immediate assistance can call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK—which will transition to a simple three-digit number, 988, in July.

Each of us has an important role to play in supporting our fellow Americans who are living with mental health conditions. Learn the warning signs of emotional distress and suicide. Engage affected loved ones in supportive dialogue. Fight the prejudice and negative attitudes that discourages those in need from seeking mental health support. Above all, let us collectively ensure that all children and adults experiencing mental health challenges are treated with the compassion, respect, and understanding they deserve.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as National Mental Health Awareness Month. I call upon citizens, government agencies, private businesses, non-profit organizations, and other groups to join in activities and take action to strengthen the mental health of our communities and our Nation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10381 of April 29, 2022

National Physical Fitness and Sports Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Throughout the pandemic, Americans have found creative ways to maintain their physical fitness through sports or other forms of physical activity. During National Physical Fitness and Sports Month, we renew our commitment to staying active and encourage all Americans to participate in activities that improve their well-being and lead to healthier lifestyles.

Thanks to our dedicated health care professionals and millions of Americans who have gotten vaccinated and boosted, schools, gyms, and businesses across the country have reopened. Stadiums are, once again, filled with fans cheering on their favorite sports teams and athletes.

But for the past few years, rates of physical activity have decreased—especially among groups at high risk for COVID-19. Socioeconomic disparities, including a lack of opportunities to participate in sports and fitness programs, have exacerbated the problem. The environments where people live, learn, work, and play also affect physical activity. Other barriers to regular physical activity, such as time, money, safety, and accessibility, impact the health and well-being of children and adults in every community. We must seek out equitable solutions to ensure that all Americans can live a more active, healthier lifestyle.

Fitness and sports are not only good for our physical health, they also improve the quality of our lives overall. Experts agree that even small amounts of physical activity can make a significant difference in a person's physical and mental health. For example, it can reduce the risk of chronic diseases, blood pressure, and anxiety while improving sleep—among other health benefits.

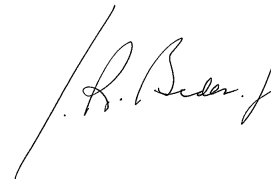

Every sector has a role to play in removing barriers and increasing opportunities for Americans to participate in physical activities. That is why I issued an Executive Order to renew the President's Council on Sports, Fitness & Nutrition, focusing on the importance of mental health related to physical fitness and nutrition. Through the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's "Active People, Healthy Nation" initiative, we are providing an evidence-based blueprint to help 27 million Americans become more physically active by 2027. Additionally, the Department of Health and Human Services' "Move Your Way" campaign is informing Americans about activities they can do to stay healthy through the Physical Activity Guidelines for Americans.

This month, let us all find ways to become more physically active in our daily lives. Take a walk, hike in your favorite park, try a new fitness class, join a local sports team, or volunteer at a community race. Whatever physical activity you choose, fitness will lead to better and healthier lives for all Americans.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as National Physical Fitness and Sports Month. I call upon the people of the United States to make daily physical activity a priority, to support efforts to increase access to sports opportunities in their communities, and to pursue physical fitness as an essential part of healthy living.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10382 of April 29, 2022

Older Americans Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

During Older Americans Month, we honor our Nation's seniors and the tremendous impact they have made in helping build a more perfect Union. Older Americans contribute their time and wisdom to make our communities stronger, more informed, and better connected. They are our loved ones, friends, mentors, essential workers, volunteers, and neighbors. We celebrate their achievements and recommit to providing our elders with the support and services they need to thrive and age with dignity.

Older adults have always been a vital source of strength and resilience in America. During the pandemic, many seniors came out of retirement to serve their communities in health care and education roles, filling job vacancies in critical shortage areas. Moving forward, we must ensure that older Americans have the appropriate resources to maintain their independence and stay connected to their communities.

My Administration is committed to keeping older Americans safe and healthy as they age. The American Rescue Plan allocated $1.4 billion to providing older adults with services for nutrition, health promotion, disease prevention, caregiver support, and long-term care. It also provided additional Medicaid funding to support millions of older adults with disabilities and to help States improve the quality of caregiving jobs. My Administration is also dedicated to improving the safety and quality of care in nursing homes—ensuring that they have sufficient staff, that families have the necessary information to support their loved ones, and that poorly performing nursing homes are held accountable.

This year, we celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Older Americans Act Nutrition Program—the first Federal program to support the well-being of older Americans through meal deliveries, nutrition services, educational programs, and counseling. We also celebrate the 10th anniversary of the National Plan to Address Alzheimer's Disease and recommit to building upon this important work.

During Older Americans Month, let us pay tribute to the seniors who raised and guided us throughout our lives, and let us renew our commitment to honoring their contributions by giving them the fullest care, support, and respect they deserve.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as Older Americans Month. This month and beyond, I call upon all Americans to celebrate older adults for their contributions, support their independence, and recognize their unparalleled value to our Nation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10383 of April 29, 2022

National Hurricane Preparedness Week, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Each May, we raise awareness about the threat posed by hurricanes so that Americans living in potentially affected areas are more prepared for these powerful storms. Over the last several years, hurricanes, typhoons, and tropical storms have occurred with greater frequency and intensity, causing tremendous destruction across the United States. From the Gulf Coast and Caribbean Territories to New England, Hawaii, and the Pacific Territories, severe winds and flooding have cost lives, damaged homes, and caused financial setbacks for families. During National Hurricane Preparedness Week, we recommit to improving our Nation's resilience to hurricanes and to stopping climate change from exacerbating the impact of climate-related catastrophes in the future.

Last year was the third most active hurricane season—and one of the costliest ever recorded in the Atlantic basin. Hurricane Ida made landfall in Louisiana and moved northeast, causing severe weather and flooding across Pennsylvania and New York. Hurricane Henri, the first hurricane to hit the northeast in 30 years, killed more than a 100 people and caused billions of dollars in damages. These and other hurricanes devastated infrastructure, economies, and communities in their path. Hurricanes also take an emotional toll—especially on low-income communities and communities of color, who are more likely to live in areas that are vulnerable to climate and weather hazards. I witnessed the aftermath of these storms firsthand in Louisiana, New Jersey, and New York as I walked with survivors through their devastated communities.

My Administration is committed not only to recovering and rebuilding in the aftermath of these climate-related events but also to preparing for them by strengthening the resiliency of our infrastructure and our communities. That is why I was proud to sign the historic Bipartisan Infrastructure Law last year. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law includes long-overdue investments in coastal resilience, advances our understanding and forecasting of dangerous weather events, improves how we communicate forecasts to the public, and enhances the resiliency of underserved communities.

In addition, I have proposed more than $18 billion for climate resilience programs across the Federal Government in next year's budget. Federal investments will also incorporate new flood standards so that our communities are more resilient to flooding. We are strengthening Federal coordination on meteorological services. We are working with State and local governments to strengthen and adopt building codes so, when disasters strike, buildings and the people in them are safer.

But the Government cannot address hurricane and extreme weather resilience alone—every individual and family living in a part of the country that is threatened by these storms has an important role to play. Staying informed, making sure your insurance policies are up to date, and having an emergency kit and plan ready are all important preparation steps. More information on how to prepare for hurricane season is available on the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Ready.gov website.

As we enter hurricane season, let us recommit to working together so that we can save lives; reduce damage to our homes, communities, and infrastructure; and recover more quickly when hurricanes and tropical storms strike.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 1 through May 7, 2022, as National Hurricane Preparedness Week. I urge all Americans to help build our climate-resilient Nation, so that individuals and organizations are empowered to take action to make their communities more resilient to weather disasters. I call on our Federal, State, Tribal, territorial, and local government agencies to share information that will protect lives and property.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10384 of April 29, 2022

National Small Business Week, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

For generations, small businesses across America have shaped and embodied our Nation's entrepreneurial spirit and driven our economy forward. Today, more than 32 million small businesses employ almost half of America's workforce and represent the heart and soul of countless communities. During National Small Business Week, we celebrate America's small businesses and their enormous contributions to American life and prosperity.

When I first took office, the pandemic had devastated America's small business community. Hundreds of thousands of small businesses had closed, main streets were shuttered, and millions more Americans were out of work through no fault of their own. Even with the creativity and resilience of small business owners and workers, COVID-19 took an incalculable toll on so many lives and livelihoods. That is why I made it a top priority to provide substantial, immediate relief to our Nation's small businesses, giving them the tools, resources, and support they needed to reopen, rehire, and rebuild.

My American Rescue Plan and other emergency relief programs distributed hundreds of billions of dollars to millions of small businesses to keep the lights on and keep workers on the payroll. My Administration also removed historic barriers to level the playing field for businesses across rural and urban America, especially businesses owned by veterans, women, and people of color. These efforts have helped millions of small businesses not only weather the pandemic, but thrive.

My Administration is committed to unlocking new opportunities to help small businesses grow and compete. Through the American Rescue Plan, our State Small Business Credit Initiative provides States, territories, and Tribal governments with resources to establish loan and equity capital programs to support entrepreneurs. In addition, the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law has created unprecedented contracting opportunities for small businesses in every community. Already, more than 4,000 projects have been announced to upgrade America's infrastructure, creating significant opportunities for small businesses to grow. The law is delivering affordable high-speed internet access to every community—urban, rural, suburban, and Tribal—so every small business can use digital technologies and gain new customers across the country and around the world. The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law makes the Minority Business Development Agency within the United States Department of Commerce a permanent entity—seeded with a record amount of funding—so minority-owned businesses can receive tailored assistance for their unique challenges and access the capital they need to grow.

I firmly believe that equal opportunity is the bedrock of our democracy. That is why my Administration is committed to using Federal procurement dollars to support firms owned by underrepresented people and to help small businesses build generational wealth. Last year, I announced a set of reforms to increase contracting opportunities for underserved businesses by up to 50 percent by 2025. We are also capitalizing on our historic investments in supply chain resilience and "Made in America" manufacturing so small businesses can innovate, compete, and build the products of tomorrow. To position small businesses for success in the long term, the United States Small Business Administration's Community Navigator Pilot program is forging stronger partnerships with local organizations to get resources to underserved small businesses.

Thanks to these initiatives and the resilience of the American people, America's entrepreneurial spirit has never been stronger. New business applications grew by more than 30 percent over the course of the pandemic, with almost 5.4 million new applications in 2021 alone. More Americans than ever before—including more women and people of color—are following their dreams and starting new enterprises. My Administration will continue to support them, build upon this remarkable resurgence, and strengthen the foundation of our economy with America's small businesses at the forefront.

This National Small Business Week, let us renew our commitment to supporting our Nation's small businesses. From local "mom and pop" shops to innovative start-ups, small businesses are pillars of our communities and the engine of our economy. By rebuilding our economy from the bottom up and middle out, we can maintain our global competitiveness and build a stronger Nation where everyone can succeed.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 1 through May 7, 2022, as National Small Business Week. I call upon all Americans to recognize the contributions of small businesses to the American economy, continue supporting them, and honor the occasion with programs and activities that highlight these important businesses.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10385 of April 29, 2022

National Teacher Appreciation Day and National Teacher Appreciation Week, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

As the husband of a lifelong educator, who continues to teach full-time as First Lady, I have often heard Jill say: “Teaching is not what you do. It’s who you are.” Our Nation’s teachers are selfless, dedicated, and caring individuals who devote themselves to the well-being and progress of our students. During this National Teacher Appreciation Day and throughout National Teacher Appreciation Week, we honor educators who touch the lives of students across America and who are essential to building the future of our Nation.

One of the greatest gifts our schools give to students and educators is time spent with one another—the daily opportunities to learn and grow together, face to face. There is no substitute for the wisdom this experience brings. That is why, when I took office, I made it a priority to reopen schools as quickly and safely as possible. Today, I am proud that more than 99 percent of schools are open for full-time in-person instruction. By following the science and making vaccines available for students, educators, and staff, we got kids back to school safely.

My Administration is working tirelessly to support educators. The American Rescue Plan provided a historic $122 billion investment to our Nation’s schools so they could safely reopen for in-person instruction, address students’ mental health needs, hire more teachers, and make up for lost learning. Teachers have long been underpaid, and these funds help school districts increase compensation to recruit and retain the teachers that students need.

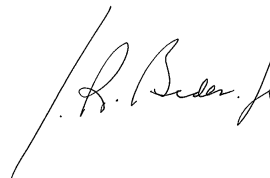

To counter the negative impacts of the pandemic on student learning, our educators have returned to the classroom with creative solutions. They have partnered with communities to implement safety measures, increase students’ access to mental health support, and equip them with critical life skills. Teachers have also found new ways to address unfinished learning and engage meaningfully with students and families. To support our educators, the Department of Education is offering unprecedented resources to help teachers meet student needs. My Administration is also committed to strengthening pathways into the teaching profession for future educators of color, ensuring a more diverse workforce.

I will never forget the educators who encouraged me as a child. Many of us remember our favorite teachers—the ones who instilled confidence in us, who encouraged us to dream boldly, and who helped us believe that we could achieve anything. On National Teacher Appreciation Day and during National Teacher Appreciation Week, we pay tribute to educators who empower students across the country with the knowledge and skills they need to reach their potential and achieve their dreams.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 3, 2022, as National Teacher Appreciation Day and May 1 through May 7, 2022, as National Teacher Appreciation Week. I call upon all Americans to recognize the hard work and dedication of our Nation's teachers and to observe this day and this week by supporting teachers through appropriate activities, events, and programs.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10386 of April 29, 2022

Public Service Recognition Week, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

America's dedicated public servants are the lifeblood of our democracy. Every day, millions of public workers at all levels of government do extraordinary things to make our lives better and our country stronger. During Public Service Recognition Week, we honor the dedicated Federal, State, Tribal, and local public servants who embody the spirit of service and endless possibilities that define America.

Public servants make crucial contributions in every community in America. They educate our children, keep our communities safe, defend our country, deliver our mail, maintain our roads and bridges, develop cures for diseases, improve sustainability, and care for our veterans—among countless other essential services that keep our country safe and propel us forward. Public servants reflect the full diversity of this Nation, and deliver the promise of a Government by and for the people.

Our public servants have displayed remarkable resilience and dedication throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. They have led vaccination efforts to keep our communities safe, provided relief to small businesses, supported natural disaster recovery efforts, and safely reopened schools so that our students can learn. I am proud that my Administration's American Rescue Plan provided $350 billion to State, Tribal, and local governments so that they could retain and re-hire vital public servants—educators, police officers, firefighters, public works employees, and countless others. The American Rescue Plan also provided $122 billion for our public schools, equipping them with the resources they need to operate safely and support our students. Every day, public servants continue to put these funds to work in ways that transform our communities for the better.

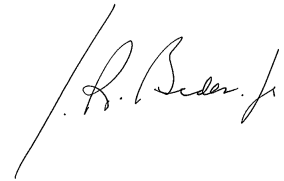

My Administration is committed to protecting, empowering, and rebuilding the career Federal workforce so they can bring more resources to bear in service of the American people. To recruit and retain the best career civil service employees, I directed executive departments and agencies to increase the minimum wage for Federal employees to $15 per hour to make Government jobs more competitive. I established a White House Task Force on Worker Organizing and Empowerment, led by Vice President Harris, which has already put forward nearly 70 recommendations to strengthen the right to unionize among Federal Government workers. I have also taken steps to protect Federal employees against discrimination on the basis of gender identity or sexual orientation. I established a government-wide initiative to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion in the Federal workforce—because when public servants reflect the full diversity of the communities they serve, governments are more effective and successful.

I am proud that my Administration has delivered significant relief to public servants who have Federal student loans. It is crucial that student loans create a pathway to opportunity, not a lifelong burden. In October, my Administration announced a series of actions to make it easier for borrowers to receive loan forgiveness. Since then, more than 100,000 public servants have received nearly $6.2 billion in student loan debt relief. We will continue to build a student loan system that provides borrowers the relief they need.

This week, we recognize the indispensable contributions of our Nation's public servants. We honor all our public workers who perform critical roles across our country and around the globe. I have the greatest honor of serving alongside these workers every day, and I am humbled by their commitment to building a better America.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 1 through May 7, 2022, as Public Service Recognition Week. I call upon all Americans to celebrate public servants and their contributions this week and throughout the year.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

Proclamation 10387 of April 29, 2022

Loyalty Day, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

On Loyalty Day, we reaffirm our allegiance to the Nation we share and to the principles of freedom, justice, equality, and dignity enshrined in the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution.

Our unity and common purpose as Americans—not hindered but strengthened by our differences—is and has always been the source of our limitless potential. The weaving together of diverse cultures, heritages, religions, backgrounds, and ideals across generations has sparked our capacity to build the strongest, freest, and most prosperous country the world has ever known. And though we have not always fully lived up to our founding promise of equality and justice for all, we have never fully walked away from that promise either. It is up to each of us to heed the call of our Constitution—to do all that we can to form a more perfect Union, coming together around the values and ideals that make us one united people.

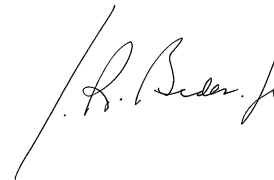

Today, we salute the Americans whose hard work and sacrifice have strengthened our Nation in common cause—including veterans who have defended our country in uniform; abolitionists, suffragists, activists, and advocates who have helped deliver the full promise of America to more Americans; workers and entrepreneurs whose ingenuity and vision have helped expand the possibilities of life in our Nation; and countless others who have made America a beacon of hope for people throughout the world.

We also extend our deep and abiding gratitude to the members of our Armed Forces, as well as to their families, caregivers, and survivors. We thank our dedicated educators for their essential work lifting up the next generation of Americans, and we applaud our first responders and other essential workers for their selflessness and determination every day—especially throughout these past 2 years, as they have carried our Nation on their backs. May 1 is also International Workers' Day—and today, we honor the workers of every age and background who built this country and who continue to help build a better America today. Today and every day, we are grateful to all of the workers who have organized and fought to improve our Nation and create a fairer and more just society for all.

To celebrate our shared American spirit and the sacrifices so many of our fellow citizens have made, the Congress, by Public Law 85–529, as amended, has designated the first day of May each year as Loyalty Day. On this day, let us reaffirm our commitment to the values that bind us together and honor all those who have defended our freedom and ideals.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim May 1, 2022, as Loyalty Day. This Loyalty Day, I call upon the people of the United States to join in this national observance, display the American flag, and pledge allegiance to our Republic for which it stands.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Table of Abbreviations

CFR Code of Federal Regulations
 DHS Department of Homeland Security
 FR Federal Register
 NPRM Notice of proposed rulemaking
 § Section

U.S.C. United States Code

II. Background Information and Regulatory History

Navy Morale, Welfare, and Recreation conducts a recurring fireworks display between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. during the first week of July. The fireworks are launched from a barge positioned in Apra Outer Harbor. Hazards from firework display include accidental discharge of fireworks, dangerous projectiles, and falling hot embers or other debris. In response, on March 24, 2021, the Coast Guard published a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) titled Safety Zone; Apra Outer Harbor, Naval Base Guam (86 FR 15625). There we stated why we issued the NPRM, and invited comments on our proposed regulatory action related to this fireworks display. During the comment period that ended April 23, 2021 we received no comments.

III. Legal Authority and Need for Rule

The Coast Guard is issuing this rule under authority in 46 U.S.C. 70034 (previously 33 U.S.C. 1231). The COTP Guam has determined that potential hazards associated with the fireworks to be used during displays are a safety concern for anyone within a 190-yard radius of the barge. The purpose of this rule is to ensure safety of vessels and the navigable waters in the safety zone before, during, and after the scheduled event.

IV. Discussion of Comments, Changes, and the Rule

As noted above, we received no comments on our NPRM published March 24, 2021. There is one change in the regulatory text of this rule from the proposed rule in the NPRM. The text now refers to the event as Independence Day instead of 4th of July.

This rule establishes a recurring safety zone from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. during the first week of July. The safety zone will cover all navigable waters within 190 yards of the fireworks barge located in Apra Outer Harbor. The duration of the zone is intended to ensure the safety of vessels and these navigable waters before, during, and after the scheduled 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. fireworks display. No vessel or person will be permitted to enter the safety zone without obtaining permission from the COTP or a designated representative.

V. Regulatory Analyses

We developed this rule after considering numerous statutes and Executive orders related to rulemaking. Below we summarize our analyses based on a number of these statutes and Executive orders, and we discuss First Amendment rights of protestors.

A. Regulatory Planning and Review

Executive Orders 12866 and 13563 direct agencies to assess the costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits. This rule has not been designated a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866. Accordingly, this rule has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

This regulatory action determination is based on the size, location, duration, and time-of-year of the safety zone. Vessel traffic will be able to safely transit around this safety zone, which will impact a small designated area of the Apra Outer Harbor for three hours. The safety zone will impact a small section of the main channel for Navy traffic, however Navy traffic will be able to transit around the area safely. This is also the main traffic area for the Marianas Yacht Club in Sasa Bay, however vessels will be able to transit around the area safely. Moreover, the Coast Guard will issue a Broadcast Notice to Mariners via VHF–FM marine channel 16 about the zone, and the rule allows vessels to seek permission to enter the zone.

B. Impact on Small Entities

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, 5 U.S.C. 601–612, as amended, requires Federal agencies to consider the potential impact of regulations on small entities during rulemaking. The term “small entities” comprises small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000. The Coast Guard received 00 comments from the Small Business Administration on this rulemaking. The Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

While some owners or operators of vessels intending to transit the safety zone may be small entities, for the reasons stated in section V.A above, this rule will not have a significant economic impact on any vessel owner or operator.

Under section 213(a) of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104–121), we want to assist small entities in understanding this rule. If the rule would affect your small business, organization, or governmental jurisdiction, and you have questions concerning its provisions or options for compliance, please call or email the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section.

Small businesses may send comments on the actions of Federal employees who enforce, or otherwise determine compliance with, Federal regulations to the Small Business and Agriculture Regulatory Enforcement Ombudsman and the Regional Small Business Regulatory Fairness Boards. The Ombudsman evaluates these actions annually and rates each agency's responsiveness to small business. If you wish to comment on actions by employees of the Coast Guard, call 1–888–REG–FAIR (1–888–734–3247). The Coast Guard will not retaliate against small entities that question or complain about this rule or any policy or action of the Coast Guard.

C. Collection of Information

This rule will not call for a new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).

D. Federalism and Indian Tribal Governments

A rule has implications for federalism under Executive Order 13132, Federalism, if it has a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. We have analyzed this rule under that Order and have determined that it is consistent with the fundamental federalism principles and preemption requirements described in Executive Order 13132.

Also, this rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.

E. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531–1538) requires Federal agencies to assess the effects of their discretionary regulatory actions. In particular, the Act addresses actions that may result in the expenditure by a State, local, or tribal government, in the aggregate, or by the private sector of $100,000,000 (adjusted for inflation) or more in any one year. Though this rule will not result in such an expenditure, we do discuss the effects of this rule elsewhere in this preamble.

F. Environment

We have analyzed this rule under Department of Homeland Security Directive 023–01, Rev. 1, associated implementing instructions, and Environmental Planning COMDTINST 5090.1 (series), which guide the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321–4370f), and have determined that this action is one of a category of actions that do not individually or cumulatively have a significant effect on the human environment. This rule involves a safety zone lasting approximately three hours that would prohibit entry within 190 yards of a fireworks barge. It is categorically excluded from further review under paragraph L60(a) of Appendix A, Table 1 of DHS Instruction Manual 023–01–001–01, Rev. 1. A Record of Environmental Consideration supporting this determination is available in the docket. For instructions on locating the docket, see the ADDRESSES section of this preamble.

G. Protest Activities

The Coast Guard respects the First Amendment rights of protesters. Protesters are asked to call or email the person listed in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section to coordinate protest activities so that your message can be received without jeopardizing the safety or security of people, places or vessels.

For the reasons discussed in the preamble, the Coast Guard amends 33 CFR part 165 as follows:

PART 165—REGULATED NAVIGATION AREAS AND LIMITED ACCESS AREAS

■ 1. The authority citation for part 165 continues to read as follows:

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

40 CFR Part 52

[EPA-R06-OAR-2021-0032; FRL-8688-02-R6]

Air Plan Approval; Oklahoma; Interstate Visibility Transport

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the Federal Clean Air Act (CAA or the Act), the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is approving elements of a State Implementation Plan (SIP) submission from the State of Oklahoma for the 2015 Ozone National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) and disapproving elements of two SIP submissions for the 2010 sulfur dioxide (SO₂) and the 2012 fine particulate matter (PM_{2.5}) NAAQS. These infrastructure SIP (i-SIP) submissions address how the existing SIP provides for implementation, maintenance, and enforcement of these NAAQS. The i-SIP requirements are to ensure that the Oklahoma SIP is adequate to meet the State's responsibilities under the CAA for these NAAQS. Specifically, this final rule addresses the interstate visibility transport requirements of the i-SIP for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS, 2010 SO₂, and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS under CAA section 110(a)(2)(D)(i)(II). We are also finalizing our determination that the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP that form the basis of our disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS are remedied by the existing Federal Implementation Plan (FIP) in place for the Oklahoma Regional Haze program, and that no further Federal action is required to address the disapproval.

DATES: This rule is effective on June 6, 2022.

ADDRESSES: The EPA has established a docket for this action under Docket ID No. EPA-R06-OAR-2021-0032. All documents in the docket are listed on the <https://www.regulations.gov> website. Although listed in the index,

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Throughout this document, "we," "us," and "our" means the EPA.

I. Background

The background for this action is discussed in detail in our July 22, 2021 proposal (86 FR 38630). In that document, we proposed to approve the interstate visibility transport element of the i-SIP submission from the State of Oklahoma for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS. We also proposed to disapprove the interstate visibility transport elements of two i-SIP submissions from the State of Oklahoma: One for the 2010 SO₂ NAAQS and the other for the 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. We simultaneously proposed, in exercising our authority under section 110(c) of the Act, to find that the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP that formed the basis of our proposed disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS are already addressed by the existing FIP in place for the Oklahoma Regional Haze program, and that no further Federal action is required. The reader should refer to our notice of proposed rulemaking for our evaluation of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions and a detailed explanation of our rationale for this action.

The public comment period for the proposed action closed on August 23, 2021. We received one public comment concerning our proposed action. The comment is included in the publicly posted docket associated with this action at <https://www.regulations.gov>. Below we provide a summary of the comment along with our response. After careful consideration of the comment received, we have decided to finalize our action with no changes from the proposed action.

II. Response to Comments

Comment: The commenter expressed appreciation for EPA's close evaluation of Oklahoma's SIP submittals and expressed support of EPA's determinations and actions identified in the proposed rule.

Response: We appreciate the commenter's support of our proposed rule.

Comment: The commenter stated that they do not object to EPA's determination, among others, that the existing FIP in place for the Oklahoma Regional Haze program is sufficient to remedy the proposed disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS but asked EPA to revisit, as necessary and appropriate in the future, whether the existing FIP continues to remain sufficiently stringent to comply with the requirements of the CAA, including whether it is adequately ensuring reasonable progress towards achieving Oklahoma's regional haze goals.

Response: First, we note that comments regarding the stringency of the existing Oklahoma Regional Haze FIP and whether it is sufficient to comply with the regional haze requirements of the CAA are beyond the scope of this action, and as such, we will not be responding to them. We also note that we are not implementing a new or revised FIP in this action but are instead finding that the existing regional haze FIP also addresses the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP that form the basis of our disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. EPA will review and take action on any future regional haze SIP revisions submitted by Oklahoma in separate future actions.

III. Impact on Areas of Indian Country

As stated in the proposed action, following the U.S. Supreme Court decision in McGirt v. Oklahoma, 140 S.Ct. 2452 (2020), the Governor of the State of Oklahoma requested approval under Section 10211(a) of the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act of 2005: A Legacy for Users, Public Law 109-59, 119 Stat. 1144, 1937 (August 10, 2005) ("SAFETEA"), to administer in certain areas of Indian country (as defined at 18 U.S.C. 1151) the State's environmental regulatory programs that were previously approved by the EPA outside of Indian country.¹ The State's request excluded certain areas of Indian country further described below. In addition, the State only sought approval to the extent that such approval is necessary for the State to administer a program in light of Oklahoma Dept. of Environmental Quality v. EPA, 740 F.3d 185 (D.C. Cir. 2014).²

On October 1, 2020, the EPA approved Oklahoma's SAFETEA request to administer all of the State's EPA-approved environmental regulatory programs, including the Oklahoma SIP, in the requested areas of Indian country.³ As requested by Oklahoma, the EPA's approval under SAFETEA does not include Indian country lands, including rights-of-way running through the same, that: (1) Qualify as Indian allotments, the Indian titles to which have not been extinguished, under 18 U.S.C. 1151(c); (2) are held in trust by the United States on behalf of an individual Indian or Tribe; or (3) are owned in fee by a Tribe, if the Tribe (a) acquired that fee title to such land, or an area that included such land, in accordance with a treaty with the United States to which such Tribe was a party, and (b) never allotted the land to a member or citizen of the Tribe (collectively "excluded Indian country lands").

EPA's approval under SAFETEA expressly provided that to the extent EPA's prior approvals of Oklahoma's environmental programs excluded Indian country, any such exclusions are superseded for the geographic areas of Indian country covered by the EPA's approval of Oklahoma's SAFETEA request.⁴ The approval also provided

² In ODEQ v. EPA, the D.C. Circuit held that under the CAA, a state has the authority to implement a SIP in non-reservation areas of Indian country in the state, where there has been no demonstration of tribal jurisdiction. Under the D.C. Circuit's decision, the CAA does not provide authority to states to implement SIPs in Indian reservations. ODEQ did not, however, substantively address the separate authority in Indian country provided specifically to Oklahoma under SAFETEA. That separate authority was not invoked until the State submitted its request under SAFETEA, and was not approved until EPA's decision, described in this section, on October 1, 2020.

³ A copy of EPA's October 1, 2020 approval can be found in the docket for this rulemaking on the <https://www.regulations.gov> website. See Document ID No. EPA-R06-OAR-2021-0032-0018.

⁴ EPA's prior approvals relating to Oklahoma's SIP frequently noted that the SIP was not approved to apply in areas of Indian country (consistent with the D.C. Circuit's decision in ODEQ v. EPA) located in the state. See, e.g., 85 FR 20178, 20180 (April 10, 2020). Such prior expressed limitations are superseded by the EPA's approval of Oklahoma's SAFETEA request.

that future revisions or amendments to Oklahoma's approved environmental regulatory programs would extend to the covered areas of Indian country (without any further need for additional requests under SAFETEA).⁵

As explained above, the EPA is disapproving the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submittals for the 2010 SO₂ and the 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS because they do not meet the interstate visibility transport requirements of CAA Section 110(a)(2)(D)(i)(II) with respect to these NAAQS; however, the EPA is also making the determination that the deficiencies forming the basis of the disapproval of these SIPs are met through the existing FIP in place for the Oklahoma Regional Haze program. The FIP applies to all lands within the State regardless of land status. In practice, the FIP requirements, as discussed in the proposed rule, only apply to the Oklahoma Gas & Electric (OG&E) facilities, Sooner Station Units 1 and 2 (located within Noble County) and Muskogee, Units 4 and 5 (located within Muskogee County and the Cherokee Nation Reservation).

Additionally, the EPA is approving the interstate visibility transport element of the Oklahoma i-SIP for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS. Consistent with the D.C. Circuit's decision in ODEQ v. EPA and with EPA's October 1, 2020, SAFETEA approval, this portion of the SIP applies in certain areas of Indian country. Under EPA's October 1, 2020 SAFETEA approval, the SIP will apply to all Indian country within the State of Oklahoma, other than the excluded Indian country lands. Because—per the State's request under SAFETEA—EPA's October 1, 2020 approval does not displace any SIP authority previously exercised by the State under the CAA as interpreted in ODEQ v. EPA, the SIP will also apply to any Indian allotments or dependent Indian communities located outside of an Indian reservation over which there has been no demonstration of tribal authority.

This action does not result in the imposition of new requirements for the affected sources. Rather, it approves

⁵ On December 22, 2021, EPA proposed to withdraw and reconsider the October 1, 2020 SAFETEA approval. See <https://www.epa.gov/ok/proposed-withdrawal-and-reconsideration-and-supporting-information>. EPA is engaging in further consultation with tribal governments and expects to have discussions with the State of Oklahoma as part of this reconsideration. EPA also notes that the October 1, 2020 approval is the subject of a pending challenge in Federal court. Pawnee Nation of Oklahoma v. Regan, No. 20-9635 (10th Cir.). EPA may make further changes to the approval of Oklahoma's program to reflect the outcome of the proposed withdrawal and reconsideration of the October 1, 2020 SAFETEA approval.

Oklahoma's determination that the regional haze measures that have already been approved and are currently being implemented satisfy the visibility transport requirements for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS and also makes the determination that the regional haze measures promulgated by EPA in the Oklahoma FIP that are currently being implemented address the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP with respect to visibility transport requirements for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS.

IV. Final Action

The EPA is approving the interstate visibility transport elements of the i-SIP submission from the State of Oklahoma for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS. We are also disapproving the interstate visibility transport elements of two i-SIP submissions from the State of Oklahoma: One for the 2010 SO₂ NAAQS and the other for the 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. We simultaneously find, in exercising our authority under section 110(c) of the Act, that the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP that form the basis of our disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS are already addressed by the existing FIP in place for the Oklahoma Regional Haze program, and that no further Federal action is required.

V. Environmental Justice Considerations

Executive Order 12898 (Federal Actions To Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations, 59 FR 7629, Feb. 16, 1994) directs Federal agencies to identify and address "disproportionately high and adverse human health or environmental effects" of their actions on minority populations and low-income populations to the greatest extent practicable and permitted by law. The EPA defines environmental justice (EJ) as "the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people regardless of race, color, national origin, or income with respect to the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies." The EPA further defines the term fair treatment to mean that "no group of people should bear a disproportionate burden of environmental harms and risks, including those resulting from the negative environmental consequences of industrial, governmental, and commercial operations or programs and policies.”⁶ EPA is providing additional analysis of environmental justice associated with this action. We are doing so for the purpose of providing information to the public, not as a basis of our final action.

EPA reviewed demographic data, which provides an assessment of individual demographic groups of the populations living within Oklahoma.⁷ The EPA then compared the data to the national average for each of the demographic groups.⁸ The results of the demographic analysis indicate that, for populations within Oklahoma, the percent people of color (persons who reported their race as a category other than White alone (not Hispanic or Latino)) is less than the national average (35 percent versus 40 percent). Within people of color, the percent of the population that is Black or African American alone is lower than the national average (7.8 percent versus 13.4 percent) and the percent of the population that is American Indian/Alaska Native is significantly higher than the national average (9.4 percent versus 1.3 percent). The percent of the population that is two or more races is higher than the national averages (6.3 percent versus 2.8 percent). The percent of people living below the poverty level in Oklahoma is higher than the national average (14.3 percent versus 11.4 percent). The percent of people over 25 with a high school diploma in Oklahoma is similar to the national average (88.6 percent versus 88.5 percent), while the percent with a Bachelor's degree or higher is below the national average (26.1 percent versus 32.9 percent).

This final rule approves Oklahoma's determination that the regional haze measures that have already been approved into the Oklahoma SIP and are currently being implemented satisfy the visibility transport requirements for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS and also makes the determination that the regional haze measures promulgated by EPA in the Oklahoma FIP that are currently being implemented address the deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP with respect to the visibility transport requirements for the 2010 SO₂ and 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. The existing regional haze measures on which Oklahoma and EPA are relying to satisfy the visibility transport requirements for these three NAAQS have resulted in significant emissions reductions, as discussed in the proposed rule. Some of the pollutants which form haze have also been linked to serious health problems, such as increased respiratory illness, decreased lung function, and even premature death.⁹ Therefore, we believe that these existing regional haze measures and resulting emissions reductions have contributed to reduced environmental and health impacts on all populations in Oklahoma, including people of color and low-income populations in Oklahoma. We conclude that this final rule does not have disproportionately high or adverse human health or environmental effects on communities with environmental justice concerns.

VI. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

A. Executive Order 12866: Regulatory Planning and Review and Executive Order 13563: Improving Regulation and Regulatory Review

This final action is not a “significant regulatory action” and was therefore not submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for review.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA)

This final action does not impose an information collection burden under the PRA because it does not contain any information collection activities.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA)

I certify that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the RFA. This action merely approves a portion of one SIP submission as meeting the CAA and disapproves portions of two SIP submissions as not meeting the CAA.

D. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA)

This action does not contain any unfunded mandate as described in UMRA, 2 U.S.C. 1531–1538, and does not significantly or uniquely affect small governments. The action imposes no enforceable duty on any state, local or tribal governments or the private sector.

⁹ SO₂, nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), and particulate matter are among six criteria air pollutants for which the EPA has established NAAQS. The CAA requires the EPA to periodically review the scientific basis for the NAAQS by preparing an integrated science assessment. The integrated science assessment provides the EPA's evaluation and synthesis of the most policy-relevant science related to the health effects of the criteria pollutants. The most recent integrated science assessments for SO₂, NO₂, and particulate matter can be accessed here: <https://www.epa.gov/naaqs/sulfur-dioxide-so2-primary-air-quality-standards>; <https://www.epa.gov/naaqs/nitrogen-dioxide-no2-primary-air-quality-standards>; and <https://www.epa.gov/naaqs/particulate-matter-pm-air-quality-standards>.

E. Executive Order 13132: Federalism

This action does not have federalism implications. It will not have substantial direct effects on the states, on the relationship between the National Government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

F. Executive Order 13175: Consultation and Coordination With Indian Tribal Governments

This final action approving the interstate visibility transport element of the Oklahoma i-SIP submission for the 2015 Ozone NAAQS and disapproving the interstate visibility transport elements of the Oklahoma i-SIP submissions for the 2010 1-hour SO₂ NAAQS and the 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS (and making a determination that no further action is required to address the deficiencies identified in the disapproval) will apply to certain areas of Indian country as discussed in the preamble, and therefore has tribal implications as specified in E.O. 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000). However, this action will neither impose substantial direct compliance costs on federally recognized tribal governments, nor preempt tribal law. This action will not impose substantial direct compliance costs on federally recognized tribal governments because no actions will be required of tribal governments. This action will also not preempt tribal law as no Oklahoma tribe implements a regulatory program under the CAA, and thus does not have applicable or related tribal laws. Consistent with the EPA Policy on Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribes (May 4, 2011), on July 16, 2021, the EPA offered consultation to 38 tribal governments whose lands are located within the exterior boundaries of the State of Oklahoma. EPA did not receive any comments from tribal governments or requests for consultation.

G. Executive Order 13045: Protection of Children From Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks

The EPA interprets Executive Order 13045 as applying only to those regulatory actions that concern environmental health or safety risks that the EPA has reason to believe may disproportionately affect children, per the definition of “covered regulatory action” in section 2–202 of the Executive order. This action is not subject to Executive Order 13045 because it merely approves a portion of one SIP submission as meeting the CAA and disapproves portions of two SIP submissions as not meeting the CAA.

H. Executive Order 13211: Actions That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution or Use

This action is not subject to Executive Order 13211, because it is not a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866.

I. National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act

This rulemaking does not involve technical standards.

J. Executive Order 12898: Federal Actions To Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations

EPA believes the human health or environmental risk addressed by this action will not have potential disproportionately high and adverse human health or environmental effects on minority, low-income or indigenous populations. This action merely approves a portion of a SIP submission as meeting the CAA and disapproves portions of two SIP submissions as not meeting the CAA.

K. Congressional Review Act (CRA)

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. The EPA will submit a report containing this action and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. This action is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

L. Judicial Review

Under section 307(b)(1) of the CAA, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by July 5, 2022. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this action for the purposes of judicial review, nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See section 307(b)(2).)

(f) The portions of the State Implementation Plans pertaining to adequate provisions to prohibit emissions from interfering with measures required in another state to protect visibility for the 2010 1-hour SO₂ NAAQS, submitted on January 28, 2015, and the 2012 PM_{2.5} NAAQS, submitted on June 16, 2016, are disapproved. The deficiencies in the Oklahoma SIP that form the basis of our disapproval of the interstate visibility transport portions of these two State Implementation Plan submissions are addressed by § 52.1923.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Throughout this document “we,” “us,” and “our” means the EPA.

I. Background

The background for this action is discussed in detail in our August 19, 2021, proposal (86 FR 46639) and accompanying Technical Support Document (TSD). In that action, we proposed to partially approve the Texas OSWI plan submitted by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) and amend 40 CFR part 62 in accordance with the requirements under sections 111(d) and 129 of the CAA. We proposed to find that the Texas OSWI plan, with the exception of 30 TAC section 113.2313(3), is at least as protective as the Federal requirements provided under the OSWI EG, codified at 40 CFR part 60, subpart FFFF. We received one comment from the TCEQ in support of EPA’s proposed partial approval of the Texas CAA section 111(d) OSWI state plan. No adverse comment was received on the August 19, 2021, proposal.

II. Final Action

In this final action, the EPA is amending 40 CFR part 62, subpart SS, to reflect approval of the Texas OSWI Plan from TCEQ, received on May 18, 2009, with the exception of 30 TAC section 113.2313(3), in accordance with sections 111(d) and 129 of the CAA.

III. Environmental Justice Considerations

Executive Order 12898 (Federal Actions To Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations, 59 FR 7629, Feb. 16, 1994) directs Federal agencies to identify and address “disproportionately high and adverse human health or environmental effects” of their actions on minority populations and low-income populations to the greatest extent practicable and permitted by law. The EPA defines environmental justice (EJ) as “the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people regardless of race, color, national origin, or income with respect to the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies.” The EPA further defines the term fair treatment to mean that “no group of people should bear a disproportionate burden of environmental harms and risks, including those resulting from the negative environmental consequences of industrial, governmental, and commercial operations or programs and policies.”¹ EPA is providing additional analysis of environmental justice associated with this action. We are doing so for the purpose of providing information to the public, not as a basis of our final action.

EPA conducted screening analyses using EJSCREEN, an environmental justice mapping and screening tool that provides EPA with a nationally consistent dataset and approach for combining various environmental and demographic indicators.² The EJSCREEN tool presents these indicators at a Census block group (CBG) level or a larger user-specified “buffer” area that covers multiple CBGs.³ An individual CBG is a cluster of contiguous blocks within the same census tract and generally contains between 600 and 3,000 people. EJSCREEN is not a tool for performing in-depth risk analysis, but is instead a screening tool that provides an initial representation of indicators related to environmental justice and is subject to uncertainty in some underlying data (e.g., some environmental indicators are based on monitoring data which are not uniformly available; others are based on self-reported data).⁴ To help mitigate this uncertainty, we have summarized EJSCREEN data within larger “buffer” areas covering multiple block groups and representing the average resident within the buffer areas surrounding the incinerators. We present EJSCREEN environmental indicators to help screen for locations where residents may experience a higher overall pollution burden than would be expected for a block group with the same total population. These indicators of overall pollution burden include estimates of ambient particulate matter (PM_{2.5}) and ozone concentration, a score for traffic proximity and volume, percentage of pre-1960 housing units (lead paint indicator), and scores for proximity to Superfund sites, risk management plan (RMP) sites, and hazardous waste facilities.⁵ EJSCREEN also provides information on demographic indicators, including percent low-income, communities of color, linguistic isolation, and less than high school education. The EPA prepared EJSCREEN reports covering buffer areas of approximately 3-mile radii (or 6-mile radii for low-density populations/ heavily industrialized areas) around the existing OSWI in Texas.⁶ Table 1 presents a summary of results from the EPA’s screening-level analysis for the areas surrounding each OSWI compared to the U.S. as a whole (the detailed EJSCREEN reports are provided in the docket for this rulemaking).

⁴ In addition, EJSCREEN relies on the five-year block group estimates from the U.S. Census American Community Survey. The advantage of using five-year over single-year estimates is increased statistical reliability of the data (i.e., lower sampling error), particularly for small geographic areas and population groups. This final rule approves Texas's OSWI Plan, received on May 18, 2009, with the exception of 30 TAC section 113.2313(3), in accordance with sections 111(d) and 129 of the CAA. The Texas OSWI Plan incorporates Federal requirements for OSWI, as specified in the OSWI EG at 40 CFR part 60, subpart FFFF. These requirements incorporated by Texas resulted in significant emissions reductions for OSWI, as described in the Federal Registers for the OSWI rules (69 FR 71472; 70 FR 74870). These requirements result in emission reductions for nine specified pollutants: particulate matter (PM), sulfur dioxide (SO₂), hydrogen chloride (HCl), nitrogen oxides (NO_x), carbon monoxide (CO), lead (Pb), cadmium (Cd), mercury (Hg), and dioxins/furans, and they additionally provide for opacity limits. Some of these pollutants have also been linked to serious health problems. Short- and/or long-term exposure to air pollution has been associated with a wide range of human health effects including increased respiratory symptoms, hospitalization for heart or lung diseases, and even premature death. Hazardous (or toxic) air pollutants may cause cancer or other serious health effects, such as reproductive effects or birth defects.^{7 8}

⁷ See <https://www.epa.gov/air-quality-management-process/managing-air-quality-human-health-environmental-and-economic#what>.

Therefore, we believe that these requirements for existing OSWI and resulting emissions reductions have contributed to reduced environmental and health impacts on all populations impacted by emissions from these sources in Texas, including people of color and low-income populations. This final rule is not anticipated to have disproportionately high or adverse human health or environmental effects on communities with environmental justice concerns because it is not anticipated to result in or contribute to emissions increases in Texas. EPA approval of the Texas OSWI Plan makes the Plan and the corresponding OSWI EG requirements incorporated into the Plan federally enforceable by EPA as of the effective date of this final rulemaking.

IV. Incorporation by Reference

In accordance with the requirements of 1 CFR 51.5, we are finalizing regulatory text that includes the incorporation by reference of 30 TAC sections 113.2300 through 113.2357, excluding section 113.2313(3), adopted April 28, 2009, which is part of the CAA section 111(d)/129 Plan applicable to existing incinerators subject to the OSWI Emission Guidelines, at 40 CFR part 60, subpart FFFF, within TCEQ's jurisdiction in the State of Texas. The regulatory provisions of 30 TAC sections 113.2300–113.2313(2) and sections 113.2314–113.2357 incorporate the OSWI Emissions Guidelines promulgated by the EPA at 40 CFR part 60, subpart FFFF, and establish emission standards and compliance times for the control of other solid waste incinerators certain air curtain incinerators, as defined in subpart FFFF that commenced construction, modification, or reconstruction on or before December 9, 2004. The EPA has made and will continue to make 30 TAC sections 113.2300–113.2313(2) and sections 113.2314–113.2357 generally available electronically through www.regulations.gov, Docket No. EPA–R06–OAR–2021–0517 and in hard copy at the EPA Region 6 office (please contact the person identified in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section of this preamble for more information). This incorporation by reference has been approved by the Office of the Federal Register and the Plan is federally enforceable under the CAA as of the effective date of this final rulemaking.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under the CAA, the Administrator is required to approve a CAA section 111(d)/129 submission that complies with the provisions of the Act and applicable Federal regulations. 42 U.S.C. 7411(d); 42 U.S.C. 7429; 40 CFR part 60, subparts B and FFFF; and 40 CFR part 62, subpart A. Thus, in reviewing CAA section 111(d)/129 state plan submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the Act and implementing regulations. Accordingly, this action merely approves state law as meeting Federal requirements and does not impose additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law.

For that reason, this action:

- Is not a "significant regulatory action" subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Orders 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993) and 13563 (76 FR 3821, January 21, 2011);

- Does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.);

- Is certified as not having a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.);

- Does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-4);

- Does not have federalism implications as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999);

- Is not an economically significant regulatory action based on health or safety risks subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997);

- Is not a significant regulatory action subject to Executive Order 13211 (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001);

- Is not subject to requirements of section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) because application of those requirements would be inconsistent with the CAA; and

- Does not provide the EPA with the discretionary authority to address, as appropriate, disproportionate human health or environmental effects, using practicable and legally permissible methods, under Executive Order 12898 (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

In addition, the CAA section 111(d) Plans are not approved to apply in Indian country, as defined at 18 U.S.C. 1151, located in the state. As such, this rule does not have tribal implications, as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000), and it will not impose substantial direct costs on tribal governments or preempt tribal law.

The Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq., as added by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, generally provides that before a rule may take effect, the agency promulgating the rule must submit a rule report, which includes a copy of the rule, to each House of the Congress and to the Comptroller General of the United States. The EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. A major rule cannot take effect until 60 days after it is published in the Federal Register. This action is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Under section 307(b)(1) of the CAA, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by July 5, 2022. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this action for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See section 307(b)(2).)

40 CFR Part 180

[EPA-HQ-OPP-2018-0090; FRL-9763-01-OCSPP]

Trans-Anethole; Tolerance Exemption

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation establishes an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of trans-anethole (CAS No. 4180-23-8) when used as a fragrance inert ingredient in pesticide formulations at a concentration of 3% of the formulation in pre-harvest applications to crops. Landis International, Inc., on behalf of Morse Enterprises Limited, Inc. d/b/a KeyPlex submitted a petition to EPA under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), requesting an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance. This regulation eliminates the need to establish a maximum permissible level for residues of trans-anethole (CAS No. 4180-23-8) on food or feed commodities when used in accordance with this exemption.

DATES: This regulation is effective May 5, 2022. Objections and requests for hearings must be received on or before July 5, 2022, and must be filed in accordance with the instructions provided in 40 CFR part 178 (see also Unit I.C. of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION).

II. Petition for Exemption

In the Federal Register of April 11, 2018 (83 FR 15528) (FRL-9975-57), EPA issued a document pursuant to FFDCA section 408, 21 U.S.C. 346a, announcing the receipt of a pesticide petition (PP IN-11093) filed by Landis International, Inc., on behalf of Morse Enterprises Limited, Inc. d/b/a KeyPlex (P.O. Box 2515, Winter Park, FL 32790). The petition requested that 40 CFR 180.920 be amended by establishing an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of trans-anethole (CAS No. 4180-23-8) when used as a fragrance inert ingredient in pesticide formulations at a concentration of 3% of the formulation when applied pre-harvest to crops. That document included a summary of the petition prepared by the petitioner and solicited comments on the petitioner's request. The Agency did not receive any public comments.

III. Inert Ingredient Definition

Inert ingredients are all ingredients that are not active ingredients as defined in 40 CFR 153.125 and include, but are not limited to, the following types of ingredients (except when they have a pesticidal efficacy of their own): Solvents such as alcohols and hydrocarbons; surfactants such as polyoxyethylene polymers and fatty acids; carriers such as clay and diatomaceous earth; thickeners such as carrageenan and modified cellulose; wetting, spreading, and dispersing agents; propellants in aerosol dispensers; microencapsulating agents; and emulsifiers. The term “inert” is not intended to imply nontoxicity; the ingredient may or may not be chemically active. Generally, EPA has exempted inert ingredients from the requirement of a tolerance based on the low toxicity of the individual inert ingredients.

IV. Aggregate Risk Assessment and Determination of Safety

Section 408(c)(2)(A)(i) of the FFDCA allows EPA to establish an exemption from the requirement for a tolerance (the legal limit for a pesticide chemical residue in or on a food) only if EPA determines that the exemption is “safe.” Section 408(c)(2)(A)(ii) of the FFDCA defines “safe” to mean that EPA has determined that “there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue, including all anticipated dietary exposures and all other exposures for which there is reliable information.” This includes exposure through drinking water and in residential settings, but it does not include occupational exposure. Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA requires EPA to give special consideration to exposure of infants and children to the pesticide chemical residue in establishing an exemption and to “ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to infants and children from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue.”

EPA establishes exemptions from the requirement of a tolerance only in those cases where it can be shown that the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide chemical residues under reasonably foreseeable circumstances will pose no harm to human health. In order to determine the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide inert ingredients, the Agency considers the toxicity of the inert in conjunction with possible exposure to residues of the inert ingredient through food, drinking water, and through other exposures that occur as a result of pesticide use in residential settings. If EPA is able to determine that a tolerance is not necessary to ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the inert ingredient, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance may be established.

Consistent with FFDCA section 408(c)(2)(A), and the factors specified in FFDCA section 408(c)(2)(B), EPA has reviewed the available scientific data and other relevant information in support of this action and considered its validity, completeness and reliability and the relationship of this information to human risk. EPA has also considered available information concerning the variability of the sensitivities of major identifiable subgroups of consumers, including infants and children. EPA has sufficient data to assess the hazards of and to make a determination on aggregate exposure to trans-anethole, including exposure resulting from the exemption established by this action. EPA’s assessment of exposures and risks associated with trans-anethole follows.

A. Toxicological Profile

Trans-anethole has low acute toxicity via the oral, dermal, and inhalation routes, and it is not an eye or dermal irritant, nor a skin sensitizer. In repeated-dose toxicity studies, the liver was the major target organ, with non-specific effects such as changes in body weight and food consumption also observed in multiple studies. There is no evidence of offspring susceptibility in the available developmental toxicity study or in the 2-generation reproductive toxicity study. The offspring effects observed in the developmental toxicity study occurred at doses higher than those in which maternal toxicity was observed. The uterine findings described in the 90-day oral study occurred only at the highest dose tested and have a clear no observed adverse effect level (NOAEL). No effects on reproductive parameters were observed in the 2-generation reproductive toxicity study. Concern for carcinogenicity is low, based on negative results in mutagenicity and genotoxicity studies and lack of biological significance of the neoplastic effects observed in females only at the highest dose tested in the chronic/carcinogenicity study. There is no evidence of neurotoxicity or immunotoxicity in the available studies.

B. Toxicological Points of Departure/ Levels of Concern

Once a pesticide’s toxicological profile is determined, EPA identifies toxicological points of departure (POD) and levels of concern (LOCs) to use in evaluating the risk posed by human exposure to the pesticide. For hazards that have a threshold below which there is no appreciable risk, the toxicological POD is used as the basis for derivation of reference values for risk assessment. PODs are developed based on a careful analysis of the doses in each toxicological study to determine the dose at which no adverse effects are observed (the NOAEL) and the lowest dose at which adverse effects of concern are identified (the LOAEL). Uncertainty/safety factors are used in conjunction with the POD to calculate a safe exposure level—generally referred to as a population-adjusted dose (PAD) or a reference dose (RfD)—and a safe margin of exposure (MOE). For non-threshold risks, the Agency assumes that any amount of exposure will lead to some degree of risk. Thus, the Agency estimates risk in terms of the probability of an occurrence of the adverse effect expected in a lifetime. For more information on the general principles EPA uses in risk characterization and a complete description of the risk assessment process, see <https://www.epa.gov/pesticides/factsheets/riskassess.htm>.

An acute dietary endpoint was not selected because no effect attributable to a single dose was identified in the database. The chronic dietary, incidental oral, dermal and inhalation endpoints are all selected from the developmental toxicity study in rats, with a NOAEL of 35 mg/kg/day and a LOAEL of 175 mg/kg/day, based on decreases in maternal body weight and food consumption.

C. Exposure Assessment

1. Dietary exposure. Dietary exposure (food and drinking water) may occur from the existing (non-food) and proposed uses of trans-anethole (e.g., eating foods treated with pesticide formulations containing trans-anethole, and drinking water exposures). There is also potential for non-pesticide dietary exposure since trans-anethole is a natural constituent of several food commodities (anise, fennel, thyme, cinnamon, clove bud, nutmeg, pepper, coriander seed, and dill seed) and is also used as a food additive (flavoring agent). An acute dietary assessment was not performed due to the lack of adverse effects attributed to a single dietary exposure. The chronic dietary exposure for food and drinking water utilized 14.6% of the chronic PAD (cPAD) for the U.S. population and 43.4% of the cPAD for children 1 to 2 years old, the most highly exposed population. Therefore, chronic dietary risks are not of concern, because they are less than 100% of the cPAD.

2. Residential exposure. The proposed pre-harvest use of trans-anethole in crops is not anticipated to result in residential exposure. Residential exposure to trans-anethole may occur from existing non-food pesticide uses as well as from non-pesticide products that may be used in and around the home, such as toiletries. For residential handler short-term exposure scenarios, MOEs ranged from 540 to 4,900,000, which are greater than the LOC of 100 and therefore are not of concern. Residential handler intermediate-term and long-term exposures are not expected because applications are not expected to occur daily or for more than 30 days. For residential post-application exposure scenarios (short- and intermediate-term), MOEs ranged from 1,100 to 16,000,000, which are greater than the LOC of 100 and therefore are not of concern.

3. Cumulative effects from substances with a common mechanism of toxicity. Unlike pesticides for which EPA has followed a cumulative risk approach based on a common mechanism of toxicity, EPA has not made a common mechanism of toxicity finding as to trans-anethole and any other substances, and trans-anethole does not appear to produce a toxic metabolite produced by other substances. For the purposes of this action, therefore, EPA has assumed that trans-anethole does not have a common mechanism of toxicity with other substances.

D. Safety Factor for Infants and Children

Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA provides that EPA shall apply an additional tenfold margin of safety for infants and children in the case of threshold effects to account for prenatal and postnatal toxicity and the completeness of the database unless EPA concludes that a different margin of safety will be safe for infants and children. Based on the evaluation of available toxicity studies, there is low concern for pre- and postnatal susceptibility for infants and children from exposure to trans-anethole. The FQPA safety factor has been reduced to 1X because: (1) The toxicity database is adequate to characterize potential pre- and postnatal risk for infants and children; (2) no effects on reproductive organs or reproductive parameters were observed in the available reproduction toxicity study; (3) the developmental effects observed occurred at doses above which maternal effects were seen, with clear NOAELs; (4) no evidence of neurotoxicity was observed in the database; and (5) the assumptions for the exposure assessment are unlikely to underestimate risk.

E. Aggregate Risks and Determination of Safety

EPA determines whether acute and chronic dietary pesticide exposures are safe by comparing aggregate exposure estimates to the acute PAD (aPAD) and cPAD. For linear cancer risks, EPA calculates the lifetime probability of acquiring cancer given the estimated aggregate exposure. Short-, intermediate-, and chronic-term risks are evaluated by comparing the estimated aggregate food, water, and residential exposure to the appropriate PODs to ensure that an adequate MOE exists.

1. Acute aggregate risk. An acute aggregate risk assessment takes into account exposure estimates from acute dietary consumption of food and drinking water. However, there was no hazard attributable to a single exposure seen in the toxicity database for trans-anethole. Therefore, trans-anethole is not expected to pose an acute aggregate risk.

2. Short-term aggregate risk. Short-term aggregate exposure takes into account short-term residential (dermal and inhalation) exposure plus chronic dietary exposure (food and drinking water). The short-term aggregate MOE is 490 for adults and 190 for children, which are greater than the LOC of 100 and therefore are not of concern.

3. Intermediate-term aggregate risk. Intermediate-term aggregate exposure takes into account intermediate-term residential (dermal and inhalation) exposure plus chronic dietary exposure (food and drinking water). The intermediate-term aggregate MOE is 710 for adults and 190 for children, which are greater than the LOC of 100 and therefore are not of concern.

4. Chronic aggregate risk. A chronic aggregate risk assessment takes into account exposure estimates from chronic dietary consumption of food and drinking water. The chronic aggregate risk is equal to the chronic dietary risk and is not of concern.

5. Aggregate cancer risk for U.S. population. EPA has not identified any concerns for carcinogenicity relating to trans-anethole. Therefore, a cancer aggregate assessment was not conducted.

6. Determination of safety. Taking into consideration all available information on trans-anethole, EPA has determined that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm to the general population or any population subgroup, including infants and children, will result from aggregate exposure to trans-anethole residues. Therefore, the establishment of an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance under 40 CFR 180.920 for residues of trans-anethole when used as a fragrance inert ingredient in pesticide formulations applied pre-harvest to crops at a concentration of 3% of the formulation can be considered assessed as safe under section 408 of the FFDCA.

VII. Other Considerations

A. Analytical Enforcement Methodology

An analytical method is not required for enforcement purposes since the Agency is not establishing a numerical tolerance for residues of trans-anethole in or on any food commodities. EPA is establishing a limitation on the amount of trans-anethole that may be used in pesticide formulations applied pre-harvest. This limitation will be enforced through the pesticide registration process under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act ("FIFRA"), 7 U.S.C. 136 et seq. EPA will not register any pesticide formulation for food use that exceeds 3% trans-anethole in the final pesticide formulation.

B. International Residue Limits

In making its tolerance decisions, EPA seeks to harmonize U.S. tolerances with international standards whenever possible, consistent with U.S. food safety standards and agricultural practices. EPA considers the international maximum residue limits (MRLs) established by the Codex Alimentarius Commission (Codex), as required by FFDCA section 408(b)(4). Codex is a joint United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization/World Health Organization food standards program, and it is recognized as an international food safety standards-setting organization in trade agreements to which the United States is a party. EPA may establish a tolerance that is different from a Codex MRL; however, FFDCA section 408(b)(4) requires that EPA explain the reasons for departing from the Codex level.

The Codex has not established a MRL for trans-anethole.

VIII. Conclusion

Taking into consideration all available information on trans-anethole, EPA has determined that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm to the general population or any population subgroup, including infants and children, will result from aggregate exposure to trans-anethole residues. Therefore, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance is established under 40 CFR 180.920 for trans-anethole when used as an inert ingredient at no more than 3% of the total pesticide formulation.

IX. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

This action establishes an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance

under FFDC section 408(d) in response to a petition submitted to the Agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted these types of actions from review under Executive Order 12866, entitled “Regulatory Planning and Review” (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993). Because this action has been exempted from review under Executive Order 12866, this action is not subject to Executive Order 13211, entitled “Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use” (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) or Executive Order 13045, entitled “Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks” (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997). This action does not contain any information collections subject to OMB approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), nor does it require any special considerations under Executive Order 12898, entitled “Federal Actions to Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations” (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

Since tolerances and exemptions that are established on the basis of a petition under FFDC section 408(d), such as the tolerance exemption in this final rule, do not require the issuance of a proposed rule, the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), do not apply.

This action directly regulates growers, food processors, food handlers, and food retailers, not States or Tribes, nor does this action alter the relationships or distribution of power and responsibilities established by Congress in the preemption provisions of FFDC section 408(n)(4). As such, the Agency has determined that this action will not have a substantial direct effect on States or Tribal Governments, on the relationship between the National Government and the States or Tribal Governments, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government or between the Federal Government and Indian Tribes. Thus, the Agency has determined that Executive Order 13132, entitled “Federalism” (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999) and Executive Order 13175, entitled “Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments” (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000) do not apply to this action. In addition, this action does not impose any enforceable duty or contain any unfunded mandate as described under Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) (2 U.S.C. 1501 et seq.).

This action does not involve any technical standards that would require Agency consideration of voluntary consensus standards pursuant to section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note).

X. Congressional Review Act

Pursuant to the Congressional Review Act (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. This action is not a “major rule” as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Hydrolyzed Vegetable Proteins From Soy; Exemption From the Requirement of a Tolerance

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation establishes an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy when used as an inert ingredient (pH adjusting agent, surfactant, or adhesive) in pesticide products applied to growing crops pre-harvest, limited to 25% in the pesticide formulation. SciReg, Inc. on behalf of Italtollina USA, Inc. submitted a petition to EPA under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), requesting establishment of an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance. This regulation eliminates the need to establish a maximum permissible level for residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy when used in accordance with this exemption.

DATES: This regulation is effective May 5, 2022. Objections and requests for hearings must be received on or before July 5, 2022, and must be filed in accordance with the instructions provided in 40 CFR part 178 (see also Unit I.C. of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION).

