SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

OMB engages in a number of activities, including issuing guidance, policy, and regulatory actions, many of which invite the public to provide input to OMB. One way in which OMB makes documents available for public input is through the Federal eRulemaking system, which is managed by the General Services Administration (GSA). The eRulemaking system is a centralized repository for all Federal rulemaking dockets, including notices of proposed rulemaking, interim rules, final rules, other types of rulemaking actions, supporting materials such as scientific or economic analyses, and public comments, as well as for some non-rulemaking dockets, such as notices and guidance or policy documents. It consists of a public facing interface, www.regulations.gov, and a portal visible to OMB called the Federal Docket Management System (FDMS), at www.FDMS.gov. The FDMS is a Federal Government-wide document management system. OMB employees with a need to use the system may self-register to use FDMS but may only see dockets of OMB.

Additionally, OMB uses the website at www.reginfo.gov to post notices of and accept meeting requests regarding regulatory actions currently under review pursuant to Executive Order (E.O.) 12866 of September 30, 1993 (Regulatory Planning and Review). OMB also reviews information collection requests under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) and, during the 30-day review of information collections, the public may comment on materials submitted by the agency as part of their request for a new information collection or an extension or revision to an existing information collection through www.reginfo.gov. E.O. 12866 establishes and governs the process under which OMB reviews agencies' regulatory actions, including any substantive action that promulgates or is expected to lead to the promulgation of a final rule. Under E.O. 12866, non-governmental parties can request meetings concerning proposed regulatory actions under OMB review to present their views. Meeting requesters may submit to OMB documents to be discussed during the
