

The staff is also issuing for public comment a draft regulatory analysis (ADAMS Accession No. ML23277A279). The staff developed a regulatory analysis to assess the value of issuing or revising a regulatory guide as well as alternative courses of action.

As noted in the Federal Register on December 9, 2022 (87 FR 75671), this document is being published in the “Proposed Rules” section of the Federal Register to comply with publication requirements under 1 CFR chapter I.

III. Backfitting, Forward Fitting, and Issue Finality

Issuance of DG–1421, if finalized, would not constitute backfitting as defined in 10 CFR 50.109, “Backfitting,” and as described in NRC Management Directive (MD) 8.4, “Management of Backfitting, Forward Fitting, Issue Finality, and Information Requests”; affect the issue finality of an approval issued under 10 CFR part 52, “Licenses, Certifications, and Approvals for Nuclear Power Plants”; or constitute forward fitting as that term is defined and described in MD 8.4, because, as explained in this DG, licensees would not be required to comply with the positions set forth in this DG.

IV. Submitting Suggestions for Improvement of Regulatory Guides

A member of the public may, at any time, submit suggestions to the NRC for improvement of existing RGs or for the development of new RGs. Suggestions can be submitted on the NRC’s public website at <https://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/doc-collections/reg-guides/contactus.html>. Suggestions will be considered in future updates and enhancements to the “Regulatory Guide” series.

Correction

In proposed rule document 2023–27758, appearing on pages 88315–88336 in the issue of Thursday, December 21, 2023, make the following correction:

On page 88326, in the table titled “Table 7: Alternative 1: Dissolved Oxygen Criteria Expressed as Concentration (mg/L)”, the table is corrected to appear as set forth below:

TABLE 7—ALTERNATIVE 1: DISSOLVED OXYGEN CRITERIA EXPRESSED AS CONCENTRATION [mg/L]

Season	Water temperature (°C)	Magnitude (mg/L)	Duration	Exceedance frequency
Spawning and Larval Development (March 1–June 30).	* 23.3 (14.7)	* 5.6 (6.7)	Daily Average .....	10% (12 Days Cumulative).
Juvenile Development (July 1–October 31) ...	+ N/A	5.4	Daily Average .....	10% (12 Days Cumulative).
	+ N/A	6.1	Daily Average .....	50% (61 Days Cumulative).
Overwintering (November 1–February 28/29)	* 12.4 (5.6)	* 7.0 (8.3)	Daily Average .....	10% (12 Days Cumulative).

* The 90th percentile of seasonal water temperature and corresponding criterion is used for the main estimate, while the average water temperature and corresponding criterion is shown in parentheses.

* Water temperature is not applicable during the Juvenile Development season because the criteria magnitudes are derived from the EPA’s Atlantic Sturgeon cohort model, described in section IV.C.1 of this preamble.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On January 27, 1982, IHS published regulations imposing restrictions on use of Federal funding for certain abortions, currently codified at 42 CFR 136.51–.57.<sup>1</sup> These regulations implementing IHS program authority pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 13 and 42 U.S.C. 2001 allowed the use of IHS funds for abortions only when a physician certified that “the life of the mother would be endangered if the fetus were carried to term.” This restriction was to be consistent with a provision in the annual appropriations legislation for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, sometimes referred to as the “Hyde Amendment,” that restricted the use of Federal funds for certain abortions, which did not automatically apply to IHS funding.<sup>2</sup> The purpose of these IHS regulations was specifically “to conform IHS practice to that of the rest of the Department [of Health and Human Services] in accordance with the applicable congressional guidelines.”<sup>3</sup> In 1988, Congress enacted 25 U.S.C. 1676, explicitly extending any limitations on the use of funds included in HHS appropriations laws with respect to the performance of abortions to apply to funds appropriated to IHS. As such, IHS became subject to the Hyde Amendment as included in annual appropriations legislation.

Since the IHS promulgated these regulations in 1982, Congress has repeatedly revised annual restrictions related to the use of Federal funds for certain abortions. In fiscal year 1994, for instance, Congress revised the Hyde Amendment to include additional exceptions to the general prohibition on the use of Federal funds for abortions, including in instances in which a pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest.<sup>4</sup> Similarly, in fiscal year 1998, Congress also altered the standards for when the “life of the mother” may be considered an exception.<sup>5</sup> The Hyde Amendment currently provides that no covered funds “shall be expended for any abortion” or “for health benefits coverage that includes coverage of abortion,” except “if the pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest; or . . . in the case where a woman suffers from a physical disorder, physical injury, or physical illness, including a life-endangering physical condition caused by or arising from the pregnancy itself, that would, as certified by a physician, place the woman in danger of death unless an abortion is performed.”<sup>6</sup>

The current IHS regulation does not align with the current text of the Hyde Amendment or with 25 U.S.C. 1676. The IHS has complied with, and will continue to comply with, the statutory exceptions and has clarified its compliance with the statutory limitations through policy directives,<sup>7</sup> and now seeks to remove these outdated regulations in their entirety.<sup>8</sup> Doing so will eliminate any potential confusion regarding the legal effect of these outdated regulations and will also achieve the goal of aligning IHS guidelines with the applicable Congressional guidelines governing HHS. These regulations are no longer necessary to achieve that objective, given Congress’s enactment of 25 U.S.C. 1676, which independently aligns relevant restrictions applicable to the IHS and HHS. At this time, the IHS is not proposing any further changes to these regulations and is not proposing to amend the regulations to reflect the standard set out in the current Hyde Amendment. Regulations on this subject are not necessary to implement the IHS’s authority. Nor are they necessary to comply with statutory directives. Moreover, amending the regulations to reflect the current Hyde Amendment could cause additional confusion in the future if Congress changes the annual appropriations language, as it has in the past.

Executive Orders 12866, 13563, and 14094

Executive Order 12866, as amended by Executive Order 14094, and Executive Order 13563 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives. Section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866, as amended by Executive Order 14094, defines a “significant regulatory action” as any regulatory action that is likely to result in a rule that may: (1) have an annual effect on the economy of $200 million or more (adjusted every 3 years by the Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA) for changes in gross domestic product); or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, territorial, or Tribal Governments or communities; (2) create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency; (3) materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or (4) raise legal or policy issues for which centralized review would meaningfully further the President’s priorities or the principles set forth in the Executive Order, as specifically authorized in a timely manner by the Administrator of OIRA in each case. OIRA has determined that this proposed rule is a significant regulatory action as defined by Executive Order 12866 Section 3(f).

Regulatory Flexibility Act

This action will not have a significant economic impact on Indian health programs. Therefore, the regulatory flexibility analysis provided for under the Regulatory Flexibility Act is not required.

Executive Order 13132 (Federalism)

Executive Order 13132, “Federalism,” establishes certain requirements that an agency must meet when it promulgates a rule that imposes substantial direct requirement costs on State and local governments or has federalism implications. This proposed rule would simply remove the existing, outdated regulations. HHS has determined that <sup>8</sup> The regulations also speak to recordkeeping requirements and confidentiality of information. However, these provisions are unnecessary to maintain, because recordkeeping and confidentiality of information are independently required by other laws and regulations that will remain in effect. See, e.g., 45 CFR parts 160, 164 (Standards for Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information (The Privacy Rule)).

this proposed rule would not impose such costs or have any federalism implications.

Executive Order 13175

This rule does not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian Tribes under Executive Order 13175, because it only removes outdated regulations that do not align with the current statutory text of the Hyde Amendment or with 25 U.S.C. 1676.

National Environmental Policy Act

HHS had determined that this proposed rule would not have a significant impact on the environment.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This action does not affect any information collections.