II. Petition for Exemption

In the Federal Register of April 19, 2019 (84 FR 16430) (FRL–9991–14), EPA issued a document pursuant to FFDCA section 408, 21 U.S.C. 346a, announcing the filing of a pesticide petition (PP IN–11079) by SciReg, Inc. (12733 Director's Loop, Woodbridge, VA 22192) on behalf of Italpollina USA, Inc. (name changed to Hello Nature USA, Inc.) (1100 South Tower, 225 Peachtree Street NE, Atlanta, GA 30303). The petition requested that 40 CFR 180.920 be amended by establishing an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins when used as an inert ingredient (pH adjusting agent, surfactant, or adhesive) in pesticide products applied to growing crops pre-harvest under 40 CFR 180.920. That document referenced a summary of the petition prepared by SciReg, Inc. on behalf of Italpollina USA, Inc., the petitioner, which is available in the docket ID number EPA–HQ–OPP–2018–0204, <https://www.regulations.gov>. There were no relevant comments received in response to the notice of filing. The petitioner subsequently requested a limitation of not more than 25% hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy in pesticide formulations for use under 40 CFR 180.920.

III. Inert Ingredient Definition

Inert ingredients are all ingredients that are not active ingredients as defined in 40 CFR 153.125 and include, but are not limited to, the following types of ingredients (except when they have a pesticidal efficacy of their own): Solvents such as alcohols and hydrocarbons; surfactants such as polyoxyethylene polymers and fatty acids; carriers such as clay and diatomaceous earth; thickeners such as carrageenan and modified cellulose; wetting, spreading, and dispersing agents; propellants in aerosol dispensers; microencapsulating agents; and emulsifiers. The term “inert” is not intended to imply nontoxicity; the ingredient may or may not be chemically active. Generally, EPA has exempted inert ingredients from the requirement of a tolerance based on the low toxicity of the individual inert ingredients.

IV. Aggregate Risk Assessment and Determination of Safety

Section 408(c)(2)(A)(i) of FFDCA allows EPA to establish an exemption from the requirement for a tolerance (the legal limit for a pesticide chemical residue in or on a food) only if EPA determines that the tolerance is “safe.” Section 408(c)(2)(A)(ii) of FFDCA defines “safe” to mean that “there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue, including all anticipated dietary exposures and all other exposures for which there is reliable information.” This includes exposure through drinking water and in residential settings but does not include occupational exposure. Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA requires EPA to give special consideration to exposure of infants and children to the pesticide chemical residue in establishing a tolerance and to “ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to infants and children from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue” demonstrated that the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide chemical residues under reasonably foreseeable circumstances will pose no harm to human health. In order to determine the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide inert ingredients, the Agency considers the toxicity of the inert in conjunction with possible exposure to residues of the inert ingredient through food, drinking water, and through other exposures that occur as a result of pesticide use in residential settings. If EPA is able to determine that a tolerance is not necessary to ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the inert ingredient, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance may be established.

EPA establishes exemptions from the requirement of a tolerance only in those cases where it can be clearly

Consistent with FFDC section 408(c)(2)(A), and the factors specified in FFDC section 408(c)(2)(B), EPA has reviewed the available scientific data and other relevant information in support of this action. EPA has sufficient data to assess the hazards of and to make a determination on aggregate exposure for hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy including exposure resulting from the exemption established by this action. EPA's assessment of exposures and risks associated with hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy follows.

A. Toxicological Profile

EPA has evaluated the available toxicity data and considered their validity, completeness, and reliability as well as the relationship of the results of the studies to human risk. EPA has also considered available information concerning the variability of the sensitivities of major identifiable subgroups of consumers, including infants and children. Specific information on the studies received and the nature of the adverse effects caused by hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy as well as the no-observed-adverse-effect-level (NOAEL) and the lowest-observed-adverse-effect-level (LOAEL) from the toxicity studies can be found at <http://www.regulations.gov> in the document titled "Hydrolyzed Vegetable Proteins from Soy; Human Health Risk Assessment and Ecological Effects Assessment to Support Proposed Exemption from the Requirement of a Tolerance When Used as an Inert Ingredient in Pesticide Formulations" in docket ID number EPA-HQ-OPP-2018-0204.

Hydrolyzed vegetable proteins (also referred to as vegetable hydrolysates) are produced through hydrolysis of proteins derived from plants such as soybeans, peas, corn, alfalfa, potatoes or chickpeas. This process breaks the protein down to small peptides, reduces the molecular weight of the original protein and reduces the antigenicity and allergenicity of the protein. It is expected that systemic toxicity is similar for all hydrolyzed vegetable proteins regardless the vegetable source. Since toxicity data on hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy are limited, toxicity data on hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from various sources are used to bridge data gaps. Acute and repeated dose toxicity studies summarized were conducted with a variety of hydrolyzed vegetables including soybean, potatoes, lupine, avocado, casein and hemp seed meal.

Acute toxicity studies conducted with vegetable hydrolysates from various vegetables are limited. The acute oral toxicity is low in rats treated with soy protein hydrolysates (also known as hydrolyzed vegetable protein from soy). The lethal dose, LD₅₀ is >5,000 milligrams per kilogram bodyweight (mg/kg). Vegetable hydrolysates from soy and lupine proteins do not cause skin irritation in rabbits. In vitro studies with human skin show no irritation with vegetable hydrolysates from potatoes. No eye irritation is observed in rabbits treated with vegetable hydrolysates from soy, nor in in vitro studies with human cornea treated with vegetable hydrolysates from potatoes. Slight eye irritation is observed in rabbits treated with vegetable hydrolysates from lupine. Vegetable hydrolysates from avocado and lupine proteins are not dermal sensitizers in the mouse local lymph node assay (LLNA) or the guinea pig maximization test, respectively.

An 8-week oral toxicity study in rats treated with hydrolysates from hemp seed meal show no adverse effects up to 1,000 milligrams/kilogram/day (mg/kg/day), the limit dose. Also, no toxicity is seen in rats treated with approximately 20,000 mg/kg/day of hydrolysates from Lupinus albus and L. luteus for 112 days via the diet.

No developmental, reproduction or carcinogen toxicity studies are available for review. However, as stated above, no toxicity is seen in repeated dose studies with hydrolysates of vegetable proteins in rats up to 20,000 mg/kg/day. No evidence of neurotoxicity or immunotoxicity is seen in the available studies.

Mutagenicity studies are available with hydrolyzed vegetable protein from potato, lupine and pea proteins. Ames tests conducted with these hydrolyzed vegetable proteins were negative. Therefore, hydrolyzed vegetable proteins are not expected to be mutagenic.

To assess the immunologic response against hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy, dogs were sensitized to non-hydrolyzed soy protein over a 90-day period then were exposed to either non-hydrolyzed or hydrolyzed soy intradermally (30 days after sensitization) and orally (8 months after sensitization). Dogs intradermally exposed to hydrolyzed soy protein experienced an inflammatory response that was half the response detected after injection of non-hydrolyzed soy protein. Dogs orally exposed to hydrolyzed soy protein up to 17.75 grams over the course of 150 minutes did not experience clinical signs or reactions.

While hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy are not toxic, there is a potential for allergenicity from soy proteins. The concern is low for the potential for allergenicity from hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy due to dietary exposure because the hydrolysis process breaks down the protein structure to reduce allergenicity to hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy. Enzymatic hydrolysis of soybean proteins is a common process used by industry to improve functional properties and has been used to reduce allergenicity in making hypoallergenic soybean products. Soybean products are well known products that have been used as food for a very long time. The methods for elimination of allergenicity are always the same: Denaturation by heat or pH change and hydrolysis by any means that degrade the protein structures. In the current petition, the proprietary method used to hydrolyze soybean proteins is such that no allergenic protein is expected to remain intact in the finished product. Although, the hydrolysis process is partial, any non-hydrolyzed soy proteins, which are those presenting a residual risk of allergenicity, are removed by centrifugation from the solution.

To further demonstrate that the enzymatic hydrolysis of soy proteins is effective in reducing antigenicity and allergenicity, a Soy ELISA (enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay) was conducted with hydrolyzed soy proteins extracted from soybean oil cake. The Soy ELISA test is a highly sensitive detection system used to detect soy residues in foodstuffs and has a level of quantification of 1.7 mg/kg soy. Through the detection of reactive robust indicator proteins called soy trypsin inhibitors, soy content and allergenic potential can be evaluated in test samples. The concentration of soy trypsin inhibitor proteins is directly proportional to the concentration of soy in a test sample. No soy trypsin inhibitors were found in any samples of vegetable hydrolysates from soy, indicating a negative result for the presence of residual soy allergenic proteins in hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy within the LOQ of the ELISA assay. Although the LOQ for the ELISA test is 1.7 mg/kg of soy, the soy protein hydrolysates contain only hydrolyzed protein, which has been shown to have low allergenic potential as explained above. Therefore, there is low concern for allergenicity from soy protein hydrolysates at levels below the LOQ.

Moreover, residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy used in pesticide formulations in accordance with the tolerance exemption established in this action will be exposed to the effects of weather and microbial degradation before the treated crop enters the food chain. Therefore, based on the hydrolysis process, the negative ELISA assay and the expected effects of weather and microbial degradation, the concern is low for the potential allergenicity of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy.

B. Toxicological Points of Departure/ Levels of Concern

The available toxicity studies indicate that vegetable hydrolysates from soy have very low overall toxicity. Since no toxicity is observed in the available studies, an endpoint of concern for risk assessment purposes was not identified. Therefore, a qualitative risk assessment was conducted for acute and chronic dietary exposures and short- and intermediate-term incidental oral, dermal and inhalation exposures.

C. Exposure Assessment

1. Dietary exposure from food and feed uses. In evaluating dietary exposure to hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy, EPA considered exposure under the proposed exemption from the requirement of a tolerance and from existing uses. EPA assessed dietary exposures from hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy in food as follows.

Dietary exposure (food and drinking water) to hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy may occur following ingestion of foods with residues from their use in accordance with this exemption. Dietary exposure may also occur after ingestion of food residues from their use in fertilizer products, dietary treatment for specific health conditions and use as a food additive (plant protein products) according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) under 21 CFR 170.3(n)(33). However, a quantitative dietary exposure assessment was not conducted since a toxicological endpoint for risk assessment was not identified.

2. From non-dietary exposure. The term “residential exposure” is used in this document to refer to non-occupational, non-dietary exposure (e.g., textiles (clothing and diapers), carpets, swimming pools, and hard surface disinfection on walls, floors, tables).

Hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy may be used in pesticide products and non-pesticide products that may be used in and around the home (e.g., for lawn and garden pest control, indoor pest control, cosmetics and personal care products). A quantitative residential exposure assessment was not conducted since a toxicological endpoint for risk assessment was not identified.

3. Cumulative effects from substances with a common mechanism of toxicity. Section 408(b)(2)(D)(v) of FFDCA requires that, when considering whether to establish, modify, or revoke a tolerance, the Agency consider “available information” concerning the cumulative effects of a particular pesticide’s residues and “other substances that have a common mechanism of toxicity.”

Based on the lack of toxicity in the available data, hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy and its metabolites are not expected to share a common mechanism of toxicity with other chemicals; therefore, section 408(b)(2)(D)(v) does not apply.

D. Safety Factor for Infants and Children

Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA provides that EPA shall apply an additional tenfold margin of safety for infants and children in the case of threshold effects to account for prenatal and postnatal toxicity and the completeness of the database unless EPA concludes that a different margin of safety will be safe for infants and children. Based on the lack of threshold effects, EPA has not identified any toxicological endpoints of concern and is conducting a qualitative assessment of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy. The qualitative assessment does not use safety factors for assessing risk, and no additional safety factor is needed for assessing risk to infants and children. Based on an assessment of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy, EPA has concluded that there are no toxicological endpoints of concern for the U.S. population, including infants and children.

E. Aggregate Risks and Determination of Safety

Taking into consideration all available information on hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy, EPA has determined that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to the general population, or to infants and children, from aggregate exposure to hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy residues. Therefore, the establishment of an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance under 40 CFR 180.920 for residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy when used as an inert ingredient in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops pre-harvest limited to 25% in the final formulation, is safe under FFDCA section 408.

V. Other Considerations

Analytical Enforcement Methodology

An analytical method is not required for enforcement purposes since the Agency is not establishing a numerical tolerance for residues of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy in or on any food commodities. EPA is establishing a limitation on the amount of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy that may be used in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops pre-harvest. This limitation will be enforced through the pesticide registration process under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (“FIFRA”), 7 U.S.C. 136 et seq. EPA will not register any such pesticide formulation that exceeds 25% of hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy.

VI. Conclusions

Therefore, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance is established under 40 CFR 180.920 for hydrolyzed vegetable proteins from soy when used as an inert ingredient (pH adjusting agent, surfactant, or adhesive) in pesticide formulations applied to growing crops pre-harvest limited to 25% in the formulation.

VII. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

This action establishes a tolerance exemption under FFDCA section 408(d) in response to a petition submitted to the Agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted these types of actions from review under Executive Order 12866, entitled “Regulatory Planning and Review” (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993). Because this action has been exempted from review under Executive Order 12866, this action is not subject to Executive Order 13211, entitled “Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use” (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) or Executive Order 13045, entitled “Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks” (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997). This action does not contain any information collections subject to OMB approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), nor does it require any special considerations under Executive Order 12898, entitled “Federal Actions to Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations” (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

Since tolerances and exemptions that are established on the basis of a petition under FFDCA section 408(d), such as the tolerance exemption in this final rule, do not require the issuance of a proposed rule, the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), do not apply.

This action directly regulates growers, food processors, food handlers, and food retailers, not States or tribes, nor does this action alter the relationships or distribution of power and responsibilities established by Congress in the preemption provisions of FFDCA section 408(n)(4). As such, the Agency has determined that this action will not have a substantial direct effect on States or Tribal Governments, on the relationship between the National Government and the States or Tribal Governments, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government or between the Federal Government and Indian Tribes. Thus, the Agency has determined that Executive Order 13132, entitled “Federalism” (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999) and Executive Order 13175, entitled “Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments” (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000) do not apply to this action. In addition, this action does not impose any enforceable duty or contain any unfunded mandate as described under Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) (2 U.S.C. 1501 et seq.).

This action does not involve any technical standards that would require Agency consideration of voluntary consensus standards pursuant to section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note).

VIII. Congressional Review Act

Pursuant to the Congressional Review Act (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. This action is not a “major rule” as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Cell Walls of Saccharomyces Cerevisiae; Tolerance Exemption

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation establishes an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of cell walls of Saccharomyces cerevisiae (also known as yeast cell walls or YCWs) when used as a carrier inert ingredient in pesticide formulations in pre-harvest applications to crops. SciReg, Inc., on behalf of Eden Research, submitted a petition to EPA under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFDCA), requesting an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance. This regulation eliminates the need to establish a maximum permissible level for residues of cell walls of Saccharomyces cerevisiae on food or feed commodities when used in accordance with this exemption.

DATES: This regulation is effective May 5, 2022. Objections and requests for hearings must be received on or before July 5, 2022, and must be filed in accordance with the instructions provided in 40 CFR part 178 (see also Unit I.C. of the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION).

II. Petition for Exemption

In the Federal Register of October 18, 2018 (83 FR 52787), EPA issued a document pursuant to FFDCA section 408, 21 U.S.C. 346a, announcing the receipt of a pesticide petition (PP IN-11175) filed by SciReg, Inc. (12733 Director's Loop, Woodbridge, VA 22192), on behalf of Eden Research. The petition requested that 40 CFR 180.920 be amended by establishing an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of cell walls of Saccharomyces cerevisiae (also known as yeast cell walls or YCWs) when used as a carrier inert ingredient in pesticide formulations applied pre-harvest to crops. That document included a summary of the petition prepared by the petitioner and solicited comments on the petitioner's request. The Agency did not receive any public comments.

III. Inert Ingredient Definition

Inert ingredients are all ingredients that are not active ingredients as defined in 40 CFR 153.125 and include, but are not limited to, the following types of ingredients (except when they have a pesticidal efficacy of their own): Solvents such as alcohols and hydrocarbons; surfactants such as polyoxyethylene polymers and fatty acids; carriers such as clay and diatomaceous earth; thickeners such as carrageenan and modified cellulose; wetting, spreading, and dispersing agents; propellants in aerosol dispensers; microencapsulating agents; and emulsifiers. The term "inert" is not intended to imply nontoxicity; the ingredient may or may not be chemically active. Generally, EPA has exempted inert ingredients from the requirement of a tolerance based on the low toxicity of the individual inert ingredients.

IV. Aggregate Risk Assessment and Determination of Safety

Section 408(c)(2)(A)(i) of the FFDCA allows EPA to establish an exemption from the requirement for a tolerance (the legal limit for a pesticide chemical residue in or on a food) only if EPA determines that the exemption is "safe." Section 408(c)(2)(A)(ii) of the FFDCA defines "safe" to mean that EPA has determined that "there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue, including all anticipated dietary exposures and all other exposures for which there is reliable information." This includes exposure through drinking water and in residential settings, but it does not include occupational exposure. Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA requires EPA to give special consideration to exposure of infants and children to the pesticide chemical residue in establishing an exemption and to "ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result to infants and children from aggregate exposure to the pesticide chemical residue."

EPA establishes exemptions from the requirement of a tolerance only in those cases where it can be shown that the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide chemical residues under reasonably foreseeable circumstances will pose no harm to human health. In order to determine the risks from aggregate exposure to pesticide inert ingredients, the Agency considers the toxicity of the inert in conjunction with possible exposure to residues of the inert ingredient through food, drinking water, and through other exposures that occur as a result of pesticide use in residential settings. If EPA is able to determine that a tolerance is not necessary to ensure that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm will result from aggregate exposure to the inert ingredient, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance may be established.

Consistent with FFDCA section 408(c)(2)(A), and the factors specified in FFDCA section 408(c)(2)(B), EPA has reviewed the available scientific data and other relevant information in support of this action and considered its validity, completeness and reliability and the relationship of this information to human risk. EPA has also considered available information concerning the variability of the sensitivities of major identifiable subgroups of consumers, including infants and children. EPA has sufficient data to assess the hazards of and to make a determination on aggregate exposure to YCWs, including exposure resulting from the exemption established by this action. EPA's assessment of exposures and risks associated with YCWs follows.

A. Toxicological Profile

YCWs are obtained by hydrolyzing intact yeast (Saccharomyces cerevisiae) cells. Given the long history of safe dietary exposure to strains of S. cerevisiae through their use in food, beverages, and nutritional supplements, YCWs are expected to be non-toxic. Although no toxicity information is available for YCWs, data from the major chemical components of YCWs (β -glucan and mannan) are used to assess the safety of YCWs.

The acute oral toxicity of β -glucan is low, with an LD₅₀ >2,000 mg/kg. The repeated-dose toxicity for the major components of YCWs is low. No adverse effects were observed in subchronic studies in mice or rats or in a screening reproductive toxicity study in rats with β -glucan.

No oral chronic or carcinogenicity studies are available for YCWs or its components. However, there is low concern for genotoxicity or mutagenicity, based on negative results in mammalian and bacterial genotoxicity tests with β -glucan and mannan. No evidence of neurotoxicity or immunotoxicity is seen in the available studies.

B. Toxicological Points of Departure/ Levels of Concern

No toxicological endpoint of concern for YCWs has been identified in the database.

C. Exposure Assessment

1. Dietary exposure. Dietary exposure (food and drinking water) may occur from the current pesticidal uses of cell walls of Saccharomyces cerevisiae strain LAS117 as well as the proposed pre-harvest use of YCWs in crops (e.g., eating foods treated with pesticide formulations containing YCWs, and drinking water exposures). Dietary exposure may also occur from non-pesticidal exposure (e.g. YCW dietary supplements). However, no endpoint of concern was identified. Therefore, a quantitative acute or chronic dietary exposure assessment is not necessary for YCWs.

2. Residential exposure. The current pesticidal uses of cell walls of Saccharomyces cerevisiae strain LAS117 as well as the proposed pre-harvest use of YCWs in crops are not anticipated to result in residential exposure. Residential exposure may occur from non-pesticidal uses (e.g., skin care products). However, no toxicological endpoint of concern was identified. Therefore, a quantitative assessment for residential exposure was not performed.

3. Cumulative effects from substances with a common mechanism of toxicity. Unlike pesticides for which EPA has followed a cumulative risk approach based on a common mechanism of toxicity, EPA has not made a common mechanism of toxicity finding as to YCWs and any other substances, and YCWs do not appear to produce a toxic metabolite produced by other substances. For the purposes of this action, therefore, EPA has assumed that YCWs do not have a common mechanism of toxicity with other substances.

D. Safety Factor for Infants and Children

Section 408(b)(2)(C) of FFDCA provides that EPA shall apply an additional tenfold margin of safety for infants and children in the case of threshold effects to account for prenatal and postnatal toxicity and the completeness of the database unless EPA concludes that a different margin of safety will be safe for infants and children. As part of its qualitative assessment, the Agency did not use safety factors for assessing risk to YCWs, and no additional safety factor is needed for assessing risk to infants and children. Based on the low toxicity in the available studies, EPA has concluded that there are no toxicological endpoints of concern for the U.S. population, including infants and children.

E. Aggregate Risks and Determination of Safety

Taking into consideration all available information on YCWs, EPA has determined that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm to the general population or any population subgroup, including infants and children, will result from aggregate exposure to YCW residues. Therefore, the establishment of an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance under 40 CFR 180.920 for residues of YCWs when used as a carrier inert ingredient in pesticide formulations in pre-harvest applications to crops is safe under FFDCA section 408.

V. Other Considerations

A. Analytical Enforcement Methodology

An analytical method is not required for enforcement purposes since the Agency is not establishing a numerical tolerance for residues of YCWs in or on any food commodities.

B. International Residue Limits

In making its tolerance decisions, EPA seeks to harmonize U.S. tolerances with international standards whenever possible, consistent with U.S. food safety standards and agricultural practices. EPA considers the international maximum residue limits (MRLs) established by the Codex Alimentarius Commission (Codex), as required by FFDCA section 408(b)(4). Codex is a joint United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization/World Health Organization food standards program, and it is recognized as an international food safety standards-setting organization in trade agreements to which the United States is a party. EPA may establish a tolerance that is different from a Codex MRL; however, FFDCA section 408(b)(4) requires that EPA explain the reasons for departing from the Codex level.

The Codex has not established a MRL for YCWs.

VI. Conclusion

Taking into consideration all available information on YCWs, EPA has determined that there is a reasonable certainty that no harm to the general population or any population subgroup, including infants and children, will result from aggregate exposure to YCW residues. Therefore, an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance is established under 40 CFR 180.920 for YCWs when used as an inert ingredient (carrier) in pesticide formulations.

VII. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

This action establishes an exemption from the requirement of a tolerance under FFDCA section 408(d) in response to a petition submitted to the Agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has exempted these types of actions from review under Executive Order 12866, entitled "Regulatory Planning and Review" (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993). Because this action has been exempted from review under Executive Order 12866, this action is not subject to Executive Order 13211, entitled "Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use" (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001) or Executive Order 13045, entitled "Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997). This action does not contain any information collections subject to OMB approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), nor does it require any special considerations under Executive Order 12898, entitled "Federal Actions to Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations" (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

Since tolerances and exemptions that are established on the basis of a petition under FFDCA section 408(d), such as the tolerance exemption in this final rule, do not require the issuance of a proposed rule, the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), do not apply.

This action directly regulates growers, food processors, food handlers, and food retailers, not States or Tribes, nor does this action alter the relationships or distribution of power and responsibilities established by Congress in the preemption provisions of FFDCA section 408(n)(4). As such, the Agency has determined that this action will not have a substantial direct effect on States or Tribal Governments, on the relationship between the National Government and the States or Tribal Governments, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government or between the Federal Government and Indian Tribes. Thus, the Agency has determined that Executive Order 13132, entitled "Federalism" (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999) and Executive Order 13175, entitled "Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments" (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000) do not apply to this action. In addition, this action does not impose any enforceable duty or contain any unfunded mandate as described under Title II of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) (2 U.S.C. 1501 et seq.).

This action does not involve any technical standards that would require Agency consideration of voluntary consensus standards pursuant to section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note).

VIII. Congressional Review Act

Pursuant to the Congressional Review Act (5 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), EPA will submit a report containing this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives, and the Comptroller General of the United States prior to publication of the rule in the Federal Register. This action is not a "major rule" as defined by 5 U.S.C. 804(2).

Preserving Trust Benefits Under the Packers and Stockyards Act

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture (USDA).

ACTION: Proposed rule; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) proposes to revise the regulations providing instructions for livestock sellers and live poultry sellers or growers who desire to preserve their interest in statutory trusts under the Packers and Stockyards Act (Act). The proposed revisions would add procedures and timeframes for a livestock seller to notify the livestock dealer and the Secretary of Agriculture that the seller has not received full payment for livestock purchased by the dealer and that the seller intends to preserve its trust interests. Additionally, under this proposed rule, livestock dealers with average annual purchases over $100,000 would be required to obtain written acknowledgement from livestock sellers that trust benefits do not pertain to credit sales and would be required to maintain records related to credit sales. The proposed revisions to the Packers and Stockyards regulations reflect recent amendments to the Act that provide for a livestock dealer trust.

DATES: Comments received by June 6, 2022 will be considered prior to issuance of a final rule. Pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA), comments on the information collection burden must be received by July 5, 2022.

ADDRESSES: Interested persons are invited to submit written comments concerning this proposed rule. All comments must be submitted through the Federal e-rulemaking portal at <https://www.regulations.gov> and should reference the document number and the date and page number of this issue of the Federal Register. All comments submitted in response to this proposed rule will be included in the record and will be made available to the public. Please be advised that the identity of the individuals or entities submitting comments will be made public on the internet at <https://www.regulations.gov>. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: S. Brett Offutt, Chief Legal Officer/Policy Advisor; Packers and Stockyards Division, USDA AMS Fair Trade Practices Program; phone: 202–690–4355; or email: S.Brett.Offutt@ams.usda.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 763 of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 (Pub. L. 116–260; December 27, 2020), amended the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as previously amended (7 U.S.C. 181 et seq.), by adding a new section 318 (7 U.S.C. 217b) establishing a statutory trust for the benefit of unpaid cash sellers of livestock.

Under the new trust provisions, livestock dealers whose average annual purchases of livestock exceed $100,000 must hold all inventories of and receivables and proceeds from livestock purchased in cash sales in trust for the benefit of all unpaid cash sellers of that livestock until the cash sellers have been paid in full. Livestock sellers lose their interest in the trust unless they notify livestock dealers and the Secretary of Agriculture (Secretary) in writing that payment has not been received. Such notice must be provided within 30 days of the final date when payment was due or within 15 days of notice that a dealer's payment instrument has been dishonored.

The newly added section 318 of the Act further provides that the dealer trust provisions apply only to cash sales, which are defined in the statute as sales in which the seller does not expressly extend credit to the buyer. Thus, livestock sellers have no claim against the trust if they have extended credit to the buyer.

Currently, § 203.15 of the Packers and Stockyards regulations outlines the process by which livestock sellers and live poultry sellers and growers preserve their interest in the packer and poultry trusts previously established under the Act (see 9 CFR 203.15). AMS proposes to revise § 203.15, which would continue to provide for preservation of trust benefits under the packer and poultry trusts, by adding the process by which livestock sellers can preserve their interests under the new livestock dealer trust. Sections 206, 207, and 318 of the Act (7 U.S.C. 196, 197, 217b) require livestock sellers and poultry sellers or growers to notify packers, live poultry dealers, or livestock dealers and the Secretary in writing of their intent to preserve their trust benefits within 30 days of the final day on which payment was due or within 15 days of receiving notice that the packer's, live poultry dealer's, or livestock dealer's payment instrument was dishonored.

Accordingly, the revised § 203.15 would outline how sellers and growers can comply with the statutory requirement. The written notification should state that notification is to preserve trust benefits; identify both parties in the transaction; and include the date of the transaction, the date notice was received that the payment instrument was dishonored (if applicable), and the amount of money due. Written notification may be by letter, fax, email, or other electronic transmission, preferably filed with the Packers and Stockyards Division of AMS. Section 203.15 of the regulations still provides that while the written notification described above is preferred, any written notice to the buyer and the Secretary that the seller has not received full payment is sufficient to meet the statutory requirement if it is given within the prescribed timeframes. Finally, § 203.15 would be revised to include the statutory definition of a cash sale, meaning a sale in which the seller does not expressly extend credit to the buyer.

Section 201.200 of the regulations currently prohibits packers whose average annual livestock purchases exceed $500,000 from entering into credit agreements with livestock sellers unless the packer obtains written acknowledgement from the seller that the seller has no trust rights with respect to each particular sale under a credit agreement. Under the proposed revisions for this rule, § 201.200 would also prohibit livestock dealers whose average annual livestock purchases exceed $100,000 from entering into credit agreements with livestock sellers unless the purchasing dealer obtains written acknowledgement from the seller that the seller has no trust rights with respect to each particular sale under a credit agreement. The seller's written acknowledgment statement would further provide that the credit agreement covers a single sale, remains in effect until a specified date, or remains in effect until it is canceled in writing by either party. The seller's acknowledgement would be dated and signed by the seller. The purchasing livestock dealer would be required to maintain records of the acknowledgement, as well as all other documents related to the credit agreement, for as long as required by any law or by the AMS Administrator, but for no less than two years following the expiration of the credit agreement referred to in the acknowledgment. Finally, the purchasing dealer would be required to provide a copy of the acknowledgment to the seller.

Average annual livestock purchase amount may be determined by information establishing actual yearly dealer purchases, or a dealer's purchases as stated on its most recent annual report filed pursuant to the requirements of 9 CFR 201.97. Average annual livestock purchase amount may be determined for new dealers that have not operated for a year's time and for dealers that have not filed an annual report in the prior two years, according to their actual livestock purchases for the current year to date, extrapolated to a yearly amount, if necessary. In general, the proposed new requirements for livestock dealers in § 201.200 are similar to the current requirements for packers who enter into credit agreements with livestock sellers.

Regulatory Analyses

Executive Orders 12866 and 13563

AMS is issuing this proposed rule in conformance with Executive Orders (E.O.) 12866 and 13563, which direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulations are necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distributive impacts, and equity). E.O. 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, reducing costs, harmonizing rules, and promoting flexibility.

AMS believes that the livestock industry is best served by revising the existing regulation at 9 CFR 203.15 that addresses preserving packer and poultry trust benefits under the Act to include provisions related to the new livestock dealer trust. The industry is already familiar with the notification process. AMS anticipates that additional costs or the adoption of new practices related to compliance with the proposed rule would be minimal. Livestock sellers can use the instructions in this proposed rule to most efficiently file notice with dealers and AMS of their intent to preserve trust benefits. However, this proposed rule would also provide flexibility because the proposed revisions allow that any written notification to dealers and the Secretary within the prescribed timeframes that the seller has not received full payment for livestock will meet the statutory requirement. Furthermore, AMS believes that including the statutory definition of "cash sale" in § 203.15 can help sellers better understand the conditions under which they can preserve their trust benefits.

Regarding proposed revisions to § 201.200, AMS believes that both buyers and sellers benefit when livestock dealers with more than $100,000 average annual purchases are required to obtain written acknowledgment from sellers that trust benefits do not extend to livestock purchases under credit terms, and to maintain all records related to such sales, including the written acknowledgment. Obtaining the written acknowledgement, as well as providing the seller with a copy of the written agreement and maintaining pertinent records, demonstrates that both parties understand the conditions of credit sales as they relate to dealer trust benefits. AMS does not expect the proposed rule to provide any environmental, public health, or safety benefits.

This proposed rule does not meet the criteria of a significant regulatory action under E.O. 12866 as supplemented by E.O. 13563. Therefore, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has not reviewed this rule under those orders.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to requirements set forth in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), AMS has considered the economic impact of this action on small business entities.

The proposed rule would affect dealers that purchase more than $100,000 in cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, horses, or mules annually. It would also affect livestock producers, other dealers, and livestock auctions from which the dealers purchased livestock.

The Small Business Administration (SBA) defines small businesses by their North American Industry Classification

System (NAICS) codes. Livestock dealers and livestock auctions would be classified as NAICS code 424520—Livestock Merchant Wholesalers, which includes all livestock dealers except dealers in horses and mules, and code 424590—Other Farm Product Raw Material Merchant Wholesalers.¹ For both classifications, SBA defined a small business as one with 100 employees or fewer.²

Livestock dealers, including livestock auctions, are required to register and file annual reports with AMS. In 2017 and 2018, 3,015 livestock dealers purchased more than $100,000 in livestock for their own account or for the account of others.³ Livestock dealers do not disclose the number of employees in their annual reports, but based on its familiarity with the industry, AMS estimates at most three or four firms had more than 100 employees. At least 99.8 percent would be small businesses under the SBA definition.

Producers selling livestock would be classified as NAICS codes: 12111—Beef Cattle Ranching and Farming, 112210—Hog and Pig Farming, 112410—Sheep Farming, 112420—Goat Farming, and 112920—Horses and Other Equine Production. For each producer classification, SBA defined a small business as one with $1 million or less in annual receipts.⁴

The 2017 Census of Agriculture categorizes cattle producers, hog producers, sheep and lamb producers, and horse and mule producers by the size of their operation. The Census of Agriculture tables categorize producers' sales by number of head not the value of their receipts, but data from the tables enable AMS to make a rough estimate of the number of producers that would qualify as small businesses as defined by SBA.

Census of Agriculture tables indicate that 711,827 farms reported sales of cattle or calves in 2017, of which 704,776 (99 percent) produced fewer than 1,000 head, averaged less than $1 million in sales, and would be small businesses.⁵ Of the 64,871 hog farms reporting sales, the 57,084 farms (88 percent) that produced fewer than 5,000 head would qualify as small businesses.⁶ Of the 101,387 farms producing sheep and lambs, 101,280 (99.9 percent) would qualify as small businesses.⁷ The Census of Agriculture reported 74,227 farms that sold horses. Of those, 74,065 (99.8 percent) sold fewer than 50 horses, averaged less than $1 million in sales, and would be considered small businesses. All the 10,435 farms that sold donkeys or mules were small businesses.⁸ The Census did not have sales information for goat producers.

More than 99 percent of the cattle, sheep and lamb, horse, and mule producers were small businesses. Hog production was more concentrated, with only 88 percent qualifying as small businesses. As group, these livestock producers were about 98.5 percent small businesses.

The proposed rule has two new provisions that affect small businesses: (1) The rule outlines how sellers can comply with the statutory requirement of providing written notification to dealers and to the Secretary if they wish to preserve their rights to the dealer trust, and (2) the rule requires dealers to obtain written acknowledgement from the seller that the seller waives their rights to the trust with respect to each particular sale under a credit agreement.

The costs of filing a trust claim would only apply to livestock sellers. There are few requirements. The cost would be the value of the time required to write and send the notification. AMS expects writing and sending the notification would require no more than a half hour of a manager's time. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated the average hourly wage for farmers, ranchers, and other agricultural managers to be $36.93.⁹ If it takes one half hour to file the claim, filing the claim would cost $18.47.

In a review of dealer bond claims filed with AMS from October 2013 through June 2019, AMS found claims against 82 dealers from 184 claimants.¹⁰ If sellers file trust claims at a similar rate as they have filed bond claims in the past, AMS could expect 14.5 incidents in which one or more sellers makes a valid claim against a dealer's trust each year, with an average of 2.25 claimants for each trust incident, or 33 claimants per year. At a cost of $18.47 for each claim, AMS expects annual costs to the industry to be $609.51. Since nearly all livestock producers and livestock dealers who might sell livestock to other dealers are small business entities, AMS expects that nearly all of the claimants would be small businesses.

The cost of obtaining a written waiver acknowledgement from the seller would only apply to livestock dealers. AMS provides sample wording for the acknowledgment and expects that obtaining written acknowledgment from the seller would take no more than a half hour of a dealer's time, or $18.47 for each acknowledgement.

AMS has no data on the number of dealers that purchase livestock with credit agreements, or the number of trust waiver acknowledgements dealers obtain from sellers and maintain. AMS's experience has been that the number of sellers acknowledging they waive their trust rights is relatively small. Sellers are reluctant to extend credit because they would be required to give up their rights to file trust claims or they have not had the financial resources to extend credit. With packer trusts, packers typically have not created separate trust waiver acknowledgements for each transaction. Instead, the waiver acknowledgments tend to cover a number of transactions over a period of time, limiting the number of written trust waivers required.

Regarding dealer trusts, AMS expects that relatively few sellers would enter into credit agreements requiring trust waiver acknowledgments. However, if a dealer must obtain waiver acknowledgments according to proposed § 201.200, AMS expects that the dealer would limit the number of waiver acknowledgments by having a single waiver acknowledgment cover a number of transactions over a period of time. AMS estimates that at most, ten percent (302) of the 3,015 dealers that average annual purchases of more than $100,000 in livestock would have credit agreements that require trust waiver acknowledgements. Dealers that purchase livestock with credit agreements may also purchase other livestock through cash sales, for which they are not required to obtain trust waiver acknowledgements from sellers. AMS estimates that each dealer that purchases livestock with credit and obtains trust waivers from sellers will only do so with an average of five customers in a year. That amounts to a total cost of $27,890 for all of the expected trust waivers (302 dealers × 5 waivers/dealer × $18.47/waiver).

The costs would not be spread uniformly across dealers. Dealers that do not enter into credit agreements would have no costs. Only the estimated ten percent of dealers that purchase livestock under a credit agreement with the seller would need trust waiver acknowledgments. The cost would average $92 for each dealer that purchases livestock with a credit agreement, which is about 0.1 percent of the minimum amount ($100,000) of average annual livestock purchases that makes a dealer responsible for obtaining waiver acknowledgments from credit sellers. Costs would likely be correlated with the size of the dealer: Smaller dealers that purchase livestock on credit from fewer sellers would have fewer trust waiver acknowledgments.

AMS expects total marginal costs for the two provisions to be $28,599. Small businesses would be responsible for nearly all of the costs. In 2017 and 2018, livestock dealers that purchased more than $100,000 in a year purchased a yearly total of $27.065 billion in livestock.¹¹ Compared to the amount of business that livestock dealers conduct, an annual cost of $28,599 is 0.00011 percent of total dealer livestock purchases. Accordingly, AMS has determined that this action would not have a significant negative economic impact on a substantial number of these small business entities.

Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with the PRA (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35), the information requirements under the regulations have been approved previously by OMB and assigned OMB No. 0581–0308. Changes are necessary in those requirements as a result of this proposed rule.

Title: Preserving Trust Benefits Under the Packers and Stockyards Act.

OMB Number: 0581–NEW.

Expiration Date of Approval: 3 years from approval.

¹¹ USDA, AMS. "Report Pursuant to Section 12103 of the Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018: Study to Determine the Feasibility of Establishing a Livestock Dealer Statutory Trust." December 20, 2019, p. 33.

Type of Request: Intent to seek approval to conduct a new information collection.

Abstract: The Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921 (Act) (7 U.S.C. 181 et seq.), was recently amended by the addition of section 318 (7 U.S.C. 217b), establishing a statutory trust for the benefit of unpaid cash sellers of livestock. Under the amended Act, livestock dealers whose average annual purchases of livestock exceed $100,000 must hold all inventories of and receivables and proceeds from livestock purchased in cash sales in trust for the benefit of all unpaid cash sellers of that livestock until the cash sellers have been paid in full.

Under the new statutory trust provisions, livestock sellers lose their interest in the trust unless they notify livestock dealers and the Secretary of Agriculture (Secretary) in writing that payment has not been received. Such notice must be provided within 30 days of the final date when payment was due or within 15 days of notice that a dealer's payment instrument has been dishonored. The statute further provides that trust provisions apply only to cash sales, which are defined in the statute as sales in which the seller does not expressly extend credit to the buyer. Thus, livestock sellers have no claim against the trust if they have extended credit to the buyer.

AMS seeks approval for a new information collection related to the livestock dealer trust to implement new regulatory requirements. Livestock dealers who purchase livestock under credit terms and whose average annual purchases of livestock exceed $100,000 must obtain written acknowledgements from sellers that trust benefits do not pertain to credit sales. Dealers must provide copies of the acknowledgements to sellers and must retain the acknowledgements for two years after the expiration of the subject credit agreements. Additionally, a livestock seller who has not received payment in full for cash livestock sales must notify both the dealer and the Secretary of Agriculture in writing and within specified timeframes that the seller has not received full payment and intends to preserve their interest in the dealer trust. Providing such notice to the Secretary will enable USDA to initiate enforcement investigations and further actions as necessary.

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: The FAA proposes to adopt a new airworthiness directive (AD) for certain Cameron Balloons Ltd. (Cameron) Stratus double burner assemblies installed on hot air balloons. This proposed AD was prompted by reports from mandatory continuing airworthiness information (MCAI) originated by an aviation authority of another country to identify and correct an unsafe condition on an aviation product. The MCAI identifies the unsafe condition as fatigue cracking of the weld on Stratus double burner hangers. This proposed AD would require repetitively inspecting certain Stratus double burner hangers and replacing certain Stratus double burners, and would prohibit installing certain parts. The FAA is proposing this AD to address the unsafe condition on these products.

DATES: The FAA must receive comments on this proposed AD by June 21, 2022.

Background

The European Union Aviation Safety Agency (EASA), which is the Technical Agent for the Member States of the European Union, has issued EASA AD 2021-0042, dated January 29, 2021 (referred to after this as “the MCAI”), to address an unsafe condition on all hot air balloons. The MCAI states:

An occurrence was been reported of a Stratus burner hanger, [part number] P/N CB8504, failing after landing, leaving one burner unit detached from the load frame. Investigation revealed a limited number of similar failures. Comparable issues have been experienced with other parts of the Stratus product line (see Australian [Civil Aviation Safety Authority] CASA AWB 14-001 [Airworthiness Bulletin AWB 14-001, Issue 3, dated February 5, 2021]). The suspected cause is fatigue cracking of the weld, caused mainly during ground transportation with the burner erect, combined with an overload event.

This condition, if not detected and corrected, could lead to burner falling on the balloon occupant’s head, resulting in injury to balloon occupants. It could also lead to an uncontrolled cold descent and hard landing, possibly resulting in injury to balloon occupants and persons on the ground.

To address this potential unsafe condition, Cameron Balloons issued the SB [Service Bulletin No. 28, Revision 3, dated February 3, 2021], providing inspection and replacement instructions. It was determined that some burner hangers cannot be inspected as they are covered with a doubler plate to reinforce the central part of the hanger bracket.

For the reasons described above, this [EASA] AD requires repetitive detailed inspections (DET) of the affected parts A and, depending on findings, replacement with a serviceable part. This [EASA] AD also requires direct replacement of the burner hanger installed on affected parts B.

You may view the MCAI in the AD docket at <https://www.regulations.gov> by searching for and locating Docket No. FAA-2022-0469.

Related Service Information Under 14 CFR Part 51

The FAA reviewed Cameron Balloons Service Bulletin 28, Revision 3, dated February 3, 2021. The service information specifies identifying the Stratus double burner hanger, inspecting it in accordance with Cameron Balloons SB28:

Accomplishment Instructions CBL/TN/DCB/3191, Issue B, dated February 4, 2020 (CBL/TN/DCB/3191 Issue B), and replacing it if there are any cracks.

The FAA also reviewed CBL/TN/DCB/3191 Issue B, which contains procedures for identifying and inspecting affected Stratus double burner hangers.

This service information is reasonably available because the interested parties have access to it through their normal course of business or by the means identified in the ADDRESSES section.

FAA’s Determination

This product has been approved by the aviation authority of another country, and is approved for operation in the United States. Pursuant to the FAA’s bilateral agreement with this State of Design Authority, it has notified the agency of the unsafe condition described in the MCAI and service information referenced above. The FAA is issuing this NPRM after determining that the unsafe condition described previously is likely to exist or develop on other products of the same type design.

Proposed AD Requirements

This proposed AD would require accomplishing the actions specified in the service information already described, except as discussed under “Differences Between This Proposed AD and the MCAI.”

Differences Between This Proposed AD and the MCAI

Costs of Compliance

The FAA estimates that this AD, if adopted as proposed, would affect 220 burner assemblies that have been produced worldwide. The FAA has no way of knowing how many of these burner assemblies are installed on hot air balloons of U.S. Registry. Therefore, for the purposes of this proposed AD, the FAA is basing the fleet cost estimate on the maximum number of 220 burner assemblies.

The FAA estimates the following costs to comply with this proposed AD:

ESTIMATED COSTS

Action	Labor cost	Parts cost	Cost per hot air balloon	Cost on U.S. operators
Inspect burner hangers	1 work-hour × $85 per hour = $85.	Not applicable	$85 per inspection cycle	$18,700 per inspection cycle.

The FAA estimates the following costs to replace a cracked burner hanger or a burner that has a doubler plate. The FAA has no way of determining the number of hot air balloons that would need this action.

ON-CONDITION COSTS

Action	Labor cost	Parts cost	Cost per hot air balloon
Replace with a serviceable part	1 work-hour × $85 per hour = $85	$250	$335

Authority for This Rulemaking

Title 49 of the United States Code specifies the FAA’s authority to issue rules on aviation safety. Subtitle I, section 106, describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII: Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the Agency’s authority.

The FAA is issuing this rulemaking under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart III, Section 44701: General requirements. Under that section, Congress charges the FAA with promoting safe flight of civil aircraft in air commerce by prescribing regulations for practices, methods, and procedures the Administrator finds necessary for safety in air commerce. This regulation is within the scope of that authority because it addresses an unsafe condition that is likely to exist or develop on products identified in this rulemaking action.

Regulatory Findings

The FAA determined that this proposed AD would not have federalism implications under Executive Order 13132. This proposed AD would not have a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the national Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify this proposed regulation:

- (1) Would not be a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866,
- (2) Would not affect intrastate aviation in Alaska, and
- (3) Would not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

The Proposed Amendment

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

- 1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113, 44701.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

- 2. The FAA amends § 39.13 by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Cameron Balloons Ltd.: Docket No. FAA–2022–0469; Project Identifier MCAI–2021–00124–Q.

(a) Comments Due Date

(b) Affected ADs

None.

(c) Applicability

(1) This AD applies to hot air balloons, certificated in any category, with a Cameron Balloons Ltd. Stratus double burner assembly part number (P/N) CB8720 or P/N CB8721 installed.

(2) The affected burner assemblies may be installed on hot air balloon models including, but not limited to, those of the following design approval holders:

- (i) Aerostar International, Inc.;
- (ii) Ballonbau Worner GmbH;
- (iii) Balóny Kubíček spol. s.r.o.;
- (iv) Cameron Balloons Ltd.;
- (v) Eagle Balloons Corp.;
- (vi) JR Aerosports, Ltd (type certificate previously held by Sundance Balloons (US));
- (vii) Lindstrand Balloons Ltd.; and (viii) Michael D. McGrath (type certificate subsequently transferred to Andrew Philip Richardson, Adams Aerostats LLC).

(d) Subject

Joint Aircraft System Component (JASC) Code 7100, Powerplant System.

(e) Unsafe Condition

This AD was prompted by mandatory continuing airworthiness information (MCAI) originated by an aviation authority of another country to identify and correct an unsafe condition on an aviation product. The MCAI describes the unsafe condition as suspected fatigue cracking of the weld on affected burner hangers. The FAA is issuing this AD to prevent burners from separating from the balloon. The unsafe condition, if not addressed, could result in an uncontrolled cold descent and hard landing of the balloon.

(f) Compliance

Comply with this AD within the compliance times specified, unless already done.

(g) Definitions

(1) For purposes of this AD, an “affected part A” is a Stratus double burner hanger P/N CB8504, Issue A, Issue B, or Issue C, except those installed on a Stratus double burner P/N CB8720 or P/N CB8721 with a doubler plate reinforcing the central part of the hanger bracket, as shown in figure 2 of Cameron Balloons Service Bulletin 28, Revision 3, dated February 3, 2021 (Cameron Balloons SB28 R3).

(2) For purposes of this AD, an “affected part B” is a Stratus double burner P/N CB8720 or P/N CB8721 with a doubler plate reinforcing the central part of the hanger bracket, as shown in figure 2 of Cameron Balloons SB28 R3.

(3) For purposes of this AD, a “serviceable part” is a Stratus double burner hanger P/N CB8504, Issue D or later.

(h) Actions

(1) Within 10 hours time-in-service (TIS) or 30 days, whichever occurs first after the effective date of this AD, inspect the weld of each affected part A for cracks in accordance with paragraphs 3.1.2 through 3.1.4 and Figure 6 of Cameron Balloons SB28:

Accomplishment Instructions CBL/TN/DCB/3191, Issue B, dated February 4, 2020.

(i) If there are no cracks, repeat the inspection in paragraph (h)(1) of this AD at intervals not to exceed 12 months.

(ii) If there is a crack, before further flight, remove the affected part A from service and install a serviceable part. Installation of a serviceable part on a Stratus double burner assembly constitutes terminating action for the repetitive inspections required by paragraph (h)(1) of this AD for that Stratus double burner assembly.

(2) Within 30 days or 10 hours TIS, whichever occurs first after the effective date of this AD, remove each affected part B from service and install a serviceable part.

(3) As of the effective date of this AD, do not install on any hot air balloon an affected part A.

(4) As of the effective date of this AD, do not install on any hot air balloon an affected part B, unless it is equipped with a serviceable part.

(i) Credit for Previous Actions

You may take credit for the initial inspection required by paragraph (h)(1) of this AD if you performed the inspection before the effective date of this AD using Cameron Balloons Service Bulletin 28, Revision 2, dated March 4, 2020; or Revision 3, dated February 3, 2021.

(j) Alternative Methods of Compliance (AMOCs)

(1) The Manager, International Validation Branch, FAA, has the authority to approve AMOCs for this AD, if requested using the procedures found in 14 CFR 39.19. In accordance with 14 CFR 39.19, send your request to your principal inspector or local Flight Standards District Office, as appropriate. If sending information directly to the manager of the certification office, send it to the attention of the person identified in paragraph (k)(1) of this AD and email to: 9-AVS-AIR-730-AMOC@faa.gov.

(2) Before using any approved AMOC, notify your appropriate principal inspector, or lacking a principal inspector, the manager of the local flight standards district office/certificate holding district office.

Airworthiness Directives; Airbus SAS Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: The FAA proposes to supersede Airworthiness Directive (AD) 2021-22-04, which applies to all Airbus SAS Model A318-111, -112, -121, and -122 airplanes, Model A319-111, -112, -113, -114, -115, -131, -132, and -133 airplanes, Model A320-211, -212, -214, -216, -231, -232, and -233 airplanes, and Model A321-111, -112, -131, -211, -212, -213, -231, and -232 airplanes. AD 2021-22-04 requires a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the incorrect alloy was used, and replacement if necessary; and also requires a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain other structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the parts were properly heat treated, and replacement if necessary. Since the FAA issued AD 2021-22-04, typographical errors have been identified regarding serial numbers of certain suspected parts, and it was determined that inconsistent serial numbers formats have been used to identify certain suspected parts. This proposed AD would continue to require the actions in AD 2021-22-04, and would require using an updated list of suspected parts, as specified in a European Union Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) AD, which is proposed for incorporation by reference. This proposed AD would also limit the installation of affected parts. The FAA is proposing this AD to address the unsafe condition on these products.

DATES: The FAA must receive comments on this proposed AD by June 20, 2022.

ADDRESSES: You may send comments, using the procedures found in 14 CFR 11.43 and 11.45, by any of the following methods:

Except for Confidential Business Information (CBI) as described in the following paragraph, and other information as described in 14 CFR 11.35, the FAA will post all comments received, without change, to <https://www.regulations.gov>, including any personal information you provide. The agency will also post a report summarizing each substantive verbal contact received about this NPRM.

Confidential Business Information

CBI is commercial or financial information that is both customarily and actually treated as private by its owner. Under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) (5 U.S.C. 552), CBI is exempt from public disclosure. If your comments responsive to this NPRM contain commercial or financial information that is customarily treated as private, that you actually treat as private, and that is relevant or responsive to this NPRM, it is important that you clearly designate the submitted comments as CBI. Please mark each page of your submission containing CBI as "PROPIN." The FAA will treat such marked submissions as confidential under the FOIA, and they will not be placed in the public docket of this NPRM. Submissions containing CBI should be sent to Vladimir Ulyanov, Aerospace Engineer, Large Aircraft Section, International Validation Branch, FAA, 2200 South 216th St., Des Moines, WA 98198; phone and fax: 206-231-3229; email: vladimir.ulyanov@faa.gov. Any commentary that the FAA receives which is not specifically designated as CBI will be placed in the public docket for this rulemaking.

Background

The FAA issued AD 2021-22-04, Amendment 39-21777 (86 FR 64801, November 19, 2021) (AD 2021-22-04), which applies to all Airbus SAS Model A318-111, -112, -121, and -122 airplanes, Model A319-111, -112, -113, -114, -115, -131, -132, and -133 airplanes, Model A320-211, -212, -214, -216, -231, -232, and -233 airplanes, and Model A321-111, -112, -131, -211, -212, -213, -231, and -232 airplanes. AD 2021-22-04 requires a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the incorrect alloy was used, and replacement if necessary; and also requires a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain other structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the parts were properly heat treated, and replacement if necessary. The FAA issued AD 2021-22-04 to address structural parts that may not meet the certified life limit, which could result in failure of the flap trailing edge and reduced controllability of the airplane.

Actions Since AD 2021-22-04 Was Issued

Since the FAA issued AD 2021-22-04, it has been identified that there are typographical errors in some of the serial numbers of parts listed in EASA AD 2020-0174, dated August 5, 2020 (which corresponds to FAA AD 2021-22-04) that may have been subject to improper heat treatment and/or manufactured with the wrong material (i.e., suspected parts). Additionally, it has been determined that different serial number formats have been used to identify certain parts that may have been subject to improper heat treatment and/or manufactured with the wrong material. EASA and Airbus updated the list of suspected parts to include the corrected serial numbers and clarify the possible different serial number formats used to identify the suspected parts.

EASA, which is the Technical Agent for the Member States of the European Union, has issued EASA AD 2021-0229, dated November 5, 2021 (also referred to as the MCAI), to correct an unsafe condition for all Airbus SAS Model A318-111, -112, -121, and -122 airplanes, Model A319-111, -112, -113, -114, -115, -131, -132, and -133 airplanes, Model A320-211, -212, -214, -215, -216, -231, -232, and -233 airplanes, and Model A321-111, -112, -131, -211, -212, -213, -231, and -232 airplanes. Model A320-215 airplanes are not certificated by the FAA and are not included on the U.S. type certificate data sheet; this AD therefore does not include those airplanes in the applicability.

This proposed AD was prompted by a quality control review, which determined that the wrong aluminum alloy was used to manufacture several structural parts and by the issuance of an updated list of suspected parts, including those that may have been improperly heat treated. The FAA is proposing this AD to address structural parts that may not meet the certified life limit, which could result in failure of the flap trailing edge and reduced controllability of the airplane. See the MCAI for additional background information.

Explanation of Retained Requirements

Although this proposed AD does not explicitly restate the requirements of AD 2021-22-04, this proposed AD would retain certain of the requirements of AD 2021-22-04. Those requirements are referenced in EASA AD 2021-0229, which, in turn, is referenced in paragraph (g) of this proposed AD.

Related Service Information Under 1 CFR Part 51

EASA AD 2021-0229 specifies procedures for a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the incorrect alloy was used, and replacement if necessary; and a one-time eddy current conductivity measurement of certain other structural parts of the outer flaps to determine if the parts were properly heat treated, and replacement if necessary. EASA AD 2021-0229 also limits the installation of affected parts. This material is reasonably available because the interested parties have access to it through their normal course of business or by the means identified in the ADDRESSES section.

FAA's Determination

This product has been approved by the aviation authority of another country and is approved for operation in the United States. Pursuant to the FAA's bilateral agreement with the State of Design Authority, it has notified the FAA of the unsafe condition described in the MCAI referenced above. The FAA is issuing this NPRM after determining that the unsafe condition described previously is likely to exist or develop in other products of the same type design.

Proposed AD Requirements in This NPRM

This proposed AD would require accomplishing the actions specified in EASA AD 2021-0229 described previously, except for any differences identified as exceptions in the regulatory text of this proposed AD. This proposed AD would also limit the installation of affected parts under certain conditions.

Explanation of Required Compliance Information

In the FAA's ongoing efforts to improve the efficiency of the AD process, the FAA developed a process to use some civil aviation authority (CAA) ADs as the primary source of information for compliance with requirements for corresponding FAA ADs. The FAA has been coordinating this process with manufacturers and

CAAs. As a result, the FAA proposes to incorporate EASA AD 2021–0229 by reference in the FAA final rule. This proposed AD would, therefore, require compliance with EASA AD 2021–0229 in its entirety through that incorporation, except for any differences identified as exceptions in the regulatory text of this proposed AD. Using common terms that are the same as the heading of a particular section in EASA AD 2021–0229 does not mean that operators need comply only with that section. For example, where the AD requirement refers to “all required actions and compliance times,” compliance with this AD requirement is not limited to the section titled “Required Action(s) and Compliance Time(s)” in EASA AD 2021–0229. Service information required by EASA AD 2021–0229 for compliance will be available at <https://www.regulations.gov> by searching for and locating Docket No. FAA–2022–0471 after the FAA final rule is published.

Costs of Compliance

The FAA estimates that this proposed AD affects 63 airplanes of U.S. registry. The FAA estimates the following costs to comply with this proposed AD:

ESTIMATED COSTS FOR REQUIRED ACTIONS

Action	Labor cost	Parts cost	Cost per product	Cost on U.S. operators
Retained actions from AD 2022–21–04	5 work-hours × $85 per hour = $425	$0	$425	$26,775
New proposed actions	5 work-hours × $85 per hour = $425	0	425	26,775

The FAA has received no definitive data on which to base the cost estimates for the on-condition replacement specified in this proposed AD.

According to the manufacturer, some or all of the costs of this proposed AD may be covered under warranty, thereby reducing the cost impact on affected individuals. The FAA does not control warranty coverage for affected individuals. As a result, the FAA has included all known costs in the cost estimate.

Authority for This Rulemaking

Title 49 of the United States Code specifies the FAA’s authority to issue rules on aviation safety. Subtitle I, section 106, describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII: Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the Agency’s authority.

The FAA is issuing this rulemaking under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart III, Section 44701: General requirements. Under that section, Congress charges the FAA with promoting safe flight of civil aircraft in air commerce by prescribing regulations for practices, methods, and procedures the Administrator finds necessary for safety in air commerce. This regulation is within the scope of that authority because it addresses an unsafe condition that is likely to exist or develop on products identified in this rulemaking action.

Regulatory Findings

The FAA determined that this proposed AD would not have federalism implications under Executive Order 13132. This proposed AD would not have a substantial direct effect on the States, on the relationship between the national Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify this proposed regulation:

- (1) Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866,
- (2) Would not affect intrastate aviation in Alaska, and
- (3) Would not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

List of Subjects in 14 CFR Part 39

Air transportation, Aircraft, Aviation safety, Incorporation by reference, Safety.

The Proposed Amendment

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

- 1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113, 44701.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

- 2. The FAA amends § 39.13 by:
 - a. Removing Airworthiness Directive (AD) 2021–22–04, Amendment 39–21777 (86 FR 64801, November 19, 2021); and
 - b. Adding the following new AD:

(a) Comments Due Date

The FAA must receive comments on this airworthiness directive (AD) by June 20, 2022.

- (4) Model A321–111, –112, –131, –211, –212, –213, –231, and –232 airplanes.

(d) Subject

Air Transport Association (ATA) of America Code 57, Wings.

(e) Unsafe Condition

This AD was prompted by a quality control review, which determined that the wrong aluminum alloy was used to manufacture several structural parts and by the issuance of an updated list of suspected parts, including those that may have been improperly heat treated. The FAA is issuing this AD to address structural parts that may not meet the certified life limit, which could result in failure of the flap trailing edge and reduced controllability of the airplane.

(f) Compliance

Comply with this AD within the compliance times specified, unless already done.

(g) Requirements

Except as specified in paragraph (h) of this AD: Comply with all required actions and compliance times specified in, and in accordance with, EASA AD 2021–0229, dated November 5, 2021 (EASA AD 2021–0229).

(h) Exceptions to EASA AD 2021–0229

(1) Where EASA AD 2021–0229 refers to its effective date, this AD requires using the effective date of this AD.

(2) Where EASA AD 2021–0299 refers to August 19, 2020 (the effective date of EASA AD 2020–0174), this AD requires using December 27, 2021 (the effective date of AD 2021–22–04).

(3) The “Remarks” section of EASA AD 2021–0229 does not apply to this AD.

(4) Where paragraphs (6) and (7) of EASA AD 2021–0229 mandate a parts installation limitation, this AD requires the following parts installation limitation: As of December 27, 2021 (the effective date of AD 2021–22–04), only serviceable parts as defined in EASA AD 2021–0229 are allowed to be installed on any airplane.

(i) No Reporting Requirement

Although the service information referenced in EASA AD 2021–0229 specifies to submit certain information to the manufacturer, this AD does not include that requirement.

(j) Additional FAA AD Provisions

The following provisions also apply to this AD:

(1) Alternative Methods of Compliance (AMOCs): The Manager, Large Aircraft Section, International Validation Branch, FAA, has the authority to approve AMOCs for this AD, if requested using the procedures found in 14 CFR 39.19. In accordance with 14 CFR 39.19, send your request to your principal inspector or responsible Flight Standards Office, as appropriate. If sending information directly to the Large Aircraft Section, International Validation Branch, send it to the attention of the person identified in paragraph (k)(2) of this AD. Before using any approved AMOC, notify your appropriate principal inspector, or lacking a principal inspector, the manager of the responsible Flight Standards Office.

(2) Contacting the Manufacturer: For any requirement in this AD to obtain instructions from a manufacturer, the instructions must be accomplished using a method approved by the Manager, Large Aircraft Section, International Validation Branch, FAA; or EASA; or Airbus SAS’s EASA Design Organization Approval (DOA). If approved by the DOA, the approval must include the DOA-authorized signature.

(3) Required for Compliance (RC): Except as required by paragraph (j)(2) of this AD, if any service information contains procedures or tests that are identified as RC, those procedures and tests must be done to comply with this AD; any procedures or tests that are not identified as RC are recommended. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Authority for This Rulemaking

The FAA’s authority to issue rules regarding aviation safety is found in Title 49 of the United States Code. Subtitle I, Section 106 describes the authority of the FAA Administrator. Subtitle VII, Aviation Programs, describes in more detail the scope of the agency’s authority. This rulemaking is promulgated under the authority described in Subtitle VII, Part A, Subpart I, Section 40103. Under that section, the FAA is charged with prescribing regulations to assign the use of the airspace necessary to ensure the safety of aircraft and the efficient use of airspace. This regulation is within the scope of that authority as it would expand the availability of RNAV in Alaska and improve the efficient flow of air traffic within the National Airspace System (NAS) by lessening the dependency on ground based navigation.

Comments Invited

Interested parties are invited to participate in this proposed rulemaking by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Comments that provide the factual basis supporting the views and suggestions presented are particularly helpful in developing reasoned regulatory decisions on the proposal. Comments are specifically invited on the overall regulatory, aeronautical, economic, environmental, and energy-related aspects of the proposal.

Communications should identify both docket numbers (FAA Docket No. FAA–2022–0430; Airspace Docket No. 19–AAL–75) and be submitted in triplicate to the Docket Management Facility (see ADDRESSES section for address and phone number). You may also submit comments through the internet at https://www.regulations.gov.

