

that are necessary for the equipment installation and relocation, EPA will review each proposal to ensure that such modifications are within the scope of the CE and would not appreciably increase the footprint or height of the existing building or have the potential to cause significant changes to the type and magnitude of environmental impacts.

III. Consideration of Extraordinary Circumstances

When applying these CEs, EPA will evaluate the proposed action to ensure consideration of the integral elements listed above. In addition, in considering extraordinary circumstances, EPA will consider whether the proposed action has the potential to result in significant effects as described in DOE's extraordinary circumstances listed at 10 CFR 1021.410(b)(2). DOE defines extraordinary circumstances as unique situations presented by specific proposals, including, but not limited to, scientific controversy about the environmental effects of the proposal; uncertain effects or effects involving unique or unknown risks; and unresolved conflicts concerning alternative uses of available resources. In addition, EPA will consider its list of extraordinary circumstances as described at 40 CFR 6.204(b).

IV. Consultation With DOE and Determination of Appropriateness

EPA and DOE consulted on the appropriateness of EPA's adoption of the CEs in December 2023. EPA and DOE's consultation included a review of DOE's experience developing and applying the CEs, as well as the types of actions for which EPA plans to utilize the CEs. These EPA actions are very similar to the type of projects for which DOE has applied the CEs and therefore the effects of EPA projects will be very similar to the effects of DOE projects, which are not significant, absent extraordinary circumstances. Therefore, EPA has determined that its proposed use of the CE for the Drop-off, Collection, and Transfer Facilities for Recyclable Materials and the CE for Installation or Relocation of Machinery and Equipment as described in this notice are appropriate.

V. Notice to the Public and Documentation of Adoption

This notice serves to identify to the public and document EPA's adoption of DOE's CEs for B1.35 Drop-off, Collection, and Transfer Facilities for Recyclable Materials and for B1.31 Installation or Relocation of Machinery and Equipment. This notice identifies the types of actions to which EPA will apply the CEs, as well as the considerations that EPA will use in determining whether an action is within the scope of the CEs.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Generic Clearance for the Collection of Qualitative Feedback on Agency Service Delivery.

Abstract: The proposed information collection activity will garner qualitative customer and stakeholder feedback in an efficient, timely manner, in accordance with the government’s commitment to improving service delivery. By qualitative feedback, we mean information that provides useful insights on perceptions and opinions, but not statistical surveys that yield quantitative results that can be generalized to the population of study. This feedback will provide insights into customer or stakeholder perceptions, experiences, and expectations, provide an early warning of issues with service, or focus attention on areas where communication, training, or changes in operations might improve delivery of products or services. These collections will allow for ongoing, collaborative, and actionable communications between the Agency and its customers and stakeholders. It will also allow feedback to contribute directly to the improvement of program management.

The solicitation of feedback will target areas such as: timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, course materials, course instructor, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery. Responses will be assessed to plan and inform efforts to improve or maintain the quality of service offered to the public. If this information is not collected, vital feedback from customers and stakeholders on the Agency’s services will be unavailable.

The Agency will only submit a collection for approval under this generic clearance if it meets the following conditions:

- The collections are voluntary;
- The collections are low-burden for respondents (based on considerations of total burden hours, total number of respondents, or burden-hours per respondent) and are low-cost for both the respondents and the Federal Government;
- The collections are the only way to collect information; there are no alternative existing sources;
- The collections are noncontroversial and do not raise issues of concern to other Federal agencies;
- Any collection is targeted to the solicitation of opinions from respondents who have experience with the program or may have experience with the program;
- Personally identifiable information (PII) is collected only to the extent necessary and is not retained;
- Information gathered will be used only internally for general service improvement and program management purposes and is not intended for release outside of the agency;
- Information gathered will not be used for the purpose of substantially informing influential policy decisions; and
