Abstract: These establishment surveys provide BJS with the capacity to report annually on changes in the size and composition of the community corrections populations in the United States. The surveys also track key outcomes of offenders on probation or parole, such as completion of supervision terms and return to incarceration (or recidivism). Data are collected from the known universe of probation and parole supervising agencies, using central reporters wherever possible to minimize burden the public. The ASPP provides the only national level, regularly collected, data on the community corrections populations, and, as such, they inform this key stage of the criminal justice process. Revisions include an updated frame of probation agencies including additional misdemeanor only supervising agencies, as well changes to the probation survey forms (CJ-8 and CJ-8M) to collect information separately for felony and misdemeanor probation.

Overview of this information collection:

1. Type of Information Collection: Revision of a previously approved collection.

2. The Title of the Form/Collection: Annual Surveys of Probation and Parole.

3. The agency form number, if any, and the applicable component of the Department sponsoring the collection: The Annual Surveys of Probation and Parole (ASPP) contain three forms: CJ-7: Annual Parole Survey CJ-8: Annual Probation Survey and CJ-8M: Annual Probation Survey (Misdemeanant Supervision Only). The applicable component within the Department of Justice is the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), in the Office of Justice Programs.

4. Affected public who will be asked or required to respond as well as the obligation: The affected public is

Federal Government. The obligation to respond is voluntary.

5. An estimate of the total number of respondents and the amount of time estimated for an average respondent to respond: The ASPP will collect data from approximately 860 supervising agencies. The ASPP will collect data from approximately 860 supervising agencies. For each data collection cycle, we estimate an average burden of 96 minutes for the survey form CJ-7, 150 minutes for the updated survey form CJ-8, and 20 minutes for the updated survey form CJ-M. If needed, respondents to the CJ-7 and CJ-8 will be contacted by email or telephone to verify data quality issues. We estimate that data quality follow-up is needed for 70% of the CJ-7 and CJ-8 respondents (213) in each cycle and will run an average of 15 minutes for each respondent. We estimate a 10-minute follow-up for half (304) of the CJ-8M respondents.

6. An estimate of the total public burden (in hours) associated with the collection: There are approximately 3,015 hours, annual burden, associated with this information collection (1,005 per three years).