Commenters wishing the FAA to acknowledge receipt of their comments on this action must submit with those comments a self-addressed, stamped postcard on which the following statement is made: “Comments to FAA Docket No. FAA–2022–0430; Airspace Docket No. 19–AAL–75.” The postcard will be date/time stamped and returned to the commenter.

All communications received on or before the specified comment closing date will be considered before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposal contained in this action may be changed in light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available for examination in the public docket both before and after the comment closing date. A report summarizing each substantive public contact with FAA personnel concerned with this rulemaking will be filed in the docket.

Availability and Summary of Documents for Incorporation by Reference

This document proposes to amend FAA Order JO 7400.11F, Airspace Designations and Reporting Points, dated August 10, 2021, and effective September 15, 2021. FAA Order JO 7400.11F is publicly available as listed in the ADDRESSES section of this document. FAA Order JO 7400.11F lists Class A, B, C, D, and E airspace areas, air traffic service routes, and reporting points.

Background

In 2003, Congress enacted the Vision 100—Century of Aviation Reauthorization Act (Pub. L. 108–176), which established a joint planning and development office in the FAA to manage the work related to the Next Generation Air Transportation System (NextGen). Today, NextGen is an ongoing FAA-led modernization of the nation’s air transportation system to make flying safer, more efficient, and more predictable.

In support of NextGen, this proposal is part of a larger and comprehensive RNAV T-route modernization project in the state of Alaska. The project’s mission statement is “to modernize Alaska’s Air Traffic Service route structure using satellite based navigation. Development of new T-routes and optimization of existing T-routes will enhance safety, increase efficiency and access, and will provide enroute continuity that is not subject to the restrictions associated with ground based airway navigation.” As part of this project, the FAA evaluated the existing Colored airway structure for: (a) Direct replacement (i.e., overlay) with a T-route that offers a similar or lower Minimum Enroute Altitude (MEA) or Global Navigation Satellite System Minimum Enroute Altitude (GNSS MEA); (b) the replacement of the Colored airway with a T-route in an optimized but similar geographic area, while retaining similar or lower MEA; or (c) removal with no route structure (T-route) restored in that area because the value was determined to be insignificant.

Industry and users have indicated a desire that the FAA transition the Alaskan enroute navigation structure away from any dependency on NDBs, and move to develop and improve the RNAV route structure. The FAA believes this request is time sensitive given the increasing number of NDBs that are currently and/or scheduled out of service, and the lack of an NDB acquisition, maintenance, or sustainment program, which forces aircraft flying under Instrument Flight Rules (IFR) that are without de-icing protection to fly at higher MEAs, with the potentially associated loss of safety.

The FAA is proposing to amend RNAV T-route T–277. This proposed action is necessary due to the planned decommissioning of the Point Lay, AK, (PIZ) NDB. The Point Lay NDB will decommission as part of the RNAV modernization effort for the state of Alaska. The FAA proposes to replace PIZ with the JODGU, AK, waypoint (WP). The FAA also proposes to update more precisely the Global Positioning System (GPS) coordinates for the Bettles, AK, (BTT) VOR/Distance Measuring Equipment (VOR/DME), due to advancements in technology, which has improved the ability to measure latitude/longitude coordinates more precisely.

The Proposal

The FAA is proposing an amendment to 14 CFR part 71 to amend RNAV route T–277 in the vicinity of Point Lay, AK in support of a large and comprehensive T-route modernization project in the state of Alaska. The proposed RNAV T-route amendment is described below.

T–277: T–277 currently extends between the Bettles, AK, (BTT) VOR/DME and the Point Lay, AK, (PIZ) NDB. The FAA proposes to replace the Point Lay, AK, (PIZ) NDB with the JODGU, AK, WP. As a result, T–277 would extend between the Bettles, AK, (BTT) VOR/DME and the JODGU, AK, WP.

United States Area Navigation Routes are published in paragraph 6011 of FAA Order JO 7400.11F dated August 10, 2021 and effective September 15, 2021, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The RNAV route listed in this document would be published subsequently in FAA Order JO 7400.11.

FAA Order JO 7400.11, Airspace Designations and Reporting Points, is published yearly and effective on September 15.

Regulatory Notices and Analyses

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore: (1) Is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under Department of Transportation (DOT) Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule, when promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Environmental Review

This proposal will be subject to an environmental analysis in accordance with FAA Order 1050.1F, “Environmental Impacts: Policies and Procedures” prior to any FAA final regulatory action.

Air Plan Approval; Indiana, Michigan and Minnesota; Revised Startup, Shutdown, and Malfunction Provisions

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is proposing to approve three State Implementation Plan (SIP) revision requests, submitted by Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota. All three states submitted the SIP revision requests in 2016 in response to a finding of substantial inadequacy and a SIP call published on June 12, 2015, for specific provisions in each state's SIP related to excess emissions during startup, shutdown, and malfunction (SSM) events. Each of these SIP submissions was submitted independently and EPA is analyzing them individually. However, EPA is packaging the proposed approvals together in a single action both for administrative efficiency and because EPA's action approving the revisions consistently applies EPA's national policy regarding SSM provisions in SIPs. EPA is proposing approval of these SIP submissions and proposing to determine that each submission corrects the state's respective SIP deficiencies as identified in the June 12, 2015, SIP call.

I. What is the background for EPA’s proposed action?

On February 22, 2013 (78 FR 12460), EPA published a Federal Register notice of proposed rulemaking outlining the agency’s policy at the time with respect to SIP provisions related to periods of SSM. This policy stated that director’s discretion and automatic exemption provisions for periods of SSM were impermissible under the Clean Air Act (CAA), but that appropriately drawn affirmative defense provisions may be permissible under certain circumstances. EPA analyzed specific SSM SIP provisions and explained how each one either did or did not comply with the CAA with regard to excess emission events.¹ For each SIP provision that EPA determined to be inconsistent with the CAA, EPA proposed to find that the existing SIP provision was substantially inadequate to meet CAA requirements and thus proposed to issue a SIP call under CAA section 110(k)(5). On September 17, 2014, EPA issued a supplementary notice of proposed rulemaking that revised what the Agency had previously proposed on February 22, 2013, in light of a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit that determined the CAA precludes authority of the EPA to create affirmative defense provisions applicable to private civil suits.² EPA outlined in its updated policy that affirmative defense SIP provisions are not consistent with CAA requirements. EPA proposed in the supplemental proposal document to apply its revised interpretation of the CAA to specific affirmative defense SIP provisions and to propose SIP calls for those provisions where appropriate (79 FR 55920, September 17, 2014).

On June 12, 2015, pursuant to CAA section 110(k)(5), EPA finalized “State Implementation Plans: Response to Petition for Rulemaking; Restatement and Update of EPA’s SSM Policy Applicable to SIPs; Findings of Substantial Inadequacy; and SIP Calls To Amend Provisions Applying to Excess Emissions During Periods of Startup, Shutdown and Malfunction,” (80 FR 33839, June 12, 2015), hereafter referred to as the “2015 SSM SIP Action.” The 2015 SSM SIP Action clarified, restated, and updated EPA’s interpretation that SSM exemptions and affirmative defense SIP provisions are inconsistent with CAA requirements.

The 2015 SSM SIP Action found that certain SIP provisions in 36 states, including Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota, were substantially inadequate to meet CAA requirements and issued a SIP call to those states to submit SIP revisions to address the inadequacies. EPA established an 18-month deadline by which the affected states had to submit such SIP revisions. The detailed rationale for issuing the SIP calls to Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota can be found in the 2015 SSM SIP Action and preceding proposed actions. States were required to submit corrective revisions to their SIPs in response to the SIP calls by November 22, 2016. Indiana submitted a SIP revision request in response to the SIP call on November 14, 2016, and supplemented it on January 31, 2017. Michigan submitted a SIP revision request in response to the SIP call on November 15, 2016, and supplemented it on February 7, 2017. Minnesota submitted a SIP revision request in response to the SIP call on November 22, 2016, and supplemented it on February 10, 2017. This proposal addresses all three of these SIP submittals in a consolidated action.

In October 2020, EPA issued a Memorandum (2020 Memorandum), which stated that certain provisions governing SSM periods in SIPs could be viewed as consistent with CAA requirements.³ Importantly, the 2020 Memorandum stated that it “did not alter in any way the determinations made in the 2015 SSM SIP Action that identified specific state SIP provisions that were substantially inadequate to meet the requirements of the Act.” Accordingly, the 2020 Memorandum had no direct impact on the SIP call issued to Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota in 2015. The 2020 Memorandum did, however, indicate EPA’s intent at the time to review SIP calls that were issued in the 2015 SSM SIP Action to determine whether EPA should maintain, modify, or withdraw particular SIP calls through future agency actions.

On September 30, 2021, EPA’s Deputy Administrator withdrew the 2020 Memorandum and announced EPA’s return to the policy articulated in the 2015 SSM SIP Action (2021 Memorandum).⁴ As articulated in the 2021 Memorandum, SIP provisions that contain exemptions or affirmative defense provisions are not consistent with CAA requirements and, therefore, generally are not approvable if contained in a SIP submission. This policy approach is intended to ensure that all communities and populations, including minority, low-income and indigenous populations overburdened by air pollution, receive the full health and environmental protections provided by the CAA.⁵ The 2021 Memorandum also retracted the prior statement from the 2020 Memorandum of EPA’s plans to review and potentially modify or withdraw particular SIP calls. That statement no longer reflects EPA’s intent. EPA intends to implement the principles laid out in the 2015 SSM SIP Action as the agency takes action on SIP submissions, including the three state SIP submittals provided in response to the 2015 SSM SIP Action which are addressed in this consolidated proposal.

³ October 9, 2020, memorandum “Inclusion of Provisions Governing Periods of Startup, Shutdown, and Malfunctions in State Implementation Plans,” from Andrew R. Wheeler, Administrator.

⁴ September 30, 2021, memorandum “Withdrawal of the October 9, 2020, Memorandum Addressing Startup, Shutdown, and Malfunctions in State Implementation Plans and Implementation of the Prior Policy,” from Janet McCabe, Deputy Administrator.

II. EPA's Analysis of the States' Submissions

Indiana

In the 2015 SSM SIP Action, EPA determined that a provision in the Indiana SIP was substantially inadequate to meet CAA requirements. Indiana's SIP rules are codified in the Indiana Administrative Code (IAC). Indiana's rule 326 IAC 1-6-4(a) provided a director's discretion exemption from the otherwise applicable SIP emission limitations during malfunctions. EPA determined that the Indiana rule was inconsistent with the requirements of the CAA for the reasons explained in Section IX.F.2 of the 2015 SSM SIP Action.⁶

Indiana submitted its SIP revision request pursuant to the 2015 SSM SIP Action on November 14, 2016 and supplemented it on January 31, 2017. Indiana removed the provisions in 326 IAC 1-6-4(a) that provided for discretionary exemptions. The state removed language that read in part, "Emissions temporarily exceeding the standards which are due to malfunctions of facilities or emission control equipment shall not be considered a violation of the rules provided that the source demonstrates. . ." [meeting a list of criteria]. Indiana also removed language from 326 IAC 1-6-4(a)(1)-(4) which gave criteria that would have allowed for the exemptions. The rule at 326 IAC 1-6-4 now reads: "Source owners or operators shall operate and maintain all emission control equipment and combustion process equipment or processes in compliance with all applicable rules." Indiana's submittal also included administrative revisions to other sections of rule 326 IAC 1-6, (1-6-1, 1-6-2, 1-6-5, and 1-6-6), such as replacing the word "shall" with "must" or changing "facility" to "emission unit" or "source". In addition, Indiana revised and submitted a separate general rule, 326 IAC 2-9-1, removing a reference to rule 326 IAC 1-6 applying during malfunctions. EPA is proposing to find that the revised language in 326 IAC 1-6 and 326 IAC 2-9-1 addresses the deficiency outlined in the 2015 SSM SIP Action for Indiana.

Michigan

In the 2015 SSM SIP Action, EPA determined that a provision in the Michigan SIP, Michigan Administrative Code R 336.1916, (R 336.1916), provided an affirmative defense to monetary penalties for violations of otherwise applicable SIP limitations during startup and shutdown periods and therefore was substantially inadequate to meet CAA SIP requirements. EPA's rationale for this determination is explained in Section IX.F.3 of the 2015 SSM SIP Action.

Michigan submitted its SIP revision request on November 15, 2016, and supplemented it on February 7, 2017.⁷ Michigan revised and curtailed the applicability of R 336.1916, and requested that EPA remove it entirely from the Michigan SIP. Rule R 336.1916, as revised, specifically cites a list of Michigan's air toxics rules and its nuisance rule as the only rules to which the affirmative defense in R 336.1916 applies. The air toxics and nuisance rules are not part of Michigan's criteria pollutant SIP. The revised rule R 336.1916 will remain on Michigan's books, but as a state-only rule. EPA is proposing to remove R 336.1916 from Michigan's federally enforceable criteria pollutant SIP, per Michigan's request, because the rule no longer applies to criteria pollutant emission limits. EPA is also proposing to find that the removal of R 336.1916 would remove the SSM deficiency from Michigan's SIP, and would fully address the 2015 SSM SIP Action.

Minnesota

In the 2015 SSM SIP Action, EPA determined that a provision in the Minnesota SIP was substantially inadequate to meet CAA requirements. The Minnesota rule, Minnesota Rule 7011.1415 (Minn. R. 7011.1415), provided automatic exemptions for excess emissions resulting from flared gas at petroleum refineries when the flaring is necessitated by SSM events. EPA determined that the Minnesota rule was inconsistent with the requirements of the CAA for the reasons more fully explained in Section IX.F.4 of the 2015 SSM SIP Action.

Minnesota submitted its SIP revision request on November 22, 2016, and supplemented it on February 10, 2017. Minnesota repealed Minn R. 7011.1415, effective December 27, 2016, and requested that EPA remove Minn. R. 7011.1415 from the SIP. EPA is proposing to approve Minnesota's SIP revision request because removing the deficient rule from the Minnesota SIP responds fully to the 2015 SSM SIP Action.

In summary, in the 2015 SSM SIP Action, EPA found that the SIPs for Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota contained provisions that were substantially inadequate to meet CAA requirements, and accordingly issued a SIP call to the state to revise those SIP provisions. In response, Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota have submitted SIP revision requests. In this action, EPA proposes to find that the SIP revisions submitted by each of the three states remedy the issues identified in EPA's 2015 SSM SIP Action, and therefore proposes to approve the SIP submittals from all three states and, if the proposed action is finalized, determine that the SIP call obligation issued in 2015 has been fulfilled. In the case of Indiana, EPA is proposing to approve the revised language in 326 IAC 1-6 and 326 IAC 2-9-1. In the cases of Michigan and Minnesota, EPA is proposing to remove Michigan's R 336.1916 and Minn. R. 7011.1415 from the Michigan and Minnesota SIPs, respectively. EPA is proposing to find that all three of these state SIP revision requests meet the requirements of the CAA and address the deficiencies in each SIP as outlined in EPA's 2015 SSM SIP Action.

III. What action is EPA proposing to take?

EPA is proposing to approve three SIP revision requests submitted in 2016 and supplemented in 2017 by Indiana, Michigan, and Minnesota in order to address EPA's 2015 SSM SIP Action. EPA is proposing to determine that the three states' rulemaking actions and revised rules are consistent with the SSM requirements for SIP provisions under the CAA; that their respective SIP submissions correct the SSM deficiencies identified for the state within EPA's 2015 SSM SIP Action; and fulfill the obligation to respond to it.

EPA is not reopening the 2015 SSM SIP Action and is only taking comment on whether each state's SIP revision addresses the finding of substantial inadequacy for the respective SIP provisions identified in the 2015 SSM SIP Action.

IV. Incorporation by Reference

In this rule, EPA is proposing to include in a final EPA rule regulatory text that includes incorporation by reference. In accordance with the requirements of 1 CFR 51.5, EPA is proposing to incorporate by reference Indiana rules 326 IAC 1–6–1, 326 IAC 1–6–2, 326 IAC 1–6–4, 326 IAC 1–6–5, 326 IAC 1–6–6; and 326 IAC 2–9–1, effective January 29, 2017, as discussed in Section II of this preamble. EPA has made, and will continue to make, these documents generally available through www.regulations.gov, and at the EPA Region 5 Office (please contact the person identified in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section of this preamble for more information).

⁶ Although the 2015 SSM SIP Action describes Indiana's rule 1-6-4(a) "generally applicable," the actual rule applies only to non-major sources. It does not apply to larger facilities that have major source operating permits pursuant to title V of the CAA and 40 CFR part 70.

Also in this document, as described in section II of this preamble, EPA is proposing to remove provisions of the EPA-Approved Michigan and Minnesota Regulations and Statutes from the Michigan and Minnesota SIPs, which are incorporated by reference in accordance with the requirements of 1 CFR part 51.

V. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

Under the CAA, the Administrator is required to approve a SIP submission that complies with the provisions of the CAA and applicable Federal regulations. 42 U.S.C. 7410(k); 40 CFR 52.02(a). Thus, in reviewing SIP submissions, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the CAA. Accordingly, this action merely approves state law as meeting Federal requirements and does not impose additional requirements beyond those imposed by state law. For that reason, this action:

- Is not a significant regulatory action subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Orders 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993) and 13563 (76 FR 3821, January 21, 2011);

- Does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.);

- Is certified as not having a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.);

- Does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104–4);

- Does not have federalism implications as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999);

- Is not an economically significant regulatory action based on health or safety risks subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997);

- Is not a significant regulatory action subject to Executive Order 13211 (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001);

- Is not subject to requirements of Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) because application of those requirements would be inconsistent with the CAA; and

- Does not provide EPA with the discretionary authority to address, as appropriate, disproportionate human health or environmental effects, using practicable and legally permissible methods, under Executive Order 12898 (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

In addition, the SIP is not approved to apply on any Indian reservation land or in any other area where EPA or an Indian tribe has demonstrated that a tribe has jurisdiction. In those areas of Indian country, the rule does not have tribal implications and will not impose substantial direct costs on tribal governments or preempt tribal law as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000).

Air Plan Approval; OR; Oakridge PM_{2.5} Redesignation to Attainment and Maintenance Plan

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes to redesignate the Oakridge, Oregon nonattainment area (Oakridge NAA or Oakridge area) to attainment for the 2006 24-hour fine particulate matter (PM_{2.5}) National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS). EPA also proposes to approve a maintenance plan for the area demonstrating continued compliance with the PM_{2.5} NAAQS through 2035, which the Lane Regional Air Protection Agency (LRAPA) developed in coordination with the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality (ODEQ), for inclusion into the Oregon State Implementation Plan (SIP). The Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan was submitted to EPA by ODEQ along with the redesignation request on January 13, 2022. Additionally, EPA proposes to approve the motor vehicle emissions budgets included in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan and inform the public that we are starting the adequacy process for the proposed motor vehicle emissions budgets, including a public comment period. EPA also proposes to approve additional control measures because incorporation of these measures will strengthen the Oregon SIP and ensure PM_{2.5} emissions reductions in the Oakridge area. Finally, EPA proposes to take final agency action on an exceptional events request submitted by ODEQ on July 22, 2021 and concurred on by EPA on April 1, 2022. EPA proposes these actions pursuant to the Clean Air Act (CAA or the Act).

I. Background

On October 17, 2006, EPA revised the level of the 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS, lowering the primary and secondary standards from the 1997 standard of 65 micrograms per cubic meter (µg/m³) to 35 µg/m³ (71 FR 61143). On November 13, 2009, EPA designated a portion of Lane County, Oregon nonattainment for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS (74 FR 58688). This nonattainment area is referred to as the Oakridge, Oregon PM_{2.5} NAA (Oakridge NAA or Oakridge area).

The Oakridge NAA boundary is a rectangular area that includes the City of Oakridge and the small town of Westfir. The City of Oakridge is situated in a valley where the middle fork of the Willamette River flows east to west, and mountains rise on the north and south sides. Westfir is a very small isolated rural mountain community also located in a valley along the north fork of the Willamette River about 1-mile NW of Oakridge. It is surrounded by the same high mountains. This topography can act as a barrier to air movement in the Oakridge NAA during temperature inversions, which occur in the winter months and are often the cause of elevated concentrations of PM_{2.5}. Additional information pertaining to the specific boundary for the Oakridge NAA can be found in the November 13, 2009, final designations action for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS (74 FR 58688).

The nonattainment designation of the Oakridge NAA required Oregon to prepare and submit an attainment plan to meet statutory and regulatory requirements.¹ ODEQ submitted this attainment plan to EPA on December 12, 2012 (2012 attainment plan). EPA approved the description of the Oakridge NAA and the baseline emissions inventory and disapproved everything else submitted in the attainment plan on October 21, 2016 (81 FR 72714). ODEQ submitted a supplement to the attainment plan on January 20, 2017 (2017 Oakridge Update). On February 8, 2018, EPA approved the 2017 Oakridge Update including the attainment year emission inventory, the control measures in the attainment plan as meeting reasonably available control measures/technology (RACM/RACT), the attainment demonstration, the motor vehicle emissions budgets (MVEBs) for PM_{2.5}, the demonstration of reasonable progress, the quantitative milestones and contingency measures (83 FR 5537).

In addition, on July 18, 2016, EPA granted a one-year extension, under CAA section 188(d), to the December 31, 2015, Moderate attainment date for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} Oakridge NAA (81 FR 46612). On February 8, 2018, EPA finalized a determination that the Oakridge NAA had attained the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS (Determination of Attainment) by the December 31, 2016, attainment date (83 FR 5537).

II. Clean Air Act Requirements for Redesignation to Attainment

The CAA provides the requirements for redesignating a nonattainment area to attainment. Specifically, section 107(d)(3)(E) of the CAA, allows for redesignation provided that: (1) EPA determines that the area has attained the applicable NAAQS; (2) EPA has fully approved the applicable implementation plan for the area under section 110(k) of the CAA; (3) EPA determines that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions resulting from implementation of the applicable SIP and applicable Federal air pollutant control regulations and other permanent and enforceable reductions; (4) EPA has fully approved a maintenance plan for the area as meeting the requirements of section 175A of the CAA; and (5) the state has met all requirements applicable to the area under section 110 and part D of the CAA. In this proposed action, EPA will review CAA section 107(d)(3)(E) requirements (2) and (5) together as part of our evaluation of Oregon’s redesignation request.

EPA has provided guidance on redesignations in the “General Preamble,”² and has provided further guidance on processing redesignation requests in the following documents: (1) “Procedures for Processing Requests to Redesignate Areas to Attainment,” Memorandum from John Calcagni, Director, Air Quality Management Division, September 4, 1992 (hereafter the “Calcagni Memo”); (2) “State Implementation Plan (SIP) Actions Submitted in Response to Clean Air Act (CAA) Deadlines,” Memorandum from John Calcagni, Director, Air Quality Management Division, October 28, 1992; and (3) “Part D New Source Review (part D NSR) Requirements for Areas Requesting Redesignation to Attainment,” Memorandum from Mary D. Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation, October 14, 1994. These documents are included in the Docket for this proposed action.

III. EPA’s Analysis of Oregon’s Submittal

EPA proposes to redesignate the Oakridge NAA to attainment to the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS and proposes to approve into the Oregon SIP the associated Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan. EPA’s proposed approval of the redesignation request and maintenance plan is based upon EPA’s determination that the area continues to attain the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS and that all other redesignation criteria have been met for the area. Sections III.A through D of this document describe how Oregon’s January 13, 2022, submittal satisfies the requirements of section 107(d)(3)(E) of the CAA for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} standard.³

Oregon’s submittal also addresses transportation MVEBs and emissions from wildfire-influenced PM_{2.5} concentrations recorded in the Oakridge NAA in 2020. EPA proposes to approve the MVEBs and proposes to approve the exclusion of ambient air quality monitoring data associated with the wildfire-influenced exceptional events that affected this data in September of 2020 for the purposes of showing continued attainment of the NAAQS.

² See “State Implementation Plans; General Preamble for the Implementation of Title I of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990,” 57 FR 13498, April 16, 1992.

³ We note that the January 13, 2022 submittal also includes the Oakridge PM₁₀ redesignation and maintenance plan and revisions to LRAPA’s Title 29 rules, which EPA will address in a separate action.

A. Attainment Determination

To redesignate an area from nonattainment to attainment, the CAA requires EPA to determine that the area has attained the applicable NAAQS (CAA section 107(d)(3)(E)(i)). EPA determines whether an area has attained the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS based upon measured air quality levels at each eligible monitoring site to produce a design value equal to or below 35 µg/m³.⁴ A state must demonstrate that an area has attained the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS through submittal of ambient air quality data from an ambient air monitoring network representing expected maximum PM_{2.5} concentrations. The data must be quality-assured, quality-controlled and certified in EPA’s Air Quality System (AQS) and it must show that the three-year average of valid PM_{2.5} 98th percentile mass concentrations is equal to or below the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS (35 µg/m³), pursuant to 40 CFR 50.13. In making this showing, three years of complete air quality data must be used.

The Exceptional Event Rule

Congress has recognized that it may not be appropriate for EPA to use certain monitoring data collected by the ambient air quality monitoring network and maintained in EPA’s AQS database⁵ in certain regulatory determinations. Thus, in 2005, Congress provided the statutory authority for the exclusion of data influenced by “exceptional events” meeting specific criteria by adding section 319(b) to the CAA.⁶ To implement this 2005 CAA amendment, EPA promulgated the 2007 Exceptional Events Rule.⁷ The 2007 Exceptional Events Rule created a regulatory process codified at 40 CFR parts 50 and 51 (sections 50.1, 50.14 and 51.930). These regulatory sections, which superseded EPA’s previous guidance on handling data influenced by events, contain definitions, procedural requirements, requirements for air agency demonstrations, criteria for EPA’s approval of the exclusion of event-affected air quality data from the data set used for regulatory decisions, and requirements for air agencies to take appropriate and reasonable actions to protect public health from exceedances or violations of the NAAQS. In 2016, EPA promulgated a comprehensive revision to the 2007 Exceptional Events Rule.⁸ The 2016 Exceptions Events Rule revision included the requirement that, if a state demonstrates that emissions from a wildfire smoke event caused a specific air pollution concentration in excess of the NAAQS at a particular air quality monitoring location and otherwise satisfies the requirements of 40 CFR 50.14, EPA must exclude that data from use in determinations of exceedances and violations.⁹

The Oakridge NAA Exceptional Event Demonstrations and Concurrences

The CAA allows for the exclusion of air quality monitoring data from design value calculations when there are NAAQS exceedances caused by events, such as wildfires, that meet the criteria for an exceptional event identified in EPA’s Exceptional Events Rule at 40 CFR 50.1, 50.14 and 51.930. For the purposes of this proposed action, on July 22, 2021, ODEQ submitted an exceptional events demonstration to show that PM_{2.5} concentrations recorded at the Oakridge Willamette Center monitor from September 11, 2020 through September 16, 2020 were influenced by wildfires. EPA concurred on this request on April 1, 2022.

EPA found that Oregon’s demonstration met the Exceptional

Events Rule criteria and determined that these wildfire events had regulatory significance for purposes of calculating the area’s most recent design value to demonstrate the area continues to attain the standard in order to redesignate the area to attainment for the PM_{2.5} NAAQS. As such, EPA proposes to take final regulatory action on the concurred dates, as detailed in the docket, as exceptional events to be removed from the data set used for regulatory purposes. For this proposed action, EPA will rely on the calculated values that exclude the event-influenced data for the purpose of demonstrating continued attainment of the 2006 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. Further details on Oregon’s analyses and EPA’s concurrences can be found in the docket for this regulatory action.

While EPA may agree with Oregon’s request to exclude event-influenced air quality monitoring data from regulatory decisions, these regulatory actions require EPA to provide an opportunity for public comment on the claimed exceptional events and all supporting data prior to EPA taking final agency action. This proposed action provides the public with an opportunity to comment on the claimed exceptional events, all supporting documents and EPA’s proposed concurrence with Oregon’s request.

Evaluation of Continued Attainment

As previously noted, on February 8, 2018, EPA finalized a Determination of Attainment for the Oakridge NAA based upon quality-assured and certified ambient air quality monitoring data for the 2014–2016 design value period (83 FR 5537). The monitoring data used as the basis for the Determination of Attainment under CAA section 188(b)(2) is provided in Table 1 of this document.

TABLE 1—OAKRIDGE AREA PM_{2.5} 2016 ATTAINING DESIGN VALUE

For this proposed action, EPA reviewed the subsequent PM_{2.5} ambient air monitoring data in the Oakridge area for the monitoring design value periods of 2017–2020. Consistent with the requirements at 40 CFR part 50, this ambient monitoring data in EPA’s AQS has been quality-assured, quality-controlled and certified by ODEQ. As Table 2 indicates, the Oakridge NAA has continued to attain the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS since EPA issued its recur at a particular location or a natural event; and (iv) is determined by EPA under the process established in regulations promulgated by EPA in accordance with section 319(b)(2) to be an exceptional event. For the purposes of section 319(b), an exceptional event does not include (i) stagnation of air masses or meteorological inversions; (ii) a meteorological event involving high temperatures or lack of precipitation; or (iii) air pollution relating to source noncompliance.

^a EPA concurred on the removal of exceptional events data for 2017 in a letter dated 5/21/2020 and exceptional events data for 2020 in a letter dated 4/01/2022. The specified data was excluded from AQS.

EPA’s review of the monitoring data supports the previous determination that the area has attained the standard and therefore EPA finds it is appropriate to conclude the area has continued to attain the NAAQS through 2020, based on uninterrupted attaining design values at the Willamette Center monitor.

B. Applicable Requirements Under Section 110 and Part D of the CAA

Section 107(d)(3)(E)(ii) and (v) of the CAA states that for an area to be redesignated to attainment, it must be determined that the Administrator has fully approved the applicable implementation plan for the area under CAA section 110(k) and all the requirements applicable to the Area under section 110 of the CAA (general SIP requirements) and part D of Title I of the CAA (SIP requirements for nonattainment areas) must be met. We interpret this to mean that, for a redesignation request to be approved, the state must have met all requirements that applied to the subject area prior to, or at the time of, submitting a complete redesignation request. EPA may rely on prior SIP approvals in approving a redesignation request ¹⁰ as well as any additional measure it may approve in conjunction with a redesignation action.

1. CAA Section 110 General SIP Requirements

Section 110(a)(2) of Title I of the CAA delineates the general requirements for a SIP, which include enforceable emissions limitations and other control measures, means or techniques, provisions for the establishment and operation of appropriate devices necessary to collect data on ambient air quality, and programs to enforce the limitations. The general SIP elements and requirements set forth in CAA section 110(a)(2) include, but are not limited to the following:

- Submittal of a SIP that has been adopted by the state after reasonable public notice and hearing;

- Provisions for establishment and operation of appropriate procedures needed to monitor ambient air quality;
- Implementation of a source permit program; provisions for the implementation of part C requirements (PSD);
- Provisions for the implementation of part D requirements for NSR permit programs;
- Provisions for air pollution modeling; and
- Provisions for public and local agency participation in planning and emission control rule development.¹¹

We note that SIPs must be fully approved only with respect to applicable requirements for purposes of redesignation in accordance with section 107(d)(3)(E)(ii). Similarly, EPA believes that the other CAA section 110(a)(2) (and part D) requirements that are not connected with nonattainment plan submittals and not linked with an area’s attainment status are not applicable requirements for purposes of redesignation because the area will still be subject to these requirements after it is redesignated. EPA considers the CAA section 110(a)(2) (and part D) requirements that relate to a particular nonattainment area’s designation and classification as the relevant measures to evaluate in reviewing a redesignation request. This approach is consistent with EPA’s existing policy on applicability of the conformity SIP requirement for redesignations.¹²

EPA has reviewed the Oregon SIP and concludes that it meets the general SIP requirements under Section 110(a)(2) of the CAA to the extent they are applicable for the purposes of redesignation.¹³ EPA has previously approved provisions of Oregon’s SIP as demonstrating compliance with the CAA section 110(a)(2) requirements for the 2006 PM_{2.5} NAAQS (78 FR 46514, August 1, 2013, and 80 FR 2313, January 15, 2015). These requirements are, however, statewide requirements that are not linked to the PM_{2.5} nonattainment status of the Oakridge NAA. In addition, there are no outstanding or disapproved applicable SIP submittals with respect to the Oakridge portion of the SIP that would prevent redesignation of the Oakridge NAA for the PM_{2.5} NAAQS. Therefore, we conclude that ODEQ and LRAPA have met all general SIP requirements for the Oakridge NAA that are applicable for purposes of redesignating the area to attainment of the PM_{2.5}.

2. Part D of Title I Requirements

Part D of Title I of the CAA sets forth the basic nonattainment plan requirements applicable to all nonattainment areas at subpart 1 (CAA sections 172–176) and requirements specific to PM₁₀ and PM_{2.5} areas at subpart 4 (CAA section 189). On August 24, 2016, EPA promulgated the Fine Particulate Matter National Ambient Air Quality Standards; State Implementation Plan Requirements rule.¹⁴ This rule implements the requirements of part D of Title I of the CAA for areas designated nonattainment for any PM_{2.5} NAAQS.

In accordance with 40 CFR 51.1015, upon a determination by EPA that a Moderate PM_{2.5} nonattainment area has attained the PM_{2.5} NAAQS, the requirements for the state to submit an attainment demonstration, provisions demonstrating that RACT (including RACT for stationary sources) shall be implemented no later than 4 years following the date of designation of the area, Reasonable Further Progress (RFP) plan, quantitative milestones (QM) and reports, and contingency measures for the area shall be suspended until such time as: (1) The area is redesignated to attainment, after which such requirements are permanently discharged; or, (2) EPA determines that the area has re-violated the PM_{2.5} NAAQS.

Those states containing Moderate PM_{2.5} NAAs were required to submit a SIP by December 31, 2014, which demonstrated attainment of the PM_{2.5} NAAQS by December 31, 2015.¹⁵ Pursuant to CAA section 188(d) and 40 CFR 51.1005(a), on July 18, 2016, EPA extended the attainment date for the Oakridge NAA from December 31, 2015 to December 31, 2016 (81 FR 46612). As stated in the “Background” section of this document, EPA has approved all attainment plan elements for the Oakridge NAA. Specifically, EPA approved the following elements of the Oakridge attainment plan: Base year emissions inventory (October 21, 2016, 81 FR 72714); control measures, RACM/RACT level emission controls, attainment demonstration, contingency measures, RFP plan, QM and MVEB (February 8, 2018, 83 FR 5537); and nonattainment NSR (October 5, 2018, 83 FR 50274). In addition, Pursuant to 40 CFR 51.1015(a), on February 8, 2018, EPA determined that the Oakridge NAA achieved a Clean Data Determination (CDD) in accordance with EPA’s clean data policy and that the Oakridge area attained the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS by the December 31, 2016, attainment date (83 FR 5537).

Determinations of attainment do not relieve states from submitting and EPA from approving certain part D planning requirements for the 2006 PM_{2.5} NAAQS. CAA section 172(c)(3) requires submittals and approval of a comprehensive, accurate and current inventory of actual emissions. For purposes of the PM_{2.5} NAAQS, this emissions inventory should address not only direct emissions of PM_{2.5}, but also emissions of all precursors to PM_{2.5} formation, i.e., SO₂, NO_x, VOC, and ammonia. As previously discussed, EPA determined that Oregon met the CAA section 172(c)(3) comprehensive emissions inventory requirement in a final rulemaking on October 21, 2016 (81 FR 72714).

CAA section 172(c)(4) requires the identification and quantification of allowable emissions for major new or modified stationary sources in an area, and CAA section 172(c)(5) requires source permits for the construction and operation of new or modified major stationary sources anywhere in the nonattainment area. EPA first approved the requirements of the part D, subpart 1 NSR permit program for LRAPA on December 27, 2011 (76 FR 80747, 80748). Subsequently, LRAPA revised its rules to meet additional part D, subpart 4 NSR requirements promulgated by EPA (81 FR 58010, August 24, 2016) and to align with the ODEQ’s rules.¹⁶ EPA approved LRAPA’s rules on October 5, 2018 (83 FR 50274).

Once the Oakridge NAA is redesignated to attainment, the prevention of significant deterioration (PSD) requirements of part C of the CAA will apply. LRAPA’s PSD regulations are codified in LRAPA’s rules at Title 38 (New Source Review) in conjunction with other provisions including but not limited to LRAPA’s rules in Titles 12, 31, 34, 35, 40, 42, and 50. We most recently approved revisions to LRAPA’s PSD program on October 5, 2018 (83 FR 50274). EPA finds that LRAPA’s PSD provisions meet all applicable Federal requirements for any area designated unclassifiable or attainment, and these provisions will become fully effective in the Oakridge NAA upon redesignation of the area to attainment.

CAA section 172(c)(7) requires the SIP to meet the applicable provisions of CAA section 110(a)(2). As noted above, we find that the Oregon SIP meets the CAA section 110(a)(2) applicable requirements. For purposes of redesignation to attainment for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS, EPA proposes to find that LRAPA has met all the applicable SIP requirements under part D of Title I of the CAA in accordance with section 107(d)(3)(E)(v) of the CAA.

3. Fully Approved SIP Under CAA Section 110(k)

Section 110(k) of the CAA sets out provisions governing EPA’s review of SIP submittals. In order for an area to qualify for redesignation, the SIP for the area must be fully approved under section 110(k) of the CAA. As discussed in Sections III.B.1 and III.B.2 of this document, for purposes of redesignation to attainment for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS, EPA has fully approved all applicable requirements of Oregon’s SIP for the Oakridge area in accordance with CAA section 110(k). Therefore, the criterion for redesignation, set forth at CAA section 107(d)(3)(E)(ii), is satisfied.

C. Improvement in Air Quality Due to Permanent and Enforceable Measures

Section 107(d)(3)(E)(iii) of the CAA provides that for an area to be redesignated to attainment, the Administrator must determine that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions resulting from implementation of the applicable implementation plan, implementation of applicable Federal air pollutant control regulations, and other permanent and enforceable reductions.

The main source of PM_{2.5} emissions in the Oakridge NAA during the winter season days—when concentrations of emissions accumulate leading to exceedances of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS—is wood combustion in woodstoves, fireplaces and pellet stoves. Therefore, LRAPA identified strategies in the 2017 Oakridge Update that focused primarily on residential wood combustion (RWC) emission reductions such as Oakridge’s mandatory curtailment program and the woodstove change-out programs. EPA approved these control measures as RACM into the Oregon SIP on February 8, 2018 (83 FR 5537), making them federally enforceable.

The 2017 Oakridge Update includes specific sections of the City of Oakridge’s RWC Ordinance 920 (RWC Ordinance) as it applies within the City of Oakridge. The SIP-approved provisions of the RWC Ordinance include a mandatory curtailment program, which has been important in helping this area reach attainment of the NAAQS. Modeling showed that the curtailment program would result in a calculated PM_{2.5} emissions reduction of 7.1 µg/m³ in the Oakridge NAA, the largest of all the control measures included in the plan.

The provisions of the RWC Ordinance that EPA approved into the SIP also prohibit the burning of any fuel other than “seasoned wood,” which is defined as any species of wood that has been sufficiently dried to contain 20 percent or less moisture by weight. EPA also approved into the SIP provisions of the RWC Ordinance that specifically prohibit the burning of specified materials such as plastic, rubber products, petroleum-treated materials and other materials which normally emit dense smoke, noxious odors, or hazardous air contaminants in a solid fuel burning device.

LRAPA also quantified the emission reduction benefits from woodstove change-outs that were conducted between 2009 and 2012, replacing 90 uncertified woodstoves in the Oakridge NAA. These woodstove change-out programs achieved permanent and enforceable emissions reductions because the higher-emitting woodstoves were removed and required to be destroyed. In addition, the Oregon Heat Smart Program, a statewide mandate approved by EPA on October 11, 2017

(82 FR 47122), and the RWC Ordinance prohibit the installation of non-EPA certified devices and ban the sale or installation of non-EPA certified devices in new or existing buildings. The collective permanent and enforceable PM_{2.5} reductions for these changeout programs in the Oakridge NAA were calculated to be 2.6 µg/m³.

LRAPA also referenced Federal transportation and fuel-related control measures to reduce mobile source emissions, including the “Tier 3 Motor Vehicle Emission and Fuel Standards Rule” as permanent and enforceable reductions leading to improvement in air quality (1.3 µg/m³ reduction on a worst-case winter day) and ultimately to attainment in the Oakridge NAA. See 79 FR 23414 (April 28, 2014).

The RWC Ordinance 920—Section Two(3) was initially submitted in the 2017 Oakridge Update, but was ultimately not approved as part of the 2017 Oakridge Update. The RWC Ordinance 920—Section Two(3) was later resubmitted as part of the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan. The Lane County Code—Restriction on Use of Solid Fuel Space Heating Devices (9.120–9.140) (Lane County Code) is also included in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan submittal and applies more broadly to the Oakridge Urban Growth Boundary. Both establish additional permanent and enforceable control measures on residential heating devices for the purpose of ensuring continued attainment in the Oakridge NAA. The Lane County Code, like the previously approved provisions of the RWC Ordinance, includes a curtailment program in the Oakridge urban growth boundary, prohibiting the burning of any fuel other than seasoned wood and other specified prohibited materials in solid-fuel heating devices. These restrictions on materials that may be burned limit PM_{2.5} emissions from woodstoves and fireplaces on a continuous basis.

Section Two(3) of the RWC Ordinance, which EPA did not act on as part of the 2017 Oakridge Update, prohibits emissions from solid-fuel heating devices with an opacity greater than 20%. The Lane County Code, included in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan submittal, also includes this restriction. These 20% opacity limits provide a visual indicator for the proper operation of a solid-fuel heating device, including the use of properly seasoned wood. The opacity limits apply at all times under each rule, except during a ten-minute startup period in any 4-hour period. During these startup periods, however, solid-fuel heating devices are subject to other restrictions, namely a fuel-content restriction that limits the moisture content of burned wood and restrictions on the type of fuel burned, such as a prohibition on burning any material that normally emits dense smoke, noxious odors, or hazardous air pollutants. EPA also notes that the current, federally-approved SIP includes no opacity limit for residential wood burning, meaning that approval of this provision will result in a net air quality benefit over the status quo.

EPA has longstanding guidance that provides recommendations to states concerning the development of alternative emission limitations applicable during startup and shutdown. In a June 12, 2015, Federal Register notice (80 FR 33840) (the “2015 SSM policy”), EPA recommended States consider seven criteria when developing alternative emission limitations to replace automatic or discretionary exemptions from otherwise applicable SIP requirements. These recommended criteria assure the alternative emission limitations meet basic CAA requirements.

As discussed above, although the 20% opacity limit does not apply during short periods of startup and refueling, owners and operators of solid-fuel heating devices are subject to alternative fuel-content limitations during these periods. EPA evaluated whether these alternative requirements are consistent with the Agency’s 2015 SSM policy, including the seven criteria recommended therein. For the reasons explained below, EPA finds that the opacity limit and other restrictions on fuel are consistent with the recommended criteria set forth in that policy and proposes to approve these provisions into the Oregon SIP as part of this action.

First, the opacity limit for residential woodstoves and similar devices and the alternative restrictions on fuel content—which are codified in both the Lane County Code, Section 9.135, and Oakridge Ordinance No. 920, Section Two(3)—apply to a narrow subset of source categories: Solid-fuel heating devices. Second, application of the 20% opacity limit to startup and refueling periods would be technically infeasible because lower temperatures during these periods result in less complete combustion and, therefore, higher opacity. Third, for this source category, EPA believes the startup period is minimized to the greatest extent practicable. The startup period is limited to just ten minutes in every 4-hour period to account for starting the solid fuel burning device and refueling. This ten minute period represents the minimum time necessary to adequately start a fire in a solid fuel burning device. Furthermore, the startup period is limited to once every four hours, which reasonably reflects the amount of time before a residential fire needs additional fuel.

With respect to the fourth factor, EPA believes that LRAPA’s proposed control strategy, specifically the episodic curtailment program, would effectively prohibit the use of solid fuel burning devices at most locations¹⁷—and thus largely prohibit use of the startup exemption—during worst-case air quality scenarios.

Fifth, the limits on fuel content and type are designed to ensure that all possible steps are taken to minimize the impact of emissions during the startup period. With respect to this factor, EPA also notes that the emission source at issue here is subject to curtailment requirements during periods of high PM_{2.5} ambient air concentration, which would further minimize potential air quality impacts from reliance on the alternative emission limits when the opacity limit does not apply.

Similarly, EPA believes the sixth factor—that the alternative emission limit requires operation of the facility in a manner consistent with good practices for minimizing emissions and best-efforts regarding planning, design, and operating procedures—supports approval of the State’s chosen control strategy. As noted above, limits on fuel content and type used in conjunction with emission curtailment during air quality episodes represent the best practices available in this context.

With respect to the last criterion for alternative emission limits, Oregon has not included a requirement that affected sources document startup periods using properly signed, contemporaneous logs or other evidence. Given that the rule at issue here generally applies to individual homeowners, rather than industrial sources accustomed to complying with such recordkeeping requirements, EPA believes a recordkeeping requirement would impose an unreasonable burden on both regulators implementing the rule and the regulated community, with virtually no enforcement benefit justifying the burden.

For all of these reasons, EPA proposes to approve (and incorporate by reference) the Oakridge RWC Ordinance 920—Section Two(3) and the Lane ¹⁷ Exemptions from the use of woodstoves and similar devices during curtailment periods are available on an annual basis if the woodstove or similar device is the sole source of heat in the residence and/or due to economic need based on specified criteria.

County Code as they apply to the Oakridge area because they are permanent and enforceable SIP-strengthening measures that contribute to continued maintenance of the 2006 PM_{2.5} 24-hour NAAQS. Both provisions include limits on emissions that apply during all modes of source operation and impose continuous emission controls on solid-fuel heating devices consistent with the requirements of the CAA applicable to SIP provisions. In addition, they support the maintenance and continued attainment of the PM_{2.5} NAAQS in the Oakridge area.

Based on the foregoing evaluation of the Oakridge PM_{2.5} control measures, EPA proposes to determine that the improvement in air quality is reasonably attributable to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions resulting from implementation of the applicable implementation plan, implementation of applicable Federal air pollutant control regulations, and other permanent and enforceable reductions.

D. Fully Approved Maintenance Plan

CAA section 107(d)(3)(E)(iv) requires that, for a nonattainment area to be redesignated to attainment, EPA must fully approve a maintenance plan for the area as meeting the requirements of CAA section 175A. The maintenance plan must demonstrate continued attainment of the relevant NAAQS in the area for at least 10 years after our approval of the redesignation. Eight years after redesignation, the state must submit a revised maintenance plan demonstrating attainment for the 10 years following the initial 10-year period. The maintenance plan must also contain a contingency plan to ensure prompt correction of any violation of the NAAQS that occurs after redesignation of the area. See CAA sections 175A(a), (b) and (d). The Calcagni Memo provides additional guidance on the content of a maintenance plan, stating that a maintenance plan should include the following elements: (1) An attainment emissions inventory; (2) a maintenance demonstration showing attainment for 10 years following redesignation; (3) a commitment to maintain and operate an appropriate air quality monitoring network; (4) verification of continued attainment; and (5) a contingency plan to prevent or correct future violations of the NAAQS. In this proposed action, EPA will review requirements (3) and (4) together as part of our evaluation of LRAPA's maintenance plan for the Oakridge area.

In conjunction with Oregon's request to redesignate the Oakridge area to attainment, Oregon submitted a SIP revision to provide for maintenance of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS through 2035. EPA proposes to approve LRAPA's PM_{2.5} maintenance plan for the Oakridge area. The following paragraphs describe how each of the maintenance plan elements are addressed in the maintenance plan.

1. Attainment Inventory

As discussed in the CAA General Preamble (See 57 FR 13498, April 16, 1992) and the Calcagni Memo, PM_{2.5} maintenance plans should include an attainment emission inventory to identify the level of emissions in the area, which are sufficient to maintain the NAAQS. The maintenance plan attainment inventory should be consistent with EPA's emissions inventory requirements and most recent guidance on emission inventories for nonattainment areas available at the time and should represent emissions during the time period associated with the monitoring data showing attainment.¹⁸ The inventory must also be comprehensive, including emissions from stationary point sources, area sources, mobile sources, and must be based on actual emissions during the appropriate season, if applicable.

The EPA-approved 2017 Oakridge Update included projected 2015 PM_{2.5} attainment year emission inventories for the Oakridge NAA. Oregon's January 13, 2022, Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan submittal provided a revised and updated 2015 attainment year inventory of actual emissions. The year 2015 is one of the years during the time period where the Oakridge area first monitored attainment of the 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS (See section III.A of this document).¹⁹ The 2015 maintenance plan attainment year emission inventory is based on emission reduction strategies that were implemented as of 2015.

The 2015 maintenance plan attainment year inventory includes emissions of PM_{2.5}, nitrogen oxides (NO_x), sulfur dioxide (SO₂), ammonia (NH₃) and volatile organic compounds (VOCs). The 2015 attainment levels of point, area, on-road mobile and nonroad mobile source emissions are summarized in Tables 3 and 4, along with future year projected emissions for a "horizon year" (a future year at least 10 years from the approval date of the maintenance plan) of 2035, and two interim years of 2025 and 2030.

Oregon developed the attainment inventory based on the methods and assumptions presented in detail in Appendix II of the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan ("Emission Inventory for 2015 Base Year"). The attainment year inventory is based on typical season and worst-case day (episodic) emissions. The typical season day emissions represent an average daily emission value occurring from November 1 through the end of February. This four-month time period is considered to be the particulate matter season and is when the PM_{2.5} standard has historically been exceeded. The worst-case day emissions represent a day during the PM season when emissions generating activity is at its highest due to meteorological factors like temperature. However, residential woodburning and other area source emissions on worst-case days are lower than on typical season days in the inventory due to woodburning curtailments and outdoor burning bans. This approach is consistent with the PM_{2.5} SIP Requirements Rule in which EPA stated that an episodic period, developed in order to reflect periods of higher emissions during periods of high ambient PM_{2.5} can help, in some situations, to ensure the area's inventory reflects the emissions conditions that led to the nonattainment designation for the area (81 FR 58010, 58030, August 24, 2016).

RWC emissions from certified and non-certified woodstoves, fireplaces and pellet stoves continue to be the major source of PM_{2.5} emissions on both typical season days and worst-case winter days contributing to exceedances of the NAAQS.

Secondary particulate is a very minor contributor to the Oakridge PM_{2.5} air pollution concentrations on both typical season days and worst-case winter days as summarized in Appendix II of the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan.

Historical speciated PM_{2.5} filter analyses indicate that concentrations of all the precursors groups (NO_x, SO₂, NH₃ and VOCs) were determined to be below insignificant thresholds (less than 1.3 µg/m³). The precursor emission shown in Table 4 are projected to decrease between 2015 and 2035, indicating that precursor emissions will continue to be below insignificant threshold contributions to PM_{2.5} in the future.

In addition to the precursor assessment, LRAPA assessed the condensable and filterable fractions of the PM_{2.5} emission inventory. Since condensable and filterable emissions currently are not required to be reported for the mobile source and the residential wood combustion portion of the inventory and EPA’s best tools to date do not have a declarative answer for the condensable emissions portion for these sources, there was no information to report. In addition, condensable and filterable information for the other source categories were similarly either unavailable or not applicable. Based on available data sources, therefore, the condensable portion of PM_{2.5} was reported as zero in the 2015 emissions inventory and the projected inventories do not include separately reported filterable and condensable components of direct PM_{2.5} emissions.

EPA has reviewed the results, procedures, and methodologies for the Oakridge area 2015 attainment emissions inventories and proposes to find that they are based on the most current and accurate information available to LRAPA at the time they were developed. Based on our review of the emissions inventories Oregon provided in its January 13, 2022 submittal, we propose to find that LRAPA prepared an adequate attainment inventory for the Oakridge area.²⁰

2. Maintenance Demonstration

CAA section 175A requires a state seeking redesignation to attainment to submit a SIP revision to provide for maintenance of the NAAQS in the area “for at least 10 years after the redesignation.” A state can make this demonstration by either showing that future emissions of a pollutant or its precursors will not exceed the level of the attainment inventory, or by modeling to show that the future mix of sources and emissions rates will not cause a violation of the NAAQS.²¹

In its maintenance demonstration for the Oakridge area, LRAPA elected to demonstrate maintenance of the 2006 PM_{2.5} NAAQS for at least 10 years following redesignation using the attainment inventory method. LRAPA developed projected inventories, provided in Tables 3 and 4 of this document, to show that the Oakridge area will remain in attainment through the year 2035. These projected inventories, covering interim years 2025 and 2030 and a horizon year of 2035, show that future emissions of direct PM_{2.5} throughout the nonattainment area will remain at or below the 2015 attainment-level emissions for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS.

address four major source categories: Point, area, onroad mobile and nonroad mobile. Oregon estimated future year emission inventories using the latest socioeconomic growth indicators and applying emissions reduction benefits from adopted control strategies when appropriate. A detailed description of the 2015 base year inventory and the 2025, 2030 and 2035 projected inventories can be found in Appendix III of LRAPA's January 13, 2022, PM_{2.5} maintenance plan submittal, which is in the docket for this action.

As discussed in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan, direct PM_{2.5} emissions estimates for stationary point sources reflect actual emissions for both industrial point sources in Oakridge. The Oakridge Sand & Gravel ready-mix concrete plant and rock crusher did not operate in Oakridge in 2015, resulting in actual 2015 emissions that were zero. In addition, the ready-mix concrete plant air discharge permit was terminated on January 24, 2014, resulting in zero emissions in the 2015 and projected year emission inventories. Future year emissions were therefore based on the January 2011 PM_{2.5} emissions at this source.

Areawide sources occur over a wide geographic area with the most significant emissions resulting from RWC sources such as fireplaces, woodstoves and pellet stoves. These residential wood heating devices are commonly used to heat homes in Oakridge since natural gas is not available in this area. The permanent and enforceable RWC control strategies are discussed in Section III.C. of this document. The only other area source category with potentially significant emissions is outdoor burning, which is banned in Lane County from November-February. Emissions for these categories are derived using various surveys, PM_{2.5} emission factors and other methodologies.

Emissions from on-road mobile sources (exhaust, brake wear and tire wear), which include passenger vehicles, buses, and trucks, were estimated using MOVES2014a. Traffic growth in Vehicle-Miles Traveled (VMT) was based on transportation modeling by the Lane Council of Governments (LCOG) and the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT). LRAPA confirmed re-entrained road dust calculations for both paved and unpaved roads using AP-42 protocols. Federal control measures included in the MOVES2014a modeling are all Federal measures that affect the fleets and fuels used in future years once implemented by EPA.

The nonroad emissions from railroads were calculated using the EPA NONROAD2008a emission protocol. The National Emissions Inventories (NEIs) for Lane County indicate a significant decrease in locomotive emissions from 2008 to 2014 (40.09 tons/year and 18.26 tons/year, respectively). The 2015 PM_{2.5} railroad emissions have been adjusted to reflect the locomotive emission reductions as seen in the 2014 NEI data. Future year emissions are based on the adjusted 2014 and 2017 NEI data. All other Oakridge nonroad mobile sources are categorized by LRAPA as insignificant during the PM_{2.5} winter season.

EPA has reviewed the documentation provided by Oregon for developing the projected 2025, 2030 and 2035 emissions inventories for the Oakridge PM_{2.5} NAA. Based on our review, EPA finds that the projected inventories were developed using appropriate procedures, comprehensively address all source categories in the Oakridge area, and sufficiently account for PM_{2.5} projected actual emissions. These inventories indicate a decrease in PM_{2.5} and precursor emissions throughout the maintenance period, therefore EPA proposes to determine that the projected emissions inventories in the maintenance plan sufficiently demonstrate that the Oakridge PM_{2.5} area will continue to attain the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} standard throughout the maintenance period.

3. Monitoring Network and Verification of Continued Attainment

Once a nonattainment area has been redesignated to attainment, the state must continue to operate an appropriate air quality monitoring network, in accordance with 40 CFR part 58, to verify the attainment status of the area. The maintenance plan should contain provisions for continued operation of air quality monitors that will provide such verification.

In the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan, LRAPA noted that it currently operates a regulatory monitor (the Willamette Center since 1989) in the Oakridge NAA and committed to continue operating a regulatory monitoring network through the year 2035 in order to verify continued attainment of the PM_{2.5} NAAQS and track the progress of the maintenance plan. LRAPA also stated it will continue operation of the PM_{2.5} monitoring network as outlined in the Oregon Annual Ambient Criteria Pollutant Air Monitoring Network Plan (ANP) and any modification to the monitoring network will be done in consultation with ODEQ and EPA Region 10. ODEQ and LRAPA will work with EPA each year through the air monitoring network review process (per 40 CFR part 58) to determine the adequacy of the monitoring network.²²

Oregon remains obligated to continue to quality-assure monitoring data and enter all data into AQS in accordance with Federal guidelines. LRAPA will review the air monitoring results and design values each year to verify continued attainment. LRAPA will determine annually if exceptional events influenced the continued attainment of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS and need to be documented. If needed, ODEQ and LRAPA will coordinate and provide exceptional events documentation to EPA Region 10 for review.

EPA proposes to determine that the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan contains adequate provisions for continued operation of an air quality monitoring network and a commitment to annually verify continued attainment of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS for the Oakridge area.

4. Contingency Plan

CAA section 175A(d) requires that a maintenance plan also include contingency provisions, as necessary, to promptly correct any violation of the NAAQS that occurs after redesignation of the area to attainment. For the purposes of CAA section 175A, a state is not required to have fully adopted contingency measures that will take effect without further action by the state in order for the maintenance plan to be approved. However, the contingency plan is an enforceable part of the SIP and should ensure that contingency measures are adopted expeditiously once they are triggered. The contingency plan should discuss the measures to be adopted and a schedule and procedure for adoption and implementation. The contingency plan must require that the state will implement all measures contained in the part D nonattainment plan for the area prior to redesignation. The state should also identify the specific indicators, or triggers, which will be used to determine when the contingency plan will be implemented.²³

The Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan outlines the procedures for the adoption and implementation of contingency measures to further reduce emissions should a violation of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS occur. If the PM_{2.5} design value indicates a violation of the standard, after consideration of any exceptional events, the following contingency strategies, or equivalent, will be implemented by LRAPA and the City of Oakridge:

²² See EPA's February 22, 2022 approval of Oregon's 2021 Annual Ambient Criteria Pollutant Air Monitoring Network Plan, in the docket for this action.

²³ See Calcagni Memo at 12.

- Stricter green-yellow-red advisory program,²⁴ with more red advisory days each winter, by reducing the red advisory thresholds by 3 $\mu\text{g}/\text{m}^3$ $\text{PM}_{2.5}$. This is projected to increase the average number of potential red advisory days by three to five additional days per year.
- Prohibition of fireplace use on yellow advisory days (in addition to the existing prohibition on red advisory days).

While these measures do not need to be fully adopted by LRAPA prior to the occurrence of a NAAQS violation, LRAPA commits to adopting and implementing the necessary contingency measures as expeditiously as possible, but not later than one year after a violation, based on confirmed quality-assured data. Any contingency measures adopted and implemented will become part of the control measures in the next revised maintenance plan submitted to EPA for approval.

LRAPA will evaluate all appropriate data including air quality data, meteorological data, evaluation of wood smoke programs and information on unusual weather events (e.g., wildfires or winter power outages) and other data to determine the cause of the violation. LRAPA will perform this evaluation within three months of the determination of a violation. Where appropriate, LRAPA will follow EPA's exceptional events rules and guidance if it is determined that an exceptional event contributed to the violation.²⁵

Based on our analysis of Oregon's submittal, we propose to find that the contingency measure provisions provided in the Oakridge $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ maintenance plan are sufficient and meet the requirements of CAA section 175A(d).

E. Transportation Conformity and Motor Vehicle Emissions Budgets

Transportation conformity is required by CAA section 176(c). EPA's conformity rule at 40 CFR part 93, subpart A requires that transportation plans, programs, and projects conform to SIPs and establishes the criteria and procedures for determining whether they conform. Conformity to a SIP means that transportation activities will not produce new air quality violations, worsen existing violations, or delay timely attainment of the NAAQS. Thus, EPA's conformity rule requires a demonstration that emissions from a Metropolitan Planning Organization's Regional Transportation Plan and Transportation Improvement Program, involving Federal Highway Administration or Federal Transit Administration funding or approval, are consistent with the MVEB(s) contained in a control strategy SIP revision or maintenance plan (40 CFR 93.101, 93.118, and 93.124). A MVEB is the level of mobile source emissions of a pollutant relied upon in the attainment or maintenance demonstration to attain or maintain compliance with the NAAQS in the nonattainment or maintenance area.

A $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ maintenance plan should identify MVEBs for direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$, NO_x and all other $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ precursors from on-road mobile source emissions that are determined to significantly contribute to $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ levels in the area.²⁶ All direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ SIP budgets should include direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ motor vehicle emissions from tailpipe, brake wear and tire wear. A State must also consider whether re-entrained paved and unpaved road dust are significant contributors and should be included in the direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ budget.²⁷

It should be noted that Oakridge is considered an isolated rural nonattainment area within the meaning of 40 CFR 93.109(g), so transportation conformity determinations are only required when a non-exempt Federal Highway Administration or Federal Transit Administration funded project is funded or approved.²⁸

The Oakridge $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ maintenance plan includes direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ MVEBs for the attainment year (2015), two interim years (2025 and 2030) and the maintenance horizon year (2035). See Table 5, below. On February 8, 2018, EPA approved a 2015 attainment year $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ MVEB of 22.2 lb/day (83 FR 5537). The projected MVEBs (2025, 2030 and 2035) reflect the total on-road $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ worst-case day emissions (a sum of primary exhaust, brake wear and tire wear), plus a portion of the available safety margin to accommodate technical uncertainties due to model updates and inputs into the EPA MOVES model and travel forecasting models as well as potential changes to regional transportation plans. A safety margin is the amount by which the total projected $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ emissions from all sources are less than the total emissions that would satisfy the NAAQS for the 2015 attainment year. With the safety margin applied to the future year MVEB, the budgets still demonstrate maintenance of the 2006 24-hour $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ NAAQS.

Oregon used the Motor Vehicle Emissions Simulator model, MOVES2014a, during the development of the maintenance plan and executed it with locally developed inputs representative of wintertime calendar year 2015 conditions and future projections in order to appropriately calculate the budgets. MOVES2014a was the accepted model when this work began. EPA recently released MOVES3, but since sufficient work had taken place on this SIP with MOVES2014a, we are accepting that mobile model in this submittal (86 FR 1106, 1108, January 7, 2021). Traffic growth in VMT for the Oakridge NAA is based on transportation modeling by Lane County, LCOG and ODOT. The mobile source emissions, in total, were modeled to steadily decrease between 2015 and 2035 as a result of cleaner vehicles and cleaner fuels. The MVEBs are based on the control measures in the maintenance plan and consistent with maintaining the 2006 24-hour $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ NAAQS.

As determined in the 2016 attainment plan approval (83 FR 5537, February 8, 2018), secondary particulate are still minor contributors to the Oakridge $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ air pollution concentrations on worst-case winter days as summarized in section III.D.1. Oregon excluded paved road dust emissions and NO_x emissions from the MVEB in accordance with 40 CFR 93.102(b)(3). Vehicle emissions of SO_2 and NH_3 were also found to contribute minimally to $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ in the area and therefore the maintenance plan does not include MVEBs for these precursors in accordance with 40 CFR 93.102(b)(2)(v). See Appendix IV of LRAPA's Oakridge $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ maintenance plan, in the docket for this action, for further analysis of the MVEB pollutants and precursors. Therefore, based on its analysis, LRAPA set the Oakridge direct $\text{PM}_{2.5}$ MVEBs for 2015, 2025, 2030 and 2035 as provided in Table 5 of this proposed action. According to EPA's conformity rule, the emissions budget acts as a ceiling on emissions in the year for which it is defined or until a SIP revision modifies the budget.²⁹ visible emissions into the air outside of the building housing the device unless a specific exemption has been granted.

For MVEBs to be approvable, they must meet, at a minimum, EPA’s adequacy criteria (40 CFR 93.118(e)(4)). EPA’s process for determining adequacy of a budget consists of three basic steps: (1) Notifying the public of a SIP submittal; (2) providing the public the opportunity to comment on the budget during a public comment period; and (3) making a finding of adequacy or inadequacy. The process for determining the adequacy of a submitted budget is codified at 40 CFR 93.118(f). EPA can notify the public by either posting an announcement that EPA has received SIP budgets on EPA’s adequacy website (40 CFR 93.118(f)(1)), or via a Federal Register notice of proposed rulemaking when EPA reviews the adequacy of an implementation plan budget simultaneously with its review and action on the SIP itself (40 CFR 93.118(f)(2)).

Today, we are notifying the public that EPA will be reviewing the adequacy of the 2015, 2025, 2030 and 2035 budgets in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan. The public has a 30-day comment period as described in the DATES section of this document. After this comment period, EPA will indicate whether the budgets are adequate via the final rulemaking on this proposed action or on the adequacy website, according to 40 CFR 93.118(f)(2)(iii). The details of EPA’s evaluation of the budget for compliance with the budget adequacy criteria of 40 CFR 93.118(e) are provided in a separate memorandum included with the docket for this rulemaking.³⁰ As noted earlier, the public comment period for EPA’s adequacy finding will be concurrent with the public comment period for this proposed action on the Oakridge PM_{2.5} Maintenance Plan.

Based on the information presented in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan and our adequacy review to date, we propose to find that Oregon has evaluated the appropriate pollutants and precursors and appropriately established MVEBs for direct PM_{2.5} emissions. EPA has reviewed the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan’s MVEBs and found them to be consistent with the control measures in the SIP and consistent with maintenance of the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} NAAQS within the Oakridge area through 2035. We propose to approve the MVEBs in the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan as meeting the requirements of the CAA and EPA regulations.

F. State Rule Changes To Reflect the Redesignation

Oregon adopted maintenance plans for both the Oakridge PM_{2.5} and Oakridge PM₁₀ area in the same state rulemaking package and submitted them as a single SIP submittal to EPA. This single submittal includes changes to LRAPA rules to reflect the anticipated redesignation of both areas. Today’s action addresses the Oakridge PM_{2.5} area, and we are addressing the Oakridge PM₁₀ area in a separate action. However, in today’s action, for the sake of simplicity, we are proposing to approve all updates to LRAPA rules to reflect the anticipated redesignation of both areas. We believe this is appropriate because we intend to finalize our proposed actions on both areas within the same time frame. In today’s action, EPA is proposing to approve revisions to LRAPA’s Title 29 Designation of Air Quality Areas, Section 29–0030(2) Designation of Nonattainment Areas and Section 29–0040(3) Designation of Maintenance Areas. These revisions will remove the Oakridge PM_{2.5} nonattainment areas from the list of PM_{2.5} nonattainment areas and add them to the list of PM_{2.5} maintenance areas within the federally-approved Oregon SIP. EPA is also proposing to approve minor editorial changes to LRAPA’s Title 29 Designation of Air Quality Areas, Section 29–0010 Definitions and Section 29–0310 Designation of Reattainment Areas, to consistently refer to the “Oakridge PM_{2.5} Maintenance Area” rather than the “Oakridge PM_{2.5} Nonattainment area.”³¹

³¹ On January 13, 2022, Oregon also submitted LRAPA Title 29 Sections 0020, 0050–0090, 0300 and 0320. Oregon made no changes to these sections, except for the State effective date. EPA has reviewed these rules and approved them in a previous action (83 FR 50274, March 23, 2018).

IV. Proposed Action

EPA proposes to redesignate the Oakridge, Oregon PM_{2.5} NAA, and proposes approval of the associated maintenance plan for the area. If this proposal is finalized, the designation status of the Oakridge, Oregon PM_{2.5} NAA under 40 CFR part 81 will be revised to attainment upon the effective date of that final action.

EPA proposes to approve and incorporate by reference into the Oregon SIP, the submitted revisions to LRAPA Title 29 Sections 29–0010, 29–0020, 29–0030(2), 29–0040(3), 29–0050, 29–0060, 29–0070, 29–0080, 29–0090, 29–0300, 29–0310 and 29–0320, state effective November 18, 2021.

In addition, EPA proposes to approve and incorporate into the SIP specific sections of the local rule submitted on January 20, 2017, and the local rule submitted on January 13, 2022, as part of the maintenance plan to the extent set forth in this document.

EPA also proposes to take final agency action on Oregon’s exceptional event demonstration for the Oakridge PM₁₀ monitor as discussed in this action.

Finally, we propose that the Oakridge PM_{2.5} maintenance plan’s MVEBs meet applicable CAA requirements for maintenance plans and transportation conformity requirements. With this action, we are starting the adequacy process for these proposed MVEBs and opening a public comment period.

We note that the January 13, 2022 submittal also includes the Oakridge PM₁₀ redesignation and maintenance plan and additional revisions to LRAPA’s Title 29 rules, which EPA will address in a separate action.

V. Incorporation by Reference

In this document, EPA proposes to include, in a final rule, regulatory text that includes incorporation by reference. In accordance with the requirements of 1 CFR 51.5, EPA proposes to incorporate by reference the provisions described in Section IV of this document, specifically (1) The Lane County Code Chapter 9—Restriction on Use of Solid Fuel Space Heating Devices, Sections 9.120–9.140, (2) the City of Oakridge Ordinance No. 920—An Ordinance Amending Section 7 of Ordinance 914 and Adopting New Standards for the Oakridge Air Pollution Control Program; Section Two(3)—Solid Fuel Burning Devices—Prohibitions and (3) revisions to LRAPA's Title 29 rules as described in Section IV of this document.

EPA has made, and will continue to make, these documents generally available through <https://www.regulations.gov> and at the EPA Region 10 Office (please contact the person identified in the FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT section of this preamble for more information).

VI. Statutory and Executive Orders Review

Under the CAA, redesignation of an area to attainment and the accompanying approval of a maintenance plan under section 107(d)(3)(E) are actions that affect the status of a geographical area and do not impose any additional regulatory requirements on sources beyond those imposed by state law. A redesignation to attainment does not in and of itself create any new requirements, but rather results in the applicability of requirements contained in the CAA for areas that have been redesignated to attainment. Moreover, the Administrator is required to approve a SIP submittal that complies with the provisions of the CAA and applicable Federal regulations. 42 U.S.C. 7410(k); 40 CFR 52.02(a). Thus, in reviewing SIP submittals, EPA's role is to approve state choices, provided that they meet the criteria of the CAA. Accordingly, this proposed action merely proposes to approve a State plan and State law as meeting

Federal requirements and does not impose additional requirements beyond those already imposed by State law. For that reason, this proposed action:

- Is not a “significant regulatory action” subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Orders 12866 (58 FR 51735, October 4, 1993) and 13563 (76 FR 3821, January 21, 2011);
- Does not impose an information collection burden under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.);
- Is certified as not having a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.);
- Does not contain any unfunded mandate or significantly or uniquely affect small governments, as described in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104–4);
- Does not have federalism implications as specified in Executive Order 13132 (64 FR 43255, August 10, 1999);
- Is not an economically significant regulatory action based on health or safety risks subject to Executive Order 13045 (62 FR 19885, April 23, 1997);
- Is not a significant regulatory action subject to Executive Order 13211 (66 FR 28355, May 22, 2001);
- Is not subject to requirements of Section 12(d) of the National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act of 1995 (15 U.S.C. 272 note) because application of those requirements would be inconsistent with the CAA; and

- Does not provide EPA with the discretionary authority to address, as appropriate, disproportionate human health or environmental effects, using practicable and legally permissible methods, under Executive Order 12898 (59 FR 7629, February 16, 1994).

In addition, the SIP is not approved to apply on any Indian reservation land or in any other area where EPA or an Indian tribe has demonstrated that a tribe has jurisdiction. In those areas of Indian country, this rule does not have tribal implications as specified by Executive Order 13175 (65 FR 67249, November 9, 2000).

Endangered and Threatened Species; Take of Anadromous Fish

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Notice; issuance of an Endangered Species Act (ESA) section 10 permit.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that NMFS is issuing an ESA section 10(a)(1)(A) permit for a trap and haul operation at Sunset Falls on the Skykomish River in Washington State. The permit addresses a program operated by the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW). Before issuing the permit, NMFS solicited public comments on the permit application.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Emi Melton, at phone number: (503) 736-

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Species Covered in This Notice

Steelhead (Oncorhynchus mykiss): Threatened, naturally produced and artificially propagated Puget Sound.

Discussion of the Biological Analysis Underlying Permit Issuance

NMFS has issued the ESA section 10(a)(1)(A) permit for operation of the Sunset Falls trap and haul program, which is operated by WDFW since the late 1950s to increase habitat available to various species of salmon, steelhead, and trout. The program traps and hauls ESA-listed salmon and steelhead and is consistent with the recovery plans for each species.

NMFS has analyzed the effects of the trap and haul program on salmon and steelhead listed under the ESA and has concluded that the program would not appreciably reduce the likelihood of survival and recovery of ESA-listed species. Authorization of the activities depends upon implementation of all of the monitoring, evaluation, reporting tasks or assignments, and enforcement activities included in the permit.

Summary of Comments Received

NMFS made the ESA section 10(a)(1)(A) permit application available for public review and comment on December 22, 2020 (85 FR 83519), as required by the ESA. No substantive comments were received specific to the application. However, we received several general comments in support of the program.

NMFS published a notice of availability for public review and comment on the Draft Environmental Assessment (DEA) on February 5, 2021 (86 FR 8342), in accordance with National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA), as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.). The DEA was available for public review and comment for 30 days, and our responses to the comments are addressed in our Final Environmental Assessment (FEA). NMFS has determined that there are no significant impacts associated with the project and issued a FONSI for the program on July 2, 2021.

Authority: 16 U.S.C. 1531-1543; 50 CFR subpart B, § 223.201-202 also issued under 16 U.S.C. 1361 et seq.; 16 U.S.C. 5503(d) for 50 CFR 223.206(d)(9).

Takes of Marine Mammals Incidental to Specified Activities; Taking Marine Mammals Incidental to Marine Site Characterization Surveys Off New Jersey and New York for Atlantic Shores Offshore Wind, LLC; Correction

ACTION: Notice; issuance of an incidental harassment authorization; correction.

SUMMARY: On April 22, 2022, a notice was published in the Federal Register announcing the issuance of an incidental harassment authorization (IHA) for take of marine mammals incidental to marine site characterization surveys off New Jersey. That document inadvertently omitted some text in NMFS' response to public comment 13. This document only corrects this error; all other information is unchanged.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kelsey Potlock, Office of Protected Resources, NMFS, (301) 427-8421.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

NMFS published a notice in the Federal Register on April 22, 2022 (87 FR 24103) announcing that an IHA had been issued to Atlantic Shores, LLC, authorizing the take of marine mammals incidental to marine site characterization surveys off of New Jersey, effective from April 20, 2022 through April 19, 2023. NMFS refers the reader to the April 22, 2022, Federal Register notice (87 FR 24103) for background information concerning the IHA.

Correction

On page 24108 in the section for NMFS' response to Comment 13 is corrected to read as follows:

Comment 13: Oceana and LBI recommended increasing the Exclusion Zone to either 1,000 m or 2,500 m, respectively, for NARWs.

Response: NMFS notes that the 500 m Exclusion Zone for NARWs exceeds the modeled distance to the largest 160 dB Level B harassment isopleth distance (141 m during sparker use) by a substantial margin. Commenters do not provide a compelling rationale for why the Exclusion Zone should be even larger. Given that these surveys are relatively low impact and that, regardless, NMFS has prescribed a NARW Exclusion Zone that is significantly larger (500 m) than the conservatively estimated largest harassment zone (141 m), NMFS has determined that the Exclusion Zone is appropriate. Further, Level A harassment is not expected to result, even in the absence of mitigation, given the characteristics of the sources planned for use. As described in the Mitigation section, NMFS has determined that the prescribed mitigation requirements are sufficient to effect the least practicable adverse impact on all affected species or stocks

BUREAU OF CONSUMER FINANCIAL PROTECTIONSupervisory Highlights, Issue 26, Spring 2022

AGENCY: Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection.

ACTION: Supervisory highlights.

SUMMARY: The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB or Bureau) is issuing its twenty-sixth edition of Supervisory Highlights.

DATES: The Bureau released this edition of the Supervisory Highlights on its website on May 2, 2022. The findings included in this report cover examinations completed between July 2021 and December 2021 in the areas of auto servicing, consumer reporting, credit card account management, debt collection, deposits, mortgage origination, prepaid accounts, remittances, and student loan servicing.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jaclyn Sellers, Senior Counsel, at (202) 435-7449. If you require this document in an alternative electronic format, please contact CFPB_Accessibility@cfpb.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:1. Introduction

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's (CFPB or Bureau) supervision program examines large banks and certain nonbanks for compliance with Federal consumer financial law. A key focus of the program is detecting and assessing risks to consumers and to markets for consumer financial products and services. Through its supervisory work, the Bureau promotes the development of markets for consumer financial products and services that are fair, transparent, and competitive. One important goal of this work is to foster financial inclusion and racial equity. The Bureau supervises and applies the law to entities subject to its authority in a consistent manner, regardless of charter type (bank or nonbank), market, or geographical location.

The findings included in this report cover examinations completed between July 2021 and December 2021 in the areas of auto servicing, consumer reporting, credit card account management, debt collection, deposits, mortgage origination, prepaid accounts, remittances, and student loan servicing. To maintain the anonymity of the supervised institutions discussed in Supervisory Highlights, references to institutions generally are in the plural and the related findings may pertain to one or more institutions. This edition of Supervisory Highlights also summarizes recent developments in the Bureau's supervision program and remedial actions.

The CFPB publishes Supervisory Highlights to help institutions and the general public better understand how we examine institutions for compliance with Federal consumer financial laws. Supervisory Highlights summarizes existing legal requirements and violations identified in the course of the Bureau's exercise of supervisory and enforcement authority.¹ We invite readers with questions or comments about Supervisory Highlights to contact us at CFPB_Supervision@cfpb.gov.

2. Supervisory Observations

2.1 Auto Servicing

The Bureau continues to examine auto loan servicing activities, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices (UDAAPs) prohibited by the Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010 (CFPA).²

2.1.1 Wrongful Repossession

Examiners have continued to identify wrongful repossessions at auto servicers.³ Recent examinations found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices when they repossessed vehicles after consumers took action that should have prevented the repossession. This caused substantial injury by depriving borrowers of the use of their vehicles, and many consumers also experienced consequences such as missed work, expenses for alternative transportation, repossession-related fees, detrimental credit reporting, and vehicle damage during the repossession process. Such injury was not reasonably avoidable because consumers had taken action they believed would halt repossession and there was no additional action the consumer could take to prevent the repossession. Finally, the injury was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to the consumer or to competition. In response to these findings, servicers are enhancing their procedures, including enhancing timely communications with repossession agents, and remediating consumers.

2.1.2 Misleading Consumer About the Final Loan Payment Amount After Deferral

Examiners found that servicers engaged in deceptive acts or practices when they misled consumers about the final loan payment amount after a deferral.⁴ Servicers may let consumers defer payments for many months when they experience financial difficulties, and the deferrals frequently increase the consumer's final payment amount. Servicers sent consumers notices about their final payment amounts that included only imprecise conditional statements, such as stating that the final payment "may be larger." These conditional statements, without additional information about the magnitude of the final payment, likely misled consumers to believe the payment would only increase somewhat, when in fact the final payment likely would dramatically increase, by amounts multiple times larger than a normal payment. The consumers' interpretation of the representation was reasonable under the circumstances and was material because it likely impacted consumers' financial planning.

2.1.3 Overcharging for Add-on Products

When consumers purchase an automobile, auto dealers and finance companies offer optional, add-on products that consumers can purchase. Some of the add-on products provide specific types of potential benefits, such as guaranteed asset protection (GAP) products that offer to help pay off an auto loan if the car is totaled or stolen and the consumer owes more than the car's depreciated value. The add-on products' potential benefits apply only for specific time periods, such as four years after purchase or for the term of the loan, and only under certain circumstances.

Auto dealers and finance companies often charge consumers all payments for any add-on products as a lump sum at origination of the auto loan or purchase of the vehicle. Dealers and finance companies generally include the lump sum cost of the add-on product as part of the total vehicle financing agreement, and consumers typically make payments on these products throughout the loan term, even if the product expires years earlier.

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair practices by failing to request refunds from the third-party administrators for "unearned" fees related to GAP products and failing to apply the applicable refunds to the accounts after repossession and cancellation of the contracts. At that point, the consumers did not have the vehicle that had been subject to the GAP product, and the product no longer offered any possible benefit to consumers.

Examiners found that while servicers did maintain policies to obtain applicable refunds, they frequently failed to apply for these refunds from third-party administrators. When consumers' vehicles were repossessed and sold and there was a deficiency balance (that is, the money unpaid on the sale price of the vehicle after repossession), the servicers' failure to apply for the GAP product refunds from the third-party administrators resulted in inaccurate deficiency balances. The partial refunds from the third-party administrators would have paid for at least some of the GAP product fees that were financed, but instead, servicers included charges for the unused portions of the financed GAP products in the deficiency balances.

Examiners found that servicers sent deficiency notices to consumers and reported balances to third-party debt buyers that included these inaccurate amounts as the deficiency balance owed by consumers. Including these amounts in the deficiency balances resulted in substantial injury to consumers because the amounts to be collected were higher than the true amount owed, and the deficiency balances were likely to be collected by the third-party debt buyers when the products provided no possible benefit, after the vehicles were repossessed and the accounts were charged off. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury because they had no control over the servicers' refund processing actions. And they generally could not apply for such refunds themselves because they were unaware that the contract provided they could do so. The injury was not outweighed by any countervailing benefit to consumers or competition.

In response to these findings, servicers updated disclosure language and practices. Some servicers included estimated final payment amounts on deferral notices while other servicers provided consumers with access to online calculator tools to track their final payment amounts. Additionally, some servicers conducted affirmative outreach when the final payment date approached to offer workout options that allowed borrowers to pay the large final payments in more than one installment.

2.2 Consumer Reporting

Companies in the business of regularly assembling or evaluating information about consumers for the purpose of providing consumer reports to third parties are "consumer reporting

³ This unfair act or practice was previously described in Supervisory Highlights, Issue 16, Summer 2017; Supervisory Highlights, Issue 17, Summer 2018; and CFPB Bulletin 2022-04: Mitigating Harm from Repossession of Vehicles. These editions of Supervisory Highlights are available at: Supervisory Highlights | Consumer Financial Protection Bureau \(consumerfinance.gov\). companies” (CRCs).⁵ These companies, along with the entities—such as banks, loan servicers, and others—that furnish information to the CRCs for inclusion in consumer reports, play a vital role in availability of credit and have a significant role to play in the fair and accurate reporting of credit information. They are subject to several requirements under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA)⁶ and its implementing regulation, Regulation V,⁷ including the requirement to reasonably investigate disputes and to furnish data subject to the relevant accuracy requirements. In recent reviews, examiners found deficiencies in CRCs’ compliance with FCRA dispute investigation requirements and furnisher compliance with FCRA and Regulation V accuracy and dispute investigation requirements.

2.2.1 CRC Duty To Conduct Reasonable Reinvestigation of Disputed Information

The FCRA requires that a CRC must conduct a reasonable reinvestigation of disputed information to determine if the disputed information is inaccurate whenever the completeness or accuracy of any item of information contained in a consumer’s file is disputed by the consumer and the consumer notifies the CRC directly, or indirectly through a reseller, of such dispute.⁸ In several reviews of CRCs, examiners found that CRCs failed to conduct reasonable investigations of disputes in multiple ways. Examiners also found that rather than resolving disputes consistent with the investigation conducted by the furnisher, which in many instances would have required correcting inaccurate derogatory information and replacing it with accurate positive information, CRCs simply deleted thousands of disputed tradelines. Examiners also found that CRCs failed to conduct reasonable dispute investigations when they failed to review and consider all relevant information submitted by the consumer in support of their disputes. After identification of these issues, CRCs were directed to cease violating the FCRA’s dispute investigation requirements.

⁸ 15 U.S.C. 1681i(a)(1)(A).

2.2.2 CRC Duty To Provide Prompt Notice of Dispute to Furnisher

The FCRA requires that when a CRC receives notice of a dispute from a consumer or reseller, the CRC must provide notification of the dispute to any person who provided any item of information in dispute before the expiration of the five-business-day period beginning on the date that the CRC received the notice of dispute.⁹ In several reviews of CRCs, examiners found that CRCs failed to send notifications of dispute to furnishers within five business days of receiving the dispute. After identification of these issues, CRCs were directed to cease violating the FCRA’s dispute notification timeliness requirements.

2.2.3 CRC Duty To Provide Written Notice to the Consumer of the Results of Reinvestigation

The FCRA requires that a CRC must provide written notice of the results of a dispute reinvestigation not later than five business days after the completion of the reinvestigation.¹⁰ In several reviews of CRCs, examiners found disputes where an FCRA compliant statement of results was not sent within the required five business days of completing the dispute investigation. Moreover, examiners found that CRCs’ statements of results omitted material information necessary to understand the results of the investigation. Examiners also found that in some cases the statement of results was incorrect—stating, for example, that disputed information had been corrected when, in fact, the disputed information was verified as accurate by the furnisher and not materially changed by the CRC. After identification of these issues, CRCs were directed to cease violating the FCRA’s dispute results notice requirements.

2.2.4 Furnisher Duty To Conduct Reasonable Investigation of Indirect Disputes

After receiving notice of a dispute of the completeness or accuracy of any information from a CRC, furnishers are required to conduct an investigation with respect to the disputed information.¹¹ Such investigations must include a review of all relevant information provided by the CRC, and the furnisher must complete the investigation and report the results to the CRC before the expiration of the time period required for the CRC to complete its investigation and provide notice of the results to the consumer.¹² When disputes are forwarded to furnishers by CRCs, the FCRA does not provide the furnisher with discretion to deem such disputes frivolous; for indirect disputes, only the CRC has discretion to determine that disputes are frivolous or irrelevant.¹³ Examples of failures to conduct reasonable investigations of indirect disputes from recent Bureau exams include:

- Credit card furnishers failed to conduct any investigations of disputes received from CRCs or send results of dispute investigations to the CRCs due to furnishing system implementation issues. Credit card furnishers also failed to conduct reasonable investigation of disputes due to erroneously deeming thousands of indirect disputes as frivolous. Credit card furnishers also sent incorrect results of disputes to CRCs. For example, after completing the dispute investigation, furnishers included incorrect special comment codes on the automated credit dispute verification forms (ACDV) used to communicate the results to the CRCs. After identifying that incorrect results were sent to the CRCs, the furnishers sent updates to the CRCs reporting the correct special comment codes.

- Deposit furnishers failed to conduct any investigations of disputes received from specialty CRCs or send results of dispute investigations to specialty CRCs. The furnishers stated the dispute investigations were not conducted because they were not aware that any disputes had been received from specialty CRCs, as a result of the furnishers’ insufficient dispute intake procedures. The specialty CRCs deleted the disputed information from the consumers’ files because the furnishers failed to timely investigate and respond to the disputes. In response to these findings, the furnishers developed revised dispute handling policies and procedures and compliance monitoring procedures to ensure all disputes are tracked and resolved completely within the time periods required by the FCRA.

- Auto furnishers failed to conduct reasonable investigations of disputes received by CRCs. Specifically, furnishers incorrectly calculated consumers’ payment histories while processing dispute investigations, resulting in the furnishers including incorrect payment histories in the dispute results reported to the CRCs.

In response to these findings, furnishers revised their training programs to ensure that dispute agents conduct reasonable investigations of disputes received from CRCs. Furnishers are also conducting reviews to identify and remediate all impacted accounts for which payment histories were reported inaccurately.

2.2.5 Furnisher Duty To Report the Results of Direct Dispute Investigations to Consumers

The FCRA and Regulation V require furnishers to complete their investigations of direct disputes received from consumers and to report the results to the consumer before the expiration of the time period that would have been required for the CRC to complete its investigation had the consumer sent the dispute to the CRC rather than the furnisher.¹⁴

In reviews of credit card furnishers, examiners found that the furnishers conducted investigations of direct disputes and sent the consumers response letters, but the letters failed to communicate the results of the investigations. Specifically, for disputes that resulted in corrections to disputed information, the furnishers used template response letters that included confusing language, which created ambiguity about whether changes had been made in response to the dispute investigations. These letters failed to provide consumers with the results of the dispute investigations because they did not affirmatively inform the consumers that changes were made in response to their disputes. In response to these findings, the furnishers implemented revised template response letters, which do not contain ambiguous language and clearly communicate that changes were made in response to the dispute investigations.

2.2.6 Furnisher Duty To Correct and Update Information

The FCRA requires that when a furnisher determines that information furnished to CRCs is not complete or accurate, the furnisher must “promptly” notify the CRC of that determination and provide the CRC with any corrections to that information, or any additional information, that is necessary to make the information provided by the furnisher to the CRC complete and accurate.¹⁵ After determining that information furnished to CRCs is not complete or accurate, furnishers must also stop furnishing to CRCs information that remains not complete or accurate.¹⁶

In reviews of credit card furnishers, examiners found that furnishers failed to send updating or correcting information to CRCs after making a determination that information the furnishers had reported was not complete or accurate. For example, examiners found that after determining that accounts that had been given new account numbers were erroneously being furnished twice to the CRCs, once under the old account number and once under the new account number, the furnishers continued to furnish the duplicate accounts to the CRCs. Examiners also found that credit card furnishers violated this provision by failing to promptly update account statuses to settled-in-full, paid-in-full, voluntarily closed, or discharged in bankruptcy upon recognizing that the account statuses furnished did not match the account statuses in the furnishers’ systems of record.

Supervision directed the furnishers to update their systems to allow for prompt updates to, and to prevent the continued furnishing of information determined to be incomplete or inaccurate.

2.2.7 Furnisher Duty To Establish and Implement Reasonable Policies and Procedures Concerning the Accuracy and Integrity of Furnished Information

Regulation V requires that furnishers establish and implement reasonable written policies and procedures regarding the accuracy and integrity of the information relating to consumers that it furnishes to a CRC.¹⁷ The policies and procedures must be appropriate to the nature, size, complexity, and scope of each furnisher’s activities.¹⁸ Furnishers must consider and incorporate, as appropriate, the guidelines of Appendix E to Regulation V when developing their policies and procedures.¹⁹ These guidelines address key business functions, such as record retention, training, third-party oversight, and receipt of feedback from CRCs and others that contribute to a furnisher’s ability to ensure the accuracy and integrity of the data furnished to CRCs.

In previous issues of Supervisory Highlights, we described supervisory findings of furnishers that violated these requirements.²⁰ In recent supervisory reviews, we have identified further violations of the Regulation V requirement for reasonable written policies and procedures.

- In reviews of credit card furnishers, examiners found furnishers’ policies and procedures had failed to specify how particular data fields, such as the date of first delinquency, should be populated when furnishing information about credit card accounts.

- Credit card furnishers’ policies and procedures also had failed to provide for the retention of records for a reasonable period of time to substantiate the accuracy of consumer information furnished to CRCs. For example, examiners identified multiple instances where furnishers failed to retain records relating to direct disputes for the time period required by their own policies due to automated system purges of dormant accounts occurring on a shorter cycle than the applicable retention period.

- Examiners also found that had failed to perform account level analyses to determine which accounts should be reported in bankruptcy status after a consumer informs the furnisher of a bankruptcy filing. The furnishers’ processes resulted in the reporting of bankruptcy status codes for accounts that had already been paid and/or closed prior to the bankruptcy filing.

- In reviews of auto loan furnishers, examiners found that furnishers had failed to incorporate content relating to the specific activities in which the furnishers engaged. For example, furnishers lacked procedures for furnishing accurate information in connection with leased automobiles returned to dealerships.

- In reviews of deposit furnishers, examiners found that furnishers had no written policies or procedures for furnishing deposit account information to specialty CRCs. Examiners also found that furnishers, in developing their policies and procedures, did not consider and incorporate the guidelines in Appendix E to Regulation V with respect to conducting reasonable investigations of consumer disputes relating to furnished deposit account information. For example, examiners identified furnishers that claimed to handle disputes through their existing complaints procedures despite those procedures failing to address the specific requirements under the FCRA for investigating and resolving consumer disputes.

After identification of these issues, furnishers are taking corrective actions including developing written policies and procedures regarding the accuracy and integrity of information furnished to CRCs and the proper handling of consumer disputes.

2.3 Credit Card Account Management

The Bureau assessed the credit card account management operations of supervised entities for compliance with applicable Federal consumer financial laws. Examinations of these entities identified violations of Regulation Z and deceptive acts or practices prohibited by the CFPA.

2.3.1 Billing Error Resolution Violations

Regulation Z contains billing error resolution provisions that a creditor must comply with following receipt of a billing error notice from a consumer. Examiners found violations of the following provisions of Regulation Z:

- 12 CFR 1026.13(c)(1) by failing to mail or deliver written acknowledgments to consumers within 30 days of receiving a billing error notice;
- 12 CFR 1026.13(c)(2) by failing to resolve disputes within two complete billing cycles after receiving a billing error notice, due to human and system intake errors;
- 12 CFR 1026.13(e)(1) by failing to reimburse consumers after billing errors were determined to have occurred as consumers asserted;
- 12 CFR 1026.13(e)(2) by failing to mail or deliver correction notices to consumers resolving billing errors in their favor;
- 12 CFR 1026.13(f) by failing to conduct reasonable investigations after receiving billing error notices due to human errors and system weaknesses;
- 12 CFR 1026.13(f)(1) by providing inaccurate explanations to consumers as to why the creditor denied the consumers' billing error claims in whole or part or, in some instances, providing no explanation at all; and
- 12 CFR 1026.13(f)(2) by failing to provide consumers with the evidence the creditor relied upon to determine no billing error occurred, after the consumers requested the evidence to understand the creditor's determination.

In response to these findings, the relevant entities are implementing plans to improve compliance with Regulation Z's billing error resolution requirements, which include enhanced training, system improvements, enhanced monitoring, additional controls for consumer complaints, and revisions to applicable policies and procedures.

2.3.2 Rate Re-Evaluation Violations

Under Regulation Z, as revised to implement the Card Accountability

Responsibility and Disclosure (CARD) Act, after increasing a consumer's Annual Percentage Rate (APR or rate), credit card issuers have to periodically assess whether it is appropriate to reduce the account's APR(s).²¹ Issuers must first re-evaluate each such account no later than six months after the rate increase and at least every six months thereafter.²² In re-evaluating each account, the issuer must review (a) the factors on which the rate increase was originally based or (b) the factors the issuer currently considers when determining the APR applicable to similar, new consumer credit card accounts.²³

Examiners found violations of these provisions of Regulation Z in connection with creditors' acquisitions of pre-existing credit card accounts from other creditors. In one set of violations, the creditors conducted rate re-evaluations on the acquired accounts but failed to reduce APRs to the appropriate level. Specifically, the creditors were unable to identify the lowest rate applicable to the acquired accounts because they failed to gather this data from the sellers during the acquisition. This rate data was necessary to the creditors' rate reevaluation analysis and, as a result, the creditors did not properly re-evaluate accounts as required by Regulation Z, causing monetary harm to consumers who did not receive APR rate reductions. In response to these findings, the creditors will provide remediation to impacted consumers and will enhance monitoring to ensure accurate rate information.

In a separate set of violations, the creditors failed to conduct re-evaluations of rate increases once every six months after certain APR increases on acquired accounts. For those accounts, the creditors failed to accurately record a review date in their system of record for rate re-evaluation and, as a result, their rate re-evaluation system did not identify these accounts for inclusion in the rate re-evaluation process. This resulted in monetary harm to consumers who were not included in the creditors' rate re-evaluation process and did not receive potential rate reductions. As a result, the creditors will remediate all affected consumers, develop new rate re-evaluation controls, and enhance exception reporting and monitoring activities.

Finally, examiners found violations of these provisions of Regulation Z in connection with a failure to consider appropriate factors when performing rate re-evaluations. Specifically, when evaluating rate reductions, based on the factors considered when determining the APRs applicable to similar new accounts, the creditors considered certain minimum rates that formerly applied to their credit card accounts; however, at the time of their rate re-evaluation analyses, because these minimum rates no longer applied to the relevant credit card accounts, using them in the creditors' rate re-evaluation analyses violated Regulation Z. In response to these findings, the creditors will remove the inappropriate factors when determining the applicable APR following the re-evaluation of a rate increase and revise their relevant policies and procedures.

2.3.3 Deceptive Advertising of Interest-free Financing and Failure To Process Refunds in Accordance With Account Disclosures

Sections 1031 and 1036 of the CFPA prohibit deceptive acts or practices.²⁴ Examiners found that certain entities engaged in deceptive acts or practices by advertising the interest-free financing feature of their credit card without adequately disclosing the preconditions for obtaining the financing. To receive the interest-free financing, consumers needed to satisfy two preconditions, including purchasing the products at a business partner's store or website and agreeing, at checkout, to pay for the product in monthly installments. Based on the net impression of the advertisements, consumers were misled about the preconditions necessary to receive the interest-free financing promotion, which were material to the consumers' decision to purchase the products with the credit card. As a result of these findings, the entities will undertake remedial and corrective actions.

Examiners also found that certain entities engaged in deceptive acts or practices by failing to process refunds in accordance with their credit card account holder agreements. The entities issued certain credit card accounts to customers which had both a revolving balance that accrued interest and a monthly installment balance that was interest-free for its duration. The account holder agreements provided that refunds and credits would be applied to the revolving balance on the customer's account, and did not contain any provision stating that, if the purchase refunds on the revolving balance resulted in a negative revolving balance, the refund would instead be applied to the monthly installment balance. Nonetheless, when the refund would result in a negative revolving balance, the entities (1) applied revolving purchase refunds to the monthly installment balance, or (2) applied such refunds to the revolving balance temporarily, but then applied the negative revolving balance to the monthly installment balance when the monthly installment balance payment became due. These practices caused the interest-free installment balances to be paid prematurely, resulting in consumers losing the interest-free benefit they expected to receive and having fewer funds available to pay future interest-accruing revolving balances.

This practice was deceptive because the credit card account holder agreements misled consumers with regard to how refunds and credits would be applied to their account balances. In response to these findings, the entities will undertake remedial and corrective actions.

2.4 Debt Collection

The Bureau has supervisory authority to examine certain institutions that engage in consumer debt collection activities, including very large depository institutions,²⁵ nonbanks that are larger participants in the consumer debt collection market,²⁶ and nonbanks that are service providers to certain covered persons.²⁷ Recent examinations of larger participant debt collectors identified risks of violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and the CFPA.

2.4.1 Using a False or Misleading Representation in Connection With the Collection of a Debt Cause by Identify Theft

FDCPA section 807(2)(A)²⁸ states that a debt collector may not falsely represent the character, amount, or legal status of any debt in connection with the collection of any debt. Examiners found instances in which debt collectors violated this section by misrepresenting or implying to consumers that they were responsible for paying charges on their accounts that were incurred as the result of fraudulent activity.

Examiners found instances in which consumers had informed collectors that the establishment of the account was the result of identity theft. For example, consumers informed collectors that they had police reports related to the fraud. Notwithstanding the consumers' proffer of evidence supporting the identify theft, the debt collectors continued to represent that the consumers owed the debt by offering to allow the consumers to pay a reduced amount to settle the alleged debt, and then continuing to attempt to collect the debt. Examiners determined that, by continuing attempts to collect the debt and offering settlement, even after being informed of the fraud, the debt collectors misrepresented that the consumers were legally obligated to pay a debt created through fraud. In these instances, the debt collectors' agents deviated from the collectors' established policies and procedures, and the debt collectors issued refunds of consumer payments made after the misrepresentations.

2.4.2 Engaging in an Unfair Practice in Connection With the Collection of a Debt by Failing to Timely Refund Overpayments or Credit Balances

The CFPA prohibits covered entities from engaging in unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices in their interactions with consumers.²⁹ Examiners found multiple instances in which debt collectors may have engaged in an unfair act or practice in connection with the collection of a debt by failing to timely refund overpayments and credit balances to consumers. These practices caused or were likely to cause substantial injury to affected borrowers as consumers lost the ability to use funds for an extended period of time. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury as they were unlikely to know about the credit balances, and even if they became aware, the consumers had no way to expedite the refund process. The injury was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. In response to these findings, the entities will report to the CFPB on remedial measures, including issuing full refunds to consumers, revising their policies and procedures, and strengthening their monitoring to ensure credit balances are timely refunded.

2.5 Deposits

The CFPB continues its examinations of financial institutions for compliance with Regulation E,³⁰ which implements the Electronic Fund Transfer Act (EFTA).³¹ The CFPB also examines for compliance with other relevant statutes and regulations, including Regulation

DD,³² which implements the Truth in Savings Act,³³ and the CFPA's prohibitions regarding UDAAPs.³⁴

2.5.1 Failure To Remove a Duplicative Hold on an Account

Examiners found that institutions engaged in unfair acts or practices by erroneously placing multiple holds on certain mobile check deposits that were deemed suspicious rather than placing the single holds that were intended. Through transaction testing, examiners identified accounts where the institutions had charged a consumer overdraft fees because the institutions failed to lift the initial automatic holds on the amounts of mobile check deposits after an additional suspicious deposit hold was placed on the account. This practice caused, or was likely to cause, substantial injury due to consumers incurring fees and losing access to funds that were unrelated to the suspicious mobile check deposit. Consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury, given that they could not have prevented the institutions from failing to comply with their own internal procedures. And the injury was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or to competition.

The institutions' failures to implement policies and procedures that address these technical limitations led to the unfair practices. The institutions revised their policies and procedures governing holds and developed controls to monitor for and detect instances of duplicate holds. The institutions refunded the fees caused by these duplicate holds.

2.5.2 Failure To Honor a Timely Stop Payment Request

Institutions violated the stop payment requirements of 12 CFR 1005.10(c) by failing to honor stop payment requests for preauthorized transfers tied to debit cards. Examiners found that the institutions' systems did not enable stopping a payment tied to a debit card. The institutions clarified the policies for this area and revised trainings to address this issue in the future.

2.5.3 Failure To Investigate and Determine Whether an Error Occurred

Examiners continued to find issues with financial institutions failing to follow Regulation E error resolution procedures. Institutions violated Regulation E by failing to complete error investigations following consumers' notices of error because the consumers did not submit an affidavit.³⁵ Where consumers did not submit an affidavit, the institutions denied the error claims without investigating the merits of the error claims. A financial institution cannot require a consumer to file a police report or other documentation as a condition of initiating or completing an error investigation. The institutions updated policies and procedures and implemented remediation programs for affected consumers.

The Bureau has discussed this issue in FAQs on Electronic Funds Transfers and in Supervisory Highlights, Issue 24, Summer 2021.³⁶

2.5.4 Failure To Provide Consumers With Notice of Revocation of Provisional Credit

Institutions violated 12 CFR 1005.11(d)(2) by failing to provide notices of revocation of provisional credit to consumers in connection with error investigations regarding check deposits at ATMs.

Consumers filed error claims stating that checks deposited at ATMs in specific amounts were not properly credited to their accounts. The institutions provided the consumers with provisional credits in the amounts claimed by the consumers; however, when the institutions retrieved the checks, they determined the check amounts were for lesser amounts than the consumers alleged in the error claims. The institutions debited the differences and sent the consumers written letters indicating the investigations were complete and the provisional credits of the lesser amounts were final, not addressing the fact that the institutions debited the difference between the amounts of the original provisional credits and the face values of the checks.³⁷

The institutions violated Regulation E by failing to state that they would be debiting the excess amounts originally provisionally credited from the consumers' accounts, the dates the institutions would be debiting the excess provisional credits, or that the institutions would (as required by the regulation) honor certain transactions for five days after the notification.

In response to these findings, the institutions provided additional Regulation E compliance training to applicable staff, transitioned certain monitoring and oversight functions to an independent quality assurance/quality control team, and have identified opportunities to enhance error resolution letter templates.

2.6. Mortgage Origination

Supervision assessed the mortgage origination operations of several supervised entities for compliance with applicable Federal consumer financial laws. Examinations of these entities identified violations of Regulation Z.

2.6.1 Compensating Loan Originators Differently Based on Product Type

Regulation Z generally prohibits compensating mortgage loan originators in an amount that is based on the terms of a transaction.³⁸ In the preamble to the Bureau's 2013 Loan Originator Final Rule, the Bureau responded to questions from commenters about whether it was permissible to compensate differently based on product types, such as credit extended pursuant to government programs for low- and moderate-income borrowers.³⁹ As explained by the Bureau there, it is not permissible to differentiate compensation based on credit product type, since products are simply a bundle of particular terms.⁴⁰

Examiners found that certain lenders' loan originator compensation agreements provided for higher loan originator compensation where Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) conforming fixed rate loans surpassed a designated threshold percentage of the total loans closed by the loan originator. This compensation was higher than the compensation paid when such loans did not surpass the designated threshold percentage. Paying higher commissions under these circumstances constitutes paying compensation based on credit product type, which, in turn, violates the Loan Originator Rule as compensation based on the term of a transaction, since products are simply a bundle of particular terms. As a result of these findings, the lenders have agreed to change their compensation plans to bring them into compliance with the Loan Originator Rule. The Bureau previously discussed this issue in Supervisory Highlights, Issue 24, Summer 2021.⁴¹

2.6.2 Insufficient Documentation for Changed Circumstance

Regulation Z requires a creditor to provide the consumer with good faith estimates on the Loan Estimate for certain transactions. The closing cost estimates are generally considered to be in good faith if the amount paid by or imposed on the consumer does not exceed the amount originally disclosed.⁴² A creditor is permitted to use a revised estimate of a charge instead of the estimate of the charge originally disclosed to reset tolerances when there is a valid changed circumstance permitted by Regulation Z that resulted in the increased costs.⁴³ One such valid changed circumstance is where the consumer requests revisions to the credit terms.⁴⁴ For a creditor to successfully reset tolerances as permitted by Regulation Z, it must, among other things, maintain documentation explaining the reason for revision.⁴⁵

Examiners found that certain lenders failed to retain sufficient documentation to establish the changed circumstance's validity. Specifically, the lenders disclosed an appraisal fee on initial Loan Estimates and subsequently disclosed appraisal rush fees, in a higher amount, on revised Loan Estimates. The lenders claimed the rush appraisals, which led to the appraisal rush fees, were requested by consumers. However, in each instance, the lender failed to maintain sufficient documentation evidencing the consumer's request of the rush appraisals; in fact, the documentation maintained reflected that either the appraisal management company notified the lenders that a rush appraisal would be needed or the lenders' loan officers requested the rush appraisal. In certain instances, the lenders' documentation included only a checked box indicating the consumer requested the rush appraisal, but there was no other evidence retained reflecting this occurred. In response to these findings, the lenders agreed to remediate affected consumers, revise their policies and procedures to ensure relevant documentation is obtained and maintained, and strengthen relevant quality control audit functions.

2.6.3 Disclosures Failed To Reflect the Terms of Legal Obligation

Regulation Z provides that closed-end disclosures, including the mortgage Closing Disclosure, must reflect the terms of the legal obligation between the parties.⁴⁶

Examiners found violations of this provision relating to items on Closing Disclosures that did not reflect the legal obligation between the parties. Specifically, examiners identified instances where lenders' Closing Disclosures failed to reflect the fully-indexed-rate as required by the promissory note because the lenders' software miscalculated the disclosed rates. The software used a rounding method that is different from the method used in the corresponding promissory notes. The software automatically rounded up to the nearest one-eighth percent, despite the promissory note's instruction to round to the nearest one-eighth percent—up or down. This practice resulted in Closing Disclosures that do not reflect the terms of the legal obligation between the parties, and likely affected files and loans transferred to other loan servicers. As a result of these findings, the relevant lenders committed to update the rounding methodology and enhance monitoring and testing procedures to ensure that disclosures to consumers reflect the terms of the legal obligation between the parties.

2.7 Prepaid Accounts

The Bureau's Supervision program covers both institutions that issue prepaid accounts and prepaid account service providers. Recent examinations identified various violations of EFTA and Regulation E.

2.7.1 Prepaid Account Agreement Submissions

Examiners found violations related to the requirement that financial institutions submit prepaid account agreements to the Bureau as set forth in Regulation E. Section 1005.19(b)(1) requires that prepaid account issuers make submissions of prepaid account agreements on a rolling basis no later than 30 days after an issuer "offers, amends, or ceases to offer any prepaid account agreement."⁴⁷

Examiners determined that institutions failed to submit prepaid account agreements to the Bureau within 30 days of the effective date after they amend certain prepaid account agreements.

In addition, 12 CFR 1005.19(b)(1)(i) requires that each submission by a financial institution must contain, among other things, "the name of the program manager, if any, and the list of names of other relevant parties, if applicable (such as the employer for a payroll card program or the agency for a government benefit program.)" Examiners determined that institutions failed to submit, as part of their prepaid account agreement submissions, the names of the program managers, if any, and the lists of names of other relevant parties.

In response to these findings, institutions amended their compliance management systems, submitted, or resubmitted the amended prepaid account agreements to the Bureau with the additional required information, as applicable, and instituted increased monitoring of prepaid account agreements.

2.7.2 Stop Payment Requests

Examiners found violations related to the receipt of valid stop payment requests from prepaid account users. Regulation E states that a consumer may stop payment of a preauthorized electronic fund transfer from the consumer's account by notifying the financial institution orally or in writing at least three business days before the scheduled date of the transfer.⁴⁸

Examiners determined that institutions failed to honor oral stop payment requests with respect to payments originating through certain bill pay systems, including both those initiated with the merchant, as well as within the bill pay system housed at the prepaid account program manager.

In response to these findings, institutions corrected their processes to allow for stop payment requests received orally or in writing, regardless of where the payment was originated, and remediated impacted consumers.

2.7.3 Error Resolution Documentation Notice

Examiners found violations related to the notice provided to consumers after an institution determined no error or a different error than alleged by the consumer had occurred upon the completion of a Regulation E error investigation. Section 1005.11(d)(1) requires a financial institution to report the results of its investigation, including a written explanation of the institution's findings and the consumer's right to request the documents that the institution relied on in making its determination. Upon request, the institution must promptly provide copies of these documents.

Examiners determined that institutions violated 12 CFR 1005.11(d)(1) by failing to include a statement noting the consumer's right to request the documents that the institution relied on in making its determination after determining no error or a different error occurred as part of the report of the results. Examiners also found that institutions failed to fulfill consumers' subsequent requests to provide the documentation relied upon to make the determinations that no error occurred.

In response to these findings, institutions updated their report of results letter templates to explicitly state the consumers' right to request documents that the institutions relied on in making their error investigation determinations, and directed their service providers to institute compliance management system enhancements to ensure requests for documents were honored.

2.8 Remittances

The Bureau continues to examine institutions under its supervisory authority for compliance with Regulation E, Subpart B (Remittance Rule).⁴⁹ The Bureau also reviews for UDAAPs in connection with remittance transfers. Examiners identified violations of EFTA, Regulation E, and a deceptive act or practice.

2.8.1 Deceptive Claims on Transfer Speeds for Remittance Transfers

Examiners found remittance transfer providers engaged in deceptive acts or practices by making false and misleading representations of "instant" and "30 second" transfers, even though the transfers may not be completed in 30 seconds or they may be otherwise delayed. Certain transfers could be delayed up to an additional 48 hours past the disclosed date of availability. These express claims, which failed to disclose or disclose adequately any exceptions, were likely to mislead consumers acting reasonably. And information about transfer speed would have been material to a consumer's decision as to which remittance transfer provider to use. In response to these findings, institutions implemented additional UDAAP training for their staff and ensured that their compliance departments review advertisements.

2.8.2 Remittance Transfer Account Agreement Waiver Violations

Section 914 of EFTA, 15 U.S.C. 1693l, states that “[n]o writing or other agreement between a consumer and any other person may contain any provision which constitutes a waiver of any right conferred or cause of action created by this subchapter.”⁵⁰

Examiners found multiple instances where remittance transfer service agreements with consumers violated EFTA’s prohibition on waivers of rights conferred or causes of action created by EFTA. Institutions violated EFTA by:

- Including a hold harmless and indemnification requirement that purports to limit claims against the institution, thereby waiving rights conferred by EFTA section 916.⁵¹
- Attempting to limit the consumer’s right to recover costs and attorney’s fees in a limited liability clause.⁵²
- Stating that the entity makes “no representations or warranties regarding the time required to complete processing because the Service is dependent on many factors beyond our control.”⁵³

In response to these findings, the entities undertook a number of corrective actions including updating their agreements to remove the offending language.

2.8.3 Disclosure and Timing Issues on Receipts for Remittance Transfers

Examiners found multiple issues with remittance providers failing to comply with disclosure and timing requirements set forth in the Remittance Rule.

Section 1005.31(b)(2)(ii) requires remittance transfer providers to disclose on receipts the date in the foreign country in which funds will be available to the designated recipient.⁵⁴ Institutions violated this section by failing to disclose on the remittance transfer receipts the date the funds are available to the designated recipient. The institutions disclosed when the funds were delivered to the designated recipient’s bank, but not the date on which the funds would be available to the recipient.

Section 1005.31(e)(2) requires the remittance transfer provider to provide the receipt required under § 1005.31(b)(2) no later than one business day after the date on which payment is made for remittance transfers made via mobile applications.⁵⁵ Institutions violated this section in instances where they failed to issue receipts until after the funds were successfully delivered to the intended recipients, outside the timeline required by § 1005.31(b)(2).

In response to these findings, institutions updated their policies to meet the timing requirements of the Remittance Rule.

2.8.4 Failure To Develop and Maintain Written Policies and Procedures Designed To Ensure Compliance With the Remittance Transfer Rule, Include the Rule’s Record Keeping Requirements

Examiners found that institutions failed to develop and maintain written policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with the error resolution requirements of the Remittance Transfer Rule as found in 12 CFR 1005.33(g). The absence of adequate written policies and procedures resulted in various violations of the substantive provisions of the error resolution requirements, including the erroneous exclusion of certain types of claims from the definition of an error under the Remittance Transfer Rule; improper delays in investigations, refunds and notices, and notices missing required information.

Several institutions also failed to implement written policies and procedures regarding the retention of documentation related to error investigations under the Remittance Transfer Rule. In response to these findings, Supervision directed institutions to revise error resolution policies and procedures and provide additional training to relevant personnel.

2.8.5 Disclosure, Timing and Refund Issues Relating to Error Investigations

Institutions failed to provide notice of the results of error investigations, including the notice of available remedies, as is required.⁵⁶ The institutions had erroneously coded the error claims as paid and the cases resolved, but failed to contact the senders to report on the results of their investigations.

Examiners also found that institutions failed to provide refunds in the amounts needed to resolve the errors within one business day, or as soon as reasonably practicable, after receiving the sender’s instructions regarding the appropriate remedy, as is required.⁵⁷

Examiners also determined that institutions failed to refund fees imposed for remittance transfers when the funds were not delivered to the designated recipients by the disclosed dates of availability, consistent with 12 CFR 1005.33(c)(2)(ii)(B), as a result of the institutions’ inability to reach the senders by phone.

Examiners found that institutions issued error claim denial letters that did not disclose to the sender that the sender has the right to request documentation used in the investigation.⁵⁸

In response to these findings, institutions changed their policies and procedures.

2.9 Student Loan Servicing

The Bureau continues to examine student loan servicing activity, including at private student loan servicers, primarily to assess whether entities have engaged in any UDAAPs. Examiners identified three unfair acts or practices related to private student loan servicing.

2.9.1 Failing To Make Incentive Payments

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices by failing to make incentive payments that they offered in advertisements and agreed to make in the relevant contracts with consumers.

Examiners found that servicers were not making incentive payments described in advertisements or loan contracts in a variety of circumstances. Specifically, servicers failed to provide early repayment incentive payments, referral bonuses, and welcome bonuses due to system errors. Furthermore, in some instances servicers did not make early repayment incentive payments based on policies that made incentive payments contingent upon maintaining a deposit account with a specific financial institution, although they did not disclose this requirement in the loan contracts.

⁵¹ 15 U.S.C. 1693m.

⁵² EFTA section 916, 15 U.S.C. 1693m(a) allows the consumer to seek redress comprised of actual damages, up to $1,000 in statutory damages, and in the case of a successful action the costs of the action together with reasonable attorney’s fees as determined by the court.

⁵³ Under 12 CFR 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(A) failure to make funds available to the designated recipient by the date of availability is generally an error unless a specific exception applies. The exceptions are listed in sec. 1005.33(a)(1)(iv)(A)–(D).

⁵⁴ 12 CFR 1005.31(b)(2)(ii).

⁵⁶ 12 CFR 1005.33(c)(1).

⁵⁷ 12 CFR 1005.33(c)(2)(ii)(A)(1).

⁵⁸ 12 CFR 1005.33(d)(1).

The servicers' conduct caused or was likely to cause substantial injury because consumers complied with the promotional program or contract terms and did not receive payments to which they were entitled. Because consumers impacted by the system errors had complied with all required terms and the servicer was in control of the program administration, consumers could not reasonably avoid the injury. Similarly, consumers impacted by the requirement to maintain a deposit account could not reasonably avoid injury because they were not adequately informed that the rebate was contingent upon maintaining a deposit account with that financial institution. And the substantial injury to consumers was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. In response to these findings, servicers remediated affected consumers and implemented monitoring systems consisting of new weekly reports to capture all accounts with refunds due so that the servicers could confirm that they had made appropriate refunds.

2.9.2 Failing To Issue Timely Refunds of Specified Payments After Loan Modification

Examiners found that servicers engaged in unfair acts or practices by failing to issue timely refund payments in accordance with the payment schedules in loan modifications. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, some servicers offered student loan modifications. These modifications reduced the payments that a consumer owed for a set period of time and provided a specific repayment schedule. In some instances, the servicers entered into modification agreements that included effective dates that predated the date they were transmitted to consumers. Some consumers made payments that were not due under the repayment schedule provided for in the modification agreement and were therefore entitled to refunds of those payments. Examiners found that servicers failed to issue timely refunds to consumers.

This practice caused or was likely to cause substantial injury to consumers because they lost the use of money that should have been refunded. The injury was not reasonably avoidable because consumers reasonably relied on the specific terms described in the modification agreement and the servicers were in charge of the refund process. And the injury was not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition. In response to these findings, the servicers conducted outreach to determine if consumers wanted a refund.

3. Supervisory Program Developments

3.1.1 CFPB Invokes Dormant Authority To Examine Nonbank Companies Posing Risks to Consumers

On April 25, 2022, the CFPB announced that it is invoking a largely unused legal provision to examine nonbank financial companies that pose risks to consumers.

Before the CFPB was enacted only banks and credit unions were subject to Federal supervision. But after the 2008 financial crisis in which nonbank companies played a pivotal role, Congress tasked the CFPB with supervising certain nonbanks, in addition to large depository institutions with more than $10 billion in assets, and their service providers. Nonbanks do not have a bank, thrift, or credit union charter; many today operate nationally and brand themselves as "fintechs."

Congress authorized several categories of entities subject to CFPB's nonbank supervision program. First and foremost, all nonbank entities in the mortgage, private student loan, and payday loan industries, regardless of size. Another category of supervised entities includes what the law calls "larger participants" in other nonbank markets for consumer financial products and services. The CFPB conducted rulemakings to define thresholds for entities subject to supervision in the markets of consumer reporting, debt collection, student loan servicing, international remittances, and auto loan servicing.

The third category of entities subject to CFPB nonbank supervision are nonbanks whose activities the CFPB has reasonable cause to determine pose risks to consumers. This authority is not specific to any particular consumer financial product or service. While the CFPB did implement the provision through a procedural rule in 2013,⁵⁹ the agency has now begun to invoke this authority. This will allow the CFPB to be agile and supervise entities that may be fast-growing or are in markets outside the existing nonbank supervision program.

The CFPB also issued a procedural rule to increase the transparency of the risk-determination process.⁶⁰ The company involved will have an opportunity to provide input to the CFPB on what information is released to the public.

3.1.2 CFPB Targets Unfair Discrimination in Consumer Finance

On March 16, 2022, the CFPB published an updated exam manual for evaluating UDAAPs. These updates cover discriminatory practices that may also be "unfair" under the CFPB. The manual guides examiners in evaluating whether certain discriminatory practices meet the criteria for "unfairness" by causing substantial harm to consumers that they cannot reasonably avoid, where that harm is not outweighed by countervailing benefits to consumers or competition.⁶¹ Consumers can be harmed by discrimination regardless of whether it is intentional. Discrimination can be unfair in cases where the conduct may also be covered by Equal Credit Opportunity Act (ECOA), as well as in instances where ECOA does not apply. For example, denying access to a checking account because the individual is of a particular race could be an unfair practice even if ECOA may not cover the transaction.

3.1.3 CFPB Moves To Thwart Illegal Auto Repossessions

On February 28, 2022, the Bureau released a bulletin describing instances, in examinations and enforcement actions, where servicers violated the CFPB's prohibition against unfair, abusive, or deceptive acts and practices.⁶² In particular, the Bureau intends to hold loan holders and servicers accountable for UDAAPs related to repossession of consumers' vehicles.

3.1.4 CFPB Steps Up Scrutiny of Student Loan Servicers That Deceive Borrowers About Public Service Loan Forgiveness

On February 18, 2022, the Bureau released a bulletin detailing student loan servicers' obligation to halt unlawful conduct regarding borrowers' eligibility and benefits under the limited waiver for the U.S. Department of Education's Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) Waiver.⁶³ The bulletin recommends actions servicers should consider taking to ensure they do not misrepresent borrower eligibility or make deceptive statements to borrowers about the PSLF program and the waiver.

⁶³ The bulletin is available at: <https://www.consumerfinance.gov/compliance/supervisory-guidance/cfpb-bulletin-2022-03->

3.1.5 CFPB Issues Bulletin To Prevent Unlawful Medical Debt Collection and Credit Reporting

On January 13, 2022, the Bureau released a bulletin reminding debt collectors and CRCs of their legal obligations in light of the No Surprises Act, which protects consumers from certain unexpected medical bills.⁶⁴ Companies that try to collect on medical bills that are prohibited by the No Surprises Act, or who furnish information to CRCs about such invalid debts, may face significant legal liability under the FDCPA and FCRA. The bulletin advises CRCs that the accuracy and dispute obligations imposed by the FCRA apply with respect to debts stemming from charges that exceed the amount permitted by the No Surprises Act.

4. Remedial Actions

4.1. Public Enforcement Actions

The Bureau's supervisory activities resulted in and supported the following enforcement actions.

4.1.1 MoneyGram International, Inc. and MoneyGram Payment Systems, Inc

On April 21, 2022, the CFPB and New York Attorney General Letitia James announced that they filed a lawsuit against MoneyGram International, Inc. and MoneyGram Payment Systems, Inc. (MoneyGram)—one of the largest remittance providers in the U.S.—for repeatedly violating various consumer financial protection laws.⁶⁵

CFPB examined MoneyGram between 2014 and 2016 and found multiple problems. Then in 2019, the CFPB did a subsequent exam to see if MoneyGram had fixed its problems. In short, for more than five years, the CFPB worked with MoneyGram to fully comply with the law, but MoneyGram continually failed to do so.

Specifically, the CFPB and New York Attorney General James allege:

- MoneyGram failed to deliver remittance funds by a date promised to consumers and held up remittance servicer-responsibilities-in-public-service-loan-forgiveness-communications/.

transfers and refunds unnecessarily. Holding the money in limbo resulted in needless delays and harmed or risked harm to consumers.

- MoneyGram failed to adequately instruct or direct its employees on how to comply with certain laws on resolving disputes. The company also failed to report the results of its error investigations to consumers and failed to provide adequate written explanation of its findings to consumers.

- MoneyGram failed to put in place policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with certain record retention requirements. MoneyGram also failed to retain evidence of its compliance with certain money-transferring requirements as required.

The complaint seeks relief including damages and other monetary relief, an injunction to stop future violations, and imposition of civil money penalties. The complaint is not a final finding or ruling that the defendants have violated the law.

4.1.2 TransUnion Interactive, Inc. TransUnion, LLC, TransUnion, and John T. Danaher

On April 12, 2022, the Bureau filed a complaint in Federal court in the Northern District of Illinois against TransUnion, two of its subsidiaries, and longtime executive John Danaher for violating a 2017 law enforcement order, the CFPB's prohibition on deceptive acts and practices, EFTA and its implementing Regulation E, and Regulation V.⁶⁶ Chicago-based TransUnion is the parent company of one of the nation's three largest credit reporting companies. TransUnion collects consumer credit information, including borrowers' payment histories, debt loads, maximum credit limits, names and address of current creditors, and other elements of their credit relationships. Through its subsidiary, TransUnion Interactive, the company also markets, sells, and provides credit-related products directly to the public, such as credit scores, credit reports, and credit monitoring.

The Bureau alleges that TransUnion, its subsidiaries, and former executive John Danaher violated a January 3, 2017, consent order which settled charges for deceptively marketing credit scores and credit-related products, including credit monitoring services. As part of the 2017 settlement, TransUnion agreed to pay $13.9 million in restitution to victims and $3 million in civil penalties. TransUnion and its subsidiaries also agreed to a formal law enforcement order that, among other things, required the credit reporting company to warn consumers that lenders are not likely to use the scores they are supplying, obtain the express informed consent of customers for recurring payments for subscription products or services, and provide an easy way for people to cancel subscriptions. The order was binding on the company, its board of directors, and its executive officers.

In October 2018, the CFPB commenced an examination of TransUnion. In May 2019, CFPB examiners informed TransUnion that it was violating multiple requirements of the order. In these instances, companies typically work constructively with the CFPB to make quick fixes and come into compliance. However, in June 2020, CFPB informed TransUnion that it was still violating the order and engaged in additional violations of law.

In the April 12, 2022, complaint, the Bureau alleges that TransUnion and John Danaher engaged in multiple violations of law, including that TransUnion and Danaher violated the 2017 consent order; that TransUnion deceived customers through an array of digital dark patterns to trick people into recurring payments and to make it difficult to cancel them; and that TransUnion misrepresented numerous aspects of its products, services, and subscription plans, including that its credit monitoring service was a standalone credit score or credit report.

The CFPB is seeking monetary relief for consumers, such as restitution or return of funds, disgorgement of compensation for unjust gains, injunctive relief, and civil money penalties. The complaint is not a final finding or ruling that the defendants have violated the law.

4.1.3 Edfinancial Services, LLC

On March 30, 2022, the Bureau sanctioned Edfinancial Services, LLC, a student-loan servicer, for making deceptive statements to student loan borrowers and misrepresenting their forgiveness and repayment options to them.⁶⁷ Edfinancial deceived borrowers, with Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) loans about their eligibility for PSLF. The Bureau is ordering the company to contact all affected borrowers, provide them with Affected Public: Third party conformity assessment bodies seeking acceptance of accreditation or continuing accreditation.

Estimated Burden

- New Applications From Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies

- We estimate approximately 40 new applications from independent third party conformity assessment bodies will be submitted per year, each taking an estimated 75 minutes to complete the initial application materials, with an estimated burden of 50 hours per year.

- We estimate approximately 3 firewalled third party conformity assessment bodies will apply per year, each taking an estimated 8.4 hours to complete the initial application materials, with an estimated burden of 25.2 hours per year.

- We estimate approximately 4 governmental third party conformity assessment bodies will apply per year, each taking an estimated 3 hours to complete the initial application materials, with an estimated burden of 12 hours per year.

- Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies Updating Information

- We estimate that approximately 1 percent of third party conformity assessment bodies will take 15 minutes to update information for only those elements of information that need updating, with an estimated burden of 1.5 hours per year.

- Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies That Subcontracts Out Tests

- We estimate that approximately 25 percent of party conformity assessment bodies subcontract test and it will take 7 minutes to comply with the subcontracting recordkeeping requirement for an estimated 76,410 subcontracted tests, with an estimated of approximately 8,915 hours per year.

- Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies That Voluntarily Withdraw

- We estimate approximately 8 third party conformity assessment bodies will withdraw yearly, taking an estimated 30 minutes to create and submit the required documentation, with an estimated burden of 4 hours per year.

- Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies That Are Audited

- We estimate that approximately 253 independent third party conformity assessment bodies each year will be audited, taking approximately 4 minutes to resubmit their Form 223 and accreditation certificate, with an estimated burden of 17 hours per year.

- We estimate that approximately 21 firewalled third party conformity assessment bodies will spend 226 minutes collecting and preparing the documentation to submit for an audit, with estimated burden of about 79 hours per year.

- We estimate approximately 30 governmental third party conformity assessment bodies will spend 1 hour collecting and preparing the documentation to submit for an audit, with estimated burden of 30 hours per year.

- Total Annual Burden

Adding all the annual estimated burden hours results in a total of 9,134 hours for third party conformity assessment bodies per year. At $40.35 per hour, the total cost of the recordkeeping associated with the Requirements Pertaining to Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies is approximately $368,557 (9,134 hours × $40.35 = $368,557).

General Description of Collection: On March 12, 2013, the Commission issued a rule Pertaining to Third Party Conformity Assessment Bodies (78 FR 15836). The rule established the general requirements concerning third party conformity assessment bodies, such as the requirements and procedures for CPSC acceptance of the accreditation of a third party conformity assessment body, and the rule prescribed adverse actions that might be imposed against CPSC-accepted third party conformity assessment bodies. The rule also amended the audit requirements for third party conformity assessment bodies and amended the CPSC's regulation on inspections. CPSC's requirements pertaining to third party conformity assessment bodies can be found at 16 CFR part 1112.

CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Request for Information From Non-Federal Stakeholders: Grantee Match Requirements

AGENCY: Corporation for National and Community Service.

ACTION: Request for comment.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the Executive Order on advancing racial equity and support for underserved communities, the Corporation for National and Community Service, operating as AmeriCorps, is inviting public comment regarding grantee match (that is, the percentage share of non-AmeriCorps cash and in-kind contributions required to be raised by the grantee in support of the grant) from any interested party, including current and former AmeriCorps applicants and program award recipients and sponsors or funders, and organizations that considered, but ultimately did not apply for, AmeriCorps grants.

DATES: To be considered, written comments must be received electronically no later than June 10, 2022 11:59 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time (EDT).

ADDRESSES: Comments and any supporting attachments should be submitted online at <http://www.regulations.gov>; search for "Request for Information (RFI) from Non-Federal Stakeholders: Grantee Match Requirements." They will be posted unchanged and viewable by the public. Please provide contact information or organization name on the web-based form for possible follow-up from AmeriCorps.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Sharron Tendai, Program Support Specialist, AmeriCorps at stendai@cns.gov or 202-606-3904.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Matching fund requirements are not unusual for Federal grants, but they vary across government agencies and programs. Match requires that a grantee share the funding load for their project or program that is (partially) funded by the agency. Policy reasons for match requirements include ensuring that Federal taxpayer dollars are leveraging non-agency contributions, supporting more programming by stretching agency dollars further, encouraging community engagement and investment in the grantee's activities, and promoting grantees' sustained financial health and the viability of their projects beyond the life of the grant.

Both AmeriCorps Seniors and AmeriCorps State and National have match requirements, established by Congress, for some of their grant opportunities, as do the Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service and the Volunteer Generation Fund grant programs. In each case, the grantees may provide the match through cash or in-kind contributions. AmeriCorps Seniors and AmeriCorps State and National grant programs currently have some statutory and/or regulatory relief from match requirements. In accordance with Executive Order 13985 (Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government), issued on January 20, 2021, AmeriCorps is inviting public comment regarding grantee match requirements.

I. Request for Comment

AmeriCorps seeks input on the following:

1. What are the benefits, if any, of matching requirements?
2. What evidence, if any, supports (or does not support) the use of matching requirements?
3. What changes related to match requirements and alternative match schedules, if any, might be needed in order to:
 - a. Encourage more applicants to apply?
 - b. Make grantees more successful?
 - c. Allow applicants and grantees to reach underserved communities?
4. What changes, if any, to the criteria or timing for alternative match and/or match waiver requests and approvals might:
 - a. Encourage more applicants to apply?
 - b. Make grantees more successful?
 - c. Allow applicants and grantees to reach underserved communities?
5. What alternative approaches to the existing matching requirements would help meet the intended policy goals of community engagement and investment?

II. Context

A. Current Match Requirements

AmeriCorps Seniors

Congress established the match requirements for AmeriCorps Seniors programs in the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, as amended (DVSA), 45 U.S.C. 4950 et seq.

For the Foster Grandparent Program (FGP) and Senior Companion Program (SCP), the DVSA generally limits AmeriCorps' contributions to 90 percent of the costs of the development and operation of projects, effectively requiring grantee sponsors to contribute at least 10 percent of the total project cost. See 42 U.S.C. 5011(a). AmeriCorps' regulations specify that grantee sponsors must contribute 10 percent of the total project cost from non-Federal or authorized Federal sources for these programs. See 45 CFR 2552.92(a), 2551.92(a).

For the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), the statute generally limits the match required of grantees to 10 percent in the first year, 20 percent in the second year and 30 percent in subsequent years. See 42 U.S.C. 5001(b). AmeriCorps' regulations mirror this requirement, stating that RSVP grants may be awarded to fund up to 90 percent of the total project cost in the first year, 80 percent in the second year, and 70 percent in the third and succeeding years. See 45 CFR 2553.72(a).

AmeriCorps State and National

Congress established the match requirements for AmeriCorps State and National in the National and Community Service Act of 1990, as amended (NCSA), 42 U.S.C. 12501 et seq. The NCSA limits AmeriCorps' share of the cost of carrying out an AmeriCorps State and National program to 75 percent. See 42 U.S.C. 12571(e). However, Congress has, for several years through annual appropriations laws, revised this requirement. For example, in the Fiscal Year 2021 appropriations law, Congress provided that the grantees must meet an overall minimum share requirement of 24 percent for the first three years they receive AmeriCorps funding and in successive years must meet the requirements as provided for in AmeriCorps regulations at 45 CFR 2521.60. See Public Law 116-260, div. H, title IV, 402, December 27, 2020.

AmeriCorps regulations implement these requirements by requiring a 24 percent match for cost-reimbursement grants to first-time grantees for the first three-year funding period. Starting with year four, the match requirement gradually increases every year until it reaches 50 percent by year 10, as shown in the minimum overall share chart below. Match is calculated as a total of the over all budget (Federal share + grantee share.)

AmeriCorps Funding Year	1, 2, 3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10+
Grantee Share Requirements	24%	26%	30%	34%	38%	42%	46%	50%

See 45 CFR 2521.45 and 2521.60(a).

AmeriCorps State and National— Commission Support Grants

Section 126(a) of the NCSA (42 U.S.C. 12576) authorizes AmeriCorps to make grants of $250,000 to $1,000,000 to support State Commissions annually, and requires the State to agree to provide matching funds from non-Federal sources of not less than $1 for every $1 provided by the Corporation through the grant.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Service Day

Section 198(i) of the NCSA (42 U.S.C. 12653(i)) authorizes AmeriCorps to make grants to support activities in honor of the life and teachings of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The statute limits the Federal share to 30% of the cost of the service opportunity. There is currently no explicit relief for this match requirement in statute or regulation.

Volunteer Generation Fund

Section 198P(f) (42 U.S.C. 12653p(f)) authorizes AmeriCorps to make grants for volunteer programs. The statute limits the AmeriCorps share to 80% in year one, 70% in year two, 60% in year 3, and 50% in years four and beyond. There is currently no explicit relief for this match requirement in statute or regulation.

B. Match Waivers and Alternative Match Schedule

AmeriCorps Seniors

AmeriCorps may grant a match waiver to a grantee for any of the three AmeriCorps Seniors programs. See 42 U.S.C. 5001(b) (RSVP), 5011(a) (FGP), 5013(a) (SCP). AmeriCorps has established by regulation that it may grant a waiver of match requirements if it determines that at least one of the following criteria are met, based on information provided by the grantee: Initial difficulties in the development of local funding sources during the first three years of operations; an economic downturn, a natural disaster, or similar events in the service area that severely restrict or reduce sources of local funding support; or the unexpected discontinuation of local support from one or more sources that a project has relied on for a period of years. See 45 CFR 2551.92 (SCP), 2552.92 (FGP), 2553.72 (RSVP).

AmeriCorps has designed a streamlined process for AmeriCorps

Seniors to request individual match waivers in accordance with these regulatory criteria.

AmeriCorps State and National

Under certain circumstances, applicants/grantees in AmeriCorps State and National may qualify to meet alternative matching requirements that increase over the years to 35 percent instead of 50 percent as specified in the regulations. See 42 U.S.C. 12645(d); 42 U.S.C. 12576. To qualify, applicants/grantees must demonstrate that the proposed program is located in a rural county or in a severely economically distressed community. See 45 CFR 2521.60(b).

AmeriCorps may grant a match waiver for an AmeriCorps State and National grantee if it determines that the grantee has demonstrated all four of the following: There is a lack of resources at the local level; the lack of resources in the local community is unique or unusual; the grantee has made efforts to raise matching resources; and the grantee has raised a specified amount of matching resources or reasonably expects to raise that amount. See 45 CFR 2521.70. AmeriCorps has designed a streamlined process for AmeriCorps State and National Grantees to request individual match waivers in accordance with these regulatory criteria.

AmeriCorps State and National— Commission Support Grants

The CEO may permit a State Commission that demonstrates hardship, or a new State Commission, to meet alternative matching requirements for a commission support grant as follows:

(A) FIRST $100,000: For the first $100,000 of AmeriCorps grant funds, the State involved shall not be required to provide matching funds.

(B) AMOUNTS GREATER THAN $100,000: For AmeriCorps grants of more than $100,000 but not more than $250,000, the State shall agree to provide matching funds from non-Federal sources of not less than $1 for every $2 provided by AmeriCorps in excess of $100,000.

(C) AMOUNTS GREATER THAN $250,000: For AmeriCorps grants of more than $250,000, the State shall agree to provide matching funds from non-Federal sources of not less than $1 for every $1 provided by AmeriCorps, in excess of $250,000.

See 42 U.S.C. 12576; 45 CFR 2550.110.

Dated: April 29, 2022.

The first page of any filing should include the docket number P–1121–134. Comments emailed to Commission staff are not considered part of the Commission record.

The Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure require all intervenors filing documents with the Commission to serve a copy of that document on each person whose name appears on the official service list for the project. Further, if an intervenor files comments or documents with the Commission relating to the merits of an issue that may affect the responsibilities of a particular resource agency, they must also serve a copy of the document on that resource agency.

k. Description of Request: The licensee requests approval to temporarily remove its ramping rate requirements under Article 33(d) to perform low level outlet gate testing at North Battle Creek Dam during the months with no minimum flow requirement (November–March). The licensee is required by the California Division of Safety of Dams (DSOD) to conduct the testing annually and in the presence of DSOD every three years. Temporary removal of its ramping rate requirements would allow the licensee to perform the testing in a significantly shorter amount of time than with ramping rate requirements in place. Accordingly, the licensee is requesting the temporary ramping rate variance from November 1, 2022 through March 31, 2023 to allow sufficient time and flexibility for scheduling and conducting the test. The gate full travel test will result in approximately 40 cubic feet per second entering North Fork Battle Creek and remain in the creek until it reaches Macumber Reservoir. No species of special concern are located in the reach directly below North Battle Creek Dam that would be affected by the testing.

l. Locations of the Application: This filing may be viewed on the Commission's website at <http://www.ferc.gov> using the "eLibrary" link. Enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the docket number field to access the document. You may also register online at <http://www.ferc.gov/docs-filing/esubscription.asp> to be notified via email of new filings and issuances related to this or other pending projects. At this time, the Commission has suspended access to the Commission's Public Reference Room, due to the proclamation declaring a National Emergency concerning the Novel Coronavirus Disease (COVID–19), issued by the President on March 13, 2020. For assistance, call 1–866–208–3676 or email FERCOnlineSupport@ferc.gov, for TTY, call (202) 502–8659. Agencies may obtain copies of the application directly from the applicant.

m. Individuals desiring to be included on the Commission's mailing list should so indicate by writing to the Secretary of the Commission.

n. Comments, Protests, or Motions to Intervene: Anyone may submit comments, a protest, or a motion to intervene in accordance with the requirements of Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR 385.210, .211, .214, respectively. In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests or other comments filed, but only those who file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules may become a party to the proceeding. Any comments, protests, or motions to intervene must be received on or before the specified comment date for the particular application.

o. Filing and Service of Documents: Any filing must (1) bear in all capital letters the title "COMMENTS", "PROTEST", or "MOTION TO INTERVENE" as applicable; (2) set forth in the heading the name of the applicant and the project number of the application to which the filing responds; (3) furnish the name, address, and telephone number of the person commenting, protesting or intervening; and (4) otherwise comply with the requirements of 18 CFR 385.2001 through 385.2005. All comments, motions to intervene, or protests must set forth their evidentiary basis. Any filing made by an intervenor must be accompanied by proof of service on all persons listed in the service list prepared by the Commission in this proceeding, in accordance with 18 CFR 385.2010.

[Project No. 15267–000]

Allegheny Hydro Group Lock and Dam 4, Inc.; Notice of Preliminary Permit Application Accepted for Filing and Soliciting Comments, Motions To Intervene, and Competing Applications

On March 21, 2022, Allegheny Hydro Group Lock and Dam 4, Inc., filed an application for a preliminary permit, pursuant to section 4(f) of the Federal Power Act (FPA), proposing to study the feasibility of hydropower at the existing U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' (Corps) Allegheny River Lock and Dam 4 located on the Allegheny River in Allegheny and Westmoreland Counties, Pennsylvania. The sole purpose of a preliminary permit, if issued, is to grant the permit holder priority to file a license application during the permit term. A preliminary permit does not authorize the permit holder to perform any land-disturbing activities or otherwise enter upon lands or waters owned by others without the owners' express permission.

The proposed Allegheny Lock and Dam 4 Hydropower Project would consist of the following: (1) A new 90-foot-wide, 150-foot-long reinforced concrete powerhouse to be located downstream of the Corps dam along the eastern bank; (2) a new 90-foot-wide, 150-foot-long forebay intake area enclosed by reinforced concrete walls; (3) two 5-megawatt (MW) turbine-generator units with a total generating capacity of 10 MW; (4) a new 90-foot-wide by 125-foot-long tailrace; (5) a new 30-foot-wide by 60-foot-long substation with a three-phase step-up transformer; (6) a new 300-foot-long, 69-kilovolt transmission line; and (7) appurtenant facilities. The proposed project would have an estimated annual generation of 43,000 megawatt-hours.

In lieu of electronic filing, please send a paper copy to: Secretary, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street NE, Washington, DC 20426. The first page of any filing should include docket number P–2705–037.

The Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure require all intervenors filing documents with the Commission to serve a copy of that document on each person whose name appears on the official service list for the project. Further, if an intervenor files comments or documents with the Commission relating to the merits of an issue that may affect the responsibilities of a particular resource agency, they must also serve a copy of the document on that resource agency.

k. Description of Request: The licensee proposes to surrender the project which occupies 6.4 acres of federal land managed by the National Park Service. The licensee states that the project is no longer operational and had not been consistently in service since 2010 due to the following issues: Leaks in the power tunnel; maintenance needs at the headworks and powerhouse; and safety concerns along the access road due to an active landslide. The licensee states that the revenues anticipated from continued operation of the Project were exceeded by the estimated costs of making the needed repairs and seeking relicensing. In its surrender application, the licensee proposes to: Remove the diversion dam and associated headworks structures, tailrace fish barrier, and certain overhead transmission lines; seal the rock shaft and power tunnel; decommission the access road and powerhouse; and leave the powerhouse, tailrace, and penstock in place. The current license expires on January 31, 2027.

l. At least five years, but no more than five and one-half years, before the expiration of a license for a major water power project subject to sections 14 and 15 of the Federal Power Act, the licensee must file with the Commission a letter that contains an unequivocal statement of the licensee's intent to file or not to file an application for a subsequent license. 18 CFR 16.6(a)–(c) (2021).

m. If such a licensee informs the Commission that it does not intend to file an application for a new license, nonpower license, or exemption for the project, the licensee may not file an application for a new license, nonpower license, or exemption for the project, either individually or in conjunction with an entity or entities that are not currently licensees of the project. 18 CFR 16.24(a).

n. On April 28, 2021, Seattle City Light, the existing licensee for the Newhalem Creek Hydroelectric Project No. 2705, filed notice of its intent to not file an application for a new license.¹

On January 28, 2022, Seattle City Light filed an application for surrender of license. By filing a notice of intent not to file an application for a new license and an application to surrender its license, Seattle City Light has clearly expressed its intent not to file an application for a new license.

o. Locations of the Application: This filing may be viewed on the Commission's website at <http://www.ferc.gov/docs-filing/elibrary.asp>. q. Comments, Protests, or Motions to Intervene: Anyone may submit comments, a protest, or a motion to intervene in accordance with the requirements of Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR 385.210, .211, .212 and .214. In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests or other comments filed, but only those who file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules may become a party to the proceeding. Any comments, protests, or motions to intervene must be received on or before the specified comment date for the particular application.

r. Filing and Service of Responsive Documents: Any filing must (1) bear in all capital letters the title “COMMENTS”, “PROTEST”, or “MOTION TO INTERVENE” as applicable; (2) set forth in the heading the name of the applicant and the project number of the application to which the filing responds; (3) furnish the name, address, and telephone number of the person protesting or intervening; and (4) otherwise comply with the requirements of 18 CFR 385.2001 through 385.2005. All comments, motions to intervene, or protests must set forth their evidentiary basis and otherwise comply with the requirements of 18 CFR 4.34(b). All comments, motions to intervene, or protests should relate to the surrender application that is the subject of this notice. Agencies may obtain copies of the application directly from the applicant. A copy of any protest or motion to intervene must be served upon each representative of the applicant specified in the particular application. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Federal Energy Regulatory Commission

Salida Hydroelectric Project; Notice of Existing Licensee's Notice of Intent To Not File a Subsequent License Application, and Soliciting Notices of Intent To File a License Application and Pre-Application Documents

At least five years before the expiration of a license for a minor water power project not subject to sections 14 and 15 of the Federal Power Act (i.e., a project having an installed capacity of 1.5 megawatts or less), the licensee must file with the Commission a letter that contains an unequivocal statement of the licensee's intent to file or not to file an application for a new license.¹

If such a licensee informs the Commission that it does not intend to file an application for a subsequent license, nonpower license, or exemption for the project, the licensee may not file an application for a subsequent license, nonpower license, or exemption for the project, either individually or in conjunction with an entity or entities that are not currently licensees of the project.²

On March 15, 2022, Public Service Company of Colorado (PSCO), the existing licensee for the Salida Hydroelectric Project No. 2275, filed notice of its intent to not file an application for a subsequent license. Therefore, pursuant to section 16.24(b)(1) of the Commission's regulations, PSCO may not file an application for a subsequent license for the project, either individually or in conjunction with an entity or entities that are not currently licensees of the project.

The 1.31-megawatt Salida Hydroelectric Project is located on the South Arkansas River and Fooses Creek, approximately 6 miles west of the town of Poncha Springs in Chaffee County, Colorado. The project occupies 33 acres of federal land managed by the U.S. Forest Service. The existing license for the project expires on April 30, 2027.

The Salida Hydroelectric Project consists of two developments, Salida No. 1 and Salida No. 2. The principal project works of the Salida No. 1 development include: (1) An 11.8-foot-high, 50-foot-long reinforced gravity dam on the South Fork Arkansas River, impounding the 3-acre-foot Garfield reservoir; (2) a 4,806-foot-long gravity steel pipeline from Garfield dam to Fooses reservoir; (3) a 31-foot-high, 218-foot-long earth and rock dam on Fooses Creek, impounding the 13-acre-foot Fooses reservoir; and (4) an 8,080-foot-long penstock extending from Fooses dam to a powerhouse containing one 750-kilowatt turbine. The principal project works of the Salida No. 2 development include: (1) A 15-foot-high, 250-foot-long earthfill dam on the South Arkansas River, impounding a 10-acre-foot forebay; and (2) an 11,668-foot-long penstock extending from the forebay to a powerhouse containing one 560-kilowatt turbine. The Salida No. 1 development has been out of service since August 2009.

Any party interested in filing a license application (i.e., potential applicant) for the Salida Hydroelectric Project No. 2275 must file a Notice of Intent (NOI)³ and pre-application document (PAD).⁴ Additionally, while the integrated licensing process (ILP) is the default process for preparing an application for a subsequent license, a potential applicant may request to use alternative licensing procedures when it files its NOI.⁵

The deadline for potential applicants, other than the existing licensee, to file NOIs, PADs, and requests to use an alternative licensing process is 120 days from the issuance date of this notice.

Applications for a subsequent license from potential applicants, other than the existing licensee, must be filed with the Commission at least 24 months prior to the expiration of the existing license.⁶ Because the existing license expires on April 30, 2027, applications for license for this project must be filed by April 30, 2025.

Questions concerning this notice should be directed to Tim Konnert (202) 502-6359 or timothy.konnert@ferc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:I. General Information*A. Does this action apply to me?

This action is directed to the public in general and may be of interest to a wide range of stakeholders including environmental, human health, farm worker, and agricultural advocates; the chemical industry; pesticide users; and members of the public interested in the sale, distribution, or use of pesticides. B. What should I consider as I prepare my comments for EPA?

1. Submitting CBI. Do not submit this information to EPA through regulations.gov or email. Clearly mark the part or all of the information that you claim to be CBI. For CBI information in a disk or CD-ROM that you mail to EPA, mark the outside of the disk or CD-ROM as CBI and then identify electronically within the disk or CD-ROM the specific information that is claimed as CBI. In addition to one complete version of the comment that includes information claimed as CBI, a copy of the comment that does not contain the information claimed as CBI must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information so marked will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2.

2. Tips for preparing your comments. When preparing and submitting your comments, see the commenting tips at <https://www.epa.gov/dockets/commenting-epa-dockets>.

3. Environmental justice. EPA seeks to achieve environmental justice, the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of any group, including minority and/or low income populations, in the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. To help address potential environmental justice issues, the Agency seeks information on any groups or segments of the population who, as a result of their location, cultural practices, or other factors, may have atypical or disproportionately high and adverse human health impacts or environmental effects from exposure to the pesticides discussed in this document, compared to the general population.

II. Background

Registration review is EPA’s periodic review of pesticide registrations to ensure that each pesticide continues to satisfy the statutory standard for registration, that is, the pesticide can perform its intended function without unreasonable adverse effects on human health or the environment. As part of the registration review process, the Agency has completed comprehensive draft human health and/or ecological risk assessments for all pesticides listed in Table 1 in Unit IV. After reviewing comments received during the public comment period, EPA may issue a revised risk assessment, explain any changes to the draft risk assessment, and respond to comments and may request public input on risk mitigation before completing a proposed registration review decision for the pesticides listed in Table 1 in Unit IV. Through this program, EPA is ensuring that each pesticide’s registration is based on current scientific and other knowledge, including its effects on human health and the environment.

III. Authority

EPA is conducting its registration review of the chemicals listed in Table 1 in Unit IV pursuant to section 3(g) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) and the Procedural Regulations for Registration Review at 40 CFR part 155, subpart C. Section 3(g) of FIFRA provides, among other things, that the registrations of pesticides are to be reviewed every 15 years. Under FIFRA, a pesticide product may be registered or remain registered only if it meets the statutory standard for registration given in FIFRA section 3(c)(5) (7 U.S.C. 136a(c)(5)). When used in accordance with widespread and commonly recognized practice, the pesticide product must perform its intended function without unreasonable adverse effects on the environment; that is, without any unreasonable risk to man or the environment, or a human dietary risk from residues that result from the use of a pesticide in or on food.

IV. What action is the Agency taking?

Pursuant to 40 CFR 155.58, this notice announces the availability of EPA’s human health and/or ecological risk assessments for the pesticides shown in Table 1 and opens a 60-day public comment period on the risk assessments.

TABLE 1—DRAFT RISK ASSESSMENTS BEING MADE AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC COMMENT

Registration review case name and number	Docket ID number	Chemical review manager and contact information
Acrolein Case 2005	EPA-HQ-OPP-2015-0571	Katherine Atha, atha.katherine@epa.gov , (202) 566-1933. Peter Bergquist, bergquist.peter@epa.gov , (202) 566-0648.

Pursuant to 40 CFR 155.53(c), EPA is providing an opportunity, through this notice of availability, for interested parties to provide comments and input concerning the Agency’s draft human health and/or ecological risk assessments for the pesticides listed in Table 1 in Unit IV. The Agency will consider all comments received during the public comment period and make changes, as appropriate, to a draft human health and/or ecological risk assessment. EPA may then issue a revised risk assessment, explain any changes to the draft risk assessment, and respond to comments.

Information submission requirements. Anyone may submit data or information in response to this document. To be considered during a pesticide’s registration review, the submitted data or information must meet the following requirements:

- To ensure that EPA will consider data or information submitted, interested persons must submit the data or information during the comment period. The Agency may, at its discretion, consider data or information submitted at a later date.

- The data or information submitted must be presented in a legible and useable form. For example, an English translation must accompany any material that is not in English, and a written transcript must accompany any information submitted as an audio-graphic or video-graphic record. Written material may be submitted in paper or electronic form.

- Submitters must clearly identify the source of any submitted data or information.

- Submitters may request the Agency to reconsider data or information that the Agency rejected in a previous review. However, submitters must explain why they believe the Agency should reconsider the data or information in the pesticide’s registration review.

As provided in 40 CFR 155.58, the registration review docket for each pesticide case will remain publicly accessible through the duration of the registration review process; that is, until all actions required in the final decision on the registration review case have been completed.

Authority: 7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.

Dated: April 27, 2022.

Synopsis

1. On December 1, 2020, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 86 FR 1909 (Jan. 11, 2021) (NPRM), in this proceeding, seeking comment on whether to modify the Commission's rules governing the operation of FM booster stations in certain limited circumstances to allow for geo-targeted content. The time period for filing comments and reply comments on the NPRM closed on March 12, 2021. Since that time, GeoBroadcast Solutions sought, and the Bureau has approved, experimental authority to test the technology in San Jose, California with station KSJO(FM), and in Jackson, Mississippi with station WRBJ-FM. As part of this authority, GeoBroadcast Solutions was required to file in the Commission's Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS) technical reports on testing it conducted for both stations. Those reports contain detailed technical discussions about the operation of GeoBroadcast Solutions' booster technology, its compatibility with the Emergency Alert System, and its impact on digital FM broadcasts. This technical information was not available to the public at the time comments and reply comments were due.

2. In light of these recent developments and to provide a complete record on developments since the completion of the commenting cycle in this matter, the Media Bureau seeks public comment on these test reports, as well as other documents filed in this proceeding since March 12, 2021. Interested parties may file comments and reply comments by the dates listed above using ECFS or by submitting paper copies to the Commission's Office of the Secretary. Commenters should follow the comment filing instructions provided in paragraph 36 of the NPRM, 35 FCC Rcd 14213 (2020), 86 FR 1909 (Jan. 11, 2021).

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICESCenters for Medicare & Medicaid Services

[Document Identifiers: CMS-10718]

Agency Information Collection Activities: Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request

AGENCY: Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, Health and Human Services (HHS).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) is announcing an opportunity for the public to comment on CMS' intention to collect information from the public. Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA), federal agencies are required to publish notice in the Federal Register concerning each proposed collection of information, including each proposed extension or reinstatement of an existing collection of information, and to allow a second opportunity for public comment on the notice. Interested persons are invited to send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including the necessity and utility of the proposed information collection for the proper performance of the agency's functions, the accuracy of the estimated burden, ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected, and the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology to minimize the information collection burden.

DATES: Comments on the collection(s) of information must be received by the OMB desk officer by June 6, 2022.

ADDRESSES: Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collection should be sent within 30 days of publication of this notice to www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAMain. Find this particular information collection by selecting "Currently under 30-day Review—Open for Public Comments" or by using the search function.

To obtain copies of a supporting statement and any related forms for the proposed collection(s) summarized in this notice, you may make your request using one of following:

1. Access CMS' website address at website address at: <https://www.cms.gov/Regulations-and-Guidance/Legislation/PaperworkReductionActof1995/PRA-Listing.html>

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

William Parham at (410) 786-4669.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501-3520), federal agencies must obtain approval from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for each collection of information they conduct or sponsor. The term "collection of information" is defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(3) and 5 CFR 1320.3(c) and includes agency requests or requirements that members of the public submit reports, keep records, or provide information to a third party. Section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the PRA (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)) requires federal agencies to publish a 30-day notice in the Federal Register concerning each proposed collection of information, including each proposed extension or reinstatement of an existing collection of information, before submitting the collection to OMB for approval. To comply with this requirement, CMS is publishing this notice that summarizes the following proposed collection(s) of information for public comment:

1. Type of Information Collection Request: Revision of a currently approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Model Medicare Advantage and Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Individual Enrollment Request; Use: The enrollment form is considered a "model" under Medicare regulations at §§ 422.2262 and 423.2262, for purposes of communication and marketing review and approval; therefore, MA and Part D plans are able to modify the language, content, format, or order of the enrollment form. The model enrollment form includes the minimal amount of information to process the enrollment, located in Section 1, and other limited information, in Section 2, that the sponsor is required (i.e., race and ethnicity data, accessible format preference) or chooses to provide to the beneficiary (i.e., premium payment information). The optional data elements, which aid the MA and Part D plans in processing the enrollment, is developed for efficiency for the plans. Plan sponsors can obtain information at the initial point of contact to help streamline the beneficiary's enrollment process. The optional questions include information, specific to the plan's business needs that serves to reduce overall burden and allow for timely processing of an enrollment request. All data elements in Section 2 are optional for the beneficiary to complete, but the plan will be required to have the questions on the enrollment forms. Plan enrollment will not be affected if the beneficiary does not complete this additional information.

With the long-term goal of collecting race and ethnicity data from all Medicare beneficiaries, CMS will focus initial efforts on beneficiaries who newly elect or change coverage in the Medicare Part C and D program. The detailed race and ethnicity categories collected through the demographic pilot on the enrollment form will be compliant with the 2011 HHS Data Collection Standards to provide granular information for plans and CMS to understand the diversity of the beneficiary population. The data will be used to: (1) Explore the response rate to race and ethnicity questions as a whole and how it intersects with beneficiary income and other demographics; (2) Conduct focus groups, to be approved in a separate PRA package, among non-responders to the race and ethnicity questions to understand how people who elect to not respond to the race and ethnicity questions perceive the addition of those questions on the form; (3) Continue to test CMS' race and ethnicity imputation models by adding additional race and ethnicity data to the data CMS already has; and (4) Determine the data necessary for sufficient samples sizes to conduct analyses of disaggregated race and ethnicity categories. As part of a broader health equity effort, CMS has interest in identifying patterns of differences across many key process and care outcomes by sociodemographic characteristics, including race and ethnicity. To best characterize these differences, self-reported and granular data are needed. Collecting these data will support efforts to continue to strengthen, for example, CMS OMH's stratified reporting efforts, which currently do consider quality indicators by race and ethnicity, but at present these data are not granular and not self-reported. In addition, this data will allow us to validate imputation methods CMS currently uses for race and ethnicity, to ensure that we do not rely on methodologies that unintentionally create or exacerbate disparities. To assess readiness for analysis of collected data (particularly with regard to considering sample sizes, especially of small groups), continual assessment will be required—simultaneously as enrollment happens—because readiness will depend partly on distribution of responses to these items by enrollees.

These categories are of great interest to CMS and will improve the accuracy of current data sets. We acknowledge that it may take several years of data collection to conduct other meaningful studies CMS intends to pursue that are not listed above. In addition to the aforementioned uses, CMS will ultimately use this information to: Track beneficiary enrollment, including tracking patterns in enrollment by race and ethnicity over time; to identify, monitor, and develop effective and efficient strategies and incentives to reduce and eliminate health and health care inequities; to validate existing race and ethnicity imputation methods; and to ensure that clinically appropriate and equitable care (in terms of payment, access, and quality) is consistently provided to all beneficiaries. Form Number: CMS-10718 (OMB control number: 0938-1378); Frequency: Yearly; Affected Public: State, Local, or Tribal Governments, Federal Government, Private Sector (Business or other for-profits and Not-for-profits); Number of Respondents: 80,539,628; Number of Responses: 80,539,628; Total Annual Hours: 8,567,975. (For questions regarding this collection contact Deme Umo at (410) 786-8854.)

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

William Parham at (410) 786-4669.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501-3520), federal agencies must obtain approval from the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for each collection of information they conduct or sponsor. The term "collection of information" is defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(3) and 5 CFR 1320.3(c) and includes agency requests or requirements that members of the public submit reports, keep records, or provide information to a third party. Section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the PRA (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)) requires federal agencies to publish a 30-day notice in the Federal Register concerning each proposed collection of information, including each proposed extension or reinstatement of an existing collection of information, before submitting the collection to OMB for approval. To comply with this requirement, CMS is publishing this notice that summarizes the following proposed collection(s) of information for public comment:

1. Type of Information Collection Request: Reinstatement with change of a previously approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Independent Renal Dialysis Facility Cost Report; Use: Under the authority of sections 1815(a) and 1833(e) of the Act, CMS requires that providers of services participating in the Medicare program submit information to determine costs for health care services rendered to Medicare beneficiaries. CMS requires that providers follow reasonable cost principles under 1861(v)(1)(A) of the Act when completing the Medicare cost report (MCR). Regulations at 42 CFR 413.20 and 413.24 require that providers submit acceptable cost reports on an annual basis and maintain sufficient financial records and statistical data, capable of verification by qualified auditors.

ESRD facilities participating in the Medicare program submit these cost reports annually to report cost and statistical data used by CMS to determine reasonable costs incurred for furnishing dialysis services to Medicare beneficiaries and to effect the year-end cost settlement for Medicare bad debts. Form Number: CMS-265-11 (OMB control number: 0938-0236); Frequency: Annually; Affected Public: Private Sector, Business or other for-profits, State, Local, or Tribal Governments); Number of Respondents: 7,492; Total Annual Responses: 7,492; Total Annual Hours: 494,472. (For questions regarding this collection contact Keplinger, Jill C. at 410-786-4550.)

2. Type of Information Collection Request: Reinstatement without change of a previously approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Good Cause Processes; Use: Section 1851(g)(3)(B)(i) of the Act provides that MA organizations may terminate the enrollment of individuals who fail to pay basic and supplemental premiums after a grace period established by the plan. Section 1860D-1(b)(1)(B)(v) of the Act generally directs us to establish rules related to enrollment, disenrollment, and termination for Part D plan sponsors that are similar to those established for MA organizations under section 1851 of the Act. Consistent with these sections of the Act, subpart B in each of the Parts C and D regulations sets forth requirements with respect to involuntary disenrollment procedures at 42 CFR 422.74 and 423.44, respectively. In addition, section 1876(c)(3)(B) establishes that individuals may be disenrolled from coverage as specified in regulations. Thus, current regulations at 42 CFR 417.460 specify that a cost plan, specifically a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) or competitive medical plan (CMP), may disenroll a member who fails to pay premiums or other charges imposed by the plan for deductible and coinsurance amounts.

These good cause provisions authorize CMS to reinstate a disenrolled individual's enrollment without interruption in coverage if the non-payment is due to circumstances that the individual could not reasonably foresee or could not control, such as an unexpected hospitalization. At its inception, the process of accepting, reviewing, and processing beneficiary requests for reinstatement for good cause was carried out exclusively by CMS. Form Number: CMS-10544 (OMB control number: 0938-1271); Frequency: Annually; Affected Public: Business or other for-profits State, Local, or Tribal Governments); Number of Respondents: 312; Total Annual Responses: 41,289; Total Annual Hours: 27,499. (For questions regarding this collection contact Ronke Fabayo at (410) 786-4460.)

3. Type of Information Collection Request: Extension of a currently approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Affordable Care Act Internal Claims and Appeals and External Review Procedures for Non-grandfathered Group Health Plans and Issuers and Individual Market Issuers; Use: The information collection requirements ensure that claimants receive adequate information regarding the plan's claims procedures and the plan's handling of specific benefit claims. Claimants need to understand plan procedures and plan decisions in order to appropriately request benefits and/or appeal benefit denials. The information collected in connection with the HHS-administered federal external review process is collected by HHS, and is used to provide claimants with an independent external review. Form Number: CMS-10338 (OMB control number: 0938-1099); Frequency: Occasionally; Affected Public: Private Sector (Business or other for-profit and Not-for-profit institutions); Number of Respondents: 497,262; Total Annual Responses: 517,014,153; Total Annual Hours: 1,198,692. (For policy questions regarding this collection contact Laura Byabazaire at 301-492-4128.)

4. Type of Information Collection Request: Revision of a currently approved collection; Title of Information Collection: Review Choice Demonstration for Home Health Services; Use: Section 402(a)(1)(J) of the Social Security Amendments of 1967 (42 U.S.C. 1395b-1(a)(1)(J)) authorizes the Secretary to "develop or demonstrate improved methods for the investigation and prosecution of fraud in the provision of care or services under the health programs established by the Social Security Act (the Act)." Pursuant to this authority, the CMS seeks to develop and implement a Medicare demonstration project, which

CMS believes will help assist in developing improved procedures for the identification, investigation, and prosecution of Medicare fraud occurring among Home Health Agencies (HHA) providing services to Medicare beneficiaries.

This revised demonstration helps assist in developing improved procedures for the identification, investigation, and prosecution of potential Medicare fraud. The demonstration helps make sure that payments for home health services are appropriate through either pre-claim or postpayment review, thereby working towards the prevention and identification of potential fraud, waste, and abuse; the protection of Medicare Trust Funds from improper payments; and the reduction of Medicare appeals. CMS has implemented the demonstration in Illinois, Ohio, North Carolina, Florida, and Texas with the option to expand to other states in the Palmetto/JM jurisdiction. Under this demonstration, CMS offers choices for providers to demonstrate their compliance with CMS' home health policies. Providers in the demonstration states may participate in either 100 percent pre-claim review or 100 percent post payment review. These providers will continue to be subject to a review method until the HHA reaches the target affirmation or claim approval rate. Once an HHA reaches the target pre-claim review affirmation or post-payment review claim approval rate, it may choose to be relieved from claim reviews, except for a spot check of their claims to ensure continued compliance. Providers who do not wish to participate in either 100 percent pre-claim or post payment reviews have the option to furnish home health services and submit the associated claim for payment without undergoing such reviews; however, they will receive a 25 percent payment reduction on all claims submitted for home health services and may be eligible for review by the Recovery Audit Contractors.

The information required under this collection is required by Medicare contractors to determine proper payment or if there is a suspicion of fraud. Under the pre-claim review option, the HHA sends the pre-claim review request along with all required documentation to the Medicare contractor for review prior to submitting the final claim for payment. If a claim is submitted without a pre-claim review decision one file, the Medicare contractor will request the information from the HHA to determine if payment is appropriate. For the post payment review option, the Medicare contractor will also request the information from the HHA provider who submitted the claim for payment from the Medicare program to determine if payment was appropriate. Form Number: CMS-10599 (OMB control number: 0938-1311); Frequency: Frequently, until the HHA reaches the target affirmation or claim approval threshold and then occasionally; Affected Public: Private Sector (Business or other for-profits and Not-for-profits); Number of Respondents: 3,631; Number of Responses: 1,467,243; Total Annual Hours: 7,445,143. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Administration for Children and Families

Proposed Information Collection Activity: National Medical Support Notice Part A (OMB No.: 0970-0222)

AGENCY: Office of Child Support Enforcement, Administration for Children and Families, HHS.

ACTION: Request for public comment.

SUMMARY: The Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE), Administration for Children and Families (ACF), is requesting a 3-year extension of the National Medical Support Notice (NMSN) Part A. This request includes minor revisions to the NMSN Part A form, revisions to and separation of the instructions into a stand-alone attachment, a Part A sample, and the addition of the State Medical Support Contacts and Program Requirements matrix. The current Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approval expires on October 31, 2022.

DATES: Comments due within 60 days of publication. In compliance with the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, ACF is soliciting public comment on the specific aspects of the information collection described above.

ADDRESSES: You can obtain copies of the proposed collection of information and submit comments by emailing infocollection@acf.hhs.gov. All requests should be identified by the title of the information collection.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Description: Federal law requires that all child support orders under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act include medical coverage. The Child Support Performance and Incentive Act of 1998 (CSPIA) requires enforcement of this provision; the NMSN Part A is the means to enforce health care orders.

This information collection expedites requests for medical coverage between state child support enforcement agencies and employers. OCSE maintains Part A of the NMSN, which states initiate and send to a parent's employer to complete. States must supply some sensitive information to the parent's employer in order to enroll the child(ren) in the correct health coverage plan. This information includes names, dates of birth, Social Security numbers, and addresses. The employer retains the income withholding part of the form and withholds from the employee's income any premium payments the health care plan may require. Then, the employer's health care administrator enrolls the child(ren) in the health care plan. The Department of Labor (DOL) maintains Part B of the NMSN. This request includes minor revisions to the NMSN Part A form, revisions to and separation of the instructions into a stand-alone attachment, a Part A sample, and the addition of the State Medical Support Contacts and Program Requirements matrix. OCSE will also request from OMB that the NMSN Part A expiration date match the expiration date of the NMSN Part B, which will be submitted by DOL.

Respondents: States and employers.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for industry entitled “Clinical Pharmacology Considerations for Human Radiolabeled Mass Balance Studies.” A human radiolabeled mass balance study is the single most direct method to obtain quantitative and comprehensive information on the absorption, distribution, metabolism, and excretion (ADME) of an investigational drug in the human body. The mass balance study can provide information to determine the overall pathways of metabolism and excretion of an investigational drug, identify circulating metabolites, and determine the abundance of metabolites relative to the parent or total drug-related exposure. This guidance provides FDA’s recommendations for clinical pharmacology considerations in conducting human radiolabeled mass balance studies, including: (1) Deciding whether and when to conduct the study, (2) designing the study, and (3) reporting results.

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on “Clinical Pharmacology Considerations for Human Radiolabeled Mass Balance Studies.” It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

While this guidance contains no collection of information, it does refer to previously approved FDA collections of information. Therefore, clearance by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA) (44 U.S.C. 3501-3521) is not required for this guidance. The previously approved collections of information are subject to review by OMB under the PRA. The collections of information for submission of investigational new drug applications in 21 CFR part 312 have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0014, and the collections of information for submission of new drug applications in 21 CFR part 314 have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0001.

III. Electronic Access

Persons with access to the internet may obtain the draft guidance at either <https://www.fda.gov/drugs/guidance-compliance-regulatory-information/guidances-drugs>, <https://www.fda.gov/regulatory-information/search-fda-guidance-documents>, or <https://www.regulations.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In compliance with 44 U.S.C. 3507, FDA

Antimicrobial Animal Drug Distribution Reports and Recordkeeping—21 CFR 514.87

OMB Control Number 0910–0659—Extension

Sponsors of approved or conditionally approved applications for new animal drugs containing an antimicrobial active ingredient are required by section 512 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FD&C Act) (21 U.S.C. 360b) to submit to FDA an annual report on the amount of each such ingredient in the drug that is sold or distributed for use in food-producing animals. Sponsors are also required to maintain distribution records for their animal drug products, including separate information for each month of the calendar year, under section 512(l)(3) of the FD&C Act. These provisions were enacted to assist FDA in our continuing analysis of the interactions (including drug resistance), efficacy, and safety of antimicrobials approved for use in both humans and food-producing animals for the purpose of mitigating the public health risk associated with antimicrobial resistance.

Section 514.87 of our regulations (21 CFR 514.87) codifies the reporting requirements established in the FD&C Act. Sponsors submit antimicrobial animal drug sales and distribution reports to us on Form FDA 3744. Each report must specify: (1) The amount of each antimicrobial active ingredient by container size, strength, and dosage form; (2) quantities distributed domestically and quantities exported; and (3) a listing of the target animals, indications, and production classes that are specified on the approved label of the product. The report must cover the period of the preceding calendar year and include separate information for each month of the calendar year. Each report must also provide a species-specific estimate of the percentage of each product that was sold or distributed domestically in the reporting year for use in cattle, swine, chickens, or turkeys for such species that appear on the approved label.

In the Federal Register of November 9, 2021 (86 FR 62178), we published a 60-day notice requesting public comment on the proposed collection of information. No comments were received.

We estimate the burden of this collection of information as follows:

21 CFR section	FDA form	Number of respondents	Number of responses per respondent	Total annual responses	Average burden per response	Total hours
514.87(a)–(e)—Annual Reports for Sponsors With Active Applications—Paper Submission	3,744	4	1.5	6	62	372
514.87(a)–(e)—Annual Reports for Sponsors With Active Applications—Electronic Submission	3,744	16	9.1	146	52	7,592
514.87(a)–(e)—Annual Reports for Sponsors With Inactive Applications—Paper Submission	3,744	5	3	15	2	30
514.87(a)–(e)—Annual Reports for Sponsors With Inactive Applications—Electronic Submission	3,744	16	12.6	201	2	402
Total						8,396

¹ There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.

We base our estimate of the average burden per response on our recent experience with the existing antimicrobial animal drug distribution reports program. We base our estimate of the number of affected respondents reported in tables 1 and 2 and the average number of responses per respondent in table 1 on a review of our records of sponsors with active and inactive applications. We estimate that 20 sponsors will have active applications, and we assume that 75 percent of the respondents will report electronically, while the other 25 percent will report on paper. We estimate that 4 sponsors with active applications will spend 62 hours annually to assemble the necessary information, prepare, and submit an annual antimicrobial animal drug sales and distribution report on paper and 16 sponsors with active applications will spend 52 hours annually to assemble the necessary information, prepare, and electronically submit an annual antimicrobial animal drug sales and distribution report. We estimate that 21 sponsors will have inactive applications, and we assume that 93 percent of these respondents will report electronically, while the other 7 percent will report on paper. We estimate that sponsors with inactive applications will spend 2 hours to prepare their annual antimicrobial animal drug sales and distribution reports, whether electronically or on paper.

Activity	Number of respondents	Number of records per respondent	Total annual records	Average burden per recordkeeping	Total hours
Recordkeeping required by section 512(l)(3) of the FD&C Act	21	1	21	2	42

¹ There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.

Animal drug manufacturers are already required to maintain distribution records for their animal drug products to comply with FDA's current good manufacturing regulations for periodic drug reports under § 514.80(b)(4)(i) (21 CFR 514.80(b)(4)(i)), approved under OMB control number 0910-0284. Section 512(l)(3) of the FD&C Act differs from § 514.80(b)(4)(i) in that it requires that records include separate information for each month of the calendar year. In addition, under 21 CFR 211.196 (approved under OMB control number 0910-0139), manufacturers currently are required to maintain distribution records that include dosage form, and date drug is distributed. Based on these requirements, FDA believes that manufacturers already keep detailed records of the dates when antimicrobial drugs are distributed for marketing and recall purposes from which monthly reports can be prepared as part of usual and customary business practices. However, FDA estimates an additional recordkeeping burden of 42 hours for further compliance with section 512(l)(3) of the FD&C Act, as detailed in table 2.

We have adjusted our burden estimate, which has resulted in a decrease to the currently approved burden. We attribute this to respondents who reported by paper in previous years and are now reporting electronically. We also note a decrease in recordkeeping respondents. We attribute this to the mergers of sponsors over the years.

Dated: April 29, 2022.

OMB Control Number 0910-0745—Extension

Tobacco products are governed by chapter IX of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sections 900 through 920) (21 U.S.C. 387 through 21 U.S.C. 387u). The FDA intends to issue regulations establishing standards for approved tobacco retailer training programs under section 906(d) of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 387f(d)). In the interim, FDA published a guidance document which can be downloaded at <https://www.fda.gov/regulatory-information/search-fda-guidance-documents/tobacco-retailer-training-programs>. The guidance is intended to assist tobacco retailers to voluntarily implement effective training programs for employees.

The guidance discusses recommended elements that should be covered in a training program, such as: (1) Federal laws restricting the access to, and the advertising and promotion of, cigarettes, smokeless, and covered tobacco products; (2) the health and economic effects of tobacco use, especially when the tobacco use begins at a young age; (3) written company policies against sales to youth and other restrictions on the access to, and the advertising and promotion of, tobacco products; (4) identification of the tobacco products sold in the retail establishment that are subject to the Federal laws and regulations prohibiting their sale to underage persons; (5) age verification methods; (6) practical guidelines for refusing sales; and (7) testing to ensure that employees have the required knowledge. The guidance recommends that retailers require current and new employees to take a written test prior to selling tobacco products and that refresher training be provided at least annually and more frequently as needed. The guidance recommends that retailers maintain certain written records documenting that all individual employees have been trained and that retailers retain these records for 4 years in order to be able to provide evidence of a training program during the 48-month time period covered by the civil money penalty schedules outlined in the law.

The guidance also recommends that retailers implement certain hiring and management practices as part of an effective retailer training program. The guidance suggests that applicants and current employees be notified both verbally and in writing of the importance of complying with laws prohibiting the sales of tobacco products to underage persons. In addition, FDA recommends that retailers implement an internal compliance check program and document the procedures and corrective actions for the program.

FDA estimates the burden of this collection of information as follows:

Activity; guidance section IV	Number of respondents	Number of responses per respondent	Total annual responses	Average burden per response	Total hours
Develop training program	79,700	1	79,700	16	1,275,200
Develop written policy against sales to youth and employee acknowledgement	79,700	1	79,700	1	79,700
Develop internal compliance check program	79,700	1	79,700	8	637,600
Total					1,992,500

Activity; guidance section IV	Number of recordkeepers	Number of records per recordkeeper	Total annual records	Average burden per recordkeeper	Total hours
Training program	79,700	4	318,800	0.25 (15 minutes)	79,700
Written policy against sales to youth and employee acknowledgement.	79,700	4	318,800	0.10 (6 minutes)	31,880
Internal compliance check program	79,700	2	159,400	0.5 (30 minutes)	79,700

¹ There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.

FDA’s estimate of the number of respondents in tables 1 and 2 is based on data from the deeming rule Final Regulatory Impact Analysis,¹ which showed there are an estimated 362,273 retail establishments that currently sell tobacco products. The Agency reviewed these numbers again for this notice, and believe they are an accurate estimation. We assume that 75 percent of tobacco retailers already have some sort of age and identification verification training program in place. We expect that some of those retailer training programs already meet the elements in the guidance, some retailers would update their training program to meet the elements in the guidance, and other retailers would develop a training program for the first time. Thus, we estimate that two-thirds of tobacco retailers would develop a training program that meets the elements in the guidance (66 percent of 362,273 = 239,100; then annualized to 79,700).

We have adjusted our burden estimate and the number of respondents, which has resulted in a decrease to the currently approved burden and respondent count. This adjustment is based on available data estimating the number of retail establishments that sell tobacco products in the United States. Additionally, the burden chart was updated to reflect a change from an estimation over the course of 3 years to annualized burden.

Proposed Collection; 60-Day Comment Request; Generic Clearance for Conferences, Meetings, Workshops, Poster Sessions and Registrations (Office of the Director)

AGENCY: National Institutes of Health, HHS.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: In compliance with the requirement of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 to provide opportunity for public comment on proposed data collection projects, the National Institutes of Health Office of the Director (OD) will publish periodic summaries of proposed projects to be submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for review and approval.

DATES: Comments regarding this information collection are best assured of having their full effect if received within 60 days of the date of this publication.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: To obtain a copy of the data collection plans and instruments, submit comments in writing, or request more information on the proposed project, contact: Ms. Mikia P. Currie, Chief, Project Clearance Branch (PCB), Office of Policy for Extramural Research Administration, 6705 Rockledge Drive, Suite 803-B, Bethesda, Maryland 20892, or call non-toll-free number (301) 435-0941 or Email your request, including your address to: curriem@mail.nih.gov. Formal requests for additional plans and instruments must be requested in writing.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 requires: Written comments and/or suggestions from the public and affected agencies are invited to address one or more of the following points: (1) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the function of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility; (2) The accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (3)

Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) Ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

Proposed Collection Title: Generic Clearance for Conferences, Meetings, Workshops, Poster Sessions and Registrations, exp., date 07/31/2022, Office of the Director (OD), National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Need and Use of Information Collection: The information collection encompassed by this generic clearance continues to allow NIH to select the most appropriate participants for non-grantee activities sponsored, organized, and run by NIH staff, according to the type and purpose of the activity. For example, NIH may develop an application process or information collection to select a limited number of researchers to participate in a poster session, identify speakers and panelists with desired expertise on a specific topic to be covered at a meeting, or determine which researchers would mostly likely benefit from a training course or other opportunity. For NIH to plan and conduct activities that are timely for participants in their field of research, it is often necessary for such information to be collected within a relatively short turnaround time. In general, submitted abstracts or other application materials will be reviewed by an internal NIH committee responsible for planning the activities. This committee will be responsible for selecting and notifying participants. The information collected for these activities generally include title, author(s), and institution/organization, poster size and character limitations along with other requirements. This information is necessary to identify attendees eligible, present research, speak on panels, and discuss innovative approaches to science and technology for poster presentations among their peers. The registration form collects information from interested parties to register them and obtain the necessary qualifications for conferences, meetings, workshops, poster sessions, presentations and panels.

OMB approval is requested for 3 years. There are no costs to respondents other than their time. The total estimated annualized burden hours are 8,875.

ADVISORY COUNCIL ON HISTORIC PRESERVATION

Notice of Intent To Request Public Comment on Draft Exemption From Historic Preservation Review for Electric Vehicle Supply Equipment

AGENCY: Advisory Council on Historic Preservation.

ACTION: Request for Public Comment on Draft Exemption from Historic Preservation Review for Electric Vehicle Supply Equipment.

SUMMARY: The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) proposes an exemption that would relieve Federal agencies from the requirement of taking into account the effects of their undertakings on historic properties that involve the installation of certain electric vehicle supply equipment (EVSE). The proposed exemption would allow all Federal agencies to forego the historic preservation review process required for Federal undertakings and more quickly implement EVSE infrastructure for the Federal fleet. The public is invited to comment on the draft exemption before it is finalized and submitted for review and potential adoption by the ACHP.

DATES: Submit comments on or before June 4, 2022.

ADDRESSES: Address all comments concerning this exemption to Jaime Loichinger, Assistant Director, Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, at program_alternatives@achp.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jaime Loichinger, (202) 517-0219, jloichinger@achp.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act, 54 U.S.C. 306108 (Section 106 and NHPA), requires Federal agencies to consider the effects of their undertakings on historic properties, and provide the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) a reasonable opportunity to comment with regard to such undertakings. Historic properties are those properties that are listed in the National Register of Historic Places (National Register) or eligible for such listing.

The NHPA authorizes the ACHP to promulgate regulations for exempting undertakings from any or all of the requirements of Section 106 (54 U.S.C. 304108(c)). The Section 106 regulations, found at 36 CFR part 800, detail the process for the approval of such exemptions (36 CFR 800.14(c)).

In accordance with section 800.14(c), the ACHP may approve an exemption for an undertaking if it finds that: (i) The actions within the program or category would otherwise qualify as “undertakings” as defined in 36 CFR 800.16; (ii) the potential effects of the undertakings within the program or category upon historic properties are foreseeable and likely to be minimal or not adverse; and (iii) exemption of the program or category is consistent with the purposes of the NHPA.

I. Background

In 2021, three Executive Orders were issued regarding Federal vehicle, or fleet, electrification: (1) E.O. 14005, Ensuring the Future is Made in All of America by All of America’s Workers, commits the Federal government to upgrade the entire Federal fleet to electric vehicles (EVs); (2) E.O. 14008, Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad, prioritizes the development of a Federal Clean Electricity and Vehicle Procurement Strategy and directs Federal agencies to upgrade the entire Federal fleet to EVs; and (3) E.O. 14057, Catalyzing Clean Energy Industries and Jobs Through Federal Sustainability, sets a goal of 100 percent zero emission vehicle Federal acquisitions by 2035, including 100 percent light duty vehicle Federal acquisitions by 2027. Additionally, the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) of 2021 (Pub. L. 117-58, 135 Stat. 429) appropriates $550 billion for new infrastructure investments. The IIJA includes provisions to increase investment in electric vehicle supply equipment (EVSE), alternative fuel infrastructure, EV batteries, electricity grid upgrades, and light-, medium-, and heavy-duty zero emission vehicles.

Due to these requirements, Federal agencies are anticipated to propose activities to carry out, license, approve, or fund undertakings to electrify Federal vehicles and provide electric vehicle supply equipment (EVSE) that have the potential to affect historic properties and therefore, require Section 106 review.

An EV produces zero tailpipe emissions, dramatically lowering smog and greenhouse gas emissions even when considering electricity generation (EV refers to both Battery Electric Vehicles and Plug-in Hybrid Electric Vehicles). EVs have the potential to significantly improve Federal fleet efficiency and reduce vehicle operation and maintenance costs. EVs require EVSE. Commonly referred to as charging stations, EVSE is the hardware of the charging infrastructure that transfers energy to a vehicle. EVSE can be wall- or pole-mounted, co-located or stand alone, and vary in design, size, charging speed and energy use.

II. Exemption Concept and Criteria

In considering how to address the anticipated increase in undertakings as a result of these requirements, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) assembled an ad hoc working group of Federal Preservation Officers (FPOs) to discuss EV priorities and the potential effects of the EVSE program on historic properties. Through consultation with fleet technical experts, the working group defined the undertakings to be addressed by the proposed exemption as the installation, maintenance, repair, and expansion of Levels 1, 2, and 3 EVSE as defined by the General Services Administration. DHS approached the ACHP with the concept of the proposed exemption, at which time the ACHP determined it would avail itself of the regulatory process to propose the exempted category itself. The government-wide priority for fleet electrification and EVSE installation merited ACHP coordination of the proposal to ensure broad and appropriate consultation for an exemption likely to be applied across multiple Federal agency programs.

The EVSE undertakings would require minimal changes to distinctive building materials, features, spaces, and spatial relationships, including landscapes and streetscapes. With few exceptions, these undertakings include co-location with existing electrical infrastructure; utilization of existing parking areas and structures; are incorporated within public transportation rights-of-way designs that would be compatible with the architecture, scale, and design of the facility or surrounding environments; and use reversible, non-permanent techniques to affix infrastructure. To ensure minimal and non-adverse effects, the undertakings must utilize the lowest profile equipment that can supply the charging capacity needed for the location, be placed in a location that would minimize visual intrusions, and/or the utility boxes would utilize complementary colors to ensure minimal effects, for the exemption to apply. EVSE installation would be undertaken in such a manner that, if removed in the future, the character-defining form and integrity of an historic property and its environment would be unimpaired. Due to the types of undertakings proposed and the conditions to be imposed on the undertakings, the potential effects would likely be minimal or not adverse to historic properties.

Consistent with 36 CFR 800.14(c)(1), Section 106 exemptions must meet certain criteria. The ACHP believes that the proposed exemption, which appears below, meets these criteria. The exemption aligns with the NHPA because it reflects an effort to harmonize modernization and climate change reduction measures with continued use of historic properties. As described above and in the exemption text, the EVSE will be restricted to existing footprints, and would use reversible, non-permanent techniques for installation, where appropriate. As such, the effects of the proposed undertakings are foreseeable and would be minimal or not adverse.

III. Public Participation and Consultation

In accordance with 36 CFR 800.14(c)(2), public participation regarding exemptions must be arranged on a level appropriate to the subject and scope of the exemption. This notice is intended to meet the requirement for public participation in the development of this exemption. Additionally, the ACHP created a dedicated web page for the proposed exemption and will conduct social media outreach. In developing this proposed exemption, the ACHP is also consulting directly with State Historic Preservation Officers, Indian Tribes, Tribal Historic Preservation Officers, and Native Hawaiian organizations.

IV. Text of Exemption

The full text of the proposed exemption is reproduced below:

Exemption Regarding Historic Preservation Review Process for Undertakings Involving Electric Vehicle Supply Equipment

I. Exemption From Section 106 Requirements

Except as noted in Section II, all Federal agencies are exempt from the Section 106 requirement of taking into account the effects of undertakings they propose to carry out, license, approve, or fund activities to install, maintain, repair, or expand EVSE and Level 1, 2, or 3 charging stations, provided those undertakings take place in existing parking areas and structures and use reversible, non-permanent techniques to affix the infrastructure. Agencies must utilize the lowest profile equipment, place the EVSE in a minimally visibly intrusive area, and use complementary colors, where possible.

Each Federal agency remains responsible for considering the effects of its undertakings on historic properties that are not subject to this exemption, in accordance with subpart B of the Section 106 regulations or according to an applicable program alternative executed pursuant to 36 CFR 800.14.

II. Undertakings Excluded From Exemption

Undertakings that have the potential to affect historic properties of religious and cultural significance to Indian tribes or Native Hawaiian Organizations shall require individual Section 106 review.

III. Application on Tribal Lands

This exemption shall not apply to undertakings proposed to occur on or affect historic properties located on tribal lands unless the Tribe has provided prior written notification to the ACHP that it agrees with the use of the exemption on its tribal lands. Indian Tribes can agree to such use of the exemption by completing the attached form (Attachment A), with the signature of the relevant Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, Indian tribe, or a designated representative of the tribe, and submitting the completed form to the ACHP. The exemption would then be applicable to undertakings proposed to occur on or affect historic properties located on those tribal lands when the ACHP provides notice on its WEBSITE of such agreement.

IV. Existing Agreements

This exemption is not intended to amend, invalidate, or otherwise modify Section 106 agreements in existence at the time this exemption goes into effect.

V. Potential for Termination

The ACHP may terminate this exemption in accordance with 36 CFR 800.14(c)(7) if it determines that the purposes of Section 106 are not adequately met.

VI. Definitions

The following definitions shall apply to this exemption:

a. "Section 106" means Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (54 U.S.C. 306108) and its implementing regulations at 36 CFR part 800.

b. "Undertaking" means a project, activity, or program funded in whole or in part under the direct or indirect jurisdiction of a Federal agency, including those carried out by or on behalf of a Federal agency; those carried out with Federal financial assistance; and those requiring a Federal permit, license, or approval.

c. "Electric Vehicle Supply Equipment" (EVSE) means conductors, including the ungrounded, grounded, and equipment grounding conductors and the electric vehicle connectors, attachment plugs, and all other fittings, devices, power outlets, or apparatus installed specifically for the purpose of delivering energy from the premises wiring to the EV. There are three levels of EVSE:

i. Level 1—Refers to a freestanding or wall mounted charging structure that delivers a 110/120V charge, replenishing an EV battery at a rate of 4 to 6 miles of range per hour of charging time. Charging an EV at level 1 typically takes between 7 and 20 hours depending on the size of the vehicle's battery.

ii. Level 2—Refers to a freestanding or wall mounted charging structure that delivers a 208/240V charge, replenishing an EV battery at a rate of 10 to 20 miles of range per hour of charging time. Charging an EV at level 2 typically takes between 2 and 5 hours depending on the size of the vehicle's battery.

iii. Level 3 (also known as Direct Current (DC) Fast Charging)—Usually a freestanding or wall mounted structure capable of being networked that is designed to charge vehicles more quickly than level I or level II with an electrical output ranging between 40 kW–120 kW delivering a charge from 480V or 208V. Converts AC power to DC within the charging station and deliver DC power directly to the battery. DC fast charging can typically replenish an EV battery at a rate of 50 to 90 miles of range per 30 minutes of charging time.

d. "Tribal lands" means all lands within the exterior boundaries of any Indian reservation and all dependent Indian communities.

OMB Control Number: 1625-0001.

Summary: Marine casualty information is needed for CG investigations of commercial vessel casualties involving death, vessel damage, etc., as mandated by Congress. Chemical testing information is needed to improve CG detection/reduction of drug use by mariners.

Need: Section 6101 of 46 U.S.C., as delegated by the Secretary of Homeland Security to the Commandant, authorizes the Coast Guard to prescribe regulations for the reporting of marine casualties involving death, serious injury, material loss of property, material damage affecting the seaworthiness of a vessel, or significant harm to the environment. It also requires information on the use of alcohol be included in a marine casualty report. Section 7503 of 46 U.S.C. authorizes the Coast Guard to deny the issuance of licenses, certificates of registry, and merchant mariner's documents (seaman's papers) to users of dangerous drugs. Similarly, 46 U.S.C. 7704 requires the Coast Guard to revoke such papers unless a holder provides satisfactory proofs that the holder has successfully completed a rehabilitation program acceptable to the U.S. Coast Guard and is determined to be, by a competent substance abuse professional, free from misuse of chemical substances and that the risk of subsequent misuse of chemical substances is sufficiently low to justify returning to safety-sensitive positions.

On October 20, 2021, we published in the Federal Register (86 FR 58091) a notice of our intent to request that OMB renew this information collection. In that notice, we solicited comments for 60 days, ending on December 20, 2021. We received one comment in response to that notice which did not address the information collection requirements. No response is required.

As part of our continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burdens, we invite the public and other Federal agencies to comment on new, proposed, revised, and continuing collections of information. This helps us assess the impact of our information collection requirements and minimize the public's reporting burden. It also helps the public understand our information collection requirements and provide the requested data in the desired format.

We are especially interested in public comment addressing the following:

- (1) Whether or not the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether or not the information will have practical utility;
- (2) The accuracy of our estimate of the burden for this collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- (3) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- (4) How might the agency minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of response.

Comments that you submit in response to this notice are a matter of public record. We will include or summarize each comment in our request to OMB to approve this ICR. Before including your address, phone number, email address, or other personal identifying information in your comment, you should be aware that your entire comment—including your personal identifying information—may be made publicly available at any time. While you can ask us in your comment to withhold your personal identifying information from public review, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so.

Abstract: The Migratory Bird Treaty Act (MBTA; 16 U.S.C. 703 et seq.) prohibits the unauthorized take of migratory birds and authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to regulate take of migratory birds in the United States. Under this authority, we control the hunting of migratory game birds through regulations in 50 CFR part 20. On January 1, 1991, we banned lead shot for hunting waterfowl and coots in the United States.

This is a non-form collection. Regulations at 50 CFR 20.134 outline the application and approval process for new types of nontoxic shot. When considering approval of a candidate material as nontoxic, we must ensure that it is not hazardous in the environment and that secondary exposure (ingestion of spent shot or its components) is not a hazard to migratory birds. To make that decision, we require each applicant to provide information about the solubility and toxicity of the candidate material. Additionally, for law enforcement purposes, a noninvasive field detection device must be available to distinguish candidate shot from lead shot. This information constitutes the bulk of an application for approval of nontoxic shot. The Director uses the data in the application to decide whether to approve a material as nontoxic.

Title of Collection: Approval Procedures for Nontoxic Shot and Shot Coatings (50 CFR 20.134).

OMB Control Number: 1018-0067.

Form Number: None.

Type of Review: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Respondents/Affected Public: Businesses that produce and/or market approved nontoxic shot types or nontoxic shot coatings.

Total Estimated Number of Annual Respondents: 1.

Total Estimated Number of Annual Responses: 1.

Estimated Completion Time per Response: 3,200 hours.

Total Estimated Number of Annual Burden Hours: 3,200 hours.

Respondent's Obligation: Required to obtain or retain a benefit.

Frequency of Collection: On occasion.

Total Estimated Annual Nonhour Burden Cost: $26,630 ($1,630 application processing fee and $25,000 for solubility testing).

An agency may not conduct or sponsor and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

The authority for this action is the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Purpose and Need for the Proposed Action

In accordance with section 10(a)(2)(A) of the Endangered Species Act (ESA), Oregon Department of State Lands (ODSL, or the applicant) intends to submit the draft Elliott State Research Forest Habitat Conservation Plan (ESRF HCP) to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) and the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) (together, the Services) in support of applications for incidental take permits (ITPs) for the threatened northern spotted owl (Strix occidentalis), threatened marbled murrelet (Brachyramphus marmoratus), and threatened Oregon Coast coho (Oncorhynchus kisutch) (together, the covered species). The requested ITPs would authorize incidental take of covered species likely to result from research and management related activities on the Elliott State Forest, located in Coos and Douglas Counties in southwestern Oregon, including timber removal associated with a suite of forest management prescriptions and associated infrastructure maintenance. The HCP will include minimization and mitigation measures to offset the impacts of the taking on covered species.

To meet our requirements under NEPA, we intend to prepare a draft environmental impact statement (DEIS) and, later, a final environmental impact statement (FEIS), to evaluate the effects on the human environment of issuing the requested permit and ODSL's implementation of the ESRF HCP. NMFS is a cooperating agency and intends to adopt the EIS to address the impacts of issuing an ITP addressing the listed species under its jurisdiction (Oregon Coast coho salmon).

ODSL's goals are to implement forest management activities on the Elliott State Forest to create a managed landscape where experimentation can occur. The goal of research on the Elliott State Forest is to advance more sustainable forest management practices through the application of a systems-based approach investigating the integration of intensively managed forests, forest reserves, dynamically managed complex forests, and the aquatic and riparian ecosystems that flow within them. ODSL's ESRF HCP conservation strategy also includes goals specific to offsetting impacts to the covered species. FWS has taken these goals into account in establishing the purpose and need for the proposed action, which are (1) to review the applicant's ITP request; and (2) to either grant, grant with conditions, or deny the ITP request in compliance with FWS's authority under applicable law, including, without limitation, section 10(a) of the ESA and applicable ESA implementing regulations.

Preliminary Proposed Action and Alternatives

Consistent with 40 CFR 1501.9(d)(2), the preliminary description of the proposed action is issuance of ITPs authorizing incidental take of covered species in association with covered activities and HCP implementation. NMFS and FWS will review the applications to determine if ESA section 10(a) permit issuance criteria and all other legal requirements related to permit issuance are met before making separate permit decisions.

The DEIS will include a reasonable range of alternatives, which may include but are not limited to variations in the level, location, and type of minimization and mitigation approaches; the scope or types of covered activities; limitations in forest management in covered species habitat; variation in the length of the permit term; adding or removing covered species or the level of allowable take; and variations in conservation implementation and effectiveness monitoring. Additionally, a No Action Alternative will be included. Under the No Action Alternative, no ITPs would be issued and ODSL would continue to manage the Elliott State Forest under the current management regime, which avoids take of listed species from research and management activities on the Elliott State Forest.

Background

Section 9 of the ESA prohibits "take" of fish and wildlife species listed as endangered under section 4 (16 U.S.C. 1538 and 16 U.S.C. 1533, respectively). The ESA implementing regulations extend, under certain circumstances, the prohibition of take to threatened species (50 CFR 17.31). Under section 3 of the ESA, the term "take" means to "harass, harm, pursue, hunt, shoot, wound, kill, trap, capture, or collect, or attempt to engage in any such conduct" (16 U.S.C. 1532(19)). The term "harm" is defined by regulations as "an act which actually kills or injures wildlife." "Such act may include significant habitat modification or degradation where it actually kills or injures wildlife by significantly impairing essential behavioral patterns, including breeding, feeding, or sheltering" (50 CFR 17.3; 50 CFR 222.102).

Under section 10(a) of the ESA, the Services may issue permits to authorize incidental take of listed fish and wildlife species. "Incidental take" is defined by the ESA as take that is incidental to, and not the purpose of, carrying out an otherwise lawful activity. Section 10(a)(1)(B) of the ESA contains provisions for issuing ITPs to non-Federal entities for the take of endangered and threatened species, provided the following criteria are met:

1. The taking will be incidental;
2. The applicant will, to the maximum extent practicable, minimize and mitigate the impact of such taking;
3. The applicant will ensure that adequate funding for the plan will be provided;
4. The taking will not appreciably reduce the likelihood of the survival and recovery of the species in the wild; and
5. The applicant will carry out any other measures the Services may require as being necessary or appropriate for the purposes of the HCP.

Elliott State Research Forest Habitat Conservation Plan

ODSL intends to implement the ESRF HCP to cover a variety of research and management activities, including timber removal associated with a suite of forest management prescriptions and associated infrastructure maintenance. The ESRF HCP includes measures to minimize and mitigate impacts of the taking on covered species. ODSL is expected to request 80-year ITPs from FWS and NMFS, respectively.

Covered Activities

The proposed covered activities will likely include:

- Research Treatments: Research actions, harvest activities, and stand management activities that will be utilized to maintain the research platform.
- Research Projects: Short, long-term, active, or passive potential research projects related to climate change, social economic and recreation, aquatic and terrestrial systems, forest practices and management, fire and disturbance, and fish and wildlife habitat in managed forests.
- Supporting Management Activities: Activities used to facilitate stand management activities, including mechanical vegetation control and controlled burning.
- Supporting Infrastructure: Infrastructure needed to facilitate implementation of the research platform and programs, including roads, landings, drainage structures, quarries, and communication sites and lookouts.
- HCP Implementation Activities: Activities identified in the conservation strategy and monitoring program that may result in short-term effects on covered species.

Covered Species

The species proposed for coverage under the ESRF HCP and ITPs will likely include the northern spotted owl, marbled murrelet, and Oregon Coast coho salmon. Each of the covered species is known to occur on the Elliott State Forest. The draft ESRF HCP will include an analysis of impacts to covered species and methodology for estimating and quantifying take and related conservation outcomes over time, and will propose limits on impacts resulting from covered activities.

Measures to minimize and mitigate impacts on covered species will be described in the HCP for each species as conservation measures and conditions on covered activities, guided by goals and objectives in the conservation strategy of the HCP. These measures would be systematically implemented and monitored for success. Impacts would be offset by a system of reserve areas. Minimization and mitigation measures are subject to adaptive management to ensure their effectiveness, and to ensure achievement of the ESRF HCP's biological goals and objectives.

The ESRF HCP will include funding information and assurances, monitoring requirements, adaptive management, and changed circumstance provisions to help ensure conservation outcomes for the covered species. Annual reports would confirm the amount, type, and location of impacts and mitigation, as well as the status of monitoring, adaptive management, changed circumstances, and funding.

Summary of Expected Impacts

The DEIS will identify and describe the effects of the proposed Federal action on the human environment that are reasonably foreseeable and have a reasonably close causal relationship to the proposed action. This includes effects that occur at the same time and place as the proposed action or alternatives and effects that are later in time or farther removed in distance from the proposed action or alternatives. Expected impacts may include, but are not limited to, positive and negative impacts to the covered species and critical habitat, geology and soils, air quality, water resources, other biological resources, health and safety, land use, recreation, aesthetics, historical and cultural resources, and socioeconomics.

The analysis will consider the adequacy of each alternative to maintain or enhance the status of the covered species at appropriate scales, in light of the expected effects and other best available information. Impacts to air quality, water resources, and other biological resources, such as fish, wildlife, and forest ecosystem, are expected to include some negative impacts from the research and management activities that are minimized and or mitigated at the landscape level through application of applicable law, including local and State regulations, and implementation of conservation strategies under each alternative. The conservation programs described in the action alternatives may serve to offset or partially offset impacts on air quality, water resources, and other biological resources at the landscape scale, though these actions would be targeted at offsetting impacts to covered species. Localized positive and negative impacts to recreation, aesthetics, and historical and cultural resources may result from HCP implementation due to the expected changes in forests from the research and management-related activities (covered activities).

Anticipated Permits and Authorizations

The following permits, consultations, or other authorizations are anticipated to be required in order to enable the Services to proceed with issuance of the ITPs:

- ESA Section 7 consultations, ESA Section 10 findings;
- Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act consultation;
- Tribal consultations; and
- National Historic Preservation Act compliance.

Related Actions

Oregon Department of Forestry (ODF) has also applied for ITPs from FWS and NMFS and is currently preparing a Western Oregon State Forests HCP (WOHCP) to include 17 species (including all three species covered under the ESRF HCP). A DEIS and draft HCP were made available to the public on March 18, 2022 (87 FR 15383).

The proposed WOHCP permit area includes all State forest lands west of the crest of the Cascade Range that are owned by the Oregon Board of Forestry and managed by ODF, and also includes some Common School Fund Lands owned by ODSL but managed by ODF. The plan area of the ESRF HCP overlaps with the permit area of the WOHCP. The overlap consists of 8,897 acres that are Oregon Board of Forestry lands inside the Elliott State Forest boundary and 915 acres of other DSL lands adjacent to the ESRF. These lands would be covered by the WOHCP, if approved. However, if any of the Oregon Board of Forestry lands were later transferred to ODSL, they could be covered instead by the ESRF HCP.

Schedule for the Decision-Making Process

FWS will conduct an environmental review to analyze the effects of the proposed permit actions, along with other alternatives considered and the associated impacts of each alternative for the development of the DEIS. Following completion of the environmental review, the Services will publish a notice of availability and request for public comments on the DEIS and the draft HCP submitted with the ITP applications. FWS expects to make the DEIS and draft HCP available to the public in Winter 2022–2023. After public review and comment, FWS and NMFS will evaluate the permit applications, associated documents, and any comments received, to determine whether the requirements of section 10(a)(1) of the ESA are met. FWS and NMFS will also evaluate whether issuance of the requested ITPs would comply with section 7(a)(2) of the ESA. FWS expects to make the FEIS and final HCP available to the public in Summer 2023. At least 30 days after the FEIS is available, the Services' records of decision will be completed in accordance with applicable timeframes established in 40 CFR 1506.11. If appropriate, the Services would issue the ITPs after the issuance of the records of decision. If issued, the permits may include such terms and conditions deemed necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of the permit and the conservation plan.

Public Scoping Process

Virtual Public Meeting

This notice of intent initiates the scoping process, which aids in the development of the EIS.

To help protect the public and limit the spread of the COVID–19 virus, the public scoping meeting will be conducted online to accommodate best practices and local guidelines in place at the time this notice was prepared. See DATES and ADDRESSES for the date and time of the virtual public scoping meeting. The virtual public scoping meeting will provide ODSL and FWS with an opportunity to present to the public information pertinent to the ESRF HCP, and for the public to ask questions on the scope of issues and alternatives that FWS should consider when preparing the EIS. We request comments on the proposed action, concerning the scope of the analysis and identification of relevant information, studies, and analyses from the public; affected Federal, State, Tribal, and local governments, agencies, and offices; the scientific community; industry; or any other interested party. We will consider these comments in developing the DEIS. Specifically, we seek:

1. Biological information, analysis and relevant data concerning the covered species and other wildlife;
2. Potential effects that the proposed permit action could have on the covered species, and other endangered or threatened species, and their associated ecological communities or habitats;
3. Potential effects that the proposed permit action could have on other aspects of the human environment, including ecological, aesthetic, historic, cultural, economic, social, environmental justice, or health;
4. Other possible reasonable alternatives to the proposed permit action that FWS should consider, including additional or alternative avoidance, minimization, and mitigation measures;
5. The presence of historic properties—including archaeological sites, buildings, and structures; historic events; sacred and traditional areas; and other historic preservation concerns—in the proposed plan and permit area, which are required to be considered in project planning by the National Historic Preservation Act;
6. Information on other current or planned activities in, or in the vicinity of, the Elliott State Forest and their possible impacts on the covered species, including any connected actions that are closely related and should be discussed in the same DEIS; and
7. Other information relevant to the ESRF HCP and its impacts on the human environment.

Public Availability of Comments

You may submit your comments and materials by one of the methods listed in ADDRESSES. Before including your address, phone number, or other personal identifying information in your comment, you should be aware that your entire comment—including your personal identifying information—might be made publicly available at any time. While you can ask us in your comment to withhold your personal identifying information from public review, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so. All submissions from organizations or businesses, and from individuals identifying themselves as representatives or officials of organizations or businesses, will be made available for public disclosure in their entirety.

[Investigation Nos. 701–TA–548 and 731–TA–1298 (Review)]

Welded Stainless Steel Pressure Pipe From India

Determinations

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject five-year reviews, the United States International Trade Commission (“Commission”) determines, pursuant to the Tariff Act of 1930 (“the Act”), that revocation of the countervailing and antidumping duty orders on welded stainless steel pressure pipe from India would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to an industry in the United States within a reasonably foreseeable time.

Background

The Commission instituted these reviews on October 1, 2021 (86 FR 54470) and determined on January 4, 2022, that it would conduct expedited reviews (87 FR 17336, March 28, 2022).

The Commission made these determinations pursuant to section 751(c) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)). It completed and filed its determinations in these reviews on April 29, 2022. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 5320 (April 2022), entitled Welded Stainless Steel Pressure Pipe from India: Investigation Nos. 701–TA–548 and 731–TA–1298 (First Review).

By order of the Commission.

¹ The record is defined in § 207.2(f) of the Commission’s Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 CFR 207.2(f)).

The investigation was previously terminated as to certain claims of the Asserted Patents. Order No. 11, unreviewed by Notice (Aug. 25, 2021).

On October 1, 2021, Canon filed a motion seeking summary determination that the Defaulting Respondents have violated section 337 and requesting that the ALJ recommend that the Commission issue a general exclusion order (“GEO”) and cease and desist orders (“CDOs”) against certain respondents, and set a 100 percent bond for any importations of infringing goods during the period of Presidential review. On October 12, 2021, OUII filed a response supporting Canon’s motion and requested remedial relief. None of the Defaulting Respondents filed a response to Canon’s motion.

On February 11, 2022, the ALJ issued the subject ID granting Canon’s motion and finding violations of section 337 by the Defaulting Respondents. Specifically, the ID finds that: (i) The Commission has subject matter, personal, and in rem jurisdiction in this investigation, ID at 26–27; (ii) Canon has standing to assert the Asserted Patents, id. at 27; (iii) Canon has satisfied the importation requirement as to all Defaulting Respondents, id. at 28–51; (iv) the accused products practice claim 1 of the ’667 patent; claim 1 of the ’060 patent; claim 1 of the ’061 patent; claim 1 of the ’957 patent; claims 1 and 12 of the ’814 patent; claims 50, 58, and 61 of the ’032 patent; claims 1 and 13 of the ’033 patent; claims 46 and 50 of the ’654 patent; claims 1, 10, and 13 of the ’881 patent; and claims 1 and 8 of the ’882 patent, id. at 54–61; (v) Canon has satisfied the technical prong of the DI requirement with respect to the Asserted Patents, id. at 61–69; (vi) Canon has satisfied the economic prong of the DI requirement with respect to the Asserted Patents, id. at 69–81; and (vii) no claim of the Asserted Patents has been shown invalid, id. at 82. The ALJ recommended that the Commission: (i) Issue a GEO, (ii) issue CDOs against respondents Ninestar Tech, Static Control, Copier Repair Specialists, Digital Buyer, Do It Wiser, Easy Group, Ink Tech, Precision Roller, LD Products, NAR Cartridges, Supplies Guys, MITOCOLOR, Zinyaw, Ninestar Corporation, Ninestar Image, Sichuan XingDian, Sichuan Wiztoner, Yatengshang, ChengDuXiang, and Erlandianzishang, and (iii) set a 100 percent bond for any importations of infringing products during the period of Presidential review. Id. at 84–102.

No party petitioned for review of the ID.

The Commission did not receive any submissions on the public interest from the parties pursuant to Commission Rule 210.50(a)(4) (19 CFR 210.50(a)(4)). The Commission received one submission on the public interest from a member of the public in response to the Commission’s Federal Register notice. 87 FR 16230–31 (March 22, 2022).

Having reviewed the record in this investigation, including the subject ID, the Commission has determined to review the subject ID in part. Specifically, the Commission has determined to review the ID’s findings with respect to whether terminated respondent Sun Data Supply has satisfied the importation requirement. The Commission has also determined to review the ID’s analysis of the economic prong of the domestic industry requirement. The Commission has determined not to review the remainder of the ID.

In connection with the final disposition of this investigation, the statute authorizes issuance of: (1) An exclusion order that could result in the exclusion of the subject articles from entry into the United States, and/or (2) cease and desist orders that could result in the respondents being required to cease and desist from engaging in unfair acts in the importation and sale of such articles. Accordingly, the Commission is interested in receiving written submissions that address the form of remedy, if any, that should be ordered. If a party seeks exclusion of an article from entry into the United States for purposes other than entry for consumption, the party should so indicate and provide information establishing that activities involving other types of entry either are adversely affecting it or likely to do so. For background, see Certain Devices for Connecting Computers via Telephone Lines, Inv. No. 337-TA-360, USITC Pub. No. 2843, Comm'n Op. at 7-10 (December 1994).

The statute requires the Commission to consider the effects of any remedy upon the public interest. The public interest factors the Commission will consider include the effect that an exclusion order and/or cease and desist orders would have on: (1) The public health and welfare; (2) competitive conditions in the U.S. economy; (3) U.S. production of articles that are like or directly competitive with those that are subject to investigation; and (4) U.S. consumers. The Commission is therefore interested in receiving written submissions that address the aforementioned public interest factors in the context of this investigation.

If the Commission orders some form of remedy, the U.S. Trade Representative, as delegated by the President, has 60 days to approve, disapprove, or take no action on the Commission's determination. See Presidential Memorandum of July 21, 2005. 70 FR 43251 (July 26, 2005). During this period, the subject articles would be entitled to enter the United States under bond, in an amount determined by the Commission and prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Commission is therefore interested in receiving submissions concerning the amount of the bond that should be imposed if a remedy is ordered.

Written Submissions: The parties, interested government agencies, and any other interested parties are invited to file written submissions on the issues of remedy, the public interest, and bonding. Such submissions should include views on the recommended determination by the CALJ on remedy and bonding.

In their initial written submissions, Canon and OUII are requested to submit proposed remedial orders for the Commission's consideration. Canon is further requested to identify the dates the Asserted Patents expire, to provide the HTSUS subheadings under which the subject articles are imported, and to supply identification information for all known importers of the subject articles.

Initial written submissions, including proposed remedial orders, must be filed no later than close of business on May 13, 2022. Reply submissions must be filed no later than the close of business on May 20, 2022. No further submissions on any of these issues will be permitted unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

Persons filing written submissions must file the original document electronically on or before the deadlines stated above. The Commission's paper filing requirements in 19 CFR 210.4(f) are currently waived. 85 FR 15798 (Mar. 19, 2020). Submissions should refer to the investigation number (Inv. No. 337-TA-1259) in a prominent place on the cover page and/or the first page. (See Handbook for Electronic Filing Procedures, https://www.usitc.gov/documents/handbook_on_filing_procedures.pdf). Persons with questions regarding filing should contact the Secretary (202-205-2000).

Any person desiring to submit a document to the Commission in confidence must request confidential treatment by marking each document with a header indicating that the document contains confidential information. This marking will be deemed to satisfy the request procedure set forth in Rules 201.6(b) and 210.5(e)(2) (19 CFR 201.6(b) & 210.5(e)(2)). Documents for which confidential treatment by the Commission is properly sought will be treated accordingly. Any non-party wishing to submit comments containing confidential information must serve those comments on the parties to the investigation pursuant to the applicable Administrative Protective Order. A redacted non-confidential version of the document must also be filed with the Commission and served on any parties to the investigation within two business days of any confidential filing. All information, including confidential business information and documents for which confidential treatment is properly sought, submitted to the Commission for purposes of this investigation may be disclosed to and used: (i) By the Commission, its employees and Offices, and contract personnel (a) for developing or maintaining the records of this or a related proceeding, or (b) in internal investigations, audits, reviews, and evaluations relating to the programs, personnel, and operations of the Commission including under 5 U.S.C. Appendix 3; or (ii) by U.S. government employees and contract personnel, solely for cybersecurity purposes. All contract personnel will sign appropriate nondisclosure agreements. All nonconfidential written submissions will be available for public inspection on EDIS.

The Commission vote for this determination took place on April 29, 2022.

While temporary remote operating procedures are in place in response to COVID-19, the Office of the Secretary is not able to serve parties that have not retained counsel or otherwise provided a point of contact for electronic service. Accordingly, pursuant to Commission Rules 201.16(a) and 210.7(a)(1) (19 CFR 201.16(a), 210.7(a)(1)), the Commission orders that the complainant complete service for any party/parties without a method of electronic service noted on the attached Certificate of Service and shall file proof of service on the Electronic Document Information System (EDIS).

The authority for the Commission's determination is contained in section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1337), and in Part 210 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (19 CFR part 210).

By order of the Commission.

Issued: April 29, 2022.

Acting Secretary to the Commission.

Civil Action No. 1:21–cv–03331–TSC

Response of Plaintiff United States to Public Comment on the Proposed Final Judgment

Pursuant to the requirements of the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act (the “APPA” or “Tunney Act”), 15 U.S.C. 16, the United States hereby responds to the one public comment received regarding the proposed Final Judgment in this case. After careful consideration of the submitted comment, the United States continues to believe that the civil penalty required by the proposed Final Judgment provides an effective and appropriate remedy for the violation alleged in the Complaint and is therefore in the public interest. The United States will move the Court for entry of the proposed Final Judgment after the public comment and this response have been published as required by 15 U.S.C. 16(d).

I. Procedural History

On March 16, 2020, Biglari Holdings Inc. (“Biglari”) acquired 55,141 voting securities of Cracker Barrel Old Country

Store, Inc. (“Cracker Barrel”), which increased Biglari’s holdings of Cracker Barrel voting securities to a value of approximately $159.4 million. Biglari did not file a notification with the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission (collectively, the “federal antitrust agencies”) or observe a waiting period before acquiring the Cracker Barrel voting securities. The United States filed a civil antitrust Complaint on December 22, 2021, seeking civil penalties for the violation of the notice and waiting period requirements of Section 7A of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. 18a, commonly known as the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976 (“HSR Act” or “Act”). The Complaint alleges that Biglari was in continuous violation of the HSR Act from March 16, 2020 through July 20, 2020, when the waiting period expired on its corrective filing. See Dkt. No 1–1.

At the same time the Complaint was filed, the United States filed a proposed Final Judgment and a Stipulation and Order in which the United States and Defendant consent to entry of the proposed Final Judgment after compliance with the requirements of the Tunney Act, 15 U.S.C. 16. See Dkt. Nos. 1–2, 1–3. The proposed Final Judgment requires Defendant to pay a civil penalty of $1,374,190 within 30-days of entry of the Final Judgment.

Pursuant to the APPA’s requirements, the United States filed a Competitive Impact Statement (“CIS”) on December 22, 2021, describing the transaction and the proposed Final Judgment. See Dkt. No. 1–4. On January 5, 2022, the United States published the Complaint, proposed Final Judgment and CIS in the Federal Register, see 87 FR 484 (2022), and caused notice regarding the same, together with directions for the submission of written comments relating to the proposed Final Judgment, to be published in The Washington Post for seven days, from December 31, 2021 through January 6, 2022. The 60-day period for public comment ended on March 7, 2022. The United States received one comment, attached as Exhibit A.

II. The Complaint and the Proposed
Final Judgment

The Complaint alleges that Biglari was in continuous violation of the HSR Act each day during the period beginning March 16, 2020 through July 20, 2020, when the waiting period expired on its corrective filing. In particular, the Complaint alleges that Biglari held 2 million Cracker Barrel voting securities prior to March 16, 2020, with a value of approximately $155.1 million. On March 16, 2020, two entities controlled by Biglari acquired an additional 55,141 Cracker Barrel voting securities. When aggregated with the voting securities already held by Biglari, these acquisitions resulted in Biglari holding 2,055,141 Cracker Barrel voting securities, valued at approximately $159.4 million. Biglari’s holdings of Cracker Barrel voting securities therefore exceeded the size of transaction threshold, which in March 2020 was $94 million. Additionally, Biglari and Cracker Barrel exceeded the size of person thresholds, which in March 2020 were $18.8 million and $188 million. The HSR Act required Biglari to file a notification with the federal antitrust agencies and to observe a waiting period before consummating the March 16, 2020, acquisitions of Cracker Barrel voting securities. By acquiring the voting securities without filing the required notification and observing the waiting period, Biglari violated the HSR Act, Section 7A of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. 18a.

The violation alleged in the Complaint is not Biglari’s first violation of the HSR Act. On September 25, 2012, the United States filed a complaint alleging that Biglari’s acquisitions of voting securities of Cracker Barrel in June 2011 violated the HSR Act. United States v. Biglari Holdings, Inc., Civil Action No. 1:12–cv–01586 (D.D.C. 2012). At the same time the 2012 complaint was filed, the United States filed a proposed final judgment settling the case. The final judgment, entered by the court on May 30, 2013, required Biglari to pay a civil penalty of $850,000 for violating the reporting and waiting period requirements of the HSR Act.

As explained in the CIS, the proposed Final Judgment imposes a civil penalty of $1,374,190 and is designed to address the HSR violation alleged in the Complaint, penalize the Defendant, and deter the Defendant and others from violating the HSR Act. The penalty amount reflects that this is Defendant’s second violation of the HSR Act in connection with the same issuer (Cracker Barrel), that Defendant did not make a corrective filing until the Federal Trade Commission’s Premerger Notification Office notified Defendant of its failure to file, and that Defendant did not consult HSR counsel prior to its acquisition as it had committed to do in connection with its 2011 HSR Act violation. See Dkt. No. 1–4.

III. Standard of Judicial Review

The Clayton Act, as amended by the APPA, requires that proposed consent judgments in antitrust cases brought by the United States be subject to a 60-day comment period, after which the Court shall determine whether entry of the proposed Final Judgment “is in the public interest.” 15 U.S.C. 16(e)(1). In making that determination, the Court, in accordance with the statute as amended in 2004, is required to consider:

(A) The competitive impact of such judgment, including termination of alleged violations, provisions for enforcement and modification, duration of relief sought, anticipated effects of alternative remedies actually considered, whether its terms are ambiguous, and any other competitive considerations bearing upon the adequacy of such judgment that the court deems necessary to a determination of whether the consent judgment is in the public interest; and

(B) the impact of entry of such judgment upon competition in the relevant market or markets, upon the public generally and individuals alleging specific injury from the violations set forth in the complaint including consideration of the public benefit, if any, to be derived from a determination of the issues at trial.

15 U.S.C. 16(e)(1)(A) & (B). In considering these statutory factors, the Court’s inquiry is necessarily a limited one as the government is entitled to “broad discretion to settle with the defendant within the reaches of the public interest.” United States v. Microsoft Corp., 56 F.3d 1448, 1461 (D.C. Cir. 1995); United States v. U.S. Airways Grp., Inc., 38 F. Supp. 3d 69, 75 (D.D.C. 2014) (explaining that the “court’s inquiry is limited” in APPA settlements); United States v. InBev N.V./S.A., No. 08–1965 (JR), 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 84787, at *3 (D.D.C. Aug. 11, 2009) (noting that a court’s review of a consent judgment is limited and only inquires “into whether the government’s determination that the proposed remedies will cure the antitrust violations alleged in the complaint was reasonable, and whether the mechanisms to enforce the final judgment are clear and manageable”).

Under the APPA, a court considers, among other things, the relationship between the remedy secured and the specific allegations in the government’s complaint, whether the proposed Final Judgment is sufficiently clear, whether its enforcement mechanisms are sufficient, and whether it may positively harm third parties. See Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1458–62. With respect to the adequacy of the relief secured by the proposed Final Judgment, a court may not “make de novo determination of facts and issues.” United States v. W. Elec. Co., 993 F.2d 1572, 1577 (D.C. Cir. 1993) (quotation marks omitted); see also Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1460–62; United States v. Alcoa, Inc., 152 F. Supp. 2d 37, 40 (D.D.C. 2001); United States v. Enova Corp., 107 F. Supp. 2d 10, 16 (D.D.C. 2000); InBev, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 84787, at *3. Instead, “[t]he balancing of competing social and political interests affected by a proposed antitrust consent decree must be left, in the first instance, to the discretion of the Attorney General.” W. Elec. Co., 993 F.2d at 1577 (quotation marks omitted).

“The court should bear in mind the flexibility of the public interest inquiry: the court’s function is not to determine whether the resulting array of rights and liabilities is one that will best serve society, but only to confirm that the resulting settlement is within the reaches of the public interest.” Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1460 (quotation marks omitted); see also United States v. Deutsche Telekom AG, No. 19–2232 (TJK), 2020 WL 1873555, at *7 (D.D.C. Apr. 14, 2020). More demanding requirements would “have enormous practical consequences for the government’s ability to negotiate future settlements,” contrary to congressional intent. Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1456. “The Tunney Act was not intended to create a disincentive to the use of the consent decree.” Id.

The United States’ predictions about the efficacy of the remedy are to be afforded deference by the Court. See, e.g., Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1461 (recognizing courts should give “due respect to the Justice Department’s . . . view of the nature of its case”); United States v. Iron Mountain, Inc., 217 F. Supp. 3d 146, 152–53 (D.D.C. 2016) (“In evaluating objections to settlement agreements under the Tunney Act, a court must be mindful that [t]he government need not prove that the settlements will perfectly remedy the alleged antitrust harms[;] it need only provide a factual basis for concluding that the settlements are reasonably adequate remedies for the alleged harms.”) (internal citations omitted); United States v. Republic Servs., Inc., 723 F. Supp. 2d 157, 160 (D.D.C. 2010) (noting “the deferential review to which the government’s proposed remedy is accorded”); United States v. Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., 272 F. Supp. 2d 1, 6 (D.D.C. 2003) (“A district court must accord due respect to the government’s prediction as to the effect of proposed remedies, its perception of the market structure, and its view of the nature of the case.”). The ultimate question is whether “the remedies [obtained by the Final Judgment are] so inconsonant with the allegations charged as to fall outside of the ‘reaches of the public interest.’” Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1461 (quoting W. Elec. Co., 900 F.2d at 309).

Moreover, the Court’s role under the APPA is limited to reviewing the remedy in relationship to the violations that the United States has alleged in its complaint, and does not authorize the Court to “construct [its] own hypothetical case and then evaluate the decree against that case.” Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1459; see also U.S. Airways, 38 F. Supp. 3d at 75 (noting that the court must simply determine whether there is a factual foundation for the government’s decisions such that its conclusions regarding the proposed settlements are reasonable); InBev, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 84787, at *20 (“[T]he ‘public interest’ is not to be measured by comparing the violations alleged in the complaint against those the court believes could have, or even should have, been alleged.”). Because the “court’s authority to review the decree depends entirely on the government’s exercising its prosecutorial discretion by bringing a case in the first place,” it follows that “the court is only authorized to review the decree itself,” and not to “effectively redraft the complaint” to inquire into other matters that the United States did not pursue. Microsoft, 56 F.3d at 1459–60.

In its 2004 amendments to the APPA, Congress made clear its intent to preserve the practical benefits of using consent judgments proposed by the United States in antitrust enforcement, Public Law 108–237, § 221, and added the unambiguous instruction that “[n]othing in this section shall be construed to require the court to conduct an evidentiary hearing or to require the court to permit anyone to intervene.” 15 U.S.C. 16(e)(2); see also U.S. Airways, 38 F. Supp. 3d at 76 (indicating that a court is not required to hold an evidentiary hearing or to permit intervenors as part of its review under the APPA). This language explicitly wrote into the statute what Congress intended when it first enacted the APPA in 1974. As Senator Tunney explained: “[t]he court is nowhere compelled to go to trial or to engage in extended proceedings which might have the effect of vitiating the benefits of prompt and less costly settlement through the consent decree process.” 119 Cong. Rec. 24,598 (1973) (statement of Sen. Tunney). “A court can make its public interest determination based on the competitive impact statement and response to public comments alone.” U.S. Airways, 38 F. Supp. 3d at 76 (citing Enova Corp., 107 F. Supp. 2d at 17).

IV. Summary of the Comment and the United States’ Response

The United States received one public comment in response to the proposed Final Judgment from Alan Fishbein, a member of the public. Mr. Fishbein asserts that the settlement is inadequate. He asserts that Biglari should be required to divest its entire holdings in Cracker Barrel and be precluded from acquiring any Cracker Barrel voting securities in the future. See Exhibit A.

The United States believes that nothing in the comment warrants a change to the proposed Final Judgment or supports a conclusion that the proposed Final Judgment is not in the public interest. Section (g)(a) of the HSR Act, 15 U.S.C. 18(a)(g)(1) provides that the United States may recover a civil penalty for violations of the Act up to $43,280 per day of violation.¹ Biglari will pay a penalty of $1,374,190 pursuant to the terms of the proposed Final Judgment, representing 25 percent of the statutory maximum. The United States has determined that this amount will appropriately penalize Biglari and deter it and others from future violations of the HSR Act. As required by the APPA, the comment² and this response will be published in the Federal Register.

V. Conclusion

After careful consideration of the public comment, the United States continues to believe that the proposed Final Judgment provides an effective and appropriate remedy for the violation alleged in the Complaint and is therefore in the public interest. The United States will move this Court to enter the Final Judgment after the comment and this response are published as required by 15 U.S.C. 16(d).

Subject: FTC Fines Biglari Holdings Inc. for Repeatedly Violating Antitrust Laws

I find this settlement wholly inadequate. This guy is a scumbag who just rubbed the HSR Act in the public's and the FTC's faces. In addition to the $1.4 mm fine, Bilgari Holdings should be required to divest its entire holdings of Cracker Barrel stock to the public in a reasonably short period say 60 days at whatever aggregate price it can get for them. I presume in the settlement Bilgari agrees to not violate the HSR law in the future but in addition it should agree to not purchase any shares of Cracker Barrel stock.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: DOL, as part of continuing efforts to reduce paperwork and respondent burden, conducts a pre-clearance consultation program to provide the general public and Federal agencies an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing collections of information before submitting them to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for final approval. This program helps to ensure requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden (time and financial resources) is minimized, collection instruments are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements can be properly assessed.

Section 221(a) of Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended by the Trade Adjustment Assistance Reauthorization Act of 2015, authorizes the Secretary of Labor and the Governor of each state to accept petitions for certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance. The petitions may be filed by a group of workers, their certified or recognized union or duly authorized representative, employers of such workers, one-stop operators, or one-stop partners. ETA Form 9042, Petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance, and its Spanish translation, ETA Form 9042A, Solicitud De Asistencia Para Ajuste, establish a format that may be used for filing such petitions. There is also a web-based version of the ETA Form 9042.

Sections 222, 223, and 249 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, require the Secretary of Labor (the Secretary) to issue a determination for groups of workers as to their eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance. After reviewing all of the information obtained for each petition for Trade Adjustment Assistance filed with the Department, a determination is issued as to whether the statutory criteria for certification are met. The information collected via the following forms will be used by the Secretary to determine to what extent, if any, increased imports or shifts in either service or production have impacted the petitioning worker group.

This information collection is subject to the PRA. A Federal agency generally cannot conduct or sponsor a collection of information, and the public is generally not required to respond to an information collection, unless it is approved by OMB under the PRA and displays a currently valid OMB Control Number. In addition, notwithstanding any other provisions of law, no person shall generally be subject to penalty for failing to comply with a collection of information that does not display a valid Control Number. See 5 CFR 1320.5(a) and 1320.6.

Interested parties are encouraged to provide comments to the contact shown in the ADDRESSES section. Comments must be written to receive consideration, and they will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval of the final ICR. In order to help ensure appropriate consideration, comments should mention OMB Control Number 1205-0342.

Submitted comments will also be a matter of public record for this ICR and posted on the internet, without redaction. DOL encourages commenters not to include personally identifiable information, confidential business data, or other sensitive statements/information in any comments.

DOL is particularly interested in comments that:

- Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;

[Release No. 34-94821; File No. SR-LCH SA-2022-002]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; LCH SA; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change Relating to the CDS Clearing Rule Book, Supplement, and Procedures

April 29, 2022.

I. Introduction

On March 11, 2022, Banque Centrale de Compensation, which conducts business under the name LCH SA ("LCH SA"), filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act" or "Exchange Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4,² a proposed rule change to amend the (i) CDS Clearing Rule Book (the "Rule Book"), (ii) CDS Clearing Supplement (the "Clearing Supplement"), (iii) certain CDS Clearing Procedures (the "Procedures"), and (iv) a Clearing Notice ("Clearing Notice").³ The proposed rule change was published for comment in the Federal Register on March 21, 2022.⁴ The Commission did not receive comments regarding the proposed rule change. For the reasons discussed below, the ² 17 CFR 240.19b-4.

³ Capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meanings specified in the Rule Book, Clearing Supplement, Procedures, or Clearing Notice, as applicable.

⁴ Self-Regulatory Organizations; LCH SA; Notice of Filing of Proposed Rule Change to Relating to the CDS Clearing Rule Book, Supplement, and Procedures, Exchange Act Release No. 4423 (March 15, 2022); 87 FR 16035 (March 21, 2022) (SR-LCH SA-2022-002) ("Notice").

Commission is approving the proposed rule change.

II. Description of the Proposed Rule Change

As detailed below, the changes to the Rule Book, Clearing Supplement, Procedures, and Clearing Notice would: (i) Queue trades received outside of the Real Time Session; (ii) backlog Index Swaptions; (iii) allow Clients to request ad-hoc compression; (iv) revise certain provisions to conform to amended Commodity Futures Trade Commission (“CFTC”) Rule 39.13(g)(8)(ii);⁵ (v) revise Treasury Reports; (vi) introduce a new Trading City concept; and (vii) rename a component of the minimum bid size formula used in default auctions.

A. Real Time Session

The Real Time Session is the period during a Clearing Day in which LCH SA accepts transactions for clearing. Currently Article 3.1.4.3 of Rule Book requires that LCH SA automatically reject any Intraday Transaction submitted outside of the Real Time Session. The proposed rule change would revise Article 3.1.4.3 to provide instead that any Intraday Transaction submitted outside of the Real Time Session will be deemed to have been submitted at the Start of the Real Time Session on the following Clearing Day. Rather than automatically rejection any Intraday Transaction submitted outside of the Real Time Session, under the proposed rule change LCH SA would instead queue those transactions for submission at the Start of the Real Time Session on the following Clearing Day. However, LCH SA would still automatically reject such transactions if they do not successfully complete the Eligibility Controls, Client Transaction Checks (if applicable), or the Notional and Collateral Checks.

The proposed rule change also would give LCH SA additional flexibility regarding the start of the Real Time Session. The Rule Book defines the Real Time Session as the period commencing at the Start of Real Time and ending at the End of Real Time in respect of each Clearing Day. The Rule Book further defines the Start of Real Time as the time specified in a Clearing Notice. Currently, Clearing Notice 2016/057 provides that the Start of Real Time for each Clearing Day is the earlier of: (i) The time when all relevant Clearing Members have satisfied the Morning Call and (ii) 09.05 Central European Time. Clearing Notice 2016/057 also provides that the End of Real Time is 19.30 Central European Time on each Clearing Day.

The proposed rule change would revise Clearing Notice 2016/057. The proposed rule change would maintain the same start and end times as currently found in the Clearing Notice, but it would give LCH SA flexibility to vary the start and end times. Specifically, the revised Clearing Notice would explain that if for any reason LCH SA is not able to start or end the Real Time Session at the specified times, or if LCH SA is required to start or end the Real Time Session other than at those times, then LCH SA may change the Start of Real Time and/or the End of Real Time. In that case, LCH SA will communicate the times to Clearing Members and the Start of Real Time and/or the End of Real Time will be the time when LCH SA sends the relevant notification of the opening or the closing (as applicable) of the Real Time Session.

Finally, the proposed rule change would amend Section 5.5(a) of the Procedures to replace a reference to the specific start and end times of the Real Time Session with a general reference to the Real Time Session. This change would resolve a potential conflict from Section 5.5(a) of the Procedures, which could have arisen if LCH SA diverged from the times specified in the Clearing Notice.

B. Backload Index Swaptions

Currently LCH SA allows Clearing Members and Clients to backlog CDS transactions, but not Index Swaptions (meaning options to purchase index CDS). Backloading is the process of clearing a transaction that the buyer and seller have held for some time after completion of the trade without submitting it to clearing. The proposed rule change would extend the backloading process to allow Clearing Members and Clients to backlog Index Swaptions, in addition to CDS.

To do so, the proposed rule change would amend the definition of CM Backloading Transaction and Client Backloading Transaction. The proposed rule change would add Index Swaptions to both definitions. These changes would allow a Clearing Member, in the case of a CM Backloading Transaction, and a Client, in the case of a Client Backloading Transaction, to backlog Index Swaptions.

The proposed rule change also would make a conforming change to the Procedures. In Section 5.2(c), the proposed rule change would specify that either a CDS or an Index Swaption may be submitted for clearing through the Daily Backloading Cycle.

C. Ad-Hoc Compression Requests

Compression is the process of reducing the number of trades in portfolios by offsetting positions. It simplifies the management of positions and reduces the capital that Clearing Members and Clients need to hold against their positions. LCH SA provides compression automatically or through ad-hoc requests. Currently, LCH SA allows Clearing Members to request compression, either for their own transactions or for transactions of their Clients. Clearing Members may request compression ad-hoc or may request automatic compression in certain circumstances.

The proposed rule change would allow Clients to submit requests for ad-hoc compression directly to LCH SA, rather than having Clearing Members submit such requests on their behalf. To do so, the proposed rule change would amend Articles 3.3.1.1, 3.3.1.2, 3.3.1.4 and 3.3.1.5 of the Rule Book to allow Clients to submit ad-hoc compression requests. The proposed rule change also would make conforming amendments in Section 5 of the Procedures and the Clearing Supplement. These changes would allow Clients to submit compression requests on an ad-hoc basis only; Clients would not be able to request automatic compression.

In addition to these changes, the proposed rule change would amend Section 5.5(a) of the Procedures to make certain changes to the operation of compression requests. Under the proposed rule change, the Ad-Hoc Compression Order File would no longer define the resulting Clearing Transaction, as is currently specified. Moreover, Section 5.5(a) currently provides that a Clearing Notice will specify how to submit the Ad-Hoc Compression Order File. The proposed rule change would eliminate the use of a Clearing Notice and provide instead that LCH SA’s website will specify the means of submission. LCH SA is making this particular change because Clearing Members and Clients will submit their requests through the LCH Portal on LCH SA’s website.

D. Amended CFTC Rule 39.13(g)(8)(ii)

Currently Section 2.2(e) of the Procedures requires that an FCM/BD Clearing Member collect additional Collateral from an FCM/BD Client in respect of a Client Cleared Transaction in an amount that is 10% above what LCH SA would normally require for such Client Cleared Transaction. This requirement applies to any Client Cleared Transaction registered in a FCM/BD Client Trade Account that is of a “non-hedging nature”, as such term is used in Part 39 of the CFTC regulations.

LCH SA represents that this requirement was intended to comply with CFTC Rule 39.13(g)(8)(ii).⁶ LCH SA further represents that it needs to update Section 2.2(e) to comply with a recent amendment to the CFTC rule.⁷

As amended, Section 2.2(e) would no longer impose a single, uniform additional margin requirement. Rather, FCM/BD Clearing Members would identify categories of FCM/BD Clients with heightened risk profiles and collect additional Collateral from the FCM/BD Clients at a level that exceeds what LCH SA would normally require, commensurate with the risk presented in each account.

In addition to the amendment to Section 2.2(e), the proposed rule change would amend Article 6.2.6.1 of the Rule Book. As amended, Article 6.2.6.1 would refer to FCM/BD Clients with heightened risk profiles, as required in Section 2 of the Procedures.

E. Treasury Reports

The proposed rule change would amend Section 5.16 of the Procedures, which detail certain treasury collateral management reports. The amendments would re-name the reports, update certain details, and make the reports machine-readable.

F. Trading City

The proposed rule change would introduce to the Rule Book the new concept of a Trading City. The Trading City would be the city in which a CDS or Index Swaption is typically traded, as determined by LCH SA and published on the LCH website.

Use of the Trading City concept would allow LCH SA to tie certain deadlines and requirements to the specific calendar and business hours of that Trading City. For example, under Section 5.18.5 of the Procedures, LCH SA requires Clearing Members to enter into transactions with one another in certain circumstances. LCH SA requires such transactions as a way of validating the prices that Clearing Members submit. Currently, the timelines associated with such transactions are set out in Central European Time for products denominated in Euro and New York City local time for products denominated in US dollar.

Under the proposed rule change, these deadlines would instead refer to the local time associated with the Trading City for the product. Thus, to the extent that LCH SA clears CDS or Index Swaptions typically traded in cities outside of Central European Time or New York City local time, use of the Trading City concept would allow these deadlines to conform to the local time zones where those products are typically traded.

The proposed rule change therefore would add a definition to the Rule Book for Trading City and the associated terms Latest Contributed Price Time and Latest Cross Trade Execution Time. The proposed rule change also would amend Section 5.18 of the Procedures to incorporate these terms.

G. Clearing Day

The proposed rule change would amend the definition of Clearing Day in the Rule Book. Currently, the Rule Book defines Clearing Day as any day that is: (i) A Business Day and (ii) a day on which commercial banks in London are open for business. The Rule Book defines the term Business Day as any day that is not a holiday in the TARGET2 calendar. The proposed rule change would amend the Rule Book so that the term Clearing Day would instead mean any day on which LCH SA is open for business as set forth on the website and in member notifications from time to time. This change therefore would give LCH SA flexibility to define its Clearing Day, rather than relying on the calendars for TARGET2 and London commercial banks.

H. Minimum Bid Size

Finally, the proposed rule change would amend Appendix 1 of the Rule Book to correct the description of a term used to determine the minimum bid size in default auctions. Currently, LCH SA calculates the minimum bid size using a formula set out in Appendix 1. The formula includes a variable that is currently known as the Minimum Bid Size Denominator. The proposed rule change would change the name of this variable to the Minimum Bid Size Multiplier. LCH SA maintains that this variable is actually a multiplier and not a denominator, so renaming the variable would make the formula more clear and consistent.⁸

III. Discussion and Commission Findings

Section 19(b)(2)(C) of the Act directs the Commission to approve a proposed rule change of a self-regulatory organization if it finds that such proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to such organization.⁹ For the reasons given below, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act,¹⁰ and Rules 17Ad–22(e)(13) and (e)(17) thereunder.¹¹

A. Consistency With Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act

Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act requires, among other things, that the rules of LCH SA be designed to promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions and, to the extent applicable, derivative agreements, contracts, and transactions, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.¹² Based on its review of the record, and for the reasons discussed below, the Commission believes the proposed changes are consistent with the promotion of the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

The Commission believes that the proposed changes to LCH SA’s real time session would promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. Queuing Intraday Transactions submitted outside of the Real Time Session for submission at the Start of the Real Time Session on the following Clearing Day, rather than automatically rejecting those transactions, would allow Clearing Members to submit transactions outside of the Real Time Session, thus expanding the period of time in which Clearing Members can submit transactions to LCH SA. The Commission believes that doing so could provide Clearing Members more opportunity to submit transactions and would therefore promote the submission of Intraday Transactions to LCH SA, consistent with the promotion of the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions. Moreover, the Commission believes that giving LCH SA flexibility to vary the start and end times of the Real Time Session should help to ensure that LCH SA is able to operate the Real Time Session even in the face of operational delays, and therefore clear and settle transactions. Finally, the Commission believes that amending Section 5.5(a) of the Procedures to replace a reference to the specific start and end times of the Real Time Session with a general reference to the Real Time Session should ensure LCH SA is able to vary the start and end of the Real Time Session as needed.

The Commission believes that the proposed changes to allow Clearing Members and Clients to backload Index Swaptions also should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. The Commission believes that allowing Clearing Members and Clients to submit Index Swaptions as part of the Daily Backloading Cycle should give Clearing Members and Clients an opportunity of clearing Index Swaptions that could not be submitted during the intraday clearing process. The Commission believes that this should overall increase the availability of clearing services for Index Swaptions at LCH SA, and the Commission believes this should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of these transactions.

The Commission further believes that the proposed changes to permit Clients to submit ad-hoc compression requests directly to LCH SA should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. As discussed above, compression simplifies the management of positions and reduces capital needs by offsetting positions. The Commission believes that compression should therefore make clearing transactions through LCH SA more efficient and attractive. The Commission believes that allowing Clients to submit ad-hoc compression requests directly to LCH SA should improve the efficiency of such compression, by eliminating the need to send requests through Clearing Members. The Commission believes this change should therefore promote the use of compression by Clients. The Commission similarly believes that the amendments to Section 5.5(a) of the Procedures discussed above should make compression more efficient by allowing Clearing Members and Clients to submit their compression requests through the LCH Portal. The Commission believes that all of these changes, taken together, should promote the use of compression at LCH SA, and by doing so should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

The Commission believes that the proposed changes to conform to amended CFTC Rule 39.13(g)(8)(ii)¹³ should, in general, be consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest. The Commission believes that these changes, as represented by LCH SA,¹⁴ should help ensure that LCH SA complies with amended CFTC Rule 39.13(g)(8)(ii).¹⁵ The Commission believes that LCH SA's compliance with CFTC's regulations and other legal requirements is generally consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest.

The Commission believes that the proposed changes to rename and update the Treasury Reports also should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. Among other things, the updates would make the reports machine-readable. The Commission believes doing so should allow LCH SA to use the reports more efficiently, and that this change therefore should increase the overall efficiency of LCH SA's clearance and settlement operations and should thereby promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

The Commission believes the new Trading City concept also should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. The Commission believes that, as discussed above, use of the Trading City concept should allow LCH SA to tie certain deadlines and requirements to the specific calendar and business hours of that Trading City. Doing so should make it easier for LCH SA to introduce for clearing products that typically trade in cities outside of Central European Time or New York City local time. The Commission therefore believes that this change should facilitate LCH SA's ability to clear additional products and transactions, promoting the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

The Commission further believes that providing LCH SA additional flexibility with respect to the definition of Clearing Day should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA. As discussed above, the Rule Book currently defines Clearing Day with reference to the TARGET2 Calendar and business days of London commercial banks, both of which are outside the control of LCH SA. The Commission believes changing the definition of Clearing Day to one that is set by LCH SA should therefore give it control over its Clearing Days. The Commission believes this change therefore should promote the overall reliability of LCH SA's operations and in doing so should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

Finally, the Commission believes that correcting the description of the Minimum Bid Size Multiplier should help to ensure the accuracy and clarity of LCH SA's default auction process. The Commission further believes that a more accurate and clear default auction process should help to ensure that LCH SA is able to manage a Clearing Member default through an auction and that LCH SA is able to continue providing clearing services in the face of such a default. The Commission therefore believes this change would promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions at LCH SA.

Therefore, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act.¹⁶

B. Consistency With Rule 17Ad-22(e)(13)

Rule 17Ad-22(e)(13) requires that LCH SA establish, implement, maintain and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure LCH SA has the authority and operational capacity to take timely action to contain losses and liquidity demands and continue to meet its obligations by, at a minimum, requiring LCH SA's participants and, when practicable, other stakeholders to participate in the testing and review of its default procedures, including any close-out procedures, at least annually and following material changes thereto.¹⁷ The Commission believes that renaming the Minimum Bid Size Multiplier should help to ensure the accuracy and clarity of LCH SA's default auction process. The Commission believes that a more accurate and clear default auction process should help to ensure that LCH SA has the authority and operational capacity to take timely action to contain losses in the case of a Clearing Member default. Therefore, the Commission finds that this aspect of the proposed rule change is consistent with Rule 17Ad-22(e)(13).¹⁸

C. Consistency With Rule 17Ad-22(e)(17)

Rule 17Ad-22(e)(17) requires that LCH SA establish, implement, maintain and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to manage its operational risks by, among other things, ensuring that systems have a high degree of resiliency and operational reliability.¹⁹

The Commission believes that a number of the changes discussed above should help to ensure that LCH SA's systems have a high degree of resiliency and operational reliability. For example, the Commission believes queuing Intraday Transactions submitted outside of the Real Time Session for submission at the Start of the Real Time Session on the following Clearing Day should allow Clearing Members to submit transactions whenever they are best able to do so. Thus, if a Clearing Member is not able to submit an Intraday Transaction during the Real Time Session due to operational issues, the Clearing Member could still submit after the end of the Real Time Session if it is able to do so, with the knowledge that LCH SA would queue the transaction for the submission at the Start of the Real Time Session on the following Clearing Day. The Commission thus believes this change should increase the availability and reliability of LCH SA's clearing operations. Moreover, permitting Clients to submit ad-hoc compression requests directly to LCH SA should help to ensure that LCH receives such requests even when Clearing Members are unable to transmit them on behalf of their Clients, and the Commission believes this should increase the operational reliability of this aspect of LCH SA's operations. Similarly, the proposed changes to re-name and update the Treasury Reports would make the reports machine-readable, and the Commission believes this should help to ensure that such reports are easier to use and operationally reliable.

Finally, the Commission believes the new Trading City concept and the change to the definition of Clearing Day should help to increase the resiliency of LCH SA's operations. The Trading City concept would allow LCH SA to tailor certain deadlines and requirements, such as those related to end-of-day price submissions, to the time zone where Clearing Members typically trade. The Commission believes this should help increase the resiliency of LCH SA's operations by tying deadlines and requirements to the local time zones in which Clearing Members are operating, rather than forcing Clearing Members to operate according to European Central or New York local time. Similarly, the Commission believes that providing LCH SA additional flexibility with respect to the definition of Clearing Day should eliminate the reliance on the TARGET2 Calendar and the operations of London commercial banks. The Commission believes this change should therefore help increase the resiliency of LCH SA's operations by giving LCH SA the ability to determine its Clearing Days based on its own schedule and operations.

Therefore, the Commission finds that these aspects of the proposed rule change are consistent with Rule 17Ad-22(e)(17).²⁰

IV. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act, and in particular, with the requirements of Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act,²¹ and Rules 17Ad-22(e)(13) and (e)(17) thereunder.²²

It is therefore ordered pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act²³ that the proposed rule change (SR-LCH SA-2022-002) be, and hereby is, approved.²⁴

For the Commission, by the Division of Trading and Markets, pursuant to delegated authority.²⁵

DeLesDernier Assistant Secretary.

TRADE REPRESENTATIVE

Initiation of Four-Year Review Process:
China's Acts, Policies, and Practices
Related to Technology Transfer, Intellectual Property, and Innovation

AGENCY: Office of the United States Trade Representative.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Trade Representative is commencing the statutory four-year review of the two actions taken under Section 301 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, in the investigation of China's Acts, Policies, and Practices Related to Technology Transfer, Intellectual Property, and Innovation. The two actions were effective, respectively, on July 6, 2018 and August 23, 2018, and subsequently were modified by imposing additional duties on supplemental lists of products, as well as by the temporary removal of duties on certain products through product exclusions. The first step in the four-year review process is notifying representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the trade actions, as modified, of the possible termination of the actions, and of the opportunity for these representatives to request continuation of the actions. Requests for continuation must be received in the 60-day window prior to the four-year anniversary of the respective action: Between May 7, 2022, and July 5, 2022, for the July 6, 2018 action, and between June 24, 2022, and August 22, 2022, for the August 23, 2018, action. The Office of the United States Trade Representative (USTR) is opening dockets in these two time windows for representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the trade actions to request continuation of the corresponding trade actions, as modified. If the actions continue as a result of one or more requests from representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the trade actions, USTR will proceed with the next phase of the review. The second phase of the review will be announced in one or more subsequent notices, and will provide opportunities for public comments from all interested parties.

DATES: For the July 6, 2018 trade action, the web portal at <https://comments.ustr.gov/s/> will open for requests to continue the action on May 7, 2022, and close at 11:59 p.m. on July 5, 2022. For the August 23, 2018 trade action, the web portal at <https://comments.ustr.gov/s/> will open for requests to continue the action on June 24, 2022, and close at 11:59 p.m. on August 22, 2022.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For questions about this notice, contact Assistant General Counsels Megan Grimball or Philip Butler at (202) 395-5725.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

On August 24, 2017, the U.S. Trade Representative initiated an investigation into certain acts, policies, and practices of the Government of China related to technology transfer, intellectual property, and innovation. 82 FR 40213.

In a notice published on April 6, 2018 (83 FR 14906), the U.S. Trade Representative announced a determination that the acts, policies, and practices of the Government of China covered in the investigation are unreasonable or discriminatory and burden or restrict U.S. commerce. The April 6 notice also invited public comment on a proposed action in the investigation, in the form of an additional 25 percent ad valorem duty on products of China classified in a list of 1,333 tariff subheadings, with an annual trade value of approximately $50 billion.

1. Actions Taken Under Section 301 of the Trade Act

Following a period of public notice and comment, the U.S. Trade Representative determined to take action under Section 301 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended (Trade Act) (19 U.S.C. 2411) in the form of additional duties of 25 percent ad valorem on 818 of the proposed tariff subheadings, with an approximate annual trade value of $34 billion, effective July 6, 2018 (List 1). 83 FR 28710 (hereinafter referred to as the July 6, 2018, action).

The U.S. Trade Representative also proposed further action in the form of additional ad valorem duties of 25 percent on a list of 284 tariff subheadings with an approximate annual trade value of $16 billion. Following a period of notice and comment, the U.S. Trade Representative determined to take action under Section 301 in the form of additional duties of 25 percent on 279 tariff subheadings with an approximate annual trade value of $16 billion, effective August 23, 2018 (List 2). 83 FR 40823 (hereinafter referred to as the August 23, 2018, action).

2. Subsequent Modifications Under Section 307

The U.S. Trade Representative subsequently modified the July 6, 2018, and August 23, 2018, actions, pursuant to authority under Section 307(a) of the Trade Act. (19 U.S.C. 2417(a)). These modifications were in the form of (i) additional duties on supplemental lists of products, and (ii) the temporary removal of duties on certain products through product exclusions.

The modifications to the July 6, 2018, and August 23, 2018, actions that are currently in effect are as follows:

a. List 3—83 FR 47974 (September 21, 2018), as modified by 84 FR 20459 (May 9, 2019), and as amended by 84 FR 21892 (May 15, 2019); 84 FR 26930 (June 10, 2019); 86 FR 22092 (April 26, 2021); and 84 FR 9785 (February 22, 2022);

b. List 4A—84 FR 43304 (August 20, 2019), as modified by 84 FR 45821 (August 30, 2019), 84 FR 69447 (December 18, 2019), and 85 FR 3741 (January 22, 2020);

c. COVID Exclusions—86 FR 63438 (November 16, 2021), as amended: By 86 FR 69350 (December 7, 2021) and 87 FR 4704 (January 28, 2022); and

d. Reinstated Exclusions—87 FR 17380 (March 28, 2022).

In the four-year review, USTR will examine the July 6, 2018, action, as modified, and August 23, 2018, action, as modified. To ensure comprehensive coverage of the review, USTR will consider the List 3 and List 4A modifications as applicable to both the July 6, 2018, action and August 23, 2018, action.

B. First Phase of the Four-Year Review

The first phase in the four-year review process involves notification to representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the two trade actions under Section 301, as modified, of the possible termination of the actions, and of the opportunity for these representatives to request continuation of the actions. See Section 307(c)(2) of the Trade Act (19 U.S.C. 2417(c)(2)). USTR is providing this notice by two different means. First, USTR is mailing notices to interested parties that previously submitted comments on the dockets in this investigation expressing support for the actions under Section 301 or subsequent modifications under Section 307. Second, by way of this notice, USTR is notifying all representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the two trade actions under Section 301, as modified, of the possible termination of the actions, as modified, and of the opportunity for these representatives to request continuation of the actions. Regardless of the means of notification, representatives of domestic industries that benefit from either trade action under Section 301, as modified, should submit requests for continuation through the USTR portal, during the respective time periods for the July 6, 2018 action, and the August 23, 2018 action.

C. Notification to Representatives of Domestic Industries That Benefit From Either Trade Action Under Section 301

USTR is providing the following notice to representatives of domestic industries which benefit from the July 6, 2018, action under Section 301, as modified, or the August 23, 2018, action under Section 301, as modified:

- Section 307(c)(1) of the Trade Act (19 U.S.C. 2417(c)(1)) provides that if— (A) a particular action has been taken under section 301 during any 4-year period, and (B) neither the petitioner nor any representative of the domestic industry which benefits from such action has submitted to the U.S. Trade Representative during the last 60 days of such 4-year period a written request for the continuation of such action, such action shall terminate at the close of such 4-year period.

- The investigation was self-initiated by the U.S. Trade Representative, and thus no petitioner is involved.

- This investigation involves two actions under Section 301: The July 6, 2018 action, as modified, and the August 23, 2018 action, as modified.

- Under Section 307(c)(1)(B) of the Trade Act (19 U.S.C. 2417(c)(1)(B)), the July 6, 2018 action under Section 301, as modified, and the August 23, 2018 action under Section 301, as modified, will terminate on their respective four-year anniversary dates (i.e., July 6, 2022 and August 23, 2022, respectively) unless a representative of a domestic industry which benefits from the respective action submits in the 60-day period prior to the four-year anniversary of the respective action a request that the action continue.

- Representatives of a domestic industry which benefits from either of the two actions under Section 301, as modified, may submit a request for continuation of an action through the USTR portal, as detailed in this notice.

- Representatives of a domestic industry which benefits from both of the trade actions under Section 301, as modified, should submit two separate requests for continuation within the two respective 60-day time periods.

D. Submission of Requests To Continue the Action

Representatives of a domestic industry that benefits from either of the two actions under Section 301, as modified, may submit a request to continue the July 6, 2018 action, as modified, and the August 23, 2018 action, as modified, using the portal corresponding to the trade action at <https://comments.ustr.gov/s/>, according to the following schedule:

- For the July 6, 2018 action, any representative of a domestic industry which benefits from the action, as modified, may submit a request to continue the action between May 7, 2022, and July 5, 2022.

- For the August 23, 2018 action, any representative of domestic industries benefitting from the action, as modified, may submit a request to continue the action between June 24, 2022, and August 22, 2022.

Fields marked with an asterisk (*) are required fields. A request to continue the action should identify the specific industry concerned and should address how the domestic industry benefits from the July 6, 2018 action or August 23, 2018 action, as modified. If a representative of a domestic industry which benefits from an action wishes to receive business confidential treatment for its request to continue the action, please contact USTR at the number specified above. Requests to continue the action will not be posted immediately, but will be summarized in the notices announcing whether the two trade actions under Section 301 will be continued.

E. Second Phase of the Review

USTR will announce in subsequent notices whether it has received a request for continuation from a representative of a domestic industry which benefits from an action. If USTR receives such a request, the U.S. Trade Representative will announce the continuation of the action, and will undertake a review of the action as described in Section 307(c)(3) of the Trade Act (19 U.S.C. 2417(c)(3)). As part of that review, USTR intends to open a separate portal for interested persons to submit comments on, among other matters, the effectiveness of the action in achieving the objectives of Section 301, other actions that could be taken, and the effects of such actions on the United States economy, including consumers.

General Counsel, Office of the United States Trade Representative.

Notice of Intent To Rule on a Land Release Request for Change in Use From Aeronautical to Non-Aeronautical at Stafford Regional Airport, Stafford, VA

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) DOT.

ACTION: Notice of request for a change in use of on-airport property.

SUMMARY: The FAA proposes to rule and invites public comment on Stafford Regional Airport Authority's request to change 0.886 acres of federally obligated airport property at Stafford Regional Airport, Stafford, VA from aeronautical to non-aeronautical use. This acreage was originally purchased with federal financial assistance through the Airport Improvement Program. The proposed use of land after the release will be compatible with the airport and will not interfere with the airport or its operation.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before June 6, 2022.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Comments on this application may be mailed or delivered to the following address:

James L. Stover, Airport Director,
Stafford Regional Airport, 95 Aviation
Way, Fredericksburg, VA 22406, (540)
658-1212 and at the FAA Washington Airports

District Office:

Matthew J. Thys, Manager, Washington
Airports District Office, 13873 Park Center Road, Suite 490S, Herndon,
VA 20171, (703) 487-3980

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with the Wendell H. Ford Aviation Investment and Reform Act for the 21st Century (AIR 21), Public Law 106-181 (Apr. 5, 2000; 114 Stat. 61), this notice must be published in the Federal Register 30 days before the Secretary may waive any condition imposed on a federally obligated airport by grant agreements. The following is a brief overview of the request.

Stafford Regional Airport Authority has submitted a land release request seeking FAA approval for the change in use of approximately 0.886 acres of federally obligated airport property from aeronautical to non-aeronautical use. The property is situated on the southeast side of Aviation Way. Due to this location, the subject area is unable to be utilized for aviation purposes because the airport operations area is located to the west of Aviation Way.

Thus, the subject area is inaccessible to aircraft.

The 0.886 acres of land to be released was originally purchased as part of a 60.000-acre parcel and 73.860-acre parcel with federal financial assistance through the AIP program under Grant Agreement 3–51–0069–06. As foreseen at the time of the execution of this Grant Agreement, the only portions of the 60.000-acre parcel and 73.860-acre parcel that were required for aeronautical use are the portions of the parcels to the west of Aviation Way. Subsequent to the implementation of the proposed change in use, monies received by the airport from this property are considered airport revenue, and will be used in accordance with 49 U.S.C. 47107(b) and the FAA's Policy and Procedures Concerning the Use of Airport Revenue published in the Federal Register on February 16, 1999. The proposed use of the property will not interfere with the airport or its operation.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background: FMCSA issued Emergency Declaration No. 2020–002 in response to the March 13, 2020, declaration of a national emergency under 42 U.S.C. 519(b) related to the danger COVID–19 presents to public health and welfare. FMCSA modified Emergency Declaration 2020–002 to expand and remove categories of supplies, equipment, and persons covered by the Emergency Declaration to respond to changing needs for emergency relief. The modified Emergency Declaration was subsequently extended on June 15, 2020, August 15, 2020, December 1, 2020, August 31, 2021, and November 29, 2021, in accordance with 49 CFR 390.25, because the Presidentially declared emergency remained in place and because a continued exemption was needed to support direct emergency assistance for some supply chains.

In accordance with the expanded, modified Emergency Declaration No. 2020–002, motor carriers and drivers providing direct assistance in support of relief efforts related to the COVID–19 public health emergency are granted emergency relief from certain portions of 49 CFR parts 390 through 399 of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, except as restricted in the Emergency Declaration. Direct assistance means transportation and other relief services provided by a motor carrier or its driver(s) incident to the immediate restoration of essential services (such as medical care) or essential supplies related to COVID–19 during the emergency. The notice extending the declaration provides a list of relief services and essential supplies.

Prior to September 1, 2021, neither the Emergency Declaration nor the regulations covering Emergency Declarations (found in §§ 390.23 and 390.25) required that motor carriers or drivers operating under the Emergency Declaration report their operation to FMCSA. FMCSA determined that the unprecedented period when the expanded, modified Emergency Declaration No. 2020–002 was in place required that FMCSA seek information on the number of motor carriers and drivers relying upon the emergency declaration in order to evaluate the need for additional extensions.

The extension issued on August 31, 2021, included a requirement for motor carriers to report, on a monthly basis, their reliance on the emergency declaration during operations. FMCSA established a website where motor carriers and drivers filled out fields for their USDOT number, the number of commercial motor vehicle trips that relied upon the emergency declaration in the preceding month (using a drop down menu), the commodities being transported (using a drop down menu), and a follow up for those listing more than one commodity to indicate which was transported the most (using a drop down menu). The November 29, 2021, extension continued the reporting requirement. OMB approved the reporting requirement on an emergency basis on August 30, 2021, and subsequently extended that emergency approval on February 14, 2022. That approval expires on August 31, 2022. FMCSA refined the burden estimates to reflect the average number of monthly submissions received from September 2021 to February 2022. The carrier is reporting for the previous month, therefore October 2021 submitted reports consist of data for the month of September, and March 2022 submitted reports consist of data for the month of February.

This resulted in a decrease in the number of reports estimated to be submitted each month, as the emergency ICR request used the total number of motor vehicles as a stand-in, and acknowledged that number was likely to be an overestimate.

Title: Acknowledgement of use of COVID–19 Emergency Declaration Relief.

OMB Control Number: 2126–0074.

Type of Request: Renewal of an approved emergency collection.

Respondents: Motor carriers and drivers that operate under the terms of the extended COVID–19 Emergency Declaration No. 2020–002.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 477 per month.

Estimated Time per Response: 15 minutes per response.

Expiration Date: The emergency approval expires on August 31, 2022.

Frequency of Response: Monthly.

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 1,431 hours.

Public Comments Invited: You are asked to comment on any aspect of this information collection, including: (1)

Whether the proposed collection is necessary for the performance of FMCSA's functions; (2) the accuracy of the estimated burden; (3) ways for FMCSA to enhance the quality, usefulness, and clarity of the collected information; and (4) ways that the burden could be minimized without reducing the quality of the collected information. The Agency will summarize or include your comments in the request for OMB's clearance of this ICR.

Issued under the authority of 49 CFR 1.87.

Associate Administrator, Office of Research and Registration.

Federal Railroad Administration

[Docket Number FRA–2006–24216]

Petition for Extension of Waiver of Compliance

Under part 211 of title 49 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), this document provides the public notice that on March 31, 2022, the Sacramento Regional Transit District (SRTD) petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) for an extension of a waiver of compliance from certain provisions of the Federal railroad safety regulations contained at 49 CFR parts 222, Use of Locomotive Horns at Public Highway-Rail Grade Crossings; 229, Railroad Locomotive Safety Standards; and 234, Grade Crossing Safety. The relevant FRA Docket Number is FRA–2006–24216.

Specifically, SRTD requests a waiver extension from 49 CFR part 222; § 229.125, Headlights and auxiliary lights; and § 234.105(c)(3), Activation failure, for its rail fixed guideway public transit system that shares limited connections in corridors with Union Pacific Railroad (UP). The relief from part 222 would apply to 17 highway-rail grade crossings SRTD shares with UP on SRTD's Gold Line. The relief from § 229.125 and § 234.105(c)(3) would apply to all crossings SRTD shares with UP on the SRTD Blue and Gold lines. STRD adds that, in August 2022, it will be receiving 28 of 76 new low-floor light rail vehicles from Siemens Mobility Inc., to replace its fleet of Siemens vehicles. SRTD states that it believes the waiver extension is consistent with railroad safety.

A copy of the petition, as well as any written communications concerning the petition, is available for review online at www.regulations.gov.

[Docket Number FRA–2022–0028]

Petition for Waiver of Compliance

Under part 211 of title 49 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), this document provides the public notice that in a letter dated September 17, 2021, the Lake County Division of Transportation (LCDOT) petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) for a waiver of compliance from certain provisions of the Federal railroad safety regulations contained at 49 CFR 222.9, Definitions. FRA assigned the petition Docket Number FRA–2022–0028.

Specifically, LCDOT requests relief from the § 222.9 definition of “non-traversable curb,” which states that “[n]on-traversable curbs are used at locations where highway speeds do not exceed 40 miles per hour [(mph)] and are at least six inches high.” LCDOT seeks to maintain the current highway speed of 45 mph at Aptakisic Road and Midlothian Road,¹ two crossings with non-traversable curbs, instead of reducing the speed to 40 mph. In support of its petition, LCDOT references a speed study of the corridor and guidance from the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials.

A copy of the petition, as well as any written communications concerning the petition, is available for review online at www.regulations.gov.

Interested parties are invited to participate in these proceedings by submitting written views, data, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling a public hearing in connection with these proceedings since the facts do not appear to warrant a hearing. If any interested party desires an opportunity for oral comment and a public hearing, they should notify FRA, in writing, before the end of the comment period and specify the basis for their request.

All communications concerning these proceedings should identify the appropriate docket number and may be submitted at <http://www.regulations.gov>. Follow the online instructions for submitting comments.

Communications received by June 21, 2022 will be considered by FRA before final action is taken. Comments received after that date will be considered if practicable.

Anyone can search the electronic form of any written communications and comments received into any of our dockets by the name of the individual submitting the comment (or signing the document, if submitted on behalf of an association, business, labor union, etc.). Under 5 U.S.C. 553(c), the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) solicits comments from the public to better inform its processes. DOT posts

¹ In its petition, LCDOT discusses five grade crossings within the Lake County, IL, Quiet Zone (THR–000481), but it only requests relief for Aptakisic Road and Midlothian Road. LCDOT states the 40-mph speed restriction is not applicable to the other three crossings due to the installation of Mountable Median Pylons.

These regulations will affect the valuation of inter vivos and testamentary transfers of interests dependent on one or more measuring lives. Concerning the proposed regulations, Mayer R. Samuels of the Office of Associate Chief Counsel (Passthroughs and Special Industries), (202) 317–6859; concerning the submission of comments or requests for a public hearing, Regina L. Johnson, (202) 317–5177 (not toll-free numbers).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

This document contains amendments to the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR part 1), the Estate Tax Regulations (26 CFR part 20), and the Gift Tax Regulations (26 CFR part 25) to reflect revisions to certain tables used for the valuation of interests in property under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (Code) to reflect the most recent mortality experience available.

In General

Section 7520, effective for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 1989, generally provides that the value of an annuity, an interest for life or a term of years, and a remainder or reversionary interest is to be determined under tables published by the Secretary of the Treasury or her delegate (Secretary) by using an interest rate (rounded to the nearest two-tenths of one percent) equal to 120 percent of the Federal midterm rate in effect under section 1274(d)(1) for the month in which the valuation date falls. If a charitable contribution is allowable for any part of the property transferred, the taxpayer may elect under section 7520(a) to use such Federal midterm rate for either of the two months preceding the month in which the valuation date falls. Section 7520(c)(2), as it existed on May 1, 1989, directed the Secretary to issue tables not later than December 31, 1989, utilizing the then most recent mortality experience. Thereafter, the Secretary is directed to revise these tables not less frequently than once each 10 years to take into account the most recent mortality experience available as of the time of the revision.

These proposed regulations contain Table 2010CM that is based on data compiled from the 2010 census. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations (published as the final rule in the Federal Register), the appropriate actuarial factors based on Table 2010CM may be computed by taxpayers. However, for the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors may be found on IRS websites and publications referenced in these proposed regulations. These proposed regulations also make conforming amendments to various sections of the existing regulations to provide the references to these revised actuarial factors. The updated actuarial tables will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. IRS Publications 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A” (forthcoming 2022), 1458 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B” (forthcoming 2022), and 1459 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4C” (forthcoming 2022) will provide additional references and explanations to the actuarial tables that are published on the IRS website. These publications will be available after the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations. Table S (Single Life Remainder Factors) and Table U(1) (Unitrust Single Life Remainder Factors), which are referenced and explained in Publications 1457 and 1458, respectively, will no longer be published in these regulations. Furthermore, the current Table S and Table U(1), effective for transfers for which the valuation date is after April 30, 2009, and before the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register, will be moved to sections containing actuarial material for historical reference. Table B, Table D, Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0), Table J, and Table K, which are not based on mortality experience, are not changed.

The following chart summarizes the applicable interest rates and the citations to textual materials and tables for the various periods covered under the current regulations. For purposes of this chart, “DPAD” is the day prior to the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations and “AD” is the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations.

Applicability Dates

These regulations are proposed to be applicable in the case of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests that are valued as of a date on or after the first day of the month following the date on which the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register.

Transitional Rules

The regulations provide certain rules to facilitate the transition to the new actuarial tables. For gift tax purposes, if the date of a transfer is on or after January 1, 2021, and before the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations, the donor may choose to determine the value of the gift (and/or any applicable charitable deduction) under tables based on either Table 2000CM or Table 2010CM. Similarly, for estate tax purposes, if the decedent dies on or after January 1, 2021, and before the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations, the value of any interest (and/or any applicable charitable deduction) may be determined in the discretion of the decedent's executor under tables based on either Table 2000CM or Table 2010CM, provided that the decedent's executor must use the same mortality table to value all interests in the same property. However, the section 7520 interest rate to be utilized is the appropriate rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs, subject to the following special rule for certain charitable transfers. Specifically, in accordance with this transitional rule and the rules contained in §§ 1.7520-

2(a)(2), 20.7520-2(a)(2), and 25.7520-2(a)(2), in cases involving a charitable deduction, if the valuation date occurs on or after January 1, 2021, but before the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations, and the executor or donor elects under section 7520(a) to use the section 7520 interest rate for a month that is prior to January 1, 2021, then the mortality experience contained in Table 2000CM must be used. If the executor or donor uses the section 7520 interest rate for a month that is on or after January 1, 2021, but before the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations, then the tables based on either Table 2000CM or Table 2010CM may be used. However, if the valuation date occurs on or after the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations, the executor or donor must use the new mortality experience contained in Table 2010CM even if the use of a prior month's interest rate is elected under section 7520(a).

In addition, the regulations no longer will provide that the estate of a decedent who was under a mental disability that prevented a change in the disposition of the decedent's property may elect to value the property interest included in the gross estate either under the mortality table and interest rate in effect at the time the decedent first became subject to the mental disability or under the mortality table and interest rate in effect on the decedent's date of death. The taxpayer decedent, during life and before the advent of the mental disability, would not know, beforehand, what the market interest rate would be at his or her future date of death, but can reasonably be expected to have understood that the property interest would be valued at the then-applicable market rate, whatever it might be. Becoming incapacitated should not alter the effect of that understanding. Therefore, a special rule permitting an election to use the interest rate in effect at the time the decedent first became subject to the mental disability is not necessary. The same is true with respect to mortality rates. Accordingly, estates of decedents with a mental disability who die after the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations will be required to use the mortality table and interest rate in effect on the decedent's date of death or the alternate valuation date under section 2032, if elected.

Special Analyses

These proposed regulations are not subject to review under section 6(b) of Executive Order 12866 pursuant to the Memorandum of Agreement (April 11, 2018) between the Treasury Department and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regarding review of tax regulations. Therefore, a regulatory impact assessment is not required.

Pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. chapter 6), it is hereby certified that this proposed rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This document proposes to implement statutorily required periodic updates to actuarial tables used in valuing various interests in property that are affected by a person's life expectancy. The updates would not impose any direct compliance requirements on any entities other than the time to read and understand the proposed updates. Notwithstanding this certification, the Treasury Department and the IRS invite comment on the impact this proposed rule would have on small entities.

The Treasury Department and the IRS have assessed that the proposed regulations do not establish a new collection of information nor modify an existing collection that requires the approval of the Office of Management and Budget under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. chapter 35). The Treasury Department and the IRS seek comments on this assessment.

Pursuant to section 7805(f), this notice of proposed rulemaking has been submitted to the Chief Counsel for the Office of Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment on its impact on small business.

Statement of Availability of IRS Documents

IRS Revenue Procedures, Revenue Rulings, Notices, and other guidance cited in this preamble are published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (or Cumulative Bulletin) and are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Publishing Office, Washington, DC 20402, or by visiting the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov>.

Comments and Requests for Public Hearing

The Treasury Department and the IRS request comments on all aspects of the proposed rules.

Before these proposed amendments to the regulations are adopted as final regulations, consideration will be given to comments that are submitted timely to the IRS as prescribed in the preamble under the ADDRESSES section. Any electronic comments submitted, and to the extent practicable any paper comments submitted, will be made available at www.regulations.gov or upon request.

A public hearing will be scheduled if requested in writing by any person who timely submits electronic or written comments. Requests for a public hearing also are encouraged to be made electronically. If a public hearing is scheduled, notice of the date and time for the public hearing will be published in the Federal Register. Announcement 2020-4, 2020-17 I.R.B. 1, provides that, until further notice, public hearings conducted by the IRS will be held telephonically. Any telephonic hearing will be made accessible to people with disabilities.

Proposed Amendments to the Regulations

PART 1—INCOME TAXES

■ Paragraph 1. The authority citation for part 1 continues to read in part as follows:

Authority: 26 U.S.C. 7805 * * *

■ Par. 2. Section 1.170A-12 is amended by:

- 1. Revising paragraphs (b)(2) and (3).
- 2. Adding paragraph (b)(4).
- 3. Revising paragraphs (e)(2) and (f)

The revisions and addition read as follows:

§ 1.170A-12 Valuation of a remainder interest in real property for contributions made after July 31, 1969.

* * * * *

(b) * * *
 (2) Computation of depreciation factor. If the valuation of the remainder interest in depreciable property is dependent upon the continuation of one life, a special factor must be used. The factor determined under this paragraph (b)(2) is carried to the fifth decimal place. The special factor is to be computed on the basis of the interest rate and life contingency rates from the mortality table prescribed in § 20.2031-7 of this chapter (or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 20.2031-7A of this chapter) and on the assumption that the property depreciates on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], special factors for determining the present value of a remainder interest following one life may be computed by taxpayers based on Table 2010CM, found in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, and using the formula provided in this paragraph (b)(2). Alternatively, taxpayers may use the actuarial factors provided in Table C to determine the special factor for the remainder interest following one life. Table C will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4C” (2022), references and explains Table C and provides examples describing the computation. This publication will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the in the Federal Register]. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], special factors for determining the present value of a remainder interest following one life and an example describing the computation are contained in the previous version of Table C, which is currently available, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Valuations Version 3C” (2009), references and explains this version of Table C and provides examples describing the computation. See, however, § 1.7520–3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances). Otherwise, in the case of the valuation of a remainder interest following one life, the special factor may be obtained through use of the formula in Figure 1 to this paragraph (b)(2). The prescribed mortality table is Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031–7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the appropriate table found in § 20.2031–7A of this chapter. Table 2010CM is referenced by IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Values Version 4C.” The mortality tables prescribed for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] are referenced by prior versions of IRS Publication 1459.

n = the estimated number of years of useful life;

i = the applicable interest rate under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code;

v = $1 / (1 + i)$;

${}_tq_x = 1 - \frac{l_{x+t}}{l_x}$;

x = the age of the measuring life (determined as age at nearest birthday); and

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x .

(3) Sample factors from actuarial Table S. The present value of a remainder interest dependent on the termination of one life is determined by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. The complete Table S can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/> retirement-plans/actuarial-tables. For purposes of the example in paragraph (b)(4) of this section, the following factors from Table S will be used:

TABLE 1 TO PARAGRAPH (b)(3)

Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM

Interest at 3.2 Percent

Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remainder
62	14.6131	0.46762	0.53238

(4) Example. After [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], A, who is 62, donates to Y University a remainder interest in a personal residence, consisting of a house and land, subject to a reserved life estate in A. At the time of the gift, the land has a value of $30,000 and the house has a value of $100,000 with an estimated useful life of 28 years, at the end of which period the value of the house is expected to be $10,000. The portion of the property considered to be depreciable is $90,000 (the value of the house ($100,000) less its expected value at the end of 28 years ($10,000)). The portion of the property considered to be nondepreciable is $40,000 (the value of the land at the time of the gift ($30,000) plus the expected value of the house at the end of 28 years ($10,000)). At the time of the gift, the interest rate prescribed under section 7520 is 3.2

percent. Based on an interest rate of 3.2 percent, the remainder factor for $1.00 prescribed in § 20.2031-7(d) and found in Table S for a person age 62 is 0.53238. The value of the nondepreciable remainder interest is $21,295.20 (0.53238 times $40,000). The factor for the remainder interest in depreciable property is computed under the formula described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section and is 0.19392. (This factor, 0.19392, may instead be determined by using Table C, which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>, and following the method provided in IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Values Version 4C”.) The value of the depreciable remainder interest is $17,452.80 (0.19392 times $90,000). Therefore, the value of the remainder interest is $38,748.00 ($21,295.20 plus $17,452.80).

(2) In the case of the valuation of a remainder interest following two lives, the special factor may be obtained through use of the formula in Figure 2 to this paragraph (e)(2). The prescribed mortality table is Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the appropriate table found in § 20.2031-7A of this chapter. Table 2010CM is referenced by IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Values Version 4C.” The mortality tables prescribed for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] are referenced by prior versions of IRS Publication 1459.

$$\left(1 + \frac{i}{2}\right) \sum_{t=0}^{n-1} v^{t+1} ({}_{t+1}q_x \cdot {}_{t+1}q_y - {}_tq_x \cdot {}_tq_y) \left(1 - \frac{1}{2n} - \frac{t}{n}\right)$$

where:

n = the estimated number of years of useful life;

i = the applicable interest rate under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code;

v = 1 / (1 + i) ;

$${}_tq_x = 1 - \frac{l_{x+t}}{l_x} ;$$

x and y are the ages of the measuring lives (determined as age at nearest birthday); and

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x.

* * * * *

(f) Applicability date. This section applies to contributions made after July 31, 1969, except that paragraphs (b)(2), (3), and (4) and (e)(2) of this section apply to all contributions made on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 3. Section 1.170A-14 is amended:

- 1. In paragraph (h)(4) by designating Example 1 through 12 as paragraphs (h)(4)(i) through (xii), respectively.
- 2. By revising newly designated paragraph (h)(4)(ii).
- 3. In newly designated paragraphs (h)(4)(iii) and (iv) by removing “Example 2” and adding “paragraph (h)(4)(ii) of this section (Example 2)” in its place.
- 4. In newly designated paragraph (h)(4)(v) by removing “Example 4” and adding “paragraph (h)(4)(iv) of this section (Example 4)” in its place.
- 5. In newly designated paragraph (h)(4)(vi) by removing “Example 2” and adding “paragraph (h)(2)(ii) of this section (Example 2)” in its place.
- 6. In newly designated paragraph (h)(4)(viii) by removing “Example 7” and adding “paragraph (h)(4)(vii) of this section (Example 7)” in its place.
- 7. In newly designated paragraph (h)(4)(xi) by removing “example (10)” and adding “paragraph (h)(4)(x) of this section (Example 10)” in its place.
- 8. By revising paragraph (j).

The revisions read as follows:

§ 1.170A-14 Qualified conservation contributions.

* * * * *

(h) * * *
(4) * * *

(ii) Example 2. In 1984 B, who is 62, donates a remainder interest in Greenacre to a qualifying organization for conservation purposes. Greenacre is a tract of 200 acres of undeveloped woodland that is valued at $200,000 at its highest and best use. Under § 1.170A-12(b), the value of a remainder interest in real property following one life is determined under § 25.2512-5 of this chapter (Gift Tax Regulations). (See § 25.2512-5A of this chapter with respect to the valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].) For transfers occurring after November 30, 1983, and before May 1, 1989, the single life remainder factors, valued at 10 percent, can be found in Table A of § 20.2031-7A(d)(6) of this chapter. Accordingly, the value of the remainder interest, and thus the amount eligible for an income tax deduction under section 170(f), is $55,996 ($200,000 × 0.27998).

* * * * *

(j) Applicability dates. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (g)(4)(ii) and paragraph (i) of this section, this section applies only to contributions made on or after December 18, 1980. Paragraph (h)(4)(ii) of this section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 4. Section 1.642(c)-6 is amended by:

- 1. Revising paragraph (d).
- 2. Redesignating paragraph (e) as paragraph (g) of § 1.642(c)-6A.
- 3. Adding new paragraph (e) and revising paragraph (f).

The revisions and addition read as follows:

§ 1.642(c)-6 Valuation of a remainder interest in property transferred to a pooled income fund.

* * * * *

(d) Valuation. The present value of the remainder interest in property transferred to a pooled income fund on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is determined under paragraph (e) of this section. The present value of the remainder interest in property transferred to a pooled income fund for which the valuation date is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] is determined under the following sections:

TABLE 6 TO PARAGRAPH (d)

Valuation dates		Applicable regulations

.....	01-01-52 ...	1.642(c)-6A(a)
12-31-51	01-01-71 ...	1.642(c)-6A(b)

04-30-99	05-01-09 ...	1.642(c)-6A(f)
04-30-09	AD	1.642(c)-6A(g)

AD = [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(e) Present value of the remainder interest in the case of transfers to pooled income funds for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. In the case of transfers to pooled income funds for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest is determined under this section. See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances). The present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual is computed by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table S is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. For purposes of the computations under this section, the age of an individual is the age at the individual’s nearest birthday.

(2) Transitional rule for valuation of transfers to pooled income funds. For purposes of section 170, 2055, 2106, 2522, or 2624, in the case of transfers to a pooled income fund for which the valuation date is on or after January 1, 2021, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of the remainder interest under this section is determined by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 1.7520-1(b) and 1.7520-2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial factors derived from the selected mortality table, either Table 2010CM in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter or Table 2000CM in § 20.2031-7A(g)(4) of this chapter, at the option of the donor or the decedent’s executor, as the case may be. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors based on Table 2010CM appear in the proposed version of Table S, and actuarial factors based on Table 2000CM appear in the current version of Table S, which will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The donor or decedent’s executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(3) Present value of a remainder interest. The present value of a remainder interest in property transferred to a pooled income fund is computed on the basis of—

(i) Life contingencies determined from the values of l_x that are set forth in Table 2010CM in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter (see § 20.2031-7A of this chapter for certain prior periods); and

(ii) Discount at a rate of interest, compounded annually, equal to the highest yearly rate of return of the pooled income fund for the three taxable years immediately preceding its taxable year in which the transfer of property to the fund is made. For purposes of this paragraph (e), the yearly rate of return of a pooled income fund is determined as provided in paragraph (c) of this section unless the highest rate of return is deemed to be the rate described in paragraph (e)(4) of this section for funds in existence less than 3 taxable years. For purposes of this paragraph (e)(3)(ii), the first taxable year of a pooled income fund is considered a taxable year even though the taxable year consists of less than 12 months. However, appropriate adjustments must be made to annualize the rate of return earned by the fund for that period. Where it appears from the facts and circumstances that the highest yearly rate of return of the fund for the three taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which the transfer of property is made has been purposely manipulated to be substantially less than the rate of return that otherwise would be reasonably anticipated with the purpose of obtaining an excessive charitable deduction, that rate of return may not be used. In that case, the highest yearly rate of return of the fund is determined by treating the fund as a pooled income fund that has been in existence for less than three preceding taxable years.

(4) Pooled income funds in existence less than three taxable years. If a pooled income fund has been in existence less than three taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which the transfer is made to the fund and the transfer to the fund is made on or after May 1, 1989, the highest rate of return is deemed to be the interest rate (rounded to the nearest two-tenths of one percent) that is one percent less than the highest annual average of the monthly section 7520 rates for the three calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year in which the transfer to the pooled income fund is made. The deemed rate of return for transfers to new pooled income funds is recomputed each calendar year using the monthly section 7520 rates for the three year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which each transfer to the fund is made until the fund has been in existence for three taxable years and can compute its highest rate of return for the three taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which the transfer of property to the fund is made in accordance with the rules set forth in the first sentence of paragraph (e)(3)(ii) of this section.

(5) Computation of value of remainder interest—(i) Factor. The factor that is used in determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual is the factor obtained through use of the formula in § 20.2031-

7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table S is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. In using the section of Table S for the interest rate equal to the appropriate yearly rate of return, the appropriate remainder factor is opposite the number that corresponds to the age of the individual upon whose life the value of the remainder interest is based (See § 1.642(c)-6A for certain prior periods). The tables referenced by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A” include factors for yearly rates of return from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, in increments of two-tenths of one percent. For other situations, see paragraph (b) of this section. If the yearly rate of return is a percentage that is between the yearly rates of return for which factors are provided by Table S, an exact method of obtaining the applicable factors (such as through software using the actual rate of return and the actuarial formulas provided in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter) or a linear interpolation must be used, provided whichever method used is applied consistently. The present value of the remainder interest is determined by multiplying the fair market value of the property on the valuation date by the appropriate remainder factor.

(ii) Sample factors from actuarial Table S. For purposes of the example in paragraph (e)(5)(iii) of this section, the following factors from Table S will be used:

TABLE 7 TO PARAGRAPH (e)(5)(ii)

Interest at 5.6 Percent
55	12.9710	0.72637	0.27363

(iii) Example of interpolation. After [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], A, whose age is 54 years and 8 months, transfers $100,000 to a pooled income fund, and retains a life income interest in the property. The highest yearly rate of return earned by the fund for its 3 preceding taxable years is 5.43 percent. In Table S, the remainder factor opposite 55 years under 5.4 percent is 0.28442 and under

5.6 percent is 0.27363. The present value of the remainder interest is $28,280, computed as illustrated in Figure 1 to this paragraph (e)(5)(iii).

(6) Actuarial tables. In the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest dependent on the termination of one life in the case of a transfer to a pooled income fund is determined by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table S is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register].

(f) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 5. The undesignated center heading immediately preceding

§ 1.642(c)-6A is revised to read as follows: Pooled Income Fund Actuarial Tables Applicable Before [Applicability Date of the Treasury Decision Adopting These Regulations as Final Regulations]

■ Par. 6. Section 1.642(c)-6A is amended by:

■ 1. Revising the section heading.
 ■ 2. In newly redesignated paragraph (g):
 ■ i. The heading and paragraphs (g)(1) through (5) and (g)(6) introductory text are revised.

■ ii. Paragraph (g)(7) is added.

The revisions and addition read as follows:

§ 1.642(c)-6A Valuation of charitable remainder interests for which the valuation date is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

* * * * *
 (g) Present value of the remainder interest in the case of transfers to pooled income funds for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. In the case of transfers to pooled income funds for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest is determined under this section. See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances). The present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual is computed by the use of Table S in paragraph (g)(6) of this section. For purposes of the computations under this section, the age of an individual is the age at the individual's nearest birthday.

(2) Transitional rules for valuation of transfers to pooled income funds. (i) For purposes of section 2055, 2106, or 2624, if on May 1, 2009, the decedent was under a mental disability so that the disposition of the property could not be changed, and the decedent died on or after May 1, 2009, but before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] without having regained the ability to dispose of the decedent's property, or if the decedent died within 90 days of the date that the decedent first regained that ability on or after May 1, 2009, but before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest is determined as if the valuation date with respect to the decedent's gross estate is either before May 1, 2009, or after April 30, 2009, at the option of the decedent's executor.

(ii) For purposes of section 170, 2055, 2106, 2522, or 2624, in the case of transfers to a pooled income fund for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before July 1, 2009, the present value of the remainder interest under this section is determined by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 1.7520-1(b) and 1.7520-2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(6) or (g)(6) of this section, at the option of the donor or the decedent's executor, as the case may be.

(iii) For purposes of paragraphs (g)(2)(i) and (ii) of this section, where the donor or decedent's executor is given the option to use the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(6) or (g)(6) of this section, the donor or decedent's executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(3) Present value of a remainder interest. The present value of a remainder interest in property transferred to a pooled income fund is computed on the basis of —

(i) Life contingencies determined from the values of l_x that are set forth in Table 2000CM in § 20.2031-7A(g)(4) of this chapter; and

(ii) Discount at a rate of interest, compounded annually, equal to the highest yearly rate of return of the pooled income fund for the three taxable years immediately preceding its taxable year in which the transfer of property to the fund is made. The provisions of § 1.642(c)-6(c) apply for determining the yearly rate of return. However, where the taxable year is less than 12 months, the provisions of § 1.642(c)-6(e)(3)(ii) apply for the determining the yearly rate of return.

(4) Pooled income funds in existence less than three taxable years. The provisions of § 1.642(c)-6(e)(4) apply for determining the highest yearly rate of return when the pooled income fund has been in existence less than three taxable years.

(5) Computation of value of remainder interest. The factor that is used in determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual is the factor from Table S in paragraph (g)(6) of this section under the appropriate yearly rate of return opposite the number that corresponds to the age of the individual upon whose life the value of the remainder interest is based. Table S in paragraph (g)(6) of this section includes factors for yearly rates of return from 0.2 to 14 percent, inclusive, in increments of two-tenths of one percent. Actuarial factors that do not appear in paragraph (g)(6) of this section may be computed directly by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S that is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457, "Actuarial Valuations Version 3A" (2009). The table is available at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). For other situations, see § 1.642(c)-6(b). If the yearly rate of return is a percentage that is between the yearly rates of return for which factors are provided by Table S, an exact method of obtaining the applicable factors (such as through software using the actual rate of return and actuarial formulas provided in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter) or a linear interpolation must be used, provided whichever method used is applied consistently. The present value of the remainder interest is determined by multiplying the fair market value of the property on the valuation date by the appropriate remainder factor. For an example of a computation of the present value of a remainder interest requiring a linear interpolation adjustment, see § 1.642(c)-6(e)(5).

(6) Actuarial tables. In the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], and without regard to the headings in the tables in this paragraph (g)(6) that do not contain this termination date for the applicability of the tables, the present value of a remainder interest dependent on the termination of one life in the case of a transfer to a pooled income fund is determined by using the following tables:

* * * * *

(7) Applicability dates. Paragraphs (g)(1) through (6) of this section apply on and after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 7. Section 1.664-2 is amended by revising paragraphs (c) and (e) as follows:

§ 1.664-2 Charitable remainder annuity trust.

* * * * *

(c) Calculation of the fair market value of the remainder interest of a charitable remainder annuity trust. For purposes of sections 170, 2055, 2106, and 2522, the fair market value of the remainder interest of a charitable remainder annuity trust (as described in this section) is the net fair market value (as of the appropriate valuation date) of the property placed in trust less the present value of the annuity. For purposes of this section, valuation date means, in general, the date on which the property is transferred to the trust by the donor regardless of when the trust is created. In the case of transfers to a charitable remainder annuity trust for which the valuation date is after April 30, 1999, if an election is made under section 7520 and § 1.7520-2(b) to compute the present value of the charitable interest by using the interest rate component for either of the 2 months preceding the month in which the transfer is made, the month so elected is the valuation date for purposes of determining the interest rate and mortality tables. For purposes of section 2055 or 2106, the valuation date is the date of death unless the alternate valuation date is elected in accordance with section 2032 in which event, and within the limitations set forth in section 2032 and the regulations in this part under section 2032, the valuation date is the alternate valuation date. If the decedent's estate elects the alternate valuation date under section 2032 and also elects, under section 7520 and § 1.7520-2(b), to use the interest rate component for one of the 2 months preceding the alternate valuation date, the month so elected is the valuation date for purposes of determining the interest rate and mortality tables. The present value of an annuity is computed under § 20.2031-7(d) of this chapter for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], or under § 20.2031-7A(a) through (g) of this chapter, whichever is applicable, for transfers for which the valuation date is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances).

* * * * *

(e) Applicability date. Paragraph (c) of this section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 8. Section 1.664-4 is amended by:

- 1. Revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (d).
- 2. In paragraph (e):
 - i. Redesignating the paragraph heading as the heading for § 1.664-4A(g) and paragraphs (e)(1), (2), (5), and (7) as § 1.664-4A(g)(1), (2), (5), and (6), respectively.
 - ii. Adding a new paragraph heading and new paragraphs (e)(1), (2), and (5).
 - iii. Revising the heading for paragraph (e)(6).
 - iv. Redesignating the text of paragraph (e)(6) as paragraph (e)(6)(iii).
 - v. Adding paragraphs (e)(6)(i) and (ii).
 - vi. Revising the introductory text of newly redesignated paragraph (e)(6)(iii), preceding Table D.
 - vii. Adding a new paragraph (e)(7).
- 3. Revising paragraph (f).

The additions and revisions read as follows:

§ 1.664-4 Calculation of the fair market value of the remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust.

(a) * * *

(1) Life contingencies determined as to each life involved, from the values of l_x set forth in Table 2010CM in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter in the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]; or from Table 2000CM contained in § 20.2031-7A(g)(4) of this chapter in the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. See § 20.2031-7A(a) through (f) of this chapter, whichever is applicable, for transfers for which the valuation date is before May 1, 2009;

* * * * *

(d) Valuation. The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust (as described in § 1.664-3) for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after

[applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is its present value determined under paragraph (e) of this section. The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust (as described in § 1.664-3) for transfers for which the valuation date is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is its present value determined under the following sections:

Valuation Dates		Applicable regulations
After	Before
12-31-51	01-01-52 ...	1.664-4A(a)
12-31-70	01-01-71 ...	1.664-4A(b)
11-30-83	12-01-83 ...	1.664-4A(c)
04-30-89	05-01-89 ...	1.664-4A(d)
04-30-99	05-01-99 ...	1.664-4A(e)
04-30-99	05-01-09 ...	1.664-4A(f)
04-30-09	AD	1.664-4A(g)

AD = [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(e) Valuation of charitable remainder unitrusts having certain payout sequences for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e)(2) of this section, in the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest is determined under paragraphs (e)(3) through (7) of this section, provided that, in a short taxable year, the trustee shall prorate the unitrust amount as provided in § 1.664-3(a)(1)(v). See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of the prescribed tables under certain circumstances).

(2) Transitional rule for valuation of charitable remainder unitrusts. For purposes of section 170, 2055, 2106, 2522, or 2624, in the case of transfers to a charitable remainder unitrust for which the valuation date is on or after January 1, 2021, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest based on one or more measuring lives is determined under this section by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 1.7520-1(b) and 1.7520-2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial factors derived from the selected mortality table, either Table 2010CM in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter or Table 2000CM in § 20.2031-7A(g)(4) of this chapter, at the option of the donor or the decedent's executor, as the case may be. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors based on Table 2010CM appear in the proposed version of Table U(1), and actuarial factors based on Table 2000CM appear in the current version of Table U(1), which will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The donor or decedent's executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(5) Period is the life of one individual—(i) Factor. If the period described in § 1.664-3(a)(5) is the life of one individual, the factor that is used in determining the present value of the remainder interest for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [insert the applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] is the factor obtained through the use of the formula in Figure 1 to this paragraph (e)(5)(i). The prescribed mortality table is Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the appropriate table found in § 20.2031-7A of this chapter. Table 2010CM is referenced by IRS Publication 1458, “Actuarial Values Version 4B.” The mortality tables prescribed for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] are referenced by prior versions of IRS Publication 1458. Alternatively, the remainder factors have been determined for the convenience of taxpayers and appear in Table U(1) under the appropriate adjusted payout rate. Table U(1) will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/> retirement-plans/actuarial-tables (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table U(1) is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1458 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. For purposes of the computations described in this paragraph (e)(5), the age of an individual is the age of that individual at the individual’s nearest birthday. If the adjusted payout rate is an amount that is between adjusted payout rates for which factors are provided in the appropriate table, an exact method of obtaining the applicable factors (such as through software using the actual adjusted payout rate and the actuarial formula in this paragraph (e)(5)) or a linear interpolation must be used, provided whichever method used is applied consistently. The present value of the remainder interest is determined by multiplying the net fair market value (as of the valuation date as determined in § 1.664–4(e)(4)) of the property placed in trust by the factor determined under this paragraph (e)(5). If the adjusted payout rate is from 0.2 to 20.0 percent, inclusive, taxpayers may see the actuarial tables referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1458 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B”. Alternatively, the Commissioner may supply a factor upon a request for a ruling. See paragraph (b) of this section.

i = r / (1 - r)

${}_tq_x = 1 - \frac{l_{x+t}}{l_x}$;

x = the age of the measuring life (determined as age at nearest birthday); and

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x.

(ii) Sample factors from actuarial Table U(1). For purposes of the example in paragraph (e)(5)(iii) of this section, the following factors from Table U(1) and Table F(3.2) (see paragraph (e)(6)(ii) of this section) will be used:

(iii) Example of interpolation. After [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], A, whose age is 76 years and 11 months, transfers $100,000 to a charitable remainder unitrust on January 1st. The trust instrument requires that the trust pay to A semiannually (on June 30 and December 31) 5 percent of the fair market value of the trust assets as of January 1st during A's life. The section 7520 rate for January is 3.2 percent. Under Table F(3.2), the appropriate adjustment factor is 0.976683 for semiannual payments payable at the end of the semiannual period. The adjusted payout rate is 4.8834% (5% × 0.976683). Based on interpolating between the remainder factors in Table U(1), the present value of the remainder interest is $61,012, computed as illustrated in Figure 2 to this paragraph (e)(5)(iii).

(6) Actuarial Table D and Tables F (0.2) through F(20.0) for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 1989—(i) Remainder factors for charitable remainder unitrusts. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 1989, the present value of a charitable remainder unitrust interest that is dependent upon a term of years is determined by using the formula in Figure 3 to this paragraph (e)(6)(i). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table D. Table D can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table D is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1458 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. The remainder factors from Table D also can be found in paragraph (e)(6)(iii) of this section, but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], where the present value of a charitable remainder unitrust interest is dependent on the termination of a life interest, see paragraph (e)(5) of this section. See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances).

(ii) Unitrust payout rate adjustment factors. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 1989, the unitrust payout rate adjustment factors are determined by using the formula in Figure 4 to this paragraph (e)(6)(ii). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS, for interest rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, and appear in Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0). Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0) are referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1458 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. The factors from Table F also can be found in paragraph (e)(6)(iii) of this section, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

Figure 4 to paragraph (e)(6)(ii) – Formula for determining unitrust payout rate

$$\frac{(1+i)^{(1/p)} \cdot i \cdot v^{(d/12)}}{p(1+i)[(1+i)^{(1/p)} - 1]}$$

where:

p = the number of payments per year;

i = the applicable interest rate under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code;

v = 1 / (1 + i) ; and

d = the number of months between the annual valuation date and the regular first payout date of a standard full year of the trust.

(iii) Table D and Tables F(4.2) through F(14.0). The unitrust remainder factors from Table D, for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive, and the unitrust payout factors from Tables F(4.2) through F(14.0) are as follows:

* * * * *

(7) Actuarial Table U(1) for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. The present value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust that is dependent on the termination of a life interest is determined by using the section 7520 rate, Tables F(0.2) through (20.0) (see paragraph (e)(6)(ii) of this section), and the formula in paragraph (e)(5)(i) of this section to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table U(1). For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the actuarial tables will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. These actuarial tables are referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1458, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B” (2022). This publication will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. See, however, § 1.7520–3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances).

(f) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 9. The undesignated center heading immediately preceding § 1.664–4A is revised to read as follows:

Unitrust Actuarial Tables Applicable Before [Applicability Date of the Treasury Decision Adopting These Regulations as Final Regulations]

■ Par. 10. Section 1.664–4A is amended by:

- 1. Revising the section heading.
- 2. In newly redesignated paragraph (g):
 - i. Revising the heading and paragraphs (g)(1) and (2).
 - ii. Adding paragraphs (g)(3) and (4).
 - iii. Revising paragraph (g)(5).
 - iv. In paragraph (g)(6), revising the introductory text.
 - v. Adding paragraph (g)(7).

The additions and revisions read as follows:

§ 1.664–4A Valuation of charitable remainder interests for which the valuation date is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

* * * * *

(g) Valuation of charitable remainder unitrusts having certain payout

sequences for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (g)(2) of this section, in the case of transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest is determined under paragraphs (g)(3) through (6) of this section, provided that the amount of the payout as of any payout date during any taxable year of the trust is not larger than the amount that the trust could distribute on such date under § 1.664–3(a)(1)(v) if the taxable year of the trust were to end on such date. See, however, § 1.7520–3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of the prescribed tables under certain circumstances).

(2) Transitional rules for valuation of charitable remainder unitrusts. (i) For purposes of sections 2055, 2106, or 2624, if on May 1, 2009, the decedent was under a mental disability so that the disposition of the property could not be changed, and the decedent died on or after May 1, 2009, but before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], without having regained the ability to dispose of the decedent's property, or if the decedent died within 90 days of the date that the decedent first regained that ability on or after May 1, 2009, but before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the present value of a remainder interest under this section is determined as if the valuation date with respect to the decedent's gross estate is either before May 1, 2009, or after April 30, 2009, at the option of the decedent's executor.

(ii) For purposes of sections 170, 2055, 2106, 2522, or 2624, in the case of transfers to a charitable remainder unitrust for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before July 1, 2009, the present value of a remainder interest based on one or more measuring lives is determined under this section by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 1.7520-1(b) and 1.7520-2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(6) or (g)(6) of this section, at the option of the donor or the decedent's executor, as the case may be.

(iii) For purposes of paragraphs (g)(2)(i) and (ii) of this section, where the donor or decedent's executor is given the option to use the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(6) or (g)(6) of this section, the donor or decedent's executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(3) Adjusted payout rate. The adjusted payout rate is determined by applying the formula in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(ii) for the section 7520 interest rate applicable to the transfer to derive a factor. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS, for interest rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, and appear in Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0). Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0) are referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1458 "Actuarial Valuations Version 3B." The payout adjustment factors from Table F can also be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii), but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Alternatively, the Commissioner may supply a factor upon a request for a ruling. See § 1.664-4(b). See § 1.664-4(e) for rules applicable in determining the adjusted payout rate.

(4) Period is a term of years. If the period described in § 1.664-3(a)(5) is a term of years, the factor that is used in determining the present value of the remainder interest is determined by applying the formula in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(i) under the appropriate adjusted payout rate corresponding to the number of years in the term. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table D. Table D can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table D is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1458 "Actuarial Valuations Version 3B." The remainder factors from Table D also can be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii), but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. If the adjusted payout rate is a percentage that is between the adjusted payout rate for which factors are provided by Table D, an exact method of obtaining the applicable factors (such as through software using the actual rate of return and the actuarial formula provided in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(i)) or a linear interpolation must be used, provided whichever method used is applied consistently. The present value of the remainder interest is determined by multiplying the net fair market value (as of the appropriate valuation date) of the property placed in trust by the factor determined under this paragraph (g)(4). Generally, for purposes of this section, the valuation date is, in the case of an inter vivos transfer, the date on which the property is transferred to the trust by the donor, and, in the case of a testamentary transfer under sections 2055, 2106, or 2624, the valuation date is the date of death. See § 1.664-4(e)(4) for additional rules regarding the valuation date, and for an example that illustrates the application of this paragraph (g)(4).

(5) Period is the life of one individual. If the period described in § 1.664-3(a)(5) is the life of one individual, the factor that is used in determining the present value of the remainder interest for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], may be computed directly by using the formula in § 1.664-4(e)(5)(i) to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table U(1). Table U(1) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table U(1) is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1458 "Actuarial Valuations Version 3B." The remainder factors from Table U(1) also can be found in paragraph (g)(6) of this section, but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. For purposes of the computations described in this paragraph (g)(5), the age of an individual is the age of that individual at the individual's nearest birthday. If the adjusted payout rate is a percentage that is between the adjusted payout rate for which factors are provided by Table U(1), an exact method of obtaining the applicable factors (such as through software using the actual rate of return and the actuarial formula provided in § 1.664-4(e)(5)(i)) or a linear interpolation must be used, provided whichever method used is applied consistently. The rules provided in § 1.664-4(e)(5) apply for determining the present value of the remainder interest. See § 1.664-4(e)(5) for an example illustrating the application of this paragraph (g)(5) (using current actuarial tables).

(6) Actuarial Table U(1) for transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. For transfers for which the valuation date is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], and without regard to the headings in the tables in this paragraph (g)(6) that do not contain this termination date for the applicability of the tables, the present value of a charitable remainder unitrust interest that is dependent on the termination of a life interest is determined by using the section 7520 rate, Table U(1) in this paragraph (g)(6), and Tables F(4.2) through F(14.0) in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii). See, however, § 1.7520-3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances). Actuarial factors that do not appear in the following tables may be computed directly by using the formula in § 1.664-4(e)(5)(i) to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table U(1) that is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1458, "Actuarial Valuations Version 3B” (2009). The table is available at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time).

* * * * *

(7) Applicability dates. Paragraphs (g)(1) through (6) of this section apply on and after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 11. Section 1.7520-1 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (2), (b)(2), (c), and (d) and adding paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§ 1.7520-1 Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests.

(a) * * * (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in § 1.7520-3 (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances), in the case of certain transactions after April 30, 1989, subject to income tax, the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years (including unitrust interests), and remainder or reversionary interests is their present value determined under this section. See § 20.2031-7(d) of this chapter (and, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 20.2031-7A of this chapter) for the computation of the value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests other than interests described in paragraphs (a)(2) and (3) of this section.

(2) For a transfer to a pooled income fund, see § 1.642(c)-6(e) (or, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 1.642(c)-6A) with respect to the valuation of the remainder interest.

(b) * * *

(2) Mortality component. The mortality component reflects the mortality data most recently available from the United States census. As new mortality data becomes available after each decennial census, the mortality component described in this section will be revised and the revised mortality component tables will be published in the IRS publications at that time. For transactions with valuation dates on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the mortality component table (Table 2010CM) is in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, is referenced by IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” and can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). See § 20.2031-7A of this chapter for mortality component tables applicable to transactions for which the valuation date falls before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(c) Actuarial factors. The present value on the valuation date of an annuity, an interest for life or a term of years, and a remainder or reversionary interest is computed by using the section 7520 interest rate component that is described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section and the mortality component that is described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. Actuarial factors for determining these present values may be calculated by taxpayers using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031-7(d)(2) of this chapter but, for the convenience of taxpayers, are included in tables that are referenced and explained by publications of the Internal Revenue Service. If a special factor is required in order to value an interest, the special factor may be calculated by taxpayers using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031-7(d)(2) of this chapter or the taxpayer may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts, including the date of birth for each measuring life and copies of relevant instruments. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see Rev. Proc. 2021-1, 2021-1 I.R.B. 1, and subsequent updates, and §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(d) IRS publications referencing and explaining actuarial tables with rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, at intervals of two-tenths of one percent, for valuation dates on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. The publications listed in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. The underlying actuarial tables referenced and explained by these publications will be available May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>:

(1) IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A” (2022). This publication references tables of valuation factors and provides examples that show how to compute other valuation factors, for determining the present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests, measured by one or two lives. These factors may also be used in the valuation of interests in a charitable remainder annuity trust as defined in § 1.664-2 and a pooled income fund as defined in § 1.642(c)-5. This publication references and explains Table S (single life remainder factors), Table R(2) (two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table B (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of an interest for a term of years), Table H (commutation factors), Table J (term certain annuity beginning-of-interval adjustment factors), and Table K (annuity end-of-interval adjustment factors). See earlier versions of the publication, § 1.642(c)-6A, or § 20.2031-7A of this chapter for Table S applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table R(2), Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031-7(d)(6) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(2) IRS Publication 1458, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B” (2022). This publication references and explains term certain tables and tables of one and two life valuation factors for determining the present value of remainder interests in a charitable remainder unitrust as defined in § 1.664-3. This publication references Table U(1) (unitrust single life remainder factors), Table U(2) (unitrust two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table D (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of a remainder interest postponed for a term of years), Table F (adjustment payout rate factors), and Table Z (unitrust commutation factors). See earlier versions of the publication or § 1.664-4A for Table U(1) applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table U(2). Table D also can be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii), but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Table F also can be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii), but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(3) IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4C” (2022). This publication references and explains Table C, which provides factors for making adjustments to the standard remainder factor for valuing gifts of depreciable property. See § 1.170A-12.

(4) The publications identified in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section also reference Table 2010CM, the mortality component table.

(e) Use of approximation methods for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates. For certain cases, this part and IRS publications provide approximation methods (for example, interpolation) for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates (such as in the case of a pooled income fund’s rate of return or a unitrust’s adjusted payout rate). In general, exact methods of obtaining the applicable factors are allowed, such as through software using the applicable interest rate and the proper actuarial formula, provided such direct methods are applied consistently. The actuarial formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter is used to determine the remainder factor for pooled income funds and the actuarial formula in § 1.664-4(e)(5)(i) is used to determine the remainder factor for unitrusts. The approximation method provided in this part must be used if more exact methods are not available.

(f) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

- 1. Revising paragraph (c), the heading of paragraph (d), and paragraphs (d)(1) through (5).
- 2. Redesignating paragraph (d)(7) as paragraph (g)(4) of § 20.2031-7A.

(c) Actuarial valuations. The present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests for estates of decedents for which the valuation date of the gross estate is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is determined under paragraph (d) of this section. The present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests for estates of decedents for which the valuation date of the gross estate is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is determined under the following sections:

AD = [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(d) Actuarial valuations on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section and § 20.7520-3(b) (pertaining to certain limitations on the use of prescribed tables), if the valuation date for the gross estate of the decedent is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests is the present value determined by using standard or special section 7520 actuarial factors. These factors are derived by using the actuarial formulas provided in paragraph (d)(2) of this section, the appropriate section 7520 interest rate, and, if applicable, the mortality component for the valuation date of the interest that is being valued. For purposes of the computations described in this section, the age of an individual is the age of that individual at the individual’s nearest birthday. For the convenience of taxpayers, paragraph (d)(2) of this section provides for published tables of factors for specific types of interests. These published tables provide factors for rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, at intervals of two-tenths of one percent. In general, appropriate factors instead may be computed directly from the actuarial formulas provided in paragraph (d)(2) of this section. In some cases, specific examples in this part and IRS publications illustrate approximation methods (for example, interpolation) for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates (such as in the case of a pooled income fund’s rate of return or a unitrust’s adjusted payout rate). Exact methods of obtaining the applicable actuarial factors are allowed, such as through software using the actual rate of return and the actuarial formulas provided in paragraph (d)(2) of this section; the approximation method provided in this part must be used if more exact methods are not available. See §§ 20.7520-1 through 20.7520-4.

(2) Specific interests—(i) Pooled income funds and charitable remainder trusts. The fair market value of a remainder interest in a pooled income fund, as defined in § 1.642(c)-5 of this chapter, is its value determined under § 1.642(c)-6(e). The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder annuity trust, as defined in § 1.664-2(a), is the present value determined under § 1.664-2(c). The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust, as defined in § 1.664–3, is its present value determined under § 1.664–4(e). The fair market value of a life interest or an interest for a term of years in a charitable remainder unitrust is the fair market value of the property as of the date of valuation less the fair market value of the remainder interest on that date determined under § 1.664–4(e)(4) and (5).

(ii) Ordinary remainder and reversionary interests—(A) Remainder and reversionary interests for a term of years. If the interest to be valued is a remainder or reversionary interest to take effect after a definite number of years, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate remainder factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the stated term). The factor for an ordinary remainder interest following a term certain may be found using the formula in Figure 1 to this paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(A). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Table B can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/> actuarial-tables (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table B is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. The remainder factors from Table B also can be found in paragraph (d)(6) of this section, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

n = the term of years; and i = the interest rate specified under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) Remainder and reversionary interests dependent on the life of one individual. If the interest to be valued is a remainder or reversionary interest to take effect after the death of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate remainder factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the age of the measuring life of the life interest that precedes the remainder interest). The factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the death of one individual may be found using the formula in Figure 2 to this paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(B). The prescribed mortality table is Table 2010CM as set forth in paragraph (d)(7)(ii) of this section, or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the appropriate table found in § 20.2031–7A. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table S is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

where:

i = the applicable interest rate under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code;

v = $1 / (1 + i)$;

${}_tq_x = 1 - \frac{l_{x+t}}{l_x}$;

x = the age of the measuring life (determined as age at nearest birthday); and

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x .

(iii) Ordinary interests for a term of years and life interests. If the interest to be valued is the right of a person to receive the income of certain property, or to the use of certain property, for a term of years or for the life of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate actuarial factor for an interest for a term of years or for a life interest (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the durational period). The actuarial factor for an ordinary income interest for a term certain may be found by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(A) of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Income Interest” column of Table B which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The actuarial factor for an ordinary income interest for the life of one individual may be found by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(B) of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Life Estate” column of Table S. Table S (applicable when the valuation date is on or after

(iv) Annuities. (A) If the interest to be valued is the right of a person to receive an annuity that is payable at the end of each year for a term of years or for the life of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the aggregate amount payable annually by the appropriate annuity factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and annuity period). The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(A) of this section and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for the life of one individual is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined under the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(B) of this section and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table S. Table S (applicable when the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table B and Table S are referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A”. See § 20.2031–7A or earlier versions of Publication 1457 for valuation of interests before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

(B) If the annuity is payable at the end of semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods, the product obtained by multiplying the annuity factor by the aggregate amount payable annually is then multiplied by the applicable adjustment factor at the appropriate interest rate component for payments made at the end of the specified periods. The applicable adjustment factor may be found using the formula in Figure 3 to this paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. Table K, which is referenced and explained by Publication 1457, can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. The provisions of this paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B) are illustrated by the example in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B)(2) of this section.

where:

p = the number of payments per year; and i = the interest rate specified under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(1) Sample factors from actuarial Table S and Table K. For purposes of the example in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B)(2)

TABLE 2 TO PARAGRAPH (d)(2)(iv)(B)(1)

Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM Interest at 3.2 Percent
Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remainder
75	9.4053	0.30097	0.69903

Factors from Table K Adjustment Factors for Annuities Payable at the End of Each Interval
Interest Rate	Semi-Annually	Quarterly	Monthly
3.2%	1.0079	1.0119	1.0146

(2) Example. At the time of the decedent's death, the survivor/annuitant, age 75, is entitled to receive an annuity of $15,000 per year for life payable in equal monthly installments at the end of each month. The section 7520 rate for the month in which the decedent died is 3.2 percent. Under Table S, the annuity factor at 3.2 percent for an individual aged 75 is 9.4053. Under Table K, the adjustment factor under the column for payments made at the end of each monthly period at the rate of 3.2 percent is 1.0146. The aggregate annual amount, $15,000, is multiplied by the factor 9.4053 and the product then is multiplied by 1.0146. The present value of the annuity at the date of the decedent's death is, therefore, $143,139.26 ($15,000 × 9.4053 × 1.0146).

(C) If an annuity is payable at the beginning of annual, semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods for a term of years, the value of the annuity is computed by multiplying the aggregate amount payable annually by the annuity factor described in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(A) of this section; and the product so obtained then is multiplied by the applicable adjustment factor at the appropriate interest rate component for payments made at the beginning of specified periods. The applicable adjustment factor may be found using the formula in Figure 4 to this paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Table J, which is referenced and explained by Publication 1457, can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. If an annuity is payable at the beginning of annual, semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods for one or more lives, the value of the annuity is the sum of the first payment plus the present value of a similar annuity, the first payment of which is not to be made until the end of the payment period, determined as provided in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B) of this section.

p = the number of payments per year;

v = 1 / (1 + i); and

i = the interest rate specified under section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(v) Annuity and unitrust interests for a term of years or until the prior death of an individual. See § 25.2512–5(d)(2)(v) of this chapter for examples explaining how to compute the present value of an annuity or unitrust interest that is payable until the earlier of the lapse of a specific number of years or the death of an individual.

(3) Transitional rule. If a decedent dies on or after January 1, 2021, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests based on one or more measuring lives included in the gross estate of the decedent is their present value determined under this section by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 20.7520–1(b) and 20.7520–2(a)(2)) and factors derived from the selected mortality table, either Table 2010CM in paragraph (d)(7)(ii) of this section or Table 2000CM in § 20.2031–7A(g)(4), at the option of the donor or the decedent's executor, as the case may be. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors based on Table 2010CM appear in the proposed version of Table S, and actuarial factors based on Table 2000CM appear in the current version of Table S, which will be available as provided in paragraph (d)(4) of this section. The decedent's executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(4) Publications and actuarial computations by the Internal Revenue Service. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual may be computed by using the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(B) of this section to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest following a term certain may be computed by using the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(A) of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Adjustment factors for term certain annuities payable at the beginning of each interval may be computed by using the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C) of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Adjustment factors for annuities payable at the end of each interval may be computed by using the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B) of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. These tables will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/> retirement-plans/actuarial-tables (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A” (2022), references and explains the factors contained in the actuarial tables and also includes examples that illustrate how to compute many special factors for more unusual situations. This publication will be available after [date the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register]. Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in paragraph (d)(6) of this section, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. If a special factor is required in the case of an actual decedent, the special factor may be calculated by the executor using the actuarial formulas in paragraph (d)(2) of this section or the executor may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts including a statement of the date of birth for each measuring life, the date of the decedent's death, any other applicable dates, and a copy of the will, trust, or other relevant documents. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(5) Examples. The provisions of this section are illustrated by the examples in this paragraph (d)(5). For purposes of these examples, the following factors from Table S, Table B, and Table K will be used:

TABLE 3 TO PARAGRAPH (d)(5)

Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM Interest at 3.2 Percent
Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remainder
31	23.8334	0.76267	0.23733
46	20.0146	0.64047	0.35953
Interest at 4.6 Percent
65	11.7691	0.54138	0.45862
Factors from Table B Annuity, Income, and Remainder Interests for a Term Certain Interest at 2.6 Percent
Years	Annuity	Income Interest	Remainder
5	4.6325	0.120445	0.879555
Factors from Table K Adjustment Factors for Annuities Payable at the End of Each Interval
Interest Rate	Semi-Annually	Quarterly	Monthly
2.6%	1.0065	1.0097	1.0119
3.2%	1.0079	1.0119	1.0146

(i) Example 1: Remainder payable at an individual's death. The decedent, or the decedent's estate, was entitled to receive certain property worth $50,000 upon the death of A, to whom the income was bequeathed for life. At the time of the decedent's death, A was 65 years and 5 months old. In the month in which the decedent died, the section 7520 rate was 4.6 percent. Under Table S, the remainder factor at 4.6 percent for determining the present value of the remainder interest due at the death of a person aged 65, A's age at A's nearest birthday to the date of the decedent's death, is 0.45862. The present value of the remainder interest at the date of the decedent's death is, therefore, $22,931 ($50,000 times 0.45862).

(ii) Example 2: Income payable for an individual's life. A's parent bequeathed an income interest in property to A for life, with the remainder interest passing to B at A's death. At the time of the parent's death, the value of the property was $50,000 and A was 30 years and 10 months old. The section 7520 rate at the time of the parent's death was 3.2 percent. Under Table S, the factor at 3.2 percent for determining the present value of the life estate given to a person aged 31, A's age at A's nearest birthday to the date of the decedent's death, is 0.76267. The present value of A's income interest at the time of the parent's death is, therefore, $38,133.50 ($50,000.00 × 0.76267).

(iii) Example 3: Annuity payable for an individual's life. A purchased an annuity for the benefit of both A and B.

Under the terms of the annuity contract, at A's death, a survivor annuity of $10,000 per year, payable in equal semiannual installments made at the end of each interval is payable to B for life. At A's death, B was 45 years and 7 months old. Also, at A's death, the section 7520 rate was 3.2 percent. Under Table S, the factor at 3.2 percent for determining the present value of an annuity interest payable until the death of a person age 46 (B's age at B's nearest birthday to the date of A's death) is 20.0146. The adjustment factor from Table K at an interest rate of 3.2 percent for semiannual annuity payments made at the end of the period is 1.0079. The present value of the annuity at the date of A's death is, therefore, $201,727.15 ($10,000 × 20.0146 × 1.0079).

(iv) Example 4: Annuity payable for a term of years. The decedent, or the decedent's estate, was entitled to receive an annuity of $10,000 per year payable in equal quarterly installments at the end of each quarter throughout a term certain. At the time of the decedent's death, the section 7520 rate was 2.6 percent. A quarterly payment had been made immediately prior to the decedent's death and payments were to continue for 5 more years. Under Table B for the interest rate of 2.6 percent, the factor for the present value of an annuity with a term of 5 years is 4.6325. The adjustment factor from Table K at an interest rate of 2.6 percent for quarterly annuity payments made at the end of the quarter is 1.0097. The present value of the annuity is, therefore, $46,774.35 ($10,000 × 4.6325 × 1.0097).

* * * * *

(7) Actuarial Table S and Table 2010CM where the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(i) Determination of required factors. Except as provided in § 20.7520–3(b) (pertaining to certain limitations on the use of prescribed tables), for determination of the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of a life interest, where the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], actuarial factors computed directly by using the formula in paragraph (d)(2)(ii)(B) of this section, Table 2010CM, and the section 7520 rate are used in the application of the provisions of this section. For the convenience of taxpayers, the actuarial factors, when the section 7520 interest rate component is from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, have been computed by IRS and can be found in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table S is also referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register].

(e) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

Par. 15. The undesignated center heading immediately preceding § 20.2031–7A is revised to read as follows:

Actuarial Tables Applicable Before [Applicability Date of the Treasury Decision Adopting These Regulations as Final Regulations]

■ Par. 16. Section 20.2031–7A is amended by:

- 1. Revising the section heading.
- 2. Adding paragraphs (g) heading and (g)(1) through (3).
- 3. In newly redesignated paragraph (g)(4), the heading and introductory text are revised.
- 4. Adding paragraph (g)(5).

The revisions and additions read as follows:

§ 20.2031–7A Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests for estates of decedents for which the valuation date of the gross estate is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

* * * * *

(g) Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests for estates of decedents for which the valuation date of the gross estate is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in §§ 20.2031–7(b) and 20.7520–3(b) (pertaining to certain limitations on the use of prescribed tables), if the valuation date for the gross estate of the decedent is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests is the present value of the interests determined by using standard or special section 7520 actuarial factors and the valuation methodology described in § 20.2031–7(d). These factors are derived by using the appropriate section 7520 interest rate and, if applicable, the mortality component for the valuation date of the interest that is being valued. See §§ 20.7520–1 through 20.7520–4. See paragraph (g)(4) of this section for determination of the appropriate table for use in valuing these interests.

(2) Transitional rules. (i) If a decedent dies on or after May 1, 2009, and if, on May 1, 2009, the decedent was under a mental disability so that the disposition of the decedent's property could not be changed, and the decedent dies before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] either without having regained the ability to dispose of the decedent's property or within 90 days of the date on which the decedent first regains that ability, the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests included in the gross estate of the decedent is their present value determined either under this section or under the corresponding section applicable at the time the decedent first became subject to the mental disability, at the option of the decedent's executor. For example, see paragraph (d) of this section.

(ii) If a decedent dies on or after May 1, 2009, and before July 1, 2009, the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests based on one or more measuring lives included in the gross estate of the decedent is their present value determined under this section by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 20.7520–1(b) and 20.7520–2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(4) or (g)(4) of this section, at the option of the decedent's executor.

(iii) For purposes of paragraphs (g)(2)(i) and (ii) of this section, where the decedent's executor is given the option to use the appropriate actuarial tables under either paragraph (f)(4) or (g)(4) of this section, the decedent's executor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(3) Publications and actuarial computations by the Internal Revenue Service. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest following a term certain may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Adjustment factors for term certain annuities payable at the beginning of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(iv)(C). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Adjustment factors for annuities payable at the end of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(iv)(B). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. These tables are referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Values Version 3A,” (2009). Publication 1457 includes examples that illustrate how to compute many special factors for more unusual situations. The actuarial tables are available, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table S also can be found in paragraph (g)(4) of this section, but only for interest rates from 0.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031–7(d)(6), but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. If a special factor is required in the case of an actual decedent, the special factor may be calculated by the executor using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) or the executor may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts including a statement of the date of birth for each measuring life, the date of the decedent's death, any other applicable dates, and a copy of the will, trust, or other relevant documents. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(4) Actuarial tables. Except as provided in § 20.7520–3(b) (pertaining to certain limitations on the use of prescribed tables), actuarial factors based on Table 2000CM must be used in the application of the provisions of this section. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors, when the section 7520 interest rate component is from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S (applicable on and after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]). These actuarial tables, as referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 3A,” are available, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table S (notwithstanding the lack of the applicable termination date in its heading), where the section 7520 interest rate component is from 0.2 to 14 percent, inclusive, and Table 2000CM are as follows:

* * * * *

(5) Applicability dates. Paragraphs (g)(1) through (4) of this section apply on and after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 17. Section 20.2032–1 is amended by revising paragraphs (f)(1) and (h) to read as follows:

§ 20.2032–1 Alternate valuation.

(1) Life estates, remainders, and similar interests—(i) In general. The values of life estates, remainders, and similar interests are to be obtained by applying the methods prescribed in § 20.2031–7, using the age of each person, the duration of whose life may affect the value of the interest, as of the date of the decedent's death, and the value of the property as of the alternate valuation date.

(ii) Sample factors from actuarial Table S. The present value of a remainder interest dependent on the termination of one life is determined by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). For purposes of the example in paragraph (e)(5)(iii) of this section, the following relevant factors from Table S is used:

TABLE 2 TO PARAGRAPH (f)(1)(ii)

Table S—Based on Table 2010CM
Interest at 4.2 Percent

Age 65	Annuity 12.2128	Life Estate 0.51294	Remainder 0.48706
Interest at 4.6 Percent
Age 65	Annuity 11.7691	Life Estate 0.54138	Remainder 0.45862

(iii) Example. Assume that the decedent, or the decedent's estate, was entitled to receive certain property worth $50,000 upon the death of A, who was entitled to the income for life. At the time of the decedent's death, A was 65 years and 5 months old, and the section 7520 rate was 4.6 percent. The value of the decedent's remainder interest at the date of the decedent's death would, as illustrated in Example 1 of § 20.2031-7(d)(5)(i), be $22,931.00 ($50,000 × 0.45862). On the date that is 6 months after the decedent's death, A was 65 years and 11 months old, and the section 7520 rate was 4.2 percent. If, because of economic conditions, the property declined in value and was worth only $40,000 on the date that was 6 months after the date of the decedent's death, and the decedent's executor elected to use the alternate valuation date, the value of the remainder interest would be $19,482.40 ($40,000 × 0.48706). When the alternate valuation date is elected, the age of A, and other aspects of valuation which change by reason of the mere passage of time, is determined as of the date of the decedent's death, while the value of the property and the relevant section 7520 interest rate is determined as of the alternate valuation date. Thus, the computation uses A's age of 65 years old at the date of the decedent's death, even though A would be closest to 66 years old on the alternate valuation date.

* * * * *

(h) Applicability date. Paragraph (b) of this section is applicable to decedents dying on or after January 4, 2005. However, pursuant to section 7805(b)(7), taxpayers may elect to apply paragraph (b) of this section retroactively if the period of limitations for filing a claim for a credit or refund of Federal estate or generation-skipping transfer tax under section 6511 has not expired. Paragraph (f)(1) of this section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ 3. By revising newly designated paragraph (c)(2)(iv)(C).

§ 20.2036-1 Transfers with retained life estate.

* * * * *

- (c) * * *
- (2) * * *
- (iv) * * *

(C) Example 3. (1) D created a CRUT within the meaning of section 664(d)(2). The trust instrument directs the trustee to hold, invest, and reinvest the corpus of the trust and to pay to D for D's life, and then to D's child (C) for C's life, in equal quarterly installments payable at the end of each calendar quarter, an amount equal to 6 percent of the fair market value of the trust as valued on December 15 of the prior taxable year of the trust. At the termination of the trust, the then-remaining corpus, together with any and all accrued income, is to be distributed to N, a charitable organization described in sections 170(c), 2055(a), and 2522(a). D dies six years later, survived by C, who was then age 55. The value of the trust assets on D's death was $300,000. D's executor does not elect to use the alternate valuation date and D's executor does not choose to use the section 7520 interest rate for either of the two months prior to D's death.

(2) The amount of the corpus with respect to which D retained the right to the income, and thus the amount includible in D's gross estate under section 2036(a)(1), is that amount of corpus necessary to yield the unitrust payments as interest on the corpus. In this case, such amount of corpus is determined by dividing the trust's equivalent income interest rate by the section 7520 rate (which was 5.4 percent at the time of D's death). The equivalent income interest rate is determined by dividing the trust's adjusted payout rate by the excess of 1 over the adjusted payout rate. Based on Table F(5.4) in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii) of this chapter, the appropriate adjusted payout rate for the trust at D's death is 5.807 percent (6 percent × 0.967769). Thus, the equivalent income interest rate is 6.165 percent (5.807 percent / (1 - 5.807 percent)). The ratio of the equivalent interest rate to the assumed interest rate under section 7520 is 114.17 percent (6.165 percent / 5.4 percent). Because this exceeds 100 percent, D's retained payout interest exceeds a full income interest in the trust, and D effectively retained the income from all the assets transferred to the trust. Accordingly, because D retained for life an interest at least equal to the right to all income from all the property transferred by D to the CRUT, the entire value of the corpus of the CRUT is includible in D's gross estate under section 2036(a)(1). (The result would be the same if D had retained, instead, an interest in the CRUT for a term of years and had died during the term.) Under the facts presented, section 2039 does not apply to include any amount in D's gross estate by reason of D's retained unitrust interest. See § 20.2039-1(e).

(3) If, instead, D had retained the right to a unitrust amount having an adjusted payout for which the corresponding equivalent interest rate would have been less than the 5.4 percent assumed interest rate of section 7520, then a correspondingly reduced proportion of the trust corpus would be includible in D's gross estate under section 2036(a)(1). Alternatively, if the interest retained by D was instead only one-half of the 6 percent unitrust interest, then the amount included in D's estate would be the amount needed to produce a 3 percent unitrust interest. All of the results in this paragraph (c)(2)(iv)(C)(3) (Example 3) would be the same if the trust had been a grantor retained unitrust instead of a CRUT.

■ Par. 20. Section 20.2055-2 is amended by revising paragraphs (e)(3)(iii) and (f)(4) and (6) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(e) * * *
(3) * * *

(iii)(A) The rule in paragraphs (e)(2)(vi)(a) and (e)(2)(vii)(a) of this section that guaranteed annuity interests or unitrust interests, respectively, may be payable for a specified term of years or for the life or lives of only certain individuals generally is effective in the case of transfers pursuant to wills and revocable trusts when the decedent dies on or after April 4, 2000. Two exceptions from the application of the rule in paragraphs (e)(2)(vi)(a) and (e)(2)(vii)(a) of this section are provided for transfers pursuant to a will or revocable trust executed on or before April 4, 2000. One exception is for a decedent who dies on or before July 5, 2001, without having republished the will (or amended the trust) by codicil or otherwise. The other exception is for a decedent who was, on April 4, 2000, under a mental disability that prevented a change in the disposition of the decedent's property, and who either does not regain competence to dispose of such property before the date of death, or dies prior to the later of 90 days after the date on which the decedent first regains competence, or July 5, 2001, without having republished the will (or amended the trust) by codicil or otherwise. If a guaranteed annuity interest or unitrust interest created pursuant to a will or revocable trust when the decedent dies on or after April 4, 2000, uses an individual other than one permitted in paragraphs (e)(2)(vi)(a) and (e)(2)(vii)(a) of this section, and the interest does not qualify for this transitional relief, the interest may be reformed into a lead interest payable for a specified term of years. The term of years is determined by taking the factor for valuing the annuity or unitrust interest for the named individual measuring life and identifying the term of years (rounded up to the next whole year) that corresponds to the equivalent term of years factor for an annuity or unitrust interest. A judicial reformation must be commenced prior to the later of July 5, 2001, or the date prescribed by section 2055(e)(3)(C)(iii). Any judicial reformation must be completed within a reasonable time after it is commenced.

A non-judicial reformation is permitted if effective under state law, provided it is completed by the date on which a judicial reformation must be commenced. In the alternative, if a court, in a proceeding that is commenced on or before July 5, 2001, declares any transfer made pursuant to a will or revocable trust where the decedent dies on or after April 4, 2000, and on or before March 6, 2001, null and void ab initio, the Internal Revenue Service will treat such transfers in a manner similar to that described in section 2055(e)(3)(f).

(B) The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(A) and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the "Annuity" column of Table B. The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for the life of one individual is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the "Annuity" column of Table S. Table B and Table S can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). For purposes of the example in paragraph (e)(3)(iii)(C) of this section, the following relevant factors from Table B and Table S are used:

TABLE 1 TO PARAGRAPH (e)(3)(iii)(B)

Factors from Table B Annuity, Income, and Remainder Interests for a Term Certain Interest at 3.2 Percent
Years	Annuity	Income Interest	Remainder

(C) The following example illustrates how to determine the term of years for a reformed interest as discussed in paragraph (e)(3)(iii)(A) of this section. Assume an annuity interest payable for the life of an individual age 40 at the time of the transfer on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], with an interest rate of 3.2 percent under section 7520. Under Table S, the annuity factor at 3.2 percent for the life of an individual age 40 is 21.7045. Based on Table B at 3.2 percent, the factor 21.7045 corresponds to a term of years between 37 and 38 years. Accordingly, the annuity interest must be reformed into an interest payable for a term of 38 years.

(4) Other decedents. The present value of an interest not described in paragraph (f)(2) of this section is to be determined under § 20.2031–7(d) in the case of decedents where the valuation date of the gross estate is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], or under § 20.2031–7A in the case of decedents where the valuation date of the gross estate is before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(6) Applicability date. Paragraphs (e)(3)(iii) and (f)(4) of this section apply on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 21. Section 20.2056A–4 is amended by:

- 1. Revising paragraph (c)(4)(ii)(B).
- 2. In paragraph (d), designating Examples 1 through 5 as paragraphs (d)(1) through (5), respectively.
- 3. Revising the headings in newly designated paragraphs (d)(1) through (3).
- 4. Revising newly designated paragraph (d)(4), newly designated paragraph (d)(5) heading, and paragraph (e).

The revisions read as follows:

(B) The total present value of the nonassignable annuity or other payment is the present value of the annuity or other payment as of the date of the decedent’s death, determined in accordance with the interest rates and mortality table prescribed by section 7520. The expected annuity term is the number of years that would be required for the scheduled payments to exhaust a hypothetical fund equal to the present value of the scheduled payments. This is determined by first dividing the total present value of the payments by the annual payment. From the quotient so obtained, the expected annuity term is derived by identifying the term of years that corresponds to the lowest annuity factor that is equal to or greater than the quotient. The annuity factor is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). If the quotient obtained falls between two terms, the longer term is used.

For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table S. The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B. The applicable adjustment factor for annuities that are payable at the end of semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods is computed by use of the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(iv)(B). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. These actuarial tables can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. For purposes of the example in this paragraph (d)(4), the relevant factors from Table S, Table B, and Table K are:

(ii) At the time of D’s death, on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], D is a participant in an employees’ pension plan described in section 401(a). On D’s death, D’s spouse S, a resident of the United States, becomes entitled to receive a survivor’s annuity of $72,000 per year, payable monthly, for life. At the time of D’s death, S is age 60. Assume that under section 7520, the appropriate discount rate to be used for valuing annuities in the case of this decedent is 3.6 percent. Under Table S, the annuity factor at 3.6 percent for a person age 60 is 14.6908. The adjustment factor at 3.6 percent in Table K for monthly payments is 1.0164. Accordingly, the right to receive $72,000 per year on a monthly basis is equal to the right to receive $73,180.80 ($72,000 × 1.0164) on an annual basis.

(iii) The corpus portion of each annuity payment received by S is determined as follows:

(A) The first step is to determine the present value of S’s annuity payments under the plan ($73,180.80 × 14.6908 = $1,075,084.50).

(B) The second step is to determine the number of years that would be required for S’s annuity to exhaust a hypothetical fund of $1,075,084.50. The annuity factor of 14.6908 falls between the Table B term certain annuity factors for 21 and 22 years at an interest rate of 3.6 percent. Accordingly, the expected annuity term is 22 years.

(C) The third step is to determine the corpus amount of the annual payment by dividing the expected term of 22 years into the present value of the hypothetical fund ($1,075,084.50/22 = $48,867.48).

(D) In the fourth step, the corpus portion of each annuity payment is determined by dividing the corpus amount of each annual payment by the annual annuity payment (adjusted for payments more frequently than annually as in paragraph (d)(4)(i) of this section) ($48,867.48/73,180.80 = 0.67).

(iv) Accordingly, 67 percent of each payment to S is deemed to be a distribution of corpus. A marital deduction is allowed for $1,075,084.50, the present value of the annuity as of D’s date of death, if either: S agrees to roll over the corpus portion of each payment to a QDOT and the executor files the Information Statement described in paragraph (c)(5) of this section and the Roll Over Agreement described in paragraph (c)(7) of this section; or S agrees to pay the tax due on the corpus portion of each payment and the executor files the Information Statement described in paragraph (c)(5) of this section and the Payment Agreement described in paragraph (c)(6) of this section.

(e) Applicability date. Paragraphs (c)(4)(ii)(B) and (d)(4) of this section are applicable with respect to decedents dying on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 22. Section 20.7520–1 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (2), (b)(2), (c), and (d) and adding paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§ 20.7520–1 Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests.

(a) * * * (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in § 20.7520–3 (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances), in the case of estates of decedents with valuation dates after April 30, 1989, the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years (including unitrust interests), and remainder or reversionary interests is their present value determined under this section. See § 20.2031–7(d) (and, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 20.2031–7A) for the computation of the value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests, other than interests described in paragraphs (a)(2) and (3) of this section.

(2) For a transfer to a pooled income fund, see § 1.642(c)–6(e) of this chapter (or, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 1.642(c)–6A) with respect to the valuation of the remainder interest.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(2) Mortality component. The mortality component reflects the mortality data most recently available from the United States census. As new mortality data becomes available after each decennial census, the mortality component described in this section will be revised and the revised mortality component tables will be published in IRS publications at that time. For decedents’ estates with valuation dates on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the mortality component table (Table 2010CM) is in § 20.2031–7(d)(7)(ii) and is referenced by IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” and can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). See § 20.2031–7A for mortality component tables applicable to decedents’ estates with valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(c) Actuarial factors. The present value on the valuation date of an annuity, an interest for life or a term of years, and a remainder or reversionary interest is computed by using the section 7520 interest rate component that is described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section and the mortality component that is described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. Actuarial factors for determining these present values may be calculated by using the formulas in § 20.2031-7(d)(2). For the convenience of taxpayers, the IRS has computed actuarial factors and displayed them on tables that are referenced and explained by publications of the Internal Revenue Service. If a special factor is required in order to value an interest, the special factor may be calculated by the taxpayer using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031-7(d)(2) or the taxpayer may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts, including the date of birth for each measuring life and copies of relevant instruments. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see Rev. Proc. 2021-1, 2021-1 I.R.B. 1, and subsequent updates, and §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(d) IRS publications referencing and explaining actuarial tables with rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, at intervals of two-tenths of one percent, for valuation dates on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. The publications listed in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section will be available after [date the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register]. The underlying actuarial tables reference and explained by these publications will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>:

(1) IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A” (2022). This publication references tables of valuation factors and provides examples that show how to compute other valuation factors, for determining the present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests, measured by one or two lives. These factors also may be used in the valuation of interests in a charitable remainder annuity trust as defined in § 1.664-2 of this chapter and a pooled income fund as defined in § 1.642(c)-5 of this chapter. This publication references and explains Table S (single life remainder factors), Table R(2) (two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table B (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of an interest for a term of years), Table H (commutation factors), Table J (term certain annuity beginning-of-interval adjustment factors), and Table K (annuity end-of-interval adjustment factors). See earlier versions of the publication, § 1.642(c)-6A of this chapter, or § 20.2031-7A for Table S applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. See earlier versions of the publication for Table R(2) applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table R(2). Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031-7(d)(6), but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(2) IRS Publication 1458, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B” (2022). This publication references and explains term certain tables and tables of one and two life valuation factors for determining the present value of remainder interests in a charitable remainder unitrust as defined in § 1.664-3 of this chapter. This publication references Table U(1) (unitrust single life remainder factors), Table U(2) (unitrust two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table D (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of a remainder interest postponed for a term of years), Table F (adjustment payout rate factors), and Table Z (unitrust commutation factors). See earlier versions of the publication or § 1.664-4A of this chapter for Table U(1) applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table U(2). Table D also can be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii) of this chapter, but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Table F also can be found in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(iii) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(3) IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4C” (2022). This publication references and explains Table C, which provides factors for making adjustments to the standard remainder factor for valuing gifts of depreciable property. See § 1.170A-12 of this chapter.

(4) The publications identified in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section also reference Table 2010CM, the mortality component table.

(e) Use of approximation methods for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates. For certain cases, this part and IRS publications provide approximation methods (for example, interpolation) for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates (such as in the case of a pooled income fund’s rate of return or a unitrust’s adjusted payout rate). In general, exact methods of obtaining the applicable factors are allowed, such as through software using the actual rate of return and the proper actuarial formulas used for the published factors at the listed rates, provided such direct methods are applied consistently. The actuarial formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) is used to determine the remainder factor for pooled income funds and the actuarial formula in § 1.664-4(e)(5)(i) of this chapter is used to determine the remainder factor for unitrusts. The approximation method provided in this part must be used if more exact methods are not available.

(f) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(c) Actuarial valuations. The present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred by gift on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is determined under paragraph (d) of this section. The present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred by gift before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is determined under the following sections:

(d) Actuarial valuations on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section and § 25.7520–3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances), the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], is the present value of such interests determined under paragraph (d)(2) of this section and by using standard or special section 7520 actuarial factors. These factors are derived by using the actuarial formulas provided in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter, appropriate section 7520 interest rate, and, if applicable, the mortality component for the valuation date of the interest that is being valued. For purposes of the computations described in this section, the age of an individual is the age of that individual at the individual’s nearest birthday. For the convenience of taxpayers, paragraph (d)(2) of this section provides for published tables of factors for specific types of interests. These published tables provide factors for rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, at intervals of two-tenths of one percent. In general, appropriate factors instead may be computed directly from the actuarial formulas provided in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter. In some cases, specific examples in this part and IRS publications illustrate approximation methods (for example, interpolation) for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates (such as in the case of a pooled income fund’s rate of return or a unitrust’s adjusted payout rate). Exact methods of obtaining the applicable actuarial factors are allowed, such as through software using the actual rate of return and the actuarial formulas provided in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter; the approximation method provided in this part must be used if more exact methods are not available. See §§ 25.7520–1 through 25.7520–4. The fair market value of a qualified annuity interest described in section 2702(b)(1) and a qualified unitrust interest described in section 2702(b)(2) is the present value of such interests determined under § 25.7520–1(c).

(2) Specific interests. When the donor transfers property in trust or otherwise and retains an interest therein, generally, the value of the gift is the value of the property transferred less the value of the donor’s retained interest. However, if the donor transfers property after October 8, 1990, to or for the benefit of a member of the donor’s family, the value of the gift is the value of the property transferred less the value of the donor’s retained interest as determined under section 2702. If the donor assigns or relinquishes an annuity, an interest for life or a term of years, a remainder or reversionary interest that the donor holds by virtue of a transfer previously made by the donor or another, the value of the gift is the value of the interest transferred. However, see section 2519 for a special rule in the case of the assignment of an income interest by a person who received the interest from a spouse.

(i) Pooled income funds and charitable remainder trusts. The fair market value of a remainder interest in a pooled income fund, as defined in § 1.642(c)–5 of this chapter, is its value determined under § 1.642(c)–6(e) of this chapter (see § 1.642(c)–6A of this chapter for certain prior periods). The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder annuity trust, as described in § 1.664–2(a) of this chapter, is its present value determined under § 1.664–2(c) of this chapter. The fair market value of a remainder interest in a charitable remainder unitrust, as defined in § 1.664–3 of this chapter, is its present value determined under § 1.664–4(e) of this chapter. The fair market value of a life interest or term for years interest in a charitable remainder unitrust is the fair market value of the property as of the date of transfer less the fair market value of the remainder interest, determined under § 1.664–4(e)(4) and (5) of this chapter.

(ii) Ordinary remainder and reversionary interests—(A) Remainder and reversionary interests for a term of years. If the interest to be valued is a remainder or reversionary interest to take effect after a definite number of years, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate remainder factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the stated term). The factor for an ordinary remainder interest following a term certain may be found using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Table B can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table B is referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations is published in the Federal Register]. The remainder factors from Table B also can be found in paragraph (d)(6) of this section, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

(B) Remainder and reversionary interests dependent on the life of one individual. If the interest to be valued is a remainder or reversionary interest to take effect after the death of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate remainder factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the age of the measuring life of the life interest that precedes the remainder interest). The factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the death of one individual may be found by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. Table S will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table S is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

(iii) Ordinary interests for a term of years and life interests. If the interest to be valued is the right of a person to receive the income of certain property, or to the use of certain property, for a term of years or for the life of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the value of the property by the appropriate actuarial factor for an interest for a term of years or for a life interest (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and the durational period). The actuarial factor for an ordinary income interest for a term certain may be found by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Income Interest” column of Table B which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The actuarial factor for an ordinary income interest for the life of one individual may be found by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Life Estate” column of Table S. Table S (applicable when the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table B and Table S are referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A”. See § 20.2031-7A of this chapter or earlier versions of Publication 1457 for valuation of interests before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

(iv) Annuities. (A) If the interest to be valued is the right of a person to receive an annuity that is payable at the end of each year for a term of years or for the life of one individual, the present value of the interest is computed by multiplying the aggregate amount payable annually by the appropriate annuity factor (that corresponds to the applicable section 7520 interest rate and annuity period). The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B which can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for the life of one individual is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table S. Table S (applicable when the valuation date is on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]) can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. Table B and Table S are referenced and explained in IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A”. See § 20.2031-7A of this chapter or earlier versions of Publication 1457 for valuation of interests before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. For information about obtaining special factors for other situations, see paragraph (d)(4) of this section.

(B) If the annuity is payable at the end of semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods, the product obtained by multiplying the annuity factor by the aggregate amount payable annually then is multiplied by the applicable adjustment factor at the appropriate interest rate component for payments made at the end of the specified period. The applicable adjustment factor may be found using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(iv)(B) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. Table K, which is referenced and explained by Publication 1457, can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. The provisions of this paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B) are illustrated by the example in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B)(2) of this section.

(1) Sample factors from actuarial Table S and Table K. For purposes of the example in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B)(2) of this section, the relevant factors from Table S and Table K are:

TABLE 2 TO PARAGRAPH
(d)(2)(iv)(B)(1)

Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM Interest at 3.2 Percent
Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remain- der
68	12.2552	0.39217	0.60783
Factors from Table K Adjustment Factors for Annuities Payable at the End of Each Interval
Interest Rate	Semi- Annually	Quarterly	Monthly
3.2%	1.0079	1.0119	1.0146

(2) Example. On July 1 of a year after 2021, the donor agrees to pay the annuitant the sum of $10,000 per year, payable in equal semiannual installments at the end of each period. The semiannual installments are to be made on each December 31st and June 30th. The annuity is payable until the annuitant's death. On the date of the agreement, the annuitant is 68 years and 5 months old. The donee annuitant's age is treated as 68 for purposes of computing the present value of the annuity. The section 7520 rate on the date of the agreement is 3.2 percent. Under Table S, the factor at 3.2 percent for determining the present value of an annuity payable until the death of a person aged 68 is 12.2552. The adjustment factor from Table K in the column for payments made at the end of each semiannual period at the rate of 3.2 percent is 1.0079. The aggregate annual amount of the annuity, $10,000, is multiplied by the factor 12.2552 and the product is multiplied by 1.0079. The present value of the donee's annuity is, therefore, $123,520.16 ($10,000 × 12.2552 × 1.0079).

(C) If an annuity is payable at the beginning of annual, semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods for a term of years, the value of the annuity is computed by multiplying the aggregate amount payable annually by the annuity factor described in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(A) of this section; and the product so obtained then is multiplied by the applicable adjustment factor at the appropriate interest rate component for payments made at the beginning of specified periods. The applicable adjustment factor may be found using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(iv)(C) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Table J, which is referenced and explained by Publication 1457, can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. If an annuity is payable at the beginning of annual, semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods for one or more lives, the value of the annuity is the sum of the first payment and the present value of a similar annuity, the first payment of which is not to be made until the end of the payment period, determined as provided in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(B) of this section.

(v) Annuity and unitrust interests for a term of years or until the prior death of an individual—(A) Annuity interests—(1) In general. (i) The present value of an annuity interest that is payable until the earlier to occur of the lapse of a specific number of years or the death of an individual may be computed with the use of commutation factors and an applicable adjustment factor. The commutation factors are computed directly with the set of formulas in Figure 1 to this paragraph (d)(2)(v)(A)(1)(i). The prescribed mortality table is Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, or for periods before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the appropriate table found in § 20.2031-7A of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table H. Table H will be available May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table H is referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457 “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” which will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register].

$$M_x = \sum_{t=0}^{\infty} v^{x+t+1} \cdot d_{x+t}$$

$$\overset{\circ}{N}_x = N_{x+1} + \frac{1}{2} M_x$$

$$\overline{M}_x = \left(1 + \frac{i}{2}\right) \cdot M_x$$

where:

i = the applicable interest rate under Section 7520 of the Internal Revenue Code;

v = $1 / (1 + i)$;

d_x = $l_x - l_{x+1}$;

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x .

(ii) The applicable adjustment factor for annuities that are payable at the end of semiannual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly periods is computed by use of the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(iv)(B) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. Table K can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. (2) Example. The donor transfers $100,000 into a trust on January 1, 2022 and retains the right to receive an annuity from the trust in the amount of $10,000 per year, payable in equal semiannual installments at the end of each period. The semiannual installments are to be made on each June 30th and December 31st. The annuity is payable for 10 years or until the donor's prior death. At the time of the transfer, the donor is 59 years and 6 months old. The donor's age is deemed to be 60 for purposes of computing the present value of the retained annuity. If the section 7520 rate for the month in which the transfer occurred is 2.8 percent, the present value of the donor's retained annuity interest for the shorter of life or term would be is $82,363.54, determined in Figure 2 to this paragraph (d)(2)(v)(A)(2).

(B) Unitrust interests—(1) In general. (i) The present value of a unitrust interest that is payable until the earlier to occur of the lapse of a specific number of years or the death of an individual may be computed with the use of an adjusted payout rate factor and a unitrust commutation factor. The adjusted payout rate factor is determined by applying the formula in § 1.664-4(e)(6)(ii) of this chapter for the section 7520 interest rate applicable to the transfer. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS, for interest rates from 0.2 to 20 percent, inclusive, and appear in Tables F(0.2) through F(20.0). The unitrust commutation factors are computed directly with the set of formulas in Figure 3 to this paragraph (d)(2)(v)(B)(1)(i). For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table Z. Table F and Table Z can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>.

$${}^u \bar{M}_x = \left(1 + \frac{u_i}{2}\right) \cdot {}^u M_x$$

where:

r = the adjusted payout rate;

u_i = $r / (1 - r)$;

d_x = $l_x - l_{x+1}$;

x = is the age of the measuring life (determined as age at nearest birthday); and

l_x = the number associated with age x as set forth in the prescribed mortality table, representing the number of persons alive at age x .

(2) Example of interpolation. The donor who, as of the nearest birthday, is 60 years old, transfers $100,000 to a unitrust on January 1st of a year after 2021. The trust instrument requires that each year the trust pay to the donor, in equal semiannual installments on June 30th and December 31st, 5 percent of the fair market value of the trust assets, valued as of January 1st of that year, for 10 years or until the prior death of the donor. The section 7520 rate for the January in which the transfer occurred is 3.4 percent. Under Table F(3.4), the appropriate adjustment factor is 0.975270 for semiannual payments payable at the end of the semiannual period. The adjusted payout rate is 4.876 percent (5% × 0.975270). The present value of the donor's retained interest is $37,419.00 determined in paragraphs (d)(2)(v)(B)(2)(i) through (iii) of this section. Using Table Z, the method required is to prepare two computations, one at a payout rate of 4.8 percent, and one at 5.0 percent, and interpolate between these two in order to get the result at the adjusted payout rate of 4.876 percent. As an alternative to using an interpolation method, it also is acceptable to compute the remainder factor directly from the root actuarial formulas using the actual adjusted payout rate of 4.876%.

(3) Transitional rule. If the valuation date of a transfer of property by gift is on or after January 1, 2021, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the fair market value of the interest transferred is determined by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 25.7520-1(b) and 25.7520-2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial factors derived from the selected mortality table, either Table 2010CM in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter or Table 2000CM in § 20.2031-7A(g)(4) of this chapter, at the option of the donor or the decedent's executor, as the case may be. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors based on Table 2010CM appear in the proposed version of Table S, and actuarial factors based on Table 2000CM appear in the current version of Table S, which will be available as provided in paragraph (d)(4) of this section. With respect to each individual transaction, the donor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(4) Publications and actuarial computations by the Internal Revenue Service. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest following a term certain may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Adjustment factors for term certain annuities payable at the beginning of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(iv)(C) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Adjustment factors for annuities payable at the end of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(iv)(B) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. These tables will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). IRS Publication 1457, "Actuarial Valuations Version 4A" (2022), references and explains the factors contained in the actuarial tables and also includes examples that illustrate how to compute many special factors for more unusual situations. This publication will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031-

7(d)(6) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. If a special factor is required, the special factor may be calculated by the taxpayer using the actuarial formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter or the taxpayer may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts including a statement of the date of birth for each measuring life, the date of the gift, any other applicable dates, and a copy of the will, trust, or other relevant documents. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter and Rev. Proc. 2021–1, 2021–1 I.R.B. 1, and subsequent updates) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(e) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 26. The undesignated center heading immediately preceding § 25.2512–5A is revised to read as follows:

Actuarial Tables Applicable Before [Applicability Date of the Treasury Decision Adopting These Regulations]

■ Par. 27. Section 25.2512–5A is amended by revising the section heading and adding paragraph (g) to read as follows:

§ 25.2512–5A Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

* * * * *

(g) Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]—(1) In general. Except as otherwise provided in §§ 25.2512–5(b) and 25.7520–3(b) (pertaining to certain limitations on the use of prescribed tables), if the valuation date of the transferred interest is on or after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests transferred by gift is the present value of the interests determined by using standard or special section 7520 actuarial factors and the valuation methodology described in § 25.2512–

5(d). Sections 20.2031–7(d)(6) and 20.2031–7A(g)(4) of this chapter and related sections provide tables with standard actuarial factors and examples that illustrate how to use the tables to compute the present value of ordinary annuity, life, term, and remainder interests in property. Sections 20.2031–7(d)(6) and 20.2031–7A(g)(4) also refer to standard and special actuarial factors that may be necessary to compute the present value of similar interests in more unusual fact situations. These factors and examples also generally are applicable for gift tax purposes in computing the values of taxable gifts.

(2) Transitional rule. If the valuation date of a transfer of property by gift is on or after May 1, 2009, and before July 1, 2009, the fair market value of the interest transferred is determined by using the section 7520 interest rate for the month in which the valuation date occurs (see §§ 25.7520–1(b) and 25.7520–2(a)(2)) and the appropriate actuarial tables under either § 20.2031–7A(f)(4) or (g)(4) of this chapter, at the option of the donor. However, with respect to each individual transaction and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date, the donor must consistently use the same mortality basis with respect to each interest (income, remainder, partial, etc.) in the same property, and with respect to all transfers occurring on the valuation date. For example, gift and income tax charitable deductions with respect to the same transfer must be determined based on factors with the same mortality basis, and all assets includible in the gross estate and/or estate tax deductions claimed must be valued based on factors with the same mortality basis.

(3) Publications and actuarial computations by the Internal Revenue Service. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest that is dependent on the termination of the life of one individual may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter to derive factors from the appropriate mortality table. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table S. The factor for determining the present value of a remainder interest following a term certain may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table B. Adjustment factors for term certain annuities payable at the beginning of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(iv)(C) of this chapter.

For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table J. Adjustment factors for annuities payable at the end of each interval may be computed by using the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(iv)(B) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table K. These tables are referenced and explained by IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Values Version 3A,” (2009). Publication 1457 includes examples that illustrate how to compute many special factors for more unusual situations. The actuarial tables are available, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). Table S also can be found in § 20.2031–7A(g)(4) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 0.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031–7(d)(6) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. If a special factor is required in the case of a completed gift, the special factor may be calculated by the donor using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter or the donor may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts including a statement of the date of birth for each measuring life, the date of the gift, any other applicable dates, and a copy of the will, trust, or other relevant documents. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

(4) Applicability dates. Paragraphs (g)(1) through (3) of this section apply on and after May 1, 2009, and before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

■ Par. 28. Section 25.2522(c)–3 is amended by:

- 1. Designating Examples 1 through 3 of paragraph (d)(2)(iv) as paragraphs (d)(2)(iv)(A) through (C), respectively.
- 2. Revising the headings for newly designated paragraphs (d)(2)(iv)(A) and (B), newly designated paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C), and paragraph (e).
- 3. Adding paragraph (f).

The revisions and addition read as follows:

§ 25.2522(c)-3 Transfers not exclusively for charitable, etc., purposes in the case of gifts made after July 31, 1969.

- (2) * * *
- (iv) * * *
- (A) Example 1. * * *
- (B) Example 2. * * *
- (C) Example 3—(1) Factors.

The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B. The actuarial commutation factors can be computed directly by using the formulas in § 25.2512-5(d)(2)(v)(A)(1), the section 7520 rate, and Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031-7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table H. Table B and Table H can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). For purposes of the example in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C)(2) of this section, the relevant factors from Table B and Table H are:

TABLE 1 TO PARAGRAPH (d)(2)(iv)(C)(1)

Factors from Table B Annuity, Income, and Remainder Interests for a Term Certain Interest at 2.8 Percent
Years 10	Annuity 8.6179	Income Interest 0.241302	Remainder 0.758698

(2) Application. In a year after 2021, D transfers $65,000 in trust with the requirement that a guaranteed annuity interest (as defined in paragraph (c)(2)(vi) of this section) of $5,000 a year, payable annually at the end of each year, be paid to Y Charity for a period of 10 years and that a guaranteed annuity interest (as defined in paragraph (c)(2)(vi) of this section) of $5,000 a year, payable annually at the end of each year, be paid to W, D’s wife, aged 60, for 10 years or until her prior death. The annuities are to be paid simultaneously, and the remainder is to be paid to D’s children. The section 7520 interest rate for the date of transfer is 2.8 percent, and the taxpayer elects not to use the interest rate from either of the two preceding months. The fair market value of the private annuity is $40,895.50 ($5,000 × 8.1791), as determined pursuant to § 25.2512-5(d)(2)(v)(A) and by the use of factors derived from Table H and illustrated in paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C)(3) of this section. The fair market value of the charitable annuity is $43,089.50 ($5,000 × 8.6179), determined using the annuity factor from Table B. It is not evident from the governing instrument of the trust or from local law that the trustee would be required to apportion the trust fund between the wife and charity in the event the fund were insufficient to pay both annuities in a given year. Accordingly, the deduction with respect to the charitable annuity will be limited to $24,104.50 ($65,000 less $40,895.50 [the value of the private annuity]), which is the minimum amount it is evident the charity will receive.

(3) In paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C)(2) of this section, the actuarial factor for determining the value of the private annuity is derived by the use of factors involving one life and a term of years. The factor is determined as illustrated in Figure 1 to this paragraph (d)(2)(iv)(C)(3).

(e) Guaranteed annuity and unitrust interests reformed as an interest for a term of years—(1) In general. The rule in paragraphs (c)(2)(vi)(a) and (c)(2)(vii)(a) of this section that guaranteed annuity interests or unitrust interests, respectively, may be payable for a specified term of years or for the life or lives of only certain individuals applies to transfers made on or after April 4, 2000. If a transfer is made on or after April 4, 2000, that uses an individual other than one permitted in paragraphs (c)(2)(vi)(a) and (c)(2)(vii)(a) of this section, the interest may be reformed into a lead interest payable for a specified term of years. The term of years is determined by taking the factor for valuing the annuity or unitrust interest for the named individual measuring life and identifying the term of years (rounded up to the next whole year) that corresponds to the equivalent term of years factor for an annuity or unitrust interest. See paragraph (e)(4) of this section for an example.

(2) Judicial and non-judicial reformations. A judicial reformation must be commenced prior to October 15th of the year following the year in which the transfer is made and must be completed within a reasonable time after it is commenced. A non-judicial reformation is permitted if effective under state law, provided it is completed by the date on which a judicial reformation must be commenced. In the alternative, if a court, in a proceeding that is commenced on or before July 5, 2001, declares any transfer, made on or after April 4, 2000, and on or before March 6, 2001, null and void ab initio, the Internal Revenue Service will treat such transfers in a manner similar to that described in section 2055(e)(3)(j).

(3) Sample factors from actuarial Table B and Table S. The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B. The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for the life of one individual is computed by subtracting from 1.00000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table S. Table B and Table S can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>. For purposes of the example in paragraph (e)(4) of this section, the relevant factors from Table B and Table S are:

TABLE 2 TO PARAGRAPH (e)(3)

Factors from Table B Annuity, Income, and Remainder Interests for a Term Certain Interest at 2.4 Percent
Years	Annuity	Income Interest	Remainder
38	24.7471	0.593929	0.406071
39	25.1436	0.603447	0.396553
Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM Interest at 2.4 Percent
Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remainder
40	24.9063	0.59775	0.40225

(4) Example. An annuity interest payable for the life of an individual age 40 at the time of the transfer that occurs on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations] assuming an interest rate of 2.4 percent under section 7520, has an annuity factor reported in Table S of 24.9063. Based on Table B at 2.4 percent, the factor 24.9063 corresponds to a term of years between 38 and 39 years. Accordingly, the annuity interest must be reformed into an interest payable for a term of 39 years. (To determine the value of a charitable remainder interest payable after this annuity interest, the taxpayer then must satisfy the test illustrated in § 25.7520–3(b)(2)(v)(E).)

(f) Applicability date. This section applies only to gifts made after July 31, 1969.

■ Par. 29. Section 25.7520–1 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1) and (2), (b)(2), (c), and (d) and adding paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§ 25.7520–1 Valuation of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests.

(a) * * * (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section and in § 25.7520–3(b) (relating to exceptions to the use of prescribed tables under certain circumstances), in the case of certain gifts after April 30, 1989, the fair market value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years (including unitrust interests), and remainder or reversionary interests is their present value determined under this section. See § 20.2031–7(d) of this chapter (and, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 20.2031–7A of this chapter) for the computation of the value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests, other than interests described in paragraphs (a)(2) and (3) of this section.

(2) In the case of a gift to a pooled income fund on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], see § 1.642(c)–6(e) of this chapter (or, for periods prior to [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], § 1.642(c)–6A of this chapter) with respect to the valuation of the remainder interest.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

each decennial census, the mortality component described in this section will be revised and the revised mortality component tables will be published in the IRS publications at that time. For gifts with valuation dates on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], the mortality component table (Table 2010CM) is in § 20.2031–7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter, and is referenced by IRS Publication 1457, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4A,” and can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). See § 20.2031–7A of this chapter for mortality component tables applicable to gifts for which the valuation date falls before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

(c) Actuarial factors. The present value on the valuation date of an annuity, an interest for life or a term of years, and a remainder or reversionary interest is computed by using the section 7520 interest rate component that is described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section and the mortality component that is described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. Actuarial factors for determining these present values may be calculated using the formulas in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, the IRS has computed actuarial factors and displayed them on tables that are referenced and explained by publications of the Internal Revenue Service. If a special factor is required in order to value an interest, the special factor may be calculated by the taxpayer using the actuarial formulas in § 20.2031–7(d)(2) of this chapter or the taxpayer may request a ruling to obtain the factor from the Internal Revenue Service. The request for a ruling must be accompanied by a recitation of the facts, including the date of birth for each measuring life and copies of relevant instruments. A request for a ruling must comply with the instructions for requesting a ruling published periodically in the Internal Revenue Bulletin (see Rev. Proc. 2021–1, 2021–1 I.R.B. 1, and subsequent updates, and §§ 601.201 and 601.601(d)(2)(ii)(b) of this chapter) and must include payment of the required user fee.

listed in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section will be available after [date of publication of the final rule in the Federal Register]. The underlying actuarial tables referenced and explained by these publications will be available beginning May 5, 2022, at no charge, electronically via the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables>:

This publication references tables of valuation factors and provides examples that show how to compute other valuation factors, for determining the present value of annuities, interests for life or a term of years, and remainder or reversionary interests, measured by one or two lives. These factors may also be used in the valuation of interests in a charitable remainder annuity trust as defined in § 1.664–2 of this chapter and a pooled income fund as defined in § 1.642(c)–5 of this chapter. This publication references and explains Table S (single life remainder factors), Table R(2) (two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table B (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of an interest for a term of years), Table H (commutation factors), Table J (term certain annuity beginning-of-interval adjustment factors), and Table K (annuity end-of-interval adjustment factors). See earlier versions of the publication, § 1.642(c)–6A of this chapter, or § 20.2031–7A of this chapter for Table S applicable to valuation dates before [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table R(2), Table B, Table J, and Table K also can be found in § 20.2031–7(d)(6) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(2) IRS Publication 1458, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4B” (2022). This publication references and explains term certain tables and tables of one and two life valuation factors for determining the present value of remainder interests in a charitable remainder unitrust as defined in § 1.664–3 of this chapter. This publication references Table U(1) (unitrust single life remainder factors), Table U(2) (unitrust two-life last-to-die remainder factors), Table D (actuarial factors used in determining the present value of a remainder interest postponed for a term of years), Table F (adjustment payout rate factors), and Table Z (unitrust commutation factors). See earlier versions of the publication or § 1.664–4A of this chapter for Table U(1) applicable to valuation dates before

[applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. Earlier versions of the publication also contain earlier versions of Table U(2). Table D also can be found in § 1.664–4(e)(6)(iii) of this chapter, but only for adjusted payout rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive. Table F also can be found in § 1.664–4(e)(6)(iii) of this chapter, but only for interest rates from 4.2 to 14 percent, inclusive.

(3) IRS Publication 1459, “Actuarial Valuations Version 4C”

(2022). This publication references and explains Table C, which provides factors for making adjustments to the standard remainder factor for valuing gifts of depreciable property. See § 1.170A–12 of this chapter.

(4) The publications identified in paragraphs (d)(1) through (3) of this section also reference Table 2010CM, the mortality component table.

(e) Use of approximation methods for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates. For certain cases, this part and IRS publications provide approximation methods (for example, interpolation) for obtaining factors when the required valuation rate falls between two listed rates (such as in the case of a pooled income fund’s rate of return or a unitrust’s adjusted payout rate). In general, exact methods of obtaining the applicable factors are allowed, such as through software using the actual rate of return and the proper actuarial formula, provided such direct methods are applied consistently. The actuarial formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter is used to determine the remainder factor for pooled income funds and the actuarial formula in § 1.664–4(e)(5)(i) of this chapter is used to determine the remainder factor for unitrusts. The approximation method provided in this part must be used if more exact methods are not available.

(f) Applicability date. This section applies on and after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

The revisions read as follows:

§ 25.7520–3 Limitation on the application of section 7520.

- (D) Example 4. Unitrust funded with unproductive property. * * *
- (E) Example 5: Eroding corpus in an annuity payable from a trust or other limited fund. (1) The present value of an annuity interest (and any other interest dependent on the present value of an annuity), when the annuity is paid from an eroding and limited fund, is determined by actuarial factors reflecting the term certain period to the exhaustion of the fund, as shown in Table 1 to this paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(1). The period to exhaustion is determined using annuity factors. The appropriate annuity factors for an annuity payable for a term of years is computed by subtracting from 1.000000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the same term certain that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031–7(d)(2)(ii)(A) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with at least four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table B. If the annuity is for life (or for a period depending in part on life) and the period to exhaustion is shorter than the possible life period, actuarial commutation factors may be used in determining the present value. The actuarial commutation factors can be computed directly by using the formulas in § 25.2512–5(d)(2)(v)(A)(1), the section 7520 rate, and Table 2010CM as set forth in § 20.2031–7(d)(7)(ii) of this chapter. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in Table H. Table B and Table H can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/retirement-plans/actuarial-tables> (or a corresponding URL as may be updated from time to time). After determining the point of exhaustion of funds, the approximation method for determining the present value of annuity payments so limited by exhaustion in the example in Table 1 to this paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(1) is to be used if a more exact method (for example, computing the year-by-year present value of each payment until the fund is exhausted) is not used. For purposes of this example, the relevant factors from Table B and Table H(4.4) are:

(2) The donor, who is age 60 and in normal health, transfers property worth $1,000,000 to a trust on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations]. The trust will pay a 10 percent ($100,000 per year) annuity to a charitable organization for the life of the donor, payable annually at the end of each period, and the remainder then will be distributed to the donor’s child. The section 7520 rate for the month of the transfer is 4.4 percent. First, it is necessary to determine whether the annuity may exhaust the corpus before all annuity payments are made. Because it is assumed under the prescribed mortality component, Table 2010CM, that any measuring life may survive until age 110, any life annuity could require payments until the measuring life reaches age 110. The determination of whether the annuity may exhaust the corpus before the annuity payments terminate is computed with values from Table B as illustrated in Figure 1 to this paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(2).

Figure 1 to paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(2) – Illustration of determining present value of term certain annuity

A. Highest age possible under mortality table	110
B. Less: age of the measuring life at date of transfer	- 60
C. Difference: number of years annuity obligation may continue	50
D. Annual annuity payment	$100,000
E. Table B annuity factor for 50 years at 4.4 percent	20.0878
F. Present value of term certain annuity: D x E	$2,008,780

(3) Because the present value of an annuity for a term of 50 years exceeds the corpus, the annuity may exhaust the trust before all payments are made. Consequently, the annuity must be valued as an annuity payable for a term of years or until the prior death of the annuitant, with the term of years determined by when the fund will be exhausted by the annuity payments, assuming earnings at the section 7520 rate of 4.4 percent.

(4) If an annuity of $100,000 payable at the end of each year for a period had an annuity factor of 10.0, it would have a present value exactly equal to the principal available to pay the annuity over the term. The annuity factor for 13 years at 4.4 percent in Table B is 9.7423 and the annuity factor for 14 years at 4.4 percent is 10.2896. Thus, it is determined that the $1,000,000 initial transfer will be sufficient to make 13 annual payments of $100,000, but not to make the entire 14th payment. The present value of an annuity of $100,000 payable at the end of each year for 13 years certain is $100,000 times 9.7423 or $974,230. The remaining amount is $25,770. Of the initial transfer amount, $25,770 is not needed to make payments for 13 years, so this amount, as accumulated for 14 years, will be available for the final payment. The 14-year accumulation factor is 1.8273 $((1 + 0.044)^{14} = 1.8273)$, so the amount available in 14 years is $25,770 times 1.8273 or $47,089.52. Therefore, for purposes of this present value determination, the annuity obligation is treated as being composed of two distinct annuity components. The two annuity components taken together must equal the total annual amount of $100,000. The first annuity component is the exact amount that the trust will have available for the final payment, $47,089.52. The second annuity component then must be $100,000 minus $47,089.52, or $52,910.48. Specifically, the initial corpus will be able to make payments of $52,910.48 per year for 13 years plus payments of $47,089.52 per year for 14 years. The total annuity is valued by adding the present value of the two separate temporary component annuities.

(5) The actuarial factor for determining the value of the annuity of $52,910.48 per year payable for 13 years or until the prior death of a person aged 60 is derived by the use of factors involving one life and a term of years, derived from Table H. The factor is determined as illustrated in Figure 2 to this paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(5).

(6) The actuarial factor for determining the value of the annuity $47,089.52 per year payable for 14 years or until the prior death of a person aged 60 is derived by the use of factors involving one life and a term of years, derived from Table H. The factor is determined as illustrated in Figure 3 to this paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(6).

Figure 3 to paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(6) – Illustration of determining annuity factor for shorter of life or 14 years

O. Initial age	60
P. Plus: Term of years	+ 14

T. Difference	63,806.84
U. D_x factor, Table H(2.8), age 60	6,694.64
V. Required Annuity Factor: T / U	9.5310

(7) Based on the calculations of paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(5) of this section, the present value of an annuity of $52,910.48 per year payable for 13 years or until the prior death of a person aged 60 is $480,739.33 ($52,910.48 × 9.0859). Based on the calculations of paragraph (b)(2)(v)(E)(6) of this section, the present value of an annuity of $47,089.52 per year payable for 14 years or until the prior death of a person aged 60 is $448,810.22 ($47,089.52 × 9.5310). Thus, the present value of the charitable annuity interest is the sum of the two component annuities, $929,549.55 ($480,739.33 + $448,810.22).

(4) Example—terminal illness—(i) Sample factors from actuarial Table S. The provisions of paragraph (b)(3) of this section are illustrated by the example in paragraph (b)(4)(ii) of this section. The appropriate annuity factor for an annuity payable for the life of one individual is computed by subtracting from 1.00000 the factor for an ordinary remainder interest following the life of the same individual that is determined under the formula in § 20.2031-7(d)(2)(ii)(B) of this chapter and then dividing the result by the applicable section 7520 interest rate expressed as a number with four decimal places. For the convenience of taxpayers, actuarial factors have been computed by IRS and appear in the “Annuity” column of Table S. Table S can be found on the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/>

TABLE 2 TO PARAGRAPH (b)(4)(i)

Factors from Table S—Based on Table 2010CM
Interest at 4.4 Percent

Age	Annuity	Life Estate	Remainder
75	8.6473	0.38048	0.61952

(ii) Example of donor with terminal illness. The donor transfers property worth $1,000,000 to a child on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations], in exchange for the child’s promise to pay the donor $80,000 per year for the donor’s life, payable annually at the end of each period. The section 7520 interest rate for the month of the transfer is 4.4 percent. The donor is age 75 but has been diagnosed with an incurable illness and has at least a 50 percent probability of dying within 1 year. Under Table S, the annuity factor at 4.4 percent for a person age 75 in normal health is 8.6473. Thus, if the donor were not terminally ill, the present value of the annuity would be $691,784 ($$80,000 \times 8.6473$). Assuming the presumption provided in paragraph (b)(3) of this section does not apply, because there is at least a 50 percent probability that the donor will die within 1 year, the standard section 7520 annuity factor may not be used to determine the present value of the donor’s annuity interest. Instead, a special section 7520 annuity factor must be computed that takes into account the projection of the donor’s actual life expectancy.

* * * * *

(c) Applicability dates. Section 25.7520–3(a) is applicable as of May 1, 1989. The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, except paragraphs (b)(2)(v)(E) and (b)(4) of this section, are applicable to gifts made after December 13, 1995. Paragraphs (b)(2)(v)(E) and (b)(4) of this section are applicable to gifts made on or after [applicability date of the Treasury decision adopting these regulations as final regulations].

The President

Proclamation 10388—Jewish American Heritage Month, 2022

Presidential Documents

Title 3—

Proclamation 10388 of April 29, 2022

The President

Jewish American Heritage Month, 2022

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

In 1654, a small ship carrying 23 Jewish refugees sailed into the port of present-day New York City. Fleeing oppression and discrimination, these courageous women and men faced resistance from the colony's leaders. Nevertheless, they secured the right to remain and became the first Jewish communal presence to settle on American soil. In so doing, they expanded the frontier of religious freedoms that would help define the bedrock principles upon which this Nation was built. During Jewish American Heritage Month, we honor these 23 refugees and the centuries of successive generations of Jewish Americans, who—shaped by their own encounters with prejudice, persecution, and the promise of a better tomorrow—have emboldened our Nation to stand up for justice, equality, and freedom.

The story of America was written, in part, by Jewish Americans who, through their words and actions, embraced the opportunity and responsibility of citizenship knowing full well that democracy is not born, nor sustained, by accident. Inspired by Jewish American communal leadership, our Nation's first President pledged that our Government will “give to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance.” Inspired by Jewish American poetry, our shores have welcomed millions with the words “Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free.” Throughout our country's history, Jewish Americans have proudly served our Nation in uniform, in elected office, and on our Nation's highest courts. They have made enormous contributions to America's cultural, scientific, artistic, and intellectual life, and they have marched, petitioned, and boarded buses to demand civil and political rights for all—from women's rights to voting rights to workers' rights.

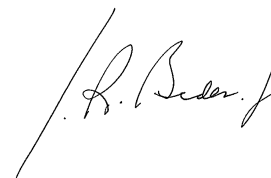

Today, we continue to strive to live up to our founding ideals. As the scourge of white supremacy and antisemitic violence rises, my Administration remains committed to ensuring that hate has no safe harbor. That is why we have created new laws that give us more tools to combat hate crimes; developed the first-ever National Strategy for Countering Domestic Terrorism; provided assistance to religious organizations, places of worship, and nonprofits to protect their facilities and members; and named a new Special Envoy to Monitor and Combat Antisemitism. My Administration will use the full force of our judicial system to confront bigotry and antisemitism wherever and whenever it surfaces.

The Jewish American story, and the story of our Nation as a whole, is fueled by faith, resilience, and hope. It is a story defined by a firm belief in possibilities, the resolve to make real the promise of America for all Americans, and a commitment to perfecting our Union, heeding the timeless words of Rabbi Tarfon, the first-century scholar who taught “It is not your duty to finish the work, but neither are you at liberty to neglect it.”

Three-hundred and sixty-eight years after those 23 brave Jewish refugees arrived in America, Jewish Americans continue to help our country thrive and prosper. This month, we honor the timeless traditions, heritage, and contributions of Jewish Americans that drive our progress as a Nation each and every day.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH R. BIDEN JR., President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim May 2022 as Jewish American Heritage Month. I call upon all Americans to visit JewishHeritageMonth.gov to learn more about the heritage and contributions of Jewish Americans and to observe this month with appropriate programs, activities, and ceremonies.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-ninth day of April, in the year two thousand twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-sixth.
